We have corresponded by thousands of letters, printed papers, advertisements, &c. &c., and we had resolved, sometime ago, to adopt the plan now put fourth, D. V., of occasionally issuing a sheet relative to the above subject. We issue the same gratis. We cannot be bothered to kindle up, keep alive, "re-fuel," or "re-kindle," Christian sympathy with a Christain people in a Christain land, and under a valued Christian government,—we cannot be so bothered to ask for as subscriptions the "do'ings" meted out so often to those who work at the public Press, for the public—We have had some experience, and we write where we are known and where we can, and dare to say, what we say.———We hesitated not, lately, to supply an Omission [an omission, by whom?] by getting printed and circulated copies of the "Sunday Profanation Act," 8 Vic. chap. 45 [copies of which out of the statute book, not being to be had] and unexpectedly we were proffered by a good man of substance a quarter of a dollar to help to pay towards our expense. We received it—took witness of it, and it was in the possession of a right, trusty good Highland country woman in an hour after, whose husband was disabled.

We ask, then, no modied support, in what we do, as usually done in issuing papers, nor will we refuse any! The interest of what we have spent, would keep an ordinary family. Our private postage, &c., account, yearly, would nigh support one. Thanks, humble thanks, to the goodness of ANOTHER—Hab. chap. 3. We only regret that there has been, and that there is, some cause for what is done, whether as to this subject or other moral evils in society.

We wish to publish the truth, and we live in a land, and under a blessed government and constitution, where we need not be afraid of promulgating it. We desire to tell ministers of religion what they miss doing, things of importance, what they have vowed to God to do, by a solemn oath to Him; and yet every day they live, with that vow before and on them, they do not do, but what the very reverse they do do; and of their infidelity, and their causing such amongst laymen. The facts that are referred to,—[and will be, till blushes of very shame shall mantle on their faces,] these shall be our witnesses, our "Jegar Sahadutha," till they reform. With their faithful ministers [and there are such] the people should act faithfully and very liberally. Liberality is, no doubt, stinted by unfaithfulness and "following the world and its ways" too often, by so many Preachers of the Gospel.

We desire to tell the people, a humane and a loyal people, what is expected from them as professing Christians, brough up as such, with knowledge withheld from them!

And all about Slavery and fellowship with it, and its abettors! in a Britsh Province!

And may God help us to perform our expectations.

J. J. E. LINTON.

GEN. WALKER DRIVEN OUT OF NICARAGUA.

A special dispatch to the New York Tribune of yesterday, dated Aspinwall January 19, 1857, states that the British mail steamer Thames had arrived at that place with dates from Greytown, river San Juan, to the 18th inst. She brought thirty five of Walker's men, who were immediately transferred on board of the Granada, which steamer left this day for Greytown, to receive on board and convey to New Orleans the fillibusters brought out by the Texas and James Adger. It was calculated that most of the fillibusters would leave by the Granada.

Walker has evacuated or been driven out of Rivas, and was at St. Georgia surrounded by the allies, who had offered him terms of surrender; and as he had no means of receiving supplies of provisions, &c., it was hourly expected that his followers would ground their arms. The remnant of 7,000 men, sent at various times from the States to Walker, are now reduced to 500. Walkerism in Nicaragua has ceased to exist.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.

The Empire City, from Havana, has arrived. The steamer Granada, from Aspinwall arrived at Havana with 51 of Walker's recruits, which she took on board at Greytown. She reports that Greytown was in possession of the Costa Ricans, and that Walker had not been heard from for three weeks.

Oct 31 J. S. MONTMOLLIN.

An advertisement for real estate contains the following:

"We shall offer some time in January, about 100 up country Negroes in families. These negroes are accustomed to the culture of corn and cotten and are exceedingly, a large proportion of which are field hands, or workers. In due time we shall issue hand bills giving the requisite information as to time and place of sale."

Those simple-hearted persons who have been made to believe that Slavery is a good thing, should reflect over these notices. In one daily paper some 264 negroes are advertised for sale. In one advertisment same 50 or 60 negroes are offered for sale, "connected by families, and having many likely children." Think of the anguish of these mothers and fathers over the fate of their children—soon to be separated, perhaps forever. Another says "about 100 up country negroes in families,

Let the Christian doctors search in vain for Scripture to cover up such iniquity. "We had rather be the slave and wear his bonds than fasten them on him."—Olive Branch.

EMIGRATION TO CANADA.—We have reason to know that a Society for Emigration to Canada is in course of formatian on a very extensive scale. It comprehends not merely the details and arrangements of the passage, in screw steamers, on an economical plan, but of location on land. It will consist of working men of all dscriptions, as well as of those intending to settle as agriculturists, the foundation of a village, by the erection of stores and substantial houses, and offices, and laying off gardens, will be the first thing gone about. Saw-mills and other appliances will be taken out. The society will be formed and, it is expected, will sail in the latter end of April or the beginining of May. By the union of land, labour, and capital, or of Scotish energy, intelligence, and perseverance,' in the work of colonisation and reclamation of the wilderness what progress and prosperity may not be attained. Communication is being made with the Canadian government on the subject, who will give this society every facility and encouragement.

SINGULAR DEATH.—A singular death by apoplexy is mentioned by the Havre journals:—The ship's carpenter of the whaler Espadon, anchored in that port, was engaged on one of the masts taking the measure of a spar with a rope, the end of which was held by the captain on deck, when of a sudden his hands dropped and his head sank on his breast. A sailor was sent aloft to see what was the matter, and to his horror he discovered that the carpenter was dead, but that even in death his body preserved its equilibrium on the spar on which he was seated!—Scotch Paper.

THE ICE—MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT. Between twelve and one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, whilst a number of boys were sliding on a pond at Mr Bow's brickfield, on the south side of the Paisley Canal, the ice broke, and four of them were immersed in the water. Two of them, by the exertions of a young man named M. Kechpie, were rescued, but the others, one of them a son of Mr James Lawson, grocer Eglinton Street, and the other, a son of Mr Donald M'Kinnon, Portland Street, were unfortunately drowned. This occurence has not only thrown grief into the midst of two families, but has excite the commiseration of all to whom it was known.—Scotch Paper.

COLD WEATHER.—The last week will be marked for its great severity. We have never experienced anything like it in Pennsylvania. The whole week was excessively cold, but Saturday morning capped the climax. The thermometer at 6 o'clock, A. M., stood 18 degrees below zero, at 7 o'clock 16 degrees below. Yesterday (Monday) morning, the thermometer marked 13° below zero at 7 o'clock —The sleighing is good in the vicinity of our Borough, but the private roads through the country are not sufficiently broken. In many cases but a single track is made through drifts 5 feet deep. Nearly all the snow from the fields appears to be drifted in the roads. The mails have been very irregular both east and west. We fear our subscribers will be impatient on account of the non arrival of the Branch, but it can not be helped.—Olive Branch.

PRESTON S. BROOKS, Representativein Congress from South Carolina, who had been ill with a cold for some days, died suddenly, on Tuesday evening, at Brown's Hotel in Washington, from an attack of croup. Posterity will remember him only for the deed made him infamous, viz.: his cowardly and brutal assault upon Senator Sumner.—Anti-Slavery Standard.

From Greece we hear of a new and important discovery, unless it is a hoax Dr. Lanascer, a medical man at Athens, announces that he has discovered a spec tic against sea sickness. He gives from ten to twelve drops of chloroform in water, and assumes that in most cases it removes nausea at once, or certainly on taking the second dose. It is alleged that it was tried on twenty passengers, on a very rough voyage from Zea to Athens—eight of whom were cured by one dose. The two remaining ladies were able to resist the feeling of illness after the second dose. The remedy being simple enough, the medical profession in the United States may easily ascertain its true value.

PROPOSED NEW TERRITORY.—Seventy-six of the citizens of the upper peninsular of Michigan (the Lake Superior Copper region) have asked the Legislature to take the proper measures for separating that region from the State and organizing it as an Independent Territory of the United States. They declare that such is the almost unanimous desire of the people who live in the region referred to.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER GIVES UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

DEAR SIR,—In justice to this valuable medicine I must say, that I have never sold an article which gives such universal satisfaction to all who have used it. I have never had a medicine which has met with anything like such a rapid sale as your Pain Killer and its virtues are the topic of conversation in many places in this vicinity. I have recommended it for the cure of fever and ague, and warranted it, and it has cured cases in twenty-four hours. In conclusion, let me say, that wherever it has been introduced into a family, it is regarded as an indispensable medicine, and is kept constatly on hand.

W. W. ROBESTS. La Porte, Ind.

This certifies that I was afflicted with ague and chill fever for several years. I was persuaded to try Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer—I took part of a bottle, and was perfectly cured; I have not had a chill since beginning with this medicine. My sister being afflicted, applied the same remedy, and found almost immediate relief and has felt none of the ague symptoms since,

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 1.

Dr. Geo B. Green.—Dear Sir: In your note of this moring, you ask "for an expression of my opinion in regard to your medicine, called Oxygenated Bitters" It affords me pleasure to state that from the experience I have had in curing a severe attack of Dyspepsia in my own family and from the wounderful effects which it has produced in other and more severe cases, arising in families of members of Congress with whom I am acquanted, I think it an invaluable medicine and hope that such circulation will be given to it as will bring it within the reach of all who are afflicted with that distressing malady.

Respectfully yours, S. FOOTE.

ABOMINABLE DISHONESTY, HYPOCRISY, AND IMPOSITION!!

The American Tract Society and Slavery—A. S School Union.

"THAT ABOMINABLE CRIME, THE SLAVE TRADE."—(Speech. lately by Lord Palmerston, at Manchester, England.)

NOTE.—WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT the true cause and prosperity, and pure indoctrination. Of Christianity with loyal principles, in Canada, would, by this time, have been the heart's delight of every Christian. If facts are any guide to us, it does not so appear.

Are any and who are they, in Canada, of our Ministers of Religion, Religious Tract Societies, Colporteurs, &c, and of our Religious Papers, who yet support the American Tract Society or American Sunday School Union?

See the Advertisement, dated 28th November, of the "Child's Paper," and American Messenger for 1857 of said Tract Society, in the Montreal Witness of 20th November, and compare such with the following article of the Streetsville Review, C. W., of same date, as to said "American Messenger," &c. Will the Montreal Witness by John Dougall, its proprietor, never be cured of hypocrisy, or dealing unfairly in religious matters?—for there is an article in his said paper on the disloyalty of the Roman Catholics, which he knows it ought to know, as the conductor of a public and religious journal—that the foundation of the American Tract Society is rank republicanism, besides spurious printing and pro-slavery abasement! The publications of these Societies he has previously reviewed and recommended, without any remonstrance. (See throughout "Home Evangelisation," p p. 171, published by American Tract Society, with its reflections against the Irish' &c, and which book, and others of that Society's books, and A. S. S. Union, for shame! are sold by the Upper Canada Tract Society Toronto.—and said advertisement in the Witness is signed "James Milne," as Depositary of the Montreal Union Tract society! For shame!)

The American Sunday S Union dare not publish a sentence in favour of the freedom of the slave, or allude to the subject of slavery, and is also strictly republican!

The sighs and tears, blood stains and groans, of slave-humanity, are extorted for the support of the issues of books of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, (old school,) at Philadelphia Hear that, ye Free Presbyterians of Canada, who colporteur their books! The Wesleyan Methodists of Canada are duped by their preachers for a similar support of a more dismal, direct, and fraternal kind, as to their system! The "Facts for Baptist Churches" speak in unmistakeable language as to those the Regular Baptists of Canada fraternize with,

Let our own home and British reliable religious literature be put in our children's hands, such as "The Children's paper," published by T. Nelson & Sons at Toronto, &c, and so worthily recommended by a Canadian press.

(NOTICE No. 14.)

CAUTION!

SLAVERY FELLOWSHIP AND METHODISM—IMPOSITION.

1st. The Methodist Episcopal Church, (north) of the United States, has countenanced and still continues by its discipline to countenance, the iniquitous system of SLAVERY! Of the holding, buying and selling of human beings—souls and bodies of men, women and children. Their Class-leaders, Ministers and members, buy, hold and sell slaves. Ministers of religion, with authority and license to preach the blessed Gospel of Christ, being slaves, have been sold in the public market as goods and chattles—as a pig or a horse! Their chief publishing place is at No. 200 Mulberry Street, New York.—(See title pages of their books, &c., and as referred to in the Christian Guardian, of Toronto, C. W.)

2nd. The Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church Rev. Enoch Wood, of Toronto, President of Conference, fellowships with, countenances and receives, the above Methodist Episcopal Church (north) as a church equally as one with themselves. They sell and circulate their books, &c. in Canada; nay, more, got their Canada Sunday Advocate, printed at No. 200 Mulberry Street, being a copy next to one, of the same kind of publication printed and circulated from New York by the M. E. Church (north.) They also call it "Our Church" and our "Mother Church." They demit, or send ministers of their churches in Canada, to preach and labor in the U. States under said church. They had delegates (Revds. John Ryerson and Richard Jones) at the Quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist E. Church (north) at Indianapolis (Indiana) in May, '56, at which these Rev. gentlemen delivered speeches, which contained not a word of remonstrance or advice as to the sin and evil of Slavery—so existing in their midst. And they also preached. The editor of the Christian Guardian was there also. Reliable copies of the proceedings are in my possession.

3. The British laws declare Slavery, and all traffic and participation, in the same, as FELONY! Are we, Canadians, under the humane and general government of the British Empire,—are we, loyal people, to be supporters by aid, advice or money, of any such Body or Bodies, which countenance and fellowship with pro-slavery Bodies!—Are we! Whilst the highest and noblest in Britain's land, as well as the lowest, who support and traffic or have property in slavery, are liable to the pains and penalties of that British law, are we free from it? Shall we prefer republican maxims, religious and political, to our free monarchical institutions?

4 The inhabitants of Stratford, and its vicinity [wherein also live the purchased human flesh and blood of Slavery, yes, bought with our cash]—we are called upon, by public large handbills, to contribute on Sunday, the 2nd November, instant, and following days, by our money, to the support of the said Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church! The names of said Rev. Enoch Wood,—also Rev. Robert Cooney, D. D, of Guelph, and Rev. Lewis Warner, District Chairman, are stated in these handbills, as to be present at the meetings!

5. The Subscriber will D. V. continue, as heretofore, to take every means in his power, (while the evils of said fellowship, &c., exist) which time, influence and money, give him, with the aid of humane people, to endeavour to extirpate and do away with every kind of pro-Slavery FELLOWSHIP; and religious imposition thereby, which has hitherto been, and continues to be, (for shame!) practiced on a Canadian and a loyal people; by several of our religious Tract and Book and other Societies, Churches, and ministers of religion, in Canada.

The Counterfeit Radway's Ready Relief in Canada.

THE LIVES OF THE PEOPLE IN DANGER.

THE public are cautioned against purchasing a counterfeit of Radway's Ready Relief, which is now circulating through the Canadas. We are informed that parties at Hamilton, C.W. have been selling a spurious article of our Ready Relief, for the genuine to dealers. This is not only a fraud upon us, but is a most wicked imposition on the public. The wretch that will knowingly lend himself to so vile and treacherous a trade for the gain of a few extra Sixpences, is unsafe to deal with, and should be shunned by [illegible] for if a few Sixpences will induce him to rob the diseased and afflicted of health and to place the invalid [illegible] he would not scruple to deceive his best friends.

DR. LIVINGSTON UPON AFRICA.

Among the Bechuanas there is no paramount chief, though they refer themselves to a common origin. They are more effeminate than the Caffres, and those of them who were subjugated by Moschkatze gave no trouble to the Boers, who very wisely sidled away from Caffres, of whom they universally entertain a very wholesome dread When they (the Boers) wish to appear valiant they name the Bechuanas "Caffres," and may without much danger "perform brilliant service before the enemy," seeing our Government at the Cape prevents the Bechuanas from receiving supplies of gunpowder—although they never gave us any trouble—and allows a free supply to the Boers, who have. Among the negroes beyond 18° the system of paramount chiefs prevails in somewhat greater force than in Caffreland. Matiamvo is the paramount chief of a very widely scattered tribe called Balonda (or Balunde);but the various chiefs who profess subjection to him are perfectly independent. yet use his name as a sort of bugbear to each other, and every few years send him a present. Cazembe calls himself a vaseal of Matiomve too, and has an hereditary claim to be general-in-chief to him in somwhat the same way one of our Scottish peers does in reference to his clan. Monomotapa(Lord Motapa), often named by the Portuguese the "Emperor," is another of the paramount chiefs; but, though formerly subsidised by the Portuguese and honoured with a guard of European troops, is certainly not such a powerful man as Sandillah in Caffreland.

Now, these various chiefs, though nearly independent of each othar, are by no means independent of their people. Suppose a man is dissatisfied with one chief he can easily transfer himself to another, and as a chief's importance increases with the number of his follower fugitives are alway received with open armes. The chief of the Balobale who are west of the Balonda (12° and 13° S. lat., 23° E. long.), sold some of his people a few years ago to Mambari. The consequence was, whole villages passed over to the Balonda, and we saw them as an important part of the population under Shinte. Slavery invariably produceess bad neighbourhood. Nearly all the Portuguese wars have had this element in them,—"they received and kept our fugitive slaves." So constantly is this the case I cannot conceive a cordial friendships between the United States and England till either a fugitive slave act is operative in Canada and England, or slavery is abolished in the South. In Africa an extensive slave system could not be carried out anywhere except in the spaces inclosed in the deep reedy rivers of the Great Valley. One of the queens of the Sebituane tried to escape thence to the south; but though accompanied by eight attendants, she got so entangled in the branches of the rivers as to be obliged, after a month's absence, to give herself up. In all the other parts of the county the facilities for escape are so great that the slave system, even though it were desirable to establish it could not be worked. Would it be necessary? Take the most free and independent persons in the country, the Bashmen and Bakalahari: they kill and prepare upwards of 30,000 small animals, the skins of which are taken annually to the Cape in the shape of karosses. Ultimately many of them purchase tea in China. Three or four traders manage the whole affair. Ask an American, and he would answer that these animals could only be collected from the desert by slave labour.

Then in Angola a very large amount of ivory, beeswax, and palm and sweet oil is exported. We met hundreds of people carrying these articles to the cost, The Balonda and Ambond collect most beswax by means of hives, which we saw at a distence of a few miles on trees in the forest. They are not given to steal each other's honey, from a fear of medicine being placed on the trees. For the most part, nearly all the wax is collected by perfectly free agency, though to one sitting in Loando the amout seems enormous. And so of the palm and sweet oil. It is produced by independent negroes, and had they roads, as I recommended they should have, in Angola, the porduce would be multiplied a hundredfold. I say this because of the cheap rate at which these articles many be obtained from the cultivators in the interior, and they very wonderful predilection which all Africans have for barter. In connexion with this subject I may mention that before our cruisers, were so increased in number as to repress the trade in slaves, the traders went inland and purchased slaves sufficient to carry the wax, ivory, &c. they could find to the coast. Both were sold for exportation. But when our cruisers became by increased numbers more efficient a new system was necessary; and now the Government of Angola compels the negroes living under it to render service in transporting marchandise at a fixed rate to the coast. This was pretty clear proof that the slave trade was repressed, though it did not prove its entire suppression. We cannot always trace an untruth to its author. I had unbibed a Yankee notion that our cruisers only made bad worse and increased by interference the horrors of the middle passage. My brother, a clergyman in the United States, heard a professor of political economy assert the same thing; and as our cousins like to say remarkable things, it wsa added, "England would adopt a more humane course were she to fit up a line like the Cunard to transport the negroes from Africa to Cuba in comfort." I was led away by these and other statements made in Parliament. But in Angola I found "the time of the slave trade" spoken of in the past tense. I saw slaves sold for 12s within 100 miles of the coast who formerly would have commaded 70 dollars, and travelled with companies of slaves carried from Angola (chiefly woman) to be bartered among the Balonda for ivory and wax. The entire trade is not closed, but it is so dangerous as to prevent any one except a very few daring characters risking their money in it. The heartiness manifested by all our officers in their work and other things made me rather ashamed of myself for imbibing what I could clearly see was rather a Yankee than an English notion, propagated probably, in the first place, by those who may have been interested indirectly in the slave trade. and believed by those who were not, but had no means of testing its accuracy. The idea that the Africans could not produce cotton enough for the supply of England on their own soil I very much suspect is a Yankee notion too. Look at the insignificant island of the Mauritius, 35 miles long by 25 broad;—a great piece of volcanic rock, and so little soil that the boulders which covered it must be placed in rows, as drystonedykes, in order to get space for the sugar cane; the holes are made for the cane between the rows, and a little guano added, for without that there would be no sugar; and when that part is exhausted the dykes must all be moved on to the intervening spaces. The labor must all be brought by colonial money from India, and then Enlish enterprise produces sugar equal in amount to one-fourth of the entire consumption of Great Britain. The population of this wonderful little island, 200,000, is entirely free; the labourers, happy and comparatively free from the influence of caste, feel more friendly to Christianity and civilisation, and often return home as such men to spend their after life in ease and quiet. In deed, it is free labour which here, as in Angola, produces the large supply of the articles we need. The latter country contains a population of 600,000 souls averageing from 5 to 7 per cent, are slaves.

A FRENCH MARRIAGE OF PRUDENCE.—On the 20th of December last a town in the north of France was quite en fete on account of the marriage of Mdlle Eugenie D——— the only daughter of a manufacturer of the neighbourhood. with M. Charles V———, the son of a wealthy merchant of Paris. The marriage was one of prudence and arrangement rather than of love. All the questions of interest had been carefully attended to, but the point of mutual inclination was totally neglected. Every one seemed gay and happy, except the bride However, the ceremony took place and a wedding banquet followed, the whole being terminated by a ball. The festivities were drawing to a close, when a servant informed the bridegroom that a gentleman desired to speak with him on a very urgent affair, The bridegroom went out, but did not return for the rest of the evening. The guests one by one, retired, but the husband still remained absent, and at last, long after midnight, the bride withdrew to her chamber. There she at once discovered the cause of her husband's absence, for on a table by the bedside she found a small parcel, and the following note from her husband:—"Madame—If I had no right, in marring you, to expect a sincere affection, since we were but little acquainted with each other, I, however, looked for a heart which had never throbbed for another, and which I might by assiduity and tenderness in the end make my own. But a long series of letters from you to another man have just been placed in my hand—letters which prove that if you give me your hand your affection has been given to another. I cannot, madame, accept such arrangement, and as I am unable to rend asunder the bonds which have joined us a few hours since, I am determined to protest at least by my absence against the union which I have contracted; and the first day of your marriage shall be the first day of a widowhood which shall only terminate by the the death of one of us. Adieu, madame forever!" The next morning the house of the rich merchant was plunged into consternation, for the bride was found dead in her room, from the fumes of lighted charcoal. On the table lay the parcel of letters transmitted by her husband, and near them the following note:—Monsieur—It is I who am in the wrong, and it is I, therefore, who ought to offer a reparation. I give you the only one in my power—I restore to you your liberty and I expire imploring your pardon."—Siecle.

TREMENDOUS FLOODS AT ALBANY, CHICAGO, &c.

Oswego, February 9th.

The ice in the river began to move yesterday and rushed down with great force; tore six schooners from their moorings, sweeping all into the Lake. Much damage was done to vessels in the harbour. Several canal boats are loose on the Lake. Steam-tugs have started out in pursuit.

Albany, February 9th

As anticipated yesterday, a tremendous flood occurred, damaging property last night to an amount impossible to conjecture, but which cannot fail to reach 2,000,000 dollars. All last night the city was in confusion and excitement. The citizens were engaged all last night, in the docks and lower part of the city, in removing goods and storing them away in the second stories of buildings, where it was thought the flood could not reach, but their calculations proved erroneous. The waters rose so rapidly that those who were on the docks and piers were compelled to make a rapid retreat. The water in the river continued rising until five this morning, when it reached a point three feet higher than ever known before. The entire lower part of the city is flooded as high as Green-street. Persons who had retired to bed, thinking themselves safe, were aroused by horsmen who rode through the waters, knocking at doors of houses, to arouse the sleepers to a sense of their danger. The wildest confusion prevailed; the people in the lower part of the city having barely time to escape with their lives. About three o'clock the alarm bells were sounded for fire when the flames were discovered bursting forth from houses in different parts of the city. E, C. Warner and Son's lime-kilns and buildings on South-street and Broadway Gibson & Kalter's planing mills, at the foot of Fourth-street, and W.R. Burrett's fire brick store on the piers were all in flames at the same time, the fires having originated through the slackening of lime. The height of the water rendered it impossible for the engines to reach the scene of confusion, but the firemen put off in boats with buckets, and confined the flames to the buildings where they originated. About this time the wind changed and became piercingly cold.

The propeller Western World, lying in front of Burret's store, caught fire and was scuttled and sunk, to save her cargo of 4,000 bushels of corn.

Chicago, February 9th

We have been visited with the greatest storm and flood experienced in this vicinity since 1849. The Milwaukee Railroad Bridge is damaged considerably. No trains are running on the Galena Railroad. The bridge at Elginwas swept away, and a number of culverts destroyed. The Fond du Lac railroad track is carried away in several places; also, the bridge at Aux Plains. The Burlington Railroad Bridge, across the Bureau River, is gone. The Rock Island Railroad Bridge, across the Dupage River, was moved by the ice on Friday night. An engine tender and six cars were precipitated into the river. The engineer, fireman, and brakeman are missing; supposed to be drowned. The Illinois River at Lasalles, rose twenty-eight feet.

HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR,

We are glad to announce, is about to open a Register at the City Hall, to which all persons can have access, and there record the class of Mechanics, or Domestic Servants they need. Upon the arrival of Emigrants on our Lake Shore, they may at once find out where their services are wanted and make early application. We commend his Worship's example to others. Mr. Hutchinson is thus the first person to carry into effect the recommendations of Mr. Vankoughnet on this subject, and the suggestion of our venerable friend the 'Old Warden,"

FATAL MISTAKE OF A DRUGGIST.—A tragedy occured at Baltimore on the 21st. A druggist filled a prescription ordered by a Dr. Arnold, a German physician, for a child. The child took the medicine and died immediately. Dr. Arnold took the remainder of the medicine to the Druggist and told him he had made a fatal mistake. The druggist persisted that the medicine was right, and to show his confidence in its correctness, swallowed a portion himself. He was immediately attacked with horrible convulsions, and died in five minutes. The physician, who merely tasted the preparation and spit it from his mouth was also attacked, and was with difficulty saved.

The affair occasioned great excitement. The druggist had mixed cyanuret ofpotassium with lemon juice, and adding enough prusia acid in the preparation to have killed three hundred people.

Central American Affairs.

We give below accounts of the movements of Central American forces in opposition to Walker. Were it were possible to transfer the [illegible] in full, but our limited space will not allow it. The fate of Walker was at latest accounts uncertain, but all agree in the probability of his overthrow at no distant day. The Central American forces have displayed great bravery. For the present we must content ourselves with a few short extracts relating to things in Central America in general.

We extract from the correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times, the following:—

I suppose you have seen the proclamation of President Rivas, declaring a free passage by steamer to [illegible] who will desert Walker.

Mr. Spencer, who was at the head of the seizure of the steamers, is said by some to be the Spencer who was arrested for the murder of Capt. Thazer, of the [illegible] Witch. Others say he is a celebrity of the young man of such unfortunate celebrity in our naval history.

Walker had only a small schooner on the lake at St. George, since he had lost the steamers. His friends here estimate his available force at 1,200 men—but the Boletin of San Jose says it does not exceed 600 or 700, as he has 300 sick.

It is said here that the Costa Ricans found no one of the steamers 8 field-pieces, 2 mortars, 400 rifles, 100 kegs of powder, and $2,000 in money, belonging to Walker.

Mr. Rogers, Walker's Secretary of the Treasury, was also at Greytown on business connected with these and other supplies, when the river was closed against him, came around here on the British steamer, bought a five ton schooner, and on Sunday, the 4th, [illegible] and [illegible] decisive.

The Boletin oficial says that after Walker had evacuated the island of Ometepe, the Indians returned to their village, destroyed their corn and provisions, killed their cattle, and burned their houses to the ground, "leaving only the temple of their god," for fear the filibusters might return and be benefitted by them. It also says that 100 Nicaragua troops deserted Gen. Canas, while he was on his march to Masaya. It counsels the allied Generals to drop their little jealousies and quarrels, and says that these are what have enabled Walker to maintain himself in the country, in the face of an enemy numbering 2,500 men.

The same correspondent writing from New Grenada, says, in the usual spirit of those Americans who see colored men with a responsible nationality in spite of them, and so feel moved to depreciate them and their influence:

Colon appears to be full of the worst kind of Jamaica, Carthagena, Curacoa and Santo Domingo negroes and half-breeds, who do little or nothing but loaf about and steal when they get a chance. They are anything but friendly with the whites; and unless the United States shall take control of the Transit Route and its termini, there will be another 15th of April soon. It came very near it on Sunday, the 4th inst. Some Jamaica and San Domingo negroes publish a little sheet in Colon, called El Criollo, in which they have been in the habit of blackguarding every person of respectable character. On Sunday morning, an attack having been made in it upon a respectable lady, the wife of one of the employees of the railroad Company, the white residents determined to destroy the press, and assembled near the printing office, or yard, for that purpose. Happily the Police and its aids induced them to forego their purpose, by a promise to abate the nuisance if possible. The negroes were prepared to resist the destruction of the press, and blood shed would have followed the attempt to destroy it.

The N. York Herald true to instinct, be[illegible] the [illegible] Forest Rangers, [illegible] Cost Rangers, [illegible] processes to see "the establishment of our Indian Empire." Who, then, shall be the founder of it? Will it be Commodore Vanderbilt? He has plotted well. Will it be Commodore Morgan? He has fought well. Will it be Commodore Law? He has waited well. Or will it be some new Dessalix, or another Clive that shall spring up from the ranks of our people or the desks of our merchants? We have thousands who are equals of Dessalix in wisdom, or of Clive in valor and craft. All they need is to be brought upon the theatre of action, and their genius will burst forth. The theatre of action is up for sale—who bids?

The great scheme of our Indian empire solves all our difficulties with the countries south of us, and meets all our wants. Everywhere the American is invading those countries, and preparing, unwittingly, for the coming future. It is the sentiment that underlies every impulse of the American people. See the thousands that have already flocked to Walker, surrounded as he is by doubt, difficulty and danger. It is the mighty interest that overshadows all [illegible] yet which secures territory covers the paths of our greatest commerce—defence of the outlets of our greatest rivers and southern seas—progress of commerce and production to fill the increasing demands of the civilized world—these are the elements of our Indian empire, and superannuated statesmen may negotiate, and slumbering Senates ratify treaties to stop its growth, but they are powerless before the mighty impulse of our people and the all pervading rule of their advance. Who bids for the gateway of our Indian empire?

So the contempt for and sneers at English East Indian possessions is a mount to nothing; but must be regarded as a little characteristic jealousy at not having an Indian Empire of "our own." Now that the allies are about getting clear of Walker, the pathway to filibustering by his government is so clear that with indecent haste and cap in air, this Herald editor like the dead Brooks "delicious," in his proclivity to [illegible] hands [illegible] Empire &c.

Our Town and Township Councils and indigent Colored People.

We begin to [illegible] the Councils of Toronto and Hamilton, they [illegible] Among the items will be found, an appropriation [illegible] support of an indigent colored man, and also a statement equally significant; namely, that a benevolent gentleman a member of the body, Mr Campbell, had furnished the man's family with some provisions. This case is just to the point, and proves what we have often said, that the town and township councils in Canada, are willing and do appropriate to needy cases, whether colored or white. The township of Chatham although a flourishing municipality, cannot be supposed to contain as much wealth as [illegible], and there have been [illegible] of the humanity and promptitude of our town council in such cases, and we know that our citizens, too, are benevolent and give readily whenever such a case comes to their knowledge.—M. ☞ Emancipation from the states is going on as formerly—one old lady one hundred and twenty years old, came to the country yesterday with others who seem to be mad of the freedom they enjoyed. The old lady is more sensible than many younger people &c.

The Bogart Mutiny.

☞ We would like to hear of a more noble specimen of true bravery and love liberty and justice, by a similar number of [illegible] But the [illegible] is painful exhibiting as it does the duplicity and "dare-devil" temerity of some American officers, who in the heart of Britain could attempt so boldly to enslave colored men.—C.

☞ The Rev. [illegible] on Monday evening last, on "the religion inculcated in the writings of Shakespeare" was like the previous effort of that gentleman, of rare excellence and beauty, but, not so well attended as the high intellectual character and ability of the lecturer and the great theme demanded. The people of these [illegible] should [illegible] regularly [illegible] the most accomplished [illegible] &c.

Sage the inscription [illegible] New Orleans [illegible] South, have been closed by the slavocracy we learn. The Rev. D. A. Payne, a Bishop of the A. M. E. church, and well known to colored Americans, was imprisoned at New Orleans, and he and other colored ministers have been ordered to leave the state. A pitiful state of society truly!—C.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AND SLAVERY.

Stratford, C.W., 7th Feb, 1857.

Sir,—It will be of some importance for [illegible] Sunday School Convention to [illegible] to consider [illegible] CONSISTENT [illegible] HUMANITY [illegible] Canada [illegible] United States,—and [illegible] Union [illegible] Slavery [illegible] Resolutions [illegible] Sunday School Union dare not publish or circulate any [illegible] to the condition of the slave, or an expression against slavery as a sin, or even as an evil! It is [illegible] that the system adopted by that Union is a sectional one, and has reference to one class of people. The religious, the political, the common civil rights of the colored man are not recognized.

We will witness, then, at Kingston, an acknowledgement, an homologation of and a fraternization with interests diametrically opposed to the free and generous and humane principles which are inherent in the constitution of our Province, and are the birthright of a monarchial and a free people.

It will well become Canadians who hate imposition and hypocrisy to turn their attention to the proceedings of the Kingston Sunday School Convention.

MUTINY ON BOARD THE AMERICAN SHIP "J. L. BOGART," IN THE MERSEY.

From the Liverpool Post.

On Monday morning, Jan. 5, shortly after 10 o'clock, the report of fire-arms was heard to proceed from on board the American ship "J. L. Bogart," and soon a flag of distress was hoisted. Capt. Conway, who was on shore at the time, hastened to the American Consul's office, and immediately proceeded on board. The consul instantly communicated with Mr. Clough the [illegible] superintendent of police at the [illegible] ly af[illegible] [illegible] detective officers [illegible] Lally, with two others of that department, and they, taking ten other officers, proceeded to board the ship. On [illegible] respectively presented a regular battle [illegible] deck, and even the bulwarks of the ship bore traces of contest, being largely [illegible] with blood. On going on board, the deck round the forecastle presented a horrible appearance, and was covered with [illegible] gore; the men showed shocking [illegible] savage treatment, and the first mate was [illegible] cloven, and lay on the deck. One of the crew was in front of them, also on the floor of the ship, having been wounded in the thigh by a pistol fired at him as he states, by the second mate. The officers immediately stayed the tumult, and then proceeded to make arrests. The captain and officers charged the crew with mutiny, and the latter accused the officers of brutally ill-treating them. Sixteen of the crew were placed in custody for mutiny and injury to the officers; and the second mate was arrested for shooting at and wounding James Christie, an able seman on board. Christie received the wound in the upper part of the leg, and the ball lodged in the thigh. He was taken to the Birkenhead landing-place, whither the other fifteen charged were carried, together with the second mate, and he was thence conveyed to the Birkenhead office. The bullet yet remains in the wound. The first mate, whose name is C. O. Thorber, was carried to the Northen Hospital, where he now lies. He has received a very bad wound on the head, and a stabbed wound in the shoulder. They are not supposed such as to place his life in danger, however. The whole of the crew in custody are more or less injured—some of them very severely. Oliver Scott took from the person of [illegible] a pistol; and, on being carried to the hospital, "brass knuckles" were found in his pocket.—We understand that inquiries made on board lead to the conclusion that the officers from the moment the ship cleared commenced ill treating the men, and that this ill-treatment reached such an acme yesterday morning that the men struck work, and refused their ordinary duty.—The officers immediatly resorted to arms, shots were fired, and Christie fell mortally. The men then seized whatever was at hand and attcaked the officers, wounding the first mate as we have stated above. The occurrence has created much sensation in town.

One alleged cause of the mutiny, as stated by the crew, is that they shipped for New York, under articles to that effect, and as they were mostly coloured men, on learning that the vessel was bound for Mobile they refused to go, that being a slave State where they would all be returned in slavery. The men who are in custody are all blacks, and the ship has certainly cleared for Mobile.

On Tuesday the 20th, the affair was investigated before a full bench of magistrates, at Rodney-street. The prisoners were brought up in the custody of four Liverpool detectives, and gave the following names, Hiram Caddis, Edward Spriggs, Joseph Williams, Jeremiah Jones, Lott Hyatt, David Walker, Samuel Stevens, Nicholas John, Wm. Elliston, Jhon Battles, Geo. Kent, Chas. Winterpole, Jhon Wellesley Edward Hill, Benjamin Hodge and Lemuel Dorsey, all colored men.—They were charged, by Captain Joseph Conway, with mutiny on board his ship. Mr. Campbell, the second mate, was charged with shooting Jas. Christie, on board the same ship. Mr. Campbell, solicitor, defended the prisoners, and "some philanthropic gentlemen of Liverpool" employed a second lawyer, Mr Snowball, to assist in the defence. Capt. Conway appeared before the court and charged the prisoners with mutiny. The magistrates refused the charge of mutiny as beyond their jurisdiction but were ready to hear any charge of assault. No direct evidence being ready as to assault, the prisoners were discharged, with the exception of Joseph Williams, Jeremiah Jones, and Lott Hyatt, who had arms in their hands when apprehended. The case is adjourned until to morrow, the 22d. The first mate lies in a dangerous condition in the hospital, and the second mate is in custody. The crew assert that they were shipped for a British bark, called the "Robin Hood," for Africa, and refused to work when they found themselves on board the "Bogart."

CONGRESS.

THE BURIAL OF BROOKS.

Congress is now [illegible] in the last week that we care to record. Here is a condensed telegraphic report of the proceedings of the two Houses, upon the death of Preston S. Brooks:

January, 29, 1857.

In the Senate.—The official notification of the death of Hon. P. S. Brooks having been received from the House, a eulogy was pronounced by Mr. Evans, of South Carolina, who expressed his regret that this tribute to the memory of the deceased could not be paid by his worthy colleague, Mr. Butler; but the deep affliction which this sad event has occasioned him, in the loss of a dear friend and relative, has unfitted him for the performance of that duty.

* * * * *

House.—Mr. Keitt, of South Carolina, announced the death of Mr. Brooks, saying that his disease was acute inflammation of the throat, and so swift and fatal that even his medical adviser believed him to be in no danger until within the briefest possible period of the time of his decease. Mr. Brooks was born in Edgefield district, South Carolina, in 1819, and had served in the Legislature of that state; and in the Mexican war had rendered gallant service. He was sent to Congress as the representative of a proud and gallant constituency, whose history has been illustrated by the virtue, statesmanship, and eloquence of Robert Goodlow Harper, John C. Calhoun, and George McDuffie. He spoke of his long and intimate relations with the deceased, who in his bearing was frank and honest, in dispute severe, and in friendship delicious. Mr. Brooks has left a wife and four children within the sanctity of that home he would not intrude, but would supplicate Heaven to furnish balm to their crushed and bleeding hearts. Earth never pillowed on its bossom a truer son, nor Heaven opened wide its gates to receive a manlier spirit. Mr. Keitt then submitted a series of resolutions, setting forth the deep sensibility with which the House had received the intelligence of the death of Mr. Brooks, tendering to the family of the deceased the sympathy of the House, and resolving that the members, in token of respect, wear crape on left arm for thirty days.

* * * * *

Mr. Quitman, of Mississippi, added a few words to the tribute paid to the character of the deceased by the gentlemen from South Carolina. He was a man of kind heart and the most tender sensibility. Mr. Keitt had well said his friendship was of the most extraordinary tenacity. If these elements, which are among the highest characteristics of true manhood, ever led him to acts which our judgments would decide to be wrong' let us remember that, "to err is human, to forgive divine."

* * * * *

Mr. Savage, of Tennessee, did not approve of so much talking at any time, but he would do injustice to his feelings, and those of his constituents; by remaining silent on this occasion. History records but one Thermpylæ but there ought to have been, "and that for Preston S. Brooks," Brutus stabbed Cæsar in the capitol, and whatever may be thought of the justice and wisdom of the deed, the world has ever since approved and applauded the act. So shall the scene in the Senate Chamber carry the name of the deceased to all future generations, long to be remembered after all are forgotten, and when these walls shall have crumbled into ruins. Had he been permitted to choose his own death, he (savage) was convinced he would have fallen in some great battle for the public of South Carolina. He had seen Mr. Brooks bearing the trials of the siege of Vera Cruz, as an officer of the Plametto regument, ever exibiting all the characteristics of a true man and a soldier. Under all circumstances, never a morning came here but he made his salute to his old commander."

ARRIVAL OF THE AFRICA.

The steamship Africa arrived this P. M. She left Liverpool Jan. 24, dates three days later than the one brought by the Baltic.

The Swiss difficulty was considered virtually settled but the details of the adjustment were to be submitted to a conference of several powers.

The British fleet had taken possession of the forts of Bushir and the Island of Karak in the Persian Gulf.

It is also reported that the Russians had occupied Astrachan.

Late intelligence from China is to the effect that the Governor of Canton continued obdurate.

The british had taken and destroyed the French Folly Fort. That the Chinese had set fire to the factory and that all the houses were destroyed.

The oriental and mercantile junks had been burned.

It was reported that the shelling at Canton had commenced just before the departure of the mails.

The ship confederation, from Philadelphia was ashore off the Mersey, and it was feared that she would prove a total wreck. The crew had been saved.

The London Morning Herald announces that a Cabinet Council held Jan. 21st, the subject of a reconstruction of the Cabinet was discussed, and that offers of another coalition were made some weeks ago. Among other changes it is said that Gladstone would be replaced in the exchequer.

The merchants of the principal commercial cities of France have appealed to the Emperor in behalf of the French citizens who suffered by the destruction of Greytown by the American frigate Cyanne.

PRUSSIA.

Berlin, Jan, 20.

Baron Manteuffel has stated to the chambers that the release of the Neufchatel prisoners has been unconditional so far as Prussia is concerned. This, he adds, has removed the question of war. The solution of other points must be left to the discussion of the diplomatic conferences with the European powers.

RUSSIA.

Accounts from St. Petersburg state that a considerable amount of property belonging to Russian merchants has been destroyed by the late attack of the British on Canton. The Russians accuse the English of attempting to destroy their important overland trade with China.

The Russian military establishments on the Amoor River are now in such a state of defence that it is thought the British men-of-war will not be able to force an entrance.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER GIVES UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

Dear Sir,—In justice to this valuable medicine I must say, that I have never sold an article which gives such universal satisfaction to all who have used it. I have never had a medicine which has met with anything like such a rapid sale as your Pain Killer and its virtues are the topic of conversation in many places in this vicinity. I have recommended it for the cure of fever and ague, and warranted it, and it has cured cases in twenty-four hours. In conclusion, let me say, that wherever it has been introduced into a family, it is regarded as an indispensable medicine, and is kept constally on hand.

W. W. ROBESTS. La Port, Ind.

This certifies that I was afflicted with ague and chill fever for several years. I was persuaded to try Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer—I took part of a bottle, and was perfectly cured; I have not had a chill since beginning with this medicine. My sister being afflicted, applied the same remedy, and found almost immediate relief and has felt none of the ague symptoms since,

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHESRY.

From the New York Evening Mirror. May 25.

"Among all the Panaceas advertised for the cure of human ailments, there is none in which we have more confidence than WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. We regard it as one of Nature's own perparations—simple safe, pleasant to take, and almost certain to cure all bilious and pulmonary affections. We have witnessed its wonderful effects in cases that were regarded as hopelessly desperate, and we conscientiously recommend it as one of the best medicines in the world."

It has proved more efficacious as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Bronchits, Asthma and Consumption in its incipient stages, than any other medicine.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS, on the wrapper.

DR LIVINGSTON UPON AFRICA.

But it may be objected that the colonists of Natal cannot get free labour from the Caffres, and our Government must supply them with coolies—there can be no harm in quoting the Natalians, own words, as published from reports of public meetings in their own newspapers. The avowed object of the speakers at one meeting a few years ago was to induce the Government to grant Chinese or coolie labour, "for then they would get English capital on the strength of it." Now, I wish them to get some of it; they would make a much better use of it than the Emperor of Russia would; but, though desirous to see them prosper, I think it will be in their power to remember that Caffre labour by the thousand was at their door at 7s 6d a month, and if a Times' commissioner had gone out they would both have left off their clamour for "labour" and for a Caffre war, for these "Time's people" are sad fellows for putting the ends of things together. The attempt by a commision to get up a Caffre war produced the opinion of the Recorder of Natal, "that history does not present another instance in which greater security was enjoyed of both life and property than had been enjoyed by the Natalians during the period of English occupation." Mr. Cloeter, the recorder, is a gentleman of Dutch descent, of distinguished impartiality of judgment, and eminent in legal attainments.

And then they were told, nem. con., in the commission; that nearly all those who were clamouring for labour were so unable to employ labour that they had actually come to the colony in search of employment. I wish them success; but you will see whether their want of labour means more than want of capital, and whether the case has any bearing on the question, producing cotton by free labour in Africa.

With respect to the fertility of the soil I have very little doubt, because cotton is already cultivatied, though of inferior quality. It is short in the pile. In Cazengo, a district of Angola, 1200 cloths, each six feet long by three broad, is the annual tribute of the free population to Government. There is bees-wax in great abundance in the interior, but the people eat the honey and throw the wax away. Coffee, wheat, sugar, and indigo were formerly exported from Tete. The country in many parts is quite covered with wild vines; but the grapes are bad. There is abundance of specular iron ore and the black oxide, but I have spoken of these elsewhere. The wheat grows on parts flooded by the Zambese; and this river inundates large patches of country annually exactly as the Nile does. Indeed, it rises in a great valley, containing extensive collections of water with islands. And, as the view of Sir R. Murchisou respecting the formation of Africa was remarkably confirmed by my observations, made without the remotest idea of his having enunciated it clearly three years before, I think it highly probable that the Zambese and Nile rise in one great valley. The valley of the Nile between Cairo and Alxandria is the exact counterpart to the Valley of the Barotse, between 16 degrees and 14½ degrees south latitude, and 23 degrees east longitude.

My principal object in referring to those matters in the present papers is to take advantage of your wide circulation to utter a sort of protest against any rash speculations being made in connexion with them. The ports called Barra Catrina and Melumbe, at the real moutbs of the Zambese, ought to be examined by competent persons, if the opinion of the late Captain Parker, who was killed at the mouth of the Danuba, and who is said to have been delighted with the branch called Luabo or Cuama, cannot be found at the Admiralty. The river of Quilimane, which I came down, is not the Zambese at all. When I left that river it was flowing rapidly, with about three quarters of a mile of deep water. It remains high during five months of the year—i.e., a small steamer would scarcely run aground anywhere within 300 miles of the coast; and during the remaining months there is a deep channel, rather winding and shifting from year to year. There is a shifting, too, of the large reedy island in the river below Lupata: the healthiest period of the year—May, June, and July—corresponds with the time of medium height of the water. The country is uninteresting until you go through the gorge of Lupata The numerous islands where, before the late war, 24 fowls could be brought for two fathoms of strong unbleached calico, and grain equally cheep, are now depopulated. The Portuguese Government has made the ports of the eastern coast free, and certain privileges are granted to any one who may discover and work a mine. The country, especially that north of the Zambese, is remarkably fertile, and the people cultivate largely; yet I would recommend nothing but a small outlay in any attempt to develope the resource of the country. Anything on a grand scale would be sure to fail, because it is so very difficult to get the proper agency, for however good men may appear at home, when freed from the restraints of public opinion and the thousand other influences which bear upon them in England, they do often act in the most unaccountable manner. Let but little be attempted at first, and when success in the small way is attained operations can easily be extended: your men will then be known too. If, for instance, an attempt were made to develope the coal trade there would be no great difficulty in a small armed steamer going up the Zambese 300 miles to the parts around Tete, where the seams crop out of the surface. One seam could be reached by going up, in flat-bottomed boats, a river 60 or 80 yards broad, called Revubue (Revubwe), which falls into the Zambese on the north bank, about two miles below the fort. These flat-bottomed boats would approach to within two or three miles of the seam and but for a small cascade in the Revubwe, they could enter the tributary of the Revubwe in which the seam exists It is situate in the perpendicular bank, and measured from the level of the stream, it is 48 inches in diameter, few inches of shale, then another of 10 inches—58 inches of coal in all. The dip of the same is inclined upwards, so no machinery for drainage would be required, Close by, the coal has been converted into coke by volcanic action. Another tributary of the Revubwe, which enters nearly opposite this contains another seam, and there are others higher up, or north-wards. I have brought specimens for the museum in Jermyn Street under Sir R. Murchison, whose opinion will be decisive as to the value or worthlessness of the mineral. Should such a speculation be successful, accurate information of the commercial value of other articles would in the meantime be secured. I am not qualified by a commercial education to give any opinion, and others equally clever might might not succeed in gaining the affections of the natives. With me, indeed, it has been a work of time, and I have profited much by the kindness of those with whom I have lived in giving me a good name. But any one may keep a civil tongue in his head and avoid espousing the quarrels of others, as the English have done those of the Boers with the Caffres, Let it always be remembered that slavekeeping is bad neighbourhood; "if you don't give up my runaway slave you are my enemy." This has been the root of many a war.—I am, Sir, yours, &c.,

THE DRUNKARDS DEATH.

What a spectacle is this! What a lesson does it teach! The destruction of man's corporal frame is not pleasant under any circumstances. The taking down his "clay tabernacle," even when he hopes to enter a "building not made with hands," in the upper skies, has something melancholy in it. But when we see a mortal stretched upon his dying couch whose life has been spent in debauchery and revelry, what is there connected with him or his, either with his past or present, or future, that does not present the most horrible and forbidding aspect? Life is gone—property wasted—character blasted—wife and children beggared—there he lies upon his bed of straw, with parched lips, bloated countenance, and blood shot eyes, the very personification of ruin. Tossing upon his hard and comfortless couch, panting for breath, and calling for help, but all in vain. Death marks him for his victim; and now, if for a while he is relieved from frightful ghosts and demons which hitherto haunted his disordered imagination, conscience, the sleepless monitor, with redoubled vigor, assails his still conscious soul and brings up before him every act of his worthless life, to blast all hope, to plunge him in deeper agony, and to hurry his affrighted spirit into the presence of his God. How loudly and bitterly does he complain of himself, of life, of friends, of God.

He prays, but it is the angry imprecation of a doomed spirit, demanding of his Maker a speedier discharge. The wild glare of his scorched eyes, his restless tossing his retching hiccough, and his deep hollow groans, tell us how hard it is for a drunkard to die. The very presence of once loved wife and children, kindle in his bosom in advance, the very fires of hell. The soothing voice of mercy and the plaintive prayer of the man of God kneeling by his bedside, but add fuel to the already raging flame. He calls for water! water! water! now, ere he takes up his habitation where "one drop" will not be allowed him; but ah! the cool draught only adds force to the devouring fire. Friends gather around to take a last farewell, and his tremulous hand is extended to bid them adieu; thoughts of the past and the future send their withering arrows, barbed with the poison of death, to his bursting heart; and with one agonizing struggle, his ruined soul staggers into the spirit land to receive its sentence. Pity, compassion, humanity would let the veil drop here, and cover up till the great assizes the doom of the deluded, misguided wretch; but Divine truth has said, "All drunkards shall have their portion in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone."

FREE SUGAR.

The movement in favor of a repeal of the duty on sugar is all but universal.—The following is the substance of a petition to Congress now being numerously signed in New-York. The petitioners represent—

That sugar has become so universal and indespen ible an article of consumption as to be not improperly reckoned among the necessaries of life.

The duty of thirty per cent., with which it is burdened on its importation into our country, weighs severely upon the mass of the people, and upon the various trades and occupations in which it is used as a raw material.

That this duty is a tax levied upon more than twenty millions of our people not for the necessities of the government which does not want it, but for a benefit of a class which, at present, does not probably exceed two thousand in number.

That the sugar-cane is a tropical plant, which does not come to perfection in the climate of the United States; and that owing to frequent unfavorable seasons, the tendency of the plant to degenerate, and the exhaustion of the soil of the sugar estate, more labor is necessary to produce a given quantity of sugar in this country, than in any other part of the world from which the commodity is brought.

The making of the sugar from the cane, for these reasons' even with the present high duty, never likely to become a prosperous branch of industry in our country.

The undersigned therefore pray that Congress will altogether relieve the people from the duty on imported sugars.

During the last year the prices of sugar have advanced fully fifty per cent.—A speculative movement has to some extent stimulated the advance within the last few months.

The agents of the New Orleans planters, having early information of the deficient crop in Louisiana, bought up in the market all the Cuba sugar they could, and have realized very large profits.

An export duty of 87½c. per box is now paid on all sugar shipped from Havana to American ports, and the Spanish Governments threaten to increase the duty to thirty per cent, as a set-off to our import duty the same rate. In that case, the price of sugar in this country would be largely increased, as our chief supplies are derived from Cuba and Port Rico, and cannot be obtained in any degree of sufficiency elsewhere.

No section of the country is more deeply interested in this subject than the Northwest, and we suggest the propriety of circulating petitions to Congress for the repeal of sugar duty form as above. Who will move in the matter? We are sure that everybody would sign such a petition without hesitation.

Meantime, let not our prairie farmers forget to lay in a stock of the Chinese Sugar Cane, and let them be sure that it is a genuine article, as there are several varieties of the plant, the seeds of which do not differ much in appearance. The experiment of raising our own sugar ought to be tried on a large scale in the North-west the coming season. In fact, if prices should get much higher, there will be with most people only a choice between this course and doing without the article altogether. Fortunately there is little or no risk in the experiment, as the stalks of the plant will more than pay for planting and harvesting merely as food for cattle.

JAPAN PEA.—Much has been said in regard to the virtues of the Japan, or Cajanus Bicolor, which in fact resembles a bean, in the vine and perhaps in the taste more than the pea.

We have raised some Japan Peas the past summer and found them to be good producers and not subject to the worm, chicken nor pigeon. They should be planted about the time Indian corn is and may be in rows two or three feet apart and about a foot apart in the row, as they have very bushy stems requiring no sticks for support.

In taste we do not think them equal to the marrow fats.

STABLES for all kinds of animals should be roomy, warm and well ventilated. The ventilation must not be by means of a stream of fresh air flowing over and chilling them Horses, cows, sheep, mules and all such animals, keep in better health, have more muscular vigor and subsists on less food in such stables, than when exposed.
A propor degree of warmth and fresh air, is the problem; and the man who can solve it will be a benefactor to all domesticated animals. We have approximations now; but like the problem of squaring the circle, the precise answer has yet to be given.

MANURE.—Experiment shows that the same amount of manure which has been covered nine inches deep with earth, so that no evaporation can escape, will produce four bushels of wheat more to the acre, than that which has lain to the weathr. Keeping manure covered then, when wheat is a dollar and a half a bushel, will add six dollars to the value of the products of every acre of land, growing wheat.

C. C. Foot, Agent,
of Refugee Home Society.
Detroit, Nov. 20, 1856.

We copy the above choice morsel from the American Missionary for the present month, for the double purpose of calling the attention of the friends of the slave and of common honesty, wherever they may be found, to the same—that is, whether in Europe America or the islands of the Sea; and in order that the refugees in this country, may understand more fully the means employed to degrade and crush them on this Free Soil. Who is this C. C. Foot, it may be asked, who has at his command the patronage of Abolitionists in New-England and the middle and western states, and who begs! begs! begs! for the Refugees in Canada? A man of fair address, who begs for the Refugees Home Society and draws from a benevolent public, hundreds aye thousands of dollars, and boxes of valuable goods, pretendingly to appropriate them faithfully to the use of Refugees in this country, but whose operations is a greater curse to the refugees than all of the beggars of Canada combined. C. C. Foot is a paid agent of the Refugees Home Society of Detroit; lives when not out begging, at Detroit, keeps a depository of clothes and other valuables at Detroit, and makes the anti-slavery public believe through the columns of the American Missionary, that he is helping the colored people of Canada by means of their donations. The society that sanctions his movements, pay him not less than twenty five per cent to work for them. This society is endorsed by Christians—its healthy disposed by the fugitives, as a powerful body capable of, and doing them great wrong and harm, but so firmly sustained by well known abolitionists (though no doubt innocent,) as to render their case desperately hopeless! The entire officiary and members of the society are in the United States, and so heartless are many of them, that fugitives who have felt called to protest personally against their injustice, have been defied and derided by its official members (we have names and facts) We have said that the operations of the agent or agents and society are harmful, and we defy genuine philanthropists to prove to the contrary after having investigated the matter thoroughly—not simply by depending upon the names of parties favoring or concerned in the same—not by examining any books that may be kept for the purpose (Canada has an awful experience of such documents) but by sending men or women, if you please, who shall go unannounced or unbefriended to the Refugees Home and examine, the same, and shall question the settlers thereon; and further, who shall be instructed to inquire of the thriving white and colored farmers settled near the Society's lands and of white and colored Canadians generally. We have been on the Home and know that the entire affair is a palpable "humbug" There are hundreds of acres of land purchased by funds, begged to give homes to a people who are landless, clothes money &c. are also begged for them, and money for schools and churches, and yet their lands are not only sold them, but this same C. C. Foot has demanded an advance upon the same purchase because of the rise in the value of lands thereabouts. Of the tonswe may safely say of clothes contributed the worst specimens mostly, and but little has reached them and so well was Mr. Foot's, custom in this respect known, that Mrs. Heviland took back to Detroit a box sent out at one time because the clothes were to good and said "brother Foot had certainly not assorted them before sending them" Samuel Williams a teacher applied to Mr. Foot for funds towards a school among the fugitives during the present winter, as amounts have been collected by Mr. Foot for the purpose, and a school of twenty-five being offered, and Mr. Foot would allow him one shilling a week for all over that number. Mr. Williams was obliged to abandon the post. Benevolent friends sent funds to Windsor by an honest man, who gave among others, to a poor woman and we were told by a witness to the transaction that on learning the fact, afterwards, C. C. Foot came to the woman demanded the money and got it. The miserably poor condition of the settlers of the home, is the pretext for all this begging, when they are made so by the circumstances attending their settlement. Hundreds, thousands of refugees, come to this country without means, avoid the Home, get employmnt, and in time become the prosperous owners of good property; but there are other people who are at first deceived into settling upon the Home, from the idea that not only lands but clothes, money &c., will be given, and who are finally left to worse than poverty—yes the immorality a consequence, is appaling as we learn from settlers, and that the example of both teachers, and manager have not lessened it must be the conclusion, from observation and testimony of honest settlers. C. C. Foot and Dennis Washington both beg for the Home, but the fugitives get but little of the spoils. The two worst features of the case are, the turning from a worthy channel benevolent persons to aid a society the operation of which through its agents, are filling its coffers, and demoralizing the settlers, and at the same time degrading the majority of refugees, who are independent and self supporting. How many schools has the refugees home society established, and how many have they now? How many churches have they? Why did C. C. Foot leave the Home so suddenly after having insisted on larger payments from the same individual? Why did Mrs. Heviland leave so unceremoniously, and why do not the benevolent of Canada endorse the operation as it is intended to benefit Canada? We think it isdue to the refugees on the home at least that investigation be made. When the slaves are required to praise the institution of slavery on the plantation, before visitors, the master reviews them; the terror inspired by his presence prevents the n from speaking out their sentiments against it, and the settlers on the Home are somewhat similerly situated, for threats of prosecution against those who canvass and condemn the policy of Mr. Foot and those connected have been made in their hearing, on the plea that they are men of high character, and standing, whose acts must not be questioned, though known to be injurious to the people protesting. The fugitives know but little about law, and a hubbub about character often forces silence in cases where the parties so threatning evidently have but little, character to lose. Justice requires that men should be sent who are above bias, previously, by C. C. Foot or other interested parties. An investigation of the Dawn was frustrated in that way and collusion has in more instances than one, been entered into to the detriment of fugitives.—M A S C.

Local Matters.

Complaints many and frequent are made against us, for not giving more local news, to which we beg leave to reply, that there has been but little to give that would be of interest. We have had the usual amount of cold weather and hard times, but thanks to an all-wise Providence, not more of either than we have been able to bear, as the failures in business have been comparatively few, and no one has not died either of cold weather or starvation in this vicinity that we have been able to hear of. There have been several excellent lectures during the season, and they have generally been well patronized by all classes. There have been revivals at several of the churches the fruits of which as in similar cases, may be counted upon until the warm weather at least, for it is pretty well known now-a-day, that religion is not of that permanent and efficient character that it used to be; how can it be, a compound as it is in most cases of American slavery, self-interest and fear?

The most attractive local matter seem to be the war of words between members of the two or three political parties, growing out of the "Reform Alliance" movement, and the newspaper war between our contemporaries. The former, is of great importance to electors, and to none more than colored electors, (as if we understand it, the proposed registration measure, a rotten plank of Dawn production, would be the death blow to our political hopes;) and the commotion among the typos is an event of public utility. There is an old story that when "negroes" quarrel the public may discover who "hooked" the chickens, and really the crimination and re-crimination about the town printing charges, is a case in point. After all, there is not so much difference between black people and white, that there should be such abject servility or deference of the former towards the latter, or such assumed superiority of the latter over the former. Ignorance is made the scapegoat for great blunders of the one party, and intelligence and opportunities are no check to little peccadillos of the other. White men tyranize over one another, colored men do the same;—white men defraud one another and tell on one another the world over, and colored men do the same—the truth is we are all related, and to a certain extent acquainted, and to judge from certain newspapers in Kent county all alike.—M. A. S. C.

Lecture.

Mr. Robertson the head teacher of the Normal School, Toronto, gave a lecture on "the History of Russia," before the Mechanics' Institute, in this place on the evening of the 20th. The very inclement weather caused but a small audience. The President of the Society being absent at the hour appointed, the speaker, (who was introduced to the audience by Mr. Holmes.) expressed some degree of embarrassment, having such a small audience to address. The lecture was of the most instructive character, and our citizens who were not out may regret the loss of one of the finest Historical treats delivered in this town for some time. The lecturer dwelt upon the past and future policy of the Russian Government—their seeming intention of destroying British interest in the East, thereby making inroads on our future greatness in these and other British Provinces, with a vast amount of facts connected with their own national History.—I. D. S.

High Water, &c.

The creek and the river here are higher than usual at present, but no bridges have been carried away as yet. Should the water continue to increase our citizens may have the opportunity of tasting the superiority of drowned over butchered beef.—c.

☞ The Lightning on the night of the 18th, struck a new house in the upper section of King Street, completely "shivering its timbers"; fortunately the building was unoccupied. Another building near by was somewhat damaged.

A Word to Dyspeptics. The Oxygenated Bitters is a sure remedy for Dyspepsia in all its various forms, and General Debility, having the highest testimonials ever given in favor of any medicine in the world.

Davis' Pain Killer.—It is a real pleasure to us to speak favorably of this article known almost universally to be a good and safe remedy for burns and other pains of the body. It is valuable not only for colds in the winter, but for various summer complaints, and should be in every family. Ch. Advocate.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Sir.—Will you please to inform the public of the nature of a certain meeting held every few nights in Smiths' buildings, and if the business of the meeting will excuse the noisy demonstrations made by them?

UNNITIATED.

Chatham Feb. 20th,

The meeting in question is called by some the "Ground Hog Committee" by others the "Fox fire Club"—notwithstanding the "noisy demonstrations" they are said to be working for the good of the Provinces. —EDS. FREEMAN.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Messrs Editors:—I have contemplated penning you a line for some time, admiring as I do your course of action in a public way. I have read the Freeman attentively and examined cautiously its editorial columns, and fully appreciate the difficulties you have had and will have to struggle against, or be overcome by this great odds that will continue to oppose you in your unwearied labors for the advancement of your people, which should be ever remembered and cherished by them. The Freeman has so far, maintained that principle which has built up the most powerful governments now existing; independence, at the same time avenging the wrongs of the sable race. Not being bound by sectarian ties, you have nobly advocated the interests of the needy, regardless of the adverse sentiments of sectarian leagues and party combinations. Many of those who wield great influence in your avocation, also orators, philanthropists, missionaries and others seem to depreciate your course; they teach the doctrine that their intentions are for the ultimate benefit of your race of men of this continent, yet withhold their encouragement from yours, the most powerful instrumentality for the consumation of their design in the future. We as a people look upon the press as the temple of light, the fountain from which all knowledge flows; things temporal and spiritual, are all under the guidance and admonition of this engine of literature, and all emanations of wealth and power, are scattered to the world through that great medium. Now if men are honest in their advocacies and desires toward the elevation of your people, why is it that enterprises of the highest order in your hands are not sustained? You have told too many of the realities out upon fraudulent institution and fictions, and opened the eyes of many to the impositions that have been imposed upon us, and have shielded us from such hypocrits. Were you silent on these points, many that now use their influence against you, would use their efforts to sustain you in your labors. Free colored men have not arrived at that brilliant state of literary development that the paler classes have, but who can deny their ability if circumstanced equally with others? According to the theory of the most skilled in the science of human developments, the colored races tally with the best, a fact which is not generally admitted, but to the shame of some who should be beacon-lights to the race, they can be found acting as the humble instruments, toadying to the wishes of a set of knaves, and fostering their wickedness to the distruction of their people for their self agrandisement.

Yours for truth,

H. J. BROOKS,

Detroit, Mich. Jan. 23, 1857.

On motion of Dr. Askin, Seconded by Mr Burns, the sum of $72,57, for lumber purchased by the Municipality from the Chatham and Camden Plank Road, was ordered to be paid to Mr. J. Waddell, and the sum of £10 was ordered to be paid to Mr. Chrysler, for statute labor and for charitable purposes.

Mr. Burns presented the petition of Antonine Labrouf, an indigent person, asking for aid. Referred to Grievance Committee.

The Council then adjourned.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AND SLAVERY.

Stratford, C.W., 7th Feb, 1857.

Sir.—It will be of some importance for those who attend the Sunday School Convention at Kingston, on the 11th inst., to consider the question of consistency and humanity, in recognizing in Canada the presence and the action of Delegates from a pro-slavery country,—the United States,—and especially of those who represent the interests of the pro-slavery American Sunday School Union. Is it not religious hypocrisy for our public religious men in Canada to impose on Canadians a recognition of such or similar institutions.

It is a notorious fact, that that Sunday School Union dare not publish or circulate any book or tract or paper containing a reference to the condition of the slave, or an expression against slavery as a sin, or even as an evil! It is undeniable that the system adopted by that Union is a sectional one, and has reference to one class of people. The religious, the political, the common civil rights of the colored man are not recognized.

We will witness, then, at Kingston, an acknowledgement, an homologation of and a fraternization with interests diametrically opposed to the free and generous and humane principles which are inherent in the constitution of our Province, and are the birthright of a monarchial and a free people.

It will well become Canadians who hate imposition and hypocrisy to turn their attention to the proceedings of the Kingston Sunday School Convention.

Your obedient servant,

J. J. E. LINTON.

NOTES.

1. By a reference to the pamphlet titled, "Letter respecting a book dropped from the Catalogue' of "the American Sunday School Union, in compliance with the dictations of the slave power," p. 36, N. Y., 1848,—the complete Submission of the A. S. S. Union of Chesnut-street Philadelphia, to the slave power, is notoriously made evident,—and if the reference is extended to an examination of the Hymn Books, Spelling Books, Primers, "Youths Penny Gazette," "Sunday School Journal," their Question Books, Tracts, &c., the complete ignoring of the coloured man and the slave's rights appears beyond cavil and dispute.

2. A similar investigation of the Society's twin brother or sister, the American Tract Society of Nassau-street, New York, will also show similar results (besides the expurgations, &c., so well known), and both these Societies are notoriously enough known in the United States, as of the character of pro-slaveryism, as now referred to.

3. Above all—and a vital question with Canadians—these Societies show their desire to be to have all to whom their publications go and are ready to be repubicanised, Americaized, and conformed to their republican form of government.—See said publications of A. S. S. Union, which are openly republican, and also "Home Evangelization," p. 171, by the American Tract Society. This matter is one, in an especial manner, to be considered by the Congregationalists, the Regular Baptists, and the Wesleyan Methodists of Canada—the latter especially, as they circulate direct and undeniable republican and treasonable sentiments, and American religious publications among the youth of Canada.

4. By a reference to the "Canadian United Presbyterin Magazine" for February 1857 (a publication well worthy of the Church), especially to the Missonary Intelligence" and Caffreland, and to the visit to Grant County, Wisconsin, U. S., and compare the former with the latter as to Sabbath observance, a Canadian will read it with surprise. In the latter there is this remark, "No one dare enforce the law of the land in regard to the Sabbath, but at the imminent risk of porperty or life." So says a worthy minister, the Rev, James Skinner. But that "risk" is far more than Mr. Skinner depicts, for the advocacy of humanity, and, with reference to Slavedom and its awful horrors, cannot be done in the U. States, in too many places, except at the risk of life. Yet we, Canadians, are to be taught from that slavery-cursed land, and teachers, delegates, &c., received unblushingly and with brazen effrontery, by Congregationalists, &c., &c., without remonstrance! Is it to be so? Let us watch.

J. J. E. L,

ARRIVAL OF THE EUROPA.

Halifax, Feb. 14th.

The steamship Europa arrived here at an early hour this morning, and will be due at Boston on Sunday evening. She left Liverpool on Saturday, 31st ult.—Her news is consequently three days later than that received by the City of Baltimore.

European affairs were generally in a state of quietude, and the main interest conferred in the Chinese and Persian questions.

The London Globe had a telegraph from Constantinople, dated January 19th announcing that the British steamers have returned from the vicinity of the Isle of Serpents.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Liverpool Cotton Market without change. Quotations nominally the same.

Breadstuffs market generally steady. Wheat quiet, but firm at previous quotations. Flour inactive. Corn in improved request, and holders demanding an advaance Provisions, no chnage. Sales of pork unimportant. Tallow firm. Sales of Lard at 69s a 69s 6d.

Sugars active at an advance of 6d a 1s. Teas, fall qualities, at futher advances, and the market was excited and unsettled

THE PERSIAN DIFFICULTY.

It is believed that Persia has submitted to the demand of the British, but the intelligence is still received with doubt.

The details of the capture of Bushire have been received from Bombay under date of December 29th.

Some British ships had arrived off the port of Bushire. Correspondence ensued, and on Dec. 3d the British sent on shore a copy of the declaration of war. Next day, the 4th, the British took possession of the Island of Karrak without opposition, as a military depot

During the 7th and 9th the British troops disembarked at Hallila Bay, twelve miles south-west of Bushire. Two men landed with three days' rations, and without baggage.

On the morning of the 9th, the army, in two brigades, advanced along the cost, the ships sailing a little ahead, on the flank. The ship Assaye, on coming abreast of Fort Bushire, shelled it from a distance of 1700 yards, and dislodged the garrison, 800 of whom took up a new position, to oppose the British at once.

Brigadier Stopford was shot dead while urging on his men to the attack. The British thereon marched on the enemy, who fought desperately with the bayonet till driven back upon the fort from whence they attempted to escape, but were met by the British Rifles, seaward, and by the Cavalry, landward. Col. Melville of the Cavalry was killed. The enmey were not Persians but Arabs; they left three Chiefs and a large number of men on the field. The British loss is reported to be 35 men. Bushire was then summoned to surrender, and the channal having been buoyed during the night, the city was bombarded and shelled steadily for four hours, when it surrendered, and the British entered the town. The British report no loss in the fleet. The Governor, the Commander of the fleet, and an officer, reported to be the minister of war, were made prisoners. The garrison being too numerous to retain, they were removed into the interior and released Bushire was proclaimed British territory and a free port. The city became quiet, but reports were rift of abominable conduct on the part of the British after the capitulation of the town.

FURTHER NEWS FROM EUROPE.

Verger Executed.—Ministerial Changes. &c.,

Great Britain:—The Earl of Ellesmere was very ill,—so much so that his death was anticipated.

The Duke of Rutland is dead. So are the Hon. Montague Granville,—(son of Lord and Lady Wharncliffe) and Mr. Edward Fitzwilliam, a well known composer of ballards, and music arranger.

Ministerial Changes, Etc.—The London papers are full of gossip as to Ministreral changes. One of them intimates that Sir Robert Peel will cease to be a member of the Government, shortly after the meeting of Parliament,—in consequence of his conduct to Sir Charles Napier, and his late pro-Russian lecture. Sir Robert is one of the Lords of the Admiralty, Health of the Queen.—It is given out that, in consequence of the delicate condition of Her Majesty's health, she will not be present at the opening of Parliament.

Execution of Verger.—Verger's appeal having been rejected by the Court of Cessation, his execution took place yesterday morning at seven o'clock, on the Place de la Roquette. Verger did not, during his last moments, reserve the haughty demeanour which he had hitherto maintained.

ABOMINABLE DISHONESTY,
HYPOCRISY, AND IMPOSITION!!

The American Tract Society and Slavery—A. S School Union.

6. THAT ABOMINABLE CRIME, THE SLAVE TRADE."—(Speech lately by Lord Palmerston, at Manchester, England.)

NOTE.—WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT the true cause and prosperity, and pure increase in Christianity with loyal principles, in Canada, would, by this time, have been the heart's delight of every Christian. If facts are any guide to us, it does not so appear.

Are any and who are they, in Canada, of the Ministers of Religion, Religious Tract Societies, Colporteurs, &c, and of our Religious Papers, who do support the American Tract Society or American Sunday School Union?

See the Advertisement, dated 28th November, of the "Christian Parlor," and American Messenger, &c. Will the Montreal Witness by John Dougall, its proprietor, never be cured of hypocrisy, or dealing unfairly in religious matters?—for there is an article in his said paper on the disloyalty of the Roman Catholics, when he knows he ought to know, as the conductor of a public and religious journal, that the foundation of the American Tract Society is rank republicanism, besides spurious printing at pro-slavery abasement! The publications of these Societies he has previously reviewed and recommended, without any remonstrance. (See throughout "Home Evangelisation," pp. 171, published by American Tract Society, with its reflections against the Irish &c, and which book, and others of that Society's books, and A. S. S. Union, for shame! are sold by the Upper Canada Tract Society Toronto,—and said advertisement in the Witness is signed "James Milne," as Depositary of the Montreal Union Tract society. For shame!)

The American Sunday S Union dare not publish a sentence in favour of the freedom of the slave, or allude to the subject of slavery, and is also strictly republican!

The sighs and tears, bloodstains and groans, of slave-humanity, are extorted for the support of the issues of books of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, (old school,) at Philadelphia. Hear that, ye Free Presbyterians of Canada, who colporteur their books! The Wesleyan Methodists of Canada are duped by their pro-slavery ers for a similar support of a more dismal direct, and fatal final kind, as to their system. The "Facts for Baptist Churches" speak in unmistakeable language as to those the Regular Baptists of Canada fraternize with.

Let our own home and British liable religious literature be put in our children's hands, such as "The Children's paper," published by T. Nelson & Sons at Toronto, &c, and so worthily recommended by a Canadian press.

(NOTICE No. 14.)

CAUTION!

SLAVERY FELLOWSHIP AND METHODISM—IMPOSITION.

1st. The Methodist Episcopal Church, (north) of the United States, has countenanced and still continues by its discipline to countenance, the iniquitous system of SLAVERY! Of the holding, buying and selling of human beings—souls and bodies of men, women and children. Their Class-leaders, Ministers and members, buy, hold and sell slaves. Ministers of religion, with authority and license to preach the blessed Gospel of Christ, being slaves, have been sold in the public market as goods and chattles—as a pig or a horse! Their chief publishing place is at No. 200 Mulberry Street, New York.—(See title pages of their books, &c., and as referred to in the Christian Guardian, of Toronto, C. W.)

2nd. The Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church Rev. Enoch Wood, of Toronto, President of Conference, fellowships with, countenances and receives, the above Methodist Episcopal Church (north) as a church equally as one with themselves. They sell and circulate their books, &c. in Canada; nay, more, got their Canada Sunday Advocate, printed at No. 200 Mulberry Street, being a copy next to one, of the same kind of publication printed and circulated from New York by the M. E. Church (north.) They also call it "Our Church" and our "Mother Church." They admit, or send ministers of their churches in Canada, to preach and labor in the U. States under said church. They had delegates [Revds. John Rverson and Richard Jones] at the Quarter-tennial General Conference of the Methodist E. Church (north) at Indianapolis (Indiana,) in May, '56, at which these Rev. gentlemen delivered speeches, which contained not a word of remonstrance or advice as to the sin and evil of Slavery—so existing in their midst. And they also preached. The editor of the Christian Guardian was there also. Reliable copies of the proceedings are in my possession.

3. The British laws declare Slavery, and all trade and participation, in the same, as FELONY! Are we, Canadians, under the humane and general government of the British Empire,—are we, loyal people, to be supporters by aid, advice or money, of any such Body or Bodies, which countenance and fellowship with pro-slavery Bodies!—Are we! Whilst the highest and noblest in Britain's land, as well as the lowest, who support and traffic or have property in slavery, are liable to the pains and penalties of that British law, are we free from it? Shall we prefer republican maxims, religious and political, to our free monarchical institutions?

4. The inhabitants of Stratford, and its vicinity [wherein also live the purchased human flesh and blood of Slavery, yes, bought with our cash]—we are called upon, by public large handbills, to contribute on Sunday, the 23rd November, instant, and following days, by our money, to the support of the said Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church! The names of said Rev. Enoch Wood,—also Rev. Robert Cooney, D. D., of Guelph, and Rev. Lewis Warner, Dissent. Chairman are stated in these handbills, as to be present at the meetings!

5. The Subscriber will D. V. continue, as heretofore, to take every means in his power, while the evils of said fellowship, &c,, exist; which time, influence and money, give him, with the aid of humane people, to endeavour to extirpate and do away with every kind of pro-Slavery FELLOWSHIP; and religious imposition thereby, which has hitherto been, and continues to be, (for shame!) practiced on a Canadian and a loyal people; by several of our religious Tract and Book and other Societies, Churches, and ministers of religion, in Canada.

Poetry.

THE SONG OF STEAM.

Harness me down with your iron bands;
Be sure of your curb and rein,
For I scorn the power of your puny hands
As the tempest scorns a chain.
How I laughed, as I lay concealed from sight,
For many a countless hour,
At the childish boast of human might,
And the pride of human power.

When I saw an army upon the land,
A navy upon the seas,
Creeping along, a snail like band,
Or wanting the wayward breeze;
When I marked the peasant faintly reel
With the toil that he daily bore,
As he feebly turned the tardy wheel,
Or tugged at the weary oar.

When I measured the panting courser's speed;
The flight of the carrier dove,
As they bore the law a king decreed,
Or the lines of impatient love;
I could not but think how the world would feel,
As these were outstripped afar,
When I should be bound to the rushing keel,
Or chained to the flying car.

Ha! ha! ha! they found me at last;
They invited me forth at length,
And I rushed to my throne with thunder blast;
And laughed in my iron strength.
Oh! then ye saw a wonderous change
On the earth and ocean wide.
Where now my fiery armies range,
Nor wait for wind or tide.

Hurrah! Hurrah! the waters o'er
The mountain steep recline;
Time—space—have yielded to my power—
The world! The world is mine!
The rivers the sun hath earliest blest,
Or those where his beams decline—
The giant streams of the queenly West,
Or the ocean floods divine.

The ocean pales where'er I sweep,
To hear my strength rejoice,
And the monsters of the briny deep
Cower, trembling at my voice.
I carry the wealth and the lord of the earth,
The thoughts of the god-like mind;
The winds lags after my flying forth.
The lightning is left behind.

In the darksome depths of the fathomless mine,
My tireless arm doth play,
Where the rocks never saw the sun decline,
Or the dawn of the glorious day,
I bring earth's glittering jewels up
From the hidden cave below,
And I make the fountain's granite cup
With crystal gush overflow.

I blow the bellows, I forge the steel
In all the shops of trade;
I hammer the ore, and turn the wheel
Where my arms of strength are mad
I manage the furnace, the mill, the mint,
I carry, I spin, I weave;
And all my doings I put into print
On every saturday eve.

I've no muscle to weary, no breast to decay
No bones to be laid on the shelf,
And soon I intend you may "go and play,"
While I manage the world myself.
But harness me down with your iron bands,
Be sure of your curb and rein,
For I scorn the strength of your puny hands,
As a tempest scorns a chain.

OUR EXCHANGES

Look at this huge heap of printed, folded and enveloped sheets! These are our exchanges. They come from the East and the West; the North and the South; from the seaboard and the interior; from the city and the country, from every State and Territory of the Union, and from Europe

In common parlance, and in the eyes of the law, these are all newspapers; but how widely they differ in form and in spirit, in manner and in matter, in tone, features, and complexion! Like the human society which they represent, they may be divided into various grades or classes; but in assigning each its rank (as in the case of men and woman), we are liable to make fatal mistakes, if we judge by the dress and external appearance merely. Many a talented and excellent man has been encountered in a seedy coat, and many a noble woman in a cheap calico dress; so many a high-toned, lively and useful journal presents it-self in our sanctum in a coarse envelope, and pirnted on paper far from the finest or whitest. God forbid that we should despise it on that account. It is just as welcome as the more aristocratic looking sheet which lies beside it on our table. Perhaps the fine white paper and new type of the latter are not paid for and never will be. The former may have as good, one of these days, and pay for them too. True merit can afford to wait for a recognition.

We distinguish the city from the country paper at a glance. Northern and Southern papers are quiteunlike each other in form and features. Those from the Far West differ from both; and the press of each city has its peculiar tone and color-

In their character—in the nature of their contents, newspapers differ as widely as in their external forms. Some are devoted mainly to commerce, politics, to science some to literature, etc. Some are racy, witty, and wise; others dull, stupid, and otherwise.

Well, they all come to our sanctum as friends, and all are welcome.

On the corner of this modest little sheet is written, "Please Ex." Why should we add another to this vast heap of papers, one tenth part of which it is impossible for us to read? Besides, this little journal does not contain one fourth as much matter as LIFE ILLUSTRATED, and it comes from a portion of the country from which we are not likely to get important news. But who knows but that this may prove one of the best papers on our list, and if we get no good from its columns, may not its editor and readers get something from ours? We believe in doing good as well as in getting good. Yes we will "exchange." Put this new paper on our books. We exchange with all respectable journals which request an exchange and we lose nothing by it. They always (except through inadvertence) give us due credit for what they borrow from our columns and are sure to say a good word for us occasionally in a notice.—Life-Illustrated.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT—LONDON.

GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY FRAUDS.

Redpath and Kent were placed at the bar of the Old Bailey. Kent was ordered to retire, and Redpath was tried singly upon one of the cases of forgery, the details of which have been already published. The jury, after five minutes' deliberation, found him guilty, Justice Wills said he should not pass sentence until after the case in which Redpth and Kent were indicted jointly had been gone into. Both prisoners were then placed at the bar and indicted for forgery and uttering a transfer to George Sidneys. Several witnesses having been examined, the case for the prosecution was declared closed. Mr. Hawkins then addressed the jury for the defence for Kent, and urged the absence of fraudulent intentions. A number of witnesses were called who gave Kent an excellent character, after which the learned judge summed up. He was of opinion that, although Kent had commited a wrong and irregular act, yet before the jury convicted him they must be satified that he was acting fraudulently with Redpath. It was extraordinary to him that Corkhill, who had done exactly the same as Kent, should be retained in the service of the company while Kent was prosecuted. (Applause.) The jury found Redpath guilty, and acquitted Kent. (Applause) The other indictments were then withdarwn, and Kent was discharged. Mr. Justice Willis, after some strong remarks on the enormity of Redpath's offence, sentenced him to transportation for life.

INCREASE OF THE SLAVES.—It is frightful to glance at the increase of slave population; to find that there were 530 357 slaves in the Atlantic States (including Virginia) in 1790 and 1204,221 in 1850; that in the Gulf States there 225,481 slaves in 1820, and in 1850 that there were 1212,251; to find an increase in chattel slave population of 2 05 per cent. per annum in the slave population of the Atlantic States since 1790 and since the same time a similar increase of 6.06 per cent. in Kentucky, Missouri, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia; while in the Gulf States the increase has been 18 per cent. The proportion of slave population to the whole population has increased in South Carolina from 43 per cent. since 1790' to 57 per cent. in 1850. In Georgia, during the same period, it has gone up from 35 per cent to 42 per cent In 1790 we had 697.897 slaves, and in 1850 (according to the patched and doctored census returns) we had 3,204,313 of this bi legged personal property. In sixty years the increase of slaves was 2,506,416. The proportion of slaves to the free white population in 1790 was 45,457, and in 1850 it was 22,377. If we are to go on in the same way, any school boy can cipher out how many slaves we shall have in the year 1900. Where are we to stop? If we have four millions of slaves now, and with greatest difficulty keep them in tolerable subjection, what will the white folks of the South do with forty millions? And yet, by the natural law of increase, forty millions we shall have, long before Democratic sagacity has provided against such a contingency. The science of population has given rise to innumerable theories; we wish somebody who has inherited even the shreds of Mr. Calhoun's mantle would tell us what we are to do with all this wealth fifty years hence, and how we are to prevent it from reversing all our calculations, and making wealth of us —Tribune.

"DISTRICT SECRETAY FOR THE AMERICAN BOARD.—Rev. William Warren, of Upton, in this County, formerly of Windham, has received from the American Board the appointment of District Secretary for North ern New England, in the place of Rev. William Clark, resigned.—Worcester Spy.

The rev. gentlemen alluded to has long been known in Upton and its neighborhood as a most determined and relentless enemy to the Anti-Slavery cause He has talked and preached against it with a most unyielding pertinacity, and proved himself a very compliant and thorough-going servant of the slaveholding churches of this country. What a very singular circumstance it is that the American Board of Missions always has the misfortune to stumble on one of these proslavery gentlemen when it has an office to bestow!

Our readers may remember a good story of the above mentioned minister which went the rounds of the papers a few years since. Soon after the passage of the fugitive Slave law, a petition to Congress for its repeal was presented to Mr Warren for his signature. As the feelings in the town was very general and strong against the law, our parson was in some thing of a quandary, but finally compromised the matter thus—he signed the petition, adding to his name the words, "Provided laws can be done in good faith to the Constitution." The next signer of the Petition, with an equally laudable desire not to be misunderstood, appended his name, and to it added these words, "Provided all can be done in good faith to the Constitution; for I wish to serve God so as not to offend the devil."—Liberator.

Accident to the Submarine Cables Across the Channel.

We are informed by the Submarine Telegraph Company that an accident has happened to the submarine lines across the channel, and that telegraphic communication with the Continent is temporarily delayed in consequence. It appears that during the fearful gales of the 5th inst., a ship 700 tons, heavily laden, lost her anchor in the Downs, and driven by the force of the gale and tide, fouled a schooner; she then becoming more unmanageable, drifted into five fathoms water. An anchor was speedily let go, with forty fathoms of chain attached, but the barque, still impelled by the unusual force of the gale, dragged her anchor, until she was suddenly brought up sharply, head to wind, on opening the western light of the South Foreland. It is feared that she here stayed upon the Submarine Telegraph Companies' Ostend Cable; the hurricane prevailing, however, coupled with the tide, the weight of the ship, and the necessity of keeping her foretopsail out and aback to drift into deep water, worked so much upon the submarine line, that, after her holding for some length of time, the cable giving way as is supposed, she instantly rounded before the wind, and was careering forward with increased velocity, and momentum, when she was suddenly brought up hard to wind again by the Calais cable. The barque was held in spite of a heavy sea, the gale, and the pressure of the wind on her sail for about an hour, when once more she broke away, and sailed off down the channel. Both submarine lines unfortunately became unworkable in consequence of this untoward accident, and communication with the Continent was partially stopped. The sea at the point where the vessel caught the cable is about 14 fathoms deep only, and the spot is within three-quarters of a mile from shore. The company have already made arrangements to repair the cables the moment the weather will permit, and meantime messages are being telegeaphed to Dover, sent thence by steamers which leave thrice daily to Calais, and are from Calais telegraphed to their various destinations.

SPAIN.

It is reported that General O'Donnell is likely soon to be recalled to power. Marshal Concha has lately had an interview with the Queen, in which he pointed out the danger of allowing matters to continue in the present unsatisfactory condition.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, Tuesday.

The Archduke Maximilian of Austria is appointed Governor General of the Lombardo-Venetian States, as successor to Marshal Radetzky, who has retired.

SWITZERLAND.

The Times' Paris correspondent hears that the conference respecting the Neufchatel question will be held in London. The Congress will be composed of the resident Ministers of the parties to the original protocol; and, as Switzerland has no permanent diplomatic agent at the British Court, the Confederation will most likely now see the necessity of having one there.

A PROPOSED NEGRO LAW.—Senator Ely of Bucks County, has presented to the Legislature a petition with 108 signatures, asking the passage of a general law prohibiting negroes and mulatoes from coming into our State, with view of acquiring residence. The petitioners who are from Philadelphia and Bucks Counties, complain that they are subject to trouble and expense in consequence of an influx of fugitive and manumitted blacks; that the former are pursued into this State, and their reclamation attended by mobs and excitement that superannuated slaves are sent here by their masters to become a charge upon the public or individual charity, while others commit crimes which occupy our courts, fill our prisons and increase our taxes. The petition has been referred to Messers. Souther, of Elk; Welsh, of York; and Lewis, Delaware County, as a select committee.—Bucks County (Pa) Intelligencer.

BILLS! BILLS!! BILLS!!!

We have sent a large number of bills, to Subscribers and hope they will remitt to us at the earliest possible moment, as our subscriptions are our only dependence.

Pay us what you Owe.

For weeks past we have been calling upon those indebted to pay up, as we have pressing liabilities to meet. BILLS! BILLS!! BILLS!!! has formed the caption of a standing and humble and respectful appeal—we have asked until we are ashamed; and ashamed of the people, who knowing that they owe us, read the paper without heeding the same. What would be thought of the man who would take the bread from his neighbor's house, for months and years with a formal contract to pay him, and would not only cooly partake of the same without payment, but who would not give attention to his just demand for remuneration? The verdict of honest men would be that such a man is unprincipled. Now, without wishing to reflect upon those in arrears to us, we must be permitted to say that many scores of men and women hold just the relation to us, that a party in the case supposed, would to the man whose bread he had eaten. Bills to the amount of hundreds of dollars have been sent by us, but except in one single instance, with not one word of reply have we been favored. A few of our local subscribers have acted promptly, but numbers of others have put us off—some with abuse—some with "I'll pay on" that worst of all pay days "Saturday," but when Saturday comes, not a head makes his appearance. Some "I cannot get a cent due me else I would pay, I want the Freeman—it must live—we must have an organ, that's so! The truth is, we must all do something for it, and if I could get some money I'd give you my subscription." The hypocrite! for no sooner is a new fashion, than out come the family in fine style—the paper is not paid for, but the merchant is paid for the finery, and we know it. You see the merchant is white, and that sometimes makes a great difference in the payment of a debt. Many white men say the Freeman is in a "great hurry" for pay—many colored men think "they are only colored people," and not being afraid of one another, we can wait until white creditors are paid. Yes, colored people will generally pay white men first. Now friends we are pained at the moral obliquity, or fear or whatever it is, that "he who runs may read," among colored people on this point and of the former trait as exhibited by some of our white creditors; for although some of them will "put us off" twistify, and finally insult us, but do we owe them, the first thing done is to put the amount into court. Let there be honest dealing all around and we will be enabled to pay what we owe and not be forced to tell on you.—M. A. S. C

The Half Sheet.

Our readers will please bear with the half-sheet which we send them this week, as inability to get paper in time, obliges this step. Were we in the vicinity of paper warehouses it would be different. In the present instance, the merchant had but a small quantity of the size we use on hand. This difficulty about paper is one of which all country newspapers complain at times; our patrons can therefore appreciate our embarrassment.

☞ Elihu Burritt, (the learned blacksmith,) and advocate for peace, and very recently interested in a reduction of Ocean postage, will lecture in the Town Hall, on the evening of Wednesday, March 4th. Subject, A plan of Brotherly co-partnership of North and South for the peaceful extinction of Slavery. (See advertisement.) There should be a large turnout, as the speaker is of world-wide celebrity.

Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer.—Voluntarily, conscientiously, and with much pleasure, we recommend to our readers the above named medicine. We speak from our own observation and experience when we say that it removes pain as if by magic from all parts of the body, and is one of the best medicines in use for checking diarrhœa, and removing the premonitory symptoms of cholera.—(Cin. Nonpariel.

Is Consumption Curable.—We cannot doubt that in many cases of seated Consumption a cure has been effected solely by the use of the Wild Cherry preparation of Dr. Wistar. Its healing effects are certainly wonderful.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

The town plot, or in other words Shrewsburry. Is a little village situated at the entrance of one of the best harbors in North America, called Rond Eau, where schooners call and load with Black Walnut lumber to the amount of $200,000, and sail out again without the use of tug steamers as is required in Morrisburgh. The land for five miles either way adjacent to this town, is in the state of nature, with the exception of about 300 acres which is under cultivation. As for the soil, it needs no recommendation from me, suffice it to say it is far superior to any North of this in Canada either for grain or grass. The forest abounds with game; the waters are covered with ducks in the fall of the year, and fish innumerable are in the waters which are available to all who seek for them. Population. The number of dwellings in 1855 were five, the number of inhabitants was 30. The dwellings now number twelve; inhabitants 57. It must be remembered, that I do not go off the town plot to get this number, like our friend in Morrisburg, who wants to enclose the whole of Williamsburg to swell his number. Of public buildings we do not boast, still we have a substantial Custom Office here. Mills one mile from this place, is a steam saw mill, owned by Messrs. Waters & Fellows, men of enterprise, men of spirit and ability, every way capable of carrying on an extensive business; they give employment to some 30 men and teams, and the best of wages. Mr. Stoddart of Blenheim, sends all of his lumber here for shipment, also, staves and cordwood, one personbeing left here preparatory for spring oporations. All the cry is we cannot get hands enough to carry on the business which might be done here. Next in notice is our worth Customs oficer, who is well known to the commercial community as a good sailor, having long been master of a first class steamer on Lake Ontario; also, universally known as wharfinger in Kingston. He is now spending his time and money for the public good, in petitioning Parliament for a grant of funds to rebuild the light house and piers at Rond Eau point. Next in order is Mr. Button, who keeps a grocery, purely of those things that are needful for the body; he gave the inhabitants of Shrewsburry a supper on Newyears eve, which would do honor to any town or city, the table was furnished with a profusion of the good things of this life as well as tastefully decorated, which shows great taste in Mrs. Button for arrangement. The invitation was general, consequently the table was well filled, the ladies and gentlemen enjoyed themselves to a late hour when all separated with the utmost good feeling, although two races were present. There would be constant employment here for 50 or 100 men, could they be had to load vessels and clear the land, all we want is men, we can earn money.

Respectfully yours,
FRANCIS H. LAWRENCE.

PRESBYTERIAN (OLD SCHOOL.)

The Presbyterian church (O. S.) stands fully and unequivocally on the side of the oppressor. It is true that a few earnest anti-slavery men may be found in this denomination, but their influence upon it is scarcely felt. They are not able in the least to modify the decided, unfaltering pro-slavery position maintained by the General Assembly. So far as I know, the most ultra friends of slavery are perfectly satisfied with the late ecclesiastical action and influence of this church. It makes no pretensions to anti-slavery. The slaveholder is welcomed to its communion, is authorized to preach and is elevated to the highest posts of honor. At the last General Assembly fifty slaveholding presbyteries were represented. The place of meeting was Charleston, South Carolina. Dr. Lord, author of a celebrated sermon in support of the fugitive slave law, was elected moderator. The General Assembly of 1845, by a vote of 168 to 13, "Resolved, That the existence of domestic slavery, under the circumstances in which it is found in the southern portion of this country, is no bar to Christian communion."

This church has been progressing in the wrong direction. In 1818, before the excision of the Presbyteries which formed the New School body, the General Assembly declared that "the voluntary enslaving of one part of the human race by another was a gross violation of the most precious and sacred rights of human nature," "utterly inconsistent with the law of God," and "totally irreconcilable with the spirit and principles of the gospel." This was a noble declaration, but slaveholders were not excluded from the church as they should have been, but continued to flock in, until in 1836, a slaveholder presided over the General Assembly who openly said —"I draw my warrant from the Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to hold my slaves in bondage."—Since 1836 the General Assembly has been wholly under the control of the pro-slavery interest. Her doctors of divinity have written learned treatises in defency of slavery, and slaveholders are at ease, yea, sleep undisturbed in her communion, and for all that that church is likely to say or do, will sleep on until they find themselves in company with Dives. —Slavery Question—Lawrence.

Shipwreck and Loss of One Hundred Lives.—We deeply regret to announce the loss of the Dutch barque Mercurius, Captain Smith, of 439 tons. bound from Amoy to Singapore, which melancholy disaster took place on the north coast of Buning, 100 Chinese passengers perished, as also the third mate. The captain, in a letter dated Rio, the 16th instant, notices that the weather was very thick; the vessel was driven on shore having parted from two anchors. There were in all about 250 Chinese passengers on board.—Singapore Straits Times Dec. 23.

The Storm of last week was very extensive and unsurpassed for its severity. The wind was very high in many places, unroofing houses, prostrating sheds, fences, &c. The roads completely blocked by immense snow drifts; some of them in this county, we are told, are 15 feet deep. The Carriers were unable to force a passage, and of course our readers who depend upon them were obliged to wait for their papers. We trust they will receive last week's and this in good season.—Olive Branch.

Religious Movements.—The Catholic Standard announces that the Irish Catholic Archbishops are summoned to Rome, and it is expected that Dr. Cullen will be created a Cardinal.

WILD CHERRY BALSAM

☞ The following is worthy the attention of all who are interested for themselves or friends:

Dr. S W. Fowle.—Dear Sir. In offering my testimony in favor of your WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY I speak from my own experience, having received signal benefit from the use of one or two bottles which were urged upon me by my apothecary who backed up his recommendation, by giving some extraordinary results from its use, as having come within his knowledge. I had taken a violent cold followed by a deep seated cough, which frequently produced vomiting, with pain in the side I breathed with difficulty had night sweats lost my appetite in short, I was completely prostrated. My physician prescribed for me, but I found no relief. I commenced taking the Balsam in small doses at first, and almost immediately began to improve. My cough abated my strength and appetite returned, and in a few weeks I was able to attend to my business as usual. I feel indebted to Wistar's Balsam for my recovery, and cheerfully give you leave to make whatever use you please of this statement.

Very respectfully, yours &c.,

ABOMINABLE DISHONESTY, HYPOCRISY, AND IMPOSITION!!

The American Tract Society and Slavery—A. S. School Union.

"That Abominable Crime, the Slave Trade."—(Speech, lately by Lord Palmerston, at Manchester, England.)

NOTE.—WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT the true cause and prosperity, and pure indoctrination. Of Christianity with loyal principles, in Canada, would by this time, have been the heart's delight of every Christian. If facts are any guide to us it does not so appear.

Are any, and who are they in Canada, of our Ministers of Religion, Religious Tract Societies, Colporteurs, &c, and of our Religious Papers, who yet support the American Tract Society or American Sunday School Union?

See the Advertisement, dated 28th November, of the "Child's Paper," and American Messenger for 1857, of said Tract Society, in the Montreal Witness of 29th November, and compare such with the following article of the Streetsville Review, C. W., of same date, as to said "American Messenger," &c. Will the Montreal Witness by John Dougall, its proprietor, never be cured of hypocrisy, or dealing unfairly in religious matters?—for there is an article in his said paper on the disloyalty of the Roman Catholics when he knows he ought to know, as the conductor of a public and religious journal—that the foundation of the American Tract Society is rank abolitionism, heartless spoliation, piracy and piratical assessment. The proceedings of these Societies has previously received and recommended, with many remarks, (See Uncle Tom and his Free Evangelism," pp 171 published by American Tract Society, with reflections against the Irish &c, and which book, and others of that Society's books, and U. S. S. Union, for shame! are sold by the Upper Canada Tract Society Toronto.—and said advertisement in the Witness is signed "James Milne," as Depositary of the Montreal Union Tract society. For shame!)

The American Sunday S Union dare not publish a sentence in favour of the freedom of the slave, or allude to the subject of slavery, and is also strictly republican!

The sighs and tears, bloodstains and groans, of slave-humanity, are extorted for the support of the issues of books of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, (old school,) at Philadelphia! Hear that, ye Free Presbyterians of Canada who colporteur their books! The Wesleyan Methodists of Canada are duped by their preachers for a similar support of a more dismal, direct, and fraternal kind, as to their system! The "Facts for Baptist Churches" speak in unmistakeable language as to those the Regular Baptists of Canada fraternize with,

Let our own home and British reliable religious literature be put in our children's hands, such as "The Children's paper," published by T. Nelson & Sons at Toronto, &c., and so worthily recommended by a Canadian press.

Poetry.

For the Provincial Freeman.

WE ARE PASSING AWAY.

Frail mortals pine away and die,
When heaven calls there's none can save,
Though friends may weep, connexions cry,
They sink, beneath the yawning grave.
Proud monarchs, must resign their breath,
And bow beneath the monster death,
No glittering crowns of massive gold,
Can save the lost the sinking soul.

The rich the poor, the great, must die,
The earth the grave, shall be their bed,
The fearful and the brave shall lie,
All side by side, among the dead,
And greedy worms shall feast on all,
The old the young the great the tall,
The grave, shall be their common bed,
All all must slumber mid the dead.

Go search the records of the past!
The earth the air the grave, the sea
And learn what mortals were at first,
And mark, what ages yet shall be.
Egyptian temples where are they?
In broken stones and mouldering clay,
Hymns scream and lions roar.
Where sages dwelt in days of yore.

What scenes of ruin haunt the coast,
Where Homer rose, The morning star,
Where is the Carthagenian host,
That braved the brow tide of war.
O'er Asian hill and verdant plains,
Where mighty chariots and burning flames?
Bowing to the sword, spear, earth and waves.
Have swept them all away in their graves

Tarquin's Hunibal is o'er,
And Alexanders sleeps among the slain,
Proud Scipio waves his hands no more
O'er Africk's hills and barren plains,
And Cyrus from his bloody car,
Pours forth no more the tide of war.
Great Cesar's gone, and Pompy's slain,
And scattered forth upon the plain

Where are the glorious sons of song,
Who saw the Trogans' fiery car
Whose numbers sweetly peeled along
High o'er the glimering ranks of war!
Sleep they with those who could not feel,
Who drew the sword, the bloody steel,
And waved it o'er the conquered dead,
O'er battle fields in burning red?

They sleep! Great Virgil writes no more,
And Horace lies in some cold bed,
Yet modern bards on Albions shores,
Still muse around the honoured dead,
Great Milton, Scott & Byron sung
But they are not, some other tongue
May sing a louder sweeter song,
To charm the world the battling throng
And unborn warriors yet may wave
The sword above Pelesars grave

JOHN. L. BUCKNER,
Amherstburg, C. W.

OCCUPATION OF A RETIRED DEFAULTER.

GOVERNOR McRAE, of Mississippi, has recently submited to the Legislature of that State a copy of some correspondence between himself and Richard S. Graves, formerly Treasurer of the State, who absconded in 1843, a defaulter to the Treasury in a sum of 45,000, and took up his residence in Canada. The Governor, it seems, despatched an agent to Canada last Summer, and had Graves arrested under the Ashburton treaty at his residence in Simcoe, in that province but after two trials by separate justices, he was discharged by both, on the ground that the treaty did not provide for the rendition of persons charged with the crime of embezzlement.

Mr. Graves, or, as he has called himself of late years, Richard M. House, did not, however, rest easy under his discharge, but yearned for his native South, to which, after an exile of fourteen years, he remains strongly attached. He accordingly addressed the following latter to Governor McRae:

"SIMCOE, July 22, 1856.

"To the Governor of Mississippi.

"As I do not know your name, I address you as I do. "I have been near fourteen years an exile, living in this Siberia of America, exposed to this terrible climate where the mercury often sinks to 40 degree below zero, separated from all that is dear to me on erath. Surely this is sufficient punishment for all, my previous acts—even if I had been living in Russia, my offence would not have merited the punishment I have endured.

"You surely cannot (after fourteen years of punishment, when my head is silvered with trouble and age, when my children have grown up around me, unconscious of their father's misfortune) wish to degrade me any farther.

"I have a wife, sir, born in the Sunny South, whose relations reside in Alabama County, who is most anxious again to return to her native State. She nobly deserted her parents, her home, her all to follow her husband into exile—her punishment has been greater than mine. She at least, is innocent; but this has not prevented the climate from doing its worst upon her, and she is gradually sinking into the grave; all she asks is to be permitted to return to her native State (Mississippi), to the Sunny South, to die. This she cannot do unless her husband is free.

"Now what I propose is, to arrange the debt I owe the State. You may say you have not the power, but I have no doubt the Legislature will sanction any arrangement you can make. I have got some property which you can know nothing of and which, if I was free, could be sold to great advantage. Now, I propose to agree to pay the State four thousand dollars, a year, until the entire debt is paid up which I own the State this I can do, and the moment I fail I am willing to go to prison. The debt would have been paid years since, if it had not been for my brotherin law squandering funds which I placed in his hands, and intended for the State. This I will satisfy you of when I see you, which I shall do, if you write me a letter pledging me your honor that I shall not be molested as long as I comply with my agreement. You will find by the enclosed slips that I do not write this from any fear, a few days ago the Governor of the County declared me free, and not liable to be molested so long as I remained in Canada.

"For years I conducted one of the most respectable papers in Canada, and as you will perceive on the last page, I was 'sole editor, and, by the extracts which I send you I had managed all my duty for the South. You can know the course this required, unless you lived here, to this refuge of runaway negroes and Abolitionists You have no idea how much it has done; extracts from my paper have gone all over the Union and to England.

"Please write me a letter, directed to me in the name I live here

RICHARD M HOUSE

Simcoe, Norfolk County, Canada West.

The Governor, in his reply to the repentant defaulter, does not regard the proposition so favourably as Mr. Graves might wish, and, in submitting the matter to the Legislature, offers no suggestions as the propriety of allowing him to return. On one point, however, he bears testimony to Mr. Graves's sterling and industry, which may be better illustrated by quoting the Governor's words:

"The paper referred to by Graves, as edited by him in Canada, under the name of House, accompanying his letter to me, with various extracts from other numbers of it, is in my possession, and sustains him in the fact, as stated by him, of having, in his exile, vindicated Southern institutions.

Mr Graves's slavery propagandism is doubtless to be regarded as a mitigating circumstance before the jury of the Legislature, and that due importance will be attached to it, and due credit allowed, is evident from the fact that the Governor notices it in this manner. It is difficult to understand what bearance of Southern institutions has to do with the discharge of his indebtedness to the State of Mississippi, or how it is going to redeem his character as an honest man. One would suppose that if should aggravate the offence—it is bad enough to rob a treasury, but to descend from that to editing a newspaper in defence of slavery, is really making the matter worse. It would be a curious subject of inquiry suggested indeed by the developments in the present case—to ascertain whether, as a general thing, the editors of the pro-slavery papers in the North have antecedents or qualifications similar to those of Mr. Graves.—Evening Post.

FOOD FOR THE PEACH TREE

As the peach tree is so generous in its exuberant crops, it is necessarily a great exhauster of the soil and must have the support of proper manures. It is also essential to its prosperity that the soil should be kept open, and free from grass or weeds. I have found that the cultivation of many kinds of root crops requiring frequent and free hoeing, stirring of the soil, such as potatoes, beets, turnips, &c., are quite consistent with the health and vigor of the tree, but that, when the soil becomes bound through a dense growth of grass, which excludes light and air from the roots it soon dwindles, becomes sickly tages on the yellows, and dies. At the period of coming to the front, a large demand has been made upon the soil, which must necessarily be associated, as I conceive, through the roots, trunk, and branches, in a soluble state. It is probable that, along with carbonic acid, some kinds of alkaline manures, such as lime, or a mixture of one-third pot-ash and two-thirds, salt ammoniac most powerfully to aid the efforts of the tree in effecting its solution, and with this view, I have caused a handful or two, according to the size of the tree, to be applied upon the soil, and forked in to the distance of about three or four feet around each one, the time of the examinations for worms in May and September. A dose of guano, to the same extent, in lieu of the above, is also excellent.—Olive Branch.

EDITORIAL EXPERIENCE.

At a public dinner lately given by the conductors of the Patriot and British Banner newspapers, the Rev. Dr. Campbell referred to the experience of an Editor: "Here are some pitchers," the Doctor observed, in journalism as well as elsewhere. Something perhaps, is sent for insertion so late, that it reaches the office on the morning of publication just when going to press or when already more matter is in type than can be admitted, and whole columns must stand over The communication—a trifle it may be—does not appear. Immediately they write by return of post, expressing great disappointment, and perhaps order the paper to be discontinued. Now certainly this is not encouraging; but it is very small and utterly contemptible. At other times some sentiment is advanced which does not please a subscriber, and the offence may proceed from his ignorance of the real cause—and he becomes incensed that the Editor shou'd venture opinions contrary to his. "Is this to be endured?" he says "I will not stand it! Send in my account!" These artlings which thought to illustrate their own folly and depravity themselves. They have given up the paper, they think, forsooth, they have done something manly, They merely turned their back on a friend who deserved better treatment.

On Thursday last two free negroes, William Carter and John Powell, seamen on board the British bark Billow, were arrested in our city for being absent from their vessel without leave, and were ordered by the Mayor to be punished with stripes, by virtue of an Act of Assembly in such case made and provided. The punishment was commuted, with the assent of the captain of the bark, to the payment of cost of arrests and other usual charges, to which, however, her Majesty's Consul, C. P. R. James, Esq., demurred, on the ground of the negroes being British subjects, and therefore, exempt from the punishment to which others were liable for a violation of the aforesaid Act of Assembly. Our worthy Mayors however, maintained his authority in the matter, and gave her Majesty's representative the to pay charges or submit to the punishment of the negroes, the former of which he adopted under protest, the decision of the Mayor in this case is in strict conformity with State sovereignty, the maintenance of which is absolutely necessary for the preservation of the rights of the slaveholding States.—Norfolk (Va.) Argus.

THE LEMON SLAVE CASE (Virginia against New York virtually) came on for review in the Supreme Court, before Judges Mitchell, Roosevelt and Davies, on Wednesday last. It involves the question whether slaveholders have a right of transit for their slaves in a free State. The hearing of the case commenced on Thursday. We shall watch its progress with due interest.—Anti-Slavery Standard.

RATHER COURTEOUS.—While two little girls, one the daughter of a clergyman and the other, the child of one of his parishioners, were playing together, they fell into an angry dispute, as children often will, in imitation of their seniors. To mortify and spite her antagonist, the layman's girl saw fit to remind her of her father's well-known poverty, and intimated, rather tartly, that had it not been for her father's benevolent interference, the poor minister would have been in the work-house.

"Well, I don't care," replied the other if it had'nt been for my father, yours would would have been in hell, long ago!"

A PROFITABLE PARTY.—The lady of one of our Chicago railroad kings recently gave at the Tremont House a donation party for the poor. The charity box was at one end of the hall, amid the festivities of one of the gayest dancing parties. It told its own story. People were passing to and fro nearly all the evening, and no one knew who gave and who did not give. There were no solicitations from any one in the room. Upon opening the box, it contained eight hundred and seventy-five dollars—all given in secret.—Chicago Democrat.

Agricultural, &c.

POULTRY IN WINTER require a good, warm, but well ventilated house, plenty of food—some meat, fresh bones, and oyster shells pounded fine, cabbage leaves, carrots' beets, onions and all most any kind of comparatively innutritious food, in the place of grass which they freely eat in summer. And they should have large boxes of sand or soft ashes to wallow in, to rid themselves of vermin. With these precautions hens will lay all winter and can be made more profitable than milch cows.

A writer in the Maine Farmer recommends cob meal for feeding poultry. The corn and cobs are all ground together. We have no doubt of its utility, the cob supplying a large quantity of innutritious matter. The essentials for poultry are a good house, plenty of grain, some fresh meat, and grass, cabbage, or some of the etceteras as above. Water should be constantly kept before them.

IMPLEMENTS.—These should be carefully housed through the winter. A large farmer will have a tool house and make broad rakes, hay handles, hay

The Lecture by Elihu Burritt. Esq.

Upon "a plan of brotherly co-partnership between North and South for the peaceful extinction of Slavery," was a specious handling of the old subject of "compensation to masters," exploded over and over a thousand times. Though presented in a graceful and eloqnent manner, and having for its advocate the learned and far-famed lecturer, the measure was clearly in direct conflict with the plainest principles of right, and the arguments urged in its favor could not by any logical expedient be made to agree with one another, (as should time permit we propose to show in future.) "Expediency" that potent excuse of slaveholder and colonization, and an occasional convenient afterthought with more conscientious men, was the plea upon which compensation was urged. The noticeable feature of the meeting was, that while every just and generous sentiment was loudly applauded, there was no assent to the peculiar theory propounded. After the meeting, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Jameison, with appropriate remarks in favor of freedom, and complimentary to the talents of Mr. Burritt; but in no way endorsing his compensation view. The British Government under which we live does not acknowledge the right of the American slaveholder to compensation; neither would compensation to American slaveholders be a parallel case with that of paying West India masters; were we not, then, to violate every principle, of christianity and morality by agreeing to such a measure, we would be found as Canadians, repudiating the most generous and noble act of our own government. It should be ranked with treason! After saying thus much, we are in favor of compensation, but to quite other parties. Pay the slaves! not the masters as Mr. Burritt would persuade, but pay the man who owns nothing, knows nothing and who has never been paid! Mr. Burritt suggests that over-plus treasury money might be used to educate him at home, or to send him to Liberia! Now we suggest, that that is a little too much to; pursue us with that humbug here, though in the gentlest way unimaginable. What has a Canadian audience to do with Liberia? And we, with others, are puzzled to know what can be obtained by presenting the subject to a British audience? Elihu Burritt, by this brotherly scheme, has clearly forgotten the interests of the most needy of his brethren, namely, his "colored brethren."—M. A. S. C.

"Pay us What you Owe,"—which by the way, must go directly to some of our readers this week also, has already brought censure upon us. A correspondent shall be heard upon the subject next week. We cannot help it! when gentle hints will not answer, strong language must be used!

☞ The letter from our esteemed Philadelphia correspondent, will be read with interest. Miss E. T. Greenfield, Mrs. Webb and Miss F. Watkins, by competing successfully with the most celebrated white females, in their several professions, notwithstanding the superior advantages of white women, can be safely said to have removed from their class and sex the stigma of natural inferiority.—M. A. S. C.

FIRE.

During the heavy storm on Sunday last, the house tenanted by Mr. Lyons, and Miss Huff and brother, and owned by Mr. Andrew Smith, was destroyed by fire. The loss to all of the parties is very severe. The tenants were industrious and upright citizens, and by the destruction of their furniture and valuable papers may be said to be nearly destitute. Mr. Smith, has by this sad calamity, been deprived of almost the last vestige of the handsome estate owned by him a few months ago.—C.

☞ A spirited meeting was held in this town on the 26th instant, to take measures for the construction of a Canal from the River St. Clair to the Rond Eau, via, Chatham. The speech of R. S. Woods Esq. upon the importance of the measure was warmly applauded. Altogether it was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever assembled in this town.—C.

Our thanks are due to friend the Revd. Daniel A. Turner, for his prompt remittance of funds due us. His example is manly. Many others do likewise!!

Among the Upper Canadian members who voted to sustain the Government upon the Judge Draper appointment, were: Messrs. Benjamin, Robinson, Chisholm, Conger, Roblin, James Ross, Crysler, Shaw, Daly, Larwill, MacBeth, Powell, Angus Morrison.

☞ A communication from Dennis Washington of the Refugees Home, shall appear next week.

The greatest remedy of the day is unquestionably Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, for the instant relief of all pains, scalds, bruises, &c., and for pains in the stomach and bowels; it is used with encouraging success, in sudden attacks of cholera and cholera morbus. Sold by druggists.

Dyspepsia Cured. A fair trial of the Oxygenated Bitters will convince the most skeptical sufferer, that this medicine has no equal in the world for the cure of this disease. Every Dyspeptic ought to know its value.

Pay us what you Owe.

For weeks past we have been calling upon those indebted to pay up, as we have pressing liabilities to meet. BILLS! BILLS!! BILLS!!! has formed the caption of a standing and humble and respectful appeal—we have asked until we are ashamed; and ashamed of the people, who knowing that they owe us, read the paper without heeding the same. What would be thought of the man who would take the bread from his neighbor's house, for months and years with a formal contract to pay him, and would not only cooly partake of the same without payment, but who would not give attention to his just demand for remuneration? The verdict of honest men would be that such a man is unprincipled. Now, without wishing to reflect upon those in arrears to us, we must be permitted to say that many scores of men and women hold just the relation to us, that a party in the case supposed, would to the man whose bread he had eaten. Bills to the amount of hundreds of dollars have been sent by us, but except in one single instance, with not one word of reply have we been favored. A few of our local subscribers have acted promptly, but numbers of others have put us off—some with abuse—some with "I'll pay on" that worst of all pay days "Saturday," but when Saturday comes, not a head makes his appearance. Some "I cannot get a cent due me else I would pay, I want the Freeman—it must live—we must have an organ, that's so! The truth is, we must all do something for it, and if I could get some money I'd give you my subscription." The hypocrite! for no sooner is a new fashion, than out come the family in fine style—the paper is not paid for, but the merchant is paid for the finery, and we know it. You see the merchant is white, and that sometimes makes a great difference in the payment of a debt. Many white men say the Freeman is in a "great hurry" for pay—many colored men think "they are only colored people," and not being afraid of one another, we can wait until white creditors are paid. Yes, colored people will generally pay white men first. Now friends we are pained at the moral obliquity, or fear or whatever it is, that "he who runs may read," among colored people on this point and of the former trait as exhibited by some of our white creditors; for although some of them will "put us off" twistify, and finally insult us, but do we owe them, the first thing done is to put the amount into court. Let there be honest dealing all around and we will be enabled to pay what we owe and not be forced to tell on you.—M. A. S. C.

The following taken from the Police Report for Feb. 21, has been handed us for publication. The parties are Mrs. Armstrong a respectable colored lady, and teacher in the public school in this town, and J. F Grady, an Irishman, a Dentist. Mr. Grady left before having a hearing.

COUNTY OF KENT, } TO WIT: }

Before Justice McCrae.

SARAH ARMSTRONG,

vs.

J. E. GRADY.

Charged with assault by taking hold of complainant and endeavoring to force her on a lounge then in the room, after having first locked the door.

Sarah A. Armstrong, sworn:—On Saturday last the 21st Feb'y., about 4 o'clock, P. M., I went into the Dentist room of the accused, for the purpose of getting a tooth extracted and another replaced. Having the tooth extracted, I proposed having another set in plate. Defendant said he would charge ten dollars, which I declined giving. Defendant then asked me if I was married to the gentleman with me. I said I was not. I told him I was a married woman, but that my husband was absent, he then said he would charge four dollars, fixed the day for me to call, which was Tuesday. I then rose to leave, when defendant said my countenance was very familiar, that he thought he had seen me before. As I turned to go out at the door he clasped me, so that I had no use of my hands and then locked the door. I desired him to let me alone and threatened to scream out murder; he still held me and tried to push me to a lounge in the lower part of the room. I asked him what he wanted? He said I had studied human nature and that I knew how it was with a young unmarried man. I again threatened to scream murder, and after tussling around the room some ten minutes, I told him I would take the law of him; he found he could not accomplish his design when he let me go. I said I would expose him. He offered an apology which I refused to take; but said I would expose him. He then said if I would not expose him he would unlock the door, I still said I would expose him, and if he did not unlock the door, I would break a pane of glass and scream for help. He then unlocked the door and I left.

Signed,
SARAH ARMSTRONG.

The Defendant failed to appear either personally or by counsel to answer the charge The case proceeded with ex parte. Defendant convicted of common assault and adjudged to pay a fine of £1 2s 6d and costs Ordered to be paid forthwith, and in default to be imprisoned in the Common Gool of this County for the space of thirty days.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Miss Frances Ellen Watkins, &c.

Dear Friend:—As you are aware Miss Frances Ellen Watkins, the poetess, has been lecturing on Slavery for the last few months in this region. You will therefore, I doubt, not, be pleased to hear, as I am to state how she has succeeded, and the impression she has produced in an atmosphere so notoriously Pro-slavery, as has generally been ascribed to this part of the country, by "all the world and the rest of mankind."

Almost entirely a stranger in Philadelphia, her first lecture (in this city) was delivered before a highly intelligent audience, at the Assembly Buildings on Cuestnut St., where she acquitted herself handsomely and made a deep and favorable impression, doubtless on all present.

Here it must be remembered, she was before an audience who had been accustomed to hear good speaking, who would not be likely to endure or excuse an ordinary effort from any one.

Being invited she spoke effectively and eloquently on several other occasions to deeply interested audiences in different parts of the city.

The Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania Anti-slavery society, feeling that she was highly capable of aiding the Anti-slavery cause in Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, solicited her to remain and accept an agency under their auspices which she has consented to do, and has been thus actively engaged ever since. And rarely has she ever failed in the many places she has lectured, even in the most Pro-slavery neighborhoods or on the coldest nights, to get out full houses and respectful attention.

In New Jersey, especially, has she done great good. As you are aware from having lived in that state, prejudice and Pro-slavery rarely under any circumstances treat the blackman or the Anti-slavery cause with the slightest respect or a particle of justice. The stoical indifference manifested by the masses, the decided Pro-slavery proclivities of politicians with the marked timerity of those professing to be friendly for a long time, with but few places excepted, have proved invulnerable to, even the appearance of the cause of the oppressed. Neither the Lecturer or the Anti-slavery publication could be tolerated. Hence I record the fact with no ordinary pleasure that our gentle, earnest, eloquent and talented heroine, with admirable tact has entered the enemies camp, and utterly confounded them on the oppression and wrongs of the slave, whether connected with those of her own sex, in infancy or old age; with the most cruel or the mildest form of the system; whether on the auction block or in the rice swamps; whether as seen in the hypocrisy of the nominal church or the heinous enactments of the Government; whether in the wicked prejudices of the North, or the unblushing licentiousness of the South; whether on the Underground Railroad, suffering almost unto death or by being captured, shot and wounded by slave hunters; whether connected with the mercantile, historical, political or literary interest of the country, she is admirably posted. And perhaps but few speakers surpass her in using language and arguments more potently, in impressing and charming her audiences.

Many are moved to tears by her pathos, and almost without a single exception on hearing her first lecture, by a unanimous vote she has been requested to lecture a second time if no more.

An extract or two from papers published in the largest towns in New Jersey, will give you an idea of what the press thinks of her as a speaker.

The New Jersey Mirror, published at Mount Holly, speaks as follows:

"A Pleasant Speaker.—Miss Watkins the colored woman who delivered lectures in the Lyceum in this Town, on Friday and Saturday evenings last, on the subject of Slavery, is without any exception, the best female speaker we ever heard She has a fine voice, uses the choicest language, and is very fluent. We are not willing to adopt her views, yet we will accord to her an unusual amount of ability in the discussion of her favorite topic."

From the Daily Republican of Trenton.

"A large and respectable audience assembled last night at Temperance Hall to hear the lecture on American Slavery by Miss Frances Watkins, the colored lady of Baltimore. The lecture throughout was replete with pathos, besides it evinced a highly cultivated mind, and a memory well stored with historical knowledge upon this interesting subject It was listened to with the most profound attention, and elicited frequent bursts of applause."

Also in Burlington, Moorestown, Medford, Crosswicks, Allentown, Hightstown, &c., &c., &c., though new fields and thoroughly Pro-slavery, her receptions were equally as flattering as in the towns refered to in the above extracts.

In speaking thus freely, you may think that I have indulged extravagantly, in my remarks relative to the labors of our esteemed friend Miss W., if I have, I am not aware of it. Indeed, I have not done justice to her merits. Simply, however, as a cheering sign of the times, I felt it to be my duty to venture this tribute.

Her little book of poems, an enlarged and new edition of which has just been published making ten thousand copies, sells rapidly, and serves admirably no doubt to keep alive in the minds of many, the interest awakened by her lectures, proving her to be decidedly original.

In conclusion, allow me to congratulate the Provincial Freeman. I observed with much pleasure in a late number, in the report of the Town Council of Chatham, that it has the honor of doing the printing of that Board. This fact is a very significant indication of the impartiality of your laws, and of the encouragement afforded to enterprising colored men.

Yours truly,

W. S.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21, 1857.

To the Editor of the Provincial Freeman:

Mr. I. D. Shadd,—Sir:—I hereby notify you that you must stop sending me the Provincial Freeman. I am not one of your subscribers. I bought a number of that journal for one year, and paid one Mr. Douglass for the same. I have nothing to do with you nor your law of newspapers, and I don't want your paper, the celibry is too small for me. I refuse to take them from the Post-office, and shall not pay you if you do send the paper.

JAMES WIRICK.

Earlville, Jan. 1, 1857.

If as you say you paid Mr. Douglass for the Provincial Freeman for one year, you have not yet had it for one year, for Mr. Douglass has not been connected with the paper that long. If you wanted it stopped though you had not all your numbers, why not tell your Post-master, as he being a gentleman, probably, would have known how to write in a gentlemanly way? Had you condescended to do so, you would have saved me the trouble of discovering the size of your calibre by the sort of letter you write. We trust that Earlville may have few "of the same sort" to boast of, and that you may mend your manners before writing to another publisher.—I. D. S.

To the Publisher of the Provincial Freeman.

Princeton, Ind. Gibson County,
February 2nd, 1857.

Mr. H. F. Douglass, Editor of the Provincial Freeman and Weekly Advertiser:—We the undersigned do request that you discontinue sendin your paper to this office. As the Postmaster here, complains of being burthened with them, on account of their being suffered to remain in the office, and not called for. Furthermore, we did not expect them without first sending the money, according to your own terms.

THOMAS COLE,
JOEL LILES.

After having received the Freeman almost from the beginning of its existence, —nearly three years—long before Mr. Douglass became connected with it,—and never having paid one cent to us, although we sent bills to them in common with the rest of the Princeton subscribers, we are cooly favored with this very creditable (?) letter as compensation we suppose. Well, if Mr. Cole and Mr. Liles can square the matter with their consciences so easily we suppose we must make up our minds to lose the amount.—I. D. S.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Mr. Editor:—Please publish the following Articles and Resolutions that were laid before the church by L. G. Spears, and were past by an overwhelming majority, Feb. 21st, 1857.

Whereas, The Amherstburg Baptist Church did receive aid from the New York State Convention in 1853, and continued until 1855. And

Whereas, We do see with J. J. E. Linton and the American Baptist as relates to the different churches (North,) being connected with or silent upon Slavery, and

Whereas, The public do labor under a misunderstanding in thinking that we still remain in fellowship with them since our last reception of aid. Therefore

Resolved, That we will neither give nor receive aid nor hold fellowship with any Church that does not look upon Slavery as a sin, or that holds its peace on the subject.

Resolved, We will not hold fellowship with any church or churches, that appologise for any such a scheme.

Resolved, That we will not hold fellowship with any minister who will not stand up and speak in loud tones and shew the people their sins, and the churches their state of transgression in relation to Slavery. See minutes of the sixteenth Anniversary of the Amherstburg Baptist Association, held in Chatham, Sept, 1856.

Resolved, That we will not fraternize nor give credit to any so-called christian Board, Press or Society, any longer than we find them to be pro-slavery

Resolved, That any so-called Christian Church, Press, Society or Minister, that remains silent or is afraid to speak the truth and the whole truth is not fit for the public use or service.

Moved that these resolutions be published in the Provincial Freeman

Done by order, in behalf of the church.

Church Clerk.

Periodical Anti-Slavery Publications.

The Anti-Slavery Advocate is printed and published monthly by Mr. R. D. Webb, at Dublin and published also at Tweedie's Strand London. The Anti-Slavery Reporter, of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, Mr. Chamerovzow, Secretary, is published monthly at New Broad Street, London.

In Canada there is one publication only, the Provincial Freeman, which advocates Anti-slavery interests (besides our humble sheets and extras, and ours are gratuitous and voluntary.)—It is published weekly at Chatham, C. W., by I. D. Shadd & Co. Messrs. Shadds' family are free colored emigrants, who emigrated to Canada from Pensylvania some years ago,—and are educated and respectable,—and knowing, as they do, the peculiar interests of the class of people whose welfare they wish to forward in Canada, we would wish to awaken an attention to the exertions of Mr. Shadd and sister (Mrs. M. A. S. Cary,) and crave aid from all human and christian people to support their exertions in their publications. They know how the fugitives and others, from the land of bondage arrive—where they arrive at in Canada,—and what help they receive and who they are who help them in an honest and liberal way. Let us awaken attention to the efforts of the colored people about Chatham, and we hope that British solicitude and sympathy and monied help, will also be extended to those who are and who reside on British colonial soil, and who promote the interests on the spot, of those who flee for "liberty dearer than life." There has been some neglect somewhere, as to the matter of what we write. A correspondence with the Messrs. Shadds might lead to some useful information

PLEA OF IGNORANCE IN CANADA—NO PLEA NOW.

There is no body of professing christians can now urge the plea of ignorance, that they were not aware of the Pro-slavery and silent nature of the religious organizations in the United States which have been coquetted, fraternized and fellowshipped with, by our religious bodies and leading professing religious men in Canada. That plea will find no support, for we notify our readers, that our various publications by way of remonstrance, have been sent to all religious bodies in Canada,—to laymen,—and to the Press, religious and secular. Besides we have advertised the object we have in view, in many newspapers. We regret, however, that christian duty, and christianity itself should have been at such a low ebb, in its first principles, love to God and man, as to have required any indoctrination. If ever a plea of ignorance is urged we should like to be informed of the party and the address (pre-paid)

GREAT BRITAIN.

In Parliment, some interest was excited by Lord Palmerston backing out of his previous contradiction that a secret treaty existed between France and Austria, guaranteeing Austria her possession in Italy.

Sir Robert Peel made an amusing apology for his celebrated speech respecting Duke Constantine, Count De Morny, and the Prince De Ligne He says it was all true, but he meant no harm.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer had made his financial statements in the House of Commons.

A reduction of Income Tax to the amount at which it stood before the war, has been anticipated from the reduced Army and Navy estimates, as well as from the authoritative hints in the Ministerial organs. The official announcement of the fact, although it did dot excite surprise, was received with much interest.

FRANCE.

A madman attacked the Empress at Paris, he was imediately arrested, and declared his intention was merely to embrace her.

GREECE.

The names of the new Greek Ministry have been submitted to France and England for approval, and it is reported they are satisfactory. Troubles are reported between the Shah and the priesthood; parties are accused of wishing to depose the Shah. The powerful tribe of Babees are reported to be on the eve of insurrection. The French Moniteur, however, contradicts the above statements

OXYGENATED BITTERS

Testimony from J. C. Barter, Collector of the Port of Ogdensburg, New York.

Ogdensburg, December 1, 1851. Gentlemen,—I had been much afflicted, for the greatest part of the year ending at last midsummer, with a singular derangement of the bowels, connected with occasional attacks of Dyspepsia. During the last summer, I accidently took up a paper, containing testimonials respecting your Oxygenated Bitters. In one instance, where it had failed their use. I found my own symptoms and condition so accurately described, that I determined me upon trying them. I accordingly procured, and have used several bottles; and find in renovated strength and health, satisfactory evidence, that in my case, they have accomplished all that, I could wish

VALUABLE MEDICINE

We presume no medicine ever offered to the public has been more thoroughly tested than.

PERRY DAVIS PAIN KILLER

Thousands of persons were they called upon to do so, would cheerfully testify that they have used it for various ills with the most satisfactory success. It is within our own knowledge, that an immense amount of suffering has been relieved by it. Its proprietors save no pains or expense in order to satisfy the public. Being strictly honorable men, they observe the utmost uniformity in the manufacture of their celebrated Pain Killer. The materials of which it is composed are carefully selected—none but the best being used. By these means the high reputation which the Pain Kille. has long since acquired, is at all sustained. In view of these facts, we are by no means surprised to learn that at Messrs. Davies & Sons sales are constantly and rapidly increasing.—Providence General Advertiser.

ABOMINABLE DISHONESTY,
HYPOCRISY, AND IMPOSITION!!

The American Tract Society and Slavery—A. S School Union.

"THAT ABOMINABLE CRIME, THE SLAVE TRADE."—(Speech. lately by Lord Palmerston, at Manchester, England.)

NOTE.—WE HAD SUPPOSED THAT the true cause and prosperity and pure indoctrination of Christianity with loyal principles, in Canada, would, by this time, have been the heart's delight of every Christian. If facts are any guide to us, it does not so appear.

Are any and who are they, in Canada of our Ministers of Religion, Religious Tract Societies, Corporations, &c, and of our Religious Papers, who do support the American Tract Society of America, Sunday School Union?

See the Advertisement, dated 24th November, of the "Christian Paper," an American Messenger for 1857 of said Tract Society, in the Montreal Witness of 25th November, and compare such with the following article of the Streetsville Review C W, of same date as to said American Messenger, &c Will the Montreal Witness by John Dougall, its proprietor, ever be cured of hypocrisy, or dealing unfairly in religious matters?—for there is an article in his said paper on the disloyalty of the Roman Catholics, when he knows he ought to know, as the conductor of a public and religious journal—that the foundation of the American Tract Society is rank republicanism besides spurious printing and pro-slavery amusement! The publications of these Societies he has previously reviewed and recommended, without any remonstrance (See in pages out "Home Evangelisation," pp 171, published by American Tract Society, with its reflections against the Irish' &c, and which book and others of that Society's books, and A. S. S Union, for shame! are sold by the Upper Canada Tract Society Toronto.—and said advertisement in the Witness is signed "James Milne," as Depositary of the Montreal Union Tract society. For shame!)

The American Sunday S Union dare not publish a sentence in favour of the freedom of the slave, or allude to the subject of slavery, and is also strictly republican!

The sighs and tears, bloodstains and groans, of slave-humanity, are extorted for the support of the issues of books of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, (old school,) at Philadelphia Hear that, ye Free Presbyterians of Canada, who colporteur their books! The Wesleyan Methodists of Canada are duped by their preachers for a similar support of a more dismal, direct, and fraternal kind, as to their system! The Facts for Baptist Churches speak in unmistakeable language as to those the Regular Baptists of Canada fraternize with.

Let our own home and British reliable religious literature be put in our children's hands, such as "The Children's paper," published by T. Nelson & Sons at Toronto, &c, and so worthily recommended by a Canadian press.

(NOTICE No. 14.)

CAUTION!

SLAVERY FELLOWSHIP AND METHODISM—IMPOSITION.

1st. The Methodist Episcopal Church, (north) of the United States has countenanced and still continues by its disciplined connexion the iniquitous system of SLAVERY! Of the kidnapping buying and selling of human beings—sundering and ties of men, women and children. Their Class leaders, Ministers and members, may hold and sell slaves. Ministers of religion with authority and license to preach the blessed Gospel of Christ, being slaves, have been sold in the public market as goods and chattels—as a pig or a horse! Their chief publishing place is at No. 200 Mulberry Street, New York.—(See title pages of their books, &c., and as referred to in the Christian Guardian, of Toronto, C W.)

2nd The Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church Rev. Enoch Wood of Toronto, President of Conference, fellowships with, countenances and receives, the above Methodist Episcopal Church (north) as a church equally as one with themselves. They sell and circulate their books, &c. in Canada; have more got their Canada Sunday Advocate, printed at No. 200 Mulberry Street, being a copy next to one, of the same kind of publication printed and circulated from New York by the M E. Church (north.) They also have "Our Church" and one "Mother Church" Can demit, or send ministers of their churches in Canada, to preach and labor in the U. States under said church. They had delegates (Revds. John Ryerson and Richard Jones) at the Quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist E. Church (north) at Indianapolis (Indiana,) in May, '56, at which these Rev. gentlemen delivered speeches, which contained not a word of remonstrance or advice as to the sin and evil of Slavery—so existing in their midst. And they also preached. The editor of the Christian Guardian was there also. Reliable copies of the proceedings are in my possession

3 The British laws declare Slavery, and all traffic and participation, in the same, as FELONY! Are we, Canadians, under the humane and general government of the British Empire,—are we, loyal people, to be supporters by aid, advice or money, of any such Body or Bodies, which countenance and fellowship with pro-slavery Bodies!—Are we! Whilst the highest and noblest in Britain's land, as well as the lowest, who support and traffic or have property in slavery, are liable to the pains and penalties of that British law are we free from it? Shall we prefer republican maxims, religious and political, to our free monarchical institutions?

4 The inhabitants of Stratford, and its vicinity [wherein also live the purchased human flesh and blood of Slavery, yes, bought with our cash]—we are called upon, by public large handbills, to contribute on Sunday, the 2nd November, instant, and following days, by our money to the support of the said Canada Wesleyan Methodist Church! The names of said Rev. Enoch Wood,—also Rev. Robert Cooney, D. D, of Guelph, and Rev. Lewis Warner, District Chairman, are stated in these handbills, as to be present at the meetings!

5 The Subscriber will D. V. continue, as heretofore, to take every means in his power, (while the evils of said fellowship, &c., exist) which time, influence and money, give him, with the aid of humane people, to endeavour to extirpate and do away with, every kind of pro-Slavery FELLOWSHIP and religious imposition thereby which has hitherto been, and continues to be, (for shame!) practiced on a Canadian and a loyal people; by several of our religious Tract and Book and other Societies, Churches and ministers of religion, in Canada.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been, as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected and culled from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Accounts of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which imagination, the humorous and lively [illegible] and [illegible]. These [illegible] should have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy those Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers of the land. We shall also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We shall soon commence publishing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c.

Paper for January next.

BRITISH WESLEYAN METHODISM & SLAVERY.

To the Editor of the Morning Advertiser, London, (Eng.)

STRATFORD, Canada West 3rd Jan, 1857

SIR.—I hope you will permit me to lay before your readers and a British public the following extract from a communication by me, referable to a latter which I see has been addressed to your paper, by that friend of humanity, the Rev. Edward Mathews, regarding British Methodism and Slavery. I am induced to write this now as it was only this week that said letter came under my notice, in the Anti-slavery Advocate received from friends in Bristol.

The extract is as follows: "2ndly. I find in a number of the Anti-slavery Advocate for December, (Dublin and London) as published by Mr. R. D. Webb, of Dublin, in a letter addressed to the Morning Advertiser (London) by that indefatigable anti slavery worker on humanity's cause, the Rev. Edward Mathews,—dated from Leeds 23rd of Sept., that the Rev. F. J. Jobson, A. M., of the British Wesleyan church in England, in a conference, apparently then but lately held, at Bristol, stated that the Methodist Episcopal church (north) of the United States, is opposed to Slavery, in fact is anti-slavery. I denounce that statement so made in said Conference, by Mr. Jobson as a false staement.— The M. Episcopal church, (north,) according to sound and evangelical writers in the U. S., admits slaveholders to its bosom, and to every church privilege, and its class leaders, members, and even ministers, buy, hold, and traffic, in human bodies and souls! Let that truth be known, and widley spread in Britain,—and I, an adopted Canadian of nigh 24 years' residence, of the Free Presybterian church, am ready to show by the proofs I have in my writings referred to, that what I state, is true.

"Let me premise, and enquire of those to "whom this is addressed, why is it that a "fellowship so direct exists between the pro-"slavery M. Episcopal church (north) of the "United States and the British Wesleyan Conference!"—It would be a most proper investigation to make. The noted pro-slavery Methodist Episcopal church (south) which has now, I understand, ignored any reference to Gospel authority against slavery,—fellowships with its sister church (north) and the latter had, not so long since, one of the pro-slavery Bishops of its church (south) officiating at a ceremony as to a church dedication at Newark, New Jersey, U. S. within a few miles of New York!—That is nothing, even as to New York,, for what steps can the Methodist Episcopal church there,—in its large importance,—(for the said Methodist church by its preachers is proud, self-righteous and tyrannically despotic, no unknown features in such Methodism) what steps can it show to a British public, of its exertions to ferret out and stop the slave vessels which sail from that port, or to enlighten the public feeling so apthetised on the subject, or to advocate the colored citizens' right when the ejecting by brute force of colored citizens, even ministers, and even ladies, from the public conveyances in that city is inhumanly and unchristianly countenanced?—That church can shew no practical steps.—None. Yet it is kissed, hugged, and fellowshipped with, by the British Wesleyan Conference, and by the Wesleyan church in Canada,—which latter now exists under British Conference influence! Let the truths be known in Britain. My printed statements of January 1856 (Published at Toronto, C. W., in the Colonist and in a separate extra) and of a late date, 20th December, in the "Voice of the Bondsman," No 2, being a reply to personal attacks of an anonymous Methodist,—will show more of the Canadian fellowship and connection than there is now room here for. The papers will be found at the Bristol and Edinburgh Societis referred to.

"And it may be proper here to remaind and to inform you, that the said M. E. Church (north) meets quadrennially (besides having annual conferences in its sevral districts), its last Quadrennial General Conference was held at Indianapolis (Indiana) in May 1856 and beginning of June, and at that Conference were the Delegation from England, from the British Wesleyan Conference, composed of Revds. J. Hannah, D. D. and F. J. Jobson, A. M.—and also the Delegates from Canada, bearers of an address passed at the Canada Conference at London, C. W., June 1855, to be presented in May, 1846; and these Delegates were Revds. John Ryerson and Richard Jones, both at least one of whom were ordained by and had previously officiated in the United States under that M. E. church, (then north and south being one) and that too when it was a slavery church in one body from New Orleans to Lake Ontario,—the Canadian frontier,—and the proceedings of that General Conference, with votes, and pro-slavery actings, are now lying before me, as I pen these lines, as published by the church itself;—and from which alone, apart from other valuable testimony, I can so confidently state that the said Rev. F. J. Jobson has made a false statement!

"So false is that statement, that the Episcopal address, signed by the seven Bishops of the church, and presented to said General Conference, admits slavery, and the buying and holding and disposal of slaves in its members and even in its preachers and ministers, (two classes), further yet, the book of discipline and rules of that church, recognises and embodies in the bosom of the church, (to keep it warm with christain purity!) the foulest and rankest system of buying and holding slaves!—Let the books' &c., be produced!—Avaunt! with such an imposition on a British public, as the statement so made by the Rev. Mr. Jobson,—Am I to believe what I read and look upon, or to believe the lie put by Mr. Jobson before a British public!—And the proceedings of that General Conference ended, just as epitomised by Mrs. Stowe, in her noble book "Dred," (see appendix)—Jegar Sah adutha!

"Further still I may state, that I laid printed and written papers, containing declarations against Canada fellowship with pro-slavery bodies of the U. States, before the said Conference in Canada, in June, 1855 and I wrote from where I now write this (Stratford, C. W.) a special letter, prepaid, to the Rev. Dr. Hannah, enclosing papers, and with a written remonstrance in my letter, on 30th April last, addressed to him at Indianapolis (Ind.) regarding said fellowship by the British and Canadian Wesleyans,—and a sufficient number of printed papers were otherwise sent by me, to Indianapolis, in May, 1856, to show a British feeling against the curse and sin of slavery, as so homolgated and trafficked in by said M. E. church [north] and fellowshipped with in so disgraceful a manner by said British and Canadian Wesleyans. Let Dr. Hannah now produce my letter to a British public!—"

I may state in conclusion, that I am an emigrant of 1833 to this place [then a wilderness with the roaming Indian] from Scotland,—and full setts of my anti-slavery papers will be found at the Bristol and Clifton Ladies' Anti-slavery Society, [Miss. Estlin, Sec'y.] and with the Edinburgh Ladies Emancipation Society, [Miss Wigham Sec'y.] the latter society being possessed of some personal information as to the writer. I am known also, at the Canada Company's Office, St, Helens Place London, and I hold an official goverment situation as Clerk of the Peace in this County [Perth].

Respectfully, I am, Sir,
Your very Obt. Servant.
J. J. E. LINTON.

A GREAT PRESERVE OPENED.

(From the Morning Chronicle.)

The committee appointed on the motion of the Colonial Secretary last night will have a large task before them. They are instructed to inquire into the condition of the territories now administered by the Hudson's Bay Company. As there territories cover a belt of latitude between 46 degrees, and 70 degrees north, and extend from 55 degrees to 135 degrees of west longitude from Labrodor on the eastern coast of America, to the mouth of the Mackenzie river on the Pacific, the range of investigation is something stupendous The area under the administration of the Company indeed, is computed to approach three millions of square miles, studded with innumerable lakes, intersected by many important rivers, presenting almost every variety of soil, and including a wide diversity of climate.

But the chief question for the committee to consider involves a matter of right rather than matters of fact In other words, they will have to scrutinize the title under which the Hudson's Bay Company have so long enjoyed a monopoly of this vast slice of British dominion, and determine the mode in which Parliament should raze the barrier that has hitherto prevented access to so large an area of available territory. Strong as the Saxon instinct for colonization has always been their reverence for law and vested rights must be infinitely stronger, when we see that a tract of country forty times larger than England, and presenting many temptations to settlers of every class has been left for nearly two centuries to the exclusive possession of a mercantile company, out of respect for an equivocal charter from Charles II.

The whole territory now administered by the Company is held under three distinct tenures. One portion over which they claim a proprietorship in fee-simple, as lords of the soil, was granted by Charles II in 1670. This section extends from the Atlantic to the Rocky Mountains. Another segment from the Rocky Mountains west-ward to the Pacific Ocean, is held upon a mere lease of twenty-one years' duration, nineteen of which are now expired. Lastly, there is Vancouver's Islands of which the Company also hold a lease originally granted for eleven years, but which has now only two more to run. Both leases will accordingly lapse in 1859, and those portions of the gross estate now appertaining to the Hudson's Bay Company will fall under the control of the British Legislature without further question. How to deal with the vast area comprised in the Stuart charter remains to be decided. One thing is certain—that the existing monopoly must be broken up. The business of the Hudson's Bay Company—who in the course of a stormy career have absorbed the Fur Company, and extinguish all other competions—is to procure and sell furs and skins, especially fox, bear and beaver skins. These articals are not the produce of a populous or of a civilized country, and the Compaey have taken care to keep their territory as nearly a solitude as possible Throughout the whole domain it is calculated that scarcely more than 1 200 Europeans are to be found, all agents and dealers in the service of the Company; while the residue of its scanty population consists of about 300,000 Esquimaux and Indians, who live chiefly by hunting, and furnish the Company with the "peltry" in which they trade.

If distributed over the territory, the above number would give just one inhabitant to every ten sqare miles. This, of course, connot long be endured in the presence of our own over-crowded population, and with respect to a country of which, if some districts are cold and sterile, others present a rich soil and temperate climate, with forests abounding in game, waters teeming with fish, and enormous plains fitted either for grain crops or pasturage.

This preserve must be opened for the use and enjoyment of the general community, under such conditons as Mr. Labouchere, a Committee may suggest and Parliment prescribe. The compensation to the Company may be provided without difficulty, and at no cost to the nation. They cannot claim any extravagant amount on the score of improvements effected on the property. Since the date of their charter the Company have sought to maintain their territory in the same wild and uncultivated state in which they found it.. and have certainly succeeded. Without drawing on the national purse, a very small charge for lands sold or enclosed out of their former domain, will suffice to satisfy every claim which the Hudson's Bay Company can justly advance.

Last week an old man named Michael Fitzgerald, was stabbed in a disreputable house at Port Hope by a girl named Anna Maria Read, and died hortly afterwards. In a deposition made before his death, he showed an inclination to screen the girl, and said she was drunk when she committed the crime. The Coroner's jury, on Sunday, returned the following verdict:—"We find that Michael Fitzgerald came to his death, from a wound inflicted by a sharp-pointed instrument in hands of a woman named Anna Maria Read, in the town of Port Hope, on Thursday, the 19th day of Feb., 1857."

We receive in a late Louisville Courier a long letter from Col. Jack Allen, late of Walker's army, a veteran officer and brave man, well know in that State, who lately returned from Nicaragua. He states that Walker is a petty tyrant, without military ability, and that all that has been alleged respecting the fatality of the climate, Walker's neglect of his men, the want of order and discipline, and the drunkenness prevailing among them, is true. He states also that Lieut. Worden was refused a pass to leave the country, although the Surgeon-General and Col. Allen strongly besought Walker to grant one on the ground that Worden's life was in danger from disease. Kentucky has consequently lost another brave son. Lieut. Burbank, a young Cadet, who was enticed by Walker's agents from the Military School of Kentucky, leaving without the knowledge of his parents, being only 17 years of age, died of cholera under Gen. Hornsby's command, after bravely fighting two days on the Transit Road. We also notice that several Western and Southern papers have published at length our San Francisco correspondent's account of the conditon of Walker's forces. People are gradually becoming convinced that the Northern races cannot successfully colonize tropical countires, although backed up by steamship speculators, and led on by an incompetent enthusiast, to whom the quality of mercy is a stranger.—Tribune.

The London Free Press states that Mr. J. Henderson, who has been for many years post master at Port Stanley, has absconded taking with him a large amount of funds which had come into his possession through the post office. Evidence of his felony has been found in the office, in the shape of portions of letters torn up; and which upon being matched, were found to refer to sums of money enclosed to different individuals. It appears that Henderson came up to london on Friday; and has not been since. He is supposed to have gone west, and the police are already on his trail.

The ancient Greeks buried their dead in Jars Hence the origin of the expression, "He's gone to pot."

Chatham and Environs.

The progress of the Town and the apparent successfulness of its inhabitants, in comparison with other towns in this Province, are such as to command the attention of every observing individual. Within the past two years there has been an incredible change in the business done, and the manner of doing the same. At the commencement of this epoch, the most manifest dolessness was exhibited in a general way; but since then, the business community commenced with renewed vigor, and at present a great change is to be seen. The old dilapidated stores and buildings that then stood, have been removed, and now we see erected the large and handsome establishments in their stead, where the best taste and arrangement of large emporiums are generally exhibited. The old fashioned twelve light windows and tallow candles are becoming extinct, and four lights substituted, finely illuminated with superior fluid and other lights, giving a brilliant appearance to the many extensive establishments. Three and four story buildings are no longer a novelty, with their iron pillars and occasional fancy iron sills for doors and windows, but no doubt, will soon be in general use.

Of the many fine and largely stocked business establishment are:

John Davis, Engine Boiler Foundry, together with seven steam mills, complete the most extensive business places. Plank roads are now stretching out of our town in four different directions, and on the opening of spring the river is frequently filled with steam boats, steam tugs and other lake vessels, adding to business and appearance of the town. Again, among the other important and creditable doings of the past year, was the long needed and at last, accomplished work of the city fathers, the sewering and macadamizing of King street; (which is second to none other in the largest cities in the Province) and the River and Creek bridges, all or nearly completed, which speaks volumes for Chatham. Should the Ship Canal from the river St. Clair to the Rond Eau Harbour, which is now the all important subject before our citizens be chartered, its completion will evidently be carried into effect, brightening the prospect of the coming future, adding strength and vigor to our thriving population; opening up trade through this Western section of the country; increasing the facilities for market; draining and rendering tillable and productive the soil, and thereby increasing the produce; enlarging the market, strengthening the merchant, mechanic, the laborer, and raising our town in population and wealth, to a position among the important trading towns of the North. Was the above the only hope of our increasing in population and size, we might be in doubt; but on entering the country, and seeing the hundreds of farmers whose labors are yet in an infant state, but are gradually maturing, and will ere long, present to the visitor, extensive fields of waving grain, and choice timber setting in the shade, the boasted fertile plains and valleys of the Middle States, but still backing up our internal improvements now in contemplation—the doubt is at once removed.—I. Township of Maidstone,
March 2, 1857.

To the Editors of the "Provincial Freeman."—I have seen in your paper a statement made by you in regard to Mr. Foote, the agent of the settlement that I live in—the Refugees Home. I have never been agent for the society as yet, nor will I be without a great change. I was sent out last spring to get some help for the settlement, when our people was on the point of starvation here, and I only did business for them two weeks. I do not like the way Mr. Foote does business here myself, for some of the people he gives to, and to some he sells the donations for cord wood. Some of them he will not give one thing, and I am one of them, I did not come all the way from slavery to have a white man for my overseer. I want you to come and see us and we will call a meeting for you.

I will write you another letter and give the doings as I am at present at Belle River.

Yours for suffering humanity,
DENIS WASHINGTON.

LETTER NO. 2.

Township of Maidstone,
March 4th, 1857.

I sent you a letter dated the second day of this month. I saw the piece in the 21st number of your paper, where you set my name by Mr. C. C. Foote's, as being agent of the Refugees Home Society. My neighbours last spring sent me to Michigan, among my friends to get them some help, we were in a suffering condition. I acted for them for two weeks and gave it up, and will not be agent again, for I do not believe in the system of begging for the fugitives. The things that I got were fairly given to them, which I can prove by them. As for Mr. Foote, he pretended to hire me since I have been here on the land to show people lots, and he promised to pay me for it, and only gave me three dollars for all my trouble, and said I must make the people pay me to show them lots of land. When I bought my lot I paid him thirty dollars as half of my payment on the land, and the society charged me ten dollars more, which would make the lot $70.

This winter I went to the school house where he had some things and got one flannel shirt, and he came and took it away from me and sold it. Some of the people he gives things to, and some he will not give anything at all. I asked him to give me some bed-quilts this winter for my family, but he would not give me any. He said that they were his, and he would do as he pleased with them. Now Mr. Editor, the word of God says, prove all things and hold fast to that which is good. Just before last christmas I went and got me some corn ten bushels, and three bushels of potatoes for my family. Mr. Foote came and wanted to take them from me, things that I got for myself in Michigan. People that try to get along here, he will not give anything at all, and some of them that have cleared off half of their land he is trying to starve out, so as to get the land back. This same Mr. C. C. Foote, said here two or three Sabbaths ago, if any of the people did not like his teachers and would not send their children to the school, he would take their land from them.

One word more and I have done, I want you to correct that circulation in your paper. We people on this land unimproved in the bush with no means to help ourselves, suffer very much for the necessaries of life, we are all very poor. There are some two or two families here; all the teams that we can muster are four pieces of teams.

Some of the children here have been barefooted and naked. I add no more but remain yours, for God and humanity.

DENNIS WASHINGTON.

It will be seen that Dennis Washington corroborates our former statements. We knew that he was out begging for the Home, but never knew neither did we say, whether or not the Home society employed and paid him. What a degrading institution is the Home! A nursery of poverty and degradation, a theatre for the display of petty tyranny by C. C. Foote, and the existences of which enables him to draw thousands of dollars in goods and clothes from the public, pretendingly for them when these same goods are sold or given or taken away, at the whim of this C. C. Foote as his own to dispose of—a temptation is thus held up to hungry and naked settlers—made so by the conditions and circumstances of settlement, to be drawn or taken from them at pleasure There are letters from the most impoverished settlement of colored men in these provinces; and here is a man [C.C. Foote] large enough, to believe his representations, to absorb in his person the entire donations for the "Refugees in Canada," and to judge from his Sabbath-day doings the fugitives too. What does he do with his funds? To some he gives clothes and to some he does not, says D. Washington, the man hired by him to show lots to settlers, although settlers should pay him. What has the American Missionary society to do with his operations? they a Missionary, the Rev.—Hotchkiss there, who is as silent as a mouse in cheese about these flagrant wrongs? Is he, too, hired by C. C. Foote? else why not speak out? Mr. Hotchkiss, in conversation with us when at the Home, disapproved, he said of Mrs. Haviland's course, and of the begging for the fugitives in Canada. Why does he not speak out? It cannot be possible that there is collusion between his society and the Refugees Home society! At the head of the American Missionary association, is an army of names known to the world as friends of the fugitive, how is it that they are silent upon this great wrong here in Canada when their sympathy reaches, as it should do, to Central Africa? If they are ignorant why does not Mr. Hotchkiss inform them? If informed, why remain silent? We, have been to the Home, we walked over the lands when C. C. Foote was drawing tears from the eyes, and dollars from the pockets of New England philanthropists, because of these "poor sufferers," when there was not one family settled upon it. Something must be done! And in the right direction and that speedily. Meanwhile, we shall agitate to remove the nuisance!—M. A. S. C.

The following extracts from the proceedings of the Town Council of the 6th, is another evidence of the statement through the Freeman some time ago, [respecting destitute persons.] That our council was as ready and willing to supply to the wants of those, who are really in need as other Councils, and at the same time shows that the demands are uncalled for of applicants for "clothes" and shoes to parties in the States.—I. Deservedly Popular.—We do our friends a real service in calling attention to a medicine of such acknowledged merit as Wistar's Balsam. We are all liable to coughs and coulds, which cease to be dangerous when recourse is had to the Wild Cherry.

Correspondence.

To the Publisher of the Provincial Freeman.

Mr. Editor:—Having been a subscriber to your paper for more than a year, I have watched with intense interest its various departments, and more particularly the editorial, and am happy to say, that the able manner in which it has, and is being conducted, exhibiting much talent and taste, really does great honor to its managers, and as an express messenger to invite our friends from American oppression to Canada, and as a sectional and political expositor, your paper cannot be surpassed; but Sir, I beg leave to differ with you in your policy in some things, which to you may appear a matter of indifference, but to me appears to be of the greatest importance. We are invited to this country with the view of bettering our condition both temporally and politically, a majority of us look at the idea of a political equality with such intense anxiety, that we too frequently forget the temporal inconvenience that we may be subject to in coming North in search of hospitality, and without much debberation we gather up our little all and with the rapidity of the wind, we hasten to be in the immediate enjoyment of our imaginary happiness.

But Sir, after we get here, watch us if you please becoming initiated into the manners and customs of a Northern people; the many disabilities, the many unexpected losses of what little money we may have. View the many departments who readily recognize us as strangers, and with open mouths are eager to devour us; all benevolent emporiums are closed and we are left entirely on self-dependence. I beg you to accompany the many hundreds of us in this hopeless condition through the winter season, contending with political prejudice in the background and abjacent poverty at our door, and ask yourself if it is just and fair to make a public exposition of our imperfections, giving to our enemies an advantage of us, presenting a pretended cause of complaint of dishonesty, when the real cause is only known to the sufferer. Now does it appear a philosophical course to persue with the illiterate mind, to stimulate them to a lively sense of the political obligation, when in full view of their great temporal disabilities; to accuse them of wilful disposition to rob the paper of its support, or being actuated through fear of the whites, as the only stimulous to acts of honesty. Now I think this rather an unfair representation, for I think the people are too well satisfied with the hundreds of advertisements of Grocery and Store goods of the latest style and fashion presented weekly for their perusal, without spending their hard earned money they are compelled to buy bread with, to grasp at every fashion as is represented, for the truth of which, we need look no further, than the many old and torn clothes we are compelled to mingle in society with.

Yours for the rapid prosperity of our people.

STEPHEN SHORTS.

Friend Shorts waxes wroth at us; why is this? he does not owe us anything, and no one not indebted to us and not presented with a bill need to get miffed. We thought every sensible man would understand us We have sent bills by post to the amount of over an hundred pounds, but except in two cases [since our last] have not received any funds in answer thereto. Mr. Short makes a "poor mouth," we are sorry for that, as we do not believe he means it; he is industrious and self-supporting, and he knows it, and so does this community; now what is he driving at? Not be it mainly whining after the flesh pots of Egypt, as did men several hundreds of years ago, and when men had less sense and less money than now, and a good deal less than friend Shorts. What ails him? Not trying to prevent colored men of energy from coming to Canada, when white men are using "might and main" to get their poor thriftless and oppressed brethren here! Lazy men will come, colored and white, and do come; but we want more enterprising men to come also, and we hardly thank friend Shorts for trying to frighten them away, by pretending that Canada is a poor country to live in? Chatham is not all of Canada, friend Shorts, and many men in the U. States—the Eden of some free colored men—succeed better in some towns or in some sections of the country than others. Is it not time that respectable colored men in North America should learn of colored men in other parts of the world, if they think proper to disregard the every-day example of white men,—to love and seek freedom and political rights first, and give bread and meat, and the good things of this life, they used to get in the United States so easily, to believe them, the second place. Men born in slavery, who have fled hither, and who in spite of hard usage are possessed of good sense, show less of that hankering spirit than many colored men we know of, who were always free and lived in free States. Fudge! The Freeman has a good many advertisements, but not nearly the quantity in proportion to circulating matter that many papers have, and about which nothing is ever said, although taken by our people; but they are published by white persons and that sometimes makes a difference. What departments "recognize colored men as strangers" and what benevolent emporiums are closed against them.—M. A. S. C.

To the Editors of the Provincial Freeman:

Dear Sirs:—I know myself to be a sincere admirer of the Provincial Freeman, and its utility amongst our brethren as an organ of communication, and I desire to promote its usefulness and long life in Canada and elsewhere, as far as it lies in my power, and shall take an interest in so doing, while you continue your labors of benevolence and fidelity. I am a constant reader, though I say nothing as yet through the press, but I delight to hear others that are more competent as touching our natural rights, and the glory of God.

I remain Dear Sirs, yours obd't &c.,
DANIEL A. TURNER.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Letter from Mr. Davidson,—The Temperance Lecturer, and (Converted Infidel).

Chatham, March 6th 1857.

Mr. Editor:—I have no acquaintance with you, but I like liberty, and I like the name of your Journal, The Freeman; Good name that. "He is the Freeman whom the Truth makes free, and all are slaves beside." When I was a boy that was the motto of a good loyal paper published in one of the Towns, by a loyal son of the Emerald Isle named Bull

I am a free man myself at last, after a slavery of thirty-three years, in the galling chain and hearts, and appetites of the natural man.

Our common Father and Mother, Adam and Eve little dreamed that we would at this time as one of their great family, be talking as we do of Freedom and of slavery. Adams fall caused all sin, and hum n slavery so detestable to the founder of the Church of which I am a member that he strictly forbids the traffic in the Book of discipline, a Book that as well as the Bible is too often trampled under foot; I fear, by men and women in the Wesleyan Body who have never yet been born again of God's spirit and freed from the consequences of the fall. Slavery of the body is abominable and makes my blood fairly boil against when I think of it, I hate tyrany in all forms; despotism in all its diabolical phases; and God knows the whole world is full of despots, and tyrants. For sixteen years I was a great slave to alchohol, and all its concomitants, also a slave to tobacco, and a slave to all the lusts of the natural man; sometimes I was cast into the ditch, sometimes into the prison, sometimes into into the fire and sometimes into the water! I was indeed a slave! but now praise God! I am free, and the son of God made me free! and you know whom the son makes free is indeed free! Are you free in that sense Mr. Editor? are your readers free? Let me recommend the Physician Jesus Christ that cured me of all my sores, wants, sorrows and sighs at the touch! he said to me, "be ye clean!" and immediately as by magic, the inbred leprosy of my fallen depraved, debauched, degraded nature was healed! praise God! this is indeed liberty! Oh, that all men and women enjoyed it. There would be no slave-holders! How could a freeman made free by Jehovah ever hold a brother in chains in slavery! but how often we hear of such men. Where is the Wesleyan that dares to to have part or lot with slavery? Spot him, Mr. Editor wherever you see him, no matter what position or place he fills. It is contrary to the rules of the founder, and contrary to the rules of a greater than was Wesley! Let the captives go free! What fellowship is there between Christ and Legree! the idea of Wesleyans in any way giving sanction to slavery would make me soon infidel again; but the holy spirit will not let me fall. I have to stand and I delight in standing up for honesty and truth, and am death on all hypocrisy and humbug. God bless the Freeman, and all Freeman. Real freemen in Christ Jesus, are the hardest things to find in this Canada!.

JAMES ALEXR. DAVIDSON.

Twenty-two years a Slave and forty years a Free Man, is the title of an interesting narrative by Austin Steward, of Rochester, N. Y., a colored man of intelligence and reliability. Mr. Steward, resided at one time in these Provinces—was president of the Wilberforce settlement, and his account of that place is fully corroborated by men now living here, that our readers may get an idea of the simple, unpretending, intelligible and truthful style of the work, we have thought best to give the two following extracts. The book should circulate in both countries.

Slaves are never allowed to leave the plantation to which they belong, without a written pass. Should any one venture to disobey this law, he will most likely be caught by the patrol and given thirty-nine lashes. This patrol is always on duty every Sunday, going to each plantation under their supervision, entering every slave cabin, and examining closely the conduct of the slaves; and if they find one slave from another plantation without a pass, he is immediately punished with a severe flogging.

I recollect going one Sunday with my mother, to visit my grand-mother; and while there, two or three of the patrol came and looked into the cabin, and seeing my mother demanded her pass. She told them that she had one, but left it in another cabin, from whence she soon brought it, which saved her a whipping but we were terribly frightened.

* * * *

The knowledge I have of the colored men in Canada, their strength and condition, would cause me to tremble for these United States, should a war ever ensue between the English and American governments, which I pray may nevr occur. These fugitives may be thought to be a class of poor, thriftless, illiterate creatrs, like the Southern slaves, but it is not so. They are no longer slaves; many of whom have been many years free men, and a large number were neve slaves. They are a hardy, robust class of men; very many of them, men of superior intellect; and men who feel deeply the wrongs they have endured. Driven as they have been from their native land; unprotected by the government under which they were born, and would in all probability in case of a rupture, take up arms in defence of the government which has protected them and the country of their adoption. England could this day, very readily collect a regiment of stalwart coloured men, who, having felt the oppression of laws, would fight with a will not inferior to that wich actuated our revolutionary forefathers.

And what inducement, I ask, have colored men to defend with their lives the United States in any case; and what is there to incite them to deeds of bravery?

Wherever men are called upon to take up arms in defence of a country, there is always a conciousness of approaching wrong and oppression, which arouses their patriotism and incites to deeds of daring. They look abroad over fields of their own cultivation; they behold too, churches, schools, and various institutions, provided by their labor, for generations yet to come; they see their homes, their cherished hearthstones, about to be desecrated, and their wives and little ones, with their aged sires, exposed to the oppression of a ruthless foe—Then, with what cheerful and thrilling enthusiasm, steps forward the husband, the father, the brother, and bares his bosom to the sword, —his head to the storm of the battle field, in defence of his country's freedom, and the God-given rights of himself and family! But what sees the oppressed negro? He sees a proud and haughty nation, whose Congressmen yearly meet to plot his ruin, and perpetuate his bondage! He beholds, it is true, a few Christ-like champions, who rise up with bleeding hearts to defend his cause; but while his eye kindles with grateful emotion, he sees the bludgeon of the South—already reeking in the blood of freemen—raised and ready to fall with murderous intentent upon the head of any one, who, like the illustrious Sumner, dare open his mouth in defence of Freedom, or speak of the wrongs of the poor negro, and the sins of the Southern autocrat!

Railway Accident.

90 LIVES LOST!

We are just informed that an accident of a most melancholy nature occurred on the Great Western Railway, by the falling of the Canal Bridge near Hamilton, while the train from Toronto was about passing over it.

It appears that the train from Toronto, consisting of two passenger cars, baggage car, engine and tender, arrived at the point where the accident occurred, and, 'tis surmised by some parties that the bridge which was of iron, gave way—or that the cars ran off the track at that point, and came into collission with the side of the bridge, thereby breaking it in such a manner as to admit of the train going down into the water.

The cars are said to have been nearly buried from sight, with the exception of the rear passenger car, which remained with one end resting on the abutment of the Bridge.

The train is said by the Conductor to have had about 100 passengers on board at the time of the accident; of this number but ten have been heard from, and of these seven are badly wounded. The other ninety have been either killed or drowned.

Up to the time our informant left 77 dead bodies had been recovered. It is said that Samuel Zimmerman, Esq., who was returning from Toronto after having concluded some important business in reference to the Southern Railway, is among those killed—but his body is not yet recovered.

The accident occurred last evening at about 15 minutes before 6 o'clock.

The height down which the train was precipated is about seventy feet; and it is said that the engine, tender, baggage car, and one passenger car, went through the ice into the water, and were completely lost to sight.—Planet Extra.

The Beecher Family.—Lyman Beecher D. D. (now 83 years old), is the father of eleven children, ten of whom are living, and one is not. Taking them in order of their ages, the family consists of the following persons; Miss Catherine E Beecher, of Hartford, Conn.; Rev. Wm. Henry Beecher, Reading, Mass.; Rev. Edward Beecher, Galesburgh, Ill.; Mrs. Mary F. Perkins, of Hartford (now with Mrs. Stowe in Europe) Rev. Geo Beecher, late of Chillicothe Ohio who died in 1844, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe [now in Paris, France]; Rev. H. W. Beecher; Rev. Charles Beecher, of Andover; Mrs. Isabella H. Hooker, of Hartford; Rev. Thomas. K. Beecher of Elmira, N. Y.; and Rev. James C. Beecher, Seaman's Chaplain at Canton, China. Certainly this is an extraordinary family. Where can another be found to equal it—such a family of Levites—the father a minister; six sons now in the ministry; and one in heaven, who has been a minister? And in what other family shall we find such an orator and writer as Henry Ward, and such an authoress an Mrs. Stowe?—Northern Independent.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

Has established for itself a reputation that cannot be assailed. Dr. Wm. A. Shaw, of Washihington, N. I have used the Wild Chery a great deal in practice, and with marked good results Every one knows the reputation of the Turpentine and Balsam constituents in protracted coughs. The combination of these principles in WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, is ingenious and judicious.

COMBINATION CO'S COLUMN.

ALL THE GOODS
OF THE
Farmers' and Mechanics'
Combination Store!
Have Now Arrived!

THIS STORE was opened on the 15th of October, when, and until NOW, not ONE HALF the Goods had arrived, and it has been perfectly CROWDED ever since. The sales have averaged about $200 PER DAY!

REMEMBER,

The CAUSE of this GREAT RUSH is,—The old fogy system of doing business is reversed!

THE COMBINATION
CONSISTING OF
Forty-Five Farmers and Mechanics.

All large buyers themselves, have established this Store in order to

in buying their own necessaries,—instead of establishing it to MAKE MONEY,—herein consists the difference between this and the other Stores.

In order to make the Farmers & Mechanics Store self-supporting, the Small Advance of

Fifteen Per Cent,

is charged on Cost, and the whole public placed on an equal footing with Members of the Combination, so that the RULE IS

One Price to ALL!

Whether Members of the Combination or not. The Combination are determined to make their Store as POPULAR AS POSSIBLE, so that as fast as its deficiences are ascertained, they will be supplied

☞ The Large Yard and Comfortable Shed in the rear of the Store, is found to be a great convenience by the Customers.

National predilections are gratified here also, an Englishman will find a Countryman to deal with, so will a Scotchman, an Irishman, a Dutchman, a Canadian or a Frenchman.

ALL are HERE REPRESENTED
AND
ALL WILL BE WELCOME!

To enumerate items would swell this Advertisement to several columns; it must therefore suffice to say that the Assortments of the following different kinds of Goods to be found in the FARMERS & MECHANICS STORE, are very complete, viz:

STAPLE & FANCY
DRY-GOODS!
CLOTHING,
Boots and Shoes,—Hats and Caps,
Trunks, Valises, &c.,
Stationery and School-Books
Oil Painted & Paper Window-Shades & Self-Adjusting Rollers, Wall Paper,
Wooden & Willow-ware, Cordage,
GLASS & STONEWARE,
CROCKERY, WINDOWGLASS, (all sizes,
Champagnes,

Warranted Genuine!
PICKLES & SAUCES,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits,
NUTS, &c.,
Groceries and Provisions, Oils, Varnishes, Turpentine & Paints, Dye Woods, Dye Stuffs, &c., &c., &c.

☞ Bear in Mind, kind Reader, only FIFTEEN PER CENT is charged on the cost of any Article in all the above numerous classes of Goods, UNIFORMLY, therefore, if you happen to find some particular Article as Cheap in some other Store, you must not imagine that every thing is so, because about FIFTY PER CENT is the CUSTOMARY ADVANCE

It is claimed for the Farmers & Mechanics Store, that its Customers SAVE, all round,

Fully 30 Per Cent,

and HUNDREDS who have bought Goods there will willingly certify to the JUSTICE of the CLAIM.

ATTENTION is directed to the following Resolution of the Combination, passed at a Meeting of its Members, held on Saturday, the first instant:

"RESOLVED, That it is not at all times convenient for many of the Members of this Combination to pay down for their necessaries; and in order to meet the case of such parties, it is the wish of a majority of this meeting that the Manager do open accounts with Members requiring the same, as also with ALL responsible Persons: upon such Members or other Persons consenting to pay 5 per cent on the amount of their Account, to cover expense of keeping such Account. All such Accounts to be due and rendered on the First of January, First of April, First of July and First of October; on which days, to be closed and interest charged till paid."

☞ All kinds of Farm Produce will always be BOUGHT, and FOUND FOR SALE at the "FARMERS & MECHANICS STORE"

☞ THOSE who have NOT YET visited the Farmers and Mechanics Store, are positively requested to do so; those who have, know how well where their true interest lies, not to repeat and continue their visits

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.
Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856 the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies' books I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS; or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and I for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—NEW YORK.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia.—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Beekman streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street. New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

"This is a book which NO BAPTIST in Canada, —lay or clerical—should be without. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. [illegible]AY,

A 'TRUE' ACCOUNT OF OUR OPERATIONS IN ASIA.

The British operations now in progress at diff'ent points of the Asiatic continent appear to be radicaly misunderstood in certain quarters. It is asserted that the Persian expedition is a buccaneering attack upon the independence of a feeble state; and that the bombardment of Canton was unprovked and agressive. Now, we have declaredwar against the Shah of Persia, in pursuance of a distinct treaty which binds us to prevent the wresting of Herat from the independent government of the Affghans. We have gone through all the usual processes of diplomacy at unusual length; and, while we have negociated, the Persians have breaching the walls of the town placed by solemn convention under our guarantee. What is it that the advocates of peace, under all circumstances, desire to establish as a precedent of Eastern policy? That Persia, if she so willed, should seize Herat, and that Dost Mohammed, when he claimed the fulfilment of our contract, should be presented with the Pipe of Peace? That, from Herat, she should advance, assisted by Russia, to the heights that overlook India? That we should neveresist demand, or enforce a claim? This, it will be perceived, is the line taken by those publicists and speakers who declaim against the Persian war. Their arguments are deprived of all weight by the fact, patent to every reader, that they never accept an English reason for an English act, and never find cause for blame in the conduct of a foreign power opposed to England. Let us hear, to-morrow- from any part of the world, that English guns or cutlasses have been brought into action, under whatever circumstances, and we are certain to hear "violence," precipitation," wanton outrage," imputed to our authorities. In China the case in favour of the English is not less clear than in Persia. It may answer a particular purpose to quibble over the registration papers of the lorcha; but the truth is that the conduct of the Chinese officials had become unendurable, and that they seized the crew on board that vessel in defiance of the English flag, of the master's protest, and of the treaty. If Chinese sailors on board a Hong Kong vessel are to be subject to the brutalities of the native police, Singapore vessels can no longer claim protection. Are the assailants of our policy aware that Chinese vessels from Singapore bear certificates, but that, whether provided with certificates or not, the British Government protects them? They may by an act of neglect, forfeit their individual claims, but the British Government [illegible] its maritime [illegible]t is a process [illegible]inese Empire [illegible]hinese in the [illegible]Borneo, Sing- [illegible]t is no reason protect a Chi [illegible]ornia, or why [illegible]t Hong-Kong [illegible] the mercies of [illegible]er, it is not a [illegible]etter Chinese [illegible]nitted offences [illegible]ainst imperial [illegible] local governments would have [illegible]gation. The taking the money in the first instance might have been overlooked, especially considering the good service which Mr. Graves has rendered during his residence in Canada in editorial defences of Southern institutions. But the idea of paying up is perfectly abhorrent th Mississippi ideas and Missisppi practice. It is evident that during his residence in Canada Mr- Graves has become. in some respects at least, a traitor—repudiation bei g a domestic institution of Mississippi even more peculiar than slaveholding.—Tribune.

MORE CLERICAL INFIDELITY.—Professor W. T. Brantley, an eminent Southern Baptist, publishes an article to show that his denomination is gaining much more rapidly, in the slave States than in the free. He infers from this that salvery is consistent with the purest form of Christsanity, and cannot therefore be sinful. This the way that the moral sentiment of the world is occasionally outraged and by those who disgace the sacred office of the Christian Ministry. What wonder that infidelity should increas and the most fearful immorality should stalk abroad in open day, when the pretended ambassadors of our holy religion are propagating the views indicated above. Who that has a soul worth saving would not turn away in disgust from a religion that could by any course of reasoning be brought to acknowledge American slavery as "consistent with its purest forms!" In the great day of accounts," when the hidden purposes of all hearts shall be made known. and the outraged slave with his chains stricken from his redeemed limbs, shall stand before the "great white throne" side by side with his oppressor and this "eminent Southern Professor," the wickedness and blasphemy of such men will meet their reward—not before. In that "final day of reckoning," who would not take the chances of such men as Theodore Parker in preferenee to those of this "eminent Southern Baptist?"—Claremont [N. H.] Advocate, Feb, 24.

AGE OF ANIMALS.—A bear rarely exceeds 20 years; a dog lives 20 years; a wolf 20; a fox 14 or 16; lions are long lived—Pompey lived to the age of 70. The average of cats is 14 years; a squirrel and hare 7 or 8 years; rabbits 7- Elephants have been known to live to the great age of 400 years. When Alexander the Great had conquread one Porus, King of India, he took a great elephant which had fought very valiantly for the king, named him Ajax, and dedicated him to the sun, and let him go with this inscription—Alexander, the son of Jupiter had dedicated Aajx to the Sun." This elephant was found 354 years after. Pigs have been known to live to the age of 30; years; the rhinoceros to 20. A horse has been known to live to the age of 62, but averages 25 to 30. Camels sometimes live to the age of 100. Stags are long lived Sheep seldom exceed the age of 10. Cows live about 15 years, Cuvier considers it probable that whales sometimes live to the age of 1,000. The dolphin and porpoise attain the age of 30. An eagle died at Vienna at the age of 104 years. Ravens have frequently reached the age of 100. Swans have been known to live 360 years. Mr. Mallerton has the skeleton of a swan that attained the age of 290 years. Pelicans are long lived. A tortoise has been known to live to the age of 107

A CHANNEL THROUGH ST. CLAIR FLATS.—Gen. Cass writes to the editor of the Detroit Free Press, that an arrangement is about to be made which will ensure the opening of a channel over the St. Clair Flats in the course of the coming season. A proposititon is been made to the War Department to excavate a channel 250 feet broad, and 13 feet deep, upon conditions which have been approved by Secre-tary Davis, upon the recommendation of the Senators and Representatives from the States interested.

We learn that our esteemed friend, Hiram Hutchins, closed his labors with the High-street church, Charlestown, on the 22dult., and would enter upon the pastoral charge of the Baptist church in Roxbury, on the 18th inst. His post-office address will remain for the present as before, namely, Charlestown Mass.

The London (C. W.) Free Press says that a young man named George Welsh, living in the 6th concession of Caradoc, near Ferguson's tavern, went into his backyard on the evening of the 11th for the purpose of drawing water for his cattle, and not returning at the usual time, his wife became alarmed, knowing that the well was without a curb and surrounded by ice, She went to the well, and, horrible to relate, discovered him feet upward at the bottom. She immediately alarmed the neighborhood, and he was drawn out, but all efforts at resuscitation were useless.

TERRIBLE FAMINE IN NORWAY.—Owing to a failure of crops, the inhabitants of the North Cape of Norway, are in a state of starvation. It is painful to think while we sit at our abundant tables, that so many people are racked with hunger. Hundreds, it is said, are racked daily, and the living are compelled to subsist as they best can, on the bark of trees, ground and cooked with oats. In order to alleviate these sufferings. charitable Committees have been organized on the opposite coasts of Bothnia, to collect contributions in kind, such as corn, flour, vegetables and spirits, which will be conveyed to them across the ice in sledges. As an addition to the suffering of these poor creatures, the cold is of a severity rarely experienced even in these ice-bound countries. Bayard Taylor will probably haveahard time of it, in his Lapland tour.

THE NEW ADMINISTRATION.—Messrs. Buchanan and Breckenbridge, the President and Vice-President elect, met in Philadelphia on Tuesday, and on Monday next will proceed to Washington in company with Senator Bigler. According to the latest advices, the Cabinet is likely to be composed as follows:

Secretary of State—Lewis Cass, of Mich.
Secretary of the Treasury—H Cobb, of Geo.
Secretary of War—J. B. Floyd, of Va.
Secretary of the Navy—A. V. Brown, Ten.
Sec. of the Interior—J. Thompson of Miss.
Postmaster-Gen,—W C Alexander of N. J.
Attorney-General—I. Toucey, of Conn.—Anti-Slavery Standard.

DEATH OF DR KANE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 23.

The steemer Cahawba, from Havana the 20th, has arrived. She brings the remains of Dr. Kane, the late celebrated Arctic explorer. The body will lie in state at the City Hall. It will be taken by a large number of citizens to a steamboat for Louisville, en route for Philadelphia. The highest honours were paid to the virtues and memory of the deceased, by the highest officials of Cuba

CHINA.

Dates from Hong Kong are to Dec. 30th. The foreign buildings at Canton had been burnt and pillaged. Admiral Seymour had been throwing hot shot into Canton, but at the latest dates had closed hostilities, and was strengthening his position. The Chinese threatened to burn down Hong Kong. Troops were about to be sent from India.

PERSIA.

The British camp at Bushire is fortified and safe against attack. Dates from Bushire are to Dec. 30th. It is said that the Persians were contemplating an attack on the British troops encamped near the city. General Outrais and staff sailed from Bombay on 16th of January.—The Government was preparing for the immediate despatch of reinforcements to form a second division for service in Persia

NICARAGUA.—Walker's situation is a matter of doubt, amid the conflicting accounts. Several battles, have recently taken place, but, as we judge from the opposing statements. without decisive issues. The filubusters claim a triumph in one of them, but as they retired after the conflict, with several of their officers mortally wounded, they probably had not much to boast of. At last advices, the Nicaraguans had drawn of from, and were in the vicinity of granada, awaiting the arrival of ammunition from Greytown.

The last accounts from Gen. Walker are to Feb. 2nd. He was then at San Juan del Sur with 300 men. He had established his head-quarters at Rivas, and was concentrating all his forces there, amounting to 800 men. The result of the conflict seems very uncertain

PUMPKIN PIES WITHOUT EGGS.—Prepare the pumpkin in the same manner you would when you use eggs; take a tablespoonful of flour to a pie—mix it with milk—stir in the prepared pumpkin, and when baked you will not be able to tell any difference in the pies made with eggs and those made with flour.

TO SWEETEN RANCID BUTTER.—An agriculturist, near Brussels' in Europe, having succeeded in removing the bad smell and disagreeable taste of some butter by beating or mixing it with chloride of lime, he was engcouraged by this happy result to continue his experiments by trying them upon butter so rancid as to be past use; and he has restored to butter, the odor and taste of which was insupportable to all, the sweetness of fresh butter. This operation is extremely simple and practicable for all. It consists in beating the butter in a sufficient quantity of water, into which had been mixed 25 or 30 drops of chloride of lime to two pounds of butter. After having brought all parts in contact with the water, it may be left for an hour or two; afterwards withdrawn and washed anew in fresh water. The chloride of lime used, having nothing injurious in it, can safely be increased; but after having verified the experiment, it was found that 25 or 30 drops to two and a half pound of butter were sufficient

Colored Convention in Iowa.

We have received the proceedings of a Convention of colored men, held in Muscatine Jan. 5th, 1857; and regret that the want of space prevents us from giving the Proceedings in full.

Mr. Bowser of Henry county was chosen President; Benjamin Matthews of Muscatine, Vice-President; Wm. Boner of Linn, and Charles Jackson of Muscatine, Secretaries. A. Clark, R.H. Cain, J.T. L. Honer, Committee on Declaration of Sentiment reports as follows:

WHEREAS, We, the colored people of the State of Iowa, in convention assembled, feel ourselves deeply agrieved by reason of cruel perjudice we are compelled to suffer, in this our native land, which is as dear to us as the white man, knowing full well that the blood of our forefathers, in common with that of the white man, was poured out in the open battle-field, in defence of the liberties we now are deprived of, we are compelled to make the following appeal and address:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights: that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness: to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just power from the consent of the governed."

Now, if this be a fact, we hope no one will or can deny that, as we are men, we do, and ought of a right, claim the rights of men; and we do claim to be men—and appeal to you, in the name of God and an oppressed, down-trodden, distranchised people, for those rights we are deprived of—holding up in characters of living flames, that immortal instrument, the Declaration of Independence, to your sight, which should teach all men that God is just, and will suffer no inequality among his people without just retribution. We ask, in the name of God, how long shall our cries be scanned by an intelligent and civalized people? Behold the blight of the nineteenth century! Civilized Christianity chastising suffering humanity—robbing, disfranchising the colored people of their inalienable rights to liberty and its security! Oh! will you stop and pause for a moment! Remembering that God rules the destiny of men and of nations, we leave our appeal to your consideration trusting in God for the justice of our cause.

Three other Committees were appointed, composed of the following gentlemen:—On form of Petition,—A. Clark, R. H. Cain and J. P. Prichard.

On Education—T. C. Mott, R. H. Cain and Noah Tutt.

Select Committees also made reports upon the subject of Colonization and Emigration. The report on emigration reads as follows:

We, the committee to whom was referred the subject of emigration, beg leave to say that we deem it unnecessary to enter into an elaborate detail on the subject; but we think proper to say that we would recommend to our people that their interests and elevation had better be sought in this our native land, and especially while our enemies are conniving at every scheme to remove us from the soil of our nativity, it behooves us to stand fast and let our cry and our watchword be, by the help of God, we are here and we intend to live and die here, ever trusting in God for the advancement of our cause; believing the patriotism and progress of the American people sufficient to recognize our rights in common with the rest of mankind.

To the report upon Emigration we would specially call the attention of our readers, and we do it because we object to some of their conclusions.

We have never, and our friends will do us the justice to say so, broached the subject of Emigration while lecturing in the States, but carefully refrained from any discussion on the subject. On the other hand, we have always denounced in unmeasured terms, the infernal schemes concocted by the American Colonization Society, to force the free colored people from their native home to a common grave in Africa.

We thought it to be our duty to demand in the name of a constitution, that we believe to be capable of an Anti-slavery construction, every right that is guaranteed to the poorest and meanest white man in the land. In this we were sincere, because we believe while colored men consent to remain in the United States, its their duty to battle unceasingly for their rights.

But when it comes to the question, where can their interests individually and collectively be best promoted? we answer unhesitatingly CANADA, CANADA, and no splendid declamation or Pompousrhetoric about the land of our nativity, or the patriotism and progress of the American people, can change this conviction in us, so long as one slave remains upon the soil to lift his fettered hands to God.

We deny that "our enemies are conniving at every scheme to remove us from the soil of our nativity" The Committee knows as well as we do, that Pro-slavery men in the United States never urge the propriety of the free colored people emigrating to Canada, on the contrary they use every argument against it. The oppressors of our race in the United States are sagacious, they know that in union there is strength.

Their dreams of future conquest and plunder are disturbed by vissions of black regiments upon the Canadian frontier, with the red cross of St. George at their back.

In emigrating to Canada we can possibly make our condition worse, but we have every chance of making it better, to argue otherwise would be fool-hardy in any man or set of men. But would we as freemen wish to leave our brethren in bonds? We answer no.

The same reasons that induced us to leave slave-holding Virginia, where many of our own relations are in slavery, has induced us to exchange the free atmosphere of one of the so-called free states, for that sure and perfect freedom secured to every man by the genius of the British constitution.

The example of success of Lloyes, Doctors, Merchants and Mechanics among the colored people of Canada, must necessarily effect the institution of slavery, especially as the materials used were formerly its victims.

These are moral weapons and at the same time effectual ones in over-throwing slavery.

Archimedes said that if he had a place whereon to stand, he would turn the world upside down. Colored men in the States need a spot whereon to stand, so that they can get a lever under slavery. We have that spot here in Canada, where all may labor unitedly too for the extinction of American slavery, and if there is not power enough in our fulcrum to raise that bloody system to its very foundation, we will get old England to lean upon it, and slavery will be at an end.—H. F. D.

AN INQUIRY.

Why do we see, the proceedings of the convention held by the colored people of Iowa, noticed at length, in the Fred. Douglass Paper? while the efforts put-forth, by colored men, in the state of Illinois last winter, to repeal her odious Black Laws, have been wholy over-looked, by the conductors of that journal. Has this modern Argus lost his Eyes?—H.F.D.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—The infant and only son, of William Graffort of Dresden, C. W. was scalded to death, by fallen into a tub of boiling hot water, on Saturday 14th inst.

THE Friends of C. W. Ellis, and their name's are legion, will be glad to learn, that he has fitted up, a hotel for the accomodation of the travelling public. We hope that our young and enterprizing friend Ellis, will receive, as he merits, a liberal share of public patronage. His card will be found on our first page.—H F.D.

A paper from friend Levi Foster, would have been inserted long ago but that it was written in such pale ink that it must be re written by us before the printers will touch it. Too bad for Foster!

☞ Mrs. Lucretia Mott, will please accept our thanks, for her donation, to the Freeman of £1. 5. 0 which we have just received per Mr. Wm Still.—Eds. Freeman

FROM X. Y. Z.

More than a twelve month ago, I made my obedience to you and your readers, for which I was severely handled by the citizens of Chatham. I received from yourselves at the same time, not the most gracious [illegible] my long silence. What I have to say now shall be brief, and on that account, and because you must see the folly of our colored people tolerating ignorance, yes, taking it as a sweet morsel, I have less to fear in this letter than for my last one, which you would [illegible] men and are able to talk out their subjects and explain the scriptures, in the true way, they must make up their minds to be [illegible] a great many hundreds here, and some good people, but not enough to keep intercourse [illegible] the people scattered [illegible] tion here, that when they got to Heaven, the angel Jupiter would put golden slippers [illegible] absent the young people. On Monday night, a learned coping from the states, drew the people from the good Lecture on Macauly, by Rev. M. Mc. MR. ANDREW SMITH, Chairman.
G. W BRODIE, Cor. Sec'y.

To the Publisher of the Provincial Freeman.

MR EDITOR, SIR:—Being a subject of the Queen in Canada, and having for a long time noticed the doings in our public institutions of learning, as well as the classes of people admitted into the same, I have been not a little surprised and hurt upon ascertaining that according to their numbers there are so few young colored men and women partaking of the benefits these institutions afford to all classes.

For the simple reason that I wish to have an investigation of the state of affairs, as well as for the purpose of attempting to prompt these youth to a sense of the duty they owe to their country, as men and women of the present day and also to their prosperity. I beg to lay my humble portion before the scrutinizing eye of the public; and having "cast my bread upon the waters" I hope it may "come forth after many days."

Do not suppose for a moment Mr. Editor, that I wish to raise up a set of colored lawyers or doctors especially, like so many mushrooms without any firm ground to stand upon, or that I wish the young men to leave the plough entirely, or the women to turn "blue stockings" for the sake of lighter employments; with regard to physical labor, far from it; I would have no one sneer at the honest laborer, the tiller of the soil, for the farmers are those who have a foundation to work upon, and can live independently of others; but will education unfit him for his employment? on the contrary the better informed a man is the better he is fitted for any employment.

But sir, I am sorely afraid that the colored farmers of this country as well as tradesmen, are falling into the great error of counting the value of education in pounds or shillings, or what is still more like the Yankee, in dollars and cents.

Now this should not be the case by any means among any people, for what is the physical compared with the spiritual? What is the earthly gain which is to moulder and crumble away to the mind, which is to go on living while endless ages last?

You colored men of Canada, remember that every moment spent in [illegible] portion of your time seeking after mammon, but when over-[illegible], but when the pockets are filled without the companionship of a well filled head, that you will be just regarded in the same light, that the Jews were in Europe some centuries past, and if by chance you are dispossessed of this wealth, ye [illegible] pretended to respect [illegible] it was only his country regarded, will utterly despise you as they should. Where will you then look to for sympathy? not to men of superior minds, for they never could have respected you one way or the other: Oh! the case look horrible, but I fear it is too near the true one.

Look to it young men and women of Britain, and do not let the days of your youth pass away like snow under an April sun, while you are wooing for riches, or loung[illegible] [illegible] [illegible], except a few points of this [illegible] [illegible] I say [illegible] [illegible] as a [illegible] for the [illegible] rising generation.

Do not I beseech you, allow your children or little pet dogs to grow up around you, with minds [illegible] to [illegible] unassuaged, and tongues asking questions you are unable to answer from want of proper information.

Think of these things and let the blight [illegible]

Be up and doing while life lasts, let each [illegible] work with what becoming people living under the red cross of St. George, and where there are institutions of all classes, open to all classes, and supported by all classes.

But if as the case may be, there are some who are so situated, that they cannot go immediately to such institutions, do not be idle on any account; let every spare hour be spent in company with some solid book, and with the intention of never laying it up, and putting it down without gaining something no matter how small. Let not your evenings, young men, be thrown away playing at no sensical games so foolish as they are wicked, or [illegible] [illegible] with your companions; and you young women see to it that your [illegible] book [not the novel] [illegible] head, and knit with [illegible] [illegible] there is no other way; such has been [illegible] and may be done again, above all things [illegible] to be up to the age; stay up now by the name of free men. Prepare yourselves well, and my word for it every institution in the country will fling open wide its doors to receive you, as all they ask is the solid qualification; this is not Yankeedom, and if by chance some servile simple of ignorance should dare lift up his head against your color, [illegible] the law which is all you want "all men are free and equal" they say, but as on the other side of the [illegible] only.

And now Mr. Editor, hoping that what I have [illegible] be [illegible] good of those [illegible] and also for [illegible] may by [illegible] have so [illegible] [illegible] tion and wealth, I shall subscribe myself.

To the Editors of the Provincial Freeman.

The object of this note is to inquire, and if possible ascertain the whereabouts of one Mrs. Matilda Gross, who escaped from Baltimore M. D. some time in the month of May 1854, was owned for by your correspondent —— at —— and subsequently received by the writer at Toronto C. W. within a few months. We are creditably informed that the claimant of this said Mrs. G. had become acquainted with her whereabouts, circumstances, &c, &c, and has opened a correspondence with [illegible] offering her large inducements to return to Baltimore, and to make a full expose of her manner of escape her abettors &c.&c, and it is admitted that she has consented to return back. Should this be the case some of the best friends to the cause in that place will be ruined. One to my certain knowledge has been compelled to sacrifice much on account of this affair. I hope for the sake of the cause and those most closely connected with the matter, that this notice may have the tendency of setting on foot some means of preventing the terrible results of such a foolhardy course. Friends have been written to (those well acquainted with her) at Toronto, to, who state that she and her husband have left the city for other parts of the Province. Any one knowing their present location will render the cause of humanity a great service by communicating the same to the Rev. J. B. Smith, Providence R. I. Do not neglect to attend to it forthwith for a great deal more is involved in this [illegible] matter than we are at liberty to divulge under the circumstances.

EXCITEMENT IN DELAWARE.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Capture Fugitive Slaves.

On Tuesday morning last our town was thrown into much commotion in consequence of an almost unsuccessful attempt to capture eight runaways, for which rewards are offered of upwards of three thousand dollars. It seems that some time during Monday a man came to Sheriff Green with the information that he had discovered eight runaway negroes, and had made arrangements to have them in Dover that night, the negroes supposing they were to be concealed in town until next night and then wend there way upwards, &c. Accordingly, about 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning the man and the negroes, appeared at the Jail. While the Sheriff was dressing they all entered the Jail, went up stairs [illegible] the dark,] found an open room and went to it, but there being no fire they came back into the entry.

By this time the Sheriff had dressed and followed them up stairs, supposing that they would find them in one of the rooms and that he would have to wound before and bolt the door. On discovering that they were all in the entry, the Sheriff returned to his room for his revolver. The negroes, anxious to get to a fire, followed him down and were in the Sheriff's room [illegible] where his wife and children were asleep, [illegible] he could seize his revolver. By [illegible] the suspicions of one of the negroes were aroused, and with the exclamation "I didn't like the looks of the place; I've got out of this," he bolted for the window. The Sheriff [illegible] and while [illegible] the rest of the negroes burst through another window and escaped, first scattering the fire over the floor, the man standing trembling in the door like the veriest [illegible] even before [illegible] by his family and the fire, let go the negro for a moment, when to an instant he bounded through the window and was gone. All they all escaped. Six of them were traced to a house in Camden, but the officers could not enter, for the want of sufficient warrant which the magistrates said they had no power to give. On Tuesday last it was currently reported, the six were conveyed to the house of a man residing near Wilson Grove, whence they were to be [illegible] country by the [illegible] roads, or taken the under-ground railroad. The others [illegible] were seen, shortly after the escape from the jail, going out of Dover in a northerly direction. The fault of the escape is attributable entirely to the hoggishness of the man who tolled the negroes into Dover. Desirous to get the whole reward, he will not permit a small force to share it with him, and he got none. The negroes were all armed with cudgles and pistols. The rewards offered for the apprehension vary from $300 to $400 each.—Dover [Del.] Republic.

Legislative Council.

MONDAY, March 6, 1857

BILL TO AMEND THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ACT

Hon. Mr. Prince moved for leave to introduce a bill to explain and amend an Act of Parliament under which the members of Legislative Council now hold their seats. By that Act it is provided that a member of one House of Parliament shall not be elected to sit as a member of the other House; but it is well known that a member of the House of Assembly thought proper to canvass the electors of a Western District during the last election, up to the very day of the election, without having complied with that which is implied, though not expressed in the letter of the statute, that a member of one House becoming a candidate for a seat in the other should resign the seat he already holds previous to doing so. The honorable Gentleman to whom he referred was defeated, as is well known, after having contested this District; after having agitated for three months, and after having occasioned an enormus expenditure of money; and he was then permitted to retire to his seat in the House of Assembly, as if he had never taken any action to invalidate his rights to it. The whole of this difficulty had risen from the very indefinite position of the law. The law is clear that no gentleman who holds a seat in one House of Parliament shall be elected a member of the other House; and to render it more definite, this bill provides that no such member shall offer himself as a candidate, unless on or before the day of nomination he shall sign his resignation in the presence of two witnesses, and shall commit it to the safe keeping of the Speaker of that branch of the Legislature in which he shall have a seat. Another very material part of the bill provides that no person in the employment of the Government, or public servant of the Government, shall be deprived their right to vote; but that no sheriff or deputy sheriff, agent of the commissioner of Crown Lands; or registrar, shall be allowed to follow a candidate round the country and make speeches against him. This provision it be hoped, would meet with the approbation of hon. gentleman, as every one must know the influence which these officers could bring to bear on an election, and which might very unfairly used against an opponent of the government. Another very important object in the bill, and which would no doubt engage the serious attention of hon. gentlemen when the bill was printed was a proposition that the members of the House should be allowed to elect their own Speeker.

Leave was then granted and bill read a first time.—Colonist.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

[REPORTED FOR THE COLONIST.]

WEDNESDAY, March 11th.

FRELIGHSBURGH GRAMMER SCHOOL.

Mr FERRES brought in a bill to incorporate this school which was read a first time.

INCORPORATION OF BOWMANVILE.

Mr MUNROE introduced a bill to incorporate the town of Bowmanvill.—Read a first time.

DISTRICT OF QUEBEC.

Mr. J. B. E. DORION introduced bill a to annex a certain portion of the Towns of Arthabaska to the district of Quebec.—Read a first time.

SALARIES OF JUDGES.

A return was presented of the salaries assigned to the different County Judges in Upper Canada.

NEW MUNICIPALITY.

Mr. SOMERVILLE brought in a bill to erect parts of the Russelltown and Jamestown in the County of Chateauguay, and a part of Hemmingford in the County Huntingdon into one Municipality, and to attach the same to the County of Huntington.—Read a first time.

INCORPORATION OF LINDSAY.

Mr. CONGER introduced a bill to incorporate the town of Lindsay and extend the limits of the same.

ST. CATHARINE'S TOWN DEBT.

Hon. Mr. MERRITT introduced a bill to consolidate the debt of the town of St. Catherine's.—Read a fit t time.

PORT DALHOUSIE AND THOROLD RAILWAY.

Hon. Mr. MERRIT introduced a bill to increase the capital stock of the Port Dalhousie and Thorold Railway Company, to alter the acts incorporating the same, and for other purposes.—Read the first time.

THE GRANT TO THE HON W. B. FELTON.

Mr. J. B. DORION moved to refer the documents laid before the House at different periods respecting the grant of lands to the Hon. W. B. Felton, to a Special Committee composed of Messers. Papin, Rhodes Laberge, Sol. Gen. Ross, Turcotte, Jobin and the mover, with a view to steps being taken to recover the lands.

After some discussion, Mr. FELTON. said the misfortune was that his family had succeeded as the heirs to property to which there was a doubtful title. More money had been spent both by the family and by the Crown-Lands than the land was worth twice over. There was a distinct patent in favor of the heirs, and although there had been much bugging, the Crown had not been able to dispossess them.

The motion was ultimately withdrawn for the present.

MUNICIPALITIES AND RAILWAY COMPANIES.

Mr. FREEMAN asked leave to introduce a Bill to authorize the Municipalities now or hereafter holding stock in Railway Companies to vote therein in the election of Directors of such companies. He explained that in the present state of the law there was a doubt as to whether municipalities were entitled to vote in the election of directors of railway companies, and the object of the bill was to render the law clear and explicit on the subject. Many Corporations had given and to a considerable amount—one holding not less than two-thirds or three-fourths of the stock; and it was therefore only right that they should have a better opportunity than they have at present of looking after their stock.

Leave was granted to bring in the bill and it was read the first time.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL ELECTIONS.

Mr. SYDNEY SMITH moved the following resolutions:—

1st. That it be expedient to enact that Elections should at once be held for the several districts in which no election has as yet been held under the provisions of the statute of last session, referring the Legislative Council elective, for the election of members to that Honorable House.

2nd. That such Districts as have a population exceeding 40,000 shall be entitled to have two members instead of one as provided in that Act.

3d. That it is expedient to repeal all clauses and provisions in the said Act inconsistent herewith.

The Old Countryman has the following in relation to the recent distresing accident.

FEARFUL RAILWAY ACCIDENT

It has seldom fellen to our lot to record a more lamentable accident than the one which occurred on Thursday evening, on the Great Western Railroad.

The loss of life is so great, the individuals who have thus suddenly passed away were, many of them, so well known to us all, that one almost feels as if some domestic bereavment had visited our own fireside.

The sensation created in the Legislative Assembly when the dreadful intelligence reached the House was intense. The voice of party warfare was hushed, as if each man stood in the solemn presence of death, and the House, with a feeling honorable to itself and which will be soothing to many an aching heart when the first burst of sorrow is over, and the stricken one's head bend with holy resignation to His will, in whose hands are the issues of life and death, after a few minutes of whispered and agitated conversation, adjourned its sitting.

How this accident happened, it is useless to enquire, and it only becomes us, as fellow worms, and liable at a moment, to termination of existence upon earth, quite as sudden, to take heed to our ways, and pray that when our appointed hour shall arrive, we may be found watching and ready!

With respect to one gentleman killed on this dreadful occasion, while we reluctantly, at such an hour, allude to mere worldly considerations, we cannot but express a fear, that much public inconvenience and injury will result from it,

Mr. ZIMMERMAN leaves no one behind him with a grasp of mind and a spirit of enterprize at all equal to his. He has done that in his own neighbourhood and throughout Canada which no other person has either the means or the spirit to undertake, and a generation may pass before his place in this respect, be supplied.

"The people" of Hamilton, the site of this awful warning, "when they heard these evil tidings mourned," and not only so, but have with truly Christain feeling, named Monday next as a day of general Humiliation and Prayer to HIM, who, we humbly hope, will temper the wind to the sorrowing members of His flock.—Old Countryman

"EMIGRATION TO CANADA."

The London Times contains, in an elaborate articale on the Lobour qustion, the following remarks:—

"It many, however, in fairness be asked, since we reject the remedies of others, what have we to propose ourselves? Our answer is, that 14 days off in point of time and £6 off in point of expence—taking Toronto as the terminus—lies a country inhabited by British people, fertile healthy, unoccupied; a country in which any man who can use his arms to dig the ground to build a wall, to glaze a window, rub down a horse, to make a pair of shoes or a coat, is sure of wages which will support him in comfort and decency. We do not say that it is possible, or that it would be wise if it were possible, to take 1,000,000 of people and throw them broad cast upon the surface of the Canadas in one sweep; but no doubt that vast province is capable of absorbing the surplus of our population with great rapidity. If the present distress lasts, and there appears no prospect of improvement, let one member of a family give the thing a trial and pioneer the way. When he has obtained a firm and footing, wife, children, father, mother, sisters may follow. This way of escape from the evils of an overcrowded country is at least open to any respectable artisan and his family Those who choose to remain behind must remember that if they cling to the great advantages of an old country, they must also accept its drawbacks. Not long since we told the farmers and the shipowners they must look about them if they wished to hold their own in the presence of a world at work. We say the same thing now to the British artisan or mechanic; he must be at least as good a man as his father, if he hopes to live as well and bring up a family he can. In any case, whether he chooses to stop or go, let him avoid political agitation as he would the plague. If we sow the wind the whirlwind is the crop, and only M. Frost or Mr. Jones will say that such a crop pays for cultivation."

From the above extract from the Times, colored Americans may learn the importance to Europeans of a residence in the Province, Will they not take a hint?

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

From the Boston Morning Post.

GOOD ADVICE TO DYSPEPTICS.—In these days of quackery panaceas, and wonderful cures, it is hardly safe to recommend any thing in the catalouge of patent medicine and we will not knowingly, mislead our readers in these matters; but when we have undeniable proof of the real value of a medicine; and the testimony of good and estimable citizens besides, we feel it a duty to give publicity to such a remedy. The Oxygenated Bitters sold by Messrs. Seth W Fowle & Co; 138 Washington Street, we have received the sanction of Scientific men, and their virtues are those fully tested by many citizens of the highest respectability.

Mr. PERRY DAVIS:—I feel it to be my duty to bear my testimony to the efficacy of your Pain Killer. I have used it for years for complaints of the stomach and bowels. I had a very severe attack of cholera of the ague, and such pain in my back for three days and nights that I could get no rest. I sent and got a 25 cent bottle of the "Vegetable Pain Killer." I took a little inwardly, and bathed according to directions, and one application relieved all pain, and I am able to write today though with a trembling hand. The application was made last night about 9 o'clock and I had a sweet nights rest. I have recommended it for several years, as I have travelled a good deal, and it has given universal satisfaction where it has been used according to directions.

Yours gratefully, L. PERRY CHILDS

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.
THE
SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.
Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing its Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been, as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve those who may read it. To accomplish this aim, the best articles are selected or purchased from foreign and domestic periodicals, and long and careful lists of an hostile character procured whenever possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands, the most interesting parts of the Weekly News from the World; Speeches of Law, Eloquence and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture, Account of the Produce and Stock Markets, and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post

By the mail facilities of the present age—the manufacturers of England, France, Germany, the Continental cities and towns—all—send their latest publications to the Post. These agents also muster their strength, and keep cool, when they become excited, and except in the Fall, when Albert becomes hot, are generally able to take a long and comprehensive view of human nature and its wants. To this source these Heaven-implanted cravings for information, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR

Among our contributors in the latter of the above departments are some of the brightest writers in the land. We also have built for Fiction and Poetry upon the periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c. in our first paper of January next.

Engravings of the most important places and scenes of Action, and of new Inventions which present themselves throughout the country, are also given.

The Postage on the Post is but a trifle. Unless it is paid quarterly in advance, we charge at the rate of Two Dollars and Fifty Cents a year.

Terms. The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, payable always in advance. For Two Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent during a year. We estimate the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent to the city or one address, and to be sent to one Post Office

Poetry.

THE DYING WIFE.

Lay the gem upon my bosom,
Let me feel her sweet warm breath;
For a strange chill o'er me passes,
And I know that it is death.
I would gaze upon the treasure—
Scarcely given ere I go—
Feel her rosy, dimpled fingers
Wander o'er my cheek of snow.

I am passing through the waters,
But a blessed shore appears;
Kneel beside me, husband dearest,
Let me kiss away thy tears.
Wrestle with thy grief, my husband,
Strive from midnight until day;
It may leave an angel's blessing
When it vanisheth away

Lay the gem upon my bosom,
'Tis not long she can be there;
See how to my heart she nestles,
'Tis the pearl I love to wear.
If in after years, beside the,
She, mother in my chair -
Though her voice be sweeter music,
And her face than mine, more fair.

A cherub calls thee "Father!"
Far more beautiful than this –
Love thy first-born! Oh my husband!
Turn not from the motherless,
Tell her sometimes of her mother;
You will call her by my name!
Shield her from the winds of sorrow;
If she errs, oh! gentle blame.

Lead her sometimes where I'm sleeping,
I will answer if she calls:
And my breath will stir her ringlets,
When my voice with blessing falls.
Her soft, black eyes will brighten
With a wonder whence it came;
In her heart, when years pass o'er her,
She will find her mother's name.

It is said that every mortal
Wears between two angels here;
One records the ill, but blots it,
If before the midnight drear
Man repenteth, it is cancelled,
Then he seals it for the skies,
And the right hand angels weepeth,
Bowing low with veiled eyes.

I will be her right hand angel,
Sealing up the good for Heaven;
Striving that the midnight watches
Find no misdeeds unforgiven.
You will not forget me, husband,
When I'm sleeping 'neath the sod!
Oh! love the jewel, given us
As I love thee next to God.

Miscellaneous.

A SINGULAR DYING SPEECH.

The following extraordinary address was publicly made on the scaffold at Wicklow in Ireland, in 1738. by a man named George Mauly, just before he was hanged for murder. He spoke in these words:—"My Friends,—You assemble to see—What?—a man take a leap in the abyss of death.—Look, and you shall see me go with as much courage as Curtius, when he leapt into the gulph to save his country from destruction. What then will you say of me?—You say, that no men without virtue can be courageous. You see I am courageous. You'll say I have killed a man. Marlborough killed his thousands, and Alexander his millions: Marlborough and Alexander, and many others who have done the like, are famous in history for great men. But I killed one solitary man. I'm a little murderer, and must be hanged. Marlborough and Alexander plundered countries. They were great men I ran in debt with the ale-wife; I must be hanged.

"Now, my friends, I have drawn a parallel between two of the greatest men that ever lived, and myself; but these were former days. Now I'll speak a word of some of the present days: how many men were lost in Italy and upon the Rhine, during the last war, for setting a king in Poland: Both sides could not be right: they are great men; but I killed a solitary man, I,m a little fellow. The King of Spain takes our ships, plunders our merchants, kills and tortures our men; what of all that? What he does is good; he,s a great man, he is clothed in purple, his instruments of murder are bright and shining, mine was but a rusty gun; and so much for comparison.

"Now I would fain know what authority there is in Scripture for a rich man to murder, to plunder, to torture, to ravage whole countries; and what law it is, that condemns a poor man to death for killing a solitary man or for stealing a solitary sheep to feed his family? But bring the matter closer to our own country; what is the difference between running in a poor man's debt and by preventing him from obtaining his right, and clapping a pistol to a man's breast and taking from him his purse? Yet the one shall thereby obtain a coach, and honors and titles. The other—What? A cart and a rope.

"From what I have said, my brethren, you may perhaps imagine that I am hardened; but believe me, I am fully convinced of my follies, and acknowledge the just judgment of God has overtaken me: I have no hopes but from the merits of my Redeemer, who I hope will have mercy on me, as he knows that murder was far from my heart, and what I did was through rage and passion, being provoked thereto by the deceased.

"Take warning, my dear comrades.—Think! Oh think! What would I now give, that I had lived another life

THE CLOCK AT TANGIER.

The Moors, unlike their partially enlightened brethren of the East, prohibit the Christian and the Jew from entering a mosque or other places consecrated by the law of the Prophet, under pain of death or embracing the faith of Islam. A droll instance of this occurred some years ago at Tangier.

The clock at the "Jaman Lebeer," the great mosque at Tangier, being much out of order, needed some skilful craftsman to repair it. None, however, of the "faithful," were competent to the task, nor could they ever discover what part of the machinery was deranged, though many put forth their opinions with great pomp and authority, amongst the rest, one man gravely declared that a Jin, or evil genius, had, in all probability, taken up its abode within the clock. Various exorcisms were accordingly essayed, sufficient, as every true believer supposed, to have expelled a legion of devils—yet all in vain: the clock continued dumb.

A Chistain clock-maker, "a cursed Nazarene," was now their sole resource; and such a one fortunately was sojourning in Tangier—"the city protected of the Lord." He was from Genoa, and, of course, a most pious Christian; how, then were they, the faithful followers of the Prophet, to manage to employ him! The clock was fixed in the wall of the tower and it was, of course a thing impossible to allow the Kaffer to defile God's house of prayer by his sacrilegious steps.

The time-keeper Moakkeet reported the difficulty to the kady; and so perplexed the gray-bearded dealer in law and justice by the intricacy of the case, that, after several hours of deep thought, the judge confessed he could not come to a decision, and proposed to report upon the subject to the kaid, advising that a meeting of the local authorities should be called. "For, in truth," said the kady, "I perceive that the urgency of this matter is great. Yes! I myself will expound our dilemma to the kaid."

The kind entered feelingly into all the difficulties of the case, and forthwith summoned the other authorities to his porch, where various propositions were put forweard by the learned members of the council

One proposed to abandon the clock altogether; another would lay down boards over which the infidel might pass without touching the sacred floor; but this was held not to be a sufficient safeguard: and it was finally decided to pull up that part of the pavement on which the Kaffer trod, and white wash the walls near which he passed.

The Christian was now sent for, and told what was required of him; and he was expressly commanded to take off his shoes and stockings on entering the Jamaa. "That I won't," said the stout little watchmaker; "I never took them off when I entered the chapel of the most Holy Virgin," and here he crossed himself devoutly, "and I won't take them off in the house of your Prophet."

They cursed in their hearts the watchmaker and all his race; and were in a state of vast perplexity. The wise Oolama had met early in the morning; it was already noon, and yet, so far from having got over their difficulty, they were in fact exactly where they had been before breakfast; when a gray-bearded Mueddin, who had hitherto been silent, craved permission to speak. The kaid and the kady nodded their assent.

"If," said the venerable priest, the mosque be out of repair, and lime and bricks have to be conveyed into the interior for the use of the masons, do not asses carry those loads, and do they not enter with their shoes on?"

"You speak truly," was the general reply.

"And does the donkey," resumed the Mueddin, "believe in the One God, or in Mohammed, the Prophet of God?"

'No' in truth," all replied.

"Then," said the Mueddin, "let the Christian go in shod as a donkey would do, and come out like a donkey."

The argument of the Mueddin was unanimously applauded In the character of a donkey, therefore, did the Christian enter the Mohammedan temple, mended the clock, not indeed at all like a donkey—but as such in the opinion of "faithful," came out again; and the great mosque of Tangier has never since needed another visit of the donkey to its clock.—Western Barbary; its Wild Tribes and Savage Animals.

A GRANDMOTHER THAT WOULD BE BURIED IN FREE SOIL.

One of the editors of the Cincinnati Commercial relates the following touching incident He was traveling on the cars up to Cleveland, to report the proceedings of the Lake Under-writers' Convention, held last week. He says:

"I must tell you of a rare scene that was witnessed on the cars coming up. At Crestline, a very aged women, apparently in a dying condition, was borne into the rear car by two brakemen, and left in charge of a lad of fourteen years, who proved to be her sole attendant The passengers were astonished that so old a person—apparently quite a hundred years—should be moved in winter even so far as the next station, and they gathered round to help the boy, for she was gasping as if for her last breath Presently, the fresh air and a cup of cold water revived the aged sufferer, and we asked the boy why he had been left alone with such a charge.

"The boy told his story with a clear, manly voice, and it was this: It was his grandmother; he had brought her thus from Green county, Missouri, near the border of Arkansas and Kansas, by stage to Jefferson City, thence by railroad and was taking her to Scotland! She had come out from the old country to die among her children, who were well-to do planters in South-western Missouri, but she had taken an insane dislike to the country, and nothing would do but she must be carried back to Scotland. She would recieve no attentions, would not wear the clothes provided for her, would not be waited upon by the servants, though father had two niggers to do nothing but wait on her,' would not ride in the carriage 'that cost $500, and was brought for her pleasure from Cincinnati.' She would hardly take enough food to keep body and soul together. She had endured all but death in the removal from Scotland to Missouri, but in the first month after arrival, this craze came on her, and we've had no peace since.' In vain his father—the old women was the lad's grandmother—had expostulated and begged till his patience and filial love were exhausted and he 'had to choose between sending the auld one to the crazy house in St. Louis or back to Scotland, but he wad na gang wi' her, so I came mesel.

"'A wee bit o' air—a wee bit! a wee bit! gasped the old women, and we hurried to help her, for it really seemed that death was there to free the spirit from the body. She revived a little, and we could not help asking the boy further questions He had a clear voice with a metallic ring, that rose above the din of the whirling cars and we listened and wondered. By accident a passenger, Dr. Cook, of the House of Representatives. I believe, asked, and was there no cause of complaint whatever

"'None, none,' answered the boy,' only she cu'd out she could na breathe for the slavery, and she could na die in peace for the bluid on father, and she must gang owre the sea and be buried on the hills wi' the ree folks!'

"Now we saw another person. The withered old crone was translated, as it were, before our eyes. We saw the will of an heroic Scotch women staying the dissolution of a worn-out body that it might not be left in ground from which, in her ears, 'almost cold in death, was crying out the blood of her brethren! She will not die yet; her decayed body may no longer respond even to that sublime will; but the spirit will cling to its mortifying temple till that is brought to its Highland kirk yard, and laid among the free by the free."

ABSENCE OF MIND.—Sydney Smith says he heard of a clergyman who went jogging along the road till he came to a turnpike. 'What is to pay?' 'Pay, sir, for what?' asked the turnpikeman, why for my horse, to be sure," Your horse sir what horse? There is no horse, sir." "No horse?" said he, suddenly looking down between his legs. "God bless me! I thought I was on horseback?"

EVERY FARMER GROWING HIS OWN SUGAR.

The great demand made at the Patent Office, this year, for the Chinese sugar cane, indicates that the cultivation will be very extensive, the only difficulty in the way being the want of cheap machinery for extracting the juice of the cane. This difficulty we see our own inventors are already endeavoring to remove. A Mr. Hodges, of Cincinnati, has a machine on exhibition at washington, which is described for a sugar mill. It consists of three vertical cast iron rollers, supported between cast-iron plates, resting upon a triangular wood frame, about eight feet on its sides. Under each corner is a large truck wheel, so adjusted when working as to revolve in a circle, the shaft of one of the rollers occupying the centre of the frame, and clutched fast to a timber below, preventing its turning, while the other two, being geared into it at the top, are made to revolve around it as the whole frame is turned by the horse. On one corner is a feed table, from which a man feeds the cane, which having been acted upon by the rollers, passes out upon a table on the other corner, which is removed as often as a sufficient quantity accumulates. The juice passes down through the bed-plate, and is received, in a vessel made for that purpose. Cheap and portable machinery is all that is wanted to test the great experiment which is now being tried with the Chinese sugar cane.—Ledger.

NEGRO CAMP DISCOVERED—HIGH LIVING.—The week after Christmas, as some hunters were beating about for game on the river Amite, near the settlement of the late Mr. Matthew, they discovered an edifice occupied by a runaway negro, who forthwith amused. Among other items the camp contained, besides sundry articles of kitchen and household furniture, including a bedstead, two middlings of pork, a demijohn of whiskey, quantities of flour, corn-meal, sugar, coffee, salt powder and shot &c., also a pack of cards. The hunters, of course, "removed the deposits," and burnt up the camp. The following day they captured the fugitive, who proved to blong to Mr. Jeremiah Palmer. The prisoner being called upon to tell his "experience," stated that the camp was occupied by two other runaways besides himself—that they had been there six months—that they all had guns, &c. The other two it seems, had gone over to the plantations on the Mississippi river to spend the holidays. One of them, it is ascertained, has committed a murder, and a reward of $400 has been offered for him, dead or alive.—Springfield (La.) Gazette.

The duties of Colored men in Canada.

What are the duties of colored men in these Provinces, who have been forced here from American despotism and oppression? We shall answer this question as frankly and at the same time, as sincerely as we think its importance demands. Well then! we live in a government that knows no caste in its political organization. All men stand upon the broad platform of equality before the laws, and are alike cared for by her Majesty's government. It is as true now as it was when Curran spoke those immortal words.

"No matter what complexion incompatible with Liberty, an Indianian or an African sun may have burnt upon him, the moment he sets his foot upon British soil he is free."

He is protected in the enjoyment of that liberty. The strong arm of the government is thrown around the weak and defenceless. This is monarchical England! From this pleasing picture we turn to its contrast the Republican government of the United States, that and what are its recent decisions upon questions involving the liberty of her entire colored population. Why? that none but white men were intended to be recognized as citizens in the political structure of the government, That negroes constitute the exceptions; that they have no rights under her laws, are aliens and out cast upon her shores. Its a political maxim, that we owe allegiance to a government, just in proportion to the amount of protection given. If rights are the basis of loyalty and obedience to governments, then the path of duty is plain. We owe every thing to the country of our adoption and nothing to that miserable, contemptible, despotism the government of the United States, who with the cant of liberty, democracy and christianity upon her lips, plunders the black-man's cradle, and sells babies new-born, in the market place, for money. This is harsh language, but just such as they merit at the hands of every colored man! The Devil will never get his own, till he gets that wicked and guilty nation. It is the duty of every British subject in view of the encroachments of slavery upon this continent, the lawless and reckless spirit that it begets in the minds of all who are brought in contact with it, and especially Her Majesty's colored subjects, to resist to the last, every innovation upon the Conservative principles of British liberty and British rule in these Provinces.

Colored men should become as thoroughly British as they can. We are opposed to all separate organizations, whether civil, political or ecclesiastical, that can have no other effect than that of creating a line of demarcation; fostering if not creating a spirit of caste here, such as colored men are compelled to suffer in the United States.

Separate colored schools and churches are nuisances that should be abated as soon as possible, they are dark and hateful relics of Yankee negrophobia, contrary to that healthy, social and political equality, recognized by the fundamental principles of British common law, and should never be permitted to take root upon British soil.

We know this is unpopular, but we have counted the cost, and since we have passed the "Rubicon," we intend to carry the war on in right good earnest, until every intelligent, independent, thinking, colored man shall fully understand and confess that these things are not necessary here. We have said this much in all deference to the opinions of others. For ourselves, we would rather be right then popular, confident as we are, that time will fully vindicate the correctness of the position we have assumed.—H. F. D.

LECTURE.

Mr. W. J. Hardin who has spent some years in California, will deliver a Lecture this evening in the Town Hall, on the Mineral, Agricultural, and commercial resources of the country; state of society wages &c

The citizens are generally invited to attend.

SPIRIT OF IMPROVEMENT.

We understand that Chatham is to have another fire company, in addition to the two that we have now. This is just as it should be, the rapid growth of our flourishing little town, demands it; but if as we are informed, it is to be an exclusive concern, then we are opposed to it: for it will only be the begining of a series of fatal steps to end in the political damnationof every colored man inCanada W; we have had enough of such mischeif among us. Let us learn to be wise, and act for the future as well as the present.— H F D

We beg to call attention to the advertisements of the Crown Lands Department, both of the sale of lands, to take place at the Court house in Chatham, May 1st, and the notice in regard to payments, by those now settled on, or holding Crown Lands, but who have not made all their payments for the same.

These advertisements are important, as, by disregarding such official injunctions settlers will be made to pay twice over for the same lands.—M.A.S.C.

Mr. J. J. E. Linton, will please receive our sincere thanks for copies of valuable books.—M.A.S.C.

To Cure a Cough, buy a bottle of the Balsam of Wild Cherry. We have more faith in this combination of Dr. Wistar, than in any other remedy known, having witnessed its entire success in many cases of protracted cough.

Having witnessed the beneficial effects of Perry Davis' Pain Killer in several cases of dysentery and cholera morbus I would most cheerfully recommend its use to such as may be suffering from the aforementioned or similar diseases as a safe and effectual remedy. EDWARD K. FULLER, Presbyterianism---Slavery.

The following remonstrance, we are advised, has been forwarded to the various Presbyteries of the [Free] Presbyterian church of Canada,—seven in number,—and we trust that it will have its proper and expected effect. It is to be regretted that a church so eminently pious, and having within its ministers, the highest educational attainments, should have fallen into the error, it has gone into. The example also, of such an influential body, has a bad tendency especially with those who may have fewer scruples regarding the support of the horrid cruelty of slavery. All we hope is, that the continued exertions of Mr. Linton [who duly advises us of his proceedings] will have the desired effect,—though he says "that he almost despairs of the Wesleyan Methodists." Such is to be regretted, and we shall have a strict observance, for if the churches of the United States have been by their own writers designated the "bulwarks of slavery,"—we hope, we pray, that the churches of Canada, in this an enlightened age, will rather be the "bulwarks of freedom." May God in his wisdom and mercy keep the pious and sound spirit of the people of Canada, on "freedom's" side, as to this blot on the christianity of the age.—

To the Presbytery of London of the (Free) Presbyterian Church of Canada.

STRATFORD, C. W.,
20th March, 1857.

REVD. J. SCOTT, Presbytery Clerk.

REVEREND SIRS:—It is with some reluctance that I address these few lines to your body. Believing as I do, that it is composed of those whose attainments in education claim the attention and regard of those over whom you are placed, and whose duty it is to look up with a reverence and a respect to you,—not only also from that circumstance, but from another and a higher,—that your attainments in a sound and a firm knowledge of our Holy religion, should claim a submission to your acts.

It is then, with some reluctance, that I present this to your consideration, by way of a Remonstrance,—which is, that I consider the homologation and acknowledgement of (and thereby creating a fellowship with) the Board of Publication of the (old school) Presbyterian church of the United States, at Philadelphia,—which church is a noted pro-slavery and slavery church, recognising in its bosom the horrid system of chattel or human slavery, of our fellow mortals.—(howbeit of another colour of skin, are God's handiwork like as we ourselves are)—in the buying and calportering and selling of their books and publications, in Canada,—that I consider such acts by your Presbytery, and individual members thereof, and by lay members of the Presbyterian church of Canada, and by other Presbyteries and members, of said church, as a grievous error and sin, as well as a scandal upon the church, in a free country under a British Government.

I regret the cause of this Remonstrance the more, as the Presbyterian church in Canada, was made aware before hand (even through my means) of the pro-slavery status of the (old school) Presbyterian church of the United States, and of the silentness of its (the said) Board on the slave question.

I hope that you will, on consideration of the premises, order an instant discontinuance of the above acts I remonstrate against, and to all in your power at the Synod, and with other Presbyteries, to have said acts put an end to, whenever practised in this Province, under the Synod of the [Free] Presbyterian church of Canada.

With much respect, Reverend Sirs, I remain,

Your most obedient servant,
J. J. E. LINTON.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of the Provincial Freeman.

SIR:—Permit me to return you my best thanks for inserting in your number of the 28th of February last, the few remarks I communicated to you, with respect to the prospects and prosperity of the intended Town of Shrewsbury, which appears to have met with the approbation of a number of our neighbors hereabouts. Since then, a brighter dawn has come over us all, and also over the prospects of the Rond Eau Harbour. Our worthy Representatives have taken up the cudgels and are determined to fight for our rights in Parliament.—The Hon. John Prince, presented in the Legislative Council, several Petitions from the Municipal Councils of the counties of Kent and Essex, and also from a number of the most respectable and influential inhabitants of Kent; and E. Larwill, Esq, has presented similar Petitions in the Legislative Assembly; Praying that the Light House at the entrance of the Rond Eau Harbour, which was burnt should be re-built and lit. The Petitions set forth, that the number of ships wrecked and disasters which has happened of late years, and more especially, the unprecedented losses of last season, imparitively demand the immediate attention of the Government, to use every reasonable means of preventing the re-currence of such disaster and loss of life and property The Hon. Colonel Prince, on presenting the Petition, remarked in his sarcastic and pertinent style, that the Hincks administration laid out £30,000 on the improvement of the Rond Eau Harbour, and afterwards, that the late and present governments neglected it and allowed the works to fall into decay. To this the Honorable Premier and Minister of Agriculture replied, that the Petition would come under the immediate consideration of the Government. This is cheering news to the good people of Kent, still it is but a tithe to the improvements and advantages to which the Rond Eau is susceptible by position and by nature. Where is there a harbour on any of the lakes in Canada, so well adapted for naval and military purposes as this? Six block houses not more than ten feet in height, and on a range with one another, on the Lake Erie shore from Morpeth to point Eau Pines, at the entrance of the Rond Eau would defend off all the naval force that could be brought it against, and keep harmless any number of vessels of light draft which might be within its precincts; besides as a Harbour of shelter in rough weather, there is none to surpass it! all this is not a moiety of the many peculiar advantages that the Eau possesses as a Harbour.

Suppose the Southern Railroad in a very few years may be made, it must necessarily pass within three or four miles of the Eau; a switch from it to the Harbour, would induce immediate travel and traffic from the United States, which would exceed that of Port Stanley; take it also for granted, that the projected Canal from the river St. Clair to Lake Erie will be made sooner or later, where is there a better harbour for receiving and shipping property than the Eau? Not anywhere! I am well acquainted with the route from the river St. Clair to Shrewsbury, and I entertain an opinion that a more practicable or easier made canal was never undertaken in North America There is a branch of the river St. Clair, called the Sny of Cartier, commencing at Baby's point in Sombra; three miles below that, there is a small Bay or Basin, near to the well known Basswood tavern, where there is a Revine crossing the Peninsula into Running creek, which enters into the North branch of the River Sydenham, this short cut of about four or five miles is almost a natural canal of itself, and could be made so as to admit of the necessary quantity of water from the St. Clair into Bear Creek. From the village of Wallaceburgh the East branch of the River Sydenham is navigable to the village of Dresden a distance of about ten or twelve miles, where the banks of the river are high, and where it would necessarily have to be dammed, so as to raise the water above the level of the river Thames, which would also require to be dammed; to raise it above the level of the Rond Eau, this part of the construction of the canal I consider to be the most difficult; but scientific men who understand canalling, say that it is perfectly practicable, and that there is sufficient water in the East branch of the river Sydenham and Thames, to feed a ship canal of any ordinary size. This is the full extent of the route, the cutting from the Rond Eau to the Thames is about seventeen miles, from the Thames to the East branch of the Sydenham; ten or twelve miles at farthest, and from the North branch to the St. Clair or Sny of Cartier, four or five miles at most, making in all, a cutting of thirty to thirty-four miles through the most fertile and productive section of the country in all Canada West. What is most singular, a stone or rock is not visible above the surface of the ground throughout the whole line; this, and the nature of the soil make me think that the excavation could be easier done and at less cost, as I have already observed, than any other canal of the same length and capacity ever made in North America.—Had our neighbors on the opposite side of Lake Erie a harbour possessing the same advantages as the Eau, it would have long ago been fortified at the the entrance, and factories of every discription established all round it, with town and villages, which of themselves would be a source of wealth and commerce. But the people of Canada are less enterprising, and our government from some unaccountable cause have totally neglected it, although they seven or eight years ago, expended £25,000 or £30,000 on the improvement of the harbour, which they ceded to a foreign company who took every advantage of the privilege granted to them, and after stripping our forests of the best of its timber, allowed the whole of the late improvement to fall into ruin and decay. What is more astonishing to me, and in the face of all that I have said, I am credibly informed that our present administration are about ceding to another private company, not only the whole of the Rond Eau Harbour, but all the town plot of Shrewsbury and the reserved Government lands attached to it, even without compensation. This is too much of a good thing. The oldest, the most experienced and the most loyal of the inhabitants of Kent, have considered the just act of the Government premature, but the intended last act of theirs, they declare to be entirely unwise. I have spoken to many on the subject, and they are unanimously of opinion that the Rond Eau Harbour, should be reserved exclusively for Government purposes; ceding it to any private company would marr public and private enterprise, and leave the Rond Eau a matter of speculation without improvement for another quarter of a century. If the Rond Eau had been destined by nature, to be situated several miles in the interior of this country, say fifty miles above the Alumette Islands, it would then be considered by the present government, one of the best inland Harbours on earth, but because it is on the frontier and that because it is the policy of other countries and nations to protect theirs, our administration think nothing of making it a gift to some mercenary speculators who, and when they get possession will bring their donation, to market for the trifling sum of fifty or one hundred thousand pounds, and tell their government very coolly that they have thankfully pocketed the affront. One acre of land within the limits of the town plot of Shrewsbury, is worth 50 acres near the Lake Nipising, where the scare crows can hardly subsist, and are glad to have a chance of retreating to a more congenial climate. I am a man of no professional calling, neither have I any pretensions to scholarship or grammar. I have at the request of a few of my friends in Kent, committed my views upon paper, the public may take them the same as the man took his wife, for better or for worse. This communication, however, may serve as a leader to those who are competent and willing to throw more light on the subject.

Please Mr. Editor, insert this in your valuable paper, and I promise you my next will be much shorter; your compliance will oblige yours truly.

FRANCIS H. LAWRENCE.
Shrewsbury, March 20th, 1857.

FROM OUR PHILADEPHIA CORRESPONDENT.

To the Editors of the Provincial Freeman:

DEAR FRIENDS: You who have "fled for refuge," or emigrated for freedom, to Canada, are I presume very anxious to learn how "our people" view the decision of the Supreme Court, in the case of Dred Scott, &c.

With much pains, in my walks in this city, I have endeavoured to ascertain their opinions on the subject, and will report them for what they are worth. Of course quite a diversity of opinion and sentiment prevails—though this decision is precisely in keeping with the pro-slavery usages an policy of this Government, and hence just what might have been expected, nevertheless, its influence has been more discouraging and prostrating to the hopes of the colored man, than any preceding act of tyrany ever perpetrated upon him by this nation.

From the interested, or all hands, the anxious inquiry is made as to the source from whence to look for redress, or reversal of this atrocious decision; as to how it will effect our brethern in the Eastern States, where they have the right of suffrage &c. Some occupying the ground, that we are hopelessly doomed; some that only those of "African desent whose ancestors were of pure Afrsean blood and were brought into this country and sold as slaves," are included in the decision, or excluded from citizenship. Some affect to believe that they are 'glad' of it; that it will work ultimately to the advantage of those aimed to be ostracise &c. The hope of this class rests on the foundation that "the darkest hour is just before the break of day" and that great evils must be consummated thal good may come. Vain hope!

A leading (colored) Rev. gentleman of this city on being asked what he thought of the decisinn, replied: "first rate. "That pleases me precisely". And he added that he hoped that this "administration, would reopen the African Slave Trade, and import one hundred and fifty thousand natives, annually." "Next that all the barriers prohibiting slave holders from bringing their slaves into the Free states, would be removed, and finally that the white, mechanics &c, would be reduced to slavery; and the fulfilment of which he fancied emancipation would come. How would a prayer in keeping with such opes sound from Bethel Church? from one of her leading Ministers!

Some turn to Canada as a land of hope; in this trying hour. Others oppose because they apprehend that prejudice is about as virulent there as it is here: besides, with some the duty to stay here and fight it out seems paramount.

Mr. Wear, a distinguished leader amongst us very imphatically assumes the position that not a free man [!] can be spared, eve if all the attractions of Heaven could be found elsewhere: and the facilities in reaching such a place as favourable as they are in going to Canada. To many the idea that we must endure present ills may seem consistent, manly and noble; to my own mind however, viewing us with our hands tied, filling menial avocations, and made drudge horses of for the whites, generally, while in the eye of the nation, and the decision of the detestable Chief Justice Taney, we are "unfit associates for the white race, socially or politically;" as 'having no rights which white men were bound to respect', and as 'never being thought of or spoken of except as property'. I confess I see but a faint prospect of any very great change for the better, at least in the present generation. Therefore I am not of the number any longer to subscribe to the above "staying" &c doctrine; and verily hope never to again as long as this abothnible decision and present very constitution remains.

Of course if in taking a retrospective view of the free colored people in the Northern States, we could find them lively interested in their own cause, sustaining and establishing anti-slavery Presses and Advocates; vigorously contending for their rights; encouraging talent and genius amongst one another, it would then seem imperative duty to submit to existing circumstances.

But what are the facts in the case? Suppose I come directly home to this state, Pennsylvania, containing the largest number of colored inhabitants, the most wealth and intelligence perhaps of any nothern state in the Union, and how are we fighting it out? Out of the 30,000 inhabitants of Philadelphia, how many support anti-slavery papers, whether published by white or colored? I am confident, not four hundred. How many signatures have been procured this winter to send into the Legislature for the right of suffrage? certainly not three hundred. Two public meetings were held here in the early part of the winter to interest the people on the suffrage question, but both meetings contained less than forty persons; and although a committee of ten were appointed to agitate &c., I have yet to learn whether a single name has reached the Legislature, from this city, up to this hour.

To turn to our Library Companies and Literary Institutions, what do we find, but prostration and desertion! How few intelligent and respectable young men give them their support and countenance! How How very rarely are to be seen in the Anti-Slavery prints of the Country, elaborate productions on our rights or destiny from colored minds of Pennsylvania! It is hard to have to acknowledge these truths and it is with shame I do it; but concealment will avail us nothing. Indeed it is impossible to keep an intelligent public ignorant, while the question of the black-man is being so universally viewed. That there is another side to this picture I am aware of, and that the crushing tyranny to which we have been subjected is irrationally adduced as the chief cause of our delinquencies is also obvious; but that so many intelligent industrious and professedly liberty loving men amongst us should disregard a country whose laws proscribe no color; where all the immunities and priviliges are as sacred to the black man as to the white, as in Canada for instance: is, I confess a mystery that I cannot fathom. Here robbed of all our rights, experience teaches how slowly we have progressed; there in posession of all our rights—and citizen of the most powerful nation on earth, and as "fine a country for the poor man as the Sun ever shone upon," what would hinder us from rising?

Slavery—Fellowship,— Provincial Freeman, &c.

(Extract from letter of 19th March, to the Pilot, Montreal, by Mr. Linton of Stratford.)

7. But, in conclusion, cast a glance at our religious periodicals, from the Montreal Witness to the Christian Guardian of Toronto, (the latter the organ of the deceptive and slavery fellowshipping Wesleyan Methodists of Canada,)—there, in such periodicals it might be supposed something would be found to guard Canadians from having anytning to do with slavery-fellowship, slavery books, &c., or giving any cash support or any kind of countenance and support, to those from the other side who are so allied to slavery, or to those on this side,—but(excepting the "Evangelical Witness" of London, C. W., a practically pious paper of the New Connection Methodists)—all,—all—is mute!

Examine a file of John Dougall's Montreal Witness, (in its twelfth year,)—of the Christian Guardian, (in its twenty-eighth year)—of the Christian Messenger [Regular Baptist Brantford, C. W.,] or the Canadian Independent, [Congregationalist, Toronto, C. W.,] or the piously and cautiously written Ecclesiastical Record of the Free Presbyterians [Toronto,] and will we find any article or extract, to guard Canadians and Canadian ministers of religion, from having slavery-fellowship? No,—search, and my statements will be more than proved, for article from slavery [direct] and fellowshipping, neutral and silent, church publications, papers, &c., will be found and no monstrances found, excepting rarely something will be against slavery, I repeat, against slavery!—Till lately, it was the habit of John Dougal, in the Montreal Witness, to review the books of the American Tract Society and the American Sunday-School Union and insert advertisements, &c.,—without any remonstrance—and more than all this, he sold [and perhaps yet sells] their publications, knowing their affinities,—I am not to be told,—a truthful christian public are not to be told,—that other religious bodies do the same. "Two blacks do not make a white." is a common and a true maxim—and applicable in his case.

These religious publications can only be viewed by human observing eyes as impure and deceptive 'indoctrinators" of religion,—and how viewed by the Most High, can be thought of, when the first principles of our common christianity are pondered upon—in holy first,—Love the Lord thy God,— and second, and the one "like unto it"—thy neighbour as thyself,—the latter illustrated by such texts of scripture [best less so many others] and of the new Testament especially, as "He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen!"—[1 John.]

Again,—your readers will recollect the just anxiety in Montreal to establish a Missionary Society, on a general basis, and to have missionary laborers in what is called amongst us [!] "heathen lands"—and the many articles [well written too] in the Montreal Witness referable thereto.—In one of my extras on "Slavery as it is," I appended a sentence, which may not be inappropriately repeated here as an adjunct to what has been stated herein,—namely: "Missionaries from Canada, to non christian lands,—when they are on the scene of labor and asked if those who sent them, fellowship or fraternize with pro-slavery or silent societies, what can they answer? Montreal Witness, please think of this!"

For fifty years a Canada, the ministers of religion of Canada, and of the greater so many were fifty years ago and now are, beginning with the Wesleyan Methodists who imported themselves from the slave states along our border. Yes, slave states along our border as New York, and the others as Vermont then were, and alas! now still are,—for fifty years these ministers introduced the system of slavery fellowship with the vilest traffic under the sun, namely slavery, and are continuing the same till this day—so that now in 1857, we see the Wesleyan Methodists, the Regular Baptists, and the Congregationalists—and to the extent mentioned—the Free Presbyterians [who otherwise are to be praised in this matter as to opposition to slavery.]—we see them in Canada, upholding the slavery laws of the Slavists of the great slave Republic of the United States! In sorrow we state it,—but will these daring—and the more daring of them,—religionists feel any sorrow? Yes, as to slavery! The hypocrits!

8. A word for humanity, Dear Sir, in final conclusion. In Western Canada, at Chatham, C. W., and its neighbourhood there is a large settlement of colored people—and they have a newspaper there, representing their interests truthfully, conducted by free colored emigrants [not fugitives] from Pennsylvania, who are respectable and well educated, I mean Mrs. M. A. S. Cary and her brother Mr. I. D. Shadd, with help of others, let me note the circumstance, so as a generous and a humane public will extend their support and encouragement to it.—It is named the Provincial Freeman, published weekly, price one dollar and a half in advance. Here is a periodical which has tried to keep afloat, under difficulties, and amongst and for [chiefly] a people who are industrious, sober and anxious to do well—only, not willing to be imposed upon.—At the Buxton settlement [in Raleigh, C. W.,] there is a considerable number settled—and the Rev. Mr. King, [Presbyterian] deserves every praise for his unostentatious management. The impositions practised on the humane at a distance, as to the trials, &c., of the fugitives in Canada and the begging system so shamefully practiced also, out of Canada, find a complete exposure in the Freeman, and there is something yet to be reviewed as to St. Catherines, as to Dawn, [British institute!] in Canada, and some other things.—But truthful information can be obtained at Chatham. As your paper circulates in Britain, may the humane hearts there, recollect, that on British soil, at Chatham, C. W., there is a centre for usefulness,—as well as at London, C. W., and donations, &c., in that direction, on British ground are required, if needed at all. And there are good men in this Province, who can appreciate the intention of this reference.

Finally, on a review of the question of fellowship, there is no wonder then, that the good men and the true, of the United States, who advocate the slaves and the colored men's rights, hold up their hands in surprise and in sorrow, and exclaim, "there "indeed in Canada is the free soil, but it is "trod by ministers of religion, who worship "by look, by support, and by act, the sla-"very vermin of the South!"

I am, Dear Sir, &c,
J. J. E. LINTON.

The Inhabitants of Stratford C. W.

Names of the Teachers of Schools &c. &c.—As it is Stated that the Traffick and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically show the truth or untruth of the statement.

NOTE. The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country.—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britain's possessions; and make it in Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those assisting inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Heels" of our community—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are these, D. F. who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

☞ Will papers favourable to the cause, please copy.

We take great pleasure in giving insertion and drawing attention to the above. Could a census list of the kind be taken for Chatham, it would no doubt subserve a great purpose. Many a profane man hereabouts, will find an inebriates grave, because he has an excuse for his drinking practices, in the examples set him by Deacons, Elders, preachers and other professors of religion. The church in Canada is the bulwark of the liquor traffic, as the same body in the United States is of the slave trade. It is a lamentable fact, that tippling by the pious prevails to an alarming extent among our Canadian churches, both white and colored. That its no bar to membership, one would suppose to be also true, as men making loud professions deal in the trade—and a rebuke by the church for personal indulgence in the use of intoxication drinks is a rare occurrence, and only then of ministers, and not then till profanity, or some other vice in connection, has served to give prominence to the besetting sin. Neither is the practice confined to the denominations above mentioned, here, we will not answer for other places. Methodists, Baptists and Radicals, should come in for their share of blame, in towns and country in this county. That there is enough whisky used in the rural districts, to clear up the lands, and more than enough by churches in town to pay off the church debts we believe to be within the bonds of truth. Let the church only take up this work, and we shall see a different and better aspect of society.—MASC.

BOOK NOTICE.

LAKE NGAMI, WANDERING IN SOUTH-WESTERN AFRICA.—This book by Charles John Anderson, is the narrative of the explorations and observations of a scientific and sporting gentleman in that part of Afrtca, lying immediately North of the Cape Colonyr The book is clearly written, and exceedingly interesting and should be extensively read as its thorough perusal will effectually cure the African emigration fever. The extract beregiven from men of position contains in a nut-shell sufficient to satisfy anyone that the country is not fit for Americans or British emigrants.—C.

During the four months that I was absent from my men, I traveled, either alone or accompanied by a single native, sometimes on foot, and at others on horseback or ox-back, over upward of a thousand miles of country, parts of it emulating the Sahara in scarcity of water and general inhospitality. Tongue is too feeble to express what I suffered at times. To say nothing of narrow escapes from lions and other dangerous beasts, I was constantly enduring the cravings of hunger and the agonies of thirst. Occasionally I was as much as two days without tasting food: and it not unfrequently happened that in the course of the twenty-four hours I could only once or twice moisten my parched lips. Sometimes I was so overcome by these causes, coupled with bodily fatigue, that I fainted. Once both my steed and myself (as seen in the sketch below) dropped down in the midst of a sand-plain, where we remained a long time in a state bordering on unconsciousness, and exposed to all the injurious effects of a tropical sun. I would at times pursue my course with a pained and listless step, scarcely konwing what I was about, and staggering like a drunken man. "This," says Captain Messum, when speaking of the hardships he had undergone in a short tour into the interior of the West Coast, "was the pleasure of traveling in Africa. It requires the endurance of a camel and the courage of a lion."

SEAT OF GOVERNMENT QUESTION.

The vote of last Friday on this question which gave to Ministers a small, but sufficient majority from each section of the United Provinces, is a complete justification of the step proposed by Ministers to refer the vexed question of the Seat of Government to the Queen in Council.

"ONE THOUSAND FARMS IN CANADA."

Some hair brained fellow advertises in the Canadian News that he has "1000 farms of 100 acres each, 20 cleared 30 fenced and good houses, to be sold for £10 each cash, and £10 per annum"!

Now we will undertake to say that this schemer has not and never will have, any such farms for sale. The Government of Canada will allow no such speculations to be made of any lands they have for sale. They insist upon actual occupation for the benefits of the settler, and not for the enrichment of a pack of land sharks. Canada has suffered too much already by such grants, and they will never be repeated but with a view of encouraging and securing national objects, such as railroads and canals. We earnestly warn intending settlers against these cold-blooded robbers!—Toronto Times.

Dr. Beall, of Kentuck, sued the Cincinnati Inquirer for libel, in charging that he enticed a free negro man from that place to Kentuckey, and there offered him for sale to a negro trader. The damages claimed were $5,000, and the jury assessed them at $250.

AN AFRICAN EXODUS—The Petersburg [Va.] Express of Tuesday says:

"Our citizens are beginning to observe the unusual number of slaves that are constantly passing through Petersburg, on their way South; and to the minds of many the result appears inevitable that it will need the work of but ten or twenty years to clear Virginia of that part of her population. A company of one hundred passed through on Saturday."

PUNISHMENT OF SLAVES.—The Mississippi Legislature has just passed a bill prohibiting any owner of slaves from punishing them with more than "nine and-thirty lashes" at any one time, or for any one offence, under penalty of fine and imprisonment. All other unnecessary cruelty to slaves is also made indictable and punishable by fine and imprisonment.

[Here is another illustration of the tendency of the Anti-Slavery movement to ameliorate the condition of the slaves' by putting slaveholders on their good behaviour before a watchful public opinion.]

Mr. PERRY DAVIS:—I feel it to be my duty to bear my testimony to the efficacy of your Pain Killer. I have used it for years for complaints of the stomach and bowels. I had a very severe attack a few days of the ague, and such a pain in my back for three days and nights that I could get no rest. I sent and got a 25 cent bottle of the "Vegetable Pain Killer." I took a little inwardly, and bathed according to directions and one application has removed all pain, and I am able to write to-day, though with a trembling hand. The application was made last night about 9 o'clk and I had a sweet nights rest. I have recommended it for several years, as I have travelled a good deal, and it has given universal satisfaction where it has been used according to directions.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been, as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall be a welcome visitor, and also a profitable companion, when read, inasmuch as it is read. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and [illegible]

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

[illegible] facilities which delight the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Miss Sedgwick, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Means and Ends," &c., in a short space of time.

Engravings [illegible] important places, [illegible] and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 2½ cents a year.

TERMS.—The Terms of the Post are, Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - -	per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$10
13 do (and 2 to the getter up of the Club)	$15
20 do (and 3 to the getter up of the Club)	$20.

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription [illegible]

EXTRA COPIES TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, as it thus prevents confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be collected from the amount.

Post Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by sending a note to the Publishers, (Post paid.)

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them mere cuts copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated [illegible] in Canada, by colporteurs [illegible] by The Society's and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as Pro-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed especially on a REPUBLICAN Basis, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c., have been named as it were, (since religious, humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a PASSIVE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,— [illegible] are opposed [illegible] SLAVERY and our noble Province [illegible] for the free,—or the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian [illegible] in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies.

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication, Chesnut street Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [south], Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia.—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] American Anglican Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Beekman streets, N. Y.
7. American Seaman's Friend Society, Wall and South streets, Astor Place, New York.

These are the principal societies, respectively and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What Books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the heathen, &c.—and the publication on the spot, as Canadians have not received. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

WHAT MAKES A MAN

A truthful soul, a loving mind,
Full of affection for its kind,
A spirit firm, erect and free,
That never basely bends the knee,
That will not bear a feather's weight
Of slavery's chain, for small or great,
That truly speaks from God within,
That never makes a league with sin;
That snaps the fetters despots make,
And loves the truth for its own sake,
That worships God and him alone,
And bows no more than at His throne;
That trembles at no tyrants nod,
A soul that fears no one but one God
And thus can smile at curse or ban,
This is the soul that makes a man.

STRANGE AND HORRIBLE FEATURES OF UNITED STATES SLAVERY.

There are very rare periods in the history of the world when facts the most outrageous and dreadful follow each other in such rapid succession as to cease to produce the startling effect which, at any other time, and if occurring singly, they would inevitably produce. Such was the case in the reign of terror of the French Revolution, in the seige of Jerusalem, and during the plague in Athens and in London. Men's minds seemed then to be stunned with the fearful scenes or tidings which followed each other as fast and relentlessly as the blows of an assasin, and they had no longer the power of wondering at any thing, or of estimating crime and evil aright. Just so is it with the events occuring in our own day in the slave States of America. They are so strange, so unnatural, so outrageous, so indescribable, so grotesque, (if we may use the term) in their horror and wickedness, that any one of them alone would excite the indignation of the world, and yet they follow each other so rapidly that they stun our moral sence, and we lose the power of adequately appreciating them. We record them and speak of them with comparative calmness; they do not horrify and agonize us as they certainly would if any one of them came upon us separately, and so to secure our attentive consideration.

Let our reader reflect for a few moments on each of the following facts, which are mere samples of the events in the modern history of the slave States of America. Would they have believed, unless proved to them by testimony beyond all possible question, that in the blaze of the civilization of the nineteenth century, and in a Christian land, such things as the following could have taken place? —

That human beings should be bred, in certain States, to be sold as slaves in other States, and that this breeding and traffic should go on as regularly as with the graziers and drovers who bring cattle from highland to lowland markets!

That fathers should remorselessly sell their own children into hopeless and murderous bondage!

That regular establishments should be formed for blood hounds, to hunt the wretched men and women who flee from servitude!

That in the open market-places of elegant cities there should be auction-blocks, where human creatures of both sexes are exposed nearly naked, and knocked down to the highest bidder!

That in these and all other sales, the dearest bonds of relationship should be ruthlessly severed—wives being torn from their husbands, and children from their mothers!

That the system should be attended by hideous licentiousness the young women being compelled to become the concubines of their owners, and being made to breed slaves to be sold for their own father's profit!

That the slaves should be flogged at the discretion of theis owners, and that in very many instances they should be flogged to death!

That in the States where these things are "as notorious as the sun at noon-day," legislatures should enforce the laws; nay, that ministers of religion should defend the system and themselves practise its enormities!

That the Press itself should be so prostituted as to vindicate slavery, nay, even to maintain that it is the natural and best state of human society, and to argue that the state of freedom is WORSE than that of slavery!

That the States depraved by this system should audaciously claim as a right that the Union should extend slavery into new Territories, nay, should seize fresh Territories from foreigen Powers for this purpose, and should even go to war to effect that object!

That, not finding material enough at home for their covetousness and cruelty, the slave owners should be actually proposing to revive the African slavr-trade, which has been declared piracy by every civilzed government!

That the slave States should extend slavery by open force and civil war,—sending an army into a neighboring territory, (Kansas,) driving away legal voters from the polls, electing a Legislature by ruffian invaders, enacting by that Legislature one of the most horrible codes of laws ever known, carrying those laws into effect by imprisoning a Governor, and hundreds of freemen for maintaining therr freedom, and all for the express purpose of extending the dominon of slavery!

That when these atrocious deeds are exposed in the Congress of the United States at Washington by one of the best and ablest of the Senators, he should be brutally beaten to the earth with a bludgeon by one of his fellow-senators, and his life endangered, and that the wrong-doer should receive no punishment, but, on the contrary, be loaded with honors!

That the great people of the United States should, after all these things, elect as their President, a man who is pledged not only to maintain the existing system, but to extend it by the acquisition or seizure of foreign territory!

It is surely impossible for the graet people of the Untied States to endure much longer such outrages and abominations as those of which we have presented specimens. If they do, it will be the worst reason to freedom, and the greatest scandal to civlization and Christianity, recorded in history.—Leeds Mercury [Eng.]

THE SPECTRE FIRE SHIP.

Many, many years ago a ship called the Palantine sailed from Holland, with a large number of Dutch passengers, bound to a new home in North America. Soon after leaving port, it became geurally known that many of the passengers were wealthy, and had a large amount of gold and silver in their possession Three weeks elapsed, when the captain and his crew conceived the idea of enriching themselves by plundering and murdering the inoffensive and unsuspicious persons in their power. They first reported their provisons spoils, but managed to sell hard biscuits for a guinea each. This process was at length suspended, and disease and famine had full sway. The winds were favourable, all were not yet dead, and lo! the vessel was floating off Block Island, The few passengers who still survived might still live to tell their tale of woe, and so the ship must be destroyed with all her living freight. The captain and his crew piled their ill-gotten wealth in their tow yawls, and having scuttled and set fire to the ship, they embarked for the neighboring island, where they landed, just as the great mass of flame sank hissing into the deep. The pirates told the islanders a plausible story, and for many months they lived in a house which is still pointed out to the curious vistor—but is a mere ruin. The pirates quarrelled, separated, and left for parts unknown. For many years thereafter, the house was deserted by all persons of flesh and blood, but thickly peopled with ghosts—with pale women in white, old men reduced to skeletons, and children with bloody faces, and whenever they made their appearance at the witching time of night, there were heard the most frightful cries of anguish In process of time the spectres all disappeared; but of late years, whenever a great storm is about to lash the ocean into fury, the Fire Ship is distinctly seen in the offing; her hull a mass of cinders, and upon this phantom man times, and some of them allege that they have seen the sufferers imploring Heaven for succour, and heard their shriks of despair.—Lanman's Adventures in he Wilds of the United States.

THE FRENCH DEFEAT IN CANADA.

On ascending the Restiogouche form Dalhousie, whether by land or water, the traviler will be everywhere impressed with the manifold charms of its scenery; and among the more prominent objects of interest which will attention, at the respective distance above the town of eight, twelve and forten milles, will be the several points named Animapk, Le Garde, and Battery Point. Upon all these, as may be gathered from the older inhabitains of the region, there once stood warlide fortifications, but so long ago that their remains are almost obliterated by adense growth of forest trees. The story which they reveal is this,—When, in the autumn of 1760, the French were driven from Acadia, or Nova Scotia, the ships in which they sailed were hotly pursued by the British; and, instead of making their "deserred haven," which was the River St. Lawrence, they acidentally entered the Bay of Chaleur. The British yursed them as far as the Restigouche; but as winter was nigh at hand, the pursuers abandoned the chase, and went to England, while the pursued ascended the river and built themselves cabins upon the shore as well as the three forts alsons a ready mentioned. Early in the following spring the British fleet, commanded by Captain John Byron, of the Louisbourg memory, returned from England, sailed up the Restigouche, and with one blow totally destroyed the habitations, batteries, and vassels of the unfortnate French. Seven skeletons of the destroyed vessal, which numbered some twenty-two in all, may be seen ... the bed of the Restigouche at the present day: as "lasting tokens of this great victory" in the shape of French cannon and swords, pistols, cutlasses, military buttons, spurs, gun barrels, bayonets, iron pans, and spoons, may be seen in the possession of the older inhabitaints; but the most curious articles recently discovered are a bottle of molasses, a small cask of wine, and a number of iron balls, found incased in the trunks of certain trees growing on the banks of the river. As the tide of good fortune was decidedly against France at time in question—for with her defeat on the Restigouche terminated her dominion in Acadia and Canaca—and as England unquestionably hand to advantage in the affair, the result was not to be wondered at; and yet the victory was rendered more complete by the heroism of a British sailor. His name has not come down to us, but the deed he performed was this: He was a prisoner on board of a French ship, and while yet the British fleet were at the mouth of the Restigouche meditating a plan of attack, he made his escape at night, and with the assistance of a plank, swam a distance of sixteen miles, and having boarded one of the ships of his country, marked out the exact position of the enemy, and the victory immediatly following.—Lanman's adventures.

MAKING KANSAS A SLAVE STATE.

The work being done by the pro-slavery men to carry their favorite and peculiar institution into Kansas is silently progressing, but is vigorous and adroit. Judge "Jeffries" Lecompte, is not removed after all, and is not likely to be. The Legislature, instead of repealing the worst features of the "bloody code" have made it more barborous, intolerant and diabolical than ever. The measures taken by the Ruffians are almost certain to bring Kansas before the Congress for admission as a State, with a Slave Constitution. The following from the Lecompton correspondence of the Missouri Democrat, will show the drift of Pro-Slavery policy:

The bill for the census and providing for the election of delegates for the Constitutional Convention, has passd both Houses without amendment, just as it came from the joint committee It has been sent to the Governor for his signature so that it can be passed over his veto, in case he should veto it. It leaves the entire management of the census-taking and the election in the hands of the county-officers appointed by this body. It also provides that the census shall be taken before the first of April; none arriving after that time can be listed as voters. Those listed are merely required to be "inhabitants" up to or on the first of April. All cases of election frauds are to be determined by the Convention itself, when it assembles, and not by the Governor, who has no power in the matter, by this bill. The whole thing is regard as a part of a plan comtamplating fraud, and giving no chance for justice. The Free State settlers declare that it would be folly to go into such an election, and they will not. It is not intended to submit the constitution so framed to the people.—Cincinnati Commercial, March 2nd.

Agricultural, &c.

KITCHEN GARDEN.—The operation in this department must depend upon the weather. If the weather be mild, then pursue the following, but if cold and backward, delay proportionably:

"Gardeners should never sleep while the sun is up."—Buist

Artichokes.—Dress plants by the 15th, if mild. Sow seeds in moderate hot-beds, if not already done. Plant out suckers from old plants.

Asparagus.—Sow seed; plant out two-year old plants; force and dress beds.

Beet—Plant.

Basil—Sow.

Lima Beans.—Start in-doors, in sods reversed in boxes, in time to plant out after frosts, they are tender, and must not be exposed until settled weather.

Early Windsor and English Long Pod Beans—Plant as soon as settled weather. They are more hardy than Limas, but the leaves will suffer by the frosts—are inferior in quality

Beets—Sow; Borage—Sow; Borecols—Sow; early; Broccoli—Sow; Burnet—Plant; Cabbages—Plant out and sow early in hotbeds for safety if settled weather in April, may sow out-doors; Early Carrots—Sow.

Cauliflowers—Prick out from frames—give air freely to those protected, and prick out early spring raised, in April.

Early Corn—May be planted if settled weather. Cress—Sow; Coriander—Sow early; Corn Salad—Sow; Garlic—Plant; Horse Radish—Plant; Sea Kale—Plant or sow: Leeks—Sow; Lettuce—Sow; prick out and plant from frames; Mushroom Beds—Make; Nasturtium—Sow.

Onions—Sow. Plant out small onions or pips; plant seeds thickly to raise for next year's use. Plant large onions to raise seed. Potato and tree onions, plant; Parsley.—Sow.

Potatoes—Plant, and if you can get them plant the Mammoth Nutmeg Potato—they are the earliest as well as the best potato known. If these cannot be had, plant early kinds; or if your seed be of late kinds, at least plant them early, as both early kinds, and early planted late kinds, are less liable to the potato disease than late planting.

we received a letter from Mr. James Campbell, of Weston, N. J., who says, that although other sorts potatoes were destroyed by the rot, the Mammoth Nutmegs were entirely sound.

Sweet Potatoes—Plant in hot-beds, to get sprouts for setting out.

Pennyroyal—Plant; Radishes—Sow Rhubarb—Sow and plant Rochambol, Rosemary and Sage—Plant; Sage—Plant; Salsify—Sow; Savoys—Sow; Sorrel—Sow; Spinach—Sow, Thyme and Tarragon—Plant out; Thyme—Sow; Tomatoes—Sow in hotbeds; Turnips—Sow; Wormwood—Sow.—Sat. Exp. Post.

Meadows and Old Fields.—If you have any meadows or old fields that are swarded-bound, or which bore but indifferent crops of hay last season, give them a thorough harrowing as soon as the frost is out of the surface, while the ground is soft, then sow to each acre four quarts of timothy seeds, teen pounds of clover seed, one bushel of plaster of Paris, five bushels of wood ashes, and five bushels of newly-slaked lime, all well mixed, and finish off by rolling.—A. Agriculturist.

If, after the above, you will sprinkle the surface with 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, (cubic petre) in solution, much benefit will ensue.

Fields occupied by winter grain, if partially winter killed, should be harrowed, the bare spots sown with spring grain or clover, and suitable top-dressing, and then the whole rolled Any roots disturbed by the harrow will be partially restored by the roller to the soil, and the abrasion will cause such roots to tiller (throw out new shoots from the first joint), and thus give full crops.

Top dress pasture and mowing land's and winter grains with 1cwt. of improved Super Phosphate of Lime per acre.

Prepare and Sow Spring Grains.—Plough deeply manure fully.—Ib.

A correspondent of the Scientific American says "I have been informed by a European acquaintance that the malestrom has no existence. A nautical and scientific expedition went out and sailed all aroud and over where the maelstrom was said to be, but could not find it; the sea was as smooth where the whirlpool ought to be, as any other part of the German ocean.

WASHINGTON.—March 27.—Lord Napier came here with four or five millions of claims against our Government for the distruction of alleged property of British subjects at the bombardment of Greytown.

Two weeks befor the late administration went out, Mr. Garheys proposed demands on behalf of French subjects, requesting Mr. Marcy to leave them open for adjustment to his successor, but he prepared a reply which is regarded as conclusive against our liability, and Lord Napier not feeling its force and bearing upon England or Canton, will withold [illegible] reclamati...

Colored men of the States.

After struggling for years for their political rights, holding convention after convention, spending much time and means to demonstrate their ability for self-government, what great good has resulted therefrom? Again in some of the States, the political Constitution serving brethren, have organized military companies, and occasionally march after the sound of the drum, showing their determination to support the government that oppresses them; evidently wishing to exhibit their love of country, notwithstanding their conceded disabilities.

To what eminence in the scale of political equality have they attained? The recent decision of the United States Court has decided the controversy, and prostrated all the past efforts of the colored man.

Who are American citizens among the masses of colored Northern State men? There are none according to the lately declared meaning of the Constitution. We are of opinion that people proscribed in their native land, denied the rights of citizenship, without claim to government protection, must feel to be but little superior in condition to the slave, and according to the "Fugitive Slave Law" they are all as liable to arrest, and may be subjected without the greatest difficulty on their part, to the same degradation; in reality a population of monenties, without existence in the body politic.

We do not rejoice at their downfall, but regret that those whom we supposed had better judgment, should have remained in such utter darkness, in hope of surmounting the machinations of the pro-slavery people of the S. With all that has been said or done against them, we hear that now as formerly, the leaders are speaking out in commanding terms to the masses: "Do not leave the States; it is our home and we'll stay and contend for our rights:" How determined! Now if they intend to repose under the shade of the tree that was planted at the Rochester convention, we will not object, but according to the late decision the whole body are trespassers, and can be driven from under their tree at option. Again, should they be permitted to "repose under it," there will be but the glimmer of a shade, as the tree seems rootless and without proper nutriment. The contention for rights, then must end in talk, and the few great Orators, Journalists, &c., who have kept up the hubbub, like the eagle, after soaring above all, must come down to the earth to find a permanent resting place; while thousands that have been their adherents, will stand as living victims to the continual outpouring of superlative nonsense. The affinity between the Northern and Southern pro-slavists, is such, when considering the aid of Southern colored men,--Slaves!—the unwitting promoters of the designs of their owners by the three-fifths representation—together with the fact, that, the eloquent oratory and influence of the most popular colored men of the United States shields the blood stained pro-slavery political party from view as pro-slavery, thereby measuring arms with freedom, and adding strength to the South, that their whole efforts have been of a downward tendency, and leadership has proven abortive. We shall wait patiently, but look for a hurried emigration e'er long, of a large portion of the most intelligent nominally free men to these Provinces, in search of what they so long waited for but failed to get.

Here is a prosperous and free government, untrammeled in her laws and healthful in prospects; with lands and resources capable of sheltering and sustaining, the half million free colored people of the Northern States, and the same number of foreigners from Europe.

The Canadas have been reputed by the people of the States to be but a suitable refuge for the fugitive; but permit us to say, these fugitives are men! many of them acknowledged British subjects, and those that are not, in due time will be.—I. D. S.

"STEALING THE LIVERY OF HEAVEN TO SERVE THE DEVIL"

The Rev. S. Ewer an agent of the Free Mission Baptists, has lately written a letter to the American Baptist, in which the Refugees in Canada are represented as needing aid "in order to live".—The Canadian whites, are charged with being not only deficient in sympathy, but as,"not wanting our slaves" to come to the Provinces; and free colored men are said to be indifferent to their fugitive brethern &c. We cannot conceive of a more untruthful, contradictory, and injurious letter than this same, in part, and in the whole! A new impulse is by this means, to be given to the wholesale begging we suppose.—Mr. Ewer said when in London, during the winter, that after having travelled to the settlements, and among the colored people, extensively, he was of opinion from observation and testimony that there was no need of the begging for fugitives.—That as a few of their Churches (Free Mission Baptists) needed aid in their erection &c., —insta ce the Dawn Church,—their society would help them; but the begging for food, clothes &c., for the people at large, was wrong. This was said after a visit to the admirable settlement of Buxton, into which such aid is not permitted to be sent; and after having been among some of the most destitute settlements.

But the Reverend gentleman has neared the region of the Refugees Home,—that moral pest of Canadian Refugees, and of a sudden, his optics become clearer. 'Tis an insult to the Elgin settlement to be put in such degrading juxtaposition,—for the Home is clearly sought to be introduced into favourable notice by the association, although so daintily handled.

What had the Foote and the "Feet," Committeee, agents, &c., to do with getting up that letter we would like to know? Begging agents of societies among refugees, have a "trick" of letting one another alone—that is—however much of wrong in the one, others may be cognizant of, there shall be no exposure on the one hand, provided the other party shall be suffered to proceed in filling its coffers—though their aims, views and professions may be widely different. Mr. Ewer goes a little farther; he directly endorses one, the most obnoxious to charges by the colored people; defies all their repeated protests against the begging, and yet farther, selects a most important crossing point, and the point from which the strongest remonstrances ever sent were issued—Windsor, the place where the Joneses, Freemans, Reynolds, Bushes, Keyes', and other noble and benevolent men, free born and fugitives, have for years helped, cared for, and burried the needy fugitive! Windsor! from whence went a protest of forty odd to the Liberator against C. C. Footes begging and misrepresentation, and where white men and colored men of respectability, have always been active in aid of the refugees. Windsor was selected as the point from whence to send the missive on its wicked errand, by way of the columns of the American Baptist.

The religious body known as the Free Mission Baptists—we respect highly,—they are right on the slavery question—they are right in sympathy to the slave, but they are wrong in so far as they impose upon us and support their superannuated ministers, and give head to their messages to revivify the almost defunct begging degradation.

What despotism was ever equal to that of pushing and hounding on to further debasement, the men who would be self-reliant and loyal in this free land? But we cannot believe that such a respectable body will countenance this great wrong, even in so old a man as Mr. Ewer.—M. A. S. C.

The Hon. Colonel Prince in Parliament.

The friends and supporters of this gentleman view his present Parliamentary course with the most intense satisfaction.

His position on the "Bill to Amend the Legislative Council Act," meets the approbation of many of his former opponents as well as well as his supporters, in this Division.

The active partizanship of officials in the last canvass was unblushing, without concealment and was familiar to, and has been commented upon by our citizens, freely.

As a striking proof of the change of views wrought by his course in one particular among opponents, our neighbour the Planet [the organ during the canvass of the opposing candidate] says:—

We coincide with him that it is not fair that a person holding a seat in the Lower House should contest a constituency for a seat in the Upper House, without first having resigned such former seat; and if the law touching this matter is so vague to cause lawyers to disgrace as to its strength then we agree that it ought to be amended.

A little further on, however, true to the instinct of self-preservation, and to personal and party preferences, our contemporary hath the following:—

In reference to the assertion put into the mouth of the Sheriff, that "he had seven horses in his stable, and that their hide and liver should be worn off their backs, before Col. Prince should be elected," we have the best authority for stating that no language of that description was ever uttered by the gentleman referred to And that he ever used his office or authority in favor of any particular candidate is what no man in this or the adjoining country would dare to impute to him. In fact, although the Hon. Mr. Prince tells the House he ought to be removed from his office, we believe that if a petition were circulated through our whole population of 20,000, not one man would be found to sign a paper to displace him, but every one would sign it for the purpose of retaining him in it. The same may with equal truth be said in reference to our Crown Land Agent Mr. Brooke, and the Registrar Mr. Knapp, who by-the by, Mr. Prince puts down as a supporter of Mr. Rankin, whereas he was an admirer and supporter of Mr. Prince's friend, Mr. Dougall.

Now we beg to say that the best way to test the truth or falsity of that last, is, to get up the petitions to remove, two at least, and if signatures will not be produced we misinterpet what we hear every day. "Not one man". Fudge!!—M.A.S.C.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

MR. EDITOR:—The excitement of the day has been such as to induce me to pen you a line, hoping that you may give it an an insertion in your next issue. My object in thus writing is to say a word in condemnation of the ignorant expressions of some bigoted, would be judges of articles emanating from eminent Canadian writers—articles to complicated for their shallow minds to fathom. Severe threats have been made by some of these pompous dictators, such as would, if they were justly dealt with, put them to some trouble; and it is necessary that they be watched with a vigilant eye.

Their ignorance is the soul cause of the animosity existing. One Reverand who has not learned to speak good English yet, talked about cutting his shirt into strings to tie up the man that wrote the article, with the word "Fugitive" in it. A cobler hard by, thought the Freeman office might get torn down; another, a man with "capting" to his name, who expects to take command of a stalwart company of young men, had much to say about it—thought he would, or could call a public meeting and turn your paper "up side down". The above are all church members! "Small potatoes, and few in a heap".

Yours,
X. Y. Z.

Similar threats to those named by our friend X. Y. Z., have been made because the word "fugitive" occurred, by the way of explanation in an article, copied by us last issue.

As the agitators in this case have nothing to do, and as "an idle mans mind is the Devils work shop" such ebulitions are to be expected, there will hardly be much harm done, as such parties mostly take it out in talking; yet, we shall take the example of wiser heads in this instance, and "in time of peace prepare for war".

It is needless to say that such ignorant demonstrations, only nerve us on to more determined work for the entire dissipation of these unmistakeable marks of degradation. "An indignation meeting!" Get it up!—"Tear down the Freeman office" we would rather see that than hear talk about it. "Use his garments for a lash!" Has he any to spare?—Eds. Freeman.

THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS.

The Public Accounts for the year 1856 were brought down by the Inspector General last night. The returns of Customs' Duties and other items have already been published, and there is little else of importance under the item of Revenue.

Slavery and Slavery Fellowship.

MONTREAL YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PILOT.

DEAR SIR:—I observe in the Pilot of the 14th instant (sent me by some kind friend, and received to-day, for I get the weekly edition only,) an extract from the Montreal Witness as to the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association, in connection with slavery. The question referred to was the very proper refusal of the young men of Montreal to consent to hold an Association meeting at Richmond, Virginia, U S, in a noted Slave state;—but the impropriety, the inhumanity, the [wickedness,] (for I can use no other term justly, and I refrain from such which might properly be used,) of Associations in Canada, churches, and congregations, ministers of religion, tract societies, and prominent religious men, therein, that wickedness is every day displayed in thinking and observing Canadians, in the [fellowshipping] with pro-slavery and silent ("dumb dogs") religious organizations of the United States. These in Canada may, as they do, proclaim against "slavery" as slavery,—for it is brutish and heathenish,—but what avails that proclamation, that resolution, that action of discipline, that anything, in our religious organizations, while the resolvers, proclaimers, &c. encourage in Canada the actions and doings of such despicably base (on this question) Societies as the American Tract Society of 150 Nassau Street, New York,—the American Sunday School Union of Philadelphia—the Associations and Societies of the Regular Baptists of the Northern, and hypocritically styled Free, States,—the Old School Presbyterians of Philadelphia (will the Rev. D. Fraser of Montreal and his colleague think of this in their colportage for the Free Presbyterians of Canada?)—the mean and hypocritical action and workings of the Pro-slavery Methodist E. Church (north) of 200 Mulberry street, New York,—so grossly homologated and added to by the Wesleyan Methodists of Canada, in the fraudulent and cheating process practised on a Canadian people in the issue of the "CANADA Sunday School advocate," which purports to be a Canadian production, issued from Toronto, C. W., (at the Book-room, by G. R. Sanderson,) while it is a copy, excepting some short editorials, and not always this exception even,—the "Sunday School advocate," issued by said Pro-slavery body at 200 Mulberry Street, New York, and this statement I dare any Wesleyan Minister, Preacher or Layman in Canada with truth to deny. Besides its republican virtues! its open republican sentiments, its treasonable statements, —in a British Province!!

The Methodists may, as they do, swallow the deception, and get along with such, and with Canadian money collections: but an "honest man," with the Bible in his hand, and its precepts in his heart, cannot. Let your readers turn up the number of that deceptive "Canada Sunday School Advocate" of 8th November, 1856, and judge for themselves—and the leading article therein, under date Toronto, C. W., which denounces Kings, Queens, and all monarchical governments, was written in republican New York, printed there, (as said is) and sent for distribution to loyal Canada, to be circulated amongst the rising generation of boys and girls, and was so circulated. I write what I can prove; and my proof, printed and written, is now before me, and, when authoritatively denied, I am ready. In the meantime, the statements and facts in the "Voice of the Bondsman," No. 2, (second edition,) can be digested and pondered upon! I send you some additional copies.

What avails it, then, all such resolutions, &c., whether of the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association, or of others. The whole is humbug; pure quasi religious deception.

When shall the truthful spirit be shown in Canada, in religious matters? When will the (Protestant) Montreal Witness, with "good" John Dougall as its proprietor at its head, begin to write articles against fellowshipping with slavery, slave agents, and pro-slavery things, selling and colporting their books and tracts, and not "gull" a Canadian people by inserting articles only, against slavery! Why, dear Sir, if the very brutes of the earth were endowed with the faculty of speech, so as to make us understand, they would proclaim not only against slavery itself, but against the avoiding of the question of fellowship, which, from John Dougall downwards, in all religious periodicals, (with the exception, I recollect of, of the New Connexion Methodists organ, the Evangelical Witness,) has been, in Canada, avoided and eschewed, likely for a very good reason, that such professing religionists were themselves guilty! [For list of religious periodicals in Canada see said "Voice" No. 2]

There is no mincing the matter with the writer of this letter; and, though placed far West, in what was so lately the wilderness of Canada, (as it was when we pitched our 14 x 12 shanty in the trees,) I hope to be spared to keep the guilt of John Dougall, of the Montreal Witness, and all others concerned, before a Canadian people, till they confess their bad acts, bad management, deceptive and hypocritical conduct—and republican propagandism!

I am, dear Sir, &c.,
J. J E. LINTON.

SAD ACCIDENT.—A young man, son of Bryan Mc Donald, Dover Town-Line, had his leg badly smashed, on Tuesday March 24th, which resulted in the death of the sufferer, Doctors Sewewright and Cooper, we are informed, were in attendance, and after amputation of the leg, the young man expired. The death of the unfourtanate sufferer, our informant supposes to have been caused by loss of blood before medical assistance could be had.—Kent Advetiser.

Last night a supper was given at Sword's Hotel, in honor of St. Patrick's Day. About sixty sat down to an elegant repast and all went smoothly enough till about 4 o'clock in the morning. By that hour several were found to have imbibed much more freely than would St. Patrick—thereupon they forgot themselves and began to make unseemly remarks respecting the black servants who were waiting at table. The blacks being somewhat more sober than the whites resented this, and strange as it may appear a melee took place between the guests and their attendants, when one of the men upon whom the sun had looked, and being like Sambo Sutton rather handy with the "bunch of fives," planted a blow on the os frontis of a gentleman holding a high office under government which showed pretty evidently this morning that he had been keeping up St Patrick's day.—[Toronto Cor. Kent Advertiser April 1st]

DREADFUL ACCIDENT ON THE ILLINOIS CENTERAL RAILROAD.

FIVE MEN KILLED AND EIGHT INJURED.—NARROW ESCAPE OF A WHOLE TRAIN OF PASSENGERS.

We learn from a gentleman who arrived yesterday from La Salle, that a frightful accident occurred on Thursday morning on the Illinois Central Railroad near La Salle. The particulars are as follows:—

About 7 o'clock in the morning, the gravel train, loaded with labourers who work along the line, started from La Salle southward. The train crossed the bridge all right, and as the engine came on to the embankment on the other side of the bridge, it all at once gave way, and the whole train was precipitated a distance of probably 25 feet. Four men were killed on the spot, and one died a few hours afterwards. Eight others were severely injured, some, with broken legs, arms, &c. The engineer and fireman escaped with their lives, though somewhat injured.

The marvel is that so many escaped, the heavy rains of last Sunday, along with the general thaw that ensued, had so softened the embankment, that it appeared as soft and incapable of bearing up a train as the softest kind of mud Whenever the engine came off the bridge it seemed as if it had fallen over a precipice.

But disasterous as the occurrence has proven, it seems providential that it is not much more fatal. The passenger train ought to have passed over the road at that point on Wednesday night, by some trivial accident was delayed, and did not arrive at the fatal spot till after the gravel train was wrecked. As it was loaded with passengers, boxed up in close cars, the sacrifice of life that would have attended its attempt to cross must have been much larger,

Our informant did not learn the names of the dead and injured. They were all Irishmen at work on the road, and probably all have families. Chicago Express.

The President's health is in a precarious state and his friends begin to feel alarmed. He is obliged to retire at 8 o'clock to rest, that he may be able to perform his duties. Mr. Breckenridge may yet be President.—[Belvidere Standard.]

OUT OF POCKET.—The Inauguration Ball at Washington is said to have proved an unprofitable speculation to the managers, who lost $3,000 by it. Among the items composing the bill of fare were the following:

$3,000 worth of wine, 4,000 gallons of oysters, 500 quarts of chicken salad, 1,200 quarts of ice cream, 500 quarts of jellies, 60 saddles of mutton, 4 of venison, 8 rounds of beef, 75 hams, 125 tongues, besides plates of various kinds. At the head of the table was a pyramid cake four feet high, with a flag of each State and Territory, and the coat of arms of each printed on it.—Ib.

ADDITIONAL BY THE EUROPA.

England was excited by electioneering movements It is believed Palmerston will carry a small majority. He continues to receive addresses of confidence.

Notice has been given in the Commons, of an inquiry respecting the present relations with the United States.

Lord Elgin had given a similar notice in the House of Lords.

The Earl of Clarendon stated in answer to a question, that the Persian treaty was most satisfactory. Persia was to evacuate Herat within three months after the ratification, whereupon England would immediately evacuate the Persian territory. All future disputes between Persia and Afghanistan are to be referred to the arbitration of England. —Palmerston in the House said the treaty was in all respects a better one than Persia offered to accept at Constantinople. Mr. Laboachere said recent advices indicate tranquillity in the northern part of China,

It was rumored that the Duke of Newcastle had been offered a special misson to China and had refused.

FRANCE.—The Neufchatal conference progresses very slowly.

An exchange of notes on the Chinese difficulty had taken place between England and France.

SPAIN—Spain was quiet. Preparation for the invasion of Mexico continued on a large scale. It is thought operations will be limited to the blockade and bombardment of Vera Cruz, and will not embrace the landing of a military force.

The Espana, government organ, demands that France and England shall request the United States to remain neutral

French ships are ordered to cruise off Vera Cruz.

A special Mexican minister had arrived at Southampton en route to Madrid, for the purpose of arranging difficulties. In the meantime the war programme contemplates bringing Santa Anna from retirement and lending him aid to capture Vera Cruz.

TURKEY.—The Sultan has presented France with the Church of Nativity and Palace of Knights of St. Johns, at Jerusalem.

RUSSIA.—The Carenssians have again beaten the Russians on the bank of the Save, driving them across the river, with a loss of 400 men, field pieces and baggage.

LATEST—LONDON (Saturday)—The Earl of Elgin has accepted a special mission to China.

ARRIVAL OF THE ILLINOIS.

NEW YORK, March 28.

The steamship Illinois arrived at 8 o'clock this morning, with California dates to the 5th. The steamer Panama, from San Juan, arrived at Panama with 125 deserters from Walker. They were in a most destitute condition.—Their passage to the United States was paid by the Costa Rican Government. One hundred left on the Grenada. The number remaining came in the Illinois. The Illinois left Aspinwall, March 19th. The Costa Rican papers state that 3000 troops are to be added to the allied forces. General Cavas would march against San Juan del-Sur. The intention is to surround Walker with 1000 troops. Nothing late from Walker's position. His case is considered desperate.

At lates dates from Bogota, the proposition of Mr. Morse, our special envoy to Grenada were under secrt consideration. There seemed to be but little chance of an amicable arrangement. The tone of the press and a majority of Congress is of the bitterest opposition. The publication in El-Tempo of what purported to be Mr. Morse's propositions had created great excitment on the Isthmus.

The native are anxious that the government will refuse the proposition, although they expect the result will be the military occupation of the Isthmus, by the United States. Some of the deserters from Walker state that his troops had unanimously refused to leave Rivas to fight, but were willing to defend their position.

California news un-important generally.

Markets dull at former prices:—Flour $16 with some speculative movements.

The Supreme Court of California has decided that the Legislature has no authority to appropriate money to pay interest on the State debt, and that the Court will enjoin against leveying a tax for that purpose.

THE ENGLISH IN CHINA.

The following extracts from a letter dated dated Hong Kong and describing the proceedings of the amiable objects of so much Parliamentry solicitude, will be read with interest:—

"The Chinese emboldened by their successful incendiarism in the foreign factories, have assumed offensive operations, while the squadron under the command of Admiral Seymour, being composed of vessels of large size, has been unable to do more than maintain its ground and keep open communications with this colony. There appears to be no chance of the obstinacy of the mandarins giving away until the arrival of such a force as will be able to act against them with effect. This the gunboats on the way hither are expected to afford but in the meantime the entire population seems arming against foreigners without distinction, and some fearful hazzards have marked the progress of the last month, acts of assassination having been frequent for the purpose of obtaining the head money offered by the Provincial Government.

"Jan. 15.—I am hardly able to hold my pen to write you a few lines, being under the influence of a strong emetic taken to avoid the effects of poisoned bread eaten at this morning's breakfast Mr.—, Mr.—, and myself were seized with violent fits of vomiting immediately after leaving the table, and I have just been informed that the whole town has been more or less affected in the sameway by bread baked by a Chinese shopman. We are so surrounded by the scoundrels that it is hardly possible to guard against there designs; and the atrocious blood money edicts issued by the Canton Government have set on foot a system of assassination and kidnaping. How this state of things will end it is impossible to say; but notwithstanding the injury to our interest, I cannot regret that the Canton people are at last about to meet their deserts. Trifling as was the original matter in dispute the time must have come sooner or later when the humiliating position of foreigners could be no longer endured. At the other ports it is altogether different; the Canton people are as much hated by the Northereners as foreigners are in the south, and the Shanghaimen openly express their satisfaction at the action of our navy. Whether this feeling will continue when they hear of our delay on enforcing terms I do not know.

"The exports of tea for the season will be 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 lbs, deficient.

Another letter, dated Hong Kong, Jan. 15, from which the following is an extract, states:—

"The baker from whom the poisened bread was purchased is in custody, but it is feared that legal difficulties will prevent a conviction. My bread was baked the day before, and was toasted, so that we escaped the effects of poison. Natives as well as Europeans hastend to the doctors, apparently in great pain. I mean to make my cook, a Chinaman, taste every thing in my presence before I partake of it."—Scottish Paper.

☞ On Friday a deputation from Liverpool, introduced by the borough members, waited on Lord Palmerston, to present an address expressing their approbation of his lordship's conduct on the Chinese question. Mr Sleigh called his lordship's attention to the fact that the address was signed by men of every shade of political character, and with an enthusiasm quite unprecedented. He thought his lordship had been unfairly and ungenerously treated by the coalition in Parliament. Lord Palmerston expressed himself much pleased by this mark of confidence, and, after a few remarks the deputation withdrew.—[Glasgow Advertiser March 12th.]

THE COMING ELECTIONS.

The country has now before it a general election, and accordingly the sooner constituencies commence to resolve on what they are to do, the better will it be. The first question, of course, is this—Is Lord Palmerston to be supported in the view he and his colleagues have taken with regard to the Chinese embroilment or not? If he be not supported, there is but one course to be pursued, namely, to let a Derby-Disraelian Ministry take power, and what will the consequences of that be? Why, nothing more nor less than the progress of the nation will be so far thrown back. When Lord Derby and his party were last in office the country had no faith in them, It gave them no countenance. It, in short, did not believe in them And so far as apperances go, it is now in no better mood towards them. If Load Derby and Mr. Disraeli were getting in again, they have nothing better to propose than what was scouted before. Therefore what is the use of bothering with them.

There can be no doubt, however, that Lord Palmerston possesses the confidence of the country. Some of his underlings perhaps such as the Duke of Argyle, Mr. Frederick Peel, Sir Robert ditto, and a few others of a like kidney, are viewed with no great favour: but still, on the whole, the Ministry is believed in and the country feels comfortable with them. It is therefore inclined to support and strengthen them, and have things to go on as before, only it is rather a bitter pill to swallow this illegal Chinese affair—to endorse, as it were, a discreditable business and to clothe with glory such a fribble as Sir John Bowring, instead of indignantly putting him as de.

So far as Glasgow people are concerned, we believe they sympathise with Lord Palmerston on general principles—though not on the individual one alluded to. They will therefore be inclined to treat the Chinese affair as an open question, and under that aspect they will return men from whom the Premier has nothing to fear.—Ib.

A LITTLE CLOUD IN THE EAST.

The people of Newfoundland are in a state of ferment in consequnce of a proposal which originated in England, that they should cede to France the Island of Belleisle, which occupies a commanding position on the straits of the same name, to the north of their territory. It is inserted by a corespondent of the London Daily News, that a treaty, giving up the island, has actually been framed, and only await the concurrence of the Newfoundland legislature, but we earnestly hope that the affair has not goue so far, but that the request of France for the cession has been referred to the colony in order to gain information. The Island of Belleisle possesses a climate lessrigid than might be exp'ed in the region in which it lies; wheat is said to ripen on its soil, and it produces vegetables in abundance. It is not for its agricultural capacity, however, that its possession is envied by the French government. It is as a fishing station, as a depot for provisions and other stores required by the fishing fleet which annually leaves the shores.

A Border Ruffian Parson.—In a discussion in the Kansas Bogus Legislature, the Rev. Martin White, a member, made a ferocious speech, in which he admitted that he killed Frederick Brown. He said that he was with the advance guard of the army that destroyed Osawattomie last August. They met Frederick Brown on the road before they got to Osawattomie. White ordered him to halt, which he did not do, when he, White, "let him have it, and he whirled over." This was received in the Legislature with tremendous applause,

First Steamer Out.—A Rochester paper of tuesday says:—The Maple leaf left this port at 11 o'clock last night for Cobourg and Port Hope with a full freight and a fair number of passengers. This is the first steamer on Lake Ontario this season.

ANOTHER REMARKABLE CURE OF DYSPEPSIA.

Boston, July 3, 1851. Gentlemen,—Agreeably to your suggestion, it gives me pleasure to state, that some five weeks ago, I purchased two boules of your Oxygenated Bitters, and commenced useing the same according to directions, and experienced the happiest effects.

I had been troubled with dyspepsia about three years. During the warm season, and at times; was obliged to give up all attention to bussiness and although I had the advice of many good physicians, I was confined for six weeks to the house, and continued to grow worse, until I took your medicine; I am now almost cured from every disagreable symptom, and able to do business as usual.

The whole credit of my restoration to health, is due to the Oxygenated Bitters.

Your obedient servant.

A Sure Cure for a Felon.—When the soreness first commences, or even when far advanced it can be relieved and entirely cured by holding the finger or part afflicted in Perry Davi's Pain Killer for half an hour. It has been thoroughly tested, and proves a valuable remedy. A felon is a troublesome thing, and we would advise all so troubled to test the remedy.

Perry Davi's Pain Killer.—The thousands who have been relieved, as well as the thousands who have the most unbounded confidence in Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, will read among our special notices this week, another of the additional evidences of the power of the application. We are doing an act of humanity, when we urge every family to possess themselves of it.—Buffalo Christian Advocate.

OBITUARY.

Died on Sabbath morning the 15th. Inst. William Henry, infant, aged 1 year, 8 months and 3 days. first and only child of Mr. William and Mrs Minerva J. Grafflort of Dresden, C. W.

The circumstances connected with the demise of this child are painful. A promising little prattling by accident, was cut off from the fondest bo, es of devoting parents, at a moment when least expected, by plunging into a vessel of boiling hot water. Our sympathies unite with theirs in condoling the untimely loss of so interesting and promising a child. which like the tender bud of a choice fruit, has been plucked e re it bloomed.—Com.

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators. Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE," of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks,(the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks."—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community,—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, laboures &c., are those, D. Slavery and Slavery Fellowship.

MONTREAL YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PILOT.

DEAR SIR:—I observe in the Pilot of the 14th instant (sent me by some kind friend, and received to-day, for I get the weekly edition only,) an extract from the Montreal Witness as to the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association, in connection with slavery. The question referred to was the very proper refusal of the young men of Montreal to consent to hold an Association meeting at Richmond, Virginia, U. S., in a noted Slave state;—but the impropriety, the inhumanity, the [wickedness,] (for I can use no other term justly, and I refrain from such which might properly be used,) of Associations in Canada, churches, and congregations, ministers of religion, tract societies, and prominent religious men, therein, that wickedness is every day displayed to thinking and observing Canadians, in the [fellowshipping] with pro-slavery and silent ("dumb dogs") religious organizations of the United States. These in Canada may, as they do, proclaim against "slavery" as slavery,—for it is brutish and heathenish,—but what avails that proclamation, that resolution, that action of discipline, that anything, in our religious organizations, while the resolvers, proclaimers, &c., encourage in Canada the actions and doings of such despicably base (on this question) Societies as the American Tract Society of 150 Nassau Street, New York,—the American Sunday School Union of Philadelphia,—the Associations and Societies of the Regular Baptists of the Northern, and hypocritically styled Free, States,—the Old School Presbyterians of Philadelphia (will the Rev. D. Fraser of Montreal and his colleague think of this in their colportage for the Free Presbyterians of Canada?)—the mean and hypocritical action and workings of the Pro-slavery Methodist E. Church (north) of 200 Mulberry street, New York,—so grossly homologated and aided to by the Wesleyan Methodists of Canada, in the fraudulent and cheating process practised on a Canadian people in the issue of the "CANADA Sunday School advocate," which purports to be a Canadian production, issued from Toronto, C. W., (at the Book-room, by G. R. Sanderson,) while it is a copy, excepting some short editorials, and not always this exception even,—the "Sunday School advocate," issued by said Pro-slavery body at 200 Mulberry Street, New York, and this statement I dare any Wesleyan Minister, Preacher or Layman in Canada with truth to deny. Besides its republican virtues! its open republican sentiments, its treasonable statements, —in a British Province!!

The Methodists may, as they do, swallow the deception, and get along with such, and with Canadian money collections: but an "honest man," with the Bible in his hand, and its precepts in his heart, cannot. Let your readers turn up the number of that deceptive "Canada Sunday School Advocate" of 8th November, 1856, and judge for themselves—and the leading article therein, under date Toronto, C. W., which denounces Kings, Queens, and all monarchical governments, was written in republican New York, printed there, (as said is) and sent for distribution to loyal Canada, to be circulated amongst the rising generation of boys and girls, and was so circulated. I write what I can prove; and my proof, printed and written, is now before me, and, when authoritatively denied, I am ready. In the meantime, the statements and facts in the "Voice of the Bondsman," No. 2, (second edition,) can be digested and pondered upon! I send you some additional copies.

What avails it, then, all such resolutions, &c., whether of the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association, or of others. The whole is humbug; pure quasi religious deception.

When shall the truthful spirit be shown in Canada, in religious matters? When will the (Protestant) Montreal Witness, with "good" John Dougall as its proprietor at its head, begin to write articles against fellowshipping with slavery, slave agents, and pro-slavery things, selling and colporting their books and tracts, and not "gull" a Canadian people by inserting articles only, against slavery! Why, dear Sir, if the very brutes of the earth were endowed with the faculty of speech, so as to make us understand, they would proclaim not only against slavery itself, but against the avoiding of the question of fellowship, which, from John Dougall downwards, in all religious periodicals, (with the exception, I recollect of, of the New Connexion Methodists organ, the Evangelical Witness,) has been, in Canada, avoided and eschewed, likely for a very good reason, that such professing religionists were themselves guilty! [For list of religious periodicals in Canada see said "Voice" No. 2.]

There is no mincing the matter with the writer of this letter; and, though placed far West, in what was so lately the wilderness of Canada, (as it was when we pitched our 14 x 12 shanty in the trees,) I hope to be spared to keep the guilt of John Dougall, of the Montreal Witness, and all others concerned, before a Canadian people, till they confess their bad acts, bad management, deceptive and hypocritical conduct—and republican propagandism!

I am, dear Sir, &c.,
J. J. E. LINTON.

[Letter No. 2.]

SLAVERY AND SLAVERY FELLOWSHIP

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PILOT.

DEAR SIR,—I may be permitted to add a few words in continuation and by way of addition (through an omission) to my letter dated the 17 th to the Pilot, on the important matter embraced in the heading viz, Slavery and Slavery Fellowship.

While a humane press, secular and religious, of the United States, has been proclaiming for years, within our very reach, against the iniquitous system of chattel slavery in that Republic, and against the having fellowship with slaveholders,—with slavery supporters,—and against all silent and neutral bodies on that all important question to the common human freedom of mankind, —black, white, or of any color,—while they, so many on the other side of our border, have on this question even divided their churches, and caused separations, (never to be united,) and established special societies and issued libraries of books and tracts, (as done by the Cincinnati Reform Tract Society, &c.,) and also periodicls,—what have we in Canada been doing, in a land so justly and truly held up to the gaze of an admiring world for its free though wisely monarchical government, in a Province the very foremost of Britain's Colonies—in a Colony which contains so many sons and duaghters of our fatherland,—and to which the poor benighted slave and colored fugitive flies for that liberty dearer to him than life and finds in Canada rest for the sole of his foot, and where no bloody cries follow or bloodhounds hunt him, as a beast of the forest?

What have we been doing? Shall I tell? For over fifty years, till the time I write, (with how many exceptions?) the religious organizations of Canada, the very Christianity we love to boast of, have all combined to fellowship, hold intercourse and fraternization with, receive Canadian monies and pay the same to, the various exceptional slavery and silent bodies in the United States.

1. Look at the Regular Baptist Grand Ligne Mission on the Richelieu, in the Counties of St. Johns an Iberville, C. E., which fellowships with and receives aid from, and extends and gives help to, the pro-slavery Baptists of the Northern States, whose Societies, including the American and Foreign Bible Society and others, are, so far, upheld by the blood-stained monies of slaveholders and their supporters and their fellowship!

2. Look at the French Canadian Missionary Society itself for years bygone, receiving large very large, sums from the American and Foreign Christain Union of New York, which latter Society is upheld in its potency by slaveholders and their supporters, and by the same blood-stained monies and through the means of which the other year (in 1853?) collections were made in a slave State to help to forward Bibles and Testaments to Tuscany, (and it was done;) —while in that slave State, at the same time there was imprisoned a lady, and her daughter also, (if we recollect aright,) for teaching free colored persons to read the Bible, at the same time that the Duke of Tuscany held the Medaii in a Tuscan prison for reading the Bible! But that fact is a mere bagatelle in comparison to other inconsistencies and grievous evils, done in the slave and the free States, (now no longer free, as witnessed the other day in the case of Dred Scott.) What has that French Canadian Missionary Society been doing, as the Ligne Mission, but acting with and for slaveholders, slave breeders, and all their variations? There, then, are cases of fellowship.

3. Look nearer, and you see the Congregational Union of Canada recognizing, praising, and recommending the pro-slavery and silent American Tract Society of New York the one year, and the next, or one after, endeavouring to shew its dissaifaction with it —but, readers of the Pilot—mark these word —still the said Union joins in the circulation and sale of their books, &c. Further, the wholly depraved [on this question] American Sunday School Union, whose printed books, papers, tracts, hymn-books, &c., contain not one word referable to human and chattel slavery or for its relief; that Society is warmly countenanced and received by the Congregationalists of Canada; and in the Sunday school rooms, and in their churches, the very hymn-books containing political hymns on republicanism, even the anniversary hymn of the fourth of July, such books will be found. In fact, the Congregationalists of Canada, leaving aside the Massachusetts Sabbath School Society of Boston, a Congregational institution, and one which publishes pure and exact copies of books, and their Congregational Board of Publication, also at Boston, [and where youths and Sunday School libraries, &c.,&c., can be cheeply and easily obtained]—leaving these genuinely true Societies, the said Congregationalists of Canada [unless lately there may de a change] run after with speed the books, &c. of the two pro-slavery Societies referred to—fourth of July hymn and all! But we may be told that only some of their churches in Canada, do as above. Even if only confined to some, [which we do not admit,] I take even one church of the body as an index of the whole,—for if not so, the Congregational Union is a myth,—a nonentity.

4. Look also nearer,—you of Cote Street and St. Gabriel Street, Free Presbyterian Churches of Montreal, also look—and there we see an enlightened body, unexceptionally so, so different in education as individuals from many others in Canada whose education befits them better for something else,—of which anon, we see that body, with their eyes open, and with the purses of Presbyterians asked to be opened and replenished, with their education and their status in Canada, from the Rev. Michael Willis, D. D, President of the Canada Anti-Slavery Society at Toronto, for shame, Rev Robert Burns, D. D., Revds. Messrs. Irvine of Hamilton, and Scott of London, and Rev. D. Fraser of Moutreal too,—all in fact, all —joined to buy, to get carried over, and to colporter and sell, the books, tracts, &c. &c. of the pro-slavery Publication Board at Philadelphia, of. the noted pro-slavery old school Presbyterian Church of the United States! What matters it to me, that the Free Presbyterian Church of Canada has proclaimed against Slavery,—what matters it if in part mark the words, as they are true they have declined receiving any pro-slavery candidate for the Ministry, though the time of his probation of anti-Slavery sentiment—was not stated,—what matters anything so long as for some time past, and at this moment I write, the most gross, unlooked for, and miscalculated action is going on in Canada by that church,—namely, the colportering in Canada, of said books &c. of that Presbyterian board of a Slavery Church. I am aware, that in Montreal and its Presbytery, in the Counties of Stormont, Dundas, Glengarry, Prescott, Russell, &c., there will be many found who are ignorant of the above facts—and likely in some other parts or Canada,—but it is not my fault, ignorance exists, as I have done my best and at some expense too to arouse attention and feeling to such a marked irreconcilable and inconsitent act, as well as a grossly culpable one,—and humanity now whispers, that in the regions of the damned, such things if known will be hailed with satanic pleasure!

5. Look Montreal readers, at your doors, and there you see the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, notwithstanding all the pride and show, and self-righteousness, with the greatly-praised Methodist Church building in Great St. James Street,—it bears the character as previously stated in my other letter, and as at length to be found in the Colonist of January 12, 1856, and January 24, 1857 tri-weekly, and in the Voice of the Bondsman No 2 second edition. If we human beings, can conceive of the satanic reception which I alluded to, as to the Free Presbyterian Church conduct, what reception I would ask, would the tidings receive of the action of the Wesleyan Methodist Church as to Slavery and its fellowship,—a satanic "welkin ring"!—Jegar Sahadutha!

6. Look, too, at the Anniversaries of Religious Societies,—Bible, Tract, Missionary, &c. &c. The slavery fellowship question has been repudiated: the Slavery propagandists from the United States of all shades meet with ready reception in Montreal at such meetings, and there we see the open arms of men—of ministers of religion —of Montreal receiving, with every fraternal feeling, the concealed supporter of the traffic in human flesh!

7. But, in conclusion, cast a glance at our religious periodicals, from the Montreal Witness to the Christian Guardian of Toronto, (the latter the organ of the deceptive and slavery fellowshipping Wesleyan Methodists of Canada,)—there, in such periodicals it might be supposed something would be found to guard Canadians from having anything to do with slavery-fellowship, slavery books, &c., or giving any cash support or any kind of countenance and support, to those from the other side who are so allied to slavery, or to those on this side, —but (excepting the "Evangelical Witness" of London, C. W., a practically pious paper of the New Connection Methodists)—all,—all—is mute!

Examine a file of John Dougall's Montreal Witness, (in its twelfth year,)—of the Christian Guardian, (in its twenty-eighth year)—of the Christian Messenger [Regular Baptist Brantford, C, W.,] or the Canadian Independent, [Congregationalist, Toronto. C. W.,] or the piously and cautiously written Ecclesiastical Record of the Free Presbyterians [Toronto,] and will we find any article or extract, to guard Canadians and Canadian ministers of religion, from having slavery-fellowship? No,—search, and my statements will be more than proved, for articles from slavery [direct] and fellowshipping, neutral and silent, church publications, papers, &c., will be found and no remonstrances found, excepting rarely something will be against slavery, I repeat, against slavery!—Till lately, it was the habit of John Dougall in the Motreal Witness, to review the books of the American Tract Society and the American Sunday School Union and insert advertisements, &c.,—without any remonstrance—and more than all this, he sold [and perhaps yet sells] their publications, knowing their affinities.—I am not to be told,—a truthful christian public are not to be told,—that other religious bodies do the same. "Two blacks do not make a white," is a common and a true maxim—and applicable in his case.

These religious publications can only be viewed by human observing eyes as impure and deceptive "indoctrinators" of religion,—and how viewed by the Most High, can be thought of when the first principles of our common christianity are pondered upon—namely first,—Love the Lord thy God,—and second, and the one "like unto it"—thy neighbour as thyself,—the latter illustrated by such texts of scripture [besides so many others] and of the new Testament especially, as "He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen!"—[I John.]

Again,—your readers will recollect the just anxiety in Montreal to establish a Missionary Society, on a general basis, and to have missionary laborers in what is called amongst us [!] "heathen lands"—and the many articles [well written too] in the Montreal Witness referable thereto.—In one of my extras on "Slavery as it is," I appended a sentence, which may not be inappropriately repeated here as an adjunct to what has been stated herein,—namely: "Missionaries from Canada, to non christian lands,—when they are on the scene of labor and asked if those who sent them, fellowship or fraternize with pro-slavery or silent societies, what can they answer? Montreal Witness, please think of this!"

For fifty years in Canada, the ministers of religion of Canada, and of the grade too so many were fifty years ago and now are, beginning with the Wesleyan Methodists who imported themselves from the slave states along our border. Yes, slave states along our border as New York, and the others as Vermont then were, and alas! now still are,—for fifty years these ministers introduced the system of slavery-fellowship with the vilest traffic under the sun, namely slavery, and are continuing the same till this day—so that now in 1857, we see the Wesleyan Methodists, the Regular Baptists, and the Congregationalists—and to the extent mentioned—the Free Presbyterians [who otherwise are to be praised in this matter as to opposition to slavery.]—we see them in Canada, upholding the slavery laws of the Slavists of the great slave Republic of the United States! In sorrow we state it,—but will these daring—and the more daring of them,—religionists feel any sorrow? Yes, as to slavery! The hypocrits!

8. A word for humanity, Dear Sir, in final conclusion. In Western Canada, at Chatham, C. W., and its neighbourhood there is a large settlement of colored people—and they have a newspaper there, representing their interests truthfully, conducted by free colored emigrants [not fugitives] from Pennsylvania, who are respectable and well educated, I mean Mrs. M. A. S. Cary and her brother Mr. I. D. Shadd, with help of others, let me note the circumstance, so as a generous and a humane public will extend their support and encouragement to it.—It is named the Provincial Freeman, published weekly, price one dollar and a half in advance. Here is a periodical which has tried to keep afloat, under difficulties, and amongst and for [chiefly] a people who are industrious, sober and anxious to do well—only, not willing to be imposed upon.—At the Buxton settlement [in Raleigh, C. W.] there is a considerable number settled—and the Rev. Mr. King, [Presbyterian] deserves every praise for his unostentatious management. The impositions practised on the humane at a distance, as to the trials, &c., of the fugitives in Canada and the begging system so shamefully practiced also, out of Canada, find a complete exposure in the Freeman, and there is something yet to be reviewed as to St. Catherines, as to Dawn, [British institute!] in Canada, and some other things.—But truthful information can be obtained at Chatham. As your paper circulates in Britain, may the humane hearts there, recollect, that on British soil, at Chatham, C. W., there is a centre for usefulness,—as well as at London, C. W., and donations, &c, in that direction, on British ground are required, if needed at all. And there are good men in this Province, who can appreciate the intention of this reference.

Finally, on a review of the question of fellowship, there is no wonder then, that the good men and the true, of the United States, who advocate the slaves and the colored men's rights, hold up their hands in surprise and in sorrow, and exclaim, "there " indeed in Canada is the free soil, but it is " trod by ministers of religion, who worship " by look, by support, and by act, the sla- " very vermin of the South!"

I am, Dear Sir, &c,
J. J. E. LINTON.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

Let my People go that they may serve me.

These words were sounded in the ears of a relentless despot of antiquity, who had for four hundred years, in violation of that eternal and unchanging law of right, held in cruel bondage the children of Israel; thus sat Pharaoh in pride upon his gilded throne, mocking the impending judgment of an outraged God, until the dark and dreadful hour of retribution came, and with it, the total overthrow of Pharaoh and his hosts in the Red Sea. Reading on in history, we see the Jews led captive by Nebuchadnezzar, and held in bondage in the Asyrian empire, but in the very hour of triumph, in the midst of his drunken feast, came the hand writing on the wall. Only a slave could read it, and ere the chapter is finished, old bloody Babylon sleeps in ruins upon the banks of the Euphrates. Rome learnt a similar lesson; her eagles that had been carried by her conquering arm in triumph through the world, was struck down by Sparticus, at the head of ten thousand slaves in Italy. Nature combining with the Helot's valor made the Spartan master give up slavery. In Santo Domingo, slavery gave up the ghost amid the cries of slaughtered slaveholders. Will such lessons as these be lost upon the despots of our times? Will Republican America regardless of the warning voice of history continue in her downward tendency to despotism and crime, until she fall head-long into the "pit fall" of nations, to come out no more for ever? Yes it seems so! Every paper that reaches us, tells of some fresh outrage upon our poor bleeding race, by these heartless tyrants; or where a sublime will, struggling against this high handed villainy, with suicidal hands shatters this earthly tenement and seeks in the bosom of its God, that liberty which was denied it by men on earth.

We copy from the last number of the Frederick Donglass paper with its comments, an account taken from the Nashville Banner, of March 19th, of the slave Levi, whose love of liberty and hatred of slavery as evinced in his untimely end, deserves to live in immortal story. Some one has said that the heroism of the hour is among the fugitive slaves; it is not in the Saxon race of America, for they have suffered their dearest rights to be wrested from them, by the slave power. Slavery is no longer confined to the colored race in the U. States. White men are slaves; they have lost free speech, there is only a step between this and absolute bondage. The extension of slavery over the entire North by a recent decision, its fillibustering spirit, and repeated agressions upon freedom everywhere, has made it a continental question. What security have we here in Canada, that our liberties will be perpetual, if this infernal barbarism is allowed longer to exist. The overthrow of slavery in the United States, has at last become a British question, because our peace here as British subjects is endungered by its continuance; already its influence has been felt here. We would therefore warn our colored fellow citizens to be careful in the exercise of the right of suffrage; be argus eyed in guarding your interest, in sustaining the honor and dignity of the British Empire.

Let us be strictly Conservative until the great battle between Liberty and Slavery is decided on this Continent. This reform party is nothing more nor less, than the old Locofoco party of the United States galvanized, wrapped in a lion's skin, a Brown head at Toronto, a Rank-in its tail in Essex, professing so much love for the "dear people." We have seen enough of democracy and slavery in the United States, without wishing to see it introduced here. Clear Grit, Reform and Radical, are words that belong to the vocabulary of Yankeedom, they act like an emetic on us to mention them. Let us under the banner of that Conservatism, that has offered the only asylum for the colored man on this Continent, renew our vows of hostility to slavery, and devotions to its principles. We believe in non-intervention; but this is a vital question, that not only disturbs the peace of nations, but seeks to enthrone itself upon the liberties of mankind. It respects not color, clime, nor condition, but lets its blows fall just as heavy upon the uncovered head of a prostrate Senator, as it does upon the body of weak and defenceless woman, driven to unpaid and thankless toil.

We profess to be lovers of peace; but it must be an honorable peace. We believe "that resistance to tyrants is obedience to God;" that the slaves of the South have an undoubted moral right to break their chains, even if in the act, they were compelled to break every slaveholders neck; with us it would be a clear moral duty. Rights such as life and liberty are not conferred upon man, neither can they be taken away, because they are inalienable; a part of man's being as essential to his existence as an accountable being, to the faithful performance of the duties and obligations of life, as the powers of respiration; and the intelligent being, who understands his divine origion, and immortal destiny, that submits to slavery rather then death, commits a high crime against God's moral government.

If the three hundred thousand slaveholders, shall continue to hold on with a death like grip to that gigantic fraud, by which four million men are deprived of their liberty, then we pray God to hasten on the day of retribution, and speedily usher in the glorious period, when the slaves in the South shall rise in their manhood, with the courage of a Roman Sparticus, and the determination of a Desaline, and compell their oppressor to bite the dust, and achieve their natural rights, if they have as Theodore Parker says, to "cut down a despot at every step, and walk blood red from Texas to Canada."—H. F. D.

God made the Country—Man made the Town.

This was an old Spanish Proverb, but never more clearly demonstrated than now. Such are the influences brought to bear upon population in the aggregate, that all the higher feelings and aspirations of one's nature is wholly destroyed, when packed away in one of these large Commission Houses of humanity. This is true, not only here in Chatham, but all over the world. Wherever commerce and trade have concentrated, man in his physical and moral nature, ceases to march on to the fulfilment of his high destiny.

These thoughts were suggested while passing down King Street, from our office last Saturday afternoon; as strange as it may seem to our sober, industrious, quiet fellow citizens out in the country—in the rural districts: we met not less than nine drunken men; we offer our hat to any one as a premium, that can beat this in a population of only six thousand.

We were induced by a friend, to take notes, in order to find out the countries represented in this drunken carnival; the following is the result of our observations:

England, four; just able to navigate.

Scotland, one; though carrying a considerable sized "brick in his hat," was as proud in mien and look

"As if a Baron's crest he wore,
And sheathed in armor trod the shore."

America, one; "big Indian," perfectly oblivious of everything pertaining to this terrestrial ball, lying lonely over the sidewalk.

Ireland, one; very indecent in the selection of words, to express what he called ideas; but what to us, seemed to be the strangest jargon we ever listened to.

Africa, ably represented in the person of two of her sable sons; one was over anxious to get a "thrashing," to which some friend his accommodated him late in the evening. The other, after having been strangely infatuated by a fine yoke of cattle belonging to some country man, was last and we thought very appropriately too, delivering a Reform Speech. We shall ascertain his name if possible, for the benefit of our "Clear Grit" neighbor of the Advertiser. He may yet in the way of politics do "the state some service."—H. F. D.

Enquiry No. 2.

Why is it that if F. D., left Rochester, under pressing invitations to speak, which had become so numerous since the recent Dred Scott decision, that he could not resist them, that when he arrived at certain places no meetings were appointed? Bah! Talk about the American people being indignant at the recent outrage: the truth is they are just like the colored people, there is no outrage that they are not prepared to submit to. Dissolve the Union at once! Put an end to that bogus Government and Constitution, for all the eloquence of F. D., aided by the logic and rhetoric of his accomplished assistant, W. J. W., can't make it pass current any longer.—H. F. D.

ANTI-SLAVERY LECTURE.

M. R. Hull Esq., an old-time anti-slavery man, a native of Virginia, will lecture in the Town Hall THIS EVENING on the subject of HUMAN RIGHTS. We hope there will be a large attendance of citizens generaly, as in addition to his well known reputation of a first class orator, and the advantage of birth in the old Dominion, he has had over twenty years experience among anti-slavery men. M. A. S. C.

☞ R. H. Brett, Esq., of Toronto, will please accept our thanks for £2 10s. generously donated by him to this paper.—EDS. FREEMAN.

A PLEASANT TRAVELLING COMPANION, and one that no traveller should be without is Perry Davis' Pain Killer. A sudden attack of diarrhœa, dysentry or cholera morbus can be effectually and instantaneously relieved by it. It is equally effectual in curing scalds, burns, &c. Sold everywhere.

A Cure for Asthma.—There are many well attested cases of cures of this distressing complaint by the use of the Wild Cherry as combined by Dr. Wistar, in his famous Cough Balsam, which medicine has achieved a world wide reputation.

NEWSPAPERDOM.—From a lengthy communication signed J. J. E. Linton, in the Pilot of a late date, we observe that the Rev. gentlemad speaks upon the conduct of the colored people in refernce to the support they do not extend toward the FREEMAN, of this Town. Mr. Linton says:—

In Western Canada, at Chatham, C. W., and its neighborhood, there is a large settlement of colored people—and they have a nespaper there, representing their interests truthfully, conducted by free colored emigrants not fugitives from Pennsylvania, who are respectable and well educated; I mean Mrs M. A. S. Carey, and her brother, Mr I. D. Shadd, with help of others. Let me note the circumstance, so as a generous and humane public will extend support and encouragement to it. It is named the PROVINCIAL FREEMAN, publised weekly, price one dollar and a half, in advance.—Here is a periodical which has tried to keep afloat, under difficulties, and amongst and for chiefly a people who are industrious, sober, and anxious to do well—only, not willing to be imposed upon.

* * * The impositions practised on the humane at a distance, as to the trials, &c, of the fugitives in Canada and the begging system, so shamelessly practised also out of Canada, find a complete exposure in the Freeman: and there is something yet to be reviewed as to St. Catherines, as to Dawn British Institute! in Canada, and some other things."

That is correct—the first part But what is there yet to be reviewed as to St. Catherines and as to the Dawn British Institutes in Canada? Let us hear it all Who has played traitor in the camp? Let us have more light. Will our contemporary give it? —Planet.

In due time light will be given.—EDS. FREEMAN.

Miss Greenfield's second concert at the Mechanics' Hall last evening was quite as successful as her first one, the hall being crowded. She was frequently encored, and as the assemblage broke, every face seemed to beam with satisfaction and delight, as if its owner would say "I feel it was worth while coming here." The playing of Professor Laurence was fully equal to his reputation as a pianist, nor must we forget to mention the Sraksch Grand Piano, which was made expressly for Miss Greenfield, which is quite a feature in the concert.

The "Black Swan" sings in Quebec on Saturday evening. It is her intention to give another concert in this city on Tuesday evening next.—Montreal Pilot.

Miss Greenfield will be in Chatham in a few weeks, when our citizens will have the pleasure of listening to, by far the greatest female vocalist on this continent.—M A S C.

☞ The brig "David Smart," Captain Phelps, was wrecked on the 31st ultimo at Chicago. Captain and crew all lost. A crew of seven brave young men who went to their rescue were also lost. The latter were strangers and leave only their coats as mementos of themselves and their deplorable fate.

☞ The Ice boat employed to carry passengers from Kingston to Wolfe Island, was swamped April 2nd., nine persons, the mail and some luggage were saved; but the following are supposed to have been drowned:—James McDonald, James Mitchell, both belonging to the Island; Wm. Dempsey, stage driver on Long Island; William Saunders, shipwright, and John Buggy, sailor. Three bodies have been found, up to half past 7, viz:—Jas. McDonald, James Mitchell, and William Dempsey.

"GIVE ME LIBERTY, OR GIVE ME DEATH."

RUNAWAY SLAVES CAUGHT—SUICIDE.—The particulars of one of the most unaccountable suicides have just come to our knowledge. Two servants of Mr. Jones proprietor of Union Hall, in this city—one a yellow man named Levi, and the black, named Allen—ran away on Sunday night last. It appears that they intended to get on the night train for Chatanooga and arrived a moment too late. They took the track on foot and proceeded a few miles, secreted themselves until Monday night in a thicket. They then appeared at Antioch, when the night train came along, and the yellow man purchased the tickets for himself and servant for Chattanooga. The trick was not detected—Levi passed as a white man, and took his supper at the same table with the other passengers, ordering food for his servant at a side table. The attention of Mr. Charles Fox, merchant of this city, who was on board, on his way to New York, was attracted to Levi, and after a little scrutiny, he recognized him though disguized in a fine suit of clothes. Mr. Fox on Tuesday morning, before reaching Chattanooga, questioned Levi, and becoming satisfied that he was runing away, collared him and intimated that he was a prisoner. Levi was wraped in a blanket, and he managed to draw a pistol from his breast without being noticed, and turning the muzzle upon his adomen, fired and fell on his seat. Mr. Fox and other passengers fled in an opposite direction, under the impression that he was firing at them, and when they turned back he had drawn a bowie-knife and cut his throat, and was a corpse. —Nashville Banner, March 19.

A Corpse! Well, poor fellow, he could not have died in a better cause. He died struggling to be free! "BETTER" as our own eloquent GARNET says, "DIE FREEMEN, THAN LIVE AS SLAVES." Would that the whole slave population would adopt the motto!—Would that they would say to their oppressors, and all others, "away with the sickly sentimentality concerning non-resistance; you have too long taught the lesson, "Resistance to tyrants is obedience to God,', and we have learned it well."

"HE CUT HIS OWN THROAT," and not that of the villian who would enslave him Probably, the cowardly scoundrels who "fled in an opposite direction," were afraid of having justice meted unto them But no! "he cut his own throat" It was only the throat of a man most white. Who cares? What rights had he "a person of African descent." which men altogether white are bound to respect? Is not this a glorious free country? If he had not killed himself, or been killed or captured, might not old Tenessee have "dissolved the Union?" Let the white nigger die" will be the response of slaveholding Christendom?

And was it for this that the Constitution was ordained? Was it for this that the Union was? Was it for this that Attucks fell? Was it for this that whole companies of black soldiers fought in the revolutionary conflict, that their descendants might have the poor privilege of cutting their own throats, in order to obtain in death that boon denied in life? Answer, ye murderers of Levi, answer. Answer, ye doughfaces of the North. Answer, all who profess to minister at God's altar and at the same time charge Him with this daily brokerage in human blood.

"How long, O Lord, how long!" O that thou wouldest rend the heavens and come down! O that the sighing of the prisoner may come up before the. Our bones lie at grave's mouth, as when one cutteth wood. We are led as sheep to the slaughter. We are killed all the day long. How long, O Lord, how long!"—Frederick Douglass Paper.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Saturday Morning.

It was announced in Parliament last evening that it was the Queen's intention immediately to dissolve Parliament in order to ascertain in the most constitutional manner, the sense of the people in the present state of affairs.

A despatch from Paris says the King of Prussia had finally agreed to settle the Neufchatel difficulty, renouncing his rights on condition that the title of Prince of Neufchatel be resumed for the Prussian crown —that he be allowed for four years the revenues of his ancient domains in the Canton, and an amnesty be granted to his partizans there.

The final sittings of the Paris conference on Turkish affairs, chiefly concerning the Principalities, will be held in June.

2. Disendowment of all religious sects, and the abolition of the Irish Church as a State Establishment.
3. Religious equality, involving the repeal of ecclesiastical titles.
4. Involving county franchise.
5. Abolition of property qualifications.

FRANCE.

A modification of the French Cabinet is again discussed—the believe object is to incorporate the Cabinet with the Department of the State and the Imperial household.

Parliament was formally dissolved by a speech from the Throne, the Lord Chancellor acting as proxy to the Queen.

The Asia passed off Tuscan Light on the 22nd. The steamship City of Washington on the same day, off Kinsale.

THE ROYAL HOUSEHOLD.—One incident connected with the household management, and coeval with the Queen's accession, will serve to illustrate Her Majesty's ideas of domestic economy, and explain the cause of those attacks to which we have alluded. It was, it seems, the usage to appropriate among the domestics all the wine that was not used at the royal dinner-table, no matter how much the supply exceded the demand, and whether or not the bottles were uncorked. We need not say that, under such circumstances, there was no scarcity of the best wines on the sideboard and in the coolers, and that the wine merchants' bills were heavy The Queen, even though then a girl in her teens, had a due regard to propriety, and being resolved to keep the expenditure of the Court within the assigned income, inquired into this matter, and took effectual means for putting a stop to the systematised plunder The remedy was as simple as it was judicious and efficacious. As the servants who used to appropriate the surplus wine to their own use were already allowed an amply sufficient quantity of port and sherry, they were forbidden to touch in future any of the wine that was taken from the cellars for the use of the Sovereign and her guests; and any uncorked bottles were to be replaced, while the wines that were broached but not consumed were to be sent to the hospitals.—Court Circular.

George W. Johnson, one of the largest sugar planters of the Mississippi, below New Orleans, who died recently, left an estate valued at not less than $7,000,000. He has by his will manumitted all his slaves, 1,200 in number. They are all to be sent to Liberia, in four years from his death, and each one is to be furnished with $50.

Forty students have left the Mississippi University at Oxford since the holidays, the majority having been expelled for the offence of robbing henroosts.

☞ The Massachusetts House of Representatives has adopted the amendment of the Constitution establishing the reading and writing qualification, by a vote of 266 to 43. This amendment passed the last Legislature, and has already passed the Senate. It now only remains to submit it to the people for final ratification.

Harrisburgh, Pa., March 23.—An exciting debate took place in the State Senate to-day on resolutions condemning the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Dred Scott. The resolutions were referred to a select committee.

BROOKLINE, Feb 5, 1851.

To Seth W. Fowle,—My Dear Sir:—Having experienced results of a satisfactory character from the use of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, in cases of severe colds, during the past two years, I am induced to express the full faith I have in its renovating power

I was first induced to try this medicine as an experiment, about two years ago, in connection with the strong recommendation of a friend, who was well nigh gone with consumption, and whose relief from the use of it satisfied me of its great value in cases of colds and decline, and most clearly demonstrating, to my mind, its great value as a restorative, that only needs a fair trial to insure a grateful demonstration from the public.

Your obedient servant,

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Select and Original Articles upon Agriculture, Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous side of life, in the gay, the social and genial. These faculties also must be appealed to, for, as society is now constituted, and, as a consequence, the intellectual appetite is created, it is not enough to live and labor—general knowledge of human nature, and the [illegible] Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the last two or three years, the above departments are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c., in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance [illegible] is only 26 cents per year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, [illegible] per annum $ 5
5 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them on hand, to those who have all the subscriptions in a Club commence at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

JOHN MURPHY.

Toronto Dec. 23 1854

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American Societies and Boards have unanimously resolved, (as I am informed and believe,) to SILENCE, and some (if not all of them) to carry on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even to such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c., have been ORGANIZED as (since religious, humane, and God-like principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

Poetry.

GIVE ME THE PEOPLE

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Some love the glow of outward show
Some love mere wealth, and try to win it;
The house to me may lowly be,
If I but like the people in it
What's all the gold that glitters cold,
When link'ed to hard or haughty feeling?
Whate'er we're told, the noblest gold
Is truth of heart and manly dealing!
Then let them seek, who seem mirs are weak,
Mere fashion's smile and try to win it,
The house to me may lowly be,
If I but like the people in it!

A lowly roof may give us proof
That humble flowers are fairest
And trees whose bark is hard and dark,
May yield us fruit, and all on earth
There's worth as sure 'neath garments poor,
As e'er adorned a loftier station
And minds as just as those, we trust,
Whose claim is but of wealth's creation!
Then let them seek, whose minds are weak,
Mere fashion's smile, and try to win it;
The house to me may lowly be,
If I but like the people in it!

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING.

IN commenting upon the decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, we referred to the rule of our Southern masters, one never varied from, to test always the obedience of the North, either when she really complains that her burden was greater than she could bear, or when the load laid upon her patient shoulders is so heavy that she might be expected to complain In other and homelier words the South always proves her pudding according to the proverb It may be a very good pudding, according to the proverb. It may be a very good pudding, fair to look upon, round as a ball, unbroken as a globe, smooth as glass, and and smoking hot—but the proof, after all is in the eating thereof; the good maker is not deceived by the outside; a fair seeming does not satisfy her; she must plunge into its depths for the evidence she needs; she eats the pudding, and thus proves it. Do not accuse us of treating a serious matter lightly. Proverbs are epitomes of the wisdom of ages, and sometimes one of these pithy sentences illustrates more completely than columns can do the wisdom of an action which is universally in accordance with it.

The Dred Scott case is decided; the Supreme Court makes the law of the land, so far as they could, in a decision of this case the monstrous doctrine which Judge Kane was the first to promulgate, and profess to be governed by, in the seat of a Judge. We at the North, have had our say about it; the Tribunes have blustered; the Journals have sneered; the Couriers have solemnly appealed; one class has thundered in indignant words; another has protested in meek humility; a third has given apprehensive warning of trouble to come; all are moved. It is desirable to know, say the overseers, just what these "niggers" mean; are they moved even to the point of seizing the whip which is laid on their backs? Let us see.

We beg the intelligent reader to consider for five minutes the character of the decison of the Supreme Court; how it ignores all history; how it sets all law at defiance; how it outrages common sense; how it scorns human pretences; how it tramples upon the plainest principles of the Christian religion; how it laughs at liberty; how it scoffs at democracy; and how it scouts all Northern pretension to fredom of thought, or freedom of act, or freedom of conscience. And consider then that the March in which all this was done has counted out but little more than half its thirty-one days ere, under the very eyes, and within the reach of the very hands of some hundreds of thousands of grown men, to whose faces all these things have been said, there appeared first in Boston a slave-hunter, in search of a man who had lived there for years, a respectable, a thrifty, an honourable man—the free citizen of a free State, who helped to make Governors and Mayors and other officials, more or less worthy—who paid taxes, and, probably supported the preaching of the Gospel like any other well-to do and respectable citizen—a man like any other man who goes daily down State street, or on Sundays into the broad aisle of the Rev. Dr. Adams's Church—but who this slave hunter was to take, if he found him, back to the South to drag out his weary life hereafter as a mere chattel slave.

Boston stands where it did eighty years ago, and the tide into which her people once threw a cargo of tea still rolls into her harbour. Have they thrown a man into it this time? Not at all. In all probability the slave hunter has the best rooms in the Revere House—it may be, like Daniel Webster, is entertained only for the honour done by his presence; perhaps he has dined with Judge Loring, and Edward Everett invited to meet him; perhaps asked to say grace over parson Adams's breakfast table, or to lead in prayer in any Bible Class or Sunday School where his hungry soul might lead him to seek a meal of spiritual cold victuals. And how is it with the man whom he seeks? The Vigilance Committee, as the best thing they can do, and notwithstanding the Personal Liberty Law of Massachusetts hurry him off as fast as steam can carry him, to where British Law and Lord Palmerston's Government will give him a refuge. If the slave hunter had got hold of him, he would have been taken back to Virginia as sure as there is a monument on Bunker's Hill.

Nor is this all. A scoundrel of the same sort was prowling about this city nearly all last week, in search of two fugitives. The particular villain who is known, of all our policemen, for his past services in the perpetration of wickedness of this sort, was seen during the day—he knew too well to go there in the evening—lurking about, in company with a white fellow, in those streets where the colored people congregate. The pair were slave-hunting here in New York, one of them sent, at this particular moment, to test our obedience to the powers that be, and also show us the precise measure of our opposition to the decision of the Supreme Court.

If the two poor wretches had been found, does any body think that New York would have raised her hand in anger, or bowed head in humiliation? Not at bit of it. The quantity of bough in this particular pudding, which the mistress has just proved, has so many ounces to the pound as ever—Anti-Slavery Standard

HISTORICAL WORDS.

There are recorded in the history of mankind many words with which every body is acquainted, and in the genuineness of which everybody believes. Sometimes the whole signification of a great event lies, so to say, hidden in them. They give vent to a common and public feeling, and therefore they are accepted by high and low, with no more distrust than the fact to itself which they refer.

Antiquity has transmitted to succeeding ages many words, both simple and sublime, worthy of the deeds of the heroes of the time, In this case inquiry is of no avail, and we must account all such sayings as truthful traditions. All we are able to do is to examine whether the words attributed to Alexander, Pericles, Cincinnatus, or Cæsar, are worthy of those great men: and if we find they could have said so, why they may say so. But happily or not for the moderns, historical criticism is more difficult; and it is really curious to perceive how many of the words which are attributed to high persons, especially to crowned heads, were really uttered by them.

No history abounds more than that of France in historical sayings in mots, as the French say; and in no other country does a single word, when appropriate to the circumstance, produce so much sensation.—Yet it so happens that scarcely any of these mots are authentic; and strange as it may seem, it is precisely those that are received without question that are most false

Who has not read, in the appalling history of the execution of Louis XIV., the beautiful sentence put in the mouth of the Abbe Edgeworth, when the unfortunate monarch was on the point of receiving the deadly blow of the guillotine "Son of St Louis, ascend to Heaven," Have we not all on hearing these pious and exalted words, been touched to the heart; and did one of us ever doubt the accuracy of the record? The priest must have said so, is the common notion. Nor only did all the important historians of the French Revolution, M Theirs included, vouch for the accuracy of that scene, but whether in the hut or in the palace, in the home of the republican or of the royalist, everybody takes the words of the Abbe Edgeworth for granted truth, and, nevertheless, worthy clergyman declared publicly in writing, more than thirty years ago, that the words were a mere invention; he never uttered them on the scaffold of the Place de la Revolution. And yet, in spite of that public declaration, the touching farewell is still repeated again and again. For critics, it is no more an historical saying, but the rest of the nation take it as such, and thereby give expression merely to their own feeling.

It would be an easy task to demonstrate that the greater number of the words put in the mouth of Napolean Bonaparte are nothing but popular fiction. But go to the farm and workshop, there the cry of sentry—"And if you are the Petit Corporal you shall not pass"—and other familiar discourses between the mighty emperor and his affectionate soldiers, are more readily believed than the address at the foot of the Pyramids or the adieu of Fontainbleau. There exist thick volumes of apocryphal Napolean anecdotes; in this respect, he is inferior to none, not even to Frederick the Great of Prussia

There is also a word commonly attributed to the celebrated General Kleber, who succeeded Bonaparte in Egypt as commander-in-chief, and who is said, by nearly all historians, to have flattered the future dictator by exclaiming: "You are as great as the world." The truth is, that the simple and heroic Kleber never uttered these words, for he, like his collengues, Dessaix and Alexander Dumas, foresaw and feared the ambitious designs of the talented Corsican. Gen. Alexander Dumas, the father of the illustrious romance writer, always denied the statement; and it is certain that he, the gallant friend of Kleber, Dessaix, Augereau, and Brune, lived and died under the first empire greatly neglected.

We come now to an anecdote of a more pleasing character. Every history of the two French restorations of 1812 and 1815 relates that the Duc d' Artois afterwards King Charles X., in making his entree into Paris, pronounced the words; "Nothing is changed in France there is only one Frenchman more." Happy words in the mouth of a Prince returning from exile, and happy the Bourbons if they had always kept these words in mind! But here, again, we must declare that this promising sentence was never utered. The famous Talleyrand of cunning memory, had in the evening of that eventful day a rather select party assembled at his hotel, and asked the company, as a matter of course, "What did the prince say?" The general answer was "Nothing at all." "But exclaimed the shy diplomatist, "he must have said something;" and addressing a well known political writer he continued: "B———, you are a wit; go into my closet and make a mot." B——— went and came back three times; his wit was at fault; and his ideas did not suit the company. At last he returned the fourth time and pronounced with triumphant emphasis the above mentioned patriotic words: "nothing is changed in France; there is only one Frenchman more." Tallyraud applauded; and the Duc d' Artois had found his mot; and the next the papers made it known to the world, and, as an old French author says. "In this manner history is written."—Chamber's Journal.

SCOTTISH RIGHTS.

DECLARATION of the Independence of Scotland, and of the right of Robert Bruce to the Scottish Crown, by Edward II., King of England, and his Parliament, assembled at York, on 1st March, 1327-28.

"Whereas we and others of our predecessors, Kings of England, have endeavoured to obtained a right of dominion and superiority over the Kingdom of Scotland, and have thereby been the cause of long and grievous wars between the two kingdoms and, considering the numerous slaughters, sins, and bloodshed, destruction of churches, and other evils brought on the inhabitants of both kingdoms by such wars, and the many advantages which would accrue to the subjects of both realms, if, by the estalishment of a firm and perpetual peace, they are secured against all rebellious designs, have therefore, by the advice of our Prelates, Barons and Commons of our kingdom, in Parliament assembled, granted, and hereby do grant, for us and our heirs and successors whomsoever, that the kingdom of Scotland shall remain for ever to the Magnificent Prince and Lord, Robert by the Grace of God, the illustrios King of Scots, our ally and dear friend, and to his heirs and successors, free, entire, and unmolested, separate from the Kingdom of England by its respective marshes in the time of Alexander, King of Scotland, of good memory, lately deceased, without any subjection claim, or demand whatsoever, And we hereby renounce, and convey to the said King of Scotland his heirs and succesors whatever right we, or our ancestors in time past have laid claim to in any way over the Kingdom of Scotland. And these same presents, we renounce and declare void for ourselves, and our heirs and successors, all obligations, agreements, or treaties whatsoever, touching the subjection of the Kingdom of Scotland and the inhabitants thereof entered into between our predecessors and any of the Kings thereof, and their subjects whether clergy or laity. And, if there shall anywhere be found any letters, charters, monuments, or public instruments, which shall have been granted, touching the said obligations, agreements, or compacts, we declare that they shall be null and void, and of no effect whatsoever. And in order to the fulfilment of these promisses, and faithful observation thereof, in all time coming, we have given full power and special authority to our faithful and well beloved cousin, H'y. DePercy and William le Zouche of Ashby, to take oath on our soul, for the performance of the same. In testimony whereof, we have given these our letters patent at York, on the 1st of March, and in the second year of our reign; (sealed) By the King himself and his Council in Parliament'"

For two and-twenty years, from 1306 till 1328, Bruce heroically fought for the independence of Scotland, Never was there gained so complete an acknowledgment by an enemy, of the right of a nation, and of their own unlawful attempts at subjugation and dominion than is contained in the above declaration. The war of Scottish independence in the end fo the thirteenth and beginning of the fourteenth centuries, was a lesson for all time, But, alas! we modern race of Scotsmen have to confess that English diplomacy has mightily curtailed Scottish independence; and that what Bruce so nobly won by the sword has been, bit by bit encroached on by English Statecraft and Act of Parliament legislation, till at last we are left hardly even an emblem of Scottish nationality.—Scottish Paper.

Anti-Slavery Meetings in Chatham.

M. R. Hull, Esq., well known to Eastern and Western Anti-slavery men, completed a series of meetings on the subject of slavery, on Monday evening last, to the satisfaction of the hundreds who were eager listeners. The first meeting was held in the Town Hall, but owing to the weather, was not as numerously attended as it would otherwise have been; however, there was a respectable attendance.

The speaker who is of Virginia birth and of German and Irish parentage, discoursed powerfully upon the bearings of slavery upon Canadians, and all free and christian nations; and called upon them to make it a national question, and to fight if need be for its overthrow. Though suffering at the time, severely from the effects of an accident by runaway horses in the morning, the subject was handled in a new and eminently attractive way to a British audience. The encroachments of the Institution,—its voracious, horse-leach like cry of give! give!—its contaminating influence, and pestiferous breath being felt from American intercourse here in Canada; its demoralizing and degrading influence upon the whites, making of the master a tyrant, and of the poor white man a creature, infinitely below the slave in intellect, and all else, except the liberty to leave the slave states if he knew how to go and had the means to go with, were all dwelt upon in a masterly and forcible manner. The different abolition schools were then adverted to, and though of the Radical Abolitionists, handsome reference was made to the Garrisonians. The political parties were next brought in review, and the Know Nothings and Democrats were so ably handled, as to frighten a pair of live Buchananites quite away.

Mr. Hull, very properly rebuked our Canadian churches for their silent fellowship with American slaveholding churches At the Indiana Methodist conference, at which he attempted to exercise the church for its great sin, our British Wesleyan delegates "were like Isaiah's pupps, dum dogs."

The other meetings held in the churches, though consisting mostly of colored people, were densely crowded by eager listeners, who showed their appreciation of the speaker, by a large voluntary contribution. Mr. Hull will lecture in the Province yet further, and will sail for England in June next.—M A.S.C.

Rowdyism by three Trustees.

A most disgraceful scene occurred in the British Methodist church, on Sunday night last; and one justly felt by the congregation and community generally, to be a great scandal. Three graceless individuals, who by mistake, hold appointments among the church "officiary," felt moved after premeditated consultation, to break up the meeting, because the moral bearing of the slavery question was too secular a theme for their pious ears, on a Sunday night. Two of the disturbers, were fugitive slaves, who had in their experience, travelled North as briskly on Sunday as any other day The end of the mele and of their disturbance, was a severe caning to one of the parties by a brother "officiary" on the spot; and subsequently, a vote of censure by the people, at the largest meeting of Refugees we ever saw. Altogether, the conduct Sunday night, would have dignified any grog-shop among the wordlings; but it should be traced to its just source—the ignorance and degradation, consequent upon perpetuating among colored Canadians, the separate churches and organizations with their multitudes of self-righteous officials, &c., imposed by the enemies to human freedom in the American States.

Understand us, good reader! We do not say that in the separate colored churches and institutions of Canada and the States, there are no intelligent and and good men, far from it. Such men as Rev. Willis Nazery, G. W. Rrodie and the preacher, who during the troubles of of the meeting and in the fullness of genuine piety, prayed God to give the people "common sense and a plenty of it," show that even in our churches here, there are praiseworthy exceptions; but the great preponderance is on the side of stupidity and tyranny among the shepherds and office bearers, and cannot be otherwise. We trust that in the Providence of God, and for the credit of the church, that the like may never occur again'—M.A.S.C.

Refugee Home Items.

☞ Another letter from Dennis Washington of the Refugees Home, detailing most presumptuous, reprehensible and disgusting conduct on the part of C. C. Foote the agent, will be found in the present number. We beg that no reader will overlook this serious, this humiliating, this pitiable statement of the freedom enjoyed on the Refugees Home under the rule of C.C. Foote, from the pen of a former slave in Kentucky, but now, a sufferer in that fugitive trap. We will give in our next, the proceedings of another meeting at the Home with settlers' names attached. Can any friend of humanity answer why it is that such a petty despot as this beggar for the Refugees C.C. Foote, can find countenance from the Whipples Tappans and other leading anti-slavery men of that school in New York, Michigan and elsewhere? And why it is that they have no ear for the objects of his oppression, the settlers? Mr. Foote must remember that we have abundant evidence as to our course, and of their approval of the same, when employed by the American Missionary Society, from the pen of its Secretary Mr. Whipple, and his vulgar conduct and foul language about us, will neither convince refugees who know better, stop us from exposing his misdeeds, nor be borne out by the testimony we have from the body he quotes. But his conduct is just what may be expected from such a preacher supported as he is by the Refugees Home officiary. The body should be regarded and avoided as a "nest of unclean birds."—M.A.S.C.

We have learned by a gentleman from the Refugee Home the following which we give in addition to other matters. A settler on the Refugees Home, deceased, and his widow disposed of his lot to another settler named Wilson, upon which a suit was commenced in Sandwich; Mr. Wilson claiming a right to the land, and Mr. Foote on behalf of the society, persisting that by death of the former owner, the land reverts back to the society, and consequently by inference, that no settler can be owner, but merely a tenant for life of the society, whose widow and helpless children may become as landless at his decease as before settling on the land. And this land is purchased in the name of the Refugee, by funds begged from the benevolent —M. A S C.

☞ C. C. Foote who boasted in the meeting for the formation of the R.H.S., that he did not own one foot of land—we were present and heard him—lives in Detroit Michigan, in "good style;" fares sumptuously every day; and yet this man Foote could find conscience to justify him in entering the houses and selling out the furniture of two of the settlers during the past winter, when they were absent, working to earn their bread. We dare to assert that not one settler in ten, was ever told by the society, that in the event of the death of a purchaser, the land must revert to the society. Settlers have been deceived, and we hope that British justice will overtake this Foote in his high-handed course towards Canadian settlers on the Home; and that the cause of the widow and the fatherless may triumph.—M.A.S.C.

☞ A committee was appointed by the Refuees Home Society to visit the Home and report. The Committee consisted of Rev. Mr. Kitchell, a party who has been in the society since its formation, and Mr. Geo. DeBaptist, a comparatively new member. They report all correct. They are interested parties. How could they report otherwise? That is the way to prove things Prove them by themselves. Mr. Hotchkiss, half of the Home and half of the American Missionary Society says, all right. Another man proving by himself, so the world goes.—M.A.S.C.

Meetings at Philadelphia.

We beg to call attention to the proceedings of a meeting held in Philadelphia lately, to express condemnation of the Dred Scott decision, &c. Mrs. Mott, Messrs. Still, Remon, Purvis, McKimm and many others, white and colored participated.

The resolutions are strong and pointed, but why not go farther? This is not the time for strong words only; when all realize the yoke so forcibly as now why not act? Protests are well enough in their way, but to be of effect, they must point to determined action. Do the Purvises, Remonds, and others, who took part in the meeting intend to stay in the U. States? if so, the resolutions amount to nothing, if not why not say so friends? Your national ship is rotten sinking, why not leave it, and why not say so boldly, manfully?

Canada is a good country,—we have British freedom and an abundance of it,—equal political rights of course, and if you covet it. social intercourse with those in your position in life. We here give you facts. If Canada should be distasteful, British Europe, or the Isles. may be more to your mind; at all events. leave that slavery-cursed republic. Another meeting of respectable free and independent colored citizens was held previously, as they claim to believe in the United States Constitution, we shall wait with patience to see what it will do for them. We hope, however, that they too, will look at facts instead of everlastingly theorising. —M.A.S.C.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Township of Maidstone, Refugees Home, April 11th, 1857.—A meeting of the people on the Refugees Home, called by Mr. C. C. Foote, was held here: On motion of Mr. Barnes, seconded by J. Holland, Mr. Ward was appointed Chairman, and on motion of Nathan Evans, seconded by myself, F.G. Anderson was made Secretary.

A prayer was made by C. C. Foote, and after reading a sacred chapter from the Bible, Mr. Foote preached a short discourse; then stated that the object of his meeting was the two letters of Dennis Washington, in the Provincial Freeman. He said that these letters had fifteen lies in them. Mr. Foote said that giving the produce from the soil in exchange was not selling, that I offered to sell him my wood, but he would not buy it at all. In my letter No 1, concerning the donations I did not say that I never had got any thing from him; this spring a year ago, I got some few things from him. when I was sent as agent from the settlement. You will find in letter No. 1, where I stated that I did not come all the way from slavery, to have a white man for my overseer. He said that was a lie; he was no overseer, he wanted the people to be free. I said in my letter No. 1, that you must come and see us, we would call a meeting for you; Mr. C.C. Foote said to the teacher, Mr. F. G. Anderson, that he must not let you have the School House for any meeting at all This is the way he wants the people to be free, to choke down free discussion. The Vice-President of the United States would not have said any more than that, and he is a slaveholder of the state of Kentucky, where I fled from. Mr. C. C. Foote said that when I was sent to Michigan by the settlers to get help, I did not go among my friends, that I went among his friens. By this he wants the people to believe that I have no friends in the States.

Mr. C. C. Foote made some very rough remarks concerning the Editress of the Freeman, when she was sent out by the American Missionary Society at New York; and this same Mr. Foote said that I stold the flannel shirt out of the School House which is a lie, for there was a family living in the house when I got the shirt, and the woman was in the room when I and she overlooked the things, when I carried it home.

You will see in letter No 2 where I said that some of them that try to get along he is trying to starve out. There was a woman in the house at the time Mr Foote was in the stand, who said something, and he drew a letter from his pocket and said that it was from the Committee, and he told her if her husband did not keep quiet. the Committee would put him off. A peaceable family they are on their lot. The woman's husband was in Detroit at the time at work, trying to get something for his family of ten when all at home. The woman's husband is my father-in-law.

Then Mr. C. C. Foote said that Mrs. Cary had hired me to write these letters, which you know is false, and then went on to abuse me, calling me a serpent and all kinds of names he could lay his tongue to, and told the people that if they did not vote to have letters of mine published as lies in your paper, and another, he would leave the agency or have them corrected. He said at last he hoped I would repent.

I have offered them my land back, and would be glad to leave the settlement—my impoverished condition demands it. At present, I have no means to go away with; I am in debt to the amount of one hundred and fifty dollars, and no way to make it here. No more to say at present.

Yours for God and humanity.

DENNIS WASHINGTON.

futes the absurdity, to indulge in any such idle phantasies,

Resolved, That to persist in supporting a Government which holds and exercises the power, as distinctly set forth by a tribunal from which there is no appeal, to trample a class under foot as an inferior and degraded race, is on the part of the colored men at once the height of folly and the depth of pusillanimity.

Resolved That no allegiance is due from any man or any class of men, to a Government founded and administered in iniquity, and that the only duty the colored men owes to a Constitution under which he is declard to be an inferior and degraded being, having no rights which white men are bound to respect, is to denounce and repudiate it, and to do what he can by all proper means to bring it into contempt.

Mr. Purvis' speech in support of these resolutions was brief and earnest. He scouted the idea of colored people taking comfort from the pretence that this decision of the Supreme Court was unconstitutional. The Supreme Court, he said, was the appointed tribunal, and what it said was constitutional was constitutional to all practical intents and purposes. There was nothing new in this decision; it was in perfect keeping with the treatment of the colored people by the American Goverament, from the beginning to this day. Mr. Purvis was asked by one of the audience if he had not been acknowledged and treated as an American citizen. He said he had been, and that by the Cabinet of General Jackson. He stated that, intending to embark on a voyage to Europe, he applied to the Secretary of State for a passport, and an informal ticket-of-leave sort of paper was sent to him in return

He showed this to Mr. Robert Vaux, father of the present Mayor, who was so indignent that he wrote to Washington on the subject, and as the result, a formal passport giving him the protection of the Government as a citizen of the United States was sent to him. But, said Mr. Purvis, I was indebted for this not to the American Constitution orto the spirit of the American Government, but to the generous impulses of General Andrew Jackson, who had on more occasions that one in the then late war publicly tendered his gratitude to colored "citizens" for their brave assistance in the defence of the country.

Mr. Purvis was followed by C. L. Remond of Salem, Mass., who, in reply to the same interrogator, stated that his father, being an immigrant from the West Indies, was formally naturalized as a citizen of the United States, but like Mr. Purvis, he considered this no proof that the supreme Court were not vested power to declare that people of African descent could not be citizens of the United States. Mr. Remond then offered the following resolutions, with a view, as he said, of making the expression contained in those of Mr. Purvis more complte:

Resolved That though many of our fathers and some of us have, in times past, exercised the right of American citizenship; this when a better spirit pervaded the land, and when the patriotic services of colored men in the defence of the country were fresh in the mind of the people; but that the power to oppress us lurked at the time in the Constitution, only waiting to be developed, and that now when it suits the slave oligarchy to assert that power, we are made to feel its grinding weight.

Resolved, That what little remains to us, of political rights in individual States, we hold as we conceive only by sufferance; and that when it suits the purposes of the slave power to do so, they will command their obedient dough-face allies at the North to take these rights away from us, and leave us no more place under the State Government than we have under the Federal.

Resolved, That we rejoice that slave holding despotism lays its ruthless hand not only on the humble black man, but on the poor white man, and our hope is that when our white fellow slaves in these so called free States, see that they are alike subject with us to the slave oligarchy, the difference in our servitude being only in degree, they will make common cause with us, and that throwing off the yoke and striking for impartial liberty they will join with us in our efforts to recover the long lost boon of Freedom.

Mr, Remond spoke at length and with much fervor. He considered that for colored people, after this, to persist claiming citizenship under the United States Constitution would be mean-spirited and craven. We owe no allegiance, he said, to a country which grinds us under its iron hoof and treats us like dogs The time has gone by for colored people to talk of patriotism. He used to be proud that the first blood shed in the American Revolution that of Attucks, who fell in Boston was that of a colored man. He used to be proud that his grandfather, on his mother's side, fought for liberty in the Revolutionary war. But this time had passed by. The liberty purchased by the Revolutionary men was used to enslave and degrade the colored man, and, as a colored man, he loathed and abhorred the government that could perpetrate such outrages. He repudited, he denounced the American Union in strong terms. People might talk to him of "patience. He had no patience to submit quietly to chains and oppression. Let others bare their backs to the lash and meekly and submissively wear their chains. That was not his idea of duty, or of manhood, or of self-respect.

Mr. Remond many remarks on other subjects, as did also Mr Purvis, who again took the floor. When the resolutions came to be put, some opposition was made and a rambling and somewhat personal debate ensued; end of which was that the question, was taken on the resolutions as a whole, and the chair pronounced them carried. The minority vote if not large was very loud.

CONSISTING OF

Forty-Five Farmers and Mechanics.

All large buyers themselves, have established this Store in order to

in buying their own necessaries,—instead of establishing it to MAKE MONEY,—herein consists the difference between this and the other Stores.

In order to make the Farmers & Mechanics Store self-supporting, the Small Advance of

Fifteen Per Cent,

is charged on Cost, and the whole public placed on an equal footing with Members of the Combination, so that the RULE IS

One Price to ALL!

Whether Members of the Combination or not. The Combination are determined to make their Store as POPULAR AS POSSIBLE, so that as fast as its deficiences are ascertained, they will be supplied.

☞ The Large Yard and Comfortable Shed in the rear of the Store, is found to be a great convenience by the Customers.

National predilections are gratified here also, an Englishman will find a Countryman to deal with, so will a Scotchman, an Irishman, a Dutchman, a Canadian or a Frenchman.

ALL are HERE REPRESENTED
AND
ALL WILL BE WELCOME!

To enumerate items would swell this Advertisement to several columns; it must therefore suffice to say that the Assortments of the following different kinds of Goods to be found in the FARMERS & MECHANICS STORE, are very complete, viz:

STAPLE & FANCY
DRY-GOODS!
CLOTHING,
Boots and Shoes,—Hats and Caps,
Trunks, Valises, &c.,
Stationery and School-Books,
Oil Painted & Paper Window-Shades & Self-Adjusting Rollers, Wall Paper,
Wooden & Willow-ware, Cordage,

GLASS & STONEWARE,
CROCKERY, WINDOWGLASS, (all sizes,
Champagnes,
Wines, Ales,

Warranted Genuine!

PICKLES & SAUCES,
Foreign and Domestic Fruits,
NUTS, &c.,
Groceries and Provisions, Oils, Varnishes, Turpentine & Paints, Dye Woods, Dye Stuffs, &c., &c., &c.

☞ Bear in Mind, kind Reader, only FIFTEEN PER CENT is charged on the cost of any Article in all the above numerous classes of Goods, UNIFORMLY, therefore, if you happen to find some particular Article as Cheap in some other Store, you must not imagine that every thing is so, because about FIFTY PER CENT is the CUSTOMARY ADVANCE.

It is claimed for the Farmers & Mechanics Store, that its Customers SAVE, all round,

Fully 30 Per Cent,

and HUNDREDS who have bought Goods there will willingly certify to the JUSTICE of the CLAIM.

ATTENTION is directed to the following Resolution of the Combination, passed at a Meeting of its Members, held on Saturday, the first instant:

"RESOLVED, That it is not at all times convenient for many of the Members of this Combination to pay down for their necessaries; and in order to meet the case of such parties, it is the wish of a majority of this meeting that the Manager do open accounts with Members requiring the same, as is [illegible] with ALL responsible Persons: upon such Members or other Persons consenting to pay 5 per cent on the amount of their Account, to cover expense of keeping such Account All such Accounts to be due and rendered on the First of January, First of April, First of July and First of October; on which days, to be closed and interest charged till paid."

☞ All kinds of Farm Produce will always be BOUGHT, and FOUND FOR SALE at the "FARMERS & MECHANICS STORE"

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing the Prospectus for 1856 the Proprietors of the POST feel that the favor with which the public have honored it during the last thirty-four years of its existence, and the character of a first-class family paper which it has always sustained, during the whole of that period of FIFTY FOUR YEARS, are sufficient guarantees that it remains to be, as it has always been, a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands, the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character, Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture, Accounts of the Produce and Stock Markets, and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the entire intellect becomes narrow and one-sided. In order to take the enlarged and comprehensive view of human nature which is necessary to a correct estimate of Heaven-implanted emotions, the Publishers of the POST endeavor to give a fair proportion of both PROSE and POETRY and HUMOR.

Among our contributors will be found some of the above named classes of writers in the best. We have now in preparation for the Post a story by Fredrika Bremer, the celebrated Swedish authoress, and this country's Great Britain's most popular writer, commencing a New Story by Miss Sedgwick, author of "The Poor Rich Man and the Poor Miriam," &c. in our first paper for January next.

Engravings of the latest fashions, and other engravings, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, if paid quarterly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the POST are Two Dollars, if paid in advance. Two Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low rates of Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

1 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 2
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North American provinces, must remit fifteen cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and this prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When a draft is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they could conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT. Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs &c.

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

VARIOUS BOOKS, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unanimously denounced in past years, have enacted and proved as Pro-Slavery or Silent, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. These societies, &c., have been shamefully and wickedly (since 1850) in force, and Canada and its laws and its people trampled under foot, by the most inhuman and inhumane practices, in a Free and a British Province. And I call to witness that character of otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

The Canadian Anti-Slavery Society of Canada [illegible] Anti-Slavery Society are with the Pro-Slavery Societies in Canada, and [illegible] Canada Tract Society and [illegible] of Canada, and [illegible] of Canada, &c. &c. of forming any fellowship with such societies.

The societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society, New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication, Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [North] Book Room and Depository, New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia, and American Baptist Missionary Union, Bible—[All Baptists of United States except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists" are called pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptist Churches" page 108.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] American and Foreign Bible Union, [Baptist,] New York and Boston Bible Houses, N.Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York—with many others,—all pro-slavery, and silent on slavery, and obtained at its Bible House, Astor Place, New York.

Let me to custom question the public "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived, sinfully so.

"This is a book which NO BAPTIST in Canada,—lay or clerical,—should be without. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. WHAT MAKES A MAN

Not numerous years, not lengthened life,
Not pretty children and a wife,
Not pins and chains and fancy rings,
Nor any such like trumpery things;
Not pipe, cigar or bottled wine,
Not coats nor boots nor yet a hat,
A dandy vest or trim cravat;
Not houses, land or golden ore,
Not all the world's wealth laid in store;
Not Mr, Rev, Sir., nor Squire,
With titles that the memory tire;
Not ancestry, traced back to Will,
Who went with Normandy to kill,
Not Latin, Greek nor Hebrew lore,
Nor thousand volumes rumbled o'er;
Not judge's robe, nor mayor's mace,
Not crowns that deck the royal race;—
These all united, never can
Avail to make a single man.

A truthful soul, a loving mind,
Full of affection for its kind;
A spirit firm, erect and free,
That never basely bends the knee;
That will not bear a feather's weight
Of slavery's chain for small or great;
That truly speaks from God within
And never makes a league with sin;
That snaps the fetters despots make
And loves the truth for its own sake,
That worships God and him alone,
And bows no where but at his throne;
That trembles at no tyrant's nod,
A soul that fears no one but God,
And thus can smile at curse or ban;—
That is the soul that makes a man.

THE DUTIES OF COLORED MEN IN CANADA.

What are the duties of colored men in these Provinces, who have been forced here from American despotism and oppression? We shall answer this question as frankly and at the same time, as sincere as we think its importance demands. Well then! we live in a government that knows no caste in its political organization. All men stand upon the broad platform of equality before the laws, and are alike cared for by her Majesty's government. It is as true now as it was when Curran spoke those immortal words.

No matter what complexion incompatable with Liberty, and Indian or an African sun may have burnt upon him, the moment he sets his foot upon British soil he is free

He is protected in the enjoyment of that liberty. The strong arm of the government is thrown around the weak and defenceless This is monarchical England! From this pleasing picture we turn to its contrast the Republican goverment of the United States that, and what are its recent decisions upon questions involving the liberty of her entire colored population. Why? that none but white men were intended to be recognized as citizens in the political structure of the government. That negroes constitute the exceptions; that they have no rights under her laws; are aliens and out-casts upon her shores. Its a political maxim, that we owe allegiance to a government, just in proportion to the amount of protection given. If rights are the basis of loyalty and obedience to governments, then the path of duty is plain. We owe every thing to the country of our adoption and nothing to that miserable, contemptible, despotism the government of the United States. who with the cant of liberty democracy and christianity upon her lips, plunders the black-man's cradle, and sells babies new-born, in the market place, for money. This is harsh language, but just such as they merit at the hands of every colored man! The Devil will never get his own, till he gets that wicked and guilty nation. It is the duty of every British subject in view of the encroachments of slavery upon this continent the lawless and reckless spirit that it begets in the minds of all who are brought in contact with it, and especially Her Majesty's colored subjects, to resist to the, last every innovation upon the Conservative pinciples of British liberty and British rule in these Provinces.

Colored men should become as thoroughly British as they can. We are opposed to all separate organizations, whether civil political or ecclesiastical, that can have no other effect than that of creating a line of demarcation; fostering if not creating a spirit of caste here such as colored men are compelled to suffer in the United States.

Separate colored schools and churches are nuisances that should be abated as soon as possiable, they are dark and hateful relics of Yankee negrophbia, contrary to that healthy, social and political equality, recognized by the fundamental principles of British common law, and should never be permitted to take root upon British soil.

We know this is unpopular, but we have counted the cost, and since we have passed the "Rubicon," we intend to carry the war on in right good earnest, until every intelligent, independent, thinking, colored men shall fully understand and confess that these things are not necessary here. We have said this much in all deference to the opinions of others For ourselves, we would rather be right than popular, confident as we are, that time will fully vindicate the correctness of the position we have assumed.—H. F. D.

IMPORTANT MOVE—THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

(From the Venango Star.)

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democracy of this county, was held at Riceville, on Monday, March 30th, for the purpose of endorsing the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case. Col. Kamer, of Irwin township, presided. Several eloquent speeches were delivered by Judge Cooley, Dr. Weymar, and Mr. T. H. Parsons. The following resolutions were offered by Jas. F. Wool, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Democratic party has always sustained the Constitution of the United States, as interpreted by the Federal judiciary.

Resolved, That our confidence in the learning, integrity, and patrotism of the Supreme Court of the United States, is firm, unshaken and unbounded, and that their recent decison of the Dred Scott case, is entitled to the approbation and support of all who uphold the Union and the Constitution

Resolved, That the Black Republican party, by its malignant abuse of the venerable members of the court, has shown that its real aim and object is to subvert and destroy the very foundations of this glorious Republic.

Col. Holland offered the following resolution;

Resolved, "That the State Legislature be requested to inquire into the expediency of liquidating the debt of the State by the sale of all persons of color now residing in Pennsylvania.

Col. H. in supporting this resolution, said that altough this proposition might at first seem to be a startling one, yet a little reflection would convince every thinking man that the plan was not only perfectly in accordance with the decision of the U. S Supreme Court but was also perfectly feasible, He spoke at considerable length, developing the details of the proposed plan. His remarks were listened to with profound attention, and at their conclusion the meeting adjourned until the 27th instant, when final action will be taken on the resolution. We abstain, for the present, from any remarks on this new move on the political chessboard.

'THE WORTHLESS NEGROES.'

In consequence of the recent stringent enactments in Florida, touching their interest, forbiding trade with them and appointing guardians over them, a large number of the free colored population of Pensacola, mechanics, &c., have determined upon chartering a vessel in the Spring, and emigrating in a body beyond the confines of the United States Tampico being their immediate destination. Alarmed at this movent, the West Florida Times, published in Pensacola, makes the following earnest remonstranee;—

'We regret that the Assembly should have marred the general propriety and wisdom of its legislation at the late session, by the passage of the act. Unnecessarily oppressive in its provisions, particularly in as regards the colored of this community, who have ever been among the most sober, industrious and law abiding of our citizens, the workings of the act must present a strong balance of evil rather than of good. Many of our colored people are persons of property, and, not having the privilege of appointing there own agents, their substance may be placed at the mercy of dishonest and of designing parties; their previously scanty privileges are yet further limited, and they are scarcely allowed the feeling of volition, not to speak of independence of action, in the smallest affairs of business. A consequence of such stringent enactments is the expatriating of a large number of colored persons, mechanics, etc., whom the town can ill afford to lose; they have determined upon chartering a vessel in the Spring, and emigrating in a body beyond the confines of the United States Tampico being their destination. We hope they will be dissaded from carrying into effect a plan that will exile them from the locality where, with scarcely an exception, they were born and have passed their whole lives. Though a question as to their constitunality can scarcely be raised, we think, although we have heard such such course suggested by several, we can hold out a well-grounded hope that the next Assembly will so modify existing statutes as to render the position of the free colored people more bearable.'

RECEIPT FOR MATRIMONIAL HAPPINESS.—Preserve the privacies of your house, marriage state, heart, from father, mother, sister, brother, aunt, and all the world. You two, with God's help, build your own quiet world; every third or fourth one whom you draw into it with you will form a party' and stand between you two. That should never be. Promise this to each other. Renew the vow at each temptation. You will find your account in it. Your souls will grew, as it were, together, and at last they will be come as one. Ah, if many a young pair had, at their wedding day known this secret, how many marriages were happier than—alas!—they are!

HAVE MERCY ON THE CHILDREN.—The Independent in an article on the physical degeneracy of the American people speaks as follows:

The child's will governs to much. If they do not choose to go to bed they sit up; if they choose certain articles of food they must have them, parents forgetting that instinct is no safe guide in a child, whatever it may be in an animal. So we see them in this delicate organization, keeping late hours when they should go to bed with the birds; and eating hot bread, pudding and cake, and drinking tea and coffee to the infinite detriment of nerves and stomach. The injury thus early done can never be repaired; as a machine constructed at first can never be made to run faultlessly.

This is the secret. Parent's should know that instinct is no safe guide to a child, particularly when the child is surrounded on all sides with poisoned delicacies. To ask a child at a modern table what it will have and give it what it asks for, merely because it asks for it, it is a very common practice. But it is as cruel as it is common. Have mercy on the children.

DEATH OF ANDERSSON THE TRAVELLER.—The Exdret audet of Stockholm, of March 2, says; "We have just received the news of the death of the celebrated Swedish traveller. Mr. Anderson. He some time ago set out on his third journey into the interior of Africa to make zoological researches, and after having explored the banks of the Tioghe and of Lake Ngami, he undertook, in company with an Englishman. Mr. Green, an excursion in an easterly direction, and succeeded in reaching a country into which no other European ever penetrated. There he met a young elephant and went in pursuit of it; just as he was on the point of overtaking it, a very large elephant joined it, two natives fired on the latter and wounded it, on which the animal attacked Mr. Anderson, and killed him by trampling him under foot. Mr. Andersson was buried on the spot on which he was killed. His numerous and valuable collections have been deposited at the consulate of Sweden and Norway, at the Cape of Good Hope."

Mr. Andersson was the author of the captivating book of travels entitled "Lake Ngami or Explorations in Southern Africa," from which we have given our readers copious extracts.

BARBAROUS TREATMENT OF A SLAVE.—A man named Vincent Rossen, says the West Tennessee Argus, has recently been run out of that town for appearing to claim a runaway slave woman, who was induced to leave his service by the most barbarous treatment we ever heard of. The Argus says:

"We are informed that he pushed her out into the weather during the coldest of last winter, bare-footed and poorly clad, until her fingers and toes were badly frosted; he then took his knife and cut them off, and threw them into the fire—poured hot water and threw hot embers on her—beat and abused her in every way which the devil himself could have invented, and she is only eleven or twelve years old. At length she could bear it no longer, and ran away—she was taken up and brought to town for imprisonment in a horrible condition, covered with sores, and nearly dead."

THE IRRELIGIOUS PRESS. The Independent thus heads a flaming column:—

'THE DECISION OF THE SUPREME COURT IS THE MORAL ASSASSINATION OF A RACE, AND CANNOT BE OBEYED.'

We will see—if ever in this city they try disobedience. There is an army of 20,000 Irishmen, and 15,000 Germans and French here, (most of them having been conscripts,) who stand ready to follow the new U. S. Marshal, Capt. Rynders; and there are 20,000 of us 'Americans,' who will look on and follow Judge Betts whenever Capt. Rynders is resisted in serving a U. S. process, or a process of the Supreme Court of the United States.—Observer

A FINALITY.—The decision in the Dred Scott case must be a finality, so far as federal legislation on the institution of slavery is concerned. The fiat has gone forth, the constitution has been construed, and Congress must reform. Abolitionism must now unmask, and wage its warfare openly and above board against the government per se, or bow to its behests and pass off the stage.—Richmond (Va.) Enquirer.

THE GARDEN CULTURE OF PEAS.

One of the first seeds put into the ground by all good gardners is the pea. Some even anticipate the Spring, and put it in the early crop in the Fall, before the frost shuts it up. The seed is not injured by the frost, and any open spell in winter be improved to plant this crop. It starts at a low temperature, and it is not uncommon to see a row of garden peas passing through the snows of March. Unless actually frozen, they do not appear to be injured by the snow. As they are the earliest annuals that come to the table, so they are among the most wholesome and warmly welcomed of all the products of the Garden.—There are several hundreds upon the lists.—Among the early variety that we know to be good are the Extra Early May, Early June, Early Kent, Washington, Charlton, Emperor, and Prince Albert. The Dan O'Rourke, sent out from the Patent Office, is an early and excellent pea, but all cannot get the seed of it this season. About a week later than these is the Champion of England, which we prefer to any other we have ever grown early or late. The vines are a little taller, and the pods much heavier, and full of a very rich, delicious pea. The peas shrivel as they dry. The Marrowfat are a little later still, and of these there are of numerous varieties all excellent.

For early varieties we select the south side of a wall or the southern or eastern slope where they will have the full benefit of the sun, and be protected from the north winds. We sow them in double drills about six inches apart in the drill. We sow with a brush seed sower, making very rapid work.—For convenience in picking, and for cleanliness, brush are desirable, but are not generally used by market gardeners, as they increase the labor and expense.

We usually trench the land where we plant peas, working in large quantities of stable manure or compost. It is one of the lime plants, and is much benefitted by application of lime to the soil.—Amer. Agriculturist.

CALENDAR OF GARDENING OPERATIONS.

APRIL

BY J. A. BRUCE, GARDNER AND SEEDSMAN

KING STREET WEST, TORONTO.

This is certainly the most important month in the year for gardening operations, the soil should be well manured and dug or plowed, then harrowed or raked to pulverize the soil and make it suitable for seeding or planting.

It is a matter of the utmost importance to the cultivator to have good sound seed, for want of which many are disappointed in their principal crops when too late to sow again; it is also a material consideration to have the best variety, both of seedand plants of their respective kinds. Asparagus plantations may now be made, and the following sorts of vegetable seeds sown, viz: beets carrots, early cabbage for summer use, celery, cress, cucumbers, and melons in frames for early planting, leek, lettuce, onion, parsley, parsnip, radish, salsafy, spinage, turnip scorzonera, mustard; also, plant peas and English beans, potatoes and artichokes, top and potato onions.

Towards the end of the month, cucumbers and melons may be removed from the frames to the open ground; cover with hand frames, and attend to them according to the changes of the weather. Weed hotbeds, and give them air, by raising the lights in sunny days to harden the plants, and prevent them being drawn up and becoming weakned; in a very warm sun it will be necessary to shade the lights at mid-day. Water morning and evening.

OUT CANVASSING.

Messrs. I. D. Shadd & H. F. Douglass, both of this office, will visit many of the towns and cities in Western and Eastern Canada, immediately, for the purpose of promoting the interest and prospects of this paper, and the cause of humanity generally. Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

The "Raleigh Plains" Lands.

We have learned from very respectable sources, that the above lands are likely to be disposed of by the Government to one or two speculators in this county, on condition of draining the same; representations having been made to the Commissioner of Crown Lands, the Hon. Mr. Cauchon, that the lands in question are entirely submerged, and therefore, unfit and undesirable for agricultural purposes at present.

Should such be the intention of the department, great injustice will be done to many worthy men, who either have squatted upon lots, or who have long desired to cultivate them, but who have been thwarted by the local Crown Lands agents, from the representation that Government did not intend to dispose of them to actual settlers. Nothing is farther from the truth, than the statement that the plains are under water, to such an extent that they cannot be cultivated—a large portion are as dry as the prairies of Illinois, at any season, and the remainder could in the opinion of practical agriculturists, be drained with but little expense. The experiment of draining their lots has been tried by some parties with satisfactory results, and in the case of one party—to whom, by the way, a lot was sold by the department some time ago—the expense of draining, tilling, &c., has been found to be less than that of clearing and preparing timber lands. The truth respecting, those lands their availibility for agricultural purposes even in their present state, is well known to those seeking to monopolize, and the anxiety of many who are, and who desire to become actual settlers is equally well known in this county. Were an opportunity given to the latter,—could definite and encouraging information reach them, the vast area would in a short time be settled up with industrious agriculturists, who would obligate to drain their lands where needed, and thus add to the general interests of the community, without the draw back upon prosperity, the sure result of a monopoly.—M. A. S.C.

The Things most Needed

By the colored people of Canada, are a good British Education, thorough instruction to the young by means of British school books, by teachers British at heart,—and religious instruction in the churches of the Province without distinctions, and by qualified preachers, whether white or black—not as now in some cases little places of our own, and by ignoramuses; these essentials, and a regular indoctrinating in the principles and policy of Canada Conservative politics, make up all to be desired at present. That is, if the people will consent to let American books, teaching, pro-slavery republican preaching, negro-hating separate institutions, Yankee old clothes and new clothes, and Yankee habits alone. —M.A.S.C.

LECTURE.

Mr. Peter H. Clark of Cincinnatti, Ohio, delivered an Anti-Slavery lecture, &c., on Wednesday evening last, to a large audience in the colored Baptist Church. Mr. C. is a ready and eloquent speaker and his address was listened to with deep attention after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him.

Mr. Clarks' remarks upon economy, and the necessity of trades to young people, the force of moral example upon the Institution of slavery, were particularly good.—M.A.S.C.

Laymen to search and read for themselves—Slavery.

The following letter, written to a gentleman in Stratford, by our friend Mr. Linton, will shew how much laymen in churches, &c., have to learn and to investigate for themselves. Mr. Linton has published lists of books which if consulted will shew to the world, that the grounds of action he takes are invulnerable. He publishes nothing,—as he writes to us,—but what he has the proof of in his possession. Will our friends be induced to act and challenge their several ministers and churches who may have erred, and who continue to err, on the subject of slavery fellowship?

(COPY.)

STRATFORD, 21st April, 1857,

DEAR SIR:—As I thought from an expression of yours last night, in conversation while with Mr. H. F. Douglass, (after his valuable lecture) that you seemed to doubt the statements and accusations I have made against the pro-slavery American Sunday School Union and American Tract Society, I hope you will consider it your duty to test your doubts by obtaining American authority and information on the subject as to facts, [for "opinions" and "arguments" are only such which are advanced in the best and is the worst of causes.] Among the various lists of American books I have published, you will find the names of some which contain the facts, not disputed,—and one of the lists, you will find in the "Voice of the Bondsman" No 4, just received and enclosed,—and in the Extra No. 5, [October 1855] also enclosed. Before you came to Stratford from Montreal, that part of the subject referable to the accusations against the above two Societies, was amply discussed in the public papers. The matter is so notorious, that now in 1857, [what was not in 1854] colporters of these Societies are not to be found in Canada [I believe]—but the same and worse, is to be found in your church, the Congregational, never-the-less, gives countenance to and helps to circulating of the books, &c., of these Societies,—and the very books [unless very lately changed] were to be found in your church in Stratford,—"fourth of July hymn" and all. It is a pity, that to you, a Canadian, and to so many others, connected with churches, that explanations as to such a "horrid cruelty," as slavery and slavery fellowship, [for the latter as an "accessory" is worse than the "principal"] have to be made,—when the very information which I, a layman too, have access to, is as accessible to you and any one else,—and my statements of facts, will be borne out by reference to the most evangelical men, in the U. States. It is a layman's duty, if he has any connection with religion at all, or with any church.—to put his remonstrances, at the very least, before the body he belongs to or adheres to.—and where do we find such? But I find the instances of want of knowledge on the subject, and with a want of anxiety to know. I consider the matter,—better and far more able men than I am, have also considered it,—as one of the first duties of the professing christian, to repudiate from them, such things as I accuse churches and in particular Canada of entertaining,—and these things are sad things, to be entertained by any professing christian, or by any church

I enclose also "Bondsman" Nos. 1 & 2 You will see from this explanation to you, how impossible it would be, to give such to every one, for I would as likely need to have an army of clerks to help me,—that shows how urgent it is, for all professing christians and for every one who values humanity and his own freedom as a man, to search and examine for themselves.

I humbly try, in the issues of the "Bondsman" [gratuitously and voluntarily] to put before Canadians and a British people, some facts on the subject in reference to our churches in Canada, and their fellowship with pro-slavery and silent religious bodies of the U. States.

I am, Dear Sir,
Yours truly,
J. J. E. LINTON.

MANUEL PEREIRA; or the Sovereign Rule of South Carolina—With views of Slavery Laws Life, and Hospitality—By F. C. Adams—(Written in Charleston, South Carolina)—LONDON: Clarke, Beeton & Co., HALIFAX,—WASHINGTON, D. C., Buell & Blanchard,—PHILADELPHIA, Willis P. Hazzard,—TORONTO, C. W., Thompson & Co.—pp. 388, price 3 9d.

We are particular in stating the title of this valuable book. The preface dated July 1856—It should be one of the first books to be reviewed by Lord Napier, the noble representative of our mother country, Great Britain at Washington, U. S.—The facts elucidated are worth the notice of Canadian politicians, and joined to the also invaluable works of Frederick Law Olmsted, on the Seaboard Slave States and "Journey through Texas," &c. (both books also to be got at Thompson & Co's, large book store in Toronto) which with many others of a kindred character lie scattered about promiscuously,—the Lord only knows, and Uncle Sam, perhaps—If joined to the [illegible] and the [illegible] would make a volume of startling facts, and his assistance [illegible] (as we have the opposite,) and loyal nation to see things as they are at last and to give to that part of all Uncle Sam's dominions, namely,—the Land of the brave and the free, its just claims. Joined to the [illegible] Society and his assistance [illegible] (as to [illegible] Constitution &c.,) there is at once the two foremost gigantic powers of the humanitarian world, both at issue with each upon the question of practical fellowship viz:—"Letters on slavery addressed to the pro-slavery men of America, &c." by O. S. Freeman,—pp 105, Boston,—B Marsh,—and "the North and the South,—A statistical view &c., pp. 134, by Henry Chase, A. M and Charles W. Sanborn, M. D., (compiled from official documents—Boston; Jewett & Co. Of these "Letters" it has been written—"Every one, whether black, interested in his own state of freedom should have these letters.—We pretend to know something of the slave question, for and against, and we hesitate not to say.—In such books, as the above, THE ARMOUR OF THE ANTI-SLAVERY ADVOCATE CONSISTS

In the March 1857 number of the Anti-slavery Reporter, published in London, (Eng.) under the sanction of the British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, (Louis Chamerovzow, Esq., Secretary,) there is an article on the [illegible] ment of Colored Seamen" and in it the subject and the case of Manuel Pereira, who was steward on board the British brig Janson, is referred to.—That useful monthly periodical, should be in the hands of all considerate persons, who are desirous of having truthful and reliable information, and we recommend also the worthy publication of Mr. Webb of Dublin, (Ireland,) titled the Anti-Slavery Advocate.")

In the preface to the above book of Manuel Pereira, the author justly states that he bore witness to "the effect of a law made to arm fear, and punish innocent men we mean that law claiming a right to imprison foreign women because they are colored. It may seem strange to our readers in the New England States, not acquainted with the merits of the law, that an innocent man should be marched at noon-day and dragged to a prison, because he is colored, but it will seem still more strange to know that such an exhibition should be performed upon a citizen of their country. We witnessed this barbarous spectacle carried out upon the person whose name is to mark a portion of the title of our work, and with pained feelings take up our pen to expose its inhumanity, hoping that our Southern friends will profit by our hints, and root out the evils that are working their own downfall. We know Southern life and the South."

"When we are called upon to support laws founded in domestic fear, that infringe upon the rights of foreign citizens, and are made subservient to various grades of mendacity, it becomes our duty to localise the serpent, and point out the odium which attaches to the State that enacts them." "Though the task be a delicate one for us, we shall show that law is a mere instrument of favour and not principle and that justice hath no reign in the Slave States, and especially those of a central locality,—that a peculiar institution absorbs public spirit, and takes precedence of every thing,—that its protection has become a source of wealth to lawyers and politicians, and that law is [illegible] as the means to an end, and that [illegible] ask for those who owe to allegiance [illegible] to the protection of [illegible] to the [illegible] and [illegible] to the [illegible] and [illegible] to the [illegible] and

CHARGE OF MURDER AT SEA.

At the late Exeter Assizes, Hugh Orr was indicted for the wilful murder of Edward Devne, on the high seas, on the 3d of July last. The prisoner was the captain of a vessel called the Hannah Jane, of about 12a tons burden. The deceased was a black man a native of Boston, in the United States, about thirty-two years of age, and was engaged as cook in the ship. In February 1856 the vessel sailed from Newcastle to Senegal then to Cape Verde Islands, to Rio Grande, and then back to England. While they were in the Senegal river, the captain commenced a most extraordinary series of cruelties—beating and flogging the cook day by day for four weeks, until, becoming weaker from these cruelties, death relieved him from his sufferings on the 3d of July. He was beaten by the captain and the mate with ropes, with broom handles, and with a 'cat,' and when his back was raw he was scrubbed with a brush. The poor fellow used to cry for mercy, and called upon the crew to come and help him, but the crew dared not interfere. When the vessel reached Rio Grande, the crew informed the consul there of the treatment the cook had received, and of his death, but he said he could not do anything in the matter. The ship arrived at Plymouth in December, and then an inquiry was instituted, which ended in the captain being sent to prison for trial. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of manslaughter, and he was sentenced to be transported for life.

WEST INDIES.

JAMAICA.

The weather was favourable and the crops promising, with the prospect of a considerable increase on the crop of last year. Enthusiastic meetings for the suppression of the slave trade in Cuba had been held all over the island, and the utmost determination expressed on the subject. Different articles in one of the London morning journals, supposed to express the sentiments of the Premier on this subject, had given general satisfaction.

The health of the island was good, and the colonists in better spirits from their improved prospects.

TRINIDAD.

Reaping operation had been rather impeded by wet weather. The crops on the whole were promising, but comparatively little sugar would be exported to Britain, large operations having taken place for the States, to supply the failure in the Louisiana crop.

BARBADOES

The attention of commercial men was occupied with a project started by the "West India, North and South American Telegraph Company, to lay down a line of submarine telegraph, connecting the West Indies with the North and South American continents, the line then to be placed in connection with the transatlantic line which is about to be laid down. The required capital to lay down the line will be L 350,000. The plan had been well received, and the House of Assembly had almost unanimously adopted resolutions approving the project. His Excellency the Governor had in reply to a deputation promised his cordial support to the measure.

TORTURES OF PRISONERS

According to the correspondence of the Corriere Mercantile, of Genoa, the governor of the prison at Celalu in order to deaden the cries of persons under torture, has imported from Palermo an instrument for the purpose. It consists of an iron band round the head, with a band over the head, and a band round under the lower jaw, with another band under the ear round the back of the neck, keeping the jaw-piece in its place. By the tightening of the wire band the patient is compelled to keep his jaw firmly closed. A constable, who had fetched a doctor to one of the patients whom he had supposed to be dying, was severely punished for his humanity, although the governor of the prison, under the injunctions of the doctor, permitted the band to be removed from the prisoner in question

Southern Railway.—Every thing has been arranged for the construction of the Southern Railway, Mr. Buchanan being since the death of Mr. Zimmerman, the ruling spirit in the affair. Mr. Wythes a leading English railway man, and contractor for the Toronto and Hamilton road, and the London and Port Stanley branch of the Great Western, takes one-half the contract for construction, and Messrs. Gzowski & Co the other. Hon. Joseph C. Morrison is the President of the company. Under these auspices the road will undoubtedly be built immediately.—Globe.

War in Liberia.—We have seen letters from several of the missionaries employed by the Methodist Episcopal Church in Liberia, from which we learn that a furious war is in the vicinity of Cape Palmas, between the colonists and the natives. Thirty seven American houses and much property have been destroyed and twenty-eight lives been lost. All missionary and business matters were at a stand. A detachment of 150 men had left Monrovia for Cape Palmas, on board a schooner, with ex-President Roberts and Vice President Yates to aid the colonists. We understand that the settlements immdiately at Cape Palmas had not been destroyed, and it is hoped it will be able to resist the attacks of the natives. We do not understand yet the immediate cause of the war.—Phila. Bulletin.

Freedom in Mexico.—This country, so long distracted by faction and revolution, has adopted a new Constitution, under which, in view of the intrigues of the American Slavocracy against the peace of the country, is specially significant. It declares that all persons born in Mexico are born free, and that slaves coming thither from other countries are free the moment their feet touch the soil, and entitled to the protection of the laws It also declares that no treary for the extradition of criminals shall include those who, in the country where the crime was committed, were held as slaves. The slaveholders of the United States, living on the Mexican border, have been anxious for a long time to make some arrangement with the government of country for the restoration of their lost chattels. The new Constitution blocks their game.—A. S. Standard.

ENGLISH EMIGRATION.

Our London correspondent gives us some interesting information in regard to emigration movements at home. The establishment of the Wellington fund for the assistance of emigrants, is likely to benefit Canada more than any other place, because the chief aim of the curators will probably be to secure the means of passage for as many individuals as possible, and Canada can be reachad at les expese than Australia or New Zealaad. Some one in England has suggested that possibly the Province might be willing to pay the passage money of emigrants, but were there no other, there is one fatal objection to such a scheme. There could be no security that emigrants brought out with Canadian money, would not immediately take their way across the border, and so deprive the Province of that labor for which its money had been paid. There can be no doubt, we think, that a very large add tion will be made to the population of Canada this year, without the use of such doubtful means, and that the emigration, being chiefly of a voluntary character, will be more only in the personnel of the emigrants, but in their determination to find homas in Canada.—Toronto Globe.

Lucky Slave—A slave in Louisville, Ky., has drawn half prize of $30,000 His master deducted his value for his freedom, and gave him the balance.

A White Man Sold into Slavery.—The Buffalo Express learns that a young man named Barnhart the son of early emigrants to Linden, Cattarnugus County from the Mohawk Dutch settlements, had been sold as a slave by a company of strolling play actors, which he had engaged to travel in December last Young Barnhart is an excellent player on the violin and accompanied the actors in Md. and Va. in the capacity of a musician. He was of rather dark complexion, and his companions, representing him to be a negro, sold him to some Virginia slave-dealer. The evidence of this was doubted at first, but is now believed to be true, and Barnharts father was making preparations to seek for and rescue his enslaved son.

WISTARS' BALSAM VERMONT.

Tunbridge, Orange Co, Vt, Nov. 25.

Mr. Seth W. Fowle,—Dear Sir,—One year ago last June, I was violently attacked with a cold and cough, with a pain in side and stomach and was not free from a cough during that summer. In December following, my cough increased to an alarming extent, so that during that winter I lost about thirty five pounds of flesh and physicians, with whom I advised could give me no relief. I heard of the beneficial effects of WISTARS BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, by way of a friend who had received the greatest benefit by the use of the article; and I was inclined to make a trial of it myself. I had not taken up one bottle before was completly cured and from that day to this, have not been troubled with a cough. I can cheerfully recommend it to all, as being a remedy of great value.

ALL THE GOODS

OF THE

Farmers' and Mechanics'

Combination Store!

Have Now Arrived!

THIS STORE was opened on the 15th of October when, instead of NOW, not ONE HALF the Goods had arrived and it has been perfectly CROWDED ever since. The sales have averaged also $200 PER DAY!

REMEMBER,

The CAUSE of this GREAT RUSH is,—The old fogy system of doing business is reversed!

THE COMBINATION

in buying their own necessaries.—Instead of establishing it to MAKE MONEY, herein consists the difference between this and the other Stores

In order to make the Farmers & Mechanics Store self-supporting, the Small Advance of Whether Members of the Combination or not

The Committee are determined to make this Store as POPULAR AS POSSIBLE, so that as fast as its objections are ascertained, they will be removed.

☞ The Long Yard and Comfortable Shed in the rear of the Store is found to be a great convenience by the Customers

Numerous instances might be gratified here also an Englishman was met by a Countryman to deal with, as well as a Scotsman, an Irishman, a Dutchman, a Canadian or a Frenchman.

ALL are HERE REPRESENTED

AND

ALL WILL BE WELCOME!

To enumerate items would swell this Advertisement to an unusual size; it must therefore suffice to say, that the Assortments of the following different kinds of Goods to be found in the FARMERS & MECHANICS STORE, are very COMPLETE, viz

STAPLE & FANCY DRY-GOODS!

CLOTHING,

Fully 30 Per Cent,

and HUNDREDS who have bought Goods there will willingly certify to the JUSTICE of the CLAIM.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE
SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.
Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its [illegible] To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY [illegible] UMOR.

Among our contributors in these two of the above departments, are some of the most gifted writers in the land. We shall draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do it conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)
Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as Pro-Slavery in Spirit, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, of foundation, and support even on such principles to our British institutions Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the SINFUL curse of SLAVERY and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books tracts, &c. and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, (Baptist,) Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York, —with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street New York.

FRATERNITY.

What though the crowds who shout the word
Pervert the meaning it should bear,
And fire their hearts with hatred stirred,
E'en while their plaudits load the air;
Yet shall not we, thou mighty thought,
Despair thy triumph yet to see,
Nor doubt the good that shall be wrought
In thy great name, Fraternity!

By prophets told, by psalmists sung,
Preached on the Mount by lips sublime;
The theme of every sage's tounge
For twice a thousand years of time.
What happy progress hast thou made!
What bliss to man hath flowed from thee!
What war and bloodshed hast thou stayed!
What peace affirmed! Fraternity!

—CHARLES MACKAY.

HURON AND SUPERIOR TERRITORY.

The last section of the Province (of Canada) within the valley of the St. Lawrence and its Lakes, is that on the North side of Lakes Huron and Superior, extending from the mouth of French River to the east, to the source of Pigeon River to the west. Its length from east to west is 110 miles its extreme breadth northwards to the sources of the tributaries of the lakes, is probably 160 miles; and its area about 48,000 superficial miles, being more than one half greater than that of the State of Maine

It has a coast of 180 miles in length on Lake Huron and River St Mary, and 420 on Lake Superior—in all; 600 miles

The Canadian-shores of Lake Superior have been described by Sir Wm Logan, as presenting a bold rocky coast, diversified in the character of its scenery in accordance with the distribution of the geological formations; cliffs and eminences rising up to heights varying from 300 to 1,300 feet, close upon its margin, and this deeply indented in some parts with extensive bays, and in others presenting clusters of islands, is in multitudes of places carried out in well sheltered coves affording innumerable harbours of a safe and commodious character, destined greatly to facilitate whatever commerce may hereafter be established on the lake, whether in the produce of its mines or its fisheries.

He speaks more favourably of the north shore of Lake Huron, describing it as presenting an undulating country, rising in hills which sometimes attain the elevation of 400 and 700 feet above the lake These, he says, occasionally exhibit ruggad escarpments and naked rocky surfaces; but in general their surfaces are rounded, and their flanks, with the valleys separating one range from another, are frequently well clothed with hard and soft woods, often of large growth and much of such species as are valuable in commerce; in many places giving promise of a good arable soil. Many of the slopes are gentle, and many of the valleys wide.

CAUCHON ON THE RED RIVER AND SASKATCHAWAN COUNTRY.

As public attention has of late been much directed to the Red River and Saskatchawan Country, and we may have ere long to take action for its developement, and as apparently offering a favorable field for settlement, with that easily cultivated prairie land so desirable to many, it seems appropriate here briefly to notice it.

Including in this territory the valleys of the Beaver River, the Peace River and the River Arthabaska, as having a common character with it, the whole presents an area of nearly five hundred thousand superficial miles. Its extreme length from the Lake of the Woods westward to the Rocky Mountains is about nine hundred miles, and its breadth from the northern boundary of the United States to the mouth of Peace River about seven hundred miles.

This territory, though forming but one-fifth part of that heretofore rendered available for the purpose of hunting only, a little exceeds the Empires of France and Austria added to-gether. The isothermal positon of the greater part of it resembles that of Poland

A territory so extensive naturally presents a considerable variety in surface, soil and climate.

It has some strikingly different characteristics from the valley of the St. Lawrence and the eastern part of the continent generally

OUR PRAIRIE LANDS.

The most prominent of these is its prairie character, which presents the greatest facilities for extensive farming without the labor of clearing off woods and for the expansion of settlement: the great expense of grubbing out the timber in opening roads (which is the chief hindrance to it in wooded countries) being there unnecessary not that it is entirely destitute of wood, there being clumps and groves of timber chiefly along the streams where the best lands are to be found and where settlement will first prevail besides wooded tracts of considerable extent on the upper waters of the Saskatchawan.

OUR COAL FIELDS WEST.

The next characteristic of importance is the immense coal fields which extend across the territory near the base of the Rocky Mountains. The large rivers whose head waters intersects this deposit of coal apparently present the readiest means of transporting it for the use of the settlements along their banks.

The celebrated Liebig in explaining the impossibility of certain interior countries of the old world competing successfully with England in manufactures, attributes it solely to the want of coal, notwithstanding the low cost in them of manual labor and provisions This territory will be under no such disadvantage; its coal beds and its other mineral resources will, at some future time give rise to manufacturing towns of an importance commensurate with the vast regions they will have to supply.

There is another peculiarity to be observed of this territory—the comparative mildness and shortness of the winters in the western part of it. According to the highest scientific authorities the line of equal winter temperature with Kingston in Upper Canada, and the vicinity of Sheboygan on Lake Michigan, crosses the Saskatchawan half way between its forks and its sources and continues northerly even beyond this territory, giving all the country between it and the Rocky Mountains a winter like that of Chicago.

Though isolated it has a connected internal water system that may become of much value. The Red River, which falls into lake Winipeg is by the best American authorities stated to be navigable upwards for good sized steamboats far into Minnesota. From the boundary of the United States, northward, it is navigable to Lake Winipeg which at about two hundred and fifty miles, receives on the west side of the Saskatchawan, a river thirteen hundred miles in length. Excepting for twenty miles from its mouth upwards, where it is obstructed by rapids, this great river is navigated by batteaux without interruption for about a thousand miles, to Fort Edmonton, near the base of the Rocky Mountains. At three hundred miles from Lake Winipeg the Saskachawan divides into two branches each about a thousand miles in length and both navigable.

The Red River, Lake Winipeg, and the Saskatchawan therefore present an inland navigation of at least thirteen hundred miles, commencing only three hundred and fifty miles from Lake Superior and terminating at but little over five hundred miles from the Pacific, and very near the head waters of the River Columbia.

In describing a portion of the country westward of Lake Winipeg, as large as Great Britain, Sir Alexander Mackenzie says, "All this country to the south branch of the Saskatchawan, abounds in beaver, moose deer, fallow deer, elks, bears, buffaloes. &c. The soil is good and wherever any attempts have been made to raise the esculent plants, &c., it has been found productive."

Speaking of the northern extremity of the territory, after mentioning that vegetables had been cultivated with success in latitude 58°, he says, "There is no doubt the soil would be very productive if a proper attention were given to its preparation. In the fall of 1837, Mr. Pond was settled on the banks of Elk River, where he remained for three years, and had formed as fine a kitchen garden as I ever saw in Canada. At Latitude 56 9. he says, Snow feel on the 11th December, animals having been grazing in the meadows previously. On the 5th April the snow was all gone, and flowers were in bloom, and the trees were budding on the 20th of that month. and on the 25th the ice had disappeared from Peace River." Ascending it he found in latitude 55 ½ 58, on the 10th of May, exuberant verdure, buffaloes grazing with their young, and elks in vast herds, groves of trees in full bloom, open lawns and magnificent scenery. Sir John Richardson gives latitude 60° on the River of the Mountains a tributary of the Mackenzie River, far to the north of this territory, as the limit of economical wheat cultivation; oats and barley, he says, yield good crops, and the latter can be profitably cultivated five degrees father north

The plains in many parts of this great territory have a sandy and gravelly soil, elsewhere they present extensive tracts of fertle alluvial land.

In regard to the fertility of the soil, we have the testimony of Sir John Franklin:—

"The land is fertile, and produces, with little trouble, ample returns of wheat, barley oats, and potatoes The ground is prepared for the reception of these vegetables about the middle of April; and when Dr. Richardson visited this place on the 10th of May, the blade of wheat looked strong and healthy.

Sir George Simpson gives the following description of the country betwen Lake Superior and Red River:—The river which empties Lac la Pluie into the Lake of the Woods, is in more than one respect decidedly the finest stream on the whole route. Form Fort Francis a stretch of nearly 100 miles, it is not interrupted by a single impediment, while yet the current is not strong enough materially to retard an ascending traveller. Nor are the banks less favorable to agriculture than the waters themselves to navigation resemblin in some measure those of the Thames near Richmond. From the very brink of the river rises a gentle slope of green sward crowned in many places with a plentiful growth of birch, poplar, beech elm, and oak. Is it too much for the eye of philanthrophy to discern through the vista of futurity this noble stream, connecting as it dose the fertile shores of two spacious lakes, with crowded steamboats on its bosom and populous towns on its borders?"

LAND ON LAKE SUPERIOR.

SIR:—It gave me much pleasure to hear Mr. Jos. Wilson of your intention to survey a tract of the country lying N. E. of Goulais Bay, L. Superior, as I intend to be a purchaser of some of that land as soon as it is in market. In September last, I took a party of three men out with me into that region, and made an extensive exploration there; having carried my pack for 18 days through those hills and valleys, I travelled about 70 miles back into the interior, the trip cost me something in money as well as in toil and exposure, but I felt myself well repaid by the beautiful country I had passed through So different from the dreary storm beaten shores of the Lakes and of the River St. Mary. In fact it is completely sheltered from these cold dampwinds by the lofty range of mountains lying to the N. W. which act as both screens and reflectors, throwing back the concentrated rays of the sun in to the valleys along the southern banks The face of the country is undulating, forming level plateaus sloping hill sides and extended valleys running far back into the mountains. The timber is nearly all MAPLE the largest and the finest I have ever seen. The soil is what is called volcanic; being formed chiefly from the detritu of decomposing traprocks, with a deep layer of vegetable mould on the surface. The place is admirably adapted to farming and grazing purposes. I am an old farmer myself, having been 33 years in America; and seen the whole country from New Brunswick to Missouri, so that I can speak from experience; but the place will not wholly depend upon its agricultural resources—it is rich in minerals Those explorers who have spent their time and money in searching for treasures along the lake shore made a great mistake. Along the coast of Lakes Huron and Superior, the rocks are all confusion; so disturbed and dislocated, that it would be impossible for a good vein to exist in them; for if it be ever so good in one rock, it is speedily cut off by another, and their is the end of their vein. But back in the interior the rocks are settled, every thing is in place. The veins are regular and well defined, and may be traced continuously for miles, without a single break. In the part of the country that I passed over the rocks in places are all a compact gray trap; intersected by numerous quartz vines remaining systematically about east and west and many of them richly charged with ores of copper and lead, During my late exploration I found a number of beautiful lots, which I intend to secure as soon as your Department will give me a chance to purchese on reasonable terms. The ores of copper which I saw, were yellow pyrites with now and then some very rich varieties of purple and gray sulphurets. The ore of lead that I found is galena, and bears every appearance of being argentiferous. The river which flows through this tract of country is just about the size and volume of the Thames in the Western district; it is navigable for a small steamboat, a distance of 18 or 20 miles from the mouth at the head of Goulais Bay, and by an improvement of some trifling rapids it could be made navigable much further It is a most beautiful stream, and the scenery on its banks is magnificent. This river I found nameless; the Indians simply call it "See beeh," "the river." So as I was the first white man who had ever explored its banks, I named it the Avon, and the country around 'Avondale.'

I found after I had got back a couple of days journney from the lake shore, that the country abounded in large game, such as carabo and red deer; and I am going back on snow shoes, to spend part of the winter in their pleasant company. Travelling back far into the interior, and whilst engaged in the pursuit of wild animals, I shall keep a memorandum of the general features of the country, and as this is the country through which the projected railroad (that we all hope to see crossing the frontier at the Sault) must pass, some knowledge of its topography may be useful to the public,—Should you let out the Survey of Avondale, by contract, it will be a fair competition amongst surveyors A friend of mine, Coatsworth, now residing at the Bruce Mines, is an accomplished Surveyor, an able Mathematician and an excellent Draftsman and Sketcher, particularly clever with the pencil; and I, he should be a successful bidder, I should assist him; and we should carry with us a good Camera Lucida, to take landseape views, mountain and forest scenery, water falls and other grand scenes with which that region abounds. Thus our survey would be accompanied by a regular set of colored drawings, which could be lithographed at a trifling expense and thus furnish illustrations useful to the purchasers of and, as affording them the best and truest descriptions of the country which they may intend for their future home.

THE CONDITION OF THE PRISONS IN CALIFORNIA.—

The California Democrat comments on recent disclosures about the prison discipline in California, and says—"We have in our youth read tales of dark barbarities in the middle ages, and of the brutal treatment of prisoners in Russia, but we never dreamt of such things in free America; yet we must confess that our constitution has become a mockery, that certain strata of society are wholly destitute of any ideas of right, and that absolute barbarism is their normal condition. Those without means among the criminals who have been condemned to prison are horse-whipped and obliged to sleep on floors covered several inches deep with water they have insufficient food, covering, and raiment; the keepers hold them in prison at will long after the legal time of incarceration has expired, and practise upon them the obsolete system of torture. The doctor who visits them when sick has no sympathy for their sufferings; he does not inform the authorites of their condition, but divides with the keepers their gains, and thus the complaints of humanity are prevented The same keepers who so maltreat the poverty-stricken prisoner, who may be there for some slight misdemeanour, give to the hardened criminal of means the widest possible privileges. They open to him the door of the prison at night, and thus a stream of criminals is poured into our city. Burglary, larceny, and murder are the ordor of the day, and the prison is the refuge of crime. Who can prosecute the criminals in prison? What proof can be brought against people, of whom they were safely kept under lock and key? When the crime has been successful the spoils are brought to the prison and the keepers receive their share. From the State Prison also the criminals come out during night in order to return at daybreak for a safe asylum. We complain of the increase of criminals, but we encourage them daily by our courts and our prison system."

THE PRO SLAVERY PARTY IN NEW YORK. According to the census of 1855, the city of New York contained 46,113 native, and 24, 701 naturalized voters. Ten thousand men naturalized between 1855 and the Presidential election of 1856. The Irish vote of New York is estimated at 35,000. These went in a body for Buchanan and slavery; 7000 other persons, native and foreign, also voted for him. Of the whole native-born vote, scarcely one in ten supported the pro-slavery ticket in the city of New York. Nine-tenths of the natives divided their support between Fremont and Fillmore.

ARRIVAL OF BRITISH CAPITAL.—On Friday morning nearly 150 persons from the old country reached and passed through Toronto to their various destinations, at Galt, Guelph and Goderich. This may be looked upon as the first fruits of the through-ticket system so wisely inaugurated by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, through whose agency Canada is daily and hourly increasing in wealth and importance.—Toronto Times.

Douglass, both of this office, will visit many of the towns and cities in Western and Eastern Canada, immediately, for the purpose of promoting the interest and prospects of this paper, and the cause of humanity generally. Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

Exposed at Last.

Many among the people of Canada of all classes, know full well that there is not a Manual Labor School existing at Dawn in this county, and has not been for several years, the old school having been long ago discontinued; and yet, during the present week, citizens of this town have been startled by a statement incidentally made by some respectable emigrants from Springfield Massachusetts, who will testify when called upon that Rev. Josiah Henson of Dawn, has been begging for the refugees in Canada, and that he did during the past winter, collect money in the Methodist Church (white) of that city—some $17 more or less,—for the MANUAL LABOR SCHOOL at Dawn, after having collected over $100 more in the same town, for the same purpose, from the representation that he had "been the making of the fugitives here,—that many now came in that he was providing for, and they needed help on arriving and that the school needed the same. On the strength of these and other equally false representations, the large sums here named were contributed. Mr. Henson's friends hereabouts, have been offering as a justification of his begging, that he WAS BEGGING FOR HIMSELF. We regard this exposurs as Providential, in view of the great injury done to the colored people, by Mr. Henson's self-assumed character of a public benefactor and authorized beggar for them. Will anti-slavery papers pass him around! and thus prevent much evil to the Refugees?—M. A. S. C.

☞ The Brantford Examiner alludes to the Lecture by our associate, Mr. Douglas in most complimentary terms, but calls him Frederick Douglass, a great mistake. We beg to say to the Examiner, by way of correction, that the speaker referred to is Mr. H. Ford Douglass, a British subject, of the Provincial Freeman office, and not Mr. Fred. Douglass of Rochester, N. Y., a citizen of the United States.—M. A. S. C.

☞ The Firemen of this town made quite a display on Thursday last, on the arrival of a new Engine. Where was the No. 3, (colored,) on the occasion?—M.A.SC.

☞ Our readers will please notice the Great Western Railroad Time Table, which will be found on fourth page.

A MANUAL OF COMPOSITION AND LETTER WRITING.—Fowler & Wells, New York.—The above is a neatly got uplittle work written in a somewhat concise but clear and forcible style. The different rules and explanations are each arranged under its own appropriate heading. The chapter on writing for the press, including directions for proof reading, especially, may be of much advantage to many who may find it necessary to write for the public eye Price in Paper 30 cents; in Muslin 50 cents.—W.

Sick head ache and Debility. The Oxygenated Bitters are worthy the attention of all who are afflicted with these or any other symptoms arising from a weakened and deranged state of the digestive system.

Perry Davis—Sir:—Experience has convinced me that for head-ache, indigestion, pain in the stomach, or any other part of the system, severe chills, weariness, common colds, hoarseness, cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhoea, dysentery, tooth-ache, &c., there is nothing better than the Pain Killer D. T. TAYLOR, Minister of the Gospel.

"The European," of New York,—Slavery and Freedom.

About six months ago in New York, a weekly Journal or newspaper was commenced called "the European,—weekly Journal of Political and Social Reform,' bearing the honorable and dignified mark of an upright conscious essence of a perfect knowledge of the Southern States and the despotic character of the entire state of society there, by the inscription words on its face, namely: "This paper must not be sent to any place in the United States South of Mason and Dixon's line."

The "European," unlike any other newspaper, is composed of selected items of news,—or "articles," as the separate original pieces of writing are denominated, which appear in the periodical press, and which when applied to the editor's and individual views are now-a days also called 'leaders." The word 'article' means however, in the sense we adopt it, means a distinct and separate writing on a given or particular subject. For instance,—with reference to the "European" of the 25th April, (which, alike with all its preceding numbers, contains most valuable information,) there is the 'article" on "cruelty to soldiers in the American army,"—from the N. Y. Citizen of April 18, followed with another on the same subject,—and another, "Illegal ment of seamen," from the London Times,—and the continuation of a previous article, of valuable interest to all who desire to look into the stores and grades of society—"the Social condition of the United States,"—another titled "The Missionaries Dignity" [illegible] but is pictured from life from the Chicago Tribune—and "pro-slavery consistency" from N. Y. Tribune of 2 st April with a previous article (comprehensively written with reliance date) on "The Submarine Telegraph from Europe to America"—that article will well repay a perusal. The "European" then in its weekly issue, contains such pieces of writing, and being extracted from respectable current periodicals, of America and of England,—and also of France and Germany.—and especially of German periodicals in the United States.—it may well be assumed, that no better authorities can be put before a reading and a thinking people than the opinions and statements of facts collected, by writers of undoubted existing reputation in the several countries they reside in and belong to

The [illegible] paper, at present we are aware of (Littels "Living Age" may be an exception which is [illegible] to be the same plan as the "European." It is in fact, an embodiment of political and social knowledge, rarely to be met with. It is an "Epitomic current history" of the United States.—No American who wishes to know the country he lives in, and is a native of [illegible] can not well [illegible] the "European."

THE GREAT EARTHQUAKE AT MALTA.—A correspondent of the Boston Traveller says:

"The island of Malta did not escape the terrible visitation, which on the night of October 12, laid city and villages of Rhodes in ruins, shaking as it did, the loftiest mountains to their very summits, as well as the sea coast and plains which surround the great bed of the Mediterranean. The shocks were long and violent at Malta, under which the stroke of a hand as resistless as invisible. The armour, rattling in the palace where it had been so long suspended, as though instinct with the bravery of the heroes who once wore it, seemed ready to fight again on their own hook; unless the old sleepers awoke whose bodies reposed under the Church of St John. The affrighted population fled from their houses, and betaking themselves to the churches, or standing half petrified in the street, either loaded the air with screeches in the one, or lifted up their prayers in the other. How helpless is man in such a moment, when the whole island seems ready to be engulphed in the profound abyss from which it originally was uplifted. Happily, though many buildings were cracked, and severely injured, the city was saved and no lives were lost. The whole of Egypt felt the same shock and one hundred and sixty houses fell in the vicinity of Cairo. It was also violent at Alexandria.

REMAINS OF A MASTIODON.—The Williamsburg (Va.) Gazette says, that last week two sailors discovered, about a mile west from that place, the tusks of some huge animal, which were five feet eight inches in length. Three joints of the backbone were also found, each measuring two feet seven inches in diameter. These specimens are to be removed to the Philadelphia Museum

MARYLAND.—A dreadful fire, resulting in the loss of thirteen lives and $500,000 worth of property occurred at Baltimore on Tuesday, 14th inst. It caught in the five-story warehouse on Charles Street owned by Eli Lewis, and consumed that and the warehouse of E. L. Parker & Co., on Lombard Street, besides other buildings. By the falling of the walls a number of lives were lost.

ATROCIOUS ACT OF THE CHINESE.—The Lyons journals say.—"Great sensation was caused in that city on Saturday by the appearance in the streets of a priest, who had his nose, ears, and right hand cut off. On inquiry, it appeared that he was the Abbe Beloc, missionary to China, and that he had arrived at Lyons from Marseilles, on his way to Rennes, where his family resides, also, that the frightful mutilations he displayed had been inflicted by the savage population of Pennay Kiai, which is at the mouth of the Yellow River at the extremity of China. Four missionaries, his colleagues, were, he says, mutilated in the same manner as himself, and were then decapitated. He also was believed to be put to death, but was rescued by some English sailors."

EDUCATE YOUR DAUGHTERS.—A writer says—"When I lived among the Cherokee Indians I held a consultation with one of their chiefs respecting the successive stages of their progress in the arts of civilized life; and among other things he informed me, that at their first start they fell into a great mistake—they only sent their boys to school. These boys became intelligent men, but they married uneducated and ungivilized wives, and the uniform result was, that the children were all like the mother. Thus the father soon lost all his interest in both wife and children. 'And now,' said he, 'if we would educate but one glass of our children, we should choose the girls; for when they become mothers they would educate their sons.' This is to the point and it is true. No nation can become fully and permanently enlightened, when the mothers are not in a good degree qualified to discharge the duties of the home work of education.—Investigator.

COLORED CITIZENSHIP. Paul Cuffe, the son of a native African, refused in 1771 to pay Massachusetts electric [illegible] personal tax unless he were allowed to enjoy the whole rights of citizenship. The matter reached the Legislature, and declaration went forth previous to the adoption of the Constitution, Securing to black men all the privileges belonging to other citizens, and they have enjoyed them ever since.

☞ The House of Assembly is to consider the question of a federal union of the British possessions of North America. Mr. Rankin having given notice of resolution in favor of the scheme.

THE FAMINE IN FINLAND.—Messrs Joseph and Charles Sturge, of Birmingham, have each contributed £500 towards the funds now being raised for the relief of the suffers from the above calamity. Members of the Society of Friends generally are subscribing largely to the fund.

A FUGITIVE SLAVE.—Mr. J. S. Martin, a fugitive from slavery, was in this office yesterday a short time, and at our suggestion and not his request, we give a few particulars of his history. He is well educated in the ordinary branches, and converses very fluently and correctly. He is of rather a warm drab, or pale yellow, genteely formed and tastefully dressed. He is a barber by trade, and his owner, Mr. J. F. Cady, of New Orleans, has been in the habit of letting him out to work at his trade, upon the river- the master receiving so much per month for his services, and allowing him clothes. Not having read Judge Taney's opinion, he imbibed the impression that he might make more money by working for himself—he is now aware that judicially considered he has no self. Mr. Martin allowed us to read two very touching letters from his master, pathetically urging him to leave the inclement North and come to New Orleans again where all is sunshine. Martin regards it as all moonshine, and proposes to make a tour through the State, showing up the physical and moral condition of slavery. He accuses his master of no cruelty or unkindness but only of the injustice of charging $1,300 for what only cost him about $100—his liberty.—Detroit Advertiser, 10th.

☞ On the morning of the 15th instant, a policeman named Hornebrooke was assassinated in New York, by one of two burglars whom he had arrested.

SURVEYOR GENERAL'S OFFICE, DUBUQUE, IWA.' September 18.

Doctor Gregory B Green. Dear Doctor—I intended, before leaving Washington City last spring, to say to you in black and white, as I have frequently done viva voce, how highly I esteemed your Oxygenated Bitters, and that I have no doubt but that they will act as a certain speedy, and agreable cure of Dyspepsia, in any case it matters not how obstinate. Your Bitters acted as a charm with my friends, Hon. A. C. Dodge M. L. Martin. H. D. Foster, and others, as they did with myself,

THIS may certify that I have used Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer in numerous cases, and believe it to be a very valuable medicine. I have personally tried it exensively in bowel complaint (particularly for children,) and it is in my opinion superior to any preparation I have ever used for the relief of those diseases. When given to children I have always commenced with a quarter to fifty drops to a teaspoonful of the sweetened, with milk.—Others have mixed it with meal and molasses, equal parts.

Perry Davis Pain Killer is an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholic, Sick Stomach Complaint, Dyspepsia, Dysentery and Ascarides, and worms in one night, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely. It is the best Liniment in America. Its action is like magic when externally applied to badsores, burns scalds and sprains. For the sick head ache and the tooth ache, don't fail to try it. In short it is a Pain Killer

Many persons are under the impression that a large horse require a greater amount of feed and attendance than small horses, which is the case generally; but not with the horse Prince Albert or his stock, for instance, a colt belonging to Mr. T Hillier, of Tilbery East, in the fall and at the time of weaning strayed into the woods and several unsuccessful searches were made and was supposed to have been stolen, when in the following spring the colt was found in the woods where it had wintered with oxen, not having been fed once during the winter, and $50 was offered in different parts of the neighbourhood, to any person who would produce a colt in better condition, grain fed, stabled or otherwise.

The horse PRINCE ALBERT was sired by a horse imported from England, his dam was sired by an imported horse. See hand bills in a few days If any persons doubt his strength durability or speed, they can have the opportunity of testing it, after the season is out, by a friendly competition of $100, against any entire horse which has been moved for mares in the County of Kent.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But Children and readers of a lighter cast—it has treasures which delight us, the humorous and lively narrative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become callous, and as a consequence, the intellect becomes sour, or [illegible] and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and [illegible] To satisfy these Heaven-implanted [illegible] the following are devoted a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c. in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—Illustrative of important places and events, of Articles, natural and other new Inventions, Models of a Humorous or high toned character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms. The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance. Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office

4 Copies,	- - - - - per annum	$ 5
8 do	(and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$10
13 do	(and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$15
20 do	(and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts Hymn Books Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them in foreign tongues) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES who have named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c., have been named as it were, (since religious, humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid, in discountenancing in the Province of Canada the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1 The American Tract Society—New York.

2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.

3 The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.

4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.

5 The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]

6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.

7 American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 18 Beekman street, New York.

Let the cockstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circu-"lated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so

Clothes Made, Repaired, & Cleaned.

W. L. HUMBURT
WOULD respectfully announce to the Citizens of Windsor, and surrounding country, that he is prepared to MAKE, REPAIR, or CLEAN CLOTHING, at the shortest notice, and in the most satisfactory manner. Having had ample experience in his line of business in the Cities of Charleston, S. C., and Boston, Mass., he flatters himself that, by diligence and strict attention to business, he will be able to please.
Windsor, C. W., Sept. 9, 1851. 25

clothes they require, they make shingles, or baskets or gather pine knots, or wild berries, which they sell in the villages, but beyond what is required to supply their very limited actual necessities they will not work for.

Their principal employments are hunting and fishing, and their standard amusement drinking whisky and fighting.

Their dress is as primitive as their habits. The woman and children invariably go bareheaded, barefooted and bare legged their only garments apparently being a coarse calico dress. The men wear a cotton shirt and trowsers of the coarse home-spun cloth of the country, with the addition sometimes of an forests of pine, interspersed here and there with a variety of other trees. Where it is under cultivation, the principal crop is cotton. But the land is not generally fertile, and much of it is likely to remain for a long time; a portion wilderness.

The country itself presents few interesting features, but it is the home of a singular race of people, to whom I may devote a few paragraphs as of description.

In traveling through the middle country, I often passed the rude, squalid cabins of the Sand-hillers. All the inmates usually flocked to the door of their windowless domicile to stare at me And such a lank, scrawny, filthy set of beings I never beheld elsewhere—not even within the "purlieus" of the "Five Points"

Their complexion is a ghastly yellowish white, without the faintest tinge of wholesome red. The hair of the adults is generally sandy, and that of the children nearly as white as cotton. The children are even paler, if possible, than the adults, and often painfully haggard and sickly looking.

They are entirely uneducated, and semi-barbarians in all their habits, very dull, stupid and, in a general social position far below the slave population around them. In fact, the negroes look down upon them with mingled feelings of pity and contempt. They are 'squatters' on lands belonging to others either with or without their consent. They sometimes cultivate or rather plant a small patch of ground near their cabins, raising a little corn and a few cabbages, melons and sweet potatoes. Their agricultural operations never extend any beyond this.

Corn bread, pork and cabbage, [fried in lard] seem to be their principal articles of diet. To procure the latter, and whatever vious to, and being, at the time of his voting the legal and bona fide tenant or occupant of lands of the value aforesaid, he may vote.

No person to vote as tenant unless his lease was originally for not less than one year.

No person deemed the occupant of lands, unless he occupy with the consent of the owner, and with the intent of becoming the owner or proprietor on the performance of certain conditions. No person to vote as owner or tenant, or occupant of lands on which any instalment of purchase money, or any rent, or other sum of money is over due to the crown and unpaid; for as owner, tenant or occupant of the property belonging to the Crown, without authority.

Joint tenants and partners, entitled to vote their respective shares are sufficient.

The electors shall vote at the polling place the township or ward where the property all lie upon which they claim the right of voting.

A person may vote if the lands lie partly within one county and partly within another.

If lands lie partly within one polling place and partly within another, the voter may vote in either place, at his discretion.

A voter may be called upon to declare the legal situation, or the names of his neighbors. No person to vote more than once at the same election.

Two consecutive days of polling in each township or ward. Voting to commence at nine of the clock, a. m., and finish at 5 p. m. on the same day.

Oath of Allegiance, without other formality may be administered by the Deputy Returning Officer, where that is only necessary to naturalize a voter. Interpreters may be appointed, and shall take an oath: I swear [affirm] that I will faithfully translate the oaths, declarations, affirmations, questions and answers as the Deputy Returning Officer, shall require me to translate at this election. So help me God."

Voter may be required to take an oath or declaration No. 3, in addition to any other oath that he may be legally required to take and as, that he believes himself to be of the age of 21 years. &c.

Deputy returning officer empowered to administer oaths Nos. 1 and 2; but a voter taking one of the said oaths or affirmations, shall not be required to take any other oath

OATH OR AFFIRMATION, NO. 1.

TO BE TAKEN BY FREEHOLDERS.

"You swear [or if he be one of the persons permitted by law to affirm in civil cases, solemnly affirm] that you have been for months or more immediately preceeding this day, and are actually and bona fide possessed to your own use and benefit of the estate which you have just described as giving you a right to vote at this election as owner of your own property [or freehold]; that the said estate has not been colorably or collusively conveyed to you for the purpose of enabling you to vote; and that it is of the full value of £50 currency or more [or of the yearly value of £5 or more, as the case may be;] and that no instalment or purchase money, rent, or sum of money, rent or sum of money which you have undertaken to the crown therefore is now over due the unpaid; that you are a subject of Her Majesty by birth [or naturalization, as the case may be] or that you believe yourself to be of the full age of twenty-one years; that if you have already voted at this election: and that you have not received anything either directly to induce you to give up your vote at this election, so help you God."

OATH OR AFFIRMATION, NO. 2

TO BE TAKEN BY TENANT OR OCCUPANT.

"You swear. [or if he be one of the persons permitted by law to affirm in civil cases solemnly affirm] that you have been for months, or more, immediately preceding this day, and are actually and bona fide in possession for your own use and benefit, as tenant [or occupant] of the estate which you have just described as giving you a right to vote at this election if he vote as a tenant, say that you present, as of the said estate was made for a term of not less than one year;] and that the said property has been colorably or exclusively leased or granted to you for the purpose of enabling you to vote; and that it is of the actual value of £50 currency, or more, [or of the yearly value of £5 currency as the case may be;] that no instalment of purchase money or any part or sum of money, which you have undertaken to pay to the crown therefore, is now over due and unpaid; that you are a subject of Her Majesty by birth [or naturalization as the case may be;] that you believe yourself to be of the full age of twenty-one years; that you have not already voted at this election; and that you have not received anything, nor has anything been promised you either directly or indirectly, either to induce you to give your vote at this election. So help me God.

OATH OR AFFIRMATION, NO. 3.

TO BE TAKEN BY PERSONS WHO MIGHT OWE DEBTS TO THE CROWN.

"You swear, [or if he be one of the persons permitted by law to affirm in civil cases solemnly affirm.] that no instalment of purchase money, or rent, or other sum of money, which you have undertaken to pay to the crown for the property in respect of which you claim to be entitled to vote at this election, is now overdue and unpaid. So help you God."

FOUND DEAD.—An old negro women, belonging to Mr. Joseph Sutton of this County, aged about sixty years, was found dead on Monday, in the field where she had gone to work. It is supposed that she died from natural causes. An inquest was held over the body, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.—Georgetown Gazette 26th ult

Now we should like to know what facts were elicited. All that any one can suppose in this case is, that "an old negro woman, feeble and sick (as she must have been to die so suddenly), had been driven out in the field to work by some inhuman negro driver, and died in a willing attempt to perform what her age would not sustain her in doing. Hence the Gazette says: "It is supposed that she died from natural causes."

How "natural" it must be to drive out negro women sixty years of age, sick, faint and weary, to work in the field and there die. Not a word is said against Mr. Joseph Sutton, the owner, for not keeping the good old slave in the house, and having her comfortable provided for in her old days; the whole matter is passed of by the Gazette as though it was amatter of no consequence, and scarcely worth a notice This however, in all probability, is more than would have been said by the Gazette about a poor white man, from the fact that no one would lose anything by his death.—Newport (Ky) News

UNION-SAVING.

Senator Wilson declares the Republican party pledged to the Union, and that if any men North or South, lay their hands upon it, they shall die, if we [Republicans] have the power, traitor deaths, and leave traitor names in the history of the Republic. General Jackson said 'the Union must be preserved.' So said the democrats; so said the Whigs; so said the Know Nothings; and so have said the Republicans But what is still more important the slaveholders have always inflexibly resolved that the Union shall be preserved so long as it ensures the safety of their peculiar institution—and no longer. Now be it remebered, that this same ever be glorified, perpetually saved,, and never-to-be-dissolved Union will stand till the said slaveholders snap it asunder, which they will certainly do when it ceases to foster and conserve slavery. The North will never dissolve the Union—not a single State in the North; but the time is not distant when the more southern States in their madness will. Mark the prediction! Then 'we shall see what we shall see,' 'the begining of the end.' Meantime, let the politicians of all parties play at Union-Saving, and diamond cut diamond. Take this away from them, and half their stock in trade will be gone. Every decent mind in the country will soon come to understand their game, and will get familiarized with the real value of the Union, aye, much better still, with the market value of its special saviors.—Practical Christian.

FRENCH PROTEST AGAINST SLAVERY. An interesting and important meeting of French Protestant clergymen was held in Paris a few weeks since, to consider the subject of American Slavery. An address of 'fraternal but severe remonstrance' with American Protestants was adopted and extensively signed. It calls upon the Protesttants of this country to wipe out this great reproach

This indication of a growing interest among French-men in the subject of American slavery will be regarded with great pleasure by the friends of freedom. Humanity is one—our interest, rights and duties the same; The bonds and the divisions of nationality are as nothing in comparison with those great common ties which will one day unite in one feeling and purpose, one great Brotherhood, all nations of the world. Hail all sympathy in a righteous cause, from whatever quarter it may come!—Salem Observer.

THE FLESH MARKET.—It appears by a statement in the Central Organ, published in Avoyelles, louisiana, that the prices of slaves at a recent 'succession sale' in that parish reached an extraordinary high figure, The following sales of boys and girls took place;

OUT CANVASSING.

Messrs. I. D. Shadd & H. F. Douglass, both of this office, will visit many of the towns and cities in Western and Eastern Canada, immediately, for the purpose of promoting the interest and prospects of this paper, and the cause of humanity generally. Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

Raleigh Plains, No. 2.

Parties opposed to colored settlers were trying to solicit names from colored men for lands in the plains above named; they represented that thereby cheap lands may be obtained. We hope sincerely that the colored people and whites, who intend to locate, and who have already located, may get a hearing on their petition as well as our worthy land agents, &c. It is fresh in the memory of many that scores of signatures were obtained by gentlemen of this town, a few years since, and we learn from several of the deluded colored people, that after the land was granted, not a foot could they get except as the private property of parties in office. We trust that the right man may get the land next time—namely the scores asking for it on their own account. A sale of lands took place a few days since, and yet, not one man in twenty of those who locate knew there was any government lands to sell until the advertisement of the same by the Honorable Commissioner. Let the right prevail.—M. A. S. C.

The Preachers and the Press.

Brother Wm. Jones, a colored Preacher, gave for peroration to his sermon two Sabbaths since, the Provincial Freeman. Brother Jones who once said to us he would preach down the "falsehood" he told about that lamp oil, when with his "pamoram" in Windsor,—brother Jones told his congregation not to take our paper; that the church was paper enough for them.

Brother Jones stated that he intends to read from the Freeman occasionally; whereupon, some in the congregation said Amen! We are under obligations to the brother, as we may confidently look not only for an increase to our list from that quarter, but for a veto upon his ignorant assertion that the church is the only paper needed. No wonder the Planet forgot him.—M. A. A. S.

Where are the Colored Ministers of Chatham.

Our neighbor the Planet when enumerating the ministers of Chatham not long since, failed to call attention to the colored clergy. Why that oversight? A few weeks ago, when Mr. Elmu Burritt was here, the Planet was eager to buy all the slaves at once; we hope for the sake of the cause, that all of the philanthropy did not then ooze out at our neighbor's fingers ends. Whynot mention our clerical hosts, we again ask? The Joneses, Coxes, Yorks, Staffords, Johnsons and other colored preachers, make just as much noise as any of those named. Why did not the Planet's colored correspondent put in a reminder?—M.A.S.C.

The Proposed High School.

A teacher of superior attainments, a gentleman practically acquainted with the languages, and an excellent English scholar, of German descent, visited Chatham by solicitation, last week; to take preparatory steps for establishing a superior boarding and day school. There is not a first class seminary in this county, and never has been; therefore, we consider the visit of Mr. Metzger opportune. In a population of twenty thousand, a school such as proposed, conducted by qualified teachers, affording as it would thorough instruction to those who speak English, German and French, in their respective languages, the sciences, &c., should be taken into consideration at once.—M. A. S. C.

Land Agents Caught Napping.

A few days since, about twenty colored men were loading staves at the wharf in this town, when their employer, a Crown Lands agent, and an ex-official of the same department, presented a petition for the men to sign, refusing to explain the contents, but contented themselves with saying it was for lands, and would be for the good of colored men; doubts existing in the minds of some, the employer brought forth a bucket of whisky, and treated the company.

One of the party, too "wide awake," took an opportunity to communicate his suspicions, enforcing his convictions of foul play by certain emphatic expressions.

The petition was soon after presented when one feigning intoxication, delivered the following speech: "Look here gentlemen! What is this paper for any-how? We don't understand it, and will not sign! you white men are so often trying to cheat us—we cannot trust you now. We are not going to sign—not a man."

The proprietor and two agents left with the bucket, saying: "you can't do anything with —— niggers." May such manœuvres always be thus frustrated. A respectable man who suffered some parties to use his name a few years since, for two hundred acres, had the honor of an arm-in-arm promenade with one of our Land Lords "to sign the bond," as he was told, after the government grant, which he did, as did others without examination, thinking all was right, when by the very act he unknowingly transferred the land to the officious gentlemen. That man is now landless, and the very familiar gentleman has thousands of acres.

☞ Will our readers please read attentively the Underground Railroad Report? it is interesting and will be continued in our next.

☞ No 5. "Voice of the Bondsman;" the gratuitous and anti-slavery paper circulated by Mr. Linton, of Stratford, C. W., is now in circulation by thousands. The "Voice," is as pungent, pointed, uncompromising able as ever. Read it ye who make long, hollow, meaningless prayers in the synagogues and are too time-serving to think of those in bonds as bound with them.—M. A. S. C.

Mr. T. W. Stranger, of Buxton, a model settlement, will dispose of Town Lots on the day preceding, and two days following the Queen's Birthday. The village better known as "Kings settlement," is beautifully located, villagers industrious, moral and religious, and the lots are in one of the best locations. See advertisement.—M. A. S. C.

We thank the Banner of Hamilton, for its flattering notice of our humble effort in the Mechanics' Hall.

We hope, however, that the Canadian Press will make the proper distinction, as we have no desire to wear borrowed garments. We are ambitious we admit, and shall never disgrace that name so memorable in the annals of old Scotia; if in our effort to preserve its clasic brilliancy, we shall lose our personal identity and be swallowed by our illustrious name-sake on the other side of the Lakes, we pray that the fate of Jonah may be ours.—H.F.D.

Important Announcement.

We take pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Chatham and vicinity, that Madame Sharpe, the renowned Clairvoyant and Doctress, who has astonished thousands both in Europe and America, by her wonderful revelations of the mysterious and the unknown, will visit Chatham in a few days, Where all who may desire to hear from absent friends, wherever scattered round the Globe, on Ocean's wave or in Earth's secret place, whether dead or alive, can do so to their entire satisfaction.—H.F.D.

Correspondence.

CIRCULAR.

ADDRESS to the people of Canada from the Kingston Sabbath Reformation Society:

We are now called upon, in the Providence of God, by an imperative sense of duty, to reiterte our earnest appeal to you, to exert yourselves the very utmost, at the present crisis, to obtain the abolition of Post-Office, Canal, and Railway Labor, of every desciption, upon the Lord's Day.

Again a measure has been brought before Parliament, to secure to the servants of Government the recognition of their right to exemption from secular occupation in the Public Departments, and to obtain the enactment of a law for closing the Post Offices and Canals, and preventing the transmission of mails on the day of sacred rest.

It is plainly the duty and interest of us, the People of Canada, to aid, by every means in our power, in the furtherance of these noble objects.

Let all immediately set about the work in right earnest. Let Petitions be sent in before the 15th proximo to each Branch of the Legislature, expressing in strong terms our sympathy in this movement and a firm purpose never to desist from urging our just claims to the possesion of a whole Sabbath—exempt from every species of secular labor—till it shall have been made good to us and our children after us, by a Provincial Statue in conformity with the Law of God!

It will be well for us, also, to remind the Share-holders of Railway Companies, their Managers and Servants, of its being their bounden duty, to cease from labor on the Lord's Day; and that by doing so they will, in the end, best serve their own worldly advantage—in accordance with a physical as well as moral law, which cannot be broken without leading to loss, as is frequently evidenced in the destruction of life and property.

It has been our privilege to set forth powerful and irrefragable arguments on former occasions, why we should contend earnestly for Sabbath Rights. Suffice it now to say, that if we are indifferent about these right; we are indifferent to our civil and religious liberty—to our personal, domestic, and social happiness,—to the eternal interests of our never-dying souls!

This is the age of money making and reckless speculation. Many are in haste to be rich; but let those who are so, and who barter Sabbaths for filthy lucre,—remember, that money acquired in this way—whether by posting letters, keeping accounts, trafficking in railways or canals, or receiving hire for unnecessary labor of any kind on the Lord's Day—will prove a curse to them instead of a blessing, and if unrepented of be a source of never-ending remorse. "Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them will be a witness against you, shall eat your flesh as it were fire."—James, v, 3. Let this be our call.—Quit at once such a desperate pursuit, lest your hearts be hardened, and your consciences become seared, by the deceitfulness of sin, and ye "be suddenly destroyed, and that without remedy." - Prov. xxix. 1. Railway trains conveying intelligence with a speed unknown in past ages, now form lines of communication between the remote parts of the country, and where greater speed is required, the electric telegraph supplies the means. What shadow of excuse then can there be for the business of this world encroaching upon God,s own time? Besides what base ingratitude will it betoken, if men persist in robbing their fellow-man, and themselves, of that precious day, which God has reserved for His own honor, when He has so graciously provided them with such remarkable facilities during the week for serving their own interests!

Let us, as Christian People, who duly prize our Sabbath rights and privileges, and konw how to use them for God's glory,—let us, we say, spare no pains to have the Lord's Day brought back to the standard of Holy Writ,—be careful to set a good example to those who undervalue it and treat it as an ordinary day. Let us "set our faces like a flint" against every form of Sabbath desecration, and prove by our practice that it is to us "the pearl of days"—"a delight." Let us be consistent, and, by the grace of God, "abstain from all appearance of evil"!

Lastly, let us not forget our rulers and legislators, but pray, that He who has their hearts in His hand, may be graciously pleased to turn them, that they may cheerfuly grant our reasonable and Scriptural request—That all public labor in Government works and offices, and all other modes of Sabbath desecration, which the law can restrain shall cease forever upon the Lord's Day, within this Province.

"Prove me now herewith saith the Lord of Hosts, If I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing . . . And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith Lord of Hosts."—Malachi, iii 10, 12.—On behalf of the Society,

METHODISM AND SLAVERY—AND CORRESPONDENT R. T. B.

To the editor of the Bradford Chronicle.

— Stratford, C. W. April 26, 1857.

Dear Sir.—In your paper of the 1st instant, is an anonymous communication, signed "R. T. B," as to my notice No. 14, about the Methodist Church in Canad and Slavery. I have declined answering anonymous letters, for in my own letters I give my name and address. For the sake of the cause I advocate, [the rights of humanity and as applicable to the colored people and refugees in Canada,] and for the information of your readers, and as my notices, of various numbers, have been inserted in your paper, I will refer to said correspondent "R. T. B." and his statements, and show that what he has referred to and state is purely untrue, or erwise false; and I will do so in a short time, for various matters of a necessary nature to be attended to preclude me at this time from replying at length. But in the meantime I refer you, dear sir, —as I wish no editor to publish any matter, from my pen which is untrue,—to the authorities in the list of "books on slavery—to be consulted," which is appended to the "Voice of the Bondsman" No. 4, sent you; and I send you additional copies to be given away, and also to the Post master. I refer also to the book "The Slavery Question" by Rev. Mr. Lawrence, of Dayton-Ohio,—sent you formerly. I cannot, and will not be at the expense of publishing books of authority to satisfy those like your corespondent, or for such who will neither buy books nor read them; but I publish lists of books, &c., sufficient—far more than sufficient,—if consulted, to prove every word I pen and every accusation I make, I am not responsible for the "ignorance" of "R. T. B."

Yours truly,
J. J. E. Linton.

Lecture on Slavery.—Mr. H. Ford Douglass, from Chatham, C. W., and one of the editors of the Provincial Freeman, a paper advocating the interests of the colored people of Canada.—delivered a lecture on Slavery in the School House on Monday evning. There was a very large attendance—in fact, many could not gain admittance. The lecturer has an easy and fluent delivery and seems quite "at home" in dealing with his subject.—Stratford Ezaminer.

Mr. Hull's Lecture—Mr. M. R. Hull, an eloquent Virginian, lectured in the School House on Wednesday evening last, to a large and respectable audience. The subject of the lecture was "White and Black Slavery in the U. S." The lecture was an able expose of "the sum of all villainies." Mr. H. intends going to England to lecture. —Stratford Beacon.

The Brampton Times says that a young lad named Newel, near Orangeville was accidentally shot a few days ago by the discharge of a gun which he was in the act of examining.

THE SHIP CANAL.

We are happy to inform our readers that the Bill for the chartering of the projected Canal from the River St. Clair to the Rond Eau, is in a fair way to pass both Houses. It is already through its second reading, and it is stated by those well acquainted with members of Parliament that the third reading will be carried without doubt.—Planet.

Murder.—A murder of a most aggravated character was committed in the Parish of St. Louis de Gonzague, County of Beauharnois, the 14th instant, on the person of an aged and much respected Scotch farmer named John Simpson, who, on that day, was induced by one Eusebe Parent to accompany him into the woods where the deed was perpetrated, Parent breaking Simpson's skull with an axe. The Coroner proceeded, on Tuesday last, to St. Louis to hold an ingest, the jurors on which rendered a verdict of wilful murder against the above named Eusebe Parent, who had, prior to the inquest, disppeared. We trust the Executive will use such measures as will lead to the arrest of Parent.—Montreal Herald.

ARRIVAL OF THE "INDIAN."

Quebec, May 4, 1857.

The Indian arrived at 1 o'clock without having been announced below.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. Hayter, the Treasurer's Secretary, has issued a notice to the Liberal members asking them to be in their places in parliament on the 4th of May to vote for Mr. Evelyn Dennis, the Ministerial candidate for the Speakership.

There are speculations in endless variety as to the Ministerial programme for the parliament.

The Observer says that many important measures of social polity will be at once proceeded with.

Among the matters mapped out as likely to occupy the session, are a bill for the continuance of the Government Board of Health; the reforms in the Courts of Law and Chancery; a measure in reference to the rights of married women as regards their own property. A bill regulating the whole system of local taxation; and a medical reform bill.

It is more than hinted that the Opposition will commence an obstructive policy at once.

"Most likely," says the Press "the first session of the new Parliament—short as it must be—will not pass by without ground being broken on both sides."

THE ROYAL FAMILY.

The Queen and infant Princess are both doing well.

The Duchess of Gloucester is dying.

FRANCE.

A number of political arrests have been made but their is a rumor that the conspiracy was a mere trap laid by the government to commit refugees in London to actionable proceedings.

SPAIN.

An attack occured at Burgos. It was proposed to place Count Montemolin on the throne and re-establish the Inquisition.

DENMARK.

The ministerial crisis has resulted in the triumph of the Constitutional party.

PRUSSIA.

The Princess and Prince William visit England in July. The Prussian Government have remonstrated with the United States Government relative to the kidnapping of Prussian subjects on board of the American vessels.

BIRTH OF A PRINCESS.

Buckingham Palace, April 14.

At seven minutes before two o'clock this afternoon the Queen was safely delivered of a Princess. There were present on the occasion, in her Majesty's room, his Royal Highness Prince Albert, Dr. Lowcock, Dr. Snow, and Mrs. Lilly, the monthly nurse. In the adjoining apartments besides the medical men, Sir J Clark and Dr. Ferguson, were the Mistress of the Robes and the Lady-in-Waiting on the Queen, and the following Officers of State and Lords of the Privy Council, viz: his Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Chancellor Viscount Palmerston, Sir George Grey, the Earl of Clarendon, Mr. Secretary Labouchere, Sir Charles Wood, the Bishop of London, and the Marquis of Breadalbane.

The Duchess of Kent, accompanied by the Princess of Hohenlohe Landenburg, arrived at the palace shorly before two o'clock.

The Turkish Ambassador and Madams Musurs, the French Ambassador and Countess Persigny, the Bavarian Minister and Baroness de Cetto, the Prussian Minister, the Saxon Minister, the Austrian Minister and Countess Apponyi, the Russian Minister and other members of the diplomatic corps, called at Buckinham Palace. Many of the nobility and gentry also called to pay their respects during the afternoon.

BRITISH MAIL STEAMER ROBBED BY PERUVIAN REVOLUTIONIST

The Pacific Steam Navigation Companys Steamer New Granada, had arived at Hunanchaco from Valparaiso, on her way to Panama with the semi-monthly mails for Europe. The mails from Hunanchao were sent ashore in a boat. The boat was intercepted and the mails and cargo put on board the Steamer belonging to the revolutionary party. After a remonstrance, the captain of the New Granada proceeded on his voyage. He was by the revolutionary steamer, and at the next port the New Gra nada was bordered by sixty armed revolutionists from the Peruvian war steamer, and they demanded money, arms, and amunition, which they declared were on board the New Granada for Castillas party. The captain of the mail steamer refused to give up anything. The revolutionists took by force what they demanded. They then broke open the treasurer's room and took away thirty thousand dollars.

THE STATE OF GRENADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

There is news by the Atrato to the effect that the President and Congress of New Grenada had refused entirely to negociate with Mr Morse respecting the matters upon which he was commissioned to present the demands of the United States Government. All communications are at present suspended till an answer is received from the United States.

INDIA.

The overland mail had arrived in England. The latest dates are Calcutta, March 8; Madras, March 13; and Bombay, March 20. There are no advices from China by this arrival

From the annual reports it appears that the Province of Pegu is becoming prosperous. The people have got rid of their notoin that the English are about to abandon the country, and are steadily settling to cultivation. The Burmese, Kareus and Shans are thronging into the northern districts, and the area of cultivation has increased by 135,000 acres in one year. The export of rice has risen to 126,000 tons more than the usual export of Calcutta. The trade which has sprung from nothing, has reached two millions sterling. The revenue is 30 laks of rupees (£300,000), and the expenditure not 20. There is now no doubt even among the opponents of annexation that Pegu in twenty years will pay a revenue such as in Aria is obtainable only from these rich deltas. Great efforts are being made to introduce superior cotton, but these efforts seem as yet to inspire no great hope.

The news from Central America is to the 13th April, and is exceedingly interesting. Col. Lockbridge's party of filibusters has been completely dispersed. The Costa Ricans occupy Punta Arenas, and have no doubt erected ortifications to protect the river. The intelligence from Rivas, Walker's headquarters, is down to the 1st inst., at which time the allied forces had hemmed in on every side their opponents, who were reduced to great distress for want of provisions. The Costa Ricans also had possession of San Juan del Sur, and the early capitulation or destruction of the filibuster force seemed inevitable. It is stated also that orders had been issued to grant no quarter to either Walker or Henisen. Thus, the cause of Walker is more desperate than ever. It is so utterly hopeless that his own friends do not suppose him capable of holding out beyond the 20th of April. The reports of his victories on the 5th and 16th of March were fictions. No such victories were obtained, nor was there any such slaughter of the Costa Ricans as the filibusters represented. Walker did attack San Jorge on the 19th March, but he was repulsed with heavy loss. The allies since that day have been gradually closing round them. The Walker forces then only amounted to 150 men. There seemed to be only one doubtful question in connection with the issue—could Walker escape?

WASHINGTON, April 25.

The following vessels have been ordered to rendezvous at Panama, during the pending trouble with New Grenada, viz: the frigate Independence and the sloops of war Decatur and John Adams. The two former are already there, and the John Adams is on her way from Callao. The following vessels of the home squadron have been ordered to Aspinwal, viz: the steam-frigate Wabash and the sloops of war Cyane and Saratoga,—the Cyane is already there, and the others are on the way,—the steam-frigate Roanoke and the sloop of war Saint Mary will probably soon be added to the squadron.—Colonist (28th).

A Reward for Gen. Walker.—It is stated by the deserters from Gen. Walker, that Gen. Mora, the Commander of the Costa Ricans has offered $10,000 for Walker's head, or $30,000 if he can be captured and brought in to their camp alive. Furthermore, that it is the wish of the Costa Rican Government to offer all of Walker's men who desire to avail themselves of it, the opportunity to leave their chief and thus escape death.

FROM HAVANA.—Attempt to Assassinate the British Consul.—Mobile, April 16—We have Havana dates to the 30th. An attempt had been made to assassinate W. Sidney Smith, the British Consul, on account of his exposure of certain slave transactions.

The impression that there would be no war with Mexico was becoming more general.

The Ohio Legislature, previous to its adjournment, passed a bill making it a penitentiary offence to claim or hold slaves in Ohio or to undertake to carry out of the State as a slave any person of color. This is intended, of course, to prevent the operation of the Dred Scott decision.—Investigator

LOST VOICE RESTORED!

NEW BEDFORD, August 10

Mr. S. W. Fowle!—Having seen many certificates published in relation to DR WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY I take this opportunity of offering a word in its favor, which you are also at liberty to publish. A few months since, my wife's lungs became so much affected by a sudden cold, that she lost her voice, and suffered severely from pains in the breast. Her situation caused her friends much alarm. Having heard your Balsam strongly recommended by those who had used it, I purchased a bottle of your agent in this place. She took it according to directions, and it produced a wonderful effect. Before using one bottle, she had completely recovered her voice, the pains subsided, and health was soon fully restored.

Yours truly, (Signed)

This may certify that I have used Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer in numerous cases, and believe it to be a very valuable medicine. I have prescribed it extensively in bowel complaint (particularly for children,) and it is in my opinion superior to any preparation I have ever used for the relief of those diseases. When given to children, I have always combined it with gum-arabic, say ten drops to a teaspoonful of the syrup, well mixed.—Others have mixed it with milk and molasses, equal parts.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholic, Summer Complaint, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, and Asthma, it will cure in one night, by taking it internally, and bathing with it freely, It is the best Liniment in America. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to badsores, burns scalds and sprains. For the sick head ache and the tooth ache, don,t fail to try it. In short it is a Pain Killer.

TO FARMERS

AND

Breeders of Horses.

THE English Coach Stallion PRINCE ALBERT, in colour is a dapple Bay, and stands sixteen and a half hands high, has good bone and sinew, will be moved this season for Mares in the County of Kent.

On the arrival of the horse Prince Albert in this part of the country, he was said by competent judges, to be the best horse for Agricultural purposes ever introduced into the counties of Essex and Kent, and his services have proved that his stock cannot be excelled by any horse in Western Canada.

The horse Prince Albert is kind in harness and suitable for all kinds of farm work, he is gentle before the carriage and under the saddle, and in regard to trotting, walking, endurance and mildness of disposition cannot be surpassed by any horse in the county, he has, in fact all the desirable qualifications a horse can possess, his stock resembles him in every particular, his colts at one year old are selling for $70 and $80 per colt. $600 has been offered to the subscriber for the young Volunteer, sired by the horse Prince Albert, for to proceed to the Western States.

The horse Prince Albert has received ten prizes, eight of which were in the neighbourhood of Toronto, and two in the county of Kent, and was proposed the first prize at Port Sarnia, by the Agricultural Society in the spring of 1853, which was rejected on account of his being at the time confined to the county of Kent.

Many persons are under the impression that a large horse require a greater amount of feed and attendance than small horses which is the case generally; but not with the horse Prince Albert or his stock, for instance, a colt belonging to Mr. T. Hillier, of Tilbery East, in the fall and at the time of weaning, strayed into the woods and several unsuccessful searches were made and was supposed to have been stolen, when in the following spring the colt was found in the woods where it had wintered with others, not having been fed once during the winter, and $50 was offered in different parts of the neighbourhood, to any person who would produce a colt in better condition, grain fed, stabled or otherwise.

The horse PRINCE ALBERT was sired by a horse imported from England, his dam was sired by an imported horse. See hand bills in a few days. If any persons doubt his strength durability or speed, they can have the opportunity of testing it, after the season is out, by a friendly competition of $100, against any entire horse which has been moved for mares in the County of Kent.

GEORGE CHURCH,
Proprietor.

Romney, 20th April, 1857.

YOUNG VOLUNTEER.

HE will be our years old in June next, he stands sixteen and a half hands high, good action, bone and sinew, he was sired by the horse Prince Albert, he is allowed by good judges to be a very promising colt, he will walk on early 200 out 20 miles, likewise draw from 25 to 30 hundred, 25, 50 or 100 miles, trot from two to six miles in or out of harness, on a friendly competition, against any entire colt of his age that has been raised in the County of Kent, for the sum of $200. See his pedigree in his bills in a few days.

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community.—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, laboures &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada, and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

ORIGIN OF THE RACES.

Whence came we? What are we? Whither are we tending? These are questions of absorbing interest. They are questions on which theologians differ. They are matters respecting which the philosophers, in their many and mazy speculations, are forever leading us out to sea, and there leave us to flounder about as we may, or find our way back to terra firma as best we can, They are subjects, too, on which the ever-busy ethnologists will give us no peace.

One class of the wise men of the wise men of our day professes to have made the discovery - the humiliating discovery, as some seem to regard it—that we have come up from the monkey tribe. Another class has demonstrated, to its own satisfaction at least the equally humiliating problem, that we have come down from the angels And so whether we have ascended or descended in the scale of creation, our poor, pitiful human nature has very little reason to puff itself up with pride. But a thought of vast and almost fearful import is naturally suggested by this controversy. If we have descended, and are descending, when and where are we going to stop? "How deep extends below" our present depraved and somewhat miserable condition? And if we have ascended, and are ascending, where and when shall we reach the end?

In a late work on the "Indigenous Races of the Earth," we find the scholarly names Nott, Gliddon, Agassiz, maury, Pulsky, Meigs, Berard, Dunomtier, and others, giving countenance to the theory that we—including all the races and tribes of humans, white, black, red, with all their intermingling—are but improvements on the Ourang Outang.

We do not quite fancy this notion of man being a developed monkey. One of our main objections to it is its obvious untruthfulness As well might a monkey or a baboon claim or confess to be a developed horse, cattle, or pig, or poultry. As well might these be regarded as improved fishes reptiles, or insects!

According to our understanding of this very vexed and complicated question, the philosophers have got their Natural History a little out of the order of nature. than which predicament nothing can be more fatal to either premises or conclusions.

Lest men suspect your tale untrue,
Keep probability in view.

Man has powers and organs not possessed by any animal, or, if any one please, by any other animal. He has organs and powers whose semblance or analogues do not exist in any other being. If man were merely a developed animal, be it monkey or elephant, sheep or goat, tiger or rhinoceros, ostrich or anaconda, goose or giraffe, this could not be. He would only have the same parts and powers, the same structures and functions as the "parent stock," however much exalted and refined; and he could have nothing else.

This however, is not the case. He does, indeed, possess essentially all of the organs, powers, attributes, and qualities of all the animals below him. But he possesses something else. He has other, higher and distinct organs superadded. He has hope, which looks forward beyond the grave; and he has perfectiveness or ideality, which prompts in him the ever-restless desire to change his circumstances and improve his condition, while no vestige of these qualities are found in any creature below him.

These facts alone suffice to remove him as far from the mere animal kingdom, as from the center to the circumference of the universe, They take him at once out of the plane of the animal kingdom, and place him in the sphere of humanity, and they annihilate, in an instant, all the humiliating inferences we have alluded to, while they present to our view the being, man, as an original creation, and in peculiar relations to his Maker, to and to all else in the universe.

We do not now meddle with another branch of this general inquiry, viz., whether "in Adam's fall we sinned all ?" or whether the different races of men had distinct origins? It is enough in one article to show that man is not an animal.—Life Illustrated.

MEN OF GREAT WEALTH.

There are some in our country who pass for very rich men. And so they are when we compare them with their neighbours around them. But compard with some others who once lived in the world, and even with some now on the stage. their property is not so very great. Just look over the list of rich men of former times. Why, some of them could have bought half the globe almost Croesus, who flourished before our time, and whom the reader has doubtless heard of, used to say that a citizen who had not a fortune sufficient to support an army or a legion did not deserve the title of a rich man: and he is good authority. His landed property alone was worth the snug sum of $8,500,000 Then be possessed slaves, furniture, horses, cattle, and cash to an equal amount, making the comfortable sum of $17,000,000.

Crœsus was a rich man; but many there were richer than he. There was Seneca, the philosopher, who uttered and wrote some tolerable good things, considering the age in which he lived; was worth $17,500,000. Many modern authors would doubtless have been glad to have been remembered in the old fellow's will. And so they were all of them. He had left them an invaluable legacy, if they would but accept it, and this it is: Whenever you have written a book, lay it aside for nine years. At the expiration of that time peruse it carefully, and then if your judgment approve, publish it but not before.

Julius Cæsar, was continually incurring pecuniary liabilities that he found it hard to discharge.' He set a high price on friendship having purchased that of Lucius Paulus for $1500,000,and that of Curio for $2,500-000. He was a terible spendthrift. Before he succeeded in obtaining any office, he had amassed debts to the amount of $14,974 000. But office holders had good picking in those days, as well as in our own, and as soon as Julius got his hands into the public treasury his debt began to diminish. He soon became rich. He gave Servilla, the mother of Brutus, a pearl of the value of $200,000. He would doubtless. have been guilty of many other extravagances had not the beloved Brutus given that cruel stab under the fifth rib. On the day of the assassination Cæsar's friend Mark Anthony, owed $1,500,000, which was all paid thirty days afterwards. This same Anthony subsequently swallowed a pearl, dissolved in vinegar, (which Cleopatra administered to him) worth $400,000.—He also squandered $735,000. 000 of the public treasure.

Tiberias at his death, left $118,125,000, which Caligula spent in less than twelve months. He lived at the rate of about $355 000 a day. One supper cost him $400,000

Esopus, the comedian, even transcended Caligula in extravagance, having given $400,000 for a single dish. He had a son, Clodius, who was a chip of the old block. Among other costly gastronomic feats, Clodius swallowed a pearl valued at $4,000.

SINGULAR DISCOVERY OF A LONG LOST CHILD

The Edinburgh North Britain relates a very remarkable circumstance which will be read with interest by the Scotish subscribers to the Globe in Canada, On Monday last, says the writer, about four o'clock in the afternoon, an unusual crowd was collected at the foot of Warriston Close attracted by the wild behaviour of a respectable middle aged gentleman, who was gazing, with eager interest on a portrait displayed in the window of Giles' Photographic Gallery, exclaiming, in broken sentences, with a strong accent which at once bespoke him "ayont the Tay,' —"Guid gracious do my een deceive me? It maun be her—sae like her mither! Far could that come frae? I'ts her—my ain dochter! What are ye a' glourin, at? Whar's the man that's sellin my ain flesh and blood? an' in a Christian kintra, tae!" The shouts of the crowd, and loud declamation of the stranger, brought a young man to the door to ascertain the cause of such an unusual disturbance, and imagining the gentleman was intoxicated, he called out to Mr. Giles to quell the threatened riot.

When that gentleman appeared some boys and flesher lads called out, "That's the man that sells your dochter." The stranger rushed upon him, declaring that picture he should have, though it should cost him ten pounds. Alarmed at the impetuosity of the man, he was invited in, when, after a little time had elapsed, he burst into a flood of tears—"Dear, dear, sir—this is strange! Whar did ye get yon picture? Oh tak it oot o' the window! gie into my ain hand! I,ll gie ony money for't."

After examining it minutely, he asked in a subdued tone how it came into his possesion, and was informed that a young lady sat for it on Friday last, and not calling according to promise he put it in the window as a specimen. "It has been so ordained, then, and I may see her yet; you'll be the means of restoring her to me. Six years ago I left Montrose, after my wife's death, to go to America, leaving Nelly with her grandmother. On my return, I learned my puir mother was dead, and Nelly had left ham to seek service in the Lothians. Fruitless endeavours to discover her retreat have since been made; but noo Providence maun hae directed me here, for this is jist her verra sel.' An, will he no sell's?"

Being informed that portraits could only be given to the originals, the face of the stranger became pale as ashes, until hope whispered—Nelly micht ca hersel, yet and glad him wi'a sweet word as weel as her ain look: which was verified by the identical Nelly stepping in for her picture, apologising for not being punctual to her appointment; and great was her surprise when she listened to the tale of the strange gentleman who took away her portriait. But greater still was Nelly's joy and happiness when she learned the strange gentlemen was in an adjoining inn, anxious to behold her, when she, full of anxiety, rushed to the appointed place, and in a few minutes was locked in a father's found embrace.

REPUBLICANISM OF WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

The National Era, Feb. 19, contains a speech of Wm. H. Seward at Owugo, N. Y., Nov. 3, 1856, just before the late election The speech occupies upwards of four columns and is chiefly an appeal to the prejudices of the "whites,' against the 'blacks,' whom the Democratic policy would throw into the new territories.—Throughout the speech we have the continual recurrence of the phrases, 'negro savages from the coast of Africa'—forced barbarian black labor to be imported from Africa'—the 'African black slave trade'—'African slave labor'—'black African slave labor'—black imported African slave labor,' &c. &c. These are contrasted with 'free white European labor—free white labor'—free white labor'—'free white labor'—'free white industry'—'free white labor'—imported white labor'—'free white native and foreign labor' —'naturalized and native free whit labor,' &c. &c. The former (the black) is deprecated—the latter (white) is advocated. Not a hint in favor of 'free black labor' is anywhere to be found. nor any implication that the labor of 'blacks' can be anything but 'slave labor.' 'Freedom' is always 'white' freedom and slavery is 'black' slavery. And finally, the position of the Republican party, as the successor of the old Republican party is thus tated by Mr. Seward.

'1st. The political equality of all white men within the jurisdiction of the United States, whether nativeborn or English, Scotch, Irish German, Hungarian Swedish, Norwegian, Italian, or French; and whether Presbyterian or Episcopalian, or Unitarian, or Uriaitarian, or Protestant, or Roman Catholic, in their religious faith. This was the great element of the strength of the ancient or early Republican party.

2d. The exclusion of black imported African slave labor as far as is constitutionally practicable, and the substitution in its place, by constitutional means' of free native and immigrant white labor, with institutions of Government based upon it. This last was really the one single element of strength which pervaded all the parties which that early Republican party was ever called to encounter."

The Republican party, then, is founded on distinctions of color—the first example of a party that has openly avowed it, in the country.—Mr. Seward, when a Whig, would have repudiated it. We are disappointed in Mr. Seward. We had thought him to be making progress towards Radical Abolitionism. 'Bennett's N. Y. Herald had stigmatized 'Seward Republicans' as nigger-worshippers' The charge may be withdrawn. 'Political equality of all White men,' forsooth! In what part of our Constitution, Articles of Confederatoin, or Declaration of Independence, is any such idea to be found?

The above was written before the decision of Judge Taney in the Dred Scots case, founded on the assumption that the negro has no rights which the white man is bound to respect.' Can such a decision be wondered at, after such a prominent 'Republican' as Wm. H Seward had uttered such sentiments, and after they had been circulated, as orthodox, in the National Era?

St. Louis April 13—Kansas advices to the 7th inst. have been received. Messrs. Robinson and Deitzler appeared at Lecompton on the 6th inst., to stand their trial on the charge of treason, but the time, place and Court having been changed, they were directed to appear on the first Monday in May.

The requirements of the law not having been carried out respecting the census lists, no voting at the coming election was to be allowed at Lawrence or Lecompton, and four obscure places had been designated in which to hold the polls

The 13th of May has been named by the Lord Bishop of Toronto for the election of Bishop for this Western dioces. The election will take place here. The clergy of the new diocese, and the delegates appointed in each parish or mission, will compos the electors. Whether the successful candidate will requie a two-third vote or a majority only, we believe has not yet been settled. We believe this is the first instance of the Crown relinquishing its right of appointment and we only trust that the experiment may not disappoint those who have advocated its trial.—London Hearld.

Though nothing very exciting characterises the Legislation of the present Parliamentary Session, still some very useful and practical measures are likely of find their way to our Statute Book, amongst others, Mr. Attorney General Macdonald has introduced a Bill for establishing Prisons for juvenile offenders; as also, for the better government of Public Asylums, Hospitals and Prisons, and for the better construction of Common Jails. We refer elsewhere to the debate. This measure proves we have a Ministry who are prompt to action, and ready at once to remedy abuses when found to exist and certainly, all our readers will admit that so far as the Public Gaols are concerned, there is great room for improvement.—I. B.

That popular and horrible pagan rite in India familiarly known as "Hook Swinging" has been recently abolished by the British Government. The deluded people will therefore no longer be allowed to run hooks through their flesh and be suspended thereby in the air, to please their gods. The practice also of running a sharp iron through the fleshy part of the leg, drawing it out and sprinkling the blood upon the temple doors, has also been declared unlawful.

A PULPIT ANECDOTE.—If the following pulpit anecdote from the Methodist Protestant is not appropriate to this place, is it our fault? It is worth inserting somewhere:—

Rev. Mr. S. was preaching in one of the Methodist Episcopal Churches in this city, and there was in attendance a good old Methodist brother, very much given to responses Sometimes these responses were not exactly appropriate, but they were all well meant.—The preacher, usually lucid was rather perplexed, and felt it himself. He labored thro' his first part, and then said:

"Brethren, I have now reached the conclusion of my first point."

"Thank God!" piously ejaculated the old man who sat befor him, profoundly interested; but the unexpected response, and the suggestive power of it, so confused the preacher that it was with difficulty he could rally himself to a continuance of his discourse.

ALEX. DUMAS.—A person more famed for inquistivenss than for correct breeding—one of those who devoid of delicacy, and reckless of rebuff, pry into everything, took the liberty of questioning Mr. Dumas, rather to closely about his genealogical tree.

'You are a quadroon, Mr. Dumas?' he began.

'I am, sir,' quietly replied Dumas, who had sense enough not to be ashamed of a descent he cannot conceal.

'And your father?'

'Was a mullatto.'

'And your grandfather?'

'A negro,' hastily answered the dramatist whose patience was waning.

'And may I enquire what your great grand father was?

'An ape sir,' thundered Dumas, with a fierceness that made his impertinent interrogator shrink into the smallest possible compass. 'An ape, sir—my pedigree commences where yours terminates.'

Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

Anti-Slavery Lecturing—Our Success in Canada.

We hope to give under this head a few facts in regard to the Canadian Provinces, and their relation to the barbarian Republic of the United States; the reciprocity of religion, manners, and to some extent habits of life existing between the two governments; it is, these relations that make anti-slavery lecturing in Canada necessary; politic; leaving out the question 'are we morally bound to remember those in bonds as bound with them.' There is a strong anti slavery feeling among all classes of men in Canada, that need only to be agitated, to bring it forth into active conflict, to produce a generous co-operation, a warm hearted amen and God speed, to those on the other side of the Lake, who are struggling with earnest hearts, against the foulest system of wrong and villainy that ever a righteous God permitted to nestle upon old earth's bosom; to awaken this sentiment was the object of our mission.

We make no pretensions to infallibility, wisdom, or high literary attainments. We confess that our early education has been very limited, for we had none at all. We were born and reared to the age of fifteen, without even the knowledge of the alphabet, in a land of slavery, among slaves; though conditionally free, yet, sharing their wretched lot and degrading associations; all this too, in the slave breeding state of Virginia, one of whose Governors as early as 1671, declared, "That there were no Free Schools and Printing Presses in Virginia, and he hoped there would be none this hundred years." The spirit of Sir William Berkly seems still to preside over the councils of the old Dominion. Under these circumstances it could not be expected of us, to bring to our aid, that finish and culture that the age demands, and that a highly educated British audience, is slow to excuse in a public speaker. This much, however; we think we may claim for ourself, without the charge of egotism or vanity; that is, an earnestness of purpose, a sincere desire to do something to benefit our race, and to overthrow slavery in the United States. We confess that our tour thus far in the Canadas, has been beyond our expectations.

Our first meeting in London was held at the Mechanics' Hall, which was densely filled, hundreds failing to gain admission. We met many kind friends, but none whose acquaintance we more highly prize than that prince of gentlemen Mr. A. B. Jones, whose urbanity and unbounded hospitality, we shall not soon forget. Of his intellectual lady we need scarcely speak; coming from the same state we were made welcome, and was soon convinced that she was one of the "Pey tons" "from the fustest families." We also had the pleasure of taking by the hand our old and cherished friend, W. Howard Day and his accomplished Lucie, who are now residing in London; to see them brought back old reminiscences of the Buckeye state. We are sorry that Mr. Day has not put himself in a proper position, to give the colored people the benefit of his classical education and fine literary attainments, such men are needed and deserve to be encouraged. We must not forget to mention our visit to the British Institute, now under the charge of Mr. Hurst, formerly under the superintendence of Mr. Dillon; our opposition to this school heretofore, and while under the charge of Mr. Dillon, was bassed upon its exclusiveness, after a very pleasant interview with Mr. Hurst, we were assured that whatever were the intentions of its former head, that the school now presented no objectionable feature, either to the philanthropist or the christian. From London we went to Woodstock, spoke to a very fine meeting in the Town Hall. Objections were raised against us, because we charged the Wesleyan M. church of Canada, with being in fellowship with Pro-slavery churches in the United States. "We admit [says] Mr. Hutton and Mr. Scarff that we fellowship with the Methodist church North, but she is Anti-slavery." But said we, here are the facts; the M.E. church North, embraces eleven slaveholding conferences; that members of that church own over thirty-five thousand slaves, that the notorious Gorsuch who was shot at Christiana, while in pursuit of a fugitive, was a local preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church North. But, as these gentlemen seem to be conscientious christians seeking for the truth, we hope that the earnest and indefatigable Mr. Linton, will give them more light on the subject. We spoke to a crowded house in Stratford, and had the pleasure of seeing for the first time J. J. E. Linton Esq., just referred to, who has won for himself a permanent and lasting reputation on both sides of the ocean, by his untiring exertions to purify and cleanse the Canadian church from the hateful contamination of slavery. Our meetings at Paris, Brantford, Dundas, and Hamilton were very large; at the last named place we spoke to over a thousand people in Mechanics' Hall. We feel ourself deeply indebted to the following gentlemen of Hamilton, for their kindly aid and assistance, W. H. Berry, J. H. Bland, Charles J. Carter and Josiah Cochrane.—H. F. D.

"Rattlesnakes"—Slavery Influence.

When perusing various exchange papers from the United States, and in reading extracts culled from European papers, the thoughtful philanthropic mind, is startled with the contrast of facts. Witness the following: "Benjamin Screws, the Negro Broker." "Benjamin Screws, Negro Broker, will keep constantly on hand, field hands, house servants, carpenters, and blacksmiths. Office, No. 159, Gravier Street, New Orleans." There is a long and a just comment on this notice, in the New York Tribune. The New York Observer has an extract of a private letter from a Rev. W. C. Pond of Downieville as follows: "We are enjoying a most precious season of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. The meetings are held at the Methodist Church, but all christians participate in them freely and eagerly. Back-sliders are reclaimed, and sinners are convicted and converted. The work is going on quietly but powerfully—and makes it delightful to preach the gospel." This last extract is of a very ordinary character, for our readers will recollect it is from the land of chattel slavery, where these same worshippers of the Almighty and beseechers at a throne of grace,—buy, hold, and sell, their fellow brethren of the flesh, yes, their bodies and souls, as Canadians do a horse, cow, or a pig. So ordinary is the character of such, and so unremarkable, that to read of the screams of agony and the writhings of the whipped and lacerated bodies of those held in bondage,—and the cries and the shouts of a camp or a revival meeting of professing religious Americans,—at the same time, within the same distance of hearing, at the same neighborhood, —is no remarkable feature. Seeing, by the auctioneer's hammer, of the babe at the mother's breast, and tearing it from the mother (when not sold along with it) is too common a thing,—no, not even the selling or bargaining for the unborn babe—and whether a boy or a girl, increasing or decreasing the population.

The Chicago Tribune has much to say as to Sabbath observance—a part of which is this: "Here in Chicago, on Sunday, we have 56 churches open during the forenoon and evening; but, at the same time, there are no less than 80 ball rooms, in each of which the 'band' plays from morning till midnight, and waltzing goes on without intermission. In addition to these "festivities," we have two theatres, each with its performers in tights and very short garments, rivalling Elsser in their graceful evolutions. Saloons have their front doors closed by proclamation, but do a thriving business through side entrance." And we might add the names of other places, say New York,—where, in the midst of churches, tract societies and missionaries, bad,—very bad,—scenes are acted on Sunday, and all we hope is, that such things will not encrease and extend. Has a nation which acknowledges slavery and the open sales of human beings, a greater chance for a moral reformation, than a country or nation which does not, but which may have cleaned its skirts of the iniquity, if ever it had been led into it? Which of such two nations is there the most hope of, for a sound moral regeneration,—a gradual change for the better, a nearer approach to abide by the doctrines of humanity revealed to us in Gods word in the New Testament? Any of our readers who may be even only partially acquainted with the history of nations, and of the progression of the human family, will at once agree in a decision for the "land of the free." But here is another feature, at this our day existing.—not in 1807 in the noble Wilberforce and Clarkson's time,—and the same appears in an exchange paper: "A vessel, schooner rigged, named the Merchant, was yesterday arrested by the United States Marshal of New York, while passing out to sea, on suspicion that she was intended for the slave trade. There was considerable cause for the suspicion. The Captain of the schooner and the crew, and the steam-tug "John Bukbeak" and her crew, (who took out men for her to the Hook) were all arrested, and the men locked up for examination." This is no uncommon thing, the arrest of a Slaver or slave ship, from the port of New York,—the christian capital of the greatest mart of commerce on the American continent! Still farther, on the 13th March,—as reported by the Falmouth Post (Jamaica,)—"An American Schooner was captured by Her Majesty's brig Arab and brought into St. Ann's Bay, Jamaica. The schooner had on board 373 Negroes, 127 having fallen victims to the horrors of the middle passage, during a voyage of twenty-nine days from the coast of Africa. They were all naked and most of them in a famished condition. The interpreter on board stated that upon an average two vessels departed weekly, each with 500 to 700 slaves on board, and that each slave was worth in Cuba, from $500 to $700. The poor creatures were taken ashore and their necessities attended to"!!! The above last fact quoted, is a more momentous text to be expounded, explained, and illustrated, than all the accounts of revivals, camp-meetings, &c., &c., from the Rio del Norte to the borders of Lake Erie. "Christian brokers in the trade of blood!" How can the matter be much otherwise. Even in Canada—and should we all not be ashamed of it, —there is the approach to the recognizing of the direful and hellish trade, in the disgraceful fellowship which certain of our churches, people, and tract societies, have with the silent and pro slavery parties of the North,—who again, bow to the Southern influence. And yet,—a wonder in our christian times,—that Southern influence will send missionaries to Africa, to Hindostan, and to other unchristianised portions of our Globe,—while they deny, at their own doors, in their own Southern States, a knowledge of "schooling" from the A B C upwards, to their young or their old and grown up slaves! Nay more,—they will not permit of education, by the book, to be given to free colored people! Yet more, they will not permit a free colored person, to return to the State he may leave,—though he may have been absent only for a day,—an hour,—or a month!

No wonder then, that the scenes enacted amongst such a lawless and inhumane people, appear on the surface of society—for we predict, that much worse scenes will yet have to be recorded, which will arise from the slave influence of the South. How can there be any foot-hold for genuine christianity there? Is not the gospel with its ministers, in the South, only looked upon as a thing to give the inhabitants (generally) a claim to the name of a "christian people," a "civilized nation!" Does not the disgrace of "slavery," attach itself to the name and character of every American, whether of the South or the North? And—on the European continent, it is only when the passing traveller or tourist, when an American, has some claim to attention or notice as a man of literature or of knowledge, (and even such but rarely) that he is not treated looked upon! A nation, in these enlightened times, which acknowledges chattel slavery, [and more so, where impudence boasts of its freedom] cannot otherwise be, than held in disgrace and ignominy.

Young Men's Associations—Slavery.

In this issue will be found a copy of a circular issued by the Young Men's Christian Association of Montreal, which expresses pure sentiment of Christian love and humanity, and which, on a perusal, we hope, will be received by our numerous readers as a document of some consideration, and as well suited to the atmosphere of Canada as to that of the Northern, Western, and New England States of the adjoining Union. And why is such a noble expression of opinion suited to a Canadian atmosphere? Just in this way—that the Canadian Churches and religious organizations, of our white Canadian brethren, have not hitherto given forth a sure and certain sound of gospel truth, to their respective people, showing that "there is no respect of persons with God," with the exception of the Free Presbyterian Church, the Church of England, (by its Colonial Church and School Society especially,) and the New Connection Methodists. The United Presbyterian body in this Province show through their monthly Magazine, (published by W. C. Fletcher of Toronto,) that their church has adopted a high-toned Missionary enterprise among colored people, who were so many of them formerly slaves, (as witnessed in their pleasing progress and advancement in Christian fellowship in the Island of Jamaica)—and the same as well in the native countries where colored people come from; and to which countries so many missionaries are sent, by white people,—with the fond hopes, and we must with the same success of showing to these unchristianized gods, the advantages of civilization and of a belief in and conformity to the precepts of our holy religion With the fond hopes, we trust, of successfully implanting amongst these 'COLORED NATIONS,' the divine command of "doing to others as we wish others should do to us." But with a sigh, for fallen and sinful humanity, we record the fact, that many of our white professing Christians; only recognize the colored people, in foreign lands, while they despise their condition and blight their prospects, in the very lands where these missionaries are sent from, and where so many descendants from these lands are, nay, where even the natives may perchance come, (as witnessed in the case of the present King of the Sandwich Islands by name, we think Liholiho, who was so unceremoniously sent out of and unchristianly expelled from white society in the steamboat on the Hudson river but a few years since.) and in this we refer more particularly to the Christians (professedly) of the United States. Will such things occur in France?—Roman Catholic and partly Protestant France? or in Belgium (a Catholic country) or in Holland—the nursery of Protestantism—or in our own mighty and powerful, but humane, Christian England, Scotland or Ireland? No, no,in these countries, "human creatures" are recognized as "God's handiwork," of every hue or color; of every religious belief, and of every kind of political faith. It is in the self-styled "free America."—the United States,—that the ignoring of the "common brotherhood" of mankind exists.

"But why Mr. Freeman, refer to Canada, in all this, when it is an offshoot, though part and parcel, of the mighty and powerful England you have so justly cited? Why, our readers, the reason is, that in searching the records of its—Canada's—religious history, we do not find, but with the exceptions above noticed, the full, frank and free admission of the "common brotherhood" of mankind. We find that the common social and Christian relations of life, amongst Canadians, have been tampered with by foreign colporteurs and missionaries, (aided by Canadian religious organizations) from the United States, who for so many years colported their books, tracts, hymn books, &c., containing Republican ideas, wishes and desires, with no words of comfort for the poor, down-trodden sons and daughters of Africa,—and as likely, omissions which really were (through deceptive intention) of words and sentences in the original editions as to slavery and as to detestations of its cursed influence. We find also that a fellowship with such pro-slavery, religious, (?) organizations, has existed with some in Canada, and no where have we seen the sinfulness of such denounced in Canadian religious publications excepting in the Evangelical Witness of the Methodist New Connection, a very pithily written paper published twice a month at London, C. W.: though we know that the Free Presbyterians have no fellowship either with pro-slavery bodies, and the obtaining of the "Presbyterian Books" from Philadelphia, we understand, will not be suffered hereafter.

We have found in Canada, by and through religious influence, (pro[illegible] pudor!) that the state and condition of the colored people, and their progressive advancement, have been to a lamentable extent, dealt with, nearly akin with such a condition as such is in the United States. There is as much "Yankeeism" in Canada, and amongst some Canadians, as to produce what we state.—And why, to any extent in a British Province? Just because of the spare moral influence; and the paucity (or poverty,) of pure religious knowledge from God's own word.—in our churches and amongst our church-going and church-loving people It is not so in Britain. What remedy should be applied? Just such a worthy document as the Montreal circular, we have referred to be issued by our respective churches. Ha! such a circular? We mean a similar writing, containing such Christian and divine sentiments, and as firmly and concisely expressed. If our ministers of religion, when ask in their prayers for success to the missions to heathens and non Christian lands will be only persuaded, one and all, to set before their members and hearers, from the pulpit and from the press,—the real and true doctrine of Christianity, that our Savior's words and commands were for all, and not for white people alone,—for the German Frank, Briton, Greek, Turk, Asiatic Colored American, American, Indian or Chinese Burmese & Hindoos, equally by Christ's choice a heaven and a hell, or the same and broad gate—and the inviting promises of reconciliation and peace are proffered to God the Son Jesus Christ, for acceptance to the white sinner and to the black sinner alike. Let us direct these reflections to the candid and just historian and to the Christian, there will cease the "blushing shame," that all the outcries for and against chattel Slavery,—the mockery and sham[illegible] horridness of horror" that various manifestations the cursed traffic in human [illegible] flesh,—the blushing shame, the sad mockery and was created and indented in civilized society by the Christian forefathers of the colonists from whom the white people in [illegible] in America, have sprung

YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATIONS—SLAVERY.

Young Men's Christian Association,

Montreal April 1857

To the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States and British Provinces.

Dear Brethren,

At a late meeting of this Association, after having long and prayerfully considered the matter, and after earnest and repeated deliberations, it was Resolved, by an almost unanimous vote "That as Southern Young Men's Christian Associations, connected with the Confederation refuse membership to Christian Young Men of Color; and forasmuch as no discussion of this this question will be permitted in Convention therefore, Resolved, That the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association do withdraw from the Confederation of Y. M. Christian Associations of the United States and British Provinces;" and the undersigned were appointed a special committee to prepare and address a circular to the various Associations on this Continent, setting forth the reasons which impell us to this course.

In addressing ourselves to this kindly less painful than important duty, we invite your serious and candid consideration of new facts and thoughts, which will, we trust, be received by all in the same spirit of Christian love and charity which prompts them. We utterly disclaim all unkind feeling and censoriousness of spirit in the remarks which follow, as foreign to our thoughts and intentions

At the Convention held in this City last summer, in unison of this Association was brought to full discovery, that in a portion of the Associations connected with the Confederation Christian Young Men were denied the privilege of Membership solely on account of a difference of Race or Color—and that [illegible] what the members of this Association could not help considering an unchristian feeling existed on the part of those Associations on this subject. Adhesion to it in Convention only created discord, and brethren who sympathized with and acknowledged the rights of all men were denied this privilege by their connection with the Confederation.

The "Basis of Organization," adopted at the Paris Convention, and ratified by the Constituted Associations on this Continent, reads as follows:—"The Young Men's Christian Associations seek to unite those young men who, regarding Jesus Christ as their God and Savior, according to the Holy Scriptures, desire to be His disciples in their doctrine and in their life and to associate their efforts for the extension of His kingdom among young men." On this broad platform, we recognize no distinction among those who thus believe and act; and no qualification, save that of sincerity and consistency of life. No distinction of Race or Color is here made, but the privileges of Christian fellowship and the advantages of Confederation are accorded alike to all young men who love our Lord Jesus Christ; and those who avail themselves of these advantages, avow their obligation to extend them to all young men who are ready to conform to the same simple requirements.

This we conceive to be the only fair and true construction of the terms of the "Basis," and any attempt to limit or qualify them, as calculated to impair the usefulness of individual Associations, and essentially to weaken their confederated strength. Nay, more—we look upon such a distinction as that above alluded to as contrary to the Spirit and teaching of Christ, who declares in unmistakable terms and by forcible illustration, every man to be our neighbor and entitled to our Christian sympathy and regard; and a virtual denial of the Divine truth, that "in Christ Jesus there is neither Barbarian, Scythian; Bond nor Free."

Thus far we have spoken of the action of individual Associations, but a further cause of deep regret is found in the fact, that the Confederation endorses that action by its non-recognition of existing Associations of Christian Young Men of Color, thus enforcing the same distinction with regard to its individual members as that which obtains in the Association alluded to.

On this ground then we take issue; claiming, as we do on the broad Basis of the Constitution and of Gospel Christianity, the same rights and privileges which we enjoy for Christian Young Men irrespective of Caste, Class, Race or Color.

"In voluntarily excluding ourselves from the benefits of Confederation, which none more highly appreciate, we are actuated solely by conscientious motives of duty. The love of Christ which implies the love of our fellow-man, constraineth us.

In foreign missionary fields we rejoice to extend the right hand of Christian fellowship to the Converted Brahmin and Hindoo—to the Hottentot and the subjugated bondsman of Africa, and when these are transplanted to a land of Christian enlightenment shall we deny them the privileges we accord to them abroad? No, rather far deny ourselves the benefits of the Confederation, than by so doing ourselves with it so far sacrifice our feelings of sacred duty as to exclude those whom Jesus loves, of whatever Race or Color, from full fellowship and communion with us.

In conclusion, such being our views and feelings on this subject of membership, it is our duty to bring them to notice of all Sister Associations in the only way left open for us, and to urge upon them a prayerful consideration of their duty in this matter.

We cannot doubt that many of you entertain the same sentiments, and we earnestly hope and pray that you all may be brought to the same mind, even the mind of Jesus our Common Lord and Savior.

A union of Young Men's Christian Associations, Confederated together on the broad and comprehensive basis of the present Confederation, pledging themselves individually to carry out its principles, with no other qualifications than such as the Gospel requires, and without distinction of persons, is the devout desire of our hearts, and with all such Associations we stand ready to unite either in the present or in a new Confederation if such be needful.

To your own consciences, under the guidance of the Divine Spirit, we commend this matter, hoping and confidently believing that the result will redound to the Glory of God, to the success of Associations, and the salvation of souls

With renewed assurances of warmest Christian Love, and unabated in your spiritual prosperity

We remain your Brethren in Christ,

ARRIVAL OF THE

"EUROPA."

PER MONTREAL TELEGRAPH LINE.

HALIFAX, 6th May, 1857.

The steamer Europa arived this morning.

She left Liverpool on the 25th ult., with dates three days later than brought by the Indian.

Her news possesses several features of commercial and political interest.

PRUSSIA.

It is said propositions for the settlement of the Neufchatel difficulty have been accepted by the Prussian Envoy at Paris, subject to the approbation of the several Governments.

CHINA.

The Earl of Elgin has left England for China.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Political interest in England was centered in the approaching meeting of parliament.

CHINA.

By telegraph from Trieste, dates from Hong-Kong to the 16th of March from Calcutta to the 21st of March, and from Bombay to the 2nd of April had been received.

The Europeans on board the British steamer Queen, under the Portuguese flag, had been murdered by the Chinese, and the steamer with its valuable cargo carried off.

The Government Contractor's storehouses at Hong-Kong had been burnt down by incendiaries and 700 barrels of flour destroyed.

The Chinese in Sarawak, Borneo, had risen on the 17th of February and massacred several Europeans. Sir James Brooke saved his life by swimming across a creek. One of the Borneo Company's steamers subsequently arrived at Sarawak, and with the aid of Sir James at the head of a body of Malays and Dyaks avenged the destruction of the settlement by killing 2,000 Chinese. A war steamer was sent over by the Dutch authorities, but her services was not required.

The latest dates from Bushire were to the 6th of March. They furnished no intelligence of fresh operations in the Persian Gulf.

☞ Mr. Douglass, Editor of the Provincial FREEMAN, delivered a lecture on the subject of slavery, at the Mechanics' Hall Hamilton, on Tuesday evening, before a numerous audience. The lecturer is himself a coloured men. He was eloquent and logical in his remarks, and was frequently applauded, as he held up to the execration of the audience this organized system of foul wrongs, and exposed the infamy of those professing Christians who tolerated and even palliated slavery by their countenance and example. He revieved its history to show that the only effectual means which had ever been applied, or could be applied, to its amelioration and extinction, was the force of public opinion; hence it should be rather the bounden duty of Christian Ministers throughout the world to create a sentiment adverse to slavery instead of fraternizing with slaveholders, or holding non-interference doctrines. He endorsed and affirmed the maxim that, "outside the Church there was no power capable of sustaining slavery!" Ergo, the professing church of Christ, is responsible for its maintenance! in all of which there is more truth than poetry.—[Globe.]

ANTI-SLAVERY LECTURES.—We referred in our issue of the 23d to the interesting lectures as to Slavery and its influences, delivered by Mr H F Douglass of the Provincial Freeman, Chatham, C. W.,—and on Wednesday evening, the 22nd. Mr. M. R Hull, (who is a native of Virginia,) in traveling via Woodstock, Paris, &c., took advantage of the Buffalo line and paid us a visit & delivered in the School house a practical lecture on Slavery and its results,—with allusions to the "poor whites" of the South. We were glad to notice that the School house was filled (and at Mr Douglass' it was crammed,) and gratified that our population show the inteligence to hear of the wrongs of their fellow beings (though of another colour). Mr Hull has lectured very effectively in other places in Canada.—At Chatham he had over 700 at one meeting. He intends to lecture in several towns in Canada, and to proceed to the old country.—Stratford Examiner.

Special Notices.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

BOSTON, November 1, 1850. Gentlemen:—Although averse to almost every thing in the form of patent medicine, I cheerfully add my testimony in favor of your invaluable remedy for dyspepsia and general debility.

The course you have pursued in submitting Dr. Green's formula to a chemist of established reputation with the medical profession, merits the approval of scientific men, and entitles your Oxygenated Bitters to the confidence of the public. I have used the medicine for some six months past, and recomended it to many others, who will agree with me in saying that it surpasses all other remedies known for the relief and cure of the most distressing complaints arising from weakness and any derangement of the digestive system.

With great respect your obedient servant.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

BROOKLYN, Conn, June 15, 1854.

FRIEND DAVIS:—Although a stranger to you, I take the liberty of addressing a few lines to you, for the purpose of saying a few words in favor of your invaluable medicine. I have used your Pain Killer for a number of years, for bowel complaint and burns, and in fact for pains of all kinds, I think it pre-eminent.—I have had several attacks of dysentery, one very violent,—I was attacked at three o'clock in the morning, and at sunrise I was not able to get out of my bed, I sent and got a twenty-five cent bottle of your Pain Killer, which I commenced taking according to directions, and at 6 o'clock in the evning my bowels were regular, and I was up and moving about, although somewhat weak. I would recommend all similarly afflicted to avail themselves of your invaluable medicine.

TO FARMERS

AND

Breeders of Horses.

THE English Coach Stallion PRINCE ALBERT, in colour is a dapple Bay, and stands sixteen and a half hands high, has good action, bone and sinew, will be moved this season for Mares in the County of Kent.

On the arrival of the horse Prince Albert in this part of the country, he was said by competent judges, to be the best horse for Agricultural purposes ever introduced into the counties of Essex and Kent, and his services have proved that his stock cannot be excelled by any horse in Western Canada

The horse Prince Albert is kind in harness and suitable for all kinds of farm work, he is gentle before the carriage and under the saddle and in regard to trotting, walking, endurance and mildness of disposition cannot be surpassed by any horse in the county, he has, in fact all the desirable qualifications a horse can possess, his stock resembles him in every particular, his colts at one year old are selling for $70 and $80 per colt. $60 has been offered to the subscriber for the young Volunteer, sired by the horse Prince Albert, for to proceed to the Western States

The horse Prince Albert has received ten prizes, eight of which were in the neighbourhood of Toronto, and two in the county of Kent, and was proposed the first prize at Port Sarnia by the Agricultural Society in the spring of 1853, which was rejected on account of his being at the time confined to the county of Kent.

Many persons are under the impression that a large horse require a greater amount of feed and attendance than small horses, which is the case generally; but not with the horse Prince Albert or his stock, for instance, a colt belonging to Mr. T. Hillier, of Tilbery East, in the fall and at the time of weaning, strayed into the woods and several unsuccessful searches were made, and was supposed to have been stolen, when in the following spring the colt was found in the woods where it had wintered with others, not having been fed once during the winter, and $50 was offered in different parts of the neighbourhood, to any person who would produce a colt in better condition, grain fed, stabled or otherwise.

The horse PRINCE ALBERT was sired by a horse imported from England his dam was sired by an imported horse See hand bills in a few days. If any persons doubt his strength durability or speed they can have the opportunity of testing it, after the season is out, by a friendly competition of $100, against any entire horse which has been moved for mares in the County of Kent.

GEORGE CHURCH,
Proprietor.

Romney, 20th April, 1857.

YOUNG VOLUNTEER.

HE will be our years old in June next, he stands sixteen and a half hands high, good action, bone and sinew, he was sired by the horse Prince Albert, he is allowed by good judges to be a very promising colt, he will walk and carry 200 cwt. 20 miles, likewise draw from 25 to 30 hundred, 25, 50 or 100 miles, trot from two to six miles in or out of harness, on a friendly competition, against any entire colt of his age that has been raised in the County of Kent, for the sum of $200. See his pedigree in his bills in a few days

Peaceable mares can be pastured on reasonable terms, at No. 180, 181 and 182 Talbot St.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE
SATURDAY EVENING POST.

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.
Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being, we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c. in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

1 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post-Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)
Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious, humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

FACTS FOR BAPTIST CHURCHES.

COLLECTED, arranged, and reviewed by Revds. A. T. Foss and E. MATHEWS. [Free Mission Baptists.] pp. 408—Utica, N. Y. Published by the American Baptist Free Mission Society—[with portrait.]

"This is a book which NO BAPTIST in Canada,—lay or clerical.—should be without. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. The "Free Will Baptists" and "Free Mission Baptists" are exempted from that charge, as they openly denounce slavery and receive not its bloody gains."—J. J. E. L.

Lines written on hearing Professor G—— Declaring Scotland to have been "Once Conquered."

BY EVAN MCCOLL.

Scotland a conquered land! Learn'd sage,
Pray tell us how, or in what age?
Not so I read historic page.

Thou canst not deem a mere invasion—
A brief disputed occupation—
To be the conquest of a nation!

A midnight robber in the room
Acquires no social right therefrom;
No claim to call my house his home.

Think'st thou the homage of a knave
Binding on those he would enslave?
Let Bothwell answer from his grave!

Scotland a conquered land! Ho-ho!
Proud Edward found it was not so,
When dying—vainly, still her foe.

No purchase thou to Saxon pride,—
[illegible]
Shalt thou [illegible]?

Despite [illegible]
Is [illegible]
And [illegible]!

Thou speak'st of Church! Be it so:
He hath not even one left to foe—
How then her conqueror,—let us know!

Her friend and Freedom's, north he came;
His watchwords appeared his aim.
And Reason trumpet in his name.

What such a marshal could wield in fight
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
Thy sons forget that they are men.
Then may'st be conquered—not till then.

Miscellaneous.

CANADA MISSION.

CHATHAM, C. W., May 6th 1857.

DEAR BRO. WALKER:—After a sojourn in this place of some five weeks, I take upon me to fulfill my promise made to many brethren when in the States, to give them some facts concerning matters and things in Canada. I was disappointed on my arrival here to find so large a city. I find it a city of some 7000 inhabitants, with its eight churches—one Catholic, one Episcopal, two Presbyterian, two Methodist, and two Baptist; a city with its presses, its enterprise, and its temptations, among which may be mentioned its numerous public houses and saloons, where temptation is dealt out according to law. I spent the first week in surveying the field, and endeavoring to ascertain its wants, that I might know how to apply the agency that had been allotted me by the providence of God, and by appointment of brethren, to perform in behalf of the colored man, in the "Home of the Free." To arrive at an intelligent conclusion, in regard to the wants of the field, I have been a careful observer of events, and the moral aspect of things. The colored people exhibit numerous [illegible] as a general thing, an interesting moral condition, and possess a [illegible]; but their intellectual culture quite deficient. They are not allowed to educate their children in the government school, in common with the white children, owing to the prejudice which exists in this vicinity, like that so manifest in many parts of the "Free North;" which prejudice, while opposed to the law of the Province, is confined to this vicinity; there being none of it at London, Hamilton or Toronto. As the result of this demand for separate schools and separate churches, the colored people [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] lectures; the parents being unwilling to send their children where, under existing circumstances, the proscriptive taxes paid by them, is beyond their control or direction. The consequence of the existing state of feeling here is this—if anything is done to bless the colored people here, either intellectually or morally, it must be a mission sustained by the friends of the cause; the means of doing the work exist not here at present, though the colored people themselves have not yet done all that they might in this behalf. I find many things to encourage in the work that I have undertaken, and, so far, the prospect seems to brighten daily, but the road is not all level, or smooth, that the missionary must tread to to reach the end of his effort, even here. Our Sabbath-school is much enlarged, and prosperous and promising. The Bible class in which I teach "Systematic Theology" is well attended, both on the Sabbath and Friday evening; and the aspect of things is favorable to the hope often expressed by brethren, that God has yet blessings in store for them. Our prayer meetings are well attended and encouraging, and we are beginning to feel the sweets of brotherly love. Chatham is a very promising field for missionary labor. It is well situated with respect to "out stations," of which there are several that may be occupied by a missionary at Chatham, with the assistance of "nature preachers," of whom there are some three or four, that are good men, and may, with proper arrangements, accomplish much good. At Shrewsbury, on the borders of Lake Erie sixteen miles from here, there is a little church, that was constituted this spring and recognized on the 25th of April. It numbers eleven members, and is at present the only church in that city in miniature—for although now a wilderness, it is [illegible] and arranged with its streets, public houses, etc. The place is at the "Road End," an important harbor on the Lake, and the probable terminus of the Huron and Erie Ship Canal, which is now being surveyed, and soon the place will number thousands. Building lots sell there already at from $43 to $100.

The church need some aid to build a meeting house, in which to hold meetings, and also a school. A school of thirty can be started there as soon as they can get the frame up and covered, when they will need a teacher. Will not some friends forward to me the amount of $100 to aid that little band toward the completion of their house of worship and school? They ought to be encouraged to hold the ground [illegible] in anticipation of the time when that house shall occupy the center of a city of many thousands. I will get and return to the donors of such money, a receipt from the church sending it through the columns of the Baptist. At Thamesville, a few miles east of this is a village that begins to invite us to "Come over and help" them. Indeed we as Free Mission Baptists, already occupy the extremes of the western part of the [illegible] of the inhabited places, at London, Chatham and Dresden, and we need to increase our efforts, until the "region beyond" is supplied with the light of life.

There is something to keep the mind alive to the evils of slavery, that may be seen daily in many places about here. 1. There is positive want, to a greater extent than is pleasant to look upon, though not general among the people. There are children in Chatham, that have not clothing to fit them to attend school. There are families so, that have suffered during the winter for the want of the common blessings of life, save as scantily supplied by a few benevolent friends, and they yet need help. A box of clothing sent to the care of J. C. Brown, Chatham, will be distributed by a committee of members of the Baptist church, after the things are properly registered, so that an account can be made, and returned be sent to the donors. 2. There are those [illegible] very in our congregation, who remember the bound as bound with them. Said a mother to me, "I have ten children in slavery; I do not know where one of them is." Another said, "I have four children in bondage, God knows where." One brother, from Louisiana always remembers his wife and child, left behind, when he prays. A man called yesterday to solicit my assistance to aid him in getting his wife and three of nine children all of them are in slavery—where they grind so many faces of the poor—on the sugar plantation. May the Lord give him success to obtain the money, $1800, required for them. Will brethren pray for this place when they remember the oppressed.

SLAVERY.

The thanks of the community are due to the Mr. J. J. E. Linton, of Stratford, for his great and unwearied exertions in explaining the precise position of the American and Canadian Churches respecting Slavery. The former are evidently sold in toto to the interests of the accursed system and in every possible way connive at the proceedings of the [illegible] friends of the South. The [illegible] Canadian Churches are, as a [illegible] to shut their eyes to the connexion which exists between the North and the South in respect to their publications and institutions. Works which are perfectly dumb on the subject of slavery, which instead of deprecating its existence seem studiously to keep it out of sight, are constantly exposed in our shop windows and on the drawing room tables of our professed fellow christians, who declare their belief in the fact that the Gospel should cause men to unloose every fetter and to let the oppressed go free. If Mr. Linton's letter be generally circulated and read Canada generally will lift her voice against the accursed system of American Slavery, the most abominable institution that ever disgraced any country, and which is at complete variance with the best interests of the world. For this reason we conceive such works as the Child's Paper ought not to be countenanced in Canada, which is perfectly dumb upon Slavery, because published in the U. States for general reading; while we have a British work for the young viz.: the Children's Paper published in Toronto which is very nearly as cheap, whose material and mechanical execution are superior to the American work and which is a fearless expositor of sin in every form and therefore just such a periodical as sincere British, (at least Christians should rejoice to put into the hands of their offspring. Our American friends who are opposed to Slavery should also use all their influence to have that system which in their hearts, as cruel, anti-christian and a plague spot to their country, they abhor in every possible way, exposed to the detestations of the Christain world; for it will be only through exertions and united prayers and efforts, the world can be rid led of it.—[From the Brantford Courier.]

☞ The conduct of the United States Senate gives much offence here, and the selfish manner in which that government acts with regard to China has placed her in a very unenviable light before the world. It appears that Mr. Buchanan's answer to France and England has been that he will not join them in any expedition against China, nor will his government take part in treaties formed through their agency, but that he thinks he can best consult the interests of the United States by having a neutral but imposing force upon the spot and independently arranging with China the best terms possible for the Americans. It will thus be seen that General Cass's [illegible] to the House of Representatives [illegible] the United States Senate's interrogations of the Central American Treaty, and as Cobden and other Yankee sympathizers are out of the House he will not be called to account for this act. Mr. Dallas, has in consequence of his want of success in carrying out the treaty given in his resignations and will leave London immediately.—London Eng. Cor. of Toronto Times.

WHY ANTOINETTE BROWN'S CHURCH WAS CLOSED.—The Church at South Butler, N. Y., of which Rev. Antoinette L. Brown was pastor, has been dissolved and the house closed. Antoinette was not a woman's rights man through the sneering bitterness of Lucy Stone, but, full of womanly tenderness, she longed for some object to lavish her affection upon, and thought it was a Church and Godless world. She became a bright Miss Blackwell, and [illegible] A Mr. Brown was put in her arms. She [illegible] herself [illegible] and [illegible] and has given up the whole flock to take charge of his wealthier. Had she found his sooner than she did, retirement at South Butler might have been such.

Is there no hope for Lucy?

We do not believe all that Rev. F. says.

☞ The Kingston News relates a melancholy occurrence which took place in Waterloo, near Kingston, a few days ago. "Two little boys, sons of Mr. Richard Petifore, aged about 8 or 8, found in the field, which they had been sent for the cows, a quantity of wild parsnip or hemlock, and thinking they were carrots, the tops of which latter somewhat resemble those of that poisonous vegetable, they ate freely of them and started for home. They had not proceeded far, however, when the eldest one was seized with convulsions and fell down upon the road; the other one then tried to bring his [illegible] home, but by [illegible] to feel unwell [illegible] left him and ran home to inform his parents who immediately sought and brought home their already insensible child [illegible] sent for medical aid. When the Doctor arrived, however, he found that the boy first affected was dying; but after much exertion he succeeded in relieving the other one, who was by this time laboring under all fearful symptoms caused by this most active poison and who is likely to recover.—Colonist May 12.

WHO ARE OUR NEIGHBORS.

"The Proslavery gospel is thus illustrated by the Washington Union, grand organ of the Administration:

Who are those neighbors we are commanded to love as ourselves? Is it those who partake in our blood and lineage, in whose welfare and prosperity we are joint-partners who equally contribute their treasure to the support and their blood to the defence of the State, and who are in the daily exchange of benefits with us? Or is is it the African slave, who is not our neighbor in any one sense of the word as applied to the great commandment?"

What Christianity! what Democracy!

THE PALMESTON HOUSE

We take much pleasure in noticing the opening of the above private Hotel and Restaurant for business, The exterior of the building and the interor arrangements reflect much credit upon the judgment and taste of Mr D. B Thomas, the Architect and upon the enterprise of the owner of the property, A. Seegmiller, Esq. The house is four stories high, including the basement, and is built of red and white brick.—the cost being about £1200. It is occupied by Mr C Thomas, whose reputation as an obliging and successful caterer to the wants of the public is widely known. The bar-room-paalours, and bed-rooms are furnished in a in superb style,—and, in this respect it is probably not surpassed by any place of the kind in Canada. Mr Thmas has shown such enterprise and spirit in providing suitable accomodation for his numerous customers, that he deserves a porpen return and will certainly obtain it.

The opening of this Hotel was celebrated by a Ball on Thursday night last, which was well attended, and acknowledged by all present to have been one of the most successful affairs of the season.—Stratford Beacon.

GREAT FIRE!

SUTHERLAND & MCLEAN'S CAR FACTORY DESTROYED.

LOSS $50,000.

On Saturday evening, about seven o'clock Sutherlands & McLean's extensive Car Factory depot was observed to be on [illegible] bursting from the building [illegible] boiler. The alarm bells of the city were immediately rung, and the Fire Brigade, under Mr. Ashfield hurried out to the scene of conflagration. The distance, however, being considerable (nearly two miles from the centre of the city) and a strong breeze blowing at the time, the fire had proceeded so far before the engines arrived that it was impossible to do anything to save the work shops and their contents from total ruin. The engines, with the scanty supply of water furnished by the carters, could do nothing beyond playing on the adjoining lumber yard, occupied by Mr. Thirston. This fortunately was preserved unharmed. An engine was also for some time kept at work to preserve the Great Western Railroad buildings, on which a shower of sparks were falling. The car factory being entirely destroyed, the loss is very heavy. Several cars were burnt, besides a number of freight drays. Among the cars were three just ready to be turned out for the Buffalo and Brantford Railway; six had been turned out for the Grand Trunk a few days before. By the disaster which has occured, some 50 mechanics, employed by the firm, are thrown out of work. A portion of the premises was rented by the Messers Shaw of Yonge street, as a tool factory. They were uninsured. The total loss is estimated at from, $50,000 to $60,000.

MORE BEGGING!

ELDER PIPER, FREE MISSION BAPTIST MISSIONARY AT CHATHAM!!

CLOTHES FOR FUGITIVES!!

We can scarcely repress the indignation we feel at the multiplied attempts of men, calling themselves Missionaries from the United States, to disgrace the people here by their continual begging for clothes, &c. Another case has just come to light, and true it is, that scarcely is one piece of falsehood of the sort exposed, as in the case of Reverends Henson, Foote, & Co., when some new mischief comes to light, and the worst of the whole matter is, that the actors can always command the colums of some paper in the States to back their wicked pretensions. Here is a Baptist preacher claiming to be Anti-Slavery, as will be seen by reading the article Canada Mission, on 1st page, taken from the Amer'n Baptist, in whose church a collection of fifteen dollars was taken at one Anti-Slavery meeting recently by these same people, who, to accredit the Elder, are "suffering for the common blessiugs of life: the collection having been freely given by these poverty stricken ones to Mr. Hull, a worthy anti-slavery man of the United States out of compliment for his excellent lecture. The Colored Methodist Church too, under the charge of "native preachers," took up, not a month since $200 on one day for building purposes, and a few days afteward; when one of their members lost his household effects by fire, the same congregation volunteered $44 to him as their quota of the very liberal donations to the same end by the citizens generally, so that his pecuniary state is better than before, yet these people too, want the comforts of life.

Elder Piper is sent to the Baptist, why not minister to them then? By what authority does he assume the guardianship of the people of this field? Certainlynot by appoinment of God, however much "thebrethren," who are not likely to be injured by his publications, had to do with it. No, it is the same old whine and cant about God and his providence; and here are the same adroitly written statements about separate churches and schools. If the Free Mission Baptists are going to strike hands with the Wilsons Rices, Footes, Hensons and others through their new missionaries, the sooner we know it the better

Mr. Piper complains of separate churches and schools, and yet this same Elder Piper preaches in, encourages and begs for separate churches and schools, and really stands in the way of a school without distinction to be taught by a Mr. Metzger. But his colored school may have some pickings from the other side. Why did not Mr. Piper say that the claims of Mr. Metzger was so clear, that according to his own public assertion, here, he would stand aside? That would not have suited his purpose, when asking for a church, school house and clothes for the colored people through the American Baptist.—And how does he better affairs here by soliciting for colored schools and churches, at the same time that he complains about them? We lose our respect for the clerical office when we see such evident venality promoted and fostered by preachers almost invariably. Elder Piper has seen fit to reflect injuriously upon the whites of Chatham and one or two other localities where exclusive institutions exist: that is no doubt any easy matter, and much more easy than to write the whole truth, as his admission that they are "oppoesd to the law of the province" proves. Why did not Elder Piper tell the fact, that in every case where these exceptions to the law of the Province may be found, an American Missionary or Missionaries have had a hand in the work, Elder Piper with his colored school and church making no exception. No good reader, a few of the colored people aidedby their missionaries from the United States, petitioned to the Canadian government that their children might have the separate school privilege, then desired by them, and their prayer was granted.

Free Mission Baptists, Congregationalists, and Anti-Slavery Wesleyan preachers, so called in the States, who have come to Canada and built up or encourage colored churches have helped one way or another, and Elder Piper is doing the same, asking for funds to build up what he pretends to be opposed to. If this man is God appointed, he will not misrepresent the condition of the colored people here, that he may get funds, neither the white people of Chatham, that he may get funds: neither will he remain dumb in Chatham upon these sins of the whites, and virtues of the blacks: (how is it sinful for white men to grant to colored men separate schools and churches but a virtue in colored men with Elder Piper at their head, to send abroad for funds to build up the same?) No he will put the horse before the cart—he will reason to these white Greeks—not away off in some little colored Baptist Church—not up at Thamesville with its one or two colored families only—not at the Rond Eau, with less than a dozen. Neither will he make a "cat's paw" of J. J. C. Brown to distribute his clothes. Mr, Brown has told us that he defied any one to say he ever sent for old clothes or wanted them. If Mr Brown is to receive clothes for naked and hungry Baptists, only, why not say so; if not by what authority does a committee of Baptists assume to be almonors for the entire people?—When did the two thousand colored people here abouts authorized them?

Mr. Hull an intelligent and deserving anti-slavery man, said frankly, after having visited and lectured. and seen the colored people, that the begging was a great wrong Mr. Piper the promoter of colored Baptist Churches, who has travelled from here to the Rond Eau 16 miles, and to Thamesville 18 miles, and who has not seen what may be seen in plenty; in his towns of 7000 on the other side, comes to the conclusion that he must have some boxes and some money.—to strengthen this case, some man who very naturally wants to buy his family, declares the same, and $1800 in large figures swells the necessity.

Mr. Piper says: the consequence of the existing state of feeling here is this—if anything is done to bless the colored people here, either intellectually or morally, it must be a mission sustained by the friends of the colored man." This very interested conclusion of the Reverend gentleman we unhesitatingly deny! and shall continue to until the British preachers in Chatham say openly or by implication colored people are not within the pale of our Christian consideration—M. A. S. C.

The Queens Birth Day celebration was an imposing affair. There was a fine display by the firemen, Military Muster, & Rifle Brigade, parade during the day, and in the evening a fair for the colored Methodist Church, and concert at Eberts building; very little drunkedness, the result of spirits was observable, but their was a demonstration of loyalty equally boisterous, but more excusable. The fireman looked exceedingly trim, and although on principle opposed to exclusive companies based on complexion, whether whiteor black theVictoria No. 3, colored, who by the way have done better service with the Engine in her old days, than was ever done when she was young, looked not a white behind the Chiefest.—M. A. S. C.

The American Anti-Slavery Society;—held its twenty-fourth anniversty in New York, City, on Thursday 14th, of the present month, the attendance was good and the speeches on the occasion wer of a high order. Among the good things of the occasion and worthy of especial perusal, were speeches by Messrs Phillips, Purvis, Remond, Miss. Watkins, and Mr. Brown. Our small space forbid their publication entire, which otherwise we would be most happy to do.

We propose however to give extracts in future. It is from their perusal plane that no one anti-slavery party on the other side can honestly claim all the talent, and earnestness among colored or white abolitionist: but the American society, may with propriety boast a fair quota from the proscribed classes—M. A. S. C.

The Toronto Anti-Slavey Society—held a general meeting one the 29th, of April; two years having elapsed since their annual meeting previous. The attendance was smaller than formerly.

The action against pro-slavery religious bodies, inaugarated and prosecuted by Mr Linton of Stratford was we perceive fully urged and endorsed by the meeting. The remarks by Messrs. Brett & Dick were particularly forcible and appropriate, but the compensation theory of Elihu Buritt introduced by Mr. Bans was hardly in harmony with the general radical and earnest tone of the meeting.

M. A. S. C.

We see by an exchange that the suffering among the people of Northern Michigan, for the want of food is very great. A meeting was held in Detroit on the 16th, to raise funds to purchase provisions to supply their wants. A man was present from Gratiot County, whoes wife & three children had died from starvation, and who gave a sad statement of the present suffering in that locality $5000, was determened to be raised in Detroit to purchase food and 1,000 was subscribed at the meeting.

It is to be regretted that the boasted agricultural State of Michigan, will not produce sufficient crops to supply the wants of her Citizens, while the frozen fields of Canada, reputed by yankees, as unproductive, and settled only by ignorant eCannucks runaway negroes, & Indians produces a superabundance for the supply of home and foreign markets.—S.

☞ Our subscribes who feel at all interested in the business being done on the U. G. R. Road, will be gratified to read the Reports that have appeared in our two last and the present issues, and they may still look for full and interesting ones to appear.

As the names of the persons escaping, and their State & county from which they came, will invariably be given, an opportunity will thus be presented to many, who have left the south, of once more perhaps embracing the friends & relations whom they left in slavery.—I. D. S.

A special Election of the Rate Payers of this municipality, was held on Thursday and Friday of the present week, when the vote of Messers. Heal thyself.—We have no hesitation in saying that Consumption can always be alleviated, and in a great many cases completely cured, simply by the use of Dr. Wistar's Wild Cherry Balsam. Its soothing and healing influence over the diseased organs is truly wonderful.

Perry Davis' Pain Killer is a very valuable article, and one that it would be well for every householder to have at hand, in case of bruises, scalds, burns, diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, fever and ague, and the host of diseases, external and internal, which it is adapted to cure or alleviate.—[Salem Observer.

THE EDINBURGH (SCOTLAND) LADIES' EMANCIPATION SOCIETY,

And the Christians of Canada.—Slavery.

Though we have on so many occasions during these few years back endeavored by just, though warm, representattion, to awaken the Religious bodies of Canada and the Tract Societies therein, to the humiliating spectacle of a fellowshipping with Pro-Slavists, and with Pro-Slavery societies and bodies in the United States, and although the matter we so represented was new in Canada, still we never despaired of success ultimately We did not consider it as water "spilled on the ground, not to be lifted up again," or a 'casting of pearls before swine." We have had a hope that so many, at least, of the said Religious bodies in Canada and Societies, would see the inconsistency and even the dire hypocrisy in their professions towards the cause of a crucified Redeemer,—when on the one hand they passed resolutions and declaimed against Slavery proper," but "shook hands" and fraternized with those of the United States who were either silent on the sin at home of that Republic, namely Slavery or directly fellowshipped with Southern interests We were not without the hope that time and a higher power would show that a "profession" of Christianity in Canada was not a vain thing or [illegible] pounds, shillings and pence!—We have [illegible] that we perceive that [illegible] took place—and [illegible] we meet not with the supporters of, and [illegible] advertisments of the American Sunday School Union or the hypocritical American Tract Society, excepting as to the latter, which states a truth loving and a free people and loyal Canadians in the columns of the Evangelist the religious papers in Canada advocating the interests (and by its columns said to be the evangelical interests!) of the Church of England. But the Upper Canada Tract Society must throw off its hypocritical covering and stand by itself, and not as a representative, as it is, of slavery bodies

We shall endeavor firmly to remonstrate with the Religious bodies in Canada; nor shall any influence here let we know of at present, thwart us in our design of remaining every approach to a support in Canada of pro-slavery organizations in the United States. We are the avowed enemies of such support No name, however sacredly reverenced, or [illegible] importance in such a case will debar us from publishing to the wide world any association of that name with pro-slavists We will hesitate not a moment in sending a faithful report across the Atlantic to the home" of the brave and the free, of every religious society and Tract Society in Canada which will show a [illegible] conduct.

It is cheering in these times, to see such an Address as the following one, emanate from true loyal and humane hearts. The Edinburgh Ladies' Emancipation Society, with the good and venerated Mrs Sarah Wigham as President, have for years acted in the cause of humanity for the oppressed African, and his descendants and it must be cheering to them in the capital of the free nation of Scotland, to witness the responses given to their prayerful entreaties on behalf of the Slave. Truly may they say, in the dolhese words,

"Can we be [illegible] evening,
Lay us in soft [illegible] ease,
While woman's heart is bleeding
Shall man's voice be hush'd?"

The Annual Report of the Society is now before us as we pen these lines It is for the year ending March 1857. We shall on an early occasion refer more particularly to it. We are glad to notice a letter by Dr. Daniel Wilson Professor of the University College at Toronto addressed to it, also one from Mrs. Brett, Secretary of the Toronto Ladies' Anti-Slavery Society and letters from Mrs. Stowe, Mr Tappan Jr. Garrett, &c. We shall notice the Report, as we have said.

In the meantime [illegible] Christians, that is, those professing Christianity and by a solemn vow to Almighty God acknowledging the "golden rule" of doing to others what they should wish to be done to them, and also the general precepts of charity and love enunciated so humbly by our Savior, shall these Christians pass by as unheeded the appeal made to them. We hope not. Shall they still adhere to the policy of acknowledging the Pro-Slavery and silent bodies of the United States, as they, so many of them have been accustomed to, or shall they disconnect themselves entirely, and of even every semblance of fraternization? While Congregational church in its individual churches and congregations still countenance the American Sunday School Union and the American Tract Society? If they do as to the latter, will no remonstrance of any kind be put forth as indicative of not approving of the pandering policy to the South, as practiced for two and thirty years, and a time previous by that Society? Will it be shown to the American Sunday School Union that they [said society] only show to the world a concern to give general instruction in Christian doctrines whereas they are altogether sectional, and only for the white population? The soothing words of humanity for the oppressed, appear not in their books. The heaven and the hell, a Christ and His Gospel, and every exalted thought and promise all, all, are only for white people! And will not these societies (even if reformed,) be eschewed and avoided altogether in Canada as they teach Republican doctrines and maxims They are political in their tendencies, as well as rankly savouring of Southern influence. And how can the ministers of Religion in Canada, who have encouraged, and still do encourage these societies, stand before a loyal people, with their vow of truth and godliness? Why the thing is so preposterous, that it must make the very Deist and Atheist blush for shame for the human family. No greater cause for infidelity, and "turning the back" upon the God of our fathers, can be given to a thinking people, than the unblushing and impudent bearing of ministers of religion in this matter.

But the regular Baptist of Canada, what can he say? And the Wesleyan Methodist of Canada in all the ramifications of his church in this Province only shows that "hypocrisy rules" and that the god of this world, has displaced the Supreme Law giver. "Shame, hide thy blush."—Shame, why, our readers will excuse us for indting these words,—that the ugh the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, has neither that fear, apparently, nor any shame in the matter. The God of this world has so evidently absorbed everything else, and causes its blazonry of pride to herald a Gospel which, in their hands is of the Devil! But we refer our readers to the Address, which breathes an Apostolic unction.

SLAVERY!

Address From the Edinburgh (Scotland) Ladies' Emancipation Society to the Christians of Canada

BRETHREN,

We would respectfully address you on the present occasion on a subject which must be of deep importance to sincere Christians throughout the World

Since the abolition of Slavery in the British Colonies, the eyes of friends of the slave have been turned to the condition of three and a half millions held in bondage by the United States of America, and we have endeavored to inform ourselves of the nature of their position, and of the various circumstances which bear upon it. In this investigation the melancholy conviction has been forced upon us, that there is no influence so powerfully at work in rivetting the chains of the slave as that of the professedly Christian church of America. Again & again have honest men with in the church declared this truth and facts on facts arise to substantiate it. Ministers and members of churches hold, sell and buy slaves, and ministers and members apologize for the system, and unblushingly twist the Holy Scriptures so as to assign a sanction for that compound crime which includes a violation of every command of the Decalogue and of the spirit of the Gospel.—Nor are the religious associations are mute with regard to Slavery or openly defend it.—The American Board of Missions neglects the [illegible] time, and interferes with the oppressor, by whom the heathen are held in darkness. Silence is the course of the Tract Association which represents a condemnation of the sin. The Sunday School Union and others follow the same course

But it is not to dwell on these facts that we now address you They are probably more familiar to you or us. Our object is rather to appeal you to administer a remedy for these great crimes of your neighbors; for we cannot but conceive that you have much in your power, if you will earnestly [illegible] a faithful testimony against Slavery, and faithfully and strictly avoid all communion and fraternization with slave holders and their apologists. It seems to us to be essential for the maintenance of your own purity as a church "Ye are the salt of the earth," is emphatically the title given to the Christian Church—and as such who can doubt but its presence has acted as a preservative to the nations wherein it has been placed. How solemnly incumbent is it then on all who profess the name of Christ, to see that the salt "have not lost its savour," to watch over this vital principle of [illegible] and to the brethren abroad to eschew every ghostly approach to corruption and to carefully avoid the contact of evil, which, dims the moral sense, and gradually brings to that state described as "thenceforth good for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men." Such an evil influence, we firmly believe, is American slavery, which sheds its poison over not only the churches of the United States, but also to those of our country, and (we are given to fear) in some degree to those of Canada also. We have therefore, presented to the Churches of our own land as we now do to you, to stand on the defensive against this sin, and in this matter to seek by the help of God to maintain the purity of the Church in Queen Victoria's dominions. "Slaves cannot breath there"—then would it not be a sorrowful thing, for the Slaveholder to find apology and shelter in what ought ever to be the very sanctuary of freedom.

Your country has the noble privilege of affording an Asylum to thousands of the poor victims of oppression; we rejoice in this fact, and we feel grateful to you, our fellow subject, for the kindness you have shown to these outcasts from the miscalled land of freedom. We hope that your kindness may continue and that you will, by your unwavering recognition of them as both free enabled to combat the iniquitous prejudice against colore, which prevails to so great an extent in the Free States of America, and which, we earnestly desire, may not be alloged among you.—So we would earnestly hope that these poor people—under improved circumstances, may become useful citizens and noble vindicators of the equality of the Negro race, and of the right of the Negro to his freedom an his manhood In conclusion, permit us to express an earnest desire for your preservation in every good work, and for your maintenance in the purity and holiness of the Church of Christ.

We are, yours for the slave.

Edinburgh, Dec 12th, 1856.

We the undersigned, know the parties subscribing the above document; and that they, and others associated with them, have for many years manifested a lively sympathy in the cause of slave-emancipation—by their contributions, and prayers, and active efforts.

Correspondence.

☞ We take great pleasur in inserting the following letter, from W. H. Day, addressed to "Mr. Douglass" in reference to our recent visit to London: and we shall only add that if there is any thing in our Editorial notice of Mr. Day, for us to correct, he and his friends may consider it corrected. If Mr. Day, is in a 'proper' Position to give the colored people, the benifit of his talent, and attainments, we are certainly glad of it. We look however from a different Stand point.—H F. D.

LONDON, C. W. May 18th, 1857.

Mr. DOUGLASS;—By the courtesy of a friend I have had the opportunity of seeing copy of the "Provincial Freeman" of the date of May 16th.

In your leader for that week (an article headed, Anti-Slavery Lecturing—Our success in Canada,)—among other matters, you speak of your visit here, and of the "reminiscences" thus "brought back," of the "Buckey-State."

Thus far you are very complimentary, (whether deserved or not deserved,) but you make an additional remark, about which some of us here desire to make a request. And that is—that you will explain to us just what you mean by the following:—

"We are sorry that Mr Day has not put himself in a proper position to give the colored people the benefit of his classical education and fine leterary attainments"

1st What is the position "Mr Day" is occupying.?

2. How might he have "put himself in a different one.?

And 3d, What that "proper position" would be.?

Having devoted years of labor for "the benefit of" "the colored people" both in the United States and Canada, and having shown no desire to abate one jot of that labor, I would be surprised to find myself obnoxious to such a charge as is broadly imphed in your article I have writen, I have lectured, I have taught, I have given money to the extent of my ability. Nay more. I have sacrificed to this cause probably more than any other colored man in either Canada or the United States I am sacrificing more. What more I could have done or can do to "put" myself in a proper position to give the colored people the benefit," etc., you will probably tell us.

Remember, you are Speaking of an "old and cherish friend."

Yours Respectfully,
WILLIAM H DAY.

COLCHESTER, NEW LEBANON, May 18.h, 1857.

The slaveholders say that we are not created of God to be free, and if we were free we can not get our living, but the white people in the States that call themselves our friends say we are created equal with themselves, and can get our living being free, but they deny it by their deeds. If we can get our living, what do they send their clothes here to us for? why,to degrade us, that they may sell our names in the States and get money to make themselves rich. This shows that they are not our friends, but the friends of slaveholders. Their sending their old clothes here to prove what the slaveholders say of us to be the truth, for they witness what the slaveholders say of us. But we can get our living being free, and that without their old clothes. I have on hand now 1500 weight of as good pork as there is in Canada West for sale. This shows that the colored people can get their living here if they try. If the white people wish to be the friends of the colored people, they will be their friends by helping the slaves to Canada, and when they get here let them go to work and get their living or die. We have the same rights in law here that white men have and we can get our living without the old clothes, like they do. The agents, ministers, and the old clothes that are sent here to us by those in the States that call themselves our friends are a curse to us and to the free land of Canada.

Mr. Editor—Please give this place in your paper, and oblige your friend,
WILLIAM FISHER.

CONVENTIONAL AND REAL FAME

Pierce has just vacated the Presidency, and James Buchanan is freshly endued with its honors and its authority, its resources of patronage and its claims upon sycophancy. But what is the one but an Out and the other but an In as the political world goes—the one retiring to be disregarded and forgotten, the other entering upon the highest office in the country, to be toadied and bored in turn, and then, like his "illustrious predecessor" to pass unregretted into some "cool sequestered way of life," his setting rays completely eclipsed by the glory of a newly arisen sun, or wholly obscured by the black harbingers of storm and convulsion which may follow his going down?

What is a bivalve after the fish is extracted? What is an orange which has been squeezed? What is the shell when the kernel is eaten? Trash, mereat trash. What is an ex-President (we speak according to the materialistic ideas of the time but an empty oyster shell, a squeezed orange, a kernelless nut?—New Orleans Delta.

CELEBRTION OF THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

The anniversary of the Queen's Birthday is always a day rejoicing in Toronto. Her Majesty's loyal subjects in this portion of her dominions seize on the opportunity to testify their love and loyalty to the sovereign and institutions of Great Britain. All places of business were closed Monday, and the people give themselves up to pleasure of every kind suitable to the day. Hundreds flocked by the different lines of railway to various sylvan retreats in different parts of the country, in search of health and enjoyment The return trains on the other hand, came in laden with people from the country and the adjacent villages, dressed out in their holiday attire. Every street in the city was thronged by citizens and strangers. The different companies of Military and Firemen marched in procession through the streets, and contributed much to add interest to the scene The dress of the Fire companies looked brilliant and becoming. They appeared much to advantage, and elicited commendatory remarks from many strangers.—Daily Colonist.

It is asserted that the Cabinet of the United States cannot preserve a neutrality in the Eastern contest; and the English papers assert that Mr. Reed's offers of negotiation will be heard amidst the din of war which will rage in China by the time he reaches there. England asserts that should the resort to an effectual blockade of the ports of China, no neutral flag will be permitted to enter.

SUICIDE.—The Galt Reformer says that an old pensioner, a native of Wales, committed suicide in that Town on the 2nd instant, by hanging himself to a bed-post. He was of intemperate habits.

GREAT FIRE AT NEWBURY.

The London Free Press gives a detailed account of the disastrous fire at the Newbury Station on the Great Western Railway. We have only room to state that the whole of the buildings &c., at the Station were consumed by the devouring element. Estimated loss from $20,000 to 25,000. The fire occurred on the 25th Inst.

Special Notices.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Sir James Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and one of the most learned and skilful men the age, in his "Treatise" on Consumption says—"That Pulmonary Consumption admits of a cure, is no longer a matter of doubt; it has been clearly demonstrated by the researches of Laennec and other pathologists."

The mere fact that such a disease is ever curable, attested by such unimpeachable authority should inspire hope, and reanimate failing courage in the heart of every sufferer from this disease.

The remedy we offer has cured thousands. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY not only emanates from a regular physician, but has been well tested in all the complaints for which it is recomended.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

BROOKLYN, Conn, June 15, 1854.

FRIEND DAVIS—Although a stranger to you, I take the liberty of addresing a few lines to you, for the purpose of saying a few words in favor of your invaluable medicine. I have used your Pain Killer for a number of years, for bowel complaint and burns, and in fact for pains of all kinds, I think it pre-eminent.—I have had several attacks of dysentery, one very violent,—I was attacked at three o'clock in the morning, and at sunrise I was not able to get out of my bed, I sent and got a twenty-five cent bottle of your Pain Killer, which I commenced taking according to directions, and at 6 o'clock in the evning my bowels were regular, and I was up and moving about, although somewhat weak. I would recommend all similarly afflicted to avail themselves of your invaluable medicine.

Poetry.

For the Provincial Freeman.

THE FUGITIVE.

BY ANNE LEOPOLD.

He was old and worn and weary
Yet his freedom still he craved:
Though his heart was sad and dreary,
All the blasts of Winter braved;
But its cold was too severe
And a grave he findeth here!

Though his loved—his bosom friend
He does fit in Slavery,
Yet a helping hand he found,
An the tear of charity
Drops upon his dying pillow,
Soothing him o'er death's rough billow

Now, he's free of all his anguish,
Dat how shall he cast from his
Next oppression's rod to languish,
To be sold and sent to chains confined.
No, he rather thus would be
Than to roam in Slavery

Now he is free, yes free forever,
From oppression's heavy rod,
Blessing now the precious Saviour,
Who redeemed him unto God.
And those who tried to ease his pain,
With him in Heaven shall meet again.

THE WEST INDIES AND SLAVERY.

The following items of late intelligence from the West Indies will, we hope be a sufficient reply to those who assert that the abolition of slavery was attended with ruin to all concerned: At a meeting in London, to take measures to present an appropriate testimonial to Dr. Livingstone, African traveller, Mr. Montgomery Martin made this statement:—

"He had recently visitrd the West Indies to ascertain if the emancipation of the slaves had produced ruin there. He found there a free, happy and prosperous population, and speaking commercially, the West Indies now yield more rum, sugar and other produce, than they had ever done during the existence of slavery. (Hear, hear.) Since the abolition of slavery in the West Indies, not a drop of blood was shed, not a single crime was committed, nor was there destruction of property throughout the whole of the West Indies."

A letter received, a few days ago, in New York, dated Spanish Town, March 16, 1857, says: —

"Let it suffice that, with the high price of sugar, the good season with which we have been so long favoured, and other favourable circumstances, our prospects are brighter than they have been for many years. Many of the planters are extending their cultivation to the utmost, and are rapidly recovering from their late embarrassments; while numbers of labourers have purchased deserted estates, and are engaged in the cultivation of sugar, and are thus raising themselves into that middle class which slavery annihilates, and without which no country can prosper. In every respect there is a decided, palpable progress. The change from slavery to freedom, in this country, is as from darkness to light. The labourers are, for the most part, orderly, industrious and happy. Schools and places of religious worship are being extended over the land, and are generally well attended. In fine everything augurs a steady advancement toward a permanent and general prosperity."

INCIDENTS OF THE MICHIGAN FAMINE.

Lafayette township, composed of 11 and 12 north, 1 west, has forty families, who want to puchase provisions on a year's credit. They have not got enough food in towu to last two weeks. Pine River, 12 north, 2 and 3 west, has ninety-five families—fourteen entirely destitute to day. As many in the town north in Isabella County; some have a little money, but the provisions are not here to buy.

Sylvan township, 12th north, 4 west has thirty-one families. Many have been without bread for several days; I will here state that I have not heard of a single family that had a pound of pork or beef; are living on leeks and maple-sugar. Nearly all will be able to pay within a year—very few have food, or the means of procuring it before next Fall.

Sumner has fifty families. A few are destitute of breadstuff, say four or five, and many have not enough to last one week. Those who would have had enough have divided with their neighbours, until they are out. There is not enough in town to last one week, nor potatoes enough for seed.

Arcada has seventy-eight families. One-eighth of them can get along; there is not enough to last the balance one week. Most of them have got from 40 to 150 acres of land, and some have wheat growing that looks well. Can get along for seed corn and potatoes, but must have 100 barels of flour or its equivalent. They trade at Mapel Rapids and Fish Creek.

Emerson has thirty families—twenty that must have provisions furnished them. Most of them are now living on roots and maple-sugar.

Hamilton has twelve families. Five of them may get along; the balance must be helped,—want seed corn and potatoes.

North Star has eighty families. Forty of them have not got one week's food on hand of any kind. It takes all the time of two-thirds of them to live, as they have to go a great way to work for their food, and carry it home on their backs.

We met, as we were going up, an old man, coming down to Clinton county after food for his family. He stated that he had a wife and six children entirely destitute, that he had a good crop of wheat in the ground, 130 acres of land, worth $5 per acer, and that he would sell 40 acres of it $60, and take it all in provisions. There are many more similar cases. They hurried on their lands unprepared, in consequence of the decision of the Secretary of the Interior and the frost having cut off their last year's corn crop, they are left thus destitute.

I met men, some on foot, some with oxcarts, one or two on horseback, all the afternoon, going out for provisions. Most of them look as if they had been on short allowance. I called at one house; the lady came to the door and said she guessed there was more cry than want: that it was a great cry and little wool. Some people she said were always whining and making wry faces If they would work more and whine less they would get on better. "Well," said I, "How are you in your family—have you plenty?" "We shall not starve," she replied; "we have had much hard luck this spring—lost our only cow, but our credit is good, and we bought another. We had some of the time to live on bread and molasses. We had a little meat, but we are well off to what some are further North, and we shall get throug,'

RICHARD CROMWELL.

He had no faith in his cause, nor confidence in himself, nor reliance on those around him and his unceremonious ejection from power was a natural consequence where such premises existed. If they who ejected him had, paid his fathers debts as well as his own they would have made him a richer, but not a much happier man. They would have added some dignity to his retirement, but a he was, he had enough for enjoyment—such enjoyment as he could find in the pursuits he most cared for—those of a country gentleman and boon companion. These pursuits, however, were not always practicable. From May, 1559, to the middle of 1660 he lived at Hursley, in some fear of creditors, whom even now he could not satisfy, and in some doubt as to what his fortune might be if Charles II. were recalled; he then retired to Paris, where he lived in obscurity, and under the fictitious name of Wallis. Twice he visted Genva; and on one of these occasions he was spoken of to his face, by the Prince de Conti, who received him under his assumed name, as "coxcomb," "rascal," "coward," "base fellow," "fool," and "sot." About 20 years after, "Mr. Wallis" first buried himself in obscure lodgings in Paris, a Mr. Riched Clarke settled at Cheshunt. It was by this name that Richard Cromwell, no longer in fear of creditors, chose to be known. He was a hearty church and conventicle going, hunting, joyous gentleman, loving good wine a little, and fair ladies more. He was choice in the selection of his company, seldom referred to his past greatness, and was never sarcastic, save when he alluded to the addresses of the people of England who, on his being proclaimed Protector, laid their lives and fortunes at his feet. These touch of Kind Lear in the old man's destiney after all. His daughters opposed his having life possesion of an estate left him by his son, on account of mental debility. Queen Anne was then reigning, and old Mr. Clarke came up to town, appeared personally in Cour where his suit was carried on, and was not only courteously treated by the judge, but was requested by him to remain covered during the proceedings. It was at this period that he strolled into the House of Lords. A stranger present asked the country gentleman if he had ever been in the place before; a small remnent of venial pride prompted the answer, as he pointed to the throne, "Never since I sat in that chair." He won his suit, was reconciled to his daughtres, and in 1712 being then in his eighty-sixth year, he died at Chesnut, in the house of Sergeant Pengelly, who was said to be his son, and who became a Chief Baron of the Exchequer. His enemies ridiculed him under the names of "Tumble-down Dick" and "Queen Richard;" but even they could not deny that he was an honester man than he for whom Richard was compelled to make room.—Monarch's Retired from Business, by Dr. Doran.

DIVINITY INCARNATE.

The following account of the personal appearance of Jesus Christ, supposed to be from the pen of a Jewish historian, has been several times published; and is worth putting again on record:

A Description of the person of Jesus Christ, as it was found in an ancient manuscript, sent by Publius Lentulus, President of Judea, to the Senate of Rome—"There lives at this time in Jduea, a man of singular character, whose name is Jesus Christ. The barbarians esteem him a prophet, but his followers esteem him as the immediate offspring of the immortal God. He is endowed with such unparalleled virtues as to call back the dead from their graves, and to heal every kind of disease with a word or touch. His person is tall elegant shaped—his aspect amiable and reverend. His hair flows in those beautiful shades which no united colors can match, falling into graceful curls below his ears, agreeably couching on his shoulders, and parting on the crown of his head, like the head-dress of the sect of Nazarites. His forehead is smooth and large; his cheek without spot, save that of a lovely red; his nose and mouth are formed with exquisite symmetry, his beard is thick and suitable to the hair of his head, reaching a little below his chin, and parting in the middle like a fork. His eyes are bright, clear and serene. He rebukes with majesty, counsels with mildness, and invites with the most tender and persuasive language. His whole address, whether in word or deed, being elegant, grave and strictly characteristic of so exalted a being No man has seen him laugh, but the whole world beholds him weep frequently; and so persuasive are his tears, that the multitude can not withhold theirs from joining in sympathy with him. He is moderate, temperate and wise In short, whatever this phenomenon may turn out in the end, he seems at present a man of excellent beauty and divine perfections every way surpassing the children of men."

CHANCES OF THE FRANKLIN EXPEDITION.

We have shown in a previous discussion of the subject that it is by no means ridiculous or extravagant to think it possible that some (if only two or three) of Sir John Franklin's companions, vigourous men who went out at the age of twenty-six, or twenty-eight, and would be now, as to their years of the age when men have but attained their complete ripeness and strength, may have taken refuge among the Esquimaux, as Dr. Kane declared that 'it required all his powers, moral and physical, to prevent his men from doing, when they also were placed in a critical position. Dr. Kane says of himself and his men, 'we regarded the coarse life of these people with eyes of envy, and did not doubt but that we could have lived in comfort upon their resources.' It is clearly possible, then, that at least one Englishman may still be living among the Esquimaux, parted by a vast and impassable tract or desert continent from the most northern settlements of his own countrymen, and to whom the sight of a deliverer would bring such joy as we who live all the year through among friends and in families, are utterly unable to immagine. We have already pointed out how the behaviour of the Esquimaux has led more than one Artic sailor to believe that they know somthing about Sir Sir John Franklin's crews, that they are indisposed to tell what they know, and that it needs time and tact to extract their knowledge from them. The space of ground within which it is now certain that Franklin's ships were lost, and probable that their disabled hulls are to be found, is of so limited extent that even on maps of a considerable size, it may be covered with shilling. To Cambridge Bay, on one side of the region a single sailing vessel has passed and returned home unscathed, its commander expressing his conviction that the passage is so constantly open that ships can navigate it without any difficulty in one season. To the other side of this region there is no choice of routes, and the point that would be reached by a vessel entering Peel Sound would, probably, be less than 200 miles distant from the limit of the area of search on the western side. From such a point the whole area could be explored easily and safely by the help of dogs.—Dickin's Household Words.

AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

It will be remembered that, a year ago, a Committee was appointed to consider and report upon the course of the Publishing Committee in reference to the slavery question. That Committee presented their report at this city, May 13, in the form of the resolutions that follow:

"Resolved, That in the judgment of your Committee, the political aspects of slavery lie entirely without the proper sphere of this Society, and cannot be discussed in its publications; but that those moral duties which grow out of the existence of slavery, as well as those moral evils and vices which it is known to promote, and which are condemned in Scripture, and so much deplored by evangelical Christians, undoubtedly do fall within the province of this Society, and can and ought to be discussed in a fraternal and Christian spirit.

"Resolved, That whatever considerations, in the past may have seemed to recommend to the Publishing Committee the course pursued in its revision of certain works, yet, in the future publication of books and tracts, no alteration or omission of the sentiments of any author should be made; but works not adapted to the design of the Society in their original form, or by a regular impartial abridgment, should be wholly omitted."

Those abolitionists, in different parts of the country, who have been looking and hoping for some substantial and tangible change in the course of the Tract Society, at this anniversary, will undoubtedly be disappointed unless they are misled by the ambiguous language of the resolutions, and by the announcement that they were adopted unanimously, to the entire satisfaction of the "anti-slavery men connected with the organization."—Radical Abolitionist.

☞ The following very important resolution was the seventh of the series passed at the meeting of the American Abolition Society, May 14th. We commend it to the Churches and Religious Societies of Canada:

7. That inasmuch as all just Government and righteous political action, must have their basis in the principles of morality and religion, we earnestly implore all religious teachers, churches, ecclesiastical bodies, and Missionary and publishing religious Societies and committees, not only to forbear all religious fellowship with slaveholders, and complicity with slaveholding, but in all suitable ways to bear testimony against that great national sin, as they would against all other great sins, and instruct the people in their duties to the oppressed, in accordance with the teachings of the Saviour, who said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

MORE BEGGING!

Border Baptist Free Mission Baptist Missionary at Chatham.

LOOKING FOR CLOTHES!!

(Concluded.)

We are glad to learn that the representations of Mr. Piper published in the American Baptist, do not meet the approbation of the most influential of his congregation. We hear an expression of unqualified disapprobation at this volunteer statement, and implication of Baptists in the business of begging themselves, and the hundreds here who are not of that persuasion. Only one person of all our population, and a Mr. Shadd, who has used our columns to oppose the clothes begging, has told us that it was right. The Reverend gentleman [illegible] from the fact that during preaching lately, he alluded not approvingly to the amount and gayety of dress by those same people whose children have not, to believe him, clothes to wear to school. Mr. Piper may have seen two ragged children in Chatham, but we doubt it very much; certainly not in the sense that white children are ragged in N. York and Philadelphia, not more of colored children in proportion than white children in Canada either—and the school children of all classes and people, go remarkably well dressed, for witness to which we have only to refer Elder Piper's pulpit testimony, and the frequent expressions, since here, by the members of his family to members of his church. Now, if these people are so poor, can the Reverend gentleman find conscience to ask of this wing of the colored baptists of Chatham, $200 dollars per annum to be added to the $500 his own members freely speak of, as his salary from abroad? How can the Rev. gentlemen find conscience to state that the majority of children are out of school, when he has publicly expressed disapprobation of so many being in the justly obnoxious exclusive government school; and when he knows there is already an excellent private school already in existence in Stringer's Buildings, wherein no distinction would be made, and where children can and do go the year around, and that in both schools they are abundantly clothed?

But why hoodwink Free Mission Baptists or the world not only in relation to colored Baptists here, but the people of all [illegible] and those of no church, for the "dimes" when like Judas' thirty pieces of silver they must stick to the conscience and sting? and by the way, how surprisingly little of the article conscience Missionaries to the colored people of Canada have had for the last twenty years.

Before he came, all parties here abouts, felt scandalized by the begging and protested publicly and otherwise, not only against old clothes, but new clothes, and against any almsgiving that compromised the manhood of the people—now we have the painful fact to record that for the first time, openly, Mr. J. C. Brown, so well known in public and private as having opposed begging—as having written against it—tells us that he is in favour of it. Will we would almost lose faith in humanity did we not remember that Mr. Brown's age and infirmities of mind and body should be his excuse. Sending for clothes in warm weather, too, is a novel idea and can only be explained by the fact that Mr. Piper is young in the business, and Brother Brown is very old!

Already are our fellow townsmen pointing to those duped by the beggars as waiting for clothes, instead of working for the same. Already is the fame of the entire community compromised because of this supposed hard-heartedness and cruel neglect to the poor around. Already are Canadian ministers and their flocks being regarded as wanting in common sympathy. These things can only be remedied by promptly rooting out the evil.

MISSIONARY EFFORTS AMONG COLORED NATIVES OF FOREIGN LANDS.

Methodists and Baptists.

We have a serious question to ask all the Teachers of Christianity in Canada. It is this "There being no Church of the living God in this Province, but what receives and sends Missionary efforts, at home or in foreign lands,—of what color or complexion are those who are in foreign lands and heathen thereof?" We ask this without having reference to the emigrants to our conquerors of these foreign lands, who are supposed to be of Saxon and European origin. We have reference solely and entirely to those who are natives, and are, as white Christians call them, (from the divine record) "without God in the world."

The merest tyro in such branches of geographical and historical learning, will tell that the color and complexion of these natives are not white, but black, and of shades of color varying, according to the country they inhabit. We are not aware, that there is one Mission, in this world to purely white native inhabitants of a foreign land who are "without God and without hope in this world."

To a stranger to this earth, if it can be imagined that such would be,—to one dropping down from the clouds amongst us, and putting into his hands, supposing too that he could read our language,—Clarkson's History of the accursed Slave Trade, or Goodell's Slavery and Anti-Slavery, with other books showing the facts and the actors of a professedly Christian people as to chattel Slavery,—and at the same time give him Newman's "History of Missions" with the recently published book, "Life Scenes from Mission Fields,"—the latter a book of "facts, incidents and results, the most material and remarkable in Missionary experience," by the Rev. E. D. Moore, (J. C. Lingee, Toronto,)—in such a case, with such a "stranger" as a judge, what is to be supposed would be his decision as to the Christian nations' proceedings regarding Slavery and Missions? He would undoubtedly be obliged to say,—that the Christians, as such, have been, and to a certain extent are, the vilest and most despicable hypocrites and pretenders under the sun! We defy a contradiction of the justness of this inference. Let page by page of the history of the United States be examined, comparing at the same time with the books we have referred to,—let the existing history of Spain Portugal and Holland, (as to their colonies) be similarly examined,—let the insulting conduct of churches, ministers of religion, and of laymen, (noted as conspicuously forward in these churches,) in the United States,—and alas! in Canada—in monarchical and free Canada—be patiently and truthfully reviewed, and grosser, greater, unchristian and inhumane, action and conduct in an enlightened age, cannot well be conceived, than the action towards the colored people of the American Continent!

"Missions to the Heathen" is a term commonly used with professing Christians, and the descendants of the same Heathen (?) amongst them, and who are trampled upon and denied the common rights of their white brethren, are passed by and neglected,—because these descendants are coloured people! And pray who are the "Heathen" so prominently put before us? Who are the inhabitants of Hindoostan, and its Eastern Peninsula,—of Himalaya vallies? of the Australian deserts and South Sea Islands? of the Tartaric countries? of Persia? of Turkey? of Egypt? of Africa? of China? of a Malayan and Siam'ese? of South America, and who are the "red men" and the "pagan chiefs" (so called) of North America? The curse of a just and an All-seeing Righteous Jehovah will assuredly rest, and terribly, upon the rulers of men, churches and ministers of the American Continent, (Canada included) who will deny to the descendants in America of the Indian and the African, the same rights, privileges, and franchises, which are now and have been extended to the ancestors and co-relatives of these people, in the foreign lands to which American and Canadian Missionaries are sent!

Already are our fellow townsmen pointing to those duped by the beggars as waiting for clothes, instead of working for the same. Already is the fame of the entire community compromised because of this supposed hard-heartedness and cruel neglect to the poor around. Already are Canadian ministers and their flocks being regarded as wanting in common sympathy. These things can only be remedied by promptly rooting out the evil.

Missionaries from the Southern States of the neighboring Republic, from the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist Churches, and by united societies of churches,—are at this very moment while we pen these remarks, teaching Christianity in "heathen lands," and also teaching all kinds of knowledge and of industry and social habits—to the colored people of these heathen lands—but the Christian ministers and laymen, who send these Missionaries forth, will not so act to and teach the natives and their descendants, of these Foreign lands, who reside in America and who have been reared amongst them! No, for these Masters and Laymen, will act the inhuman, ungodly and demoniac, by barring the preaching by even a foreign speaking tongue, and sell as a chattel—as a pig or a horse, both the babe and mother!! And this at the same time that they contribute money to send forth Missionaries under a Christian garb, to christianize the natives of the countries where the forefathers and mothers of that mother and babe, were stolen and abducted from, to be used as slaves, a cruel and undying fact for Christians! England's poet, Cowper, has justly stamped the transactor. "A Christian Brought-at was TRADE OF BLOOD!" and our fair and humane American authoress, Mrs. H. B. Stowe, has [illegible]

The Methodist Episcopal Church (north and south)—the Presbyterian Church (old School) and the Regular Baptists, are involved in the above gross and heathenish conduct. These three churches acknowledge and recognize Slavery? They, each of them, send such Missionaries as we have described, to foreign and heathen lands, to teach Christianity and civilized social habits to the colored natives of these lands,—while at the same time, their Books of Discipline and church government, in the United States, condemn the descendants of these natives, to abject chattel slavery! What more monstrous thing can be conceived than this,—what fact of historical hypocrisy towards civilized men and a just God can be "pitted" as equal to that!

Yes,—our readers, there is yet a thing more monstrous. As the schooled accessory with his previous knowledge, is worse than the thief, so is the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, as compared with the pro-slavery and heathenish church it fellowships with in the United States, the M. E. Church (north) which latter again has its fellowship with the M. E. Church (South). Till such time as the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada, renounces and gives up said fellowship, and also the circulating of the deceptive bi-monthly "Canada Sunday School Advocate" which is a reprint of the pro-slavery "Sunday School Advocate" of 200 Mulberry street, New York, of the M. E. Church (north) with its republican and treasonable articles,—copied, be it remembered, into the "Canada Sunday School Advocate,"—till such time as these practices are given up, we must continue to give a name and a character to the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada. Not only given up,—but a published statement also made to Canadians of the error, the sin, and the deception, and a recantation of the same. We hope that the laymen of this church will not allow the stigma to rest any longer, on their Wesleyan body, or on a church named after the pious man who declared slavery as the "sum of all villanies."

So again, is the Regular Baptists of Canada—for their monies go into the funds of Societies in the States, which are made up from "whole cloth" collections, and pro slavery support,—and the "fellowshipping processes" of the Northern Regular Baptists, with the Southern Regular Baptists, are well revealed in the small pamphlet published in England (and to be got at New York) titled "The shame and Glory of the American Baptists"—&c., by Rev. Edward Matthews—and in the valuable books "Facts for Baptist Churches". Mr. Matthews is a Free Mission Baptist, and now laboring, for the time, most beneficially and humanely, amongst Christian people in England, and may God speed his mission. We have some hopes, that the Regular Baptists of Canada, will see their errors, and give up every kind of fellowshipping with the Northern Regular Baptists,—till the latter reform, and "with a will" denounce Slavery and every approach to "chattel bondage," which that church has not yet done! The mockery of one small congregation, or a single church, which perhaps, may denounce Slavery, [illegible] hands of churches which do not, being [illegible] a good Canadian [illegible] deeply and most wasteful moment upon.

What does, to the benign and living Christian, would appear as a blessing or a curse on the exertions of the Wesleyan [illegible] Baptists in Canada? To a Christian in deed, to one who lives as understands God's purposes with a heart responding for the success of OUR SAVIOUR'S mission to man, THE CURSE OF GOD CANNOT OTHERWISE BUT BE ON such churches, who in Canada or in the United States, which recognize in their discipline, and in their fellowship, the holding, the buying, the selling of God's human brethren, whether "bond or free," black or white,—as both are embraced in American Slavery!—confirmed and fellowshipped by the said Wesleyan Methodist and Regular Baptists in Canada!!

THE [illegible] LANDS OF THE ROAD,

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

VIZ. ADDINGTON ROAD,

HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrell's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the County of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected one of road known as "Bell's line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opeongo Road in the Township of [illegible] for the [illegible] Lake, a point [illegible] from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory, and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

This road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Point; and thence by land some twenty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrick is situated.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the [illegible] part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaski, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement, within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska. The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashley, Effingham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of Kaladar, and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

THE HASTINGS ROAD.

Almost parrallel to the Addington Road, and at a distance West from it of about thirty-two miles is the Hastings Road. This Road begining at the northern part of the County of Hastings and running a distance of 74 miles, almost due north, also intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road, and its extensions.

The Government Agent, is Mr. M. P. Hayes, who resides at the Village of Hastings, lately called Madoc, about 20 miles north of the Town of Belleville. The Road between these places is in good order—the land to be granted by the Crown under the Agency extends from 15 to 70 miles north of the Village of Hastings. The Road through this large extent of land is passable for 40 miles, and money is now being expended to extend it 30 miles further, so that Settlers can get in and out without difficulty, and find a good market for surplus produce, as well as convenient facilities for buying in whatever supplies they may require—abundance of which can be had at the Village of Hastings, where the Government Agent resides.

The direct way to reach this Section, which is easily accessible, is by Kingston, Canada West, thence by Steamboat up the Bay of Quinte to Belleville 56 miles—and thence by a good Road to Hastings, 28 miles.

In order to facilitate the Settlement of the County and provide for keeping it repair the Roads thus opened, the Government has authorized Free Grants of Land along the same Roads, not to exceed in each case One Hundred Acres, upon application to the Local Agents, and upon the following.

CONDITIONS:

That the Settler be eighteen years of age.

That he take possession of the Land allotted to him within one month, and put in a state of cultivation at least twelve acres of the land in the course of four years—build a house (at least 20 by 18 feet) and reside on the lot until the conditions of settlement are duly performed; after which accomplishment only shall the settler have the right of obtaining a title to the property. Families comprising several settlers entitled to lands preferring to reside on a single lot, will be exempted from the obligation of building and of residence, (except upon the lot on which they live) provided that the required clearing of the [illegible] made on each lot. The non-accomplishment of these conditions will cause the immediate loss of the assigned lot of land, which will be sold or [illegible] other.

The road having been opened by the Government [illegible] required to keep it in repair.

The Local Agents, whose names and place of abode have already been given, will furnish every information to the intending Settler.

The Log-house required by the Government to be built is of such a description as can be put up in four days by five men. The neighbors generally help to build the Log-cabin for newly arrived Settlers, without charge, and when this is done the cost of the erection is small; the roof can be covered with bark, and the spaces between the logs plastered with clay, and whitewashed. It then becomes a neat dwelling, and warm as a stone house.

The Lands thus opened up and offered for settlement are in sections of Canada West, capable as both to soil as climate of producing abundant crops of winter wheat of excellent quality and full weight, and also crop of every other description of farm produce grown in the best and longest cultivated districts of that portion of the Province, and fully as good.

There are, of course, in such a large extent of country as that referred to, great varieties in the character and quality of land—some lots being much superior to others but there is an abundance of good land for farming purposes.

Water for domestic use is every where abundant; and there are throughout, numerous streams and falls of water, capable of being used for Manufacturing purposes.

The heavy timber land is almost always the best and of it, the ashes of three trees—well taken care of and covered from wet,—will produce a Barrel of Potash, worth from £6 to £7 currency. The capital required to manufacture Potash is very small, and the process is very simple and easily understood.

The expense of clearing and enclosing heavily timbered lands, valuing the labor of the settler at the highest rate, is about FOUR POUNES Currency per Acre, which the first Wheat crop, if an average one, will nearly repay. The very best timber for fencing can be had in abundance. A Settler on these lands, possessing a capital of from £25 to £50, according to the number of his family, will soon make himself comfortable, and obtain a rapid return for his investment. The single man, able and willing to work, needs little capital, besides his own arm and axe—he can devote a portion of the year to clearing his land, and in the numerous lumbering establishments, he can, at other seasons, obtain a liberal remuneration for his labor.

The Sections of Country opened by these roads lie in and to the Southern part of the Great Ottawa Region, stretching from and beyond them to the shores of Lake Huron, Lake Nipissing, and to the Ottawa River—an immense extent of country whose resources are now seeking and will rapidly obtain development.

The Ottawa Country, lying south of Lake Nepissing and of the great River Ottawa, and embracing a large portion of the land offered for settlement, is capable of sustaining a population of Eight Millions of People and it is now attracting general attention, as the more western portions of Canada are being more filled up.

☞ We clip the following from the proceedings of the Council Meeting, on May 30., for this Town.

Mr. McKellar moved the second reading of a By-Law to impose a license on Billiard, Bagatelle and other tables, and ball alleys. The Council in committee of the whole Mr. McCrae in the chair. The By-Law was read a third time and carried.

It was then moved by Mr. Ireland, that the sum of £10 be granted to defray the expenses incurred by Union, Co. No 2. in giving a dinner on the 25th, Carried.

The sum of £5 was given to Mr. Chrysler for charitable purposes.

The Mayor then read the result of the two days polling upon the appropriation of the £1000. It was as follows; against the appropriation 274 for it 10.

Mr. McKellar stated that if he was satisfied that the majority of all those parties who have votes in Town, woae against him, he would on next Friday evening resign.

☞ Town of Chatham and the County of Kent, can afford to keep up and sustain two Conservative Journals, the Planet and the Provincial Freeman, we see no good reason why the Reformers of the same localities, being by far the greater number may not sustain two Reform Journals.

PROGRESS OF ELIHU BURRITT.

We find the following notice of Mr. Burritt in the Port Gibson (Mississippi) Herald. It is a good specimen of the fate of compromisers in moral questions. When the North has been converted to Mr. Burritt's doctrine, and has made his proposition to the South, and has received in reply the statement made below to Mr. Burritt—what is the next step?—Liberator.

☞ Elihu Burritt, the learned blacksmith is lecturing at the North upon his favorite hobby—a proposition to get rid of Slavery by purchasing the entire mass of it with funds from the national treasury. The money he proposes to raise by sale of the public lands—putting his hands into our pockets for a share of the funds with which to purchase our own property. He estimates the number of slaves at three and a half millions, and values them at only $200 per head; and yet this makes the pretty little sum of $700 000,000. But suppose we reckon the number at 4 000 000 and value them at $300 each, including young and old, halt, &c., which is perhaps about a fair estimate, and we have the sum of $2,000 000,000 invested in this species of property—at least four times the value of all the public lands belonging to the United States. Taking simply one dollar and cent view of the question we should say if Burritt is a learned mad, much learning has made him mad; but his facts and figures, rather warrant the conclusion that he is as much of an idiot as a maniac, and more knave than either.

SUPPOSED INFANTICIDE.—On Monday of last week a farmer named Gilbert Matheson, found in a meadow of the fence a short distance from his dwelling house, the dead body of a newly born infant tied up in a pillow case, covered over with some old rags. Mr. Matheson had removed to his present premises only about three weeks previously, and on finding the dead body on Saturday last, informed Coroner Dr. Scott, who summoned a jury to investigate the matter. A protracted inquest ensued, till Saturday night last, when they agreed upon a verdict that the child found had been born alive, and that foul means had been resorted to, in order to accomplish its death, and from the evidence adduced before it, against the Jury were strongly of opinion that one of the witnesses Isabella Cameron was the mother of the child.—Woodstock Sentinel.

The Montreal Pilot, states, the General Eyre was nearly drowned on Sunday, the 16th inst., at Isorel, where he is at present staying. It appears that he was out boating in the "Richelieu" with his secretary, Major Robinson, and while engaged in paddling, the boat gave a lurch, pitching him head first into the water, but by the exertions of Major Robinson he was saved from drowning. There was great excitment, the news having spread that the General was in the water, and in a short time the bank was crowded with people.

ENGLAND'S NAVAL SUPERIORITY.

This country ought never to become a great naval power, and ought to renounce all ambition to vie with England for the mastery of the seas. To maintain such a force as would be required to dispute with her the control of the Mexican Gulf alone, would send millions of American laborer's children supperless to bed; and we do not think the prize worth the cost. No; let us open lines of communication across the continent of our own soil; first, a wagon road, swiftly followed by telegraph line, and then let us put thro' a first class railroad; to be followed, in due season, by another and another,—then let the Panama, Nicaragua, Tehuantepec and Honduras routes, with as many more as speculation may devise, be improved and used by those who have a taste for such enterprises—our own people or others. We only insist that not a dollar shall be taken from the Treasury of the United States to buy or conquer routes from sea to sea through foreign countries, until we shall have improved at least one of the routes through territory all our own.—N. Y. Times.

British news unimportant.

FRANCE.

Telegraph despatches received from Paris 18th, state that the King of Barbaria arrived at Fontainbleau on Sunday evening.

The Paris correspondent of the Times in a letter dated Sunday evening, says the Moniteur publishes a despatch from Constantinople of the 16th, announcing that the treaty of peace between Great Britain and Persia was ratified at Teheran on the 14th of April, and was despatched to Bagdad on the 17th of April.

Accounts from Agricultural districts concur in describing the appearance of the growing crops as magnificent.—Wheat and flour are declining in nearly all the French markets. The reports are extremely favorable as to Wheat.—Rye has been injured in some places from dry and cold weather. The meadows and oats require rain, but in both north and south an abundant harvest is promised. The uneasiness respecting the vintage has entirely ceased but holders remain firm.

PRUSSIA.

The marriage of the Prince of P[illegible] with the Princess Royal of England is [illegible] popular, and the question of a public demonstration is already under consideration.

The Gazette of last evening contains the announcement on this subject, in terms as follows:—"At the Court at Osborne House, the 16th day of May, present, the Queen's most Gracious Majesty in Council, was very much pleased to declare her consent to a contract of matrimony between His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William, of Prussia, which consent their Majesties has also caused to be signified under the great seal.

SLAVERY IN MISSOURI

A census of the State of Missouri, which has just been taken, shows a total of 901,835, divided as follows: Free whites 819,593, free blacks, 2,602; slaves, 87,599. Increase of white population in six years, 224,453; or over 28 per cent.—Increase of slaves 14,823, or a fraction over two per cent. Two counties return no slaves; twenty counties report only 10; the largest number only 96, and the lowest having 8 [illegible] dent of Missouri is 67,000 square miles and that of Ohio 40,000 miles, and yet Missouri, with so much larger extent of territory, has less than half the population of Ohio.

These facts denote a state of things anything but favorable to the prospects of the Missouri slavery propagandists. While endeavoring to extend that institution into Kansas, free labor is slowly undermining them in their own State, showing a preponderance for free labor that must soon assert itself.

The St. Louis Intelligence, referring to these facts, declares that "slavery will soon cease to exist in Missouri;" that "the lines is irrevocably," that this institution "will not be abolished," but that "it will disappear" that "it is going now;" that "it is waning in Missouri, and to be waning is to be dead."

The same causes which are at work in Missouri are also operating in Kentucky. We must hope tremblingly—but it is not unpossible that both these States will, in due time, purge themselves of the pollutions of Slavery, and aid in swelling the chorus of Liberty. God speed the day.—Radical Abolitionist.

THE SURRENDER OF FILLIBUSTER WALKER

The New York papers of Friday morning are filled with particulars of the last days of Walker in Nicaragua. It seems that before he succumbed, promises of succor from all quarters had failed—from Col. Lockridge California, and the United States. Capt. Davis, of the U. S. sloop-of-war St. Cary's offered to mediate, which Walker at first declined, but at last upon a threat by the American commander to take the only vessel belonging to Walker, the Granada, by force, he gave way. A San Juan writer of the Times says:

"The fact that only 80 of Walker's men remained sick at Rivas at the capitulation shows that at least 100 must have died within a few days from neglect and starvation, as the number, when Walker commenced to eat dogs and mule meat amounted to 170 When Gen. Canas entered the hospital he he was perfectly horror struck with the destitution and misery of the sufferers."

The Costa Ricans were extremely averse to letting off either Walkie or Gen Henningsen, and especially the desired the head of Walker, but at last they consented to let him go.

The Times correspondet says:

"Those who have any sympathy for Gen. Walker in his fall, unless they are lost to even the common sentiments of humanity, will have their sympathy somewhat modified in becoming acquainted with the following facts, which I have from a high official source, a gentleman who cannot be mistaken in what he relates:—On the 30th day of May, while Gen. Walke, without the knowledge of his men, was negotiating his capitulation, knowing that he was to surrender the next day, one of his soldiers, contrary to a general order, went outside of his lines. He shortly after returned, he having only gone out to get a bottle of aguadiente. Walker called him up, when he acknowledged his fault and prayed for forgiveness. 'If you have any message to send to your friends,' said Walker, in his mild, but sarcastic way, 'you had better prepare it' for at sundown you die.' Punctually at sunset a platoon of soldiers was drawn up for the execution, and just as the order was given to to fire, the soldier appealed to his comrades: 'Boys, you wouldn't shoot a fellow-soldier for such a thing as that, would you?' They raised their rifles and fired over his head The poor fellow broke and ran, when he was brought to his knees by Lieut. Col Rogers, an Englishman, who figures in the list I send you. With a pistol shot Stepping up to the [illegible] while in this position' Rogers placed his [illegible] at his forehead and blew out his brains."

After the capitulation Walker behaved with great impertinence, and showed a disposition, after reaching Aspinwall, to remain in the country, but the American commander then placed a guard over him until the steamer left Walker theatening that it should cost him his commission.—Boston Traveller.

The concession of the Pacific Islands to England by New Granada to satisfy claims of British capitalist, has produced much sensation in Washington as the United States Government were anxious to get those very Islands for naval stations.—Chronicle.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. The Post always has been as it now is to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human life and its relations. To satisfy these demands, a certain portion of the Post is devoted to a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. Southworth author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—Illustrative of important passages and incidents of the day—the new fashions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 25 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

Additions to Clubs.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A New Arrangement.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

JOHN MURPHY

Toronto Dec. 23 '854

(New Notice—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this Appeal to Canadians!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies of the Societies and Religious bodies in the United States, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by corporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as Pro-Slavery or Silent, and some (if not all) formed specially on a Republican Basis, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c. have been stained as it were (since religious change, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a Free and a British Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore appeal to all Laymen in Canada,—to all men and women of Humanity who are opposed to the sin and curse of Slavery, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia and American and 1st Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York.—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 18 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

FACTS FOR BAPTIST CHURCHES.

COLLECTED, arranged, and reviewed by Revds. A. T. Foss and E. Mathews. [Free Mission Baptists,] pp. 408—Utica, N. Y. Published by the American Baptist Free Mission Society—[with portrait.]

"This is a book which no Baptist in Canada, —lay or clerical.—should be with out. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. The "Free Will Baptists" and "Free Mission Baptists" are exempted from that charge, as they openly denounce slavery and receive not its bloody gains."—J. J. E. L.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A DAISY POPE.

Subsequently there was a Pope Agapetus, who dying, a left young son a lad named Octavin. This precious individual had influence or daring enough to procure his own election to the Pontifical throne when he was only eighteen years of age. He then assumed the name of John XII., and was the first who changed his name on being crowned with the tiara. He was fond of military expeditions; but mistakeng inclination for inspiration or strategical knowledge, he suffered ignominous defeat—and yet would not allow that he was an unskilful commander. He placed the imperial crown on the head of Otho 1. the first German prince who thus recived that much coveted and uneasy diadem. This illustrious couple speedily became deadly enemies, and Otho determind to depose the Pontiff. The latter was terribly iniquitous; and there was no lack of bishops and cardinals in the unperial interest to hear testimony against him. One told how he had made the gay widow Rainera governor of a city and endowed her with ornaments that belonged to the church, and gold that was intended for the poor. Another point'd out the shameless presence of very lightly-clad damsels in the very Lateran Palce. "Honest widows with fair faces," said a third "dare not come to Rome and visit the tombs of the faithful, because of him." Cardinal Bishop Peter solemnly declared that he had seen John celebrate Mass without having communicated. A bishop and a cardinal agreed in desposihg that they had beheld him in the act of ordaining a deacon in a stable. "I know;" said Deacon Benedict. "that he has ordained many a one for money." "He made a child, ten years old, Bishope of Todi," cried another. Others deposed that he was found hunting, still fonder of wine and very fond of drinking to the health of the devil!—that he was cruel in his cups, never said Matins never made the sign of the cross, and could not even play dice without ejaculating now and then "by Jupiter," or other oaths made in the name of Pagan divinity. The Synod imperially invoked to try John pronunced him "Guilty" and declared him deposed. When intimation was conveyed to him that a new election the Papal authority was about to be opened, he answered, that he flung his excommunication at all concerned in such a proceeding, and that was sufficient to render the threatened proceeding nugatory. The Chevalier Artaud de Montor says that he was legitimate'y Pope, and in this exercised an indisputable rihgt! However this may be. John was deposed, and Leo 8th elected in his place A. D. 963.—Monarchs Retired from Business: By Dr. Doran.

HEALTH OF EMPLOYMENTS.

The following table, recently prepared by order of the Legislature of Massachusetts, is very instructive—showing as it does the comparative healthfulness of various employments, by a statistical statement of the average ages which those that follow them attain to :

Agriculturatists	63.93	Manufacturers	43.28
Bakers	43.45	Masons	47.78
Bank Officers	63 75	Mechanics	48.45
Blacksmiths	51.44	Merchants	51.71
Butchers	50.00	Musicians	36.86
Calico-printers	51.33	Operatives	32.93
Carpenters	49.39	Painters	42.68
Clerks	34.36	Physicians	54.94
Clergymen	55.72	Printers	38.00
Coopers	58.37	Public Officers	56.87
Editors	40.00	Rope Makers	54 50
Gentlemen	68 19	Shipwrights	55 27
Hatters	54 27	Shoemakers	43.12
Judges & Justices	65.00	Tailors	41.35
Lawyers	54 43	Teachers	34 46
Machinists	36.41	Traders	46.35

It will be noticed that those who pursue the pleasing avocation of living "Gentlemen," attain to the greatest age, being an average of over 68 years. Then come the Judges and Justices, 65 years. Then the Agriculturists and Bank Officers nearly 64 years. The Lawyers and Physicians live 54 years—and the Merchants only 51. Of the above classes, it is doubtless partly the mental anxieties and excitements to which the Merchants, Lawyers and Physicians are subjected, which shorten the average of their lives. They also do not live as regularly, do not take their sleep and meals as leisurely and methodically as the "Gentleman," the Judges and the Bank Officers and Merchants—they are anxious as to their situations, and a life at the desk is not of itself a healthy one.

Editors only live, on the average to forty. Poor fellows! who can wonder at it? Their means of living generally are precarious, and they are expected to do up the larger portion of the complaining and quarreling of the community. Does any grieve, and if they are not grieved? Forty years of such harrassing, temptuous life—spent in keeping the rulers of the world in the straight and narrow path, to say nothing of the people, and an occasional tilt with the editor of a rival paper! is generally enough to consume the vital energies of the strongest and most hopeful.

The Clergymen, it seems, live to fifty-five. Editors belong to the church militant, the Clergy, very generally, to the church triumphant. This gives them fifteen years more of life—though they fall short of the "Gentlemen" nearly as much as the Editors fall short of them.

Of the trades, Coopering seems to be the healthiest, 58 years; while the Hatters and Ropemakers live 54 years, and the Butchers 50—showing that the last name is not, as some have termed it, a "killing occupation." The poor Printers are down near the tail of the list, being two years worse off than the editors, reaching only thirty eight years. The Musicians blow their breath of life away at about 40—and the Machinists sacrifice their human machines as victims to the brass and iron steam-gods of this money-loving generation at 36.

The Teachers are the lowest in the list—teaching children being even a more worrying business than teaching men; while the wages are even smaller. Poor fellows, they die on an average at 44—to the great gain often of their assistants, who each take a step higher. Swedenborg says that all the children that die early in this world, have to be taught in schools in the next.—If this be so, we hope the teachers' wages nae better, and the little urchins not quite so unmanageable.

HARD UP FOR A HERO.

General Walker, as the telegraph informed us on Saturday, and as the New York papers of Friday give us full accounts, landed at New Orleans, and was received with considerable marks of favor. Speaking of the scene, the New York Tribune does itself much credit by saying that "General William Walker capitulated on the 1st instant, with all his forces, to Captain Davis, of the United States ship of war St. Marys, by whom he was brought to Panama, where, we are told, he was held a close prisoner by the Commodore. The next thing we hear of him he arrives at New Orleans in the Empire City, not as a prisoner of war, nor as a fugitive from justice, nor as a person held to answer for piracy, robbery and murder committed abroad against citizens of the United States, but as a passenger; and on his arrival he would seem to have been received and welcomed by crowds as a patriot and a hero. That crowds should flock to see Walker, just as every great criminal always draws a crowd in his train, we can well understand; but that anybody should have for him any admiration or respect, or should view him in any other light than that of a poor creature as destitute of ability as he is of honesty or humanity, we cannot very well understand."

The American papers devote a great deal of their space to a history of his achievements; but the Tribune, from which we have quoted, says that beyond murders, plunder and villainy, there is little else to chronicle in his history. He will, however, be a vulgar hero for a day; and then will settle down as a pound keeper, or a killer of rabid dogs at the usual price of twenty-five cents a head.—Golonist.

Hen Persuaders.—The Springfield Republican in speaking of a new invention for a hen's nest, whereby the eggs drop through a trap-door, and it deceives the hen that she keeps on laying, is responsible for the following:

"Blobbs met with a loss, however, with one of the persuaders. Blobbs had a lovely young Shanghaie pullet, of boundless ambition. Blobbs bought a persuader, and his lovely Shanghaie used it. She went upon the nest in the morning. Blobbs saw her go, and his heart bounded within him! Alas! he never saw her come off again. At night he visited the persuader. In the upper compartment was a handful of feathers, a few toe nails, and a bill. In the lower compartment were three dozen and eleven eggs! Blobbs saw it all! Her delicate constitution had been to unequal too the effort, and fired by young ambition, she had laid herself away."

Editing a Paper.—The majority of readers seem to think that nothing can be more easy or pleasnt, than to edit a paper; but of all difficult employments by which men make their bread and butter, there is none we firmly believe that so taxes the mind, temper, and flesh, as that of editing a paper. There is none that requires a nicer tact, a sounder judgment, a more constant application, a quicker wit, or a kinder heart. A churlish temper could never succeed as an editor; nor a narrow-minded men, nor an ignorant one, nor a hasty one, nor unforgiving one. An editor must of necessity turn himself inside out to the public. He cannot be a hypocrite any more than a husband could be a hypocrite to his wife. He must expose himself in all that he does, as much in selecting the thoughts of others, as in publishing his own, and, therefore, the better way for him in the outset is to begin frankly, to save himself from after contradictions and mortification.—Whoever succeeds tolerably well as an editor, is something more than an ordinary man, let his cotemporaries think of him as they will.

New Counterfeits.—The Free Press of yesterday says the Bank of British North America's bills are being tampered with—the $1's altered to $2's. Counterfeits well executed are traced on the Kingston, Toronto and other branches.

SCHOOL FOR ALL!!

The School taught by Mrs. Amelia Freeman Shadd, is still in operation in Stringer's Buildings, wherein young people o both sexes are instructed thoroughly in the primary and higher branches necessary to a good practical English Education, at moderate charges, to those able to pay. Music, Drawing, Painting, are also taught, on most reasonable terms.

Mrs. Shadd will afford Educational facilities, gratis, to the children of poor widows and other respectable, but destitute persons, really needing such aid, and to that end, competent assistance will be obtained. The enterprise is praiseworthy, and will, we sincerely hope, enlist public attention, as the tact and qualifications of the principal, peculiarly fit her for the management of such a school; and an institution wherein those least cared for can have ample instruction side by side with those able to pay, must meet with general approval. No complexional distinctions will be made.—M. A. S. C.

SATAN'S SMILES—"REVIVALS" AND SLANERY.

It is with no irreverent inclination that we title this brief article as "Satan's Smiles." We came from a land of "Revivals" and of the Bible,—from the most foremost of nations as to Education, and we trust a land as much renowned for its "patriotism" and liberality, as for Bible knowledge and discipline. May the land which gave birth to a Wallace, a Bruce and a Douglass, ever be classed as one "where freedom has a dwelling!" But to the cause of the title.—We weekly observe notices of "Revivals," in various churches and congregations in the United States. We also notice a "groaning" article (we must be truthful in our terms) occasionally in our Canadian religious periodicals, of an imprecatory kind, that such revivals should be in Canada. We ask, do these churches which so "cry aloud," in Canada, know the position they are in, as to the Slavery question? They will,—their editors we mean and correspondents as well,—likely point to various references in their "religious periodicals" as to Slavery, and though short, as they seem all to be, yet express a kind of horror at the trade and traffic. But do they look farther.—No.—If they did, and searched such perodicals from their commencement, and their church records also, they would not find any article against fellowshipping with pro-slavery bodies of the United States.—No.—Slavery is one thing and "crying out" in a pungent and a sincere style against perpetuating the sin of Slavery is another.

It does seem strange to a sincere observer, that the "woes" of slavery embrace but a small share of the space of any of our religious papers; and that is, when a comment of any kind is made. How seldom that is done, in a land and Continent where the horrors of chattel slavery exist, must be apparent to every one who reads a religious paper. It would seem that as if Christianity and the profession of it, had but little to do with that sin. This is sad.

If the same earnestness were shown against slavery, and its perpetuation as appears against intemperance, dancing, use of tobacco, and a host of other things, which we see in columns upon columns of printed matter filling up religious periodicals,—some more indelible mark would be made against that "prince" of sins,—chattel slavery. No, the greatest readiness is betrayed to have Missions to the heathen,—who are colored people,—but the claims of the colored people, in the lands from which Missionaries go, are not vividly put before a Christian people. There must be a reason for this. A call for a "Revival will occupy much attention, but a Revival of heart-feeling" on behalf of the despised African, is but seldom encouraged.

Can the ears of Jehovah in His great compassion, be bent to listen to the prayers of a people, amongst whom exist without the protest or remonstrance,—plans for enslaving their fellow men? We read in the public press, day by day, accounts of the fitting out of Slavers in the land of the revivalists,—in that land hell out to us in some of our Canadian papers, as an example for "revivals!"

There in that land of revivalism, we read such as this—(May 11, 1857)—"Early this spring three men of color actuated by the love of liberty, made an attempt to get to the country where the sable sons of Africa are regarded as men, but they were seen and pursued by five men (one a member of the Baptist Church at Vienna, two members of the Christian or Campbellite church (Baptists) and two others, and finally captured and taken to Louisville—for which valiant deed their oppressors received the sum of $450. One of these poor oppressed creatures was an old grey-haired man, who was thus taken and sent back to perpetual bondage for no other crime than a desire to enjoy the blessings of liberty for which his fathers fought, and which they declared to be the inalienable rights of all. This wicked deed, done by professed Christians is but an example of the spirit which still prevails in many parts of this State." (Indiana)—Am. Baptist N. Y. Slavery must be viewed by many in "that land of revivals," as a very innocent thing. The other day we saw the names of several Divines, at New York, who had withdrawn from the Young Men's Christian Association there—and as the subject of other member also seceded from the association on same grounds. A "land of revivals",—style such, a "land of Satan's smiles.

Again we read—"Recent intelligence states that the slave trade in Cuba has been revived with all its former violence. Hardly a day passes without we hear of a vessel being despatched to the Coast, and it is to be regretted that the Americans are the most willing to engage in the prohibited traffic. Several fine vessels have been purchased quite recently, and left New York ports for parts unknown,—certain New York merchants are large shareholders in this kind of speculation,—doubtless some of the principal fortunes in New York at this present time, owe their origin to a successful venture in the African trade. New Orleans has also furnished a goodly number of fast sailing schooners and brigs, the most of which were despatched there for lawful trade on the Coast, but are now believed to have gone on some other errand." Also the Alta California of 20th April, states "that a bill was introduced into the assembly for admitting the testimony of Indians, Negroes and Asiatics, in judicial proceedings where whites are concerned, but was defeated by a strong negative vote!" But this is in the Land of "revivals," for we see in Canada papers the revivals in California referred to! Sheer hypocrisy,—for if the professed Christians in all the United States, north and south, would purify their churches, and expel Slavery and Slavery fellowship, from within, them honest people might look favorably on a reference to "revivals;"—but where that iniquity is kept within the church, and countenanced by ministers of religion, the "revivals" with such honest people cannot otherwise be looked upon, but as "Satan's Smiles!"

See in the land of the Turk, the readiness of compliance with a demand for justice. In the European news per Ocean Steamer, May 18, we notice that "letters from Smyrna state that a ship belonging to Tripoli, with 45 slaves on board, had been seized at Tchesme, on demand of the British Consul General—and the Municipal Council of Smyrna had given orders to have the slaves set at liberty." This is in Turkey. Yet we admit that in Massachusetts, and other States (north) we find noble declarations against Slavery; but such are of little avail, where, in the aggregate, the prime sin and iniquity is nursed in the churches and amongst professing Christians and so long as such exists, the Indian, African and Asiatic, and their descendants, will look in vain for a recognizing of the claims of common humanity. But there are "revivals" in the States, north and south western and Pacific, and because such are recorded in the journals of the day, they must be acknowledged as of divine origin! And our Canadian Wesleyan Methodist, Baptist, Congregationalist, and Methodist Episcopal also, must put the records of such before us, and continually by their fulsomeness, pollute a Canadian atmosphere, by calling on Canadians to follow the example! "From all such may the good Lord deliver us," should be in Canada the earnest pray of every truthful follower of Jesus.

Another taken from the land of "revivals" we here add—"(May 1857) A man in Pulaski county, in the state of Kentucky a few days since, whipped his slave to such an extent that he died. He punished him six mornings in succession, and on the seventh the slave died. The negro desired to see his wife, who was owned by, and lived with another party. The master refused permission. The negro disobeyed and visited his wife in the evening, returning early next morning. For this the unfortunate man was whipped to death. The brute who committed the inhuman act made his escape." But we could fill volumes from our exchange papers, and other authorities, as to the atrocity of Slavery and its manngement, and of its brutality and inhumanity. Do the churches in the United States rise in their might, and frown the system of iniquity out of their pale and bounds? NO! "The American Churches are the bulwarks of Slavery." (Birney)

To the consciences of the Wesleyan, Regular Baptist, Episcopal Methodist—and of the Congregationalist, in Canada, we appeal, and ask of them,—is it right that any system or process of fellowshipping with pro-slavery, silent and dumb religious bodies, of the United States, should be encouraged and tolerated by you, in Canada, when a gross iniquity as chattel slavery stares you in the face? Is it right that you should evade the rights and humanities of the colored people in Canada? And if you deny this, on any occasion, be sure to produce proof of some satisfactory kind, that your respective bodies have all along been free from the fellowship alluded to, and that you have condemned the same in the pulpit, and out of the same—and that your religious periodicals show a similar testimony. But this is vanity. Ans. that we are are compelled to write so.

In conclusion we beg to refer our enquiring and thinking readers to the May number of the "Canadian Presbyter" for a good article on "Revivals," which has come under our notice as we are concluding this paper,—and there are occasionally, very earnest and solid thoughts to be found in the Evangelical Witness of London, C. W., a publication worthy of the New Connexion Methodists of Canada.

OUT CANVASSING.

Messrs. I. D. Shadd & H. F. Douglass both of this office, will visit many of the towns and cities in Western and Eastern Canada, immediately, for the purpose of promoting the interest and prospects of this paper, and the cause of humanity generally. Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

PRODIGIOUS.—The Rev. Thos. L. Davidson, of the Regular pro-slavery Baptists, at Brantford C. MESSRS EDITOR:—

Having in an article written for your journal somotime since, made inquiries into the causes why so few of the colored portion of Her Majesty's subjects were at present taking advantage of the enticements afforded by the institutions of learning in this our Canada, and receiving no reply to my inquisitive, but I hope pertinent questions, I beg to lay before the minds of your readers a few of the many thoughts, that have crowded through my mind on the important matter of enligthning the minds of a mass of this community.

Whilst I write perhaps some youthful mind is pondering how to commence the undertaking; to such, and I hope there are many of the kind, allow me to address myself in a manner, which I hope they will duly appreciate, as coming from one who has their case at heart. If you, pondering youth, have acquired any bad habits, you must begin by laying them all aside, I mean by bad habits, such evils, as, are countenanced in fashionable society, for instance "smoking" "chewing," card playing in all its forms and dancing, the latter two particularly, as any one, who follows these vices up, need no more expect to make true men and women of themselves, than to look for "Figs of thistles."

Cast away all such heathen

Gods, all such suicidal practices murderers of both body and soul; then having put on with Divine help a breast plate of steel, press forward towards that great prize, your moral redepmtion

Once having taking in hand to cultivate the intellect look not behind, sigh not for the flesh pots of Egypt," neither manifest any such symptoms, by reading the romantic trash with which our young country is fast being flooded, as it can never help to form ideas, but on the contrary, is well suited to poison every young mind and totaly unfit one for any high mental action, such works may be esteemed by Yankee ladies, but should not be suffered to remain one moment in the hands of Canadians, just think of people living in a country, where the y are physically free and making themselves slaves to any of the afore named vices.

Your time is precious, every moment should be carefully hoarded, as a miser hoards his specie, but unlike that article, these ornaments should be used in a wise manner, if you desire the result to be felt, as it should be and has been in many past instances. How many of the languages have been studied, how many of the sciences acquired to a greater or lesser extent through the medium of what might have been considered leisure moments, by your Franklin's, Clarkes Burrits, and many others! What has once been done may be done again. Strive then to do likewise.

Chose as a foundation for your studies treaties on mathematics, with this solid basis to begin with and having a determination to keep your foot on the first round of the ladder till you have strength to attempt another there by saving yourself the mortification of slipping backward, pry into the hidden beauties of learning with the staff of arquisition. Thus equipped and with the Bible for your guide, go forward with ploding patience toward the object you wish to attain; stand to yor purpose with the steadiness exemplified by the planets in their orbits and my word you will succeed.

ALONZO PRY.

"Dr. BARKER'S VIEW OF KENT" AND CHATHAM.

* * * "The wheat crop looks well, and there seems a great breadth sown; but an intelligent farmer at Chatham tells me, that he fears a failurie, on account of the back wardness of the season; for says he, "if we cannot take off the crop before the 15th of July, the wheat is sure to suffer from rust, caused by the 'fogs of that time!" What an admission!! And then, the unhealthiness of the climate. "Fever and Ague, Remittant and other low fevers, are the constant inmates of every man's domicile;" things that we occasionally hear of in Eastern Canada. Why, therefore, should the raving to go West exist? There is nothing here equal to what we have at home—neither good schools, good society, good roads, or good health; and yet there is the continual craving for it. Well, we must bide our time—and when this section of the Province gets filled up, and immigrants can not go to the rocky shores of Lakes Huron and Superior, they will begin to turn their attention eastward, and find out, too late for the safety of their pockets, that they have passed by and despised better and cheaper lands than they have come to come to occupy.

* * * * * *

Chatham is a lively and stirring town, of five or six thousand souls. "It was at one time cursed with a black population," but the colored race is decreasing rapidly and will soon be no more troublesome than those in the more eastern cities.—Slavery is doubtless a great crime and a great evil, but keep negroes away from Canada, say I. They are unfited for this cold climate; the people generally are unfriendly to them: and for their own happiness they should not be encouraged to emigrate hither. Or if brought here by aboltionists and other fanatics, the same people should be induced or compelled to assist in their emigration to countires farther south, more congenial to their indolent habits and dispositions.

To which the Planet of this town replied.

Then the truthful Doctor dilates upon the unhealthiness our climate, a finer than which is not in British America or any of the Northern States. That "fever and ague, remittant, and other low fevers, are the constant inmates of every man's domicile," a libel of the grosses and foulest nature, the object of which it is wholly impossible for us to perceive.—It is passing strange if sickness is so provaleut in Kent and Chatham how it remains so remarkably healthy!! When the country was without clearings, drains or improvements as in all new countries fevers were of somewhat common occurrence; but we will gurantee to say that now and for the past six or eight years, Chatham and the surrounding country will bear comparison, in reference to health, with even the egotistical Doctor's own beloved Kingston.

* * * * *

"How like a Briton the Doctor talks about the "colored race," how philanthropic he is, and how he compliments them! We almost wonder that, as the Doctor was on his way to St. Louis, that he did not endeavour to kidnap a few "healthy, fat fellows," and thus "assist in their emigration to countries further South!" He might have made a handsome "speck" out of it, seeing that "money is very tight here" The Doctor like his friend "Mitchell," probably would not object to a large plantation well stocked with negroes, in Alabama" The Doctor too, is, a charmingly consistent man: he abhors slavery; but "keep free negroes away from Canada" says this large hearted and loyal Editor! He pities the slave—Canadians treat them badly and the country 'is' cold," 'and "for their own happiness they should not emigrate here!" Yes, he sympathizes with them; he is as willing as a bowie-knife,—as affectionate as a tomahawk! If there is one thing more than another that we detest it is to hear a man condemn slavery, curse the slaveholder and yet refuse to put out a helping hand to secure freedom for the slave. Doctor Barker would not allow that a slave should be held in Canada: still he would rather they should live in bondage at the South than they should be freemen in the North. Such philanthrophy is more than despicable—and we regret that in this Province many who talk of the oppression of the South would not lift their little finger to ameliorate the poor slave's situation. Out upon such sympathy say we. If a man cannot sacrifice something to secure happiness to his fellow creatures, he is no philanthropist—he is but a tyrant after all. And this is the case with all men who utter sentiments like those of Dr. Barker. Shame we say to him who boasts of British blood, pretends and to love freedom, but loves it only for himself! Take white men and place them for ages in the cotton fields and let us see how much superior than the blacks they will be. And as for the industry of the blacks of Chatham we trust they will compare favorably with many of the Doctor's friends, or even with himself!

The above truthful remarks of the Planet exhibit a manly spirit on the part of the writer, and are a most successful refutation of the l natured and jealous remarks of the Kingston Ass. Wonder to what Class of Christains that "hater of slavery" and "free negroes" belongs?—M. A. S. C.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT.

A message from his Excellency was communicated to both Houses of the Legislature yesterday, announcing that His Excellency would come down to day at 4 o'clock, to prorogue Parliament.

This will end a session, which, if not prolific of good measures, has certainly been remarkable for the amount of business done, and for the absence of much of that strife and bitterness which but too often distinguish our legislation.

Dr. Hiram Cox, chemical inspector of alcholic liquors, in Cincinati, states, in an address to his fellow citizens, that during two years he has made 249 inspections of various kinds of liquors, and has found more than nine-tenths of them immitations, and a great portion of them poisonous concoctions. Of brandy, he does not believe there is one gallon of pure in a hundred gallons, the imitations having corn whiskey for a basis, and various poisonous acids for the condiment. Of wines not a gallon in a thousand purporting to de sherry, port sweet Malaga, &c, is pure, but they are made of water, sulphuric acid, alum, Guinea pepper, horse radish, &c., and many of them without a single drop of alcoholic spirit. Dr, Cox warrants there are not ten gallons of genuine port wine in Cincinati. In his inspection of whiskey he has found only from 17 to 20 per cent, of alcoholic spirits, when it should have 45 to 50, and some of it contains sulphuric acid enough in one quart to cut a hole in a man's stomach.

PREBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY (NEW SCHOOL.)

Seventh Day—Afternoon Session.

Cleveland, May 29.

Mr. Painter, of Tennessee, offered a substitute for the repot of the Committee on Slavery, as follows:

"Resolved, That the Constitutional Presbyterian Church will not allow any of her preachers to preach in slaveholding States, without being subject to annual reproofs and admonitions from the General Assembly."

Mr. Painter said: We wish to know what the Assembly are going to do, embarrassed by continual admonition from the North. If it is the intention of the North to say "We will have nothing to do with you" it, was best to adopt this resolution at once.

The subject was indefinitely postponed.

The approval of the Synodical Records of Mississippi was also postponed.

The report of the Central American Educational Society was read.

The consideration of the report of the Committee on Education was concluded, and the report adopted.

The Standing Committee on Education reported its approval of the Ashman Institute.

Mr; Carter of Ohio, presented another substitute for the Committee on Slavery, calling upon the Presbytery of Lexington to rectify its position sustaining slaveholders.

Eighth Day—Morning Session'

The Committee on Church polity reported in favor of keeping up a correspondence with the Reformed Churches.

Mr. Carter's substitute for the report of the Committee on Slavery was taken up, which called out Mr. Clelland, of Ky, who read a document giving, as the opposition of the Church South, the belief that American slavery is an appointment of God, on the same footing with the family relation.

Mr. Scarrett of St. Louis said that he and his asociates, not in that paper, belonged to the Northern side of the question.

Pending a motion to adopt the substitute, the Assembly adjourned.

Special Notices.

Messrs P Davis & Son—Gents.—Before I left Mergui, both Karens and Burmans had found out the value of your Pain Killer, and I could readily have disposed of a large quantity of it among them. It seems particularly efficacious cholera morbus, bowel complaints, and other diseases to which the natives of Burmah, from their unwholesome style of living, are peculiarly exposed. It is a valuable antidote to the poison of Centipedes, Scorpions, Hornets, and the like. I have been twice stung by Scorpions, and in both cases eased the most excruciating pain and entirely prevented the swelling by applying the Pain Killer. On our voyage homeward from Burmah, Captain of the ship was taken with vomiting and purging and other symptoms of cholera. I give him a good dose of Pain Killer with the most immediate and happy results. So entire and speedy was the relief, that he assured me he would never go on a voyage without your excellent medicine, if he could possible procure it. Respectfully yours,

Rev. J. BENJAMIN, Late Missionary to Burmah

COMFORT FOR THE AGED.

The Montreal Transcript, speaking of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHEERY, June 19 1856: "We believe it to be generally recognized as a usefull medicine by medical men, and we can state, with perfect truth and sincerity, that in one case with which we are more particularly acquainted—that of an old gentleman at last eighty years of age, residing a few miles from this city, and who is troublesome at times with an asthmatical complaint—the most decided relief is obtained whenever he makes use of the Balsam; this, at the advanced period of life which he has arrived at, may be concluded an unanswerable proof of its virtues."

For 1857, shewing the religious denominations, —those who use intoxicating drinks and those who do not, with the religious Denominations appended,—also taverns and sellers of intoxicating drinks, with also such religious denomination appended -Lists of Distilers and Brewers, with the same—List of Ministers of the County of Perth,—(Lists of members &c., of congregations may be added.) Names of the Teachers of Schools &c. &c.—As it is Stated that the Traffick and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land, are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically show the truth or untruth of the statement.

"Have they not (the traffickers) got enough of our blood?"—Hon, M. Camoron—"the next best legacy and gift to every woman and child of our land, will be the freedom from the traffick" L.—

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks,(the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community.—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, laboures &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World, Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the sound information to be constantly found in the Post

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is no able to take an enlarged and generous view o human nature and its destiny. To satisfy thes Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New 'Story' by MRS. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important pacific and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 2½ cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c, and having any fellowship with such societies

1 The American Tract Society—New York
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church. [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

THE VIRTUES OF OLD ENGLAND.

BY C. MACKAY

The virtues of old England!
We'll count them if we can,
And prove to all who doubt us
What makes the Englishman:
What makes us stand the foremost
Among the brave and free!
What did our sires in days of old,
And what in ours will we.

From Agincourt and Cressy,
To Nile and Inkerman,
We've showed the wondering nations
What English valour can.
Our foes have felt our courage
In every clime and sea;
Our fathers stood like solid oak,
And so, to death, will we.

In times when evil fortune
Assailed our country's cause,
Around the throne we rallied,
Defenders of our laws.
And the throne still stands,
And home, the sheltering tree;
Thus did of old our loyal sires,
And so, true hearts, will we.

Our ships in every ocean
Are messengers of peace;
They carry happy tidings;
And bid the world increase.
Our fathers thrive by honest,
Their words and bonds agree!
Our fathers wrought for homes, gold,
And won it—so will we.

And in all times and places,
We cherish woman's worth;
Through all our isles we own her
The love—light of the earth:
To youth and age we offer
Respect and bended knee.
Thus did our sires, and taught their sons
And so, true hearts will we.

And if we're rich and thriving,
We'll keep an open door;
If Poor ourselves, the poorer
Shall taste our little store.
The hospitable wine-cup
Shall circle in our glee,—
Our fathers spread the welcome board,
And so true hearts will we.

The virtues of old England!
We'll prove them if we can!
And show to all who doubt us
What makes the Englishman;
What makes us stand the foremost
Among the brave and free!
Thus did our sires, in days of old,
And so, true hearts will we.

HON. MR. CAUCHON.

The Report of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, for the year 1856, we regard as one of the most instructive and valuable documents that we remember to have seen issued by the head of a department. Extending over some three hundred pages, it enters minutely, and with great clearness and ability, into everything connected with the management, &c., of the public domain, with numerous excellent suggestions for the future managemedt of the Crown Lands. Mr. Cauchon's very able Repoat is at the present moment of infinite value to Canada. Particularly thus are his remarks upon the "Ottawa Country," with its area of 77,000 miles—"the Huron and Superior territory" with an area of 48,000 miles; and not least, by any means, the "Red River and Saskatchawan country," with its area greater than that of both France and Austria, its immense and fertile prairies, splendid coal fields, large navigable river, and fine climate.

As the limits of this article prevent our making even an attempt to do justice to Mr. Cauchon's invaluable report, we shall recur to it at an early day. In the meantime, we cannot but express our deep regret that through a mistake (for we so regard the the published cause of his resignation,) the country should be deprived of the inestimable services of Mr. Cachon, who has proved himself the best department chief that Canada has ever had. With him, in his public capacity, all men, rich and poor, stood upon a perfect equality. By him the speculators, who formerly fattened upon their exactions from the simple, industrious settlers, were placed on the same vantage ground that the humbles unmigrant occupied. No man, in Mr. Cauchon's day, was allowed an advantage over the other in the matter of obtaining information from the Crown Lands' department, whose halls used formerly to be chiefly filled with land sharks engaged in the inspection of field notes and other documents belonging to the department. In a word, Mr. Cauchon had just well begun that extensive reform in the management of the Crown Lands which the best interests of Canada had long and fruitlessly demanded, when he unwisely tendered, his resignation, which was, by his colleagues, as unwisely accepted. It is ardently to be desired, by every one anxious for the prosperity of this country, that the unfortunate breach between himself and his colleagues, which led to Mr. Cauchon's resignation, may be healed up without delay, and that Mr. Cauchon may be recalled to the post which he filled so creditably to himself and so beneficially to the country.—Brant. Courier.

☞ The Bill to abolish Sunday labor on the Canals, and in the Post Office was disposed of at all events for this Session. Two divisions took place, on amendments, which were negatived by a majority respectfully of 1 and 2. On a third by Mr. Ferres, the numbers were equal, and the Speaker having given his vote in favor of the amendment the Bill accordingly fell to the ground. This result will be very unpopular in Western, and we belive will be equally so with a large number of all religious lines in Eastern Canada. We are not disposed just now to discuss the abstract question involved in the Bill. The reasoning of the Speaker for giving his vote in favor of the amendment and against the Bill is instructive, and we gladly quote it: "He could not allow that the Legislature had a right to impose upon him, or any other citizen, the necessity of resting on a particular day, for it was not the Legislature but every man's own conscience which gave him the right to rest on that day." Just so, and we rejoice that such a recognition of the rights of conscience are thus forcibly put forward, and we hope that in all cases in our public departments, where the rights to rest on the Christian Sabbath are advanced, the exemption from labor will be cheerfully recognized.—[Montreal Transcript.

Miscellaneous.

MR. JOLIFFE MOBBED IN COVINGTON.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, June 1st.

JOHN JOLIFFE, Esq., a lawyer of this city, extensively known as the friend and advocate of the slave in cases arising under the "Fugitive law," was on Saturday last mobbed in Covington, and driven out of that town. Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe had been invited by Rev. Mr. Sage, of Covington, to dine, and Mrs. J. went over in the morning; between 12 and 1 Mr. Jolliffe started over. On the ferry boat he enquired the way to Mr. Sage's.

Proceeding up town, Mr. Jolliffe was accosted near the first cross street, above the landing, by name. He extended his hand to the man, saying at the same time, "I don't recollect you." The man replied, "My name is Gaines. I know you d—d well, you d—d rascal—you d—d nigger thief. You came over here to steal our niggers." Mr. Jolliffe, thinking this was only the usual Kentucky way, said, good-naturedly, "Oh, no, I came over here to dine with my friend, the Rev. Mr. Sage."—A crowd collected around them, and Gaines thrust his fist against Mr. Jolliffe's breast, and into his face, using violent and insulting language at the same time, evidently with the design of provoking Mr. Jolliffe to some show of violence. Mr. Jolliffe, however, walked on, surrounded by the hooting crowd, beyond the Madison House, and finally went into Timberlake's store for protection.

Timberlake made some show of dissuading Gaines, and even holding him, but seemed very glad when he got Mr. Jolliffe out into the street again. Gaines then went to the corner of the street and made a proclamation that Jolliffe was a d—d nigger thief, and that all those interested in niggers had better look out, for he had come over to steal their niggers." This brought a still larger crowd out. Mr. Jolliffe finding it was impossible to proceed to Mr. Sage's turned to the crowd and told them that if they were determined not to permit him to go on, that he would return, and appealed to them for protection to the ferry. This gathering of Kentucky gentlemen (for there was a number of merchants and respectable looking men in it, with some rowdies) replied with one voice, "G—d d—n you, you need not appeal to us," and hugged in derision at the idea.

Mr. Joliffe was in great danger of being seriously injured by the crowd, when Mr. Warnock an ex-marshall) came up, and, taking Mr. Jolliffe by one arm, guaranteed to see him safely to the boat. Marshall Lett took the other, and they walked towards the ferry, Gaines and the crowd following. A large man walking with Gaines cried out, "Get a cowhide and cowhide him," and Gaines inquired at every house they passed for a cowhide. He finally got a whip and struck Mr. Jolliffe with it over the shoulders, when Marshall Lett turned and arrested Gaines. A German then came forward to assist in protecting Mr. Jolliffe, and he arrived safely on the ferryboat.

On the way down the crowd seemed determined on violence, crying out "lynch him," cowhide him," "hang him," and were only deterred by the determined conduct of Mr. Warnock and Marshall Lett.

Mr. Warnock deserves great credit for his conduct in this affair. Though differing entirely from Mr. Jolliffe in his views on Slavery, yet he is too high-minded and honorable a gentleman to permit even a political enemy to suffer by mob violence.

There is no doubt, from the spirit manifested by the mob, that but for the interposition of these men, Mr. Jolliffe would have suffered serious personal injury.

Gaines will be tried to-morrow at 10 o'clock before Mayor Foley, who we understand has expressed a determination to put a stop to such scenes. This Gaines became notorious as the master of Margaret, the negro woman, who murdered her little girl rather than see her returned to slavery. We presume he will receive but little sympathy in Covington, for he is regarded with great contempt by all honorable Kentuckians for his conduct in taking Margaret away secretly from Frankfort and selling her down South when he promised the Governor of that State to keep her to await a requisition from Governor Chase, not only breaking his own word (which was nothing,) but also causing the Governor of Kentucky to break his, and thus bringing disgrace upon the State.

FACTS ABOUT THE HUMAN BODY.

There are 208 bones in the human body, exclusive of the teeth. These bones are composed of animal and ethereal substance, the forms preponderating in youth, and later in old age rendering the bones brittle. The most important of the bones is the spine, which is composed of twenty four small bones called the vertebræ, one on the top of the other, curiously hooked together, and fastened by elastic ligaments, forming a pillar, so to speak, by which the human frame is supported.

There are two sets of muscles, one to draw the bone one way, and the other to draw it back again. We cannot better describe the muscles than by comparing them to fine elastic threads, bound up in their case of skin. Many muscles, terminating in tendons, which are stout cords such as may be seen traversing the back of the hand, just within the the skin; and which can be observed to move when the hand is open or shut. Every motion made even the involuntary one of breathing, is performed through the agency of the muscles.

In adults there are about fifteen quarts of blood, each quart weighing about two pounds This blood is of two kinds, the arterial and veinous. The first is the pure blood as it leaves the heart to nourish the frame, and is of a bright vermillion colour. The last is the blood as it returns to the heart, loaded with the impurities of the body, to be refined, and is of a purple hue Every pulsation of the heart sends out about two ounces of arterial blood, and as there are from seventy to eighty beats in a minute, a hogshead of blood passes through the heart every hour. In fevers motion is accelerated, the waste goes on faster than it can be recuperated, and consequently death ensues if the fever is not checked.

The stomach, is the boiler, if we use such an expression, which drives the human engine. Two sets of muscles crossing each other traversely, turn the food over and over, churning it up in the gastric juice till it has been reduced to the consistency of thin paste. This process requires from two to four hours. Emerging from the stomach, the food enters the small intestine, where it is mixed with bile and pancretic juice and converted into chyle. These small intestines are twenty-four feet long, closely packed of course, and surrounded through the whole length with small tubes which act like suckers, and drawing off the chyle, empty it into a large tube, named chyle duct, which runs up the back, and discharges its contents into the jugular vein, whence it passes into the heart, to assist in forming arterial blood.

The lungs are two bags connected with the open air by the wind pipe, which branches out into innumerable small tubes all over the inside of the lungs, each tube terminating in a minute air cell. The other surface of these air cells is full of capillaries, or infinite small veins, a membrane only dividing the air from the blood. The impure portion of veinous blood is carbonic acid, which, having a stronger affinity for air than for blood, passes through this membrane in a gaseous state, combines with the air in the air cell, and is expelled with the next respiration. Meantime the oxygen of the air unites with the blood and becomes purified, then passing into the heart, being mixed with chyle, it is forced through the body as life giving and arterial blood.

from barbarity which, for eye to depict or pen describe, would be an impossibility.

STATISTIC.

The Leader of 31st ult., informs us that there were 9,391,531 barrels of flour exported from this Province in 1856, against 6,413 428 barrels in the previous year—showing an increased export in 1856 of 2978103 barrels; and further, that in the matter of wheat, it is estimated that the produce in 1856 amounted to 26,555,684 bushels, of 60 lbs. per bushel; while the crop of 1851 was estimated at 16,155,956 bushels—showing an increase in five years of 10,399,783 bushels. Now as, according to the usual estimate of five bushels of wheat per barrel of flour would require 46,957,655 bushels of wheat to make it, we should like to be further instructed by the Leader by what ingenious process that large quantity of flour could be manufactured out of 26,555,684 bushels of wheat, given as as the crop of 1856 and what the natives managed to exist upon after exporting nearly twice the quantity of flour that their whole crop of wheat would make. We presume the exports, or at least all beyond some three or four millions of barrels, must have gone eastward by way of the Sault Ste Marie Canal, the Leader's lately newly discovered route for the produce of Chicago to the Eastern Markets.—Colonist.

A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENT.—The following beautiful sentiment deserves to be written in letters of gold and perpetuated forever:

"The foundation of domestic happiness is faith in the virtue of women; the foundation of all political happiness is confidence in the integrity of man; and the foundation of all happiness, temporal and eternal—reliance on the goodness of God."

PEOPLE WHO ARE NEVER PITIED.—We have no sympathy for a railway speculator, who is reduced to his last shilling. None for an ill-tempered man with the toothache. None for a stout man running after his hat. None for a dandy splashed by a mud-cart None for a man who loses his umbrella.

☞ There were, on the first day of June, masses of frozen spray and snow, 50 feet in solid thickness, under the American side of the Falls at Niagara. A heavy rock thrown upon them makes no more impression than upon hard ice

Visit to Toronto—Anti Slavery Meeting in St. Lawrence Hall,—Colored Regular Baptist Church, Corner Teraulay and Edward Streets,—Colored British Wesleyan Church, Richmond St.,—Baptist Church, Corner of Victoria and Queen Streets.

Our stay in this city has been a lengthy and discouraging one; shortly after our arrival here we procured the St. Lawrence Hall for the purpose of having an Anti-Slavery Lecture to be delivered by Mr. Douglass; large posters were put in all the main thoroughfares to get out a good house. The Globe, generally characterized as the leading paper in the Province, the stickler for Reform, by being requested, found time and space for an editorial notice of three or four lines, for which I suppose, we should feel very thankful, emanating as it did from such an influential source, and as colored men are expected to be forever thankful, and under obligations for these little condescensions or favors, I feel heartily glad there was no more of it. As the hour of meeting approached, the rain commenced falling, and continued until near meeting hour, though abating in sufficient time to have allowed persons from the various parts of the city to assemble, had there been the proper interest felt in the cause, but after the elapse of the appointed hour, on looking over the audience, and seeing but sixteen persons scattered over the seats of the splendid hall, Mr. Douglass thought best to abandon speaking. Now we were left to wonder, where the members of the Anti-slavery society were, of whom we have heard so much said at times, as being much interested in the welfare of suffering humanity, only one being present. No, we are inclined to think that the lengthy report of the Anti-slavery friends that appeared in the Colonist on the fourth of May was their main labor of the year, rendering themselves popular by talking. After reading the lengthy report referred to and noticing some who took active part as speakers, and seeing to abhor the vile Institution so much, I thought I would call upon one Mr Barras and solicit same information, and his name as a subscriber to our list, stating to him that the Freeman was actively Anti-slavery, and we were desirous of supporting it, as an organ of the kind was much wanted. He expressed his knowledge of the Paper, and its worthy cause, but was sorry to say that he could not do any thing just now, told that usual tale "I have so many papers I have calculated to stop some," and of all the friends he knew he could not refer to one who he thought would take interest enough to subscribe, but wished the Paper, great success, which done considerable towards supporting it. If I could see less profession and a little more practice I would look for a more happy demonstration in the end.

After such a complete failure in the St. Lawrence Hall we made application to the Trustees of the coloured Regular Baptist Church Corner of Teraulay & Edward Sts. and were granted the use of it for Sabbath evening, by Messrs Adolphus Judah, & E. Richards, but after having the Notices circulated in the different churches, one sister & church mother in her own estimation, backed up by some few ignorant brothers, all of whom ran as fast from Slavery on Sunday, and were as willing to receive the aid of Anti-Slavery friends on Sunday as any other day, were first to object to the use of their sacred little house for the redemption of the yet oppressed bondsmen. A vote was taken upon the propriety of using the House on sabbath for such purposes when unfortunately ignorance had two of a majority. When will ignorance cease to be the ruling influence in these Colored Churches? Mr. Judah one of the pillars of the church and a thorough Anti-slavery man, who feels for the success of the freemen of Canada as he does for the Slaves in Chains, contended for the use of the Church for the fullest expression for the amelioration of the wrongs of the oppresed at all times, believing it to be truly Christian to do so, and said he had left a white church for taking a proslavery position, and the would quit us. Since then, he and R. Richards have left the Trustee board. Noble men! and of course this was the second future but our talented and indefatigable friend Dr. A. T Augusta having become so disgusted at the deluded, ignorant and unchristian action of a portion of the Teraulay St. Baptist church members, determined to have a meeting and applied to that noble little Spartan Band, on Richmond St. the colored British Wesleyans who recently came out from the white Wesleyans for their fellowship and union with the pro slavery churches in the United States—they were anxious and willing to open their church and give the use of their altar, for the elevation and liberation of any portion of the human family, so on Wednesday Evening the 10th the House was opened at an early hour and soon filled with anxious hearers. On motion of A. Judah seconded by I. N. Cary. W. H. Abbott was appointed Chairman, and I. D. Shadd sec'y. The meeting was opened with prayer, and Mr. H. F. Douglass, addressed the audience at considerable length showing up the Institution of slavery in its most horrid form, and descanting upon the fellowship existing between the northern and southern churches whose hands and garments are dripping with the blood of their fellow brethren and sisters in chains: when these delicate portions of the subject were dwelt upon, quite an uneasiness was manifested among some of the Regular Baptist members, but after his conclusion, the whole of his remarks upon their pro-slavery fellowship was sustained by some honest members who were present, and the following Resolutions were adopted by an overwhelming majority.

Resolved, That we as the subjects of great Britain, feel it to be a christian duty to remember at all times the poor slave, whose liberty has been cloven down by an irresponsible Despotism, in the Republican Government of the United States: That we will use every effort, consistent with our duty as loyal British subjects, and the injunctions of our holy religion, to break his chains—and place him "Redeemed, and disenthralled, upon the world wide platform, of a common humanity."—by H. F. Douglass

Resolved, That in the opinon of this meeting according to the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, christians of every denomination everywhere, are morally and religiously bound to plead the cause of the Slave and the oppressed, at all times, and in all places. —By I. N. Cary.

After the above resolutions were adopted the audience desiring a further statement in regard to church fellowship oppointed a meeting to be held the next evening in the Queen St. Baptist church; when the appointed time arrived a large and respectable number were in attendance and addressed by Mr. Douglass, Wm. Harris by appointment presiding as chairman, and I. D. Shadd as secretary. The hearers manifested great interest and satisfaction by there earnest attention and—frequent applause to say nothing of the liberal collection and some subscribers to our "paper." The only strange conduct we observed, in the audience was on the part of some half-dozen pious looking men, with white neck cloths and the prefix Rev. to their names, who have been holding a conference at their church, (Late Wesleyan) but have not learned to pay that respect to the church that is done by almost every school boy, no these gentlemen came in side of the door placed themselves against the wall, and stared as if gasping for breath in a pit of nauseous gases. Seats were frequently offered them, by the friends but all in vain, and Mr. Douglass assertions in respect to the Wesleyans being pro-slavery were sustained when subscribers were called for to sustain and carryon our paper devoted to Anti-slavery, by these Revs. slipping unceremoniously out into the street. Let colored Wesleyans, pray for them: they need it.

I. D. SHADD.

Toronto, June 12th.

REVD. THOMAS L. DAVIDSON.- SCANDAL AND SLAVERY.

In the absence of Mr. H Ford Douglass, who is engaged in what we think a very laudable business,—namely, in advocating the interests of the Colored population of Canada, and pointing out to the public wherein their rights are not acknowledged and wherein they are put in anomalous and not in true positions, and also in advocating the interests of this paper, (the only one for the Colored people in Canada) -while he is so absent, we notice an article entitled "Scandal" in the Christian Messenger of Brantford, and also another in the Brantford Herald the latter with the name of the Rev. Thomas L. Davidson, Regular Baptist Minister at Brantford, attached.

Awaiting the explanations which Mr, Douglas is well able to give,—and to give an opportunity to the Rev. Thos L. Davidson to reflect, and to look back upon his ministerial course in Canada; and as a prominent minister in the Regular Baptist Church of Canada, we propose that the Christian Messenger and also Mr. Davidson, give to the public an admission, or a denial to the accusations made in more ways than one,—that the Regular Baptist Church in Canada as a church collective, and in individual instances, fellowships directly with Regular Baptist organizations in New York state and other Free States of the adjoining Republic, which latter recognize the pro-slavery Churches and Societies of the South, in the organizations of the American and Foreign Bible Society. American Bible Union.—American Baptist Publication Society;—and American Baptist Misionary Union—and by other reciprocal ways and means.

Also,—what reason can Mr Davidson, and those of the Regular Baptist Church in Canada, give for a desire to have such fellowship, and to persist in keeping up an intimacy with such pro-slavery organization, which latter, of course, recognize no rights human or divine to be enjoyed by the descendants of the Africans,—for all efforts by such societies, are, in America, for white people—and such human and divine rights, are only so recognized in the countries where Colored people have been abducted from, and to which there is such an apparent zeal to send missionaries!

When the regular Baptist Church in Canada can show that there is no fellowship then, and not till then, shall it be worth while to refer to Resolutions against Slavery, which the Baptist Church in Canada have passed.—for the present hypocritical position of the said Baptist Church does not entitle it to any consideration as a truth telling Body against slavery, or as one which hates the iniquitous and accursed system.—The southern and other connections have, through New York and other mediums, some power over the Regular Baptist Church in Canada!—A. B.

☞ We notice in the Planet, of June 16th, an advertisement over the signature of G. H. L. Newburne, charging us with a "design to prejudice him in the eyes of the public," by stating that a collection and subscription amounting to $14,00 had been taken up in the Colored Methodist Church, here on one occasion to aid a party who had sustained losses by fire. After having denied receiving that amount but stating that he had received but $17 69 1-2, and that his loss by that fire was property worth every cent of $300,00, he concludes by tendering heartfelt thanks to those kind friends who have helped him and whose opinions he is "sure will not changed by, what all enemies can say against him.

Now what does this great 'refutation" amount to? We stated what we did on the authority of several persons whom we supposed to know: one a member of G. L. Newburne's Church, when speaking of his loss, informed us that $150 (of his $300) was money placed in his hands by the Church, to buy brick for their new building; that we did not state, but give the party the benefit of the entire $300. However, the advertisement says there were $17 00, and not knowing G. H. L. Newburne by sight or name, previously to his publication, in that particular, we stand corrected

Now to the "root" of the matter. Our object in mentioning the collection in connexion with that of the $15,00 gathered in one meeting in Elder Piper's Church, and the $200,00 previously taken in the Methodist Church, was to show that Elder Piper and J. C. Brown were not justified in begging for a people so prompt to render assistance, it was not to prejudice the public against G.H. L. Newburne, whom we did not know by name even. We might have told with certainty that $50.00 was taken up for Rev. Mr. Young, on another Sabbath afternoon and have saved G. H. L. Newburne the trouble of farthering designs of the few among the Baptists here who love to beg, and also have saved his pious conscience the sin of appearing to write an untruth about our enmity to him; we say appearing to write, as the finger traces of beggars and the "street talk." may be seen in the document; so in answering an advertisement of the sort which we are hardly bound to do, we feel to pity the dupe of other men's depravity, G. H. L. Newburne, and bring the matter home to the men who dare to try their hand at begging, and who, when but a few days since, a woman asked for help for her injured husband, had nothing to add to the liberal gifts contributed by our citizens (we saw her success from white and colored) but sent her to us.

No, G. H. L. Newburne! we do not know you, but we do know that we pity, but do not hate you for suffering yourself to be (may be unwittingly) an instrument for the people who want new clothes &c. Your "refutation amounts to nothing, as you know begging not necessary—in fact there is nothing to refute, as we have your simple statement that you lost $300 when some of your brothers in the church state that a part was "brick" money.

But why degrade yourselves you, who sympathize with old clothes by tampering with poor or rich Newburne? Why not be manly and retract your representation about the condition of the colored people here? Such a course was promised for the Freeman; why not undo your mischief through the vehicle you used to start the same?

—No! you all serve your master's cause by stirring up to enmity the colored people. It is the trade and trick of nine out of ten of the Missionary advocates. Remember the resort of the Rice's Kirkland's Hotchkiss's and others in Colchester and Amherstburgh, and now the same is being repeated here we have reason to believe. But we tell certain colored beggars the props they lean upon will not support them be they white or black, and we tell this community that $17,00 is enough to confute the idea of such utter poverty as a published letter in the Baptist pretends.—M. A. S. C.

SCHOOL FOR ALL!!

The School taught by Mrs. Amelia Freeman. Shadd, is still in operation in Stringer's Buildings, wherein young people of both sexes are instructed thoroughly in the primary and higher branches necessary to a good practical English Education, at moderate charges, to those able to pay. Music, Drawing, Painting, are also taught, on most reasonable terms.

Mrs. Shadd will afford Educational facilities, gratis, to the children of poor widows and other respectable, but destitute persons, really needing such aid, and to that end, competent assistance will be obtained The enterprise is praiseworthy, and will, we sincerely hope, enlist public attention as the tact and qualifications of the principal peculiarly fit her for the management of such a school; and an institution wherein those least cared for can have ample instruction side by side with those able to pay, must meet with general approval. No complexional distinctions will be made.—I. D. S. C.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER is deservedly the most popular family medicine known; no other remedy has been so succesful in relieving all kinds of pain. Where other medicines have failed, it has often effected a speedy and complete cure. Sold by druggists generally.

Many who suffer from Headache and Nervous Debility are ignorant that the real cause, in most instances, is a deranged state of the stomach and digestive functions. The Oxygenated Bitters are peculiarly adapted to the cure of these symptoms.

FREE GRANTS.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD,
THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrell's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opengo Road in the Township of Bradenea, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, or base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory, and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

This road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Point, and thence by land some twnty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrick is situated.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the northern part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kalader, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of, the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska. The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashley, Effingham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of Kaladar, and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

THE HASTINGS ROAD.

Almost parrallel to the Addington Road, and at a distance West from it of about thirty-two miles is the Hastings Road. This Road begining at the northern part of the County of Hastings, and running a distance of 74 miles, almost due north, also intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road and its extensions.

The Government Agent, is Mr. M. P. Hayes, who resides at the Village of Hastings, lately called Madoc, about 20 miles north of the Town of Belleville. The Road between these places is in good order—the land to be granted by the Crown under the Ageney extends from 15 to 70 miles north of the Village of Hastings. The Road through this large extent of land is passable for 40 miles, and money is now being expended to extend it 30 miles further, so that Settlers can get in and out without difficulty, and find a good market for surplus produce, as well as convenient facilities for bringing in whatever supplies they may require—abundance of which can be had at the Village of Hastings, where the Government Agent resides

The direct way to reach this Section which is easily accessible, is by Kingston Canada West, thence by Steamboat up the Bay of Quinte to Belleville 56 miles—and thence by a good Road to Hastings, 28 miles

In order to facilitate the Settlement of the Country and provide for keeping in repair the Roads thus opened the Government has authorized Free Grants of Land along these Roads, not to exceed in each case One Hundred Acres, upon application to the Local Agents, and upon the following.

CONDITIONS:

That the Settler be eighteen years of age

That he take possession of the Land allotted to him within one month, and put in a state of cultivation at least twelve acres of the land in the course of four years,—build a house (at least 20 by 18 feet) and reside on the lot until the conditions of settlement are duly performed; after which accomplishment only shall the settle have the right of obtaining a title to the property. Families consisting several settlers entitled to lands pretening to reside on a single lot, will be exempted from the obligation of building and of residence, (except upon the lot on which they live) provided that the required clearing of the lashme made on each lot The non-accomplishment of these conditions will cause the mediate loss of the assigned lot of land, which will be sold or given to an other

The road having been opened by the Govemnt, the settlers are required to keep it in repair.

The Local Agents, whose names and place of abode have already been given, will furnish every information to the intending Settler.

The Log-house required by the Government to be built is of such a description as can be put up in four days by five men. The neighbors generally help to build the Log-cabin for newly arrived Settlers, without charge, and when this is done the cost of the erection is small; the roof can be covered with bark, and the spaces between the logs plastered with clay, and whitewashed. It then becomes a neat dwelling, and warm as a stone house.

The Lands thus opened up and offered for settlement are in sections of Canada West, capable as both to soil as climate of producing abundant crops of wintr wheat of excellent quality and full weight, and also crop of every other description of farm produce, grown in the best and longest cultivated districts of that portion of the Province, and fully as good,

There are, of course, in such a large extent of country as that referred to, great varieties in the character and quality of land—some lots being much superior to others but there is an abundace of good land for farming purdoses.

Water for domestic use is every where abundant; and there are throughout, numerous streams and falls of water, capable of being used for Manufacturing purposas.

The heavy timber land is almost always the best and of it, the ashes, of three trees—well taken care of and covered from wet,—will produce a Barrel of Potash, worth from £6 to £7 currency. The capital required to manufacture Potash is very small, and the process is very simple and easily understood.

The expense of clearing and enclosing heavily timbered lands, valuing the labor of the settler at the highest rate, is about FOUR POUNES Currency per Acre, which the first Wheat crop, if an average one, will nearly repay. The very best timber for fencing can be had in abundance A Settler on these lands, possessing a capita of from £25 to £50, according to the number of his family, will soon make himself his investment. The single man, able and willing to work, needs little capital, besides his own arm and axe—he can devote a portion of the year to clearing his land, and in the numerous lumbering establishments, he can, at other seasons, obtain a liberal remuneration for his labor.

The Sections of Country opened by these roads lie in and to the Southern part of the Great Ottawa Region, stretching from and beyond them to the shores of Lake Huron, Lake Nipissing, and to the Ottawa River—an immense extent of country whose resources are now seeking and will rapidly obtain development.

The Ottawa Country, lying south of Lake Nepissing and of the great River Ottawa, and embracing a large portion of the land offered for settlement, is capable of sustaining a population of Eight Millions of People and it is now attracting general attention, as the more western portions of Canada are being more filled up.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP

"EUROPA."

HALIFAX, June 16.

The Royal Mail Steamship Europa Captain Leitch arrived at this port at an early hour this morning. She left Liverpool on Saturday the 6th instant. She brings three days later news than by the Vanderbilt.

Parliament which at the date of the accounts by the Vanderbilt, was not in session on consequence of the Whitsuntide holiday had again assembled, had not, up to the departure of the Europe, despatched any business of particular note. The debates had been rather tame. The United States steamship, Niagra, Captain Hudson, having been inspected by the American Minister has proceeded to Portsmouth to receive the necessary alterations preparatory to taking on board her portion of the Atlantic cable at Liverpool. The British Government had readily loaned the use of the dock yard at that place.

THE COMMISSION IN OHIO.—The case of the State against the United States authorities came up to the District Court, at Cincinnati on Wednesday morning. Mr Mason for the defence read several affidavits, the general import of which was that the first fire came from the U. S. Marshal's party, and that they were very violent in their manner, treating the prisoners they had in charge very harshly. The depositions of several ladies, agreeing with the foregoing were also read.—Sheriff Layton's family physician deposed that he was lying very dangerously ill and that probably he never would fully recover. Another affidavit stated that the Marshal's men were generally armed. The case was continued yesterday.—Wesleyan.

COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS.

We understand, says the Leader of Wednesday last, that the Hon. Col. Taché has been sworn in Commissioner of Crown Lands, in the place of Mr. Cauchon, who recently vacated that post.—The office has been provisionally held by Col. Taché since the vacation of it by its late occupant.—Planet.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT.

A message from his Excellency was communicated to both Houses of the Legislature yesterday, announcing that His Excellency would come down to-day at 4 o'clock to prorogue Parliament.

This will end a session, which, if not prolific of good measures, has certainly been remarkable for the amount of business done and for the absence of much of that strife and bitterness which but too often distinguish our legislation.

The session opened on the 26th February and has, therefore, lasted full fifteen weeks. [Daily Colonist.]

Col. Titus, of savory memory both in Kansas and Nicaragua, has published a letter, in which he calls Walker a tyrant and Lockridge a coward, and advises young men at the South to wait till Walker's men get home and tell their story before enlisting in another campaign.

HURRAH FOR CANADA!

The New York Oranica says that the scarcity of Tobacco in all the American markets is such that prices have run up to exhorbitant rates. At Petersburg, Virginia, on the 4th inst., good tobacco sold at public sale at $455 a hogshead, equal to 38 cents per pound, a higher price than it ever obtained before in Virginia. By the way why does not our agricultural department do something towards encouraging the cultivation of tobacco in Canada? The Western District has been proved capable of raising good tobacco, and among the colored population so numerous in that quarter, there are thousands well acquainted with the cultivation and cutting of it. Ib

It will be seen that the Canadian steamer North America, and the famed New York Commodor crackboat, the Vanderbilt, sailed from England on the same day—the 3rd instant—and that the North American won the race by nearly a day, having anchored in the River on Saturday night the 13th inst, while the Vanderbilt did not arrive till the following afternoon.—Mail

CHOLERA.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 5, 1855.

GENTLEMEN:—I feel under obligation to you for the benefit I have received from your invaluable Pain Killer. A few days since I assisted in laying out one of our citizens who was supposed to have died with the Cholera. The next morning I was taken with severe vomiting accompanied with coldness of the extremities. Warm covering and hot applications failed to restore warmth; My wife's family who had used the Pain Killer with success during the Cholera season in Buffalo, in 1849 advised me to take it. I took two doses at intervals of fifteen minutes; a fine perspiration ensued, and the next day barring a little weakness, I was well and have been since. Since my recovery I find that several of our citizens have used the Pain Killer as a remedy for Cholera, pronouncing it good. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to a still more extensive notice.

ANOTHER GREAT CURE OF DYSPEPSIA.

Astonishing Success of the Oxygenated Bitters.

NEW HAVEN, November 28th 1851.

Gentlemen: I feel that no sense of pride or delicacy should deter me from expressing publicly my gratitude for the efficacy of your Oxygenated Bitters in restoring me to health, after suffering more than six years from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, during which time I had the best medical advice, with no benefit except temporary relief. My case became more hopeless, from an attack of diarrhœa, which confined me to my bed for eight weeks, causing great prostration of the whole system.

About two months ago, I was so much reduced, that I could eat scarcely any food whatever, and was obliged to take my bed, in despair of ever getting any better. I read some of the certificates of remarkable cures by the Oxygenated Bitters, and determined a bottle of the medicine. However surprising to me at the time, that I was almost immediately relieved of every symptom of my various complaints.

I am now in better health than I have enjoyed for many years, and attribute my restoration, by the grace of God, to your invaluable medicine. Respectfully yours, MARY E. HANOVER,

(For the attention of all Temperance reformers, Legislators, Ministers of religion &c.)

(SHORTLY WILL BE PUBLISHED)

A Census List

OF

The Inhabitants of Stratford C. W.

FOR 1857, shewing the religious denominations, —those who use intoxicating drinks and those who do not, with the religious Denominations appended,—also taverns and sellers of intoxicating drinks, with also such religious denomination appended.—Lists of Distillers and Brewers, with the same—List of Ministers of the County of Perth,—(Lists of members &c., of congregations may be added.) Names of the Teachers of Schools &c. &c.—As it is Stated that the Traffick and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land, are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically shew the truth or untruth of the statement.

"Have they not (the traffickers) got enough of our blood?"—Hon. M. Cameron—"the next best legacy and gift to every woman and child of our land, will be the freedom from the traffick" L.—

By "AMEN"!—

STRATFORD, C. W.
16th March 1857,

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the "CURSE" and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adding of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community,—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

Chatham, March 7th, 1856. 43-t

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown stronger during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to-day, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character, Scenes on the Ocean and Among Agriculture, Accounts of the Progress of Stock Markets and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has an infinite variety of the human and only becomes wearied at sameness. For these reasons the Post is appropriate to those they become interested, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important passages of [illegible] new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 2 to the getter up of the Club) $15
28 do (and 5 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit fifty cents additional to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State as well as of the town, in which they live. The letters must be post paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that many of our old friends, the Post Masters, as to whom we feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

No 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unrighteously for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious, humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American CHRISTIAN SLAVERY—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists" are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Fact's for Baptist Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

ANOTHER SLAVE-HUNT IN CINCINATI.

A TELEGRAPHIC despatch from Cincinati June 13th, says. "This forenoon, as four of the U. S. Deputy Marshals were arresting a fugitive slave and his wife, the slave stabbed one of them, Mr. J. Elliot with a long sword knife, upon which another of the Marshals shot the slave in the abdomen four times. The negroes were then taken into custody. The marshal's wound is dangerous, and the negro's is considered to be mortal. The affray occured in a room in Vine street, near the Post Office, where the negroes were secreted."

After the above was in type we received the following account of the affair.

From the Cincinati Commercial June 15.

About ten o'clock Saturday morning a bloody affair took place on Vine street, east side, a few doors above Fourth. Deputy United States Marshal J. C. Elliot was severely stabbed by a runaway negro, whom he was attempting to arrest, and the negro shot and desperately wounded by another of the United States Marshal's posse. It appears that two negroes, Irwin Brodhus and Angeline Broadus (man and wife) slaves of Colon l C. A. Withers, of Covington, superintendant of the Covington and Lexington Railroad, had for some days been concealed in room No. 18 of the building adjoining the Gazette office on the north, which apartment was rented as a lodging-room by W. M. Connelly.

It is said that information concerning their whereabouts was given by one of the Underground Railroad "folks—whether from the prickings of conscience, the temptations of gold, or the instigation of malice, we have not been informed. Friday night the room was watched, and Saturday morning warrants having been procured for the arrest of the fugitives Deputy United States Marshals John B. B. Anderson, B. P. Churchill J. C. Elliot, J. K. Lowe, Jas. Woodward and E. B. Carty, proceeded to ba the game which had been treed. Woodward was stationed at the trap door on the roof of the [illegible] much, dosing and moaning. At 9 o last evening Dr. Blackman reported h improving, with prospects of recovery.

At 5 o'clock last evening the wou negro was considered much better.

BAYARD TAYLOR WITH THE FINNISH GIRLS.

B. Taylor has some novel adventures in his northern European tour, and met with some strange customs and curiosities. In his last letter he tells us about stopping a couple of nights with a very friendly old Finnish lady, where he got a bed with sheets. The first night the mother and her sons were so amazed to see him undress before retiring, that they were curiosity-bound, and did not leave the stand point in the room until he was snugly covered up. The revelation of what they had seen, to other members of the family, produced a most wonderful audience the second night. On this occasion, he writes:—"Three buxom daughters, of ages ranging from sixteen to twenty two, appeared about time for retiring, and stationed themselves in a row near the door, where they watched us with silent curiosity. As we had shown no hesitation in the first case we determined to be equally courageous now, and commenced removing our garments with the greatest deliberation, allowing them every opportunity of inspecting their fashion and the manner of wearing them. The work thus proceeded in mutual silence, until we were nearly ready for repose, when by pulling off a stocking; and displaying a muscular calf, suddenly alarmed the youngest who darted to the door and rushed out. The second caught the panic and followed, and the third and oldest was obliged to do likewise, though with evident reluctance. The perfect composure of the girls and the steadiness with which they eyed us, showed that they were quite unconscious of having committed any impropriety."

A POR-SLAVERY PREACHER IN A PREDICAMENT.—Rev Dr. Ross, of Alabama, preached lately in a Cleveland pulpit, where in he had the following experience:

"The distinguished gentleman, forgetting that the hymnbooks in that part of the country had not been 'revised and corrected' to suit the peculiarities of pro-slavery religion, opened the book lying upon the desk, and commenced reading a hymn at random. The first four verses went off swimmingly; but on coming to the fifth, the reader's face turned suddenly the colour of a blood beet, and his voice sank almost to a whisper. What was the matter? The congregation referred to their hymn-books, when a broad smile ran like a wave of mirth all over the house—old deacons hit their lips, and strove to look grave, and the younger class of the congregation almost laughed right out. [The last verse pronounced a curse upon the oppressor, and breathed a prayer for the suffering bondman]. Shades of the Supreme Conat and the Fugitive Law! what a position was that for a minister who openly contends that slavery is of God, and sanctioned by Heaven! The Rev. gentleman was for a moment nonplussed—the situation was uncommonly tight—but he rallied, and proved himself equal to the occasion, by shouting to the singers, with a face like an Indian summer sunset after a storm, You will omit the fifth verse!"

FROM UTAH.—The late dates from Utah reach the last of April. BRIGHAM YOUNG had set out on his promised expedition to the North accompanied by Presidents KIMBALL and WELLS. The tour will extend into Oregon. A scientific corps is attached to the expedition, to observe the mountain ranges and the physical geography of the region to be traversed. On the 23d of April, there was a grand departure of Mormon missionaries from Salt Lake City. They are assigned to fields of proselyting labor in the United States, the British Provinces, Europe and Africa. They eschew mules and horses and adopt BRIGHAM's suggestions for a hand-cart Journey over the Plains. The Mormon militia had been carefully re organized. Great rejoicings were expressed that Mormonism was rapidly progressing.

CHILDREN DROWNED BY THEIR MOTHER.—In Leoni, near the centre of Michigan, last week, a colored man named Logan, who had been at much trouble regarding the title to his farm, went to Jackson and succeeded in obtaining a good title and a full settlement.—His wife had labored under great anxiety in the matter, and while Logan was absent at Jackson, some malicious or unthinking neighbors told his wife that the property was all lost, and that they had good reason to know that her husband would be entirely unsuccessful. The Jackson Citizen gives the sad result of their shameful conduct:

"This so distressed the wife and mother, in view of the hard times and their destitution, that she determined to put an end to their lives to prevent their starvation, and immediately after their neighbors had left, she threw her four youngest children into the well, and then jumped in herself. A dash of the water cooled her excited temper, and she crawled out again, when her oldest boy attempted to rescue the unfortunate little ones. He succeeded in extracting one only,—the other three were drowned. The unfortunate woman was the mother of nine children. The jury found that she drowned her three little ones while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

Pulmonary Consumption. — The great scourge of our Southern climate is disarmed of half its terrors, since we have a remedy so singularly efficacious as Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is worthy of the high reputation which it enjoys.

Every family should be supplied with Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer. Its magic effect in removing pain from all parts of the body, has given it a world wide reputation. No family having once used this medicine would willingly be without it. It is what its name purports, a Pain Killer.

North to the Township of Raleigh, and the Village of Hunt's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

THE HASTINGS ROAD.

Almost parralel to the Addington Road, and at a distance West from it of about thirty-two miles is the Hastings Road. This Road begining at the northern part of the County of Hastings and running a distance of 74 miles, almost due north, also intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road and its extensions.

The Government Agent, is Mr. M. P. Hayes, who resides at the Village of Hastings, lately called Madoc, about 20 miles north of the Town of Belleville. The Road between these places is in good order—the land to be granted by the Crown under the Agency extends from 15 to 70 miles north of the Village of Hastings. The Road through this large extent of land is passable for 40 miles, and money is now being expended to extend it 30 miles further, so that Settlers can get in and out without dificulty, and find a good market for surplus produce, as well as convenient facilities for bringing in whatever supplies they may require—abundance of which can be had at the Village of Hastings, where the Government Agent resides.

The direct way to reach this Section which is easily accessible, is by Kingston Canada West, thence by Steamboat up the Bay of Quinte to Belleville 56 miles—and thence by a good Road to Hastings, 28 miles.

In order to facilitate the Settlement of the Country and provide for keeping it repair the Roads thus opened the Government is authorized to make Grants of Land along the said Roads, not to exceed in each case One Hundred Acres, upon application to the Local Agents, and upon the following

CONDITIONS:

That the Settler be eighteen years of age.

That he take possession of the Land allotted to him within one month, and put in a state of cultivation at least twelve acres of the same in the course of four years.—Build a house (at least 20 by 18 feet) and reside on the lot until the conditions of settlement are duly performed; after which accomplishment only shall the settle have the right of obtaining a title to the property.

Parties assembling several settlers shall have lands, preferring to reside on a single lot, will be exempted from the obligation of building and of residence, (except upon the lot on which they live) provided that the required clearing of the 12 acres made on each lot, shall on accomplishment of these conditions will cause the immediate loss of the reserved lot of land, which will be sold or granted to other.

The road having been opened by the Government, the settlers are required to keep it in repair.

The Local Agents, whose names and place of abode have already been given, will furnish every information to the intending Settler.

The Log-house required by the Government to be built is such a description as can be put up in a few days by the help of the neighbours who will help for the Log-raising and house warming. The cost of the erection is small; the roof can be covered with bark, and the spaces between the logs plastered with clay, and whitewashed. It thus becomes a healthy building, and warm as a stone house.

The Lands thus opened up and offered for settlement are in sections of Canada West capable as both to soil and climate of producing abundant crops of winter wheat of excellent quality and full weight, and also crops of every other description of farm produce, grown in the best and longest cultivated districts of that portion of the Province, and even superior.

The land, of course, in such a large extent of country as that referred to, great varieties in the character and quality of land—some lots being much superior to others but there is an abundance of good land for farming purposes.

Water for domestic use is every where abundant; and there are throughout numerous streams and falls of water, capable of being used for Manufacturing purposes.

The heavy timber land is almost always the most valuable—the ashes of three trees—well taken care of and carried from wet,—are worth in Montreal or Quebec, worth from £12 to £15 currency. The capital required to manufacture Potash is very small, and the process is very simple and easily understood.

The expense of clearing and enclosing heavily timbered lands, valuing the labor of the settler at the highest rate, is about FOUR POUNES Currency per Acre, which the first Wheat crop, if an average one, will nearly repay. The very best timber for fencing can be had in abundance. A Settler on these lands, possessing a capital of from £25 to £50, according to the number of his family, will soon make handsome investment. The single man, able and willing to work, needs little capital, besides his own labor, but can devote a portion of his time to clearing his land, and in the numerous lumbering establishments, he can, at other seasons, obtain a liberal remuneration for his labor.

The Sections of Country opened by these roads lie in and to the Southern part of the Great Ottawa Region, stretching from and beyond them to the shores of Lake Huron, Lake Nipissing and to the Ottawa River—all the best tract of country whose resources are now seeking and will rapidly obtain development.

The Ottawa Country, lying south of Laks Nepissing, and of the great River Ottawa, and embracing a large portion of the land offered for settlement, is capable of sustaining a population of Eight Millions of Peple and it is now attracting general attention, as the more westeran portions of Canada are being more filled up.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ARTEN FON ROAD,

THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Bytown," [illegible] a short distance North of the Rideau Falls, and passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is the design to connect with this a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opeongo Road in the Township of Brudenell, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, or base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory, and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

The road, on the county through which it passes is open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. Throughout the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bytchere Point, and thence by land some twenty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrick is situated.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the north-east part of the County of Addington, at the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Hunt's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Ontario, and between it and the River Ottawa. The Townships are called respectively Anglesea, Denbigh, Ashby, Kaladar, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence

SLAVERY

In perusing the proceedings of our Town Council at their last meeting, on last Thursday's issue, our readers will have perceived that the prayer of a very respectfully signed petition, addressed to the Town Council requesting that the use of the Town Hall, be given to Mr Lewis, of this place, for the purpose of delivering a lecture therein, on Slavery and its Barbarisms, was granted; and it will be noticed, also, that there but two men sitting at the Council Board who have hearts cold enough, and feelings sufficient, of a pro-slavery tendency, (adverse to the feeling, which every man living on Canadian soil should have,) to oppose that petition; however, this one fact can only be regretted; and it is to be hoped, for the sake of the community, that the men, who, at that Council Board, ridiculed the idea of Mr Lewis' capacity to enlighten them on the Slavery question, will be present on the occasion. An idea, presumptuous, and most inconsiderate, to suppose for a moment that a man like Mr. Lewis, who has bent his back for years to the hoe, has had is reddened with stripes from the lash of the Planter, his feet chained, and family separated by the Auctioneers hammer, is not competent to unfold the mysteries in which is enveloped the dark deeds perpetrated on the poor slaves by the Southern monsters. Yes, we have no doubt but Mr. Lewis will retail those Southern transactions in a manner, such as will cause a reflecting mind to wonder how such things could exist. We say let the dubios attend and be enlightened. But a few weeks ago, we had not only as eloquent and as well an expressed discourse on Slavery, as we have ever listened to, but we had a striking example in the person of the lecture himself, Mr. H. F. Douglass, of the mass, of not only worth, but, in some instances, talent, which exists in the Southren States; and which, if free from their bonds, and their minds to a degree cultivated, would in all probability prove worthy settlers for the thousands of acres of wild lands as yet untracked in Canada. Mr. H. F. Douglass but a few years past, hoed corn with a fiend standing over him administering lashes in a manner we, in Canada, would think cruel to animals; and thought perseverance he obtained his liberty and is now nobly engaged, by his pen and oratorically, knocking at that door which, in time, must open and set at liberty his own countrymen, and free them.

In conclusion, we trust that the men who would dare enjoy the privilege of a British soil, and at the same time entertain pro-slavery views, will give an attentive ear to Mr Lewis' Lecture, on Tuesday evening and, if they do so, if we are not very much mistaken, and if their feelings are not paramount to those of the slave owners themselves, they will, at least, be somewhat softened, and their minds, for the credit of the community in which they move, will be enlightened. Dumpas Warder,

ENGLAND'S NEGOTIOAT WITH HONDURAS.

From the London Times, June 4.

We learn that intelligence has been received in London of the partial adjustment of differences with Honduras. The President of Honduras, General Don Santos Guardiola, has, we are informed, ratified the treaty signed by his minister, Senor Victor Herran, with Lord Clarendon, in London, last year, being a treaty of commerce and friendship of the ordinary kind, together with the important "additional article" which guarantees the neutrality of the railroad through the Isthmus of Honduras. But for reasons which the Honduras agents in this country do not appear to have been yet made acquainted with, the President has not ratified the convention which, signed at the same time as the foregoing treaty and by the same functionaries, provides for the transfer, on certain conditions, of the Bay Islands to Honduras, and the cession of certain rights of British sovereignty over the Mosquito territory. The Honduras Plenipotentiary accredited to England and France, Senor Herran, and now resident in Paris, has received information from Count Walewski that the government of France will immediately ratify a treaty with Honduras, and embracing the "additional article" securing the neutrality of the Honduras Inter-oceanic Railway. This line, extending from Porto Cavel, on the Atlantic to the Bay of Fonseca, on the Pacific, both coasts belonging to the State of Honduras is now being surveyed, with the approbation of her Majesty's government, by a large staff of engineers who lately left New York for that purpose. They were accompanied thence by Senor Alvarado, the Honduras Minister at Washington, where he had just signed a treaty with the government of the United States identical with the Anglo Honduras treaty, and containing likewise, the "additional article" which insures the free use of the proposed railway, in the interests of commerce and civilization, to all nations.

LETER FROM ENGLAND.

Reception of the Hon. Neal Dow. The Maine Law movement. Conference of the Band of Hope League.

BRISTOL June 5, 1857.

Last evening a meeting was held in the Broadmead Rooms, in this city, to give a public reception to Hon. Neal Dow, the founder of the Maine Law. The rooms, which will accomodate about 3000 persons, were crowded to overflowing. I learn that the publicans had intended to "particularly assist" the effort. But forewarned forearmed. Half a dozen rough-looking customers whom no one would suspect for a moment of having taken the pledge, handed over their tickets as I reached the door, when a dialogue occured as follows. Doorkeeper: "I can not allow you to go in." Six applicants: "I will buy your tickets of you, but you can not go in." So the arrangements were soon settled. Each receiver has two pence, gave up his ticket and retired. The chair was taken by Sir Walter C. Trevelyan, Bart. He is one of that class of the aristocracy who labor to promote the virtue and intelligence of the people, and is very mild and self-possessed in his manner.

While addressing the audience he made some use of his written speech, showing that the Maine Law is the remedy for the evils of intemperance. Thomas Richardson, Esq., moved the following resolution:

"Resolved, That this meeting hails with cordial welcome the Hon. Neal Dow; and regards his presence on this platform this evening with feelings of no ordinary satisfaction, believing him to be pre-eminently qualified to afford sound information on the facts of the prohibition movement in the United States, and that this meeting acknowledging Mr. Dow's authority as a statesman and his worth as a man, extends to him the hand of fraternal regard, and pledges itself to promote by every available means the great cause of social reform in which he has taken so distinguished a part."

This was seconded and unanimously adopted. The honrable gentlemen then rose and made a speech, advocating the Maine Law, which was effective for the progress of the cause and pleasing to the audience. It combined argument and anecdote. The former was strong, and the latter, while racy, evinced the difference between English an American minds, or rather their features. The former excels in concentrativeness, the latter in constructiveness. Another reason why his speech pleased, was his willingness to render honor where honor was due. He claimed for America, and gave to England, due credit. I feared that he designed to relieve the Free States to too great a degree from the sin of supporting slavery. He was showing what might be accomplished by discussion, and in this connection referred to the Slave States being unwilling to listen to the truth, and the violence with which they sometimes visited those who went into the Slave States to lecture against slavery. I can bear witness to the truth of this. He remarked that the people in the Free States were not so guilty of slaveholding as many imagined. By conversing with him learned that he considered the Free States deeply guilty because they supported slavery, but it was a passing comparison, and would have taken much time had he wished to give a full view of the subject—During his address, which lasted nearly two hours, there were three brief interruptions. A person would attempt to make a disturbance, three or four policemen would step up and kindly aid the person out of the room with as much celerity as was consistent with determined gentleness. The audience prepared to support order.

The closing speech was made by the Rev. Henry Gale.

This morning I attended a meeting of the Bristol and West of England "Band of Hope League." Sir Walter C. Trevelyan, Bart., in the chair. Original papers were read, the first from the pen of Mrs. Clara Barlour, a talented lecturer, author of "Morning Dew Drops," etc., on "The History and Future Prospects of the Band of Hope Movement.

The second from Miss Mary Carpenter. "Author of Reformatory Schools," on Juvenile Delinquency,—its connection with Intemperance," etc, the third from Handell Cossham, Esq, on "The Band of Hope, an auxiliary to Sabbath-school usefulness." These papers were ably written and are to be published.

Speeches were then made by the Hon. Neal Dow, by the Rev. Henry Gale, and one or two other friends. The Conference will be continued this evening. This I design attending, and have written this short sketch that it may go by the post, which closed before the opening of the meeting.

Yours For the slave.

EDWARD MATHEWS'—Cor. American Baptist,

Correspondence of the London Times.

CALCUTTA, April 21—The news of war With China has been received with universal congratulations. Nobody in this country ever doubted that Sir John Bowring was in the right, but many feared that the nation, misled by dreams peace, would decline to support his acts. Accordingly the merchants of Calcutta are about to attend Lord Canning with an address expressing their unanimous sympathy with the policy Lord Palmerston and their conviction that the time for concession to the Chinese has passed. The news of events in Sarawak has increased the prevailing enthusiasm. Those events are beyond my province; but Sir James Brooks is one of the heroes of the Anglo-Indian community.

When the commission of inquiry was ordered, it was difficult to find two commissioners free from the extraordinary prepossession in his favour, and I have known quiet officials who actually resented abuse of the Rajah as vehemently as a personal insult to themselves. You will observe that at Singapore the very men who, in 1854 called for the commission of inquiry, have passed at a public meeting an address, congratulating the Rajah on his just severity.

The Viceroy Yeh has already shown us what sacrifices of private affection and hatred he is capable of making to the grand policy of keeping China to the Chinese Government, At the taking of Nankin his wives, his children, and all his house, were massacred by the Iconoclasts, who are now reigning there in the stead of master, and the decapitation of some 70,000 'rebels' by his order, at Canton, attests the sincerity of his avowed love of vengeance. Yet their surviving in arms and himself are now leagued in the common cause of "Canton for the Cantonese and the Yellow Dragon of the "White Emperor" floats from the mast head of every war junk in the combined fleets of the waters of the "Pearl." It is but a transfer of allegiance from a "red" to a "white" Emperor which these have made. It will be but the converse transfer which those will make when Tai Ping's conquest shall have rolled onward to the gates of the Vice-regal palace; and what Chinaman ever refused to render that token of his acknowledgement to "the Divinely Appointed," whose commission from heaven is attested by the people's desire and sealed by success?

HOW TO BEHAVE &c.

An American paper say, of this neat little book.

How to Behave; A Pocket Manual of Republican Etiquette and Guide to Correct Personal Habits. Embracing an exposition of the principles of good manners; useful hints on the care of the person, eating, drinking, exercise, habits, dress, self-culture, and behavior at home; the etiquette of salutations, introduction, receptions, visits dinners, evening parties, conversation, letters, presents, weddings, funerals, the street the church, places of amusement traveling, etc., with illustrative anecdotes: a chapter on love and courtship, and rules of order for debating societies. Price, post paid, paper, 30c., muslin, 50c., New York: Fowler and Wells, 308 Broadway.

This is an honest and earnest little book, designed to aid the young people of our great republic in becoming true American ladies and gentlemen. The author seems to desire to make his readers something better than mere imitators of foreign manners often based on social conditions radically, different from our own—something better than imitators of any manners, in fact, and has dwelt at greater length and with more emphasis upon general principles than upon special observances, though the latter have their place in the work. It seem to have been his first object to impress upon their minds the fact, that good manners and good morals rest upon the same basis, and that justice and benevolence can no more be satisfied without the one than without the other.

The work is essentially different from any other manual of etiquette, and will aid, we hope, in building up a truly American and republican school of politeness.

U. G. R. R.—A conductor on this road informs us that nine "chattels" belonging to a gentleman in Boone Co., Kentucky, were sold and were to take their departure for the South on Monday morning last. The "chattels," however, preferring to take a trip to the North, borrowed their master's horses on Sunday night, and rode about 20 miles, to the Ohio river, where they took a boat and reached the opposite shore in safety. Taking the first train, they arrived at Sanduske Monday night, and on Tuesday night took lodgings on the "other side" of Lake Erie.

One of these "chattels" was sole for $1,200, and the nine brought the snug sum of $9,000. How the buyer and seller will compromise the matter is more than we can say.—[Painsville (Ohio) Advertiser.

The revolution in Peru is finished. A portion of the fleet and surrendered to Castilla with the Chincha Islands and they would soon be given up. It was proposed to place these islands under the protection of England and France

☞ William S. Burronett, a colored man was brought before the court, in Bangor Monday, on an action for debt. The plaintiff claimed $20, the balance of an account The defendant put in a special plea that under the late decision of the United States Supreme Court, he was not a citizen of the United States, and could not sue in any court, or be sued. Counsel for the plaintiff allowed a non suit, and the defendant left the court room with a grinning countenance.

The steamer Montreal was burned at Carouge, a short distance up the river last night.

The steamer Napoleon must have saved some 200.

From spain we have intelligence of the resignation by Espartero of his seat in the Senate, and a wild rumor that the husband of the Queen has been engaged in a plot to dethrone her for which he is about to be brought to trial, for treason. The Mexican Ambassador had not arrived, but was expected on the 13th. There were rumors of the recall of Gen Concha from the government of Cuba, and the appointment of Gen. Lesundi, late Minister of Marine, to the place. The government had finally decided to send two ships of war to the China seas, to conclude a treaty of commerce with that nation, so soon as circumstances will permit it.

He spoke in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Friday evening last, to a large and enthusiastic audience. At the close of the meeting. Mr. Hull was invited, on the part of many leading individuals, to lecture another evening. The Worcester Spy says that 'Mr. Hull's speeches seem to be telling with good effect upon our New England audiences.'—Liberator.

CHOLERA.

Dubuque, Iowa, May 5, 1855.

Gentlemen:—I feel under obligation to you for the benefit I have received from your invaluable Pain Killer, A few days since I assisted in laying out one of our citizens who was supposed to have died with the Cholera. The next morning I was taken with severe vomiting, accompanied with coldness of the extremities. Warm covering and hot applications failed to estore warmth; My wife's family who had used the Pain Killer with success during the Cholera season in Buffalo, in 1849 advised me to take it. I took two doses at intervals of fifteen minutes; a fine perspiration ensued. and the next day barring a little weakness, I was well and have been since. Since my recovery I find that several of our citizens have used the Pain Killer as a remedy for Cholera, pronouncing it good. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to a still more extensive notice.

BLEEDING AT THE LUNGS CURED

Seth W. Fowle, Esq.,— Dear Sir: Having been attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs which left me with a troublesome cough and the usual deadly consequent upon such an attack, and having cured myself by the use of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, I feel it a pleasure and a duty to testify to its merits. My general faith in patent medicines is small; but for those who are suffering under pulmonary attacks, I am persuaded that the Balsam is an excellent preparation.

Yours, very truly,

A Census List

OF

The Inhabitants of Stratford C. W.

For 1857, shewing the religious denominations, —those who use intoxicating drinks and those who do not, with the religious Denominations appended,—also taverns and sellers of intoxicating drinks, with also such religious denomination appended -Lists of Distillers and Brewers, with the same—List of Ministers of the County of Perth,—(Lists of members &c, of congregations may be added.) Names of the Teachers of Schools &c. &c.—As it is Stated that the Traffick and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land, are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically show the truth or untruth of the statement.

"Have they not (the traffickers) got enough of our blood?"—Hon, M. Cameron—"the next best legacy and gift to every woman and child of our land, will be the freedom from the traffick" L.—

NOTE The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE," of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks."—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britan's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community.—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are these, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

SATURDAY, JULY 4, 1857 {NUMBER 44

Whereas, the said Colonel Prince has seen fit to speak slightingly of the colored people; in particular, during the rebellion of 1838, when he was in command of the troops in the western part of this Province, he walked arm in arm with colored men, and when he was in danger for having (as he very justly deserved) executed without judge or jury, some border ruffians whom he fell in with captured, it was colored men who gave him his person and household, not one of whom was ever a rebel, or traitor.—

And whereas, this said Colonel Prince owes his election to the distinguished position he now holds, to the votes of colored men, and much of his earthly gains, has accumulated from a lucrative practice of law among his colored clients,—

Be it therefore, it has pleased Almighty God to enlighten the understanding of British statesmen to give that boon to the colonies which few other countries have yet freely: To be free as soon as his foot touches British soil, and ultimately enjoy all the rights and privileges of a subject. And whereas it ill becomes a petty colonial politician at this progress of enlightment to the mother government—to colonize her criminals on a barren island on lake Huron. Our fathers have fought, bled, and died, to wrest this beautiful country from the grasp of a monstruous slaveholding and despotic government, in order to enjoy ourselves, to starve them out, or to imprison us, to starve them out, and finally to overwhelm us by keeping with the black heart and treason of the American Colonization Society, which receives its impulses from the blood stained gold of the South. And as we all know, "Southern gold" is the great work of corruption and bribery and villainy in this Province in high places, and that this new scheme of colonization, by fraud and kidnapping, to deter colored people from emigrating to this Province.

Be it Resolved, That the charges against Colonel Prince, the self styled "Canadian gentleman," against the character of the blacks (as reported in the Colonist of the 10th inst.), are false and false in the extreme, and his inflammatory and despotic language in making those charges, whether instigated by bribes of southern gold, or a too great zeal did so "taint the atmosphere, of the Legislative Council, as to cause several members to withdraw from the Council Chamber.

Be it Resolved, That, we the colored people of Toronto, do cast back into the teeth of Colonel Prince, the foul imputations cast in his speech, as a base slander upon our character as citizens, calculated to foster prejudice against us and to degrade us.

Be it Resolved, That we will resist by all means in our power, any invasion of our rights as citizens; and will hold up to public scorn and contempt, all such panders to public prejudice against color.

Be it Resolved, That we recommend to the constituents of Colonel Prince, that they request him to resign his seat in the Legislative Council immediately, as being unworthy of it to represent them, and as expressive of their unanimous assent toward the colored people without a parallel in the legislative proceedings of this province, not excepting the resolutions of the notorious Family Compact.

Be it Resolved, That it is the opinion of this meeting that the colored people throughout the province should unite in the expression of their most decided detestation of the conduct of Col. Larwill, who have shown themselves mere despotic demagogues, and the bitterest enemies of the colored people, and should set the seal of condemnation upon all so disposed to act.

Be it Resolved, That we will ever hold dear the boon which gives us protection of our persons and property; and we pledge ourselves to Her Most Gracious Majesty Victoria, to be ever ready at a moment's warning to defend the country of our adoption at all hazards.

Be it Resolved, That we tender our sincere thanks to Mr. Garret, for the prompt manner in laying before His Excellency the Governor-General the resolutions of the meeting.

Be it Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Hon. Col. Prince, and also to the Colonist newspaper as worthy of the confidence and patronage of colored people; and therefore, do earnestly urge that they patronize them as much as possible.

Carried.

Resolved, That Messrs. Warren, Baker, and Abbot, be appointed committee of publication.

The meeting then adjourned.

J. M. TINSLEY,
President.

A. R. ABBOTT,
Secretary.

COL. PRINCE AND THE COLORED PEOPLE.

Subjoined will be found a letter from the Hon, Col. Prince, in reply to certain resolutions of the Indignation Meeting held in this city a few days since, which apperared in our issue of Wednesday. Colonel Prince's powers of objurgation are so well known, that the wholesale manner in which he 'pitches into" his assailants will surprise nobody.

We feel bound however to say, that in this city and neighbourhood, the Coloured People have earned for themselves generally, a reasonable amount of respect and regard —respect for the patient energy with which they have to push their way in life, without repining unnecessarily at the difficulties and prejudices they have to surmount; and regard for the good nature and grateful courtesy with which they repay fair or kind treatment. We have never flattered the Coloured People in the slightest degree. We always opposed the Elgin Settlement, as calculated to do more harm than good to the refugee slaves, by building up a permanent wall of separation between them and their white neighbours; and what is worse, by affording no sufficient check upon those depraved habits and tastes, which are the natural consequences of their having been reared in demoralization, brutality and ignorance of the duties and advantages of freedom, While we would treat coloured men as rational and responsible beings, we would by no means exonerate them from the consequences of misconduct or insubordination to the laws; although, at the same time, it should not be forgotten, that to whom little has been given, from him little should be expected

With respect to Col. Prince's opinions and statements, our readers can judge of them as well as ourselves; and will know whether they should be accepted in full cum grano salis.—Colonist.

To the Editor of the Colonist.

DEAR SIR,—Your valuable paper of yesterday has afforded me a rich treat and not a little fun in the report of an indignation meeting of "the coloured citizens" of Toronto, held for the purpose of censuring me. Perhaps I ought not to notice the proceedings—perhaps it would be more becoming in me to allow them to pass at once into the oblivion which awaits them; but as it is the fashion in this country not unfrequently to assume that to be true which appears in print against an individual, unless he flatly denies the accusation, I shall, at least, for once, condscend to notice these absurd proceedings They deal in generalities, and so shall I. Of the coloured citizens of Toronto I know little or nothing; no doubt, some are respectable enought in their way, and perform the inferior duties belonging to their station tolerably well. Here, they are kept in order—in their proper places—but their "proceedings" are evidence of their natural conceit, their vanity, and their ignorance: and in them the cloven foot appears, and evinces what they would do, if they could. I believe that in this city as in some others of our Province, they are looked upon as necessary evils, and only submitted to because white servants are so scarce. But I now deal with these fellows as a body, and I pronounce them to be, as such the GREATEST CURSE ever inflicted upon the two magnificent western counties which I have the honour to represent in the Legislative Council of this Province! and few men have had the experience of them that I have. Among the many ESTIMABLE qualities they possess, a systematic habit of LYING is no inconsiderable eminent; and the "coloured citizens" would seem to partake of that qualification in a pre-eminent degree, because in their resolution they roundly assert that during the rebellion "I walked arm in arm with colored men"—that "I owe my elections to votes of colored men"—and that "I accumulated much earthly gains," principally among "coloured clients." All of which lies! from beginning to end. I had but one company of blacks did duty in the contingent battalion, but they were the very worst of soldiers, and were, I may say speaking, unsusceptible of discipline, and were conspicuous for nothing—a stupid sentry shot the son of one of the oldest Colonels, under a mistake that he was thereby doing his duty. I certainly never did myself the honour of "walking arm in arm" with any of the coloured gentlemen of that distinguished corps. Then, as to my election Few of the blacks voted for me. I never canvassed them, and hence, I suppose they supported, as a body, my opponent. They took compassion upon "A MONUMENT OF INJURED INNOCENCE," and they sustained the the monument for a while, upon the pedestal their influence erected. But the monument fell, and the fall proved that such influence was merely ephemeral, and it sank into insignificant nothingness, as it should, and I hope ever will do; or God help this noble land. Poor Blackies! Be not so bold or so conceited, or so insolent hereafter. I do beseech you.

Then how rich I have become among my "coloured clients!" I assert, without the fear of contradiction, that I have been the friend—the steady friend of our Western "Darkies" for more than twenty years; and amidst difficulties and troubles innumerable, (for they are a litigious race), I have been their adviser, and I never made twenty pounds out of them in that long period! The fact is that the poor creatures had never the ability to pay a lawyer's fee.

It has been my misfortune, and the misfortune of my family to live among those Blacks. [and they have lived upon us.] for twenty-four years. I have employed hundreds of them, and, with the exception of one [named Richard Hunter], not one has ever done for us a weeks honest labour. I have taken them into my service, have fed and clothed them, year after year on their arrival from the States, and in return I have generally found them rogues and thieves, and a graceless, worthless, thriftless, lying set of vagabonds. That is my very plain and simple description of the Darkies as a body, and it would be indorsed by all the Western white men with very few exceptions.

I have had scores of their George Washingtons, Thomas Jeffersons, James Madisons, as well as their Dinahs, and Gleniras, and Lavinias, in my service, and I understand them thoroughly. and I include the whole batch (old Richard Hunter excepted) in the category above described. To conclude, you "Gentlemen of colour," East and West, and especially you "coloured citizens of Toronto," I thank you for having given me an opportunity to publish my opinion of your race. Call another indignation meeting, and there make greater fools of yourselves than you did at the last, and then "to supper with what appetite you may."

Believe me to remain,
Mr. Editor,
Yours very faithfully,
JOHN PRINCE

Toronto, 26th June, 1857.

P. S.—I think it proper to allude to the case of Messrs. Wilkinson and Woodbridge, of whom the Darkies' resolutions make mention, and who were so improperly and so unjustly dismissed form the commission of the peace. Those two magistrates did their duty— they acted upon a statute which has never beed repealed, and they were dismissed for not having acted upon a statue which did not tuch the offence charged—Horse Stealing! However, there is some consolation in reflecting that the black rascal whom they caused to be arrested was tried and convicted of the crime charged and will luxuriate for six years yet to come in the State Prison of Ohio. It is believed (and I believe it too) that the "monument" had much to do in influencing the Executive against those worthy magistrates. J. P.

OUR COLORED NEIGHBOURS.

We refuse, positively, the communication made on the subject. The colored people of Toronto are an example, in point of industry, sobriety, and morality, to their white neighbours.

Out of 5346 persons committed to Toronto Jail last year, 5288 were white men and women!!! Outof 1057 ladies so committed, only 8 were colored!

We judge people by their conduct, not by their color—Toronto Times.

OUT CANVASSING.

Messrs. I. D. Shadd & H. F. Douglass, both of this office, will visit many of the towns and cities in Western and Eastern Canada, immediately, for the purpose of promoting the interest and prospects of this paper, and the cause of humanity generally. Mr. Shadd will act as canvasser &c., while Mr. Douglass, who has just returned from a tour in the Western states, where he has spoken with great acceptance, will Lecture extensively as well as canvass, and we know satisfactorily. Both are young men, and are labouring, in the cause of human rights, and for the spread of intelligence among Canadian refugees."

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces, will give them aid in their work.—M. A. S. C.

THE INDIGNATION MEETING, COL. PRINCE &c.

We devote the first page of our present issue to the colored citizens of Toronto and Hon. Col. Prince, and we shall cheerfully allot space to anything further on the subject provided that due consideration be paid to the length of our columns, but as the question has been asked "what will the Freeman do or say about these charges?" we will take this occasion to say it will neither do nor say anything at present. Experience has taught us that the least said in such cases the better. And as Col. Prince, when in his sober senses most positively denied using the language reported of him at first, we cannot but regard is as out of place to give so much importance to the possibly after-dinner effusions of such exalted personages as members of Parliament even. Besides, we would rather let the people do their own talking upon such matters, though they should thereby do harm to themselves and their cause than incur their censure, (in this land of free thought and speech,) by giving our opinions, for we know something about their censure. In the meantime we will look after and interest ourselves in those measures designed to promote the general good, and will give those facts which no theory or private opinion can controvert.—The item cut from the Toronto Times is to us of vastly more importance than all the Parliamentary speeches and published letters against colored British subjects, or the indignation meetings that may be called to fight such verbose but harmless opinions.—M. A. S. C.

☞ In the "Protection" furnished Colored seamen, form the Port of New York the word "native" is substituted for "Citizen" which was usedbefor the Dred Scott decision.

☞ An enthusiastic meeting was held in Chatham, June 27th, to further the Ship Canal enterprise.

REFUGEES HOME.

We learn with great satisfaction that in the suit brought by the Refugees Home Society's Agent, C. C. Foote, against certain poor settlers, our British Courts have decided against the Society, upon the ground that as the purchase money for the land was begged in the name of the fugitives, they are entitled to the land without payment. The decision is said to be very agreeable news to the settlers, indeed!! Wonder will "brother" Foote continue to beg in any line but the clothes business now? "According" to brother Hotenkiss he will certainly leave. And so he should.—M. A. S. C.

☞ The keeper of a new confectionery shop on King Street, Mrs Curtiet refused to sell ice cream to some respectable colored youngmen on Sunday last, unless they would eat outside of the saloon These cook and other shopkeepers, who keep open a back door, and thereby indnce young men to disregard the Sabbath, that they may get their pence, need hardly be quite so fastidious about any little "one horse" saloon they may have.—M. A. S. C.

THE POPULATION OF THE WORLD —RACES.

Let the axe be brought to the root of the tree. The population of our world is stated to be one thousand millions. All God's responsible and accountable creatures,—"as they live." Of that number, at least seven hundred millions are colored,—and the fraction left, are white or mixedly so.—What presumption then, that so small a number, comparativeiy, and smaller yet when the educated and christianly tutored portion is numbered,—that that number should try to ignore the position of the majority. All of God's creatures nevertheless,—white and colored, and there is no Christianity given to us to authorize the enslavement or the degrading of the majority by the minority, or the enslavement as chattel slaves of any human beings!—"Shall I buy and sell my mortal brother or sister, or their children? Who am 'I?'—Enslave them, is laying down the principle that I also can be enslaved, whether I am white or colored." And for christians—christians—stealthily to traffick in the souls and bodies of Africans, invade their lands, and hold out the bribes of the Christian's civilized rum and intoxicating drinks, powder, trinkets, &c., to ignorant heathen chiefs, to part with their people and possessions And failing all these bribes,—to steal them! And then, what usage afterwards, physicaly and otherwise, towards these poor people, it is too degrading to our human nature to reveal! None but Christians have done it, none but Christians do it !! Unbelievers, Deists, and Atheists, blush, (for you do) blush for humanity,—blush for such Christians! This subject will be resumed at another time.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION AND AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY.

These are and have been (and exposed by us on former occasions) two of the most hypocritically conducted Religious Societies in the known world. Like the hunter or trapper of the American wilds, we "spot" them. We wish all our readers to mark them. Let not the hypocritical attempt at reform, by the A. Tract Society, at its last annual meeting, the other week, in New York, turn aside the truly humane or the Christian, from any other "mark"—for the present—than the one we have "spotted." How unlike such proceedings stands the truly humane and christianly benevolent institution at Cincinnati, the American Reform, Tract and Book Society,—a standing monument indenting on the page of passing history, that the New York A. Tract Society should be avoided. Let all truthful and sincere people, encourage the Cincinnati Society. Dr. G. L. Weed is Secretary and their catalogue of Tracts, Books, &c., stamp its christian character.

The religious boey in Canada, which endorses these two first named pro-slavery "concerns," is the Congregational Union of Canada. For shame! Look too, how the latter has neglected the Societies,—much purer—of its own denomination in Boston. Say the Mass. Sabbath School Society and the Congregational Publication Society.—And the Upper Canada Tract Society,—and the other similar Tract Societies of Montreal, Kingston, and Quebec, &c., endorse or fellowship the said pro-slavery "concerns!" But Canadian laymen are not blind, however, which certain religious teachers have shown themselves to be. There is no excuse for those on British soil, with the opportunities for light, liberty and knowledge which one possesses. to have any kind of fellowship with such pro-slavists or the supporters of all such.

NEW SCHOOL PRESBYTERIANS — UNITED STATES.

We hail the action of this body, at their recent meeting at Cleveland [Ohio] as the first momentous defiant challenge of the Free North against the cursed institution of Slavery in the South. We pray that the example so publicly given, may be liberally copied by all Bodies which have not yet as openly declared against the cruel and horrid system. Let the Northern Methodist Episcopal Church, United States, in their yearly Conferences, have the above example before them. But will they act? Freedom shrieks and Christianity stands abashed and red with shame, at what is done in its name! And who, in Canada, fellowships with any acknowledgement of the vile sin? Let the pro-slavery Canada Wesleyan answer, with the [Baltimore] Maryland pro-slavery preachers in Toronto at the last Conference there, the other day,—and on British ground. Write about fellowship, why the thing was too apparent by that act, to be conceded. And to see declarations by them, in Canada, [when made] against Slavery, made in such a position one might picture of Satan on his knees at a throne of grace!

Book Notices

NEW BOOKS ON AFRICA AND SLAVERY.—Messrs Thompson & Co., Toronto, have always on hand, and can get, at any time, the various Books relating to this subject.—We regret however, that the influential parties in New York, do not circulate widely—"here and there" and in Canada as well,—lists of Books which should be consulted, showing not only the capabilities of that much reviled land of Africa but the base usage of her sable sons. That land, as will yet be shown, when divested of the obstructive means furnished by those who trade in her sons and daughters, will yet appear as a higher country; and when some further proper incitements are made to induce to a more relying dependance on civilized habits than have been,—the land of Africa and her inhabitants will show differently. The various travellers say much in favor of the people. The inhabited creeks, coasts and inlets,—the scenes of infamy and heathenism by christian barks and brokers. furnish no certain reliable source for these at a distance to judge from.

Dr. Livingston's Life and Adventures.—&c., by H. G. Adams, p. p. 2-3. Thompson & Co., Toronto, with map and engravings. The interesting details and observations, and this valuable book, we intend referring to.

American Slavery and Color.—By William Chambers, of Edinburgh, [Scotland] p. p. 216—[Do.]—with valuable appendix of facts. This is a book of stern facts, and shows at once, what the South wishes to do with the stolen African's descendants. The opening pages, with the cited quotations from American authorities, prove indubitably the intentions of a slaveholding power. Every one interested in the welfare of his race, should be made aware of these intentions.—They show a grade of feeling and heathenish desires we were not prepared to find in this, the nineteenth century. There is no surprise at all, with such desires by an indolent slave desiring oligarchy, that these Southerns wish the poor down trodden slave to be ignorant. He must be very weak-minded who cannot percieve this on reading this book. We shall refer to it again, at greater length. Mr. Chambers having seen the land and people in his travels,—besides his other qualifications,—is a high authority.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.—The great scourge of our northern climate is disarmed of half its terrors since we have a remedy so singularly efficacious as Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is worthy of the high reputation which it enjoys.

EVERY family should be supplied with Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer. Its magic effect in removing pain from all parts of the body, has given it a world wide reputation. No family having once used this medicine would willingly be without it. It is what its name purports, a Pain Killer.

issued, inviting subscriptions to the capital stock of the Company organizing under the auspices of the Government for the construction of a line of steamers to ply between the northern and southern extremeties of the island. They have sent to England for proposals to build them.—I. N. C.

It will be seen by the above that Hayti designs to keep apace with other progressive nations.

FREE GRANTS.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD,

THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrell's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opengo Road in the Township of Bradenell, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, or base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

This road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Point, and thence by land some twnty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrisk is situated.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the northern part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and forms a direct line for the distance it runs to the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of Lands on this Road is Mr. T. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The conditions of settlement are very superior, lots are now being surveyed and ready for settlement within the limits of the Agency, being north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashley, Effingham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of Kaladar, and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

THE HASTINGS ROAD.

Almost parralled to the Addington Road, and at a distance West from it of about thirty-two miles is the Hastings Road. This Road beginning at the northern part of the County of Hastings and running a distance of 74 miles, almost due north, also intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road and its extensions.

The Government Agent, is Mr. M. P. Hayes, who resides at the Village of Hastings, lately called Madoc, about 20 miles north of the Town of Belleville. The Road between these places is in good order—the land to be granted by the Crown under the Agency extends from 15 to 70 miles north of the Village of Hastings. The Road through this large extent of land is passable for 40 miles, and money is now being expended to extend it 30 miles further, so that Setters can get in and out without difficulty, and find a good market for surplus produce, as well as convenient facilities for bringing in whatever supplies they may require—abundance of which can be had at the Village of Hastings, where the Government Agent resides

The direct way to reach this Section which is easily accessible, is by Kingston Canada West, thence by Steamboat up the Bay of Quinte to Bellville 56 miles—and thence by a good Road to Hastings, 28 miles.

In order to facilitate the Settlement of the Country and provide for keeping it repair the Roads thus opened the Government has authorized Free Grants of Land along these Roads, not to exceed in each case One Hundred Acres, upon application to the Local Agents, and upon the following.

CONDITIONS:

That the Settler be eighteen years of age

That he take possession of the Land allotted to him within one month, and put in a state of cultivation at least twelve acres of the land in the course of four years,—build a house (at least 20 by 18 feet) and reside on the lot until the conditions of settlement are duly performed; after which accomplisement only shall the settle have the right of obtaining a tittle to the property Families comprising several settlers entitled to lands, preferring to reside on a single lot, will be exempted from the obligation of building and of residence, (except upon the lot on which they live) provided that the required cleaing of the lashme made on each lot The non-accomplishment of these conditions will cause the imediate loss of the assigned lot of land, which will be sold or given to an other.

The road having been opened by the Govemnt, the settlers are required to keep it in repair.

Water for domestic use is every where abundant; and there are throughout, numerous streams and falls of water, capable of being used for Manufacturing purposas.

The heavy timber land is almost always the best and of it, the ashes of three trees—well taken care of and covered from wet,—will produce a Barrel of Potash, worth from £6 to £7 currency. The capital required to manufacture Potash is very, small, and the process is very simple and easily understood.

The expense of clearing and enclosing heavily timbered lands, valuing the labor of the settler at the highest rate, is about FOUR POUNES Currency per Acre, which the first Wheat crop, if an average one, will nearly repay. The very best timber for fencing can be had in abundance. A Settler on these lands, possessing a capital of from £25 to £50, according to the number of his family, will soon make himself his investment. The single man, able and willing to work, needs little capital, besides his own arm and axe—he can devote a portion of the year to clearing his land, and in the numerous lumbering establishment, he can, at other seasons, obtain a liberal remuneratinn for his labor.

The Sections of Country opened by these roads lie in and to the Southern part of the Great Ottawa Region, stratching from and beyond them to the shores of Lake Huron, Lake Nipissing and to the Ottawa River—an immense extent of country whose resources are now seeking and will rapidly obtain development.

The Ottawa Country, lying south of Lake Nepissing and of the great River Ottawa, and embracing a large portion of the land offered for settlement, is capable of sustaining a population of Eight Millions of People and it is now attracting general attention, as the more westeran portions of Canada are being more filled up.

NEWS BY THE "INDIAN"

The remains of Douglass Jerrold were interred on Monday, the 15th, at Norwood Cemetery. There were present, in addition to the members of the family, Mr. Charles Dickens, Mr. Maher, M. P., Sir J. Paxton, M. P., M. Forster, Mr. H. Dixon, Mr. Cornelius Mr. W. M. Thackeray, Mr. Horace Mayhew, Mr. B. Webster, Mr. Buckstone, Mr. Wills, Dr. Erasmus Wilson, Dr. Quain, &c. Mr. Jerrold has died without leaving sufficient to his family, and a committee of his friends has been formed for the purpose of raising a fund for the support of his wife and family.—Mr. Charles Dickens is to superintend a series of performances by an amateur company of ladies and gentlemen. Among the former, the Misses Dickens will appear. The lessees of various theatres are each to devote a night to the same benevolent object; while Mr. Thackeray is to give us his contribution to the fund for the benefit of the widow and family of Mr. Jerrold, the proceeds of one of the nights of lectures; and Mr. Russell will deliver one of his Crimean lectures for the same purpose.

The Handel Festival rehearsals in the Crystal Palace, sydenham, in which the sublime orations of that composer are produced by about 2000 performers, are the most magnificent concerts that have ever taken place in this or any other country. The Queen and her court are to be present to-day at the performance of Judas Maccabæus.

The christening of the Infant Princess took place on Tuesday, the 16th, in the private chaple of Windsor Palace. Her Majesty and His Royal Highness Prince Albert entered the Chapel, accompanied by the Archduke Maximilian of Austria, the Princess Royal and Prince Fredrick William of Prussia, the Duchess of Kent, the Duchess of Cambridge, Princess Mary, the Duke of Cambridge, the Prince of Wales, Prince Alfred, Princess Alice, the Hereditary Prince, of Saxe Meiningen, Prince Edward of Saxe Weimar, &c., &c. Her Majesty and Prince Albert were attended by the Duchess of Sutherland, Duchess of Athol, Countess of Gainsborough, Lady Caroline Barrington, &c., with the great officers of State. The ceremony was performed by his Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishop of London, the Bishop of Chester, Clerk of the Closet, and the Hon. and Very Rev. Dean of Windsor. The royal princess was named Beatrice Mary Victoria.

An explosion took place at Curtis and Harvey's gunpowder factory, at Hounslow, yesterday. It arose from friction whilst cleaning the machinery. One man was killed, another died shortly afterwards, and a third lies in a very precarious state. The building was destroyed, but the machinery though displaced, is little injured owing to the small quantity of material in the house at the moment.

Lord Burgherrish is about to marry the second daughter of Earl Howe.

The Times has a leader on the importance of the island of Penime, at the entrance of the Red Sea, now finally occoupied by the East India Company. It is but the duty of the Indian authorites to take such steps as will make the overland route a safe and rapid mode of transit to repress piracy in those seas, to keep a watch over the wild inhabitants of the coast; and to take measures for maintaining the passage constantly free and open are matters which the company can never neglect. The occupation by England of a strong position at the mouth of the Red Sea can hardly be without its effect on both Mahommedan and Pagan races; and we may reasonably expect that a few years will see the beginning of a great improvement in these long neglected places of the earth, which will furnish, we hope, a new field for the enterprise of Europe.

Letters from Paris state that the question of reducing the rate of discount was not even mentioned at the last meeting of the directors on Thursday. It is probable, however, that this was simply in consequence of the formalities connected with the installation of the new governor. The accounts from the provinces regarding the prospect of the grain harvests are all exceedingly satisfactory. The general result of the European and Asiatic silk crops can now be approximately estimated, and according to advices from Lyons, it is likely to prove better than was at one time anticipated.

The Princess Royal's Annuity Bill passed the House of Lords on Monday, the 15th. The Oaths' Bill by which the Jews will be admitted, not only to Parliament, but rendered eligble for the highest offices in the State, was for-warded materially in the House of Commons, on 15th; some of the clauses having passed by very large majorities.

We have advices from Kingston, Jamaica to the 13th of June. The question of an additional supply of labourers was attracting much attention, and it is evident that the public mind was being gradually prepared for a re-opening of the slave traffic in some shape, either by a direct traffic with Africa or by a free importation of coolies from China. The landing and apprenticing out of the cargo of slaves lately captured at Cuba was hailed as having an important and good effect on the sugar and cotton cultivation of Jamaica. A drought prevailed to the eastward of Kingston, but the south side papers report heavy rains and a good cane crop. Mines yield well. All the British gun boats were ordered home. There was a good supply of breadstuff in the Kingston market and the island was healthy.—Colonist.

The Californians are so incensed as the shooting of Crabb and his party of filibusters in Mexico that they intend to organize another force for the invasion of that country.

Bishop Strachan has issued a circular, naming Wednesday, the 8th of July next for the Clergy and Laity of the Western Divison of the Diocese of Toronto to meet and make choice of a fit person to become their Bishop. The Synod will assemble in St. Paul's Church, London, at eleven o'clock.

The Hamilton Banner states Mr. Henry de Blaquiere, who pocketed about $170,000 as bribes in connection with the Woodstock and Lake Erie Railroad, has offered to refund $30,000 of it, on condition of his being indemnified against the executors of the late Mr. Zimmerman for damages. The offer, it is said, has been rejected

☞ One night last week, a man named Jehiel Robbins, who had established a house of prostitution in the village of Marshal, Mich., was visited by a committee of women who knocked at his door, and when he appeared they threw a bucket of tar over his head, completely blinding him; and then proceeded to strip and cover his body with tar and an overcoat of feathers!

WELLS IN THE DESERT:—The French in Algiers are sinking Artesian wells in the desert, which will be of great benifit. The Arans are frantic with joy in seeing fertility at once restored to their grounds.

Special Notices.

PERRY DAVIS—SIR:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy induces me to pen a word of praise for it. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, Severe Chills, Weariness, Common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA' CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhea, Dysentery Toothache, &c., there is no nothing better than the Pain Killer. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at thirty minutes in a wine glass full of hotwater. I am confident that through the blessing of God, it saved me from the Cholera during the summer of 1849. Traveling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful during the worst case in an hour, or at most, half a day. I have heard many cases the country over of Dysentery being cured by its use.—Put in the teeth, it would stop the toothache.—Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor, D. T. TAYLOR, Jr.,
Minister of the Gospel.

Green, of Windsor, Vt. and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommend them to the public, believing they will fully sustain the recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be so generally diffused throughout the country, that it may be accessible to all the afflicted.

A Census List
OF
The Inhabitants of Stratford C. W.

For 1857, shewing the religious denominations, —those who use intoxicating drinks and those who do not, with the religious Denominations appended,—also taverns and sellers of intoxicating drinks, with also such religious denomination appended.—Lists of Distillers and Brewers, with the same—List of Ministers of the County of Perth,—(Lists of members &c., of congregations may be added.) Names of the Teachers of Schools &c. &c.—As it is Stated that the Traffick and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land, are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically show the truth or untruth of the statement.

"Have they not (the traffickers) got enough of our blood?"—Hon, M. Cameron—"the next best legacy and gift to every woman and child of our land, will be the freedom from the traffick" L.—

NOTE. The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks,(the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks."—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britain's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community. Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those, only, who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is no longer able to take an even and generous view of human nature and its duties. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important paces and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ACTIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c, &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or FOUNDATION, and opposed even on such principles to our British Institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c., have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1 The American Tract Society—New York

2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.

3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.

4. The Methodist Episcopal Church. [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.

5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]

6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.

7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York.—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

Miscellaneous.

To the Editor of the Colonist.

TORONTO, July 2nd, 1857.

DEAR SIR,—My attention was directed to a letter from the Hon. Colonel Prince in your paper of the 27th ult., called forth evidently by the indignation meeting held by the colored people on the 9th ult., in which he expresses in very strong and unmistakeable language, his opinion of the African race, designating them, with one exception, as "rogues and thieves, as a graceless, worthless, thriftless, lying set of vagabonds;" pretty strong language, certainly I shall not say "all lies! lies! lies! from beginning to end," but will certainly say that my knowledge of the colored people of this Province has been very different, and making due allowances for their disadvantages and their antecedents, I think they compare favorably, both in morality and intelligence, with the white population.

Had the Colonel been at all moderate in his remarks, I should not have troubled you with this letter. But as he seems to imagine that old Richard Hunter is the only man of color for whom there is salvation, from one end of this Province to the other, I thought it but right to express my views on the subject, more particularly as they are so entirely opposite to his.

I am not prepared to justify all that the colored people did at their meeting, and think that much said there would have been better unsaid. But in a day like the present, when we boast of our freedom of thought, of our increased and increasing knowledge, of our superiority over our American neighbors, in our freedom from the damning sin of slavery; when we advocate through our journals, our utter abhorrence of the system, and assist in any legitimate way to annihilate it; and in every other respect to benefit the condition of the sons of Africa, we are not prepared for a letter like the Colonel's. Such sentiments we are prepared to expect from an American Senator, advocating the extension of slave territory, the re-opening and violation of order, the severance of the social ties of life, with all the horrors of the abominable system. But such sentiments we are not prepared to hear from a Canadian Legislative Councillor.

We are not denying that there m many of their "George Washingtons," "James Madisons," their Davids, and ris, who are not quite up to the m But is the method proposed by the C nel to elevate and improve them the be Are they down-trodden? Should we them for falling? Are they degraded slavery and its associations? Ignorant cause they do not possess the advant and opportunities of their more highly voured white neighbours. We are t far more likely to improve them by, ac rather as philanthropists than foes; by ning to make them valuable citizens, rat than banish them from the Province.

But, Sir, let us look at the other side the picture, for "I,se got a sperience." have known more than one Richard Hun but it was were the colored man was neit er looked upon as a tainter of the atm sphere, nor a corruptor of white society; b where he is recognized as a rational and telligent member of the community; whe worth, and not color, was the standa where he enjoyed, in comon with the p ulation, the confidence and respect of citizens; and where he was eligible, for a of the positions of trust and responsibilty the bestowment of the Government. Th is the position which the colored man oc pies in the Island of Jamaica, the finest Britain's west Indian Colonies. There t first magistrate of the island is a color man. Many of the members of both Ho ses of Parliament several of the leading of cers of police, some of the most popular, in teligent, and evangelical clergy men of th island are colored men; good citizens, goo legislators, good magistrates, and good sol diers, (the islands being garrsoned princ pally by the various West India regiment who are under the most perfect discipline and I am satisfied that with a different li of policy, the James Madisons and Thom Jeffersons to whom the Colonel has allude may, in many instances, be transfered in Richard Hunters.

Pardon me for encroaching so large on your space. There are two sides to ev ry story, and I have thought it best, a your readers have already had one, th they should have the other and judge fo themselves.

PARADE OF COLORED FREEMASONS.

We copy from the Philadelphia Sunda Dispatch the following account of the recen parade of the colored Freemasons of tha city.

"The parade of the colored Freemason on Wednesday last, in honor of the dedica tion of their new Hall, was a very credita ble affair. The members were all well dressed, respectable in appearance, and gentlemanly in their deportment. The banners were in good taste, the regalia handsome and every participant went through his allotted part in the ceremony with dignity and gravity. It was somewhat of a novelty to see the colored bands of musicians in this parade. Since the days of Frank Johnson, the white musicians have nearly driven the dark melodists from the vocation. The colored brethren seemed to mingle Ancient York Masonry with the Scotch rite. The latter comes from England. They are not recognized by American white Freemasons of the Ancient York ritual. The African Blue Lodges, as appeared by their men in the pay as some of them said of one of our R. R. Candidates, said more than was discreet about the Hon. Col. Prince; and with few exceptions voted against him, in that respect they did what white officials are said to have done; and can safely be put down as company for the office bearer who ordered respectable colored women out of the the Court House. In due time pay day came. The Advertiser's "old English gentleman," who is not seemingly blessed with an over abundance of grace, or charity, dealt with them all! Dealt with functionaries monuments, and colored men in their turn. Our friends of Toronto, not "posted as to what actually transpired West, indignantly repelled the remarks made by the Hon. member when under, as his friends have said bad spiritual influence and, the Col in turn declared himself to be "over reported;" but at sight of the proceedings of the meeting alluded to, the old Adam prevailed, and the world is startled by a funny attempt on the part of Mr. Prince, to grin at the colored people for grining at him. It cannot be otherwise designated, for it is certainly not in quality, either elevated in tone or famous for sentiment. The Honorable Gentleman seems to have been bent on irritating the people, and to that end quotes, expressions supposed to be distasteful to them.

For not chosing to be irritated by such evident nothings as the terms 'darkies,' 'blackies,' &c—for insisting upon keeping out of the mire so lavishly flung at random, by the member (and not without some provocation humanly speaking as we well know) —for having said last Autumn, what every one knows to be true, that Mr. Prince was and is an active and working member and efficient, and above all not having decided to try a hand at misrepresentation or billingsgate with the Colonel for the benefit of a few Reesin and Dougall men here about, who knows whether the entire Deeds, wills, mortages and other little nuisances of civilization may not suffer, or how or whether the squirrel market may not be 'riz' or we may not be houseless seeing that our gunsmiths, plasterers, gassers Advertiser's, &c., have taken the matter up? What shall we do? Do nothing at present, the weather is too warm! But the Freeman will be "kill" they say; die of popularity. Can't help it. —M. A. S. C.

PURELY LOCAL—WHAT SHALL WE DO? &c.

Before emigrating to this Province we were led to believe from report—from the eager and hurried travel of many poor fugitives hitherward, as well as from other tolerably reliable data that once in Canada we should be free, indeed, as we were then in name. That along with the right to physical liberty, there would be freedom of thought and expression. We have fed on the delusion up to the last day or two! It would seem to judge from the movements of certain officials white and colored about Chatham that not only we belong to said redoubtables but must "wiggle in and out" as they do, else over-board must go. Freeman and all. We are asked to be on the popular side. "The Freeman must take the popular side else it can not live" we have been told. Now friends which is the popular side if you please? Every newspaper started in the interest of the colored people directly or indirectly in America and conducted mainly by them, has failed but two, and one of them is crying out continually, and the other so to speak is hobbling on crutches; all the others, from the "Tempest in a tea pot," Mystery, Herald, Colored American, Aliened ditto, to the balance which goes to make up, some one says twenty, have gone down! down! down!! Killed either from excess of popularity — neglect by the people, or from trying to keep pace with the popular cry, instead of defending the right only, "though the Heavens fall." And we who have the benefit of their experience are admonished to go and do likewise, else certain subscriptions at Chatham and Windsor will be stopped. In addition to the dictation from a disappointed beggar or two hereabouts, our "very sore trials," are rendered doubly distressing by the aid always volunteered to unprincipled, knavish or stupid colored people (all colored men not being angels) by white men; should the wire-worker not be a white missionary or a colored brother, he may safely be traced to a white, official or perchance some very knowing editor who of course, has papers to sell. At least if if that be not the case every where it is true of Chatham. Now we humbly ask what shall we do? Will the Advertiser or the dear old brother and church member, who treated certain young men to their "grog" with what he openly boasted as Pankin funds, tell us? or perchance an answer may be had from at least one indefatigable Reformer, now seemingly bent upon winning over colored men against the next campaign to "our side," provided our public documents should not suffer thereby?

By this time some of our readers may say there must be something "rotten in the state of Denmark". There undoubtedly is. During the last campaign, many colored

Mr. Buchanan directed that all persons among the survivors who were likely to give information or identify the deceased should be sent down, at the expense of the department for those melancholy but important objects.

As soon as the presence of the survivors is no longer necessary, the expenses of their transit to their respective destinations will be paid, and any costs incured by their detention to aid the ends of justice.

The St. Andrew's Societies of Qubec and Montreal have been indefatigable in offering every assisnadce and sympathy to the poor people, who may be assured that al who may reach Toronto will meet with similar kindness here from the St. Andrew's Society and all our citizens.

Great blame attaches to the captain of the vessel, and astern investigation will and must take place!—Toronto Times.

THE LAST OF THE FILLIBUSTERS

Three hundred and four of Walker,s capitulated men, including sixty outsiders, arrived at Panama on the 19th ult. One man named Jones died from exhaustion. They were transported by the American bark J. R, Mora, at the expense of the Costa Rican Government. The American commodore, Mervine, paid their transit across the Isthmus by drafts on the United States at $25 a man. These men still remain at Aspinwall as the Mail Steamship Company will not carry them off at any price.—Another company of 139, including 121 men mostly sick and wounded, 13 women and 5 children were sent across the lake and down the river San Juan, on board a Costa Rican steamboats, under the charge of a coloured captain, David Murray, and a coloured crew, to Greytown. At Greytown they were kindly provided for by Col. Canty, an English Officer in the Costa Rican service, and the Mosquito king just dropped down from Blewfields to pay the disconcerted filibusters a visit.

ANOTHER TRIUMPH OF CANADIAN STEAMERS.—QUICKEST PASSAGE YET.—The steamer Indian of the Canadian Mail Line, left Liverpool at 4 p. m. on the 17th instant and reached Reviere du Loup at 3 a. m. of the 27th, making the passage in 9 days 11 hours apparent time. The passengers reached Montreal on Saturday evening, in 10 days from Liverpool. This is the quickest time ever made to Montreal, the quickest but one or two, we believe, ever made across the Atlantic. Ere this summer is over, says the Gazette, we feel sure we shall have to record the shortest ever made.

☞ Miss Watkins, the colored lady that spoke in Airy street Hall last Saturday is a speaker of very superior merit. At first we thought her style partook too much of the recitative, but when delivering some of those pathetic passages of her discourse, we lost sight of that opening fault; she rose to a dignity of style as a public speaker, surpassed by no woman who has been in our midst, it was really beautiful in parts, and modest withal, giving offence to none, melting her audience into sympathy and tears for the poor slave. In closing she appealed to her audience as men and women whose hearts had not as yet become petrified, to remember those in bonds as bound with them —Norristown Republic.

MELACHOLY ACCIDENT.—It is with regret we announce the death by drowning of a young child of the Rev J. Alexander of this town. It appears the child was playing, alone, in the rear of the house, and fell in a cask filled with water. Medical aid was immediately procured, but too late to save the life of the unfortunate child, whose spirit is now happy with its Maker.—Bramt Courr.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE OPPRESSED.—We learn by the Gazette that Col. Geo C. Mendenhall, of Jamestown, Guilford County, North Carolina, passed through this city on Wednesday afternoon last, on his way to Logan County, Ohio.

Col. Mendenhall had with him five negro women, slaves who had been reared in his family, but whom he had emancipated and he was taking them to their destination, having provided for them comfortable homes, and the means to support themselves until they were able to take care of themselves as free women. That makes the fourth trip that the Colonel has made to this State within a few years, and fifty slaves that he has emancipated and settled in Ohio.

Mr. Mendenhall has shown himself a true philanthropist, and the blessings the weak and the suffering will follow him.—Columbus (O) State Journal, June 20.

Children should be carefully prevented from eating orange peel. The Oswego Times says;— "We lern that a little son of Robert Oliver, of this city, about five years of age, is now lying in a very critical condition, from the effects of eating orange peel on Monday last. Yesterday he was taken sick with violent spasms and vomiting, and and threw up the cause of the mischief, but still renains delirious, and great fears are entertained that he will not survive."—Ext.,

An errand of mercy.—Among the passengers who left Southampton on Tuesday by the Brazillian steamer Aron, were seventeen sisters of Mercy, who are gone out to attend the yellow fever hospital at Rio de Janeiro.—Glasgow Paper.

About two weeks ago a negro belonging to Logan Harper, in Chicago, in the state of Mississippi, arose, in the night and killed his wife, by chopping off her head, after which he hung himself on a tree near the house. The reason for this horrible deed was that his wife, a beautiful quadroon, was obliged to submit to the sensual caprices of her master.

THE BURNING OF THE "MONTREAL."

FROM THE QUEBEC CHRONICLE JULY 1st.

THE INQUEST.—When the examination of the bodies was ended on Monday evening, the Coroner's jury met at the City Hall. A man named Carlisle, one of the survivors was produced as a witness, and it was expected that he would have given most important testimony, implicating some of the officers. He absolutely refused to take the oath saying he would "not swear away any man's life," and was committed to gaol by the Coroner for contempt. The identification of the bodies occupied the Coroner and the jury all day yesterday, so that the inquest was not proceeded with. To-day it is supposed, the witnesses will be heard. The Solicitor General appears at the Inquest to watch the proceedings on behalf of the Crown.

THE DEAD.—There were 35 bodies coffined and removed yesterday for interment, including those which were brought down from the scene of the accident, on Monday evening. The recognition of relatives by the survivors from Montreal was most affecting to witness. The friends of the deceased may be somewhat consoled on hearing that, thanks to the philanthropy of Mr. Buchanan, Chief Emigrant Agent, all the bodies recovered have been decently buried. The Scotch emigrants from the "John McKenzie" are all laid in one grave, at Mount Hermon Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Cook and the officers of the St. Andrew's Societies of Quebec and Montreal were in constant attendance, while the dead were being coffined. The Acting Mayor was also present, and made arrangements for the interment of the Roman Catholics

On the persons of many of the victims were found sums of money; one woman examined yesterday, but not identified, had £55 in gold in her pocket. The passengers by the "John McKenzie" were all in good circumstances, and, it is said, drew as much as £10,000 out of the Banks on their arrival here. It this be the case, the report that the deceased have been plundered since taken out of the water, may be correct. Vile heartless wretches to rob the dead! Measures should have been taken to prevent this scandalous depredation But then one can scarce be suspected of such brutality The Government authorities might have ordered a crew of Water Police to the spot; the Mayor could not do so for he has no control over them.

THE LATE FATAL ACCIDENT.

Every thing which kindness could suggest has been done by the Canadian authorities with respect to the sufferers by, and survivors of the late accident.

The proceedings at the Inquest have been watched, by directions of the Premier who is on the spot, by the Solicitor-General East on the part of the Government, by Mr. A, C. Buchanan, the Chief Emigration Agent, who also employed Counsil to watch the proceedings, and also by the Civic authorities.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

In the House of Lords on Monday, the Lord Chancellor stated that the opinion of the law officers of the Crown had not been taken in reference to the lagality of the opium trade of India and China.

The same gentlman also brought in eight Bills in regard to Law Reform, the effect of which would be to consolidate into one statute all those branches of the Criminal law relating to indictable offences.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Smith moved the following resolution;—"That in the opinion of this House, it is expedient that Parliament shall direct its immediate attention to the best mode of removing obstacles which impede the application of British capital and skill to the improvement of the productive power in India."

Mr. Mangles opposed the motion, as unneccessary, considering that India supplying all the cotton would only help themselves.

Several other members made remarks when the debate was adjourned for a week.

FRANCE.

The election of members came off in France on the 21st and 23d of June, and so far as intelligence is received, all passed off quietly.

The general result would not be known for several days, but there was little doubt the Government had swept the provinces.

The returns from Paris were conflicting.

UNDERGROUND RAILROAD FROM DELAWARE TO NIAGARA FALLS.—We learn that three fugitives from slavery, a man, wife and child, arrived at Niagara Falls yesterday (Wednesday) morning. They left Delaware nearly three months ago, when the child was but two or three weeks old, and seem to have had a hard road to travel. A collection was raised at the hotels to help them on their way; and at 10 o'clock they passed over to Canada. The man seemed in the greatest trepidation until he came in sight of the Canada shore, when he burst into tears, saying "I am satisfied."

It is exceedingly creditable to northern humanity that no arrest attempted on the long and perilous journey of the fugitives.—Clifton Times.

A REVEREND NEGRO SENTENCED TO THE PENITETIARY.—Our readers will remember the arrest of the Rev Jehu Anderson, the colored preacher from Madison, Ind., some time last Winter. He was examined in our Police Court at the time, on the charge of running off slaves, and remanded to Trimble County. His trial had just closed in the Bedford Circuit Court, and, upon conviction of the charge, the reverend gentleman was sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years.—Louisville Democrat June 19.

POISON OF A WHOLE FAMILY BY SLAVES.—The family of Edward Gill, of Chesterfield County, Va., have for a month past suffered from a mysterious sickness. The Petersburg Express state, that, about a a month ago, one of Mr. G.'s little children died, and that subsequently himself, himself wife and five children were taken sick, and another child died. A large number of physicians were summoned, and, on instituting a search, they found, in the apartment of the cook and two other slaves, a quantity of carbonate of lead and sugar of lead, both slow but deadly poisons, which the wretches, no doubt, had been from day to day mixing with the food of the unsuspecting family, as it was not until Saturday last that they were supposed to be suffering from poison. Two of the children are still lying in a precarious condition. The slaves are in jail.—The South.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

(NEW SCHOOL.

At their late session at Cleveland, (O.) the New School General Assembly adopted a paper on slavery, which gave offense to the greater portion of the Southern member, who thereupon withdrew, and are taking measures to form a new Presbyterian connection distinct from all others. The following from on editoral of the General Christian Herald, Cincinnati, (O.) a leading paper of the New School Presbyterians, contains, we should think, as fair a statement of the matter, as could well be made, within so small a compass. We have not room for the documents entire.

["The Assembly at Cleveland by a unanimous Northern vote, declared simply two things. 1. That it would abide by the sentiments of the fathers of the church on the subject of slavery, and reaffirm their uniform, time-honored testimony against it. 2. That it disapproved of and condemned the new doctrine of the South that "slavery is right according to the Bible."

To this action, the commissioners from the South objected by a formal protest, thus placing themselves in opposition to the whole spirit, teachings and resolves of the church for the part seventy years. It is not to anything new, to any aggression of Abolitionism to an effort to discipline them for slave holding that they object, but to a reaffirmation of the tetimony of the church, and as condemnation of the doctrine that slavery is right according to the Scriptures.

'On the original platform of the church, the North stands undivided, and the city of St. Louis with it. The Southern churches, having only one-tenth of the entire membership of body, will try to form a new organization on their now basis, that slavery is right and must not be discussed."]

The import of this careful statement, prepared by a New School Presbyterian editor is—that the paper adopted was made acceditable to the Northern members, the conservative as well as the progressive portion of them, that the Assembly took no new ground beyond the old stereotyped standards of the Presbterian Church, Old School and New—that the Southern secession was not consequence of any new anti-slavery progress at the North, but in consequence of new and inovating pro-slavery progress at the South, so the New School Presbyterian Church still stands on the "original platform," and has not moved an inch from where it always has been.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD,

THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrel's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," eading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opongo Road in the Township of Bradford, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, or base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

The road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Pond, and thence by land some twenty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrick is situated.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the northern part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of, the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashley, Effingham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of Kaladar, and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

☞ Read the following tribute to WISTAR'S BALSAM, from the Kinderhook (N. Y.) Sentinel, dated July 31;—

"A remarkable cure of Consumption, has recently been effected by this medicine, in the town of Chatham, in this county, and which was related to us by Dr. Herrick, an eminent physician of that town, to whom we have permission to refer. A young lady who had long laboured under an affection of the lungs, was considered by her friends as beyond the reach of medicine, and she was informed by her medical attendant that she must die. She was induced to send for a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERR, as a last resort. The young lady experienced great relief, and two more bottles were successively procured and administered. She is now happy in the restoration of health.

PERRY DAVIS—SIR:—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy induces me to pen a word of praise for it. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, Severe Colds, Weariness Common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhea, Dysentery Toothache, &c.. there is no nothing better than the Pain Killer. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at thirty minutes in a wine glass full of hotwater.3 I am confident that through the blessing of God, it saved me from the Cholera during the summer of 1849. Traveling amid heat, dust, toil, change of diet and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful during the worst case in an hour, or at most, half a day. I have heard many cases the country over of Dysentery being cured by its use.—Put in the teeth, it would stop the toothache.—Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor, D. (☞ For the attention of all Temperance and Reformers, Legislators, Ministers of religion &c.)

A Census List

OF

The Inhabitants of Stratford C. W,

For 1857, shewing the religious denominations, —those who use intoxicating drinks and those who do not, with the religious Denominations appended, -also tavern and sellers of intoxicating drinks, with also such religious denomination appended -Lists of Distillers and Brewers, with the same—List of Ministers of the County of Perth,—(Lists of members &c., of congregations may be added) Names of the Teachers of Schools &c &c—As it is Stated that the Traffic and drinking habits, and the drunkenness of our land, are confined to Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics, such lists will practically show the truth or untruth of the statement.

"Have they not (the traffickers) got enough of our blood?" Hon, M. Cameron—"the next best legacy an infidel can give every woman and child of our land, will be the freedom from the traffick" L. —

By "AMEN"! -

STRATFORD, C. W. 16th. March 1857, }

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations, Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian business created)—that attention is called to the above, as of such a Plan as the above, to show, STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks."—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britain's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community.—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those, D. V., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character, Selected and Original. Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and livens the imaginative and pictorial. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the POST to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important paces and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 2½ cents a year.

Terms. The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and persons have unrecruitingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid, in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

1. The American Tract Society—New York
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

"This is a book which NO BAPTIST in Canada, —lay or clerical.—should be with out. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. REV. DR. BURNS IN PAISLEY.

A Paisley paper states that this Reverend gentleman, who is at present on a visit to that country, in the prosecution of a mission in connection with the Canadian Church, has been during the past week in Paisley—for about thirty years the scene of his active ministerial labors. On Sunday he preached twice in Free St. George's his late place of worship, the building being filled by his former hearers and many of his friends and admirers from all the religious denominations in town The services were of a peculiarly interesting character. At the close of his eloquent discourse in the forenoon, the reverend doctor referred in touching terms to his former connection with Paisley, and the lively interest he had also felt, and would ever continue to feel, for its welfare, temporal and spiritual. On the occasion [illegible] he had with [illegible] his departure from among them, the people spoke most feelingly. The admission in the forenoon was by ticket, to secure accommodation to the congregation proper; but in the evening nearly an hour prior to the beginning of the service, a crowd sufficient to have filled the building twice over assembled in the street, and, as the proper crowds had to disperse, and wait for the opportunity of ascending, each in turn was honored and revered by all while he [illegible] among the crowd whose departure was to feed upon as a verdict to the [illegible] Dr. Burns [illegible] this morning, at our last accounts from Scotland, was [illegible] Glasgow [illegible] Assembly [illegible] Dr. Cairns [illegible] Rev. D. Ramsay, [illegible] seconding Dr. Cairns's motion [illegible] thirty years since, Dr. Burns had been the author of the whole missionary enterprise of the Church of Scotland, which had now grown to such vast dimensions." Mr. Brown and others of Toronto have poorly rewarded the venerable doctor for his early exertions, but even their persecutions may yet produce good results.—Berlin Tel.

THE ORANGE ORDER.

* * * *

And what my brethern, are the characteristic of our order—the principles of our Institution? Are they opposition to the Roman Catholics, simply because they differ from us in their theological views? Are they such as to crush the rights of others for the purposes of persecution and proscription? By no means! The principles of Orangeism, when rightly understood are found to be generous honourable and truly patriotic. Orangeism acts cheifly on the defensive and eschews altogether persecution. Our principles leads us to succor and [illegible] those who are persecuted for the [illegible] [illegible] not to [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] persecuted [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] religious turn, and if those glorious principles were carried out in society, we should be a people throughout the whole empire kind and tender hearted one towards another" doing unto others as we should wish [illegible] to do to us. We are unflinching Protestants truly, and do not believe in the peculiar tenets of the Papal church; we wish our principles to be universally disseminated; we hesitate not for a moment to say that we believe the Church of Rome an impure church; but as Orangemen we cannot, nor are we inclined, to force Protestanism upon any of our fellow subjects by fire and sword; nor will we bear to see our Roman Catholic fellow subjects torn away from their homes and led to the place of execution, in open defiance of our laws in order that we may destroy a church which has fallen into error. We will enjoy our rights and privileges as Britons, Protestants and Freemen in spite of all the Bulls of the Roman Pontiff and all [illegible] of persecuting crowds, we will give others the same privileges which we claim for ourselves. Moral suasion; education; the Bible; Prayer; forbearance; an explanation of the truths of our holy religion, together with a firm reliance [illegible] the sword of the spirit, and the blessings of Almighty God are the weapons which we employ for the propagation of our faith; and by these we expect to gain the victory over every form of error; and to secure to all generations of our fellow subjects the glorious privileges which are their birth right as a British people and loving subjects of our most gracious and beloved Queen.

Extract from speech of Henry Lemon Esq. M. P. before Brant. Orange Association.

ANTI-TOBACCO APPEAL.

A member of the M. E. Church, South, Thorington by name, has published a touching appeal to his brethren against the use of tobacco. Some of his paragraphs are particularly pungent, and ought to be exciting, if not convicting. He says:

"The gambling-house of the large city, with its costly and splendid decorations, pretty barbanks, and games of a more fashionable character, under the joint stimulating influence of wine and tobacco. A fortune [illegible] there with the rapidity of the puff of a gun; and the price denominated by its possessors, a Hell. It cannot be denied but that the highest and lowest abodes of liquor and tobacco hold joint dominion over their victims. Your eyes have beheld a young man whose first vice was indulgence in tobacco; the habit increased with his years to manhood; then [illegible] the [illegible] glass and depraved practices, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WHAT COLORED MEN ARE DOING IN CANADA.

While a few disaffected individuals—among our colored brethren in one or two little county towns, self styled the colored people of Canada, are "fretting and fuming" the people—"the sure enough people", are busy at work honestly trying to support themselves by day labor, trades,—"turning a penny in trade," or farming. Our farmers are planting, clearing, tending crop sympathysing with distress at home and praying for the slave in chains, and God's blessing upon the poor. The Raleigh Plains, are being settled by earnest men—industry keeps up a musical buzzing throughout the country and in town the working bees are preparing to store away. Men and women are gardening and planting who never dreamed of the necessity before, all seemingly intent upon keeping out the unwelcome intrusions of two formidable enemies, a cold Winter and superannuated beggars.

Last Winter, we were blest with "revivals" among black and white, which are good enough in their place, but very little if any thing else, with no abatement of intolerance, ignorance, mendicancy, mendacity, nor any other of the evils that should, would and will flee when the right spirit is abroad—taking more forethought, already two new singing schools are open under, Messrs. Johnson and Day, and we may safely predict some stirring lectures and other literary efforts to alternate with the other winter meetings and thereby improve the head and heart as well as the heels of the community.—MA. POLITICS.

Colored men of Sandwich, and Windsor have been holding Indignation meetings, and we have been informed that a proposition from the Hon. Mr. Rankin and his friends has been made to get up a similar meeting her and to call upon Col Prince to resign This contemptible effort to make 'cats paws' of colored menshould be frowned upon by all right-minded men. An offer has also been made to furnish resolutions, and other matter needed for the indignation meetings; thus making pack horses of colored men to carry into the Legislative Council a party, who, to judge from the petition of four hundred from Essex, will not be likely to run for the lower House again. The colored man who wrote the Windsor resolutions and address, would be as hard to find as a needle in a hay stack. He does not exist we dare to say So there are the documents not only "cut and dried," to order but actually telling out the meeting the aspirations of the originators. Shame! Shame! —M. A. S. C

INVITATIONS TO SPEAK.

We are sorry that our pecuniary circumstances and the many embarassments under which we labor at this time in our efforts in connection with the earnest labors of Mr. I. D. Shadd and M. A. S. Cary to sustain a Paper among our exiled fellow countrymen in Canada, has prevented us from complying with the numerous invitations we have received from various sections of the West, to address Societies, Masonic Celebrations, 1st, of August Anniversaries, &c., we can only hope that the friends in Richmond, Amherstburg, Chicago, Alton. Niles, Fairfield and Wilmington, may have a very pleasant time and be succesful in the various demonstrations they propose to make. The Colored Citizens of Wisconsin Celebrate the emancipation of the slaves in the West-Indies, on the 4th August, and our services have been secured for the occasion.—H. F. D.

Mr Haywood Day, formerly keeper of the Provincial House has fitted up a neat Saloon for the sale of Ice cream and fancy Cakes. Mr. Day is already known to furnish the best cream and more cake for ready cash than any of the purveyors in his line. Give him a call.

Mr. Armstrong, next door to the corner of King & William Sts. Keeps on hand a large supply of new and second hand Clothing of every description. Mr. A. has had a long experience in the business, and the necessity of an enterprise of the sort in Chatham is apparent judging from his rapid sales already. See advertisment.

If you can paint fire with charcoal light chalk, and make colors live and breathe, then you can with words give a faint idea of the excellence and magic effects of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. Its reputation is of world wide renown; its introduction is received with great favor in foreign lands.

Correspondence.

1014 Green Street, Philadelphia, June 16, '57.

M. A. S. CARY.—My Dear Friend:

At a meeting of "The Philadelphia Female Anti-Slavery Society," held on the 11th inst., on motion of Lucretia Mott, Ten Dollars were voted to the "Provincial Freeman," Canada,—the Society desiring that the paper be sent to the Anti-Slavery Office in this city.

There was much interest and sympathy expressed in the cause pursued by that band, particularly in the independent spirit it expresses and strives to inculcate, believing with the editors that the principle of self-helpfullness is the only true ground on which to build a true and permanent character worthy the respect and reliance mankind.

* * * * *

Yours truly,
SARAH PUGH.

We beg to tender to the ladies of the above named society, through Miss Pugh, our grateful acknowledgment of this generous token of their remembrance of the Freeman, and their appreciation of our humble efforts.—EDS. FREEMAN.

MR. DOUGLASS' LECTURE.—On Sunday afternoon last, a Mr Douglass, (not Frederick,) one of the editors of the Provincial Freeman, Canada West, made an anti-slavery speech in the Baptist Church of this place. Mr. D. appears to be an educated man, and a fine speaker, with the exception that he is in style too sentimental and denunciatory. Being a British subject, we thought his remarks a little too harsh to be in good taste.

Must an Anti Slavery man suppress the truth because he happens to be a British subject? We think friend Augee in his concientious moments will revolt at the thought.

"DARKIE-DOM" IN CANADA.—In a letter written from Detroit apparently by a lady, to the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, we find the following:

"Windsor, which is directly opposite from Detroit, joins Sandwich. It is the commencement of the Great Western Railroad and the rendezvous of darkiedom. The place is redolent with their misery, their unfitness to take care of themselves. If the hundreds congregated there and at Chatham, that abomination of civilization, are the result of negro freedom, I never desire to see another negro freed. I took a little wench of fifteen myself from there, some six months ago, as nursery maid. Her mother had the impudence to represent herself to me as the the venerable Eliza Harris, of Uncle Tom celebrity. The grin of irrepressible delight with which she consigned her child to us, entire strangers, and beheld the train start which was to put some hundred miles between them seemed to me a gentle libel on those tortous partings in Uncle Tom, over which have been rained such copious showers of sentiment. The girl was given away, the same authority to be exercised over her, as though it had been a moneyed transaction South. And the result; from the nursery even now there comes a soft lullaby, and if you were to look therein, you would see a small white face in clouse juxtaposition to that black cheek' little clinging arms are ever round her neck, loving voices in her ear. Half starved, scantily dressed, and ignorant she came to us. When we look now upon our sable Lillie, smiling and happy, we smile involuntarily at the furor of sympathy which Mrs. Stowe's finest book awoke in our hearts.

☞ We do not believe one word the Detroit "lady" wrote; but if such heartlessness were true of a colored woman, many white women might be found equally censurable.

We gave publicity a few days ago to the strange and interesting narrative of Dimmock Chalton, a native African, who claims to have been taken prisoner of war from on board the British brig "Peacock," when she was sunk by the American schooner Hornet in the war of 1812, and to have been sold, and kept in Slavery in Georgia ever since We are now happy to announce that Lord Napier, H. B. Majesty's representative at Washington, having had his attention called to the subject, has already commenced an investigation for the purpose of ascertaining the true state of the case, and with a view to vindicating Dimmock's rights, if the accuracy of his statements can be substantiated.

ARRIVAL OF SIR WILLIAM EYRE.

Soon after four o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Administrator of the Government Sir William Eyre, arrived at the Queen's Wharf, from Kingston, on board the steamer Advance. The Royal Canadian Rifles, and several companies of the Militia together with a detachment of police under the command of Mr. Sherwood, were in attendence to receive his Excellency. The crew and officers of the Advance were dressed in a very neat and sailor-like uniform. As soon as his Excellency landed from the boat, the signal was given, and a salute of nineteen guns boomed fourth a welcome; the different corps presented arms; the bands struck up "God Save the Queen," and Sir William and Lady Eyre rode off in a carriage and four, direct to the Government House, attended by the York Cavalry, which acted as a guard of honor. The rifle companies and police then wheeled off to their respective quarters but the artillery, preceded by their band, marched, through several of the principal streets of the city. The heat, which was very oppressive, kept many of our citizens away, who would otherwise have been out to welcome his Excellency. There were few present; among them we observed Mayor Hutchison and two members of the Cabinet, Hon. Col. Tache and Hon. P. Vankoughnet. The different volunteer corps, as well as the regulars, presented a very soldier-like appearance.

THE REAL OBJECT OF MR ATTORNEY GENERAL McDONALD VISIT TO ENGLAD.—COLONIAL FEDERATION; BUT UNDER WHAT CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT.

Le Canadien, of Quebec, has the following in relation to the object of Mr Attorney General McDonald's visit to England. Our readers should know that Le Canadien is the avowed French Canadian organ of the Government official, and invariably gives whether in correction of others' statements or in making an original one of its own, the Ministerial version of matters. It says of Mr. McDonald's visit:—

"The Upper Canada papers announce the departure of Attorney General McDonald for England. They say they do not know the object of his voyage, and furnish divers reasons more or less probable. For our part, we are in a position to announce, with very certainty of not being decived, that the object of the Attorney General's voyage is to obtain the assistance of the Mother Country for the opening of an inter-colonial railway between Canada and Halifax, and that he will meet at London a deputation sent for the same purpose by Nova Scotia, which has taken the initiative in this scheme. —We leave our readers to make their own commentary. A letter received by us from Halifax, of the highest authority, has furnished us with this news, which is confirmed by what reaches us from the Seat of Government. We have reason to believe that this is only a preude to the Confederation of the British American Colonies, and that the Governor General to England has something to do with this question. Coming events cast their shadows before."

☞ During the recent riots in New York, John Myers received a stray bullet in his side as he was passing in the locality of the fight, and remained in utter ignorance of his wounded condition for nearly three quarters of an hour. He crossed Bayard street to Centre, walked down Walker street to West Broadway and there took one of the Eighth avenue cars. He then rode up as far as Nineteenth street, and it was not until the car stopped and he attempted to rise and take his departure that he discovered that he was shot. He was assisted to his home and there attended by a physician, and subsequently died from hemorrhage produced by the wound.

☞ The Coroner's Jury on the late steamboat accident at Montreal, returned a verdict of Manslaughter against John Wilson, Jr., owner of the unfortunate steamer; John Charles Rudolph, the Captain; Jean Baptiste Daval, the Pilot; and Louis Roderge, the Mate of the vessel.

☞ The Cayuga Sentinel says that the crops in that neighbourhood never looked better than they do at present. We hear similarly encouraging news from nearly all parts of the Province.

SIX HUNDRED SOLDIERS AND TEAMSTERS KILLED BY THE INDIANS.—St. Louis, July, 7.—The St. Joseph's Journal of the 2nd instant, publishes a report brought by a French trader that 100 troops and 500 teamsters under command of Col, Sumner, were attacked by a large body of Cheyennes and Arapahoe Indians, 200 miles west of Fort Kearey. All were slain. The report is confirmed by a trader arriving from Pacific City Iowa, and also by an emigrant train from Salt Lake.

A NEGRO APPOINTED TO OFFICE IN WISCONSIN —SECRETARY OF STATE REFUSES TO FILE THE BOND.—On the 9th day of July, 1857, a commission as notary public was issued by Governor Bashford, to H. Nolan' a person of nut brown complexion and negro extraction; who has resided in this city many years as barber, ice cream. saloon keeper, and leader of a cotillion band He also invented the 'capitaluvium,' and 'capilopherous,' two varieties of 'dog waters,' in general use and circulation for the hair.

The commission is issued with all the proper formalities, and the bond required by law is signed by Wm H. Nolan, and by Wm. B. Jarvis, as bondsmen.

But the Secretary of State, Col. Jones, refuses to file the bond, and on it we find the following endorsement:

"This appointment is in violation of the Constitution and therefore void.—Madison Argus.

HER MAJETY'S ACCOUNTS —"Do you think (said Mr Denison, M. P., at Wakefield) that her Majesty is anxious that her sugar should cost her 1od. per pound. when she may get it for 5d? I can assure you, and I do not speak off the book, that Her Majesty pays her bills as regular as any man I address. Nay, I tell you more. She knows the price of every article she orders before she orders it. She does not order it on credit, and take the chance of being able to pay; and she sets her subjects, as many other cases, an excellent example, which I wish they would follow.

We have news from Honduras to the 1st ult. The authorities have changed the name of the town of Puerto Caballos to that of Cortez, in order that it may not be confounded with Puerto Cabello in Venezuela The treaty with Great Britain guaranting the railroad, has been ratified, while the convention reconceding the Bay Islands to Honduras and terminating the Mosquito Protectorate was still in the hands of the Legislature Committees The Legislature was to meet in extra session in a few days, and it was regarded as very probable that both the propositions would be accepted.

☞ An investigation of facts in human physiology has submitted that the use of Tobacco is the cause of early deaths to an extent almost incredible, yet painfully alarming. Amongst the society of Friends or Quakers; who do not use "the weed" of those that are born one-half live to the age of forty-seven, while those born in the general population of London only live two years and three quarters. Among the Quakers one in ten arrive at eighty years of age, of the general population of London only one in forty. If this difference is the result of the use of Tobacco, the sooner its use is prohibited by statue the better. At all events, with the suppression of the Liquor trade should take place the suppression of the use of Tobacco.

The Montreal Gazette—a paper also very well informed upon such matters—corroborates the statement; and we have every reason to believe that Le Canadian's version is the correct one.—Col.

☞ The free States are guardians and essential supports of slavery. We are the jailors and constables of the institution ... There is some excuse for communities, when under a generous impulse, they espouse the cause of the oppresed in other States, and by force restore their rights; but they are without excuse in aiding other States in binding on men an unrighteous yoke. On this subject, our fathers, in framing the Constitution, swerved from the right. We their children, at the end of half a century, see the path of duty more clearly than they and must walk in it. To this point the public mind has long been tending, and the time has been for looking at it fully, dispassionately, and with manly and Christian resolution. . . . No blessing of the Union can be a compensation for taking part in the enslaving of our fellow creatures; nor ought this bond be perpetuated, if experince shall demonstrate that it can only continue through our participation in wrong doing. To this conviction the free States are tending;—W. Ellery Channing.

STRANGE SLAVE DEVELOPMENTS.

The St. Louis Democrat of Thursday last contains the following singular state of facts among its local items. The process of takking men and women back to Slavery, looks a little hopeless on the face of it, but perhaps Mr. St. Clare can tell better about it after he has carried it on for a year or two. It is at all events, a new feature in the reciprocal trade between Detroit and St. Louis:

On the 29th inst., one Benal A. Chappell made affidavit before Justice Waite, that on the first of last June one St. Clare had stolen a negro named Ben Wright, the property of A. S. Mitchll. valued at $15,00. St. Clare, being in the city, was arrested and admitted to bail of $1,00, and on Tuesday was exmined before the justice.

On the examination Benal A. Chappell testified: "That he had lived in St. Joseph, sold out, resided now nowhere, he was a grocer, procured Ben Wright from St. Clare the St. Charles Hotel, Jefferson City, two or three days previous, by claiming the property of his father, and paying St Clare $260 for catching the negro; that defendant told him he got the negro at Detroit, Michigan. and was informed by the negro that he had a master; that defendant further said in the presence of others, that he was engaged in kidnaping negroes and running them off from Detroit and Canada; that he had two negroes a man and his wife at the Biddle House in Detroit, whom he meant to employ on his own farm; that defendant cautioned him very particular not to have his name put in the papers, as it would injure him very much; that the defendant also said also said that he bought the negro in St. Louis county, Mo and that the negro had seen his master from the cars St. Louis, and was, with great difficulty' keptin the cars when leaving for Jefferson City; that Ben showed a note on the bank of Misouri for $2,000, which defendant said he had given him, telling him that he might buy himself shonld his master claim him, intending thus to quiet the negro and conversing with Mr. Mitchell on monday, St Clare came up. was asked by Mr. M, how much Chappell had paid him. and said that he had once before had the negro in St Louis at Lynch's.

W. L. Catherwood testified, corroborating the statements above.

B. Chapman policeman said that in conversation with defendant, on his representing himself to him as Chappell's brother defendant had made similar statement, to those sworn to by Chappell; that he arrived from Jefferson City, with defendant on Sunday last.

Bernard M. Lynch testified: That about a month since defendant called upon him, remained in the city but two days, called again in 8 or 10 days with the negro in question, and left with the same for Jefferson City; that he advised defendant to take the negro to Jefferson City, because he did not think St. Louis the right place to investigate the ownership of the negro, as he found and knew that the negro might be discharged on a writ of habeas corpus writ; had directed defendant about getting the negro out to this state, i. e., any runaway negro: did not know that defendant was going to bring this negro; told him he would pay him $800 to bring one that he owned from a free state, or the same to bring one in which he was interested, from a free territory; that after they had left for Jefferson City, Mr. Foss brought to him from that place the name of Mr. Mitchell, as that of the negro's true master; that he did not know the Mr. Mitchell in the case, and advised Mr. Ross to return to Jefferson City, and that in about six days after St. Clare first called upon him, he received from him the following letter.

DETROT, June 4, 1857.

Mr. Lynch—Dear Sir: I have had an interview with J. C. Grant—he is a nigger of the worst kind—he is coming to St. Louis for the purpose of enticing niggers away from their homes. There is one now in your city who communicates with him, but his name I could not obtain, he evidently obtains interviews with some of your hands. Arrangements have been made to carry off your girl that communicates with her mother in Chatham. You must look to the boy that we were speaking of, i. e., that brought the mortar through the room. Extensive arrangements have been made by some of the niggers in Chatham for a regular campaign through the Slave States. I have succeeded in obtaining two fine fellows, and I am waiting for two more, and I want you to loan me $50 until I arrive at St. Louis where I will repay you, my funds having fallen short.

I am, sir, yours sincerely
PERCY ST. CLARE.

B. M. Lynch, Esq

Mr. L. further said: He declined making the loan asked; did not believe in the success of the undertaking to return slaves from Canada and the free states, defendant arrived here the day after he received the letter; told him he had a boy at Alton who said he had a master in St Louis, and that he could bring him, but his funds were short; he handed defendant $20; saw him the next morning; learned that he had the boy at at Townsley's; was asked to take charge of him, but declined; was then asked to go with him and see the boy, but declined; advised him to take him to Jefferson City there to get his history; told him he would see the negro in the crowd at the depot, and if he recognized him, would have him arrested; gave defendant $5 to buy a ticket; never saw defendant in possession of Chappell; had no interest, directly or otherwise, in the matter, and never engaged defendant to bring negroes here; defendant brought no letters of introduction to him; had never received any consideration for the money he advanced; had not employed counsel for defendant, knew A. S. Mitchell; never thought of him as owning negro; never would of suspected him of owning a negro.

Other and collateral statements were made by Mr L. of less interest. The examination having continued to 2 P.M., it was adjourned to 4 p.m. and bond for defendant's appearance was taken in the sum of $1,500, with B. M. Lynch as security. When the hour of 5 P.M. arrived, defendant came not, and Justice Wait adjudged the bond to be forfeited; and also the bond of $1,00, given on the 29th for appearance on the 3th, not to depart from court till discharged by due course of law. The security for the $1,000 bond is Lewis Chandler, and the amount declared forfeited is $ 1,500

PROOF THAT DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED.

BOSTON, January 16, 1851. Gentlemen:—Regarding all patent medicines with distrust, it was not until I had been reduced to helplessness, and confind to my bed, and after the skill of physician had failed to benefit me, that I could be prevailed upon by the solicitations of friends, to try your Oxygenated Bitters for Dyspepsia, a disease from which I have suffered in all its most terrible forms for about eleven years.

Some 4 weeks since I commenced using these Bitters, and the trial has proved the virtue and efficacy of the medicine in my restoration to health.

I am glad of an opportunity to use my influence in recommending this medicine to those afflicted with this horrible disease, believing that in all cases of Dyspepsia it will prove a positive benefit, if not an effectual cure.

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the 'DISGRACE' of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks,(the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community.—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, laboures &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

"household goods" by fire, the "Methodist congregation volunteered $44 to him as their quota of the very liberal donations, to the same end by the citizens generally, so that his pecuniary state is better than before," she told just one truth, viz: that he was burned out. He received in all $17 69c. while his loss was some $300. Query; if the citizens generally, gave very liberal donations to that amount, how much did the collection of Methodist Church amount to? So when she said "Elder Piper preaches to, encourages, and and begs for separate Churches and Schools," she should have said, that the church to which Elder Piper preaches, had an existence prior to any white Baptist Church, in Chatham. Had she told the readers of the Freeman that Elder Piper started a school when urged to do so; a school in which no distinction of color are made. She had told the truth, though her friend Metyger, who came to Chatham to teach the prescribed Government School should not have the support of a false statement to prop up his claims. We are at a loss to know what she means, when she says "a few colored people aided by their Missionaries from the United States, petitioned to the Canadian Government, that their children might have the Separate School privilege then desired by them and their prayer was granted."

We have yet to learn, who those "petitioners" were and what "Missionaries from the United States" aided them to obtain such "privileges." She says "if C. Brown has defied any one, to say he has ever sent for old clothes or wanted any," if C. Brown denies this statement in toto, and says he has done the deed, complained of, and will do it again, when he shall have occasion to do so.

But, the great offence of Elder Piper is his, in saying "if anything is done, either intellectual, or morally, here to bless the colored people, it must be done by a mission sustained by the friends of the colored man." We believe this statement to be correct as a general truth, and in proof, would ask why did not Mr. Metyger succeed in getting a private school in Chatham, when he failed to secure the Government School? Elder Piper took himself out of the way honorably and publicly.—There is but one reason: The colored people were not able to meet the expense; and yet we suppose his terms were as low as he could afford. As long as the colored citizens of Chatham pay taxes to support the entire people? As for ourselves, we know we should be quite as much benefitted by Mr. Douglass, if he were now employed at his business as a barber, in Cleveland, as we are by the intelligence he diffuses among us. We believe Mrs. Cary to be the enemy of the Cross of Christ and when she vilifies the names of the tried friends of the slave, we are not surprised. She knows how to applaud the enemies of the Refugees—such as Col. Prince, and to abuse their friends. But we look upon the wholesale begging, for the Provincial Freeman as a low and scandalous act, as we believe, it is only to benefit the Proprietors, and not us: because we believe a good paper devoted to the interest of the "Canadian Refugees" ought to be, and would be sustained, by the more than forty thousand, with the aid it would get from the rest of mankind. As the paper is now managed, we think it an injury rather than a blessing, to those to whom it professes to plead, and we most emphatically declare, that we are not benefited by the labours of Messrs. Shadd and Douglass, however much they may spread intelligence abroad. We make these statements in good faith, and if Mrs. Cary chooses to deny them, we will defend them openly in a public assembly in Chatham when such assembly is called by her.

H. F. DOUGLASS, one of the editors of the Provincial Freeman (C. W.) has been lecturing, of late, in Delaware County Pa. In the Chester Republican we find the following notice of his labours in that place:

"Notwithstanding the extreme heat of the weather, the Hall was well filled with both sexes, who gave close and attentive audience from the commencement to the close of his remarks. The speaker pointed out the evils of slavery, showed their effects upon the people of the North, whom he censured more for its continuance and support than those of the South, and denounced, in the most earnest language, that extensive class among us, called doughfaces, on whom, more than any others, the slaveholders rely for to support the institution. We have er heard more truthful and earnest lange than that which fell from the speaker's when recounting the wrongs inflicted his race. He was bold, eloquent, manand defiant in his language, and demonted clearly every point of his subject. came among us, he said, to make con s to the cause of freedom and he spoke nly of slavery, it was because he felt nly upon a subject that roubed him of manhood had sought to degrade him, and reduced him to the condition of "a tel. He had been born in Virginia, the ber of Commonwealths and statesmen—tate which gave birth to the Father of ou ntry, and was the home of the Father Democracy, the author of the Declaration Independence, which proclaimed life, rty and the pursuit of happiness the enable rights of man—yet were a citizen o there, or to any other slave State, and rcise the liberty of speech, proclaim the his he now did here, he would find him dangling to the nearest tree. For more an hour the speaker continued to deal blows with powerful effect upon the inition of slavery and those who uphold it, trating with appropriate anecdotes many e strong points of his argument, in a ner which carried conviction to his ers."

SLAVERY IN MINNESOTA.—It is a notorious fact that negro slaves in a considerable number are now owned and worked in Minnesota. A man, and a man of means, who has once received the votes of his fellow Democrats for the Legislature, holds gangs of of slaves over on the Minnesota river, which he works upon his farms in open defiance to public sentiment, but in beautiful harmony with the Democratic Dred Scott decision.

Men have passed through our city with their slaves several times during the Winter and less than four weeks ago a Southern gentleman took rooms at one of our first-class hotels, registering his name as ——— and servants." He had five of the animals on the St. Louis boats have repeatedly and frequently been mounted in part by slaves from the St. Louis market, and some such case occurs almost every day. And it is generally reported—we know how truly—that a slave is being held in slavery and will continue to be held in defiance of the Minnesota law, for the avowed purpose of provoking another Dred Scott decision from the five immortal slaveholders on the Supreme Bench.

Now, Minnesota is coming into the Union as a State. The Republicans have a majority—and a working majority—in the Constitutional Convention. We would counsel no rash and imprudent measures: but the least the Republicans can do in that Convention, in honour to themselves and in defence of the future State, will be to every fugitive and to person claimed as such the rights inviolate of habeas corpus and trial by jury. Let us build a wall of adamantine law around the State that blood-thirsty kidnappers cannot climb over. Let us make our soil free and our schools free, our homes and hearts, our prairies, wood and water free—free as air—so that if a kidnapper shall presume to invade our North-Western Asylum of liberty, he shall be headed off and hurled back to his native slave den in an irresistible hurricane of hisses. Minnesota must be free—free not merly by non indulgence in Slavery, but by utter non-complicity with it, or she will be unworthy the name she bears of "The Northern Star" of the Republic.—St. Paul Times, 23d ult.

"NOTHING BUT A NIGGER"—In the St. Louis Republican—a singular misnomer for an Old Line Whig Buchanan sheet—of Monday, we find an offer of "seven hundred dollars reward" for the apprehension and return of the following described human chattels. Marshals and their deputies will please notice:

"One bright mulatto boy, named William about 22 years of age, hair nearly straight. One boy named Lewis, 19 years old, brighter colored than William, hair straight. A girl named Mary Jane, 14 years old, a pale face, hair light colour. A boy named Ned 8 years old, rather darker than the others."

But the strangest part of this strange eventful history to our Northern men who have been taught that slaves are so superlatively happy and contented, and that even the Canadian fugitives long to return to their masters' "flesh pots" we read further on that the master.

"Will pay $200 for the apprehension and delivery in this city of Louisville, of the father of the children, on his conviction, for running off said slaves."

The said Louis having bought himself from the advertiser, and,

"The mother is now paying for herself, and I therefore wish to punish such base ingratitude."

The father of these "bright complexioned pale faced straight haired" chattles should certainly be punished for the "base ingratitude" of buying himself; so we say to our fugitive law officials everywhere, "be-stir yourselves, the Union is endangered! Save! Oh, save!"—Greensburg (Ind.) Repub.

GENERAL WALKER IN THE SOUTH.—William Walker, the extinguished man of destiny, is moving along the shore of the Gulf of Mexico. He was at Mobile last week, where he eluded a committee of Alabama patriots reparing to the steamer to welcome his arrival, and lodged himself at the Battle House, at which he was overhauled by the committee, and persuaded to deliver himself upon the balcony of sundry expressions of his confidence that the "war" Southern hearts of his audience were with him," and that the present seedy state of Nicaragua fillibusterism would sooner or later pass away. After a brief stay he departed from Mobile for New Orleans, between which cities he seems at present to be running an express.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

DISGRACEFUL TREATMENT OF A FATHER BY HIS SON.—A poor old man calling himself Alex. Young tottered into our office a few days ago, soliciting money to prosecute his search of an unfilial son, who had stolen $245 in cash from him, and left for parts unknown. The money he said was the hard earnings of the family, and was intended for the purchase of a span of farm horses for his place near Goderich. The son absconded with the money on the 8th of July, since which time, no traces of him have been found. The poor old father, though deeply injured, still, more charitable than just, seeks to extenuate the conduct of his son, and says, if not tempted by a vicious companion named Johnston, the boy would never have stolen the money. It is supposed Johnston and the boy have left for the States; but the father still thinks his son will return to him with at least a portion of the money, could he escape the meshes of his vile companion.

PORK.—"A fat hog is the very quintessence of scrofula and carbonic acid gas; and he who eats it, must not expect thereby to build up a sound physical organism. While it contributes heat, there is not a twentieth part of it nitrogen, the base of muscle."

This is sound practical truth. Fat pork was never designed for human food; it is material for breath, and nothing more, see Liebig and other organic chemists and physiologists; it makes no red meat or muscle; the prize fighter is not allowed to eat it; all that is not consumed by the lungs, remains to clog the body with fat.

A VINDICATION.

To the Christian Messenger.

MR. EDITOR,—"Wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things." Rom ii 2. In the Provincial Freeman, of May 16th and 30th, are editorials, so palpably false and abusive, and withal, reflecting so much upon the first Colored Baptist Congregation, in Chatham, that, that body has appointed us, whose names are undersigned, to prepare a statement in reply. The editorials referred to, are headed "More Begging! Elder Piper, Free Mission, Baptist Missionary at Chatham!! Clothes for the Fugitives!!" With respect to the begging charged upon Elder Piper, by the Freeman, we are authorized to say this much: that he will unite with us in condemning the "begging system" for the Fugitives in Canada: because he believes, as he stated, in his article referred to by the Freeman, that "the morals of the colored people are good, as a general thing, and their temporal condition, and prosecpts encouraging," but, being requested by a Society of Ladies, formed to aid the Fugitives, that should he see any cases of necessity, not otherwise provided for, to inform them. He accordingly informed them that a box was needed, (not "boxes," as falsely published by the Freeman), therefore he was not obnoxious to the charge of reviving the "begging system," or even to be called "the beggar" in this case. The Editor of the Freeman must have a very treacherous memory, or else be obnoxious to the charge made by the Prophet Jeremiah, against some of his time, "that they taught their tongus to speak lies." For when she said, "a collection of $15 was taken in his (Elder Piper's) church, for Mr. Hull, a worthy anti-slavery man from the United States," she uttered a falsehood, and conveyed a false impression. The collection was about $10, and was given by a congregation composed of Methodists, Baptists and other citizens belonging to neither Society. So when she said, when speaking of a member of the Methodist Church, who had lost his

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

NO 2.

Our time, since our last communication, has been very unprofitably spent. In truth, in consequence of dull times, this has been the most discouraging of all canvasses we have made. After leaving home, we experienced unceasing wet weather for twenty-nine days, which was a great obstacle in the way of meetings. On the 16th of June, we arrived at Medina, Orleans County, N. Y., and were very hospitably entertained by Mr. Richard Gardner. We made application for the Methodist Episcopal Church which was willingly granted, and were successful in getting out a fine audience, but unfortunately for us and the ladies, the rain commenced falling again, and in torrents, and continued during the night. This seemed to kill the interest in the meeting, and the number of names attached to our list was few, however, an eminently literary lady, offered her service in getting up a club.—Mr. Gardiner promised us a club also, so we started for Millville, where a meeting was appointed for Sunday, at which time a large audience attended, who seemed more than pleased with Mr. Douglass' powerful effort. These towns are small but are located in a rich agricultural district, possessing superior water facilities. This country is not only remarkable for its high state of cultivation, but for the many noble hearted people dwelling therein. Our next place of meeting was Elmira, where we were allowed the use of the Congregational Church (white) also the A. M, E. Church (colored) but from some wrong arrangement or as some supposed design on the part of the sexton (colored) the large number of persons who came were compelled to leave in consequence of the house not being open at the hour appointed, thereby causing a failure. The colored friends turned out at their church, at the very usual, but late hour of 9 o'clock, evening, and few in number.

After leaving Elmira, we journeyed on to Canton, where we made two appointments one for Sabbath afternoon, in the Church of the Disciples; here we were honored by a large and intelligent audience, who manifested great interest in the cause of the slave and those who have escaped into a land of freedom. The meeting was opened by prayer by Mr Townsend, and a choir discoursed some Anti-Slavery music with great proficiency, effect and feeling. Here we found good friends, among whom were Messrs. Rockwell and Townsend, whose kind treatment we shall long remember.—Next in place is Williamsport, Pa., bearing the reputation of being the meanest town in the state, a character verified by our experience. On applying for the Court House for an Anti-Slavery lecture the Dutch democrat who had the letting of it, abruptly replied "you, kant hav it!" and not one church in town could be obtained; so we posted our bills for a street meeting in front of the Court House, for the same evening; at the time many assembled, but were compelled to retreat to the store, as the rain fell in torrents; it was as well, perhaps, as from report we anticipated a present of rotten eggs and bricks. Travelling on we arrived at Reading Pa, and held two meetings one in Keystone Hall, the other in the Colored Presbyterian Church; both of these meetings were well attended, but we got but few names. In this place as in others through which we passed in Pennsylvania, we found the colored people attending to but the one thing, Religion, the absorbing topic among us. The order of church exercises is pretty much the same in all.—Brother ———, preaches Sunday and Sunday night; trustee meeting Monday night; Brother F——'s class meets Tuesday night; prayer meeting Wednesday night; strange brother preaches Thursday night; Brother H——'s class Friday night, and trial of members Saturday night. Thus ends the week, but preaching again Sunday &c.

After leaving Reading Mr. Douglass spoke in the Baptist Church, Norristown, to a large audience; here the interest manifested by the colored people was small. On the fourth of July we arrived in Philadelphia, and have since had three interesting meetings in the Shiloh Baptist Church, attended by large audiences. Last but not least comes Wilmington, Del., where we had two large meetings; a lively interest prevailed throughout.

When we look at the progressive tendency of the American people, their great thirst for literature, the number of papers, well sustained by them and the thousands of volumes of publications of various kinds coming daily into circulation, and reflect how few of all these valuable books and papers are read by colored people, we become almost discouraged. With a few honorable exceptions the people seem not to appreciate the value of a paper, and have not the slig test idea of the responsibility attached to the publication of one. Many a man subscribes thinking that thereby he confers a favor, or from sympathy for the publishers, and if he takes it for one year, he feels that we can never make a demand of him again. If we can once get our people to see how little they do know and how important it is to learn all they can, we will have accomplished a great work; then they will read a paper as well as subscribe for it, when they do subscribe. The fact, that the Perss is, with intelligent men a means by which to dispel immorality and vice, and to promote good morals, and knowledge, which is power, throughout the land, seems to have been lost to our light. Our efforts have been, and are, approved of, by honest white friends where we have been, some of whom had never seen the paper, while many colored friends who have taken it, on seeing us, did not know that there were any such parties by name, even one person said he had taken it three years and thought it was the Voice of the Fugitive. I know these truths will not be palatable to some—to those who would rather the truth should not be told of the culpable negligence, among us as a people, from fear that they will be identified, but the truth must be told!

In our opinion what we most need, is fewer Meeting Houses, and more School Houses—fewer Preachers and more Teachers, and importance to Agriculture and Mechanical branches, and wealth and respect will inevitably follow. Who are the men that the mass of the colored men and women are governed by, and what are their standard of intelligence? The Colored Clergy? Men who say that God has called them, to show us the way to heaven! now we would like to know whether God in his wisdom, has called men to explain the scriptures many of whom cannot read, and consequently do not understand them? We do not believe that God appoints any such missionists, and we do not surely want them. If they would show how to do duty on earth, properly as well as what to do in heaven, their labors would be appreciable; but at present, they, stand as leeches to the colored comunities and people, great sponges, absorbing our very vitality. We have found in different places that these great tutors or oracles of religion have taught their congegations until they believe their Churches to holy to preach against political evils, and among the African Methodist Episcopals it is seldom a church can be had for Anti-Slavery lectures. It is a foul pro-slavery christianity, but such is religion in some of the colored churches.—I. D. S.

☞ THE UNION BAPTISTS, AND THE 1st COLORED BAPTISTS OF CHATHAM.—We beg attention to the letter from the officers of the Union Baptist Church to be found in the present number of the "Freeman." The offending parties is the 1st Colored Baptist Congregation, Elder Piper's, and if what we learn be true, there must be cause for censure of the latter. It is no small matter to read a denomination out of existence without their consent, but it is exceedingly wrong, it is adding insult to injury to represent them as consenting to their own disolution with out their knowledge—M. A. S. C.

☞ The Committee consisting of M, F. Baily C. Charity J. Snyder B, Bell, and J. C. Brown, purporting to be appointed by the First Colored Baptist Church, to vindicate Elder Piper in begging, and to trump up the false charges, of begging for the refugees, and dishonesty generally, against the managers of the FREEMAN, and who gave currant to the false statement through the Christian Messenger, of Brantford—signally failed to sustain their position before too meetings during the past week. Their movements shall have attention in due time. —M. A. S. C.

☞ An interesting letter from our coadjutor Mr. H F Douglass, too late for this issue will appear in the next.

☞ It will be seen by an extract from the Planet of Wednesday that we have been visited by slave catchers. Their dismissal was summary as they justly deserved.

Joy to the Invalid.—Persons afflicted with any of the diseases arising from a disordered liver or stomach, nervous debility, dyspepsia or liver complaint, should try Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer. It seldom fails to effect a cure in a short time. Sold by druggists generally.

Correspondence.

For the Provincial Freeman.

Men of whom we might say with the the poet, "they are born for the universe, and narrow in their minds, and to party give up what was meant for mankind."

Right and justice which are unalterable in the decree of God's Holy will, has been restrained by some individuals here abouts, and have raised in their mighty rage of antagonism, pouring forth flames and fiery cinders of red hot lava, destroying and blasting everything that comes within their terrible sweep. This storm seems almost irresistible because wrongs have justly been exposed and condemned by this paper in carrying out the original principles for which it was established in opposition to the evils that surround us from time to time. And one of the greatest wrongs which has been held up to public scorn, is the begging for refugees in Canada, which system has had its justifiers directly or indirectly in this country, by a few colored men and one of the opposite complexion at the head, under the garb of religion, which is false and treacherous to the pure doctrine of he divine writ, and in opposition to all efforts that may be put forth for the general good.

The colored people in these Provinces never sanctioned any such a scheme; this system in our opinion is unnecessary; old clothes from the United States with us is fostering indolence and is at the expense of our feelings an imposition too outrageous to bear, and is promising the damnation of the colored people in this country, that knows no difference in its political formation of Government, and being inhabitants and subjects of Her Majesty's domain in respect and justice to the charity of the whites amongst whom we live we should repulse the begging from the United States, and provide for its overthrow; because it is a lamentable fact in the opinions of some whites that as a people we are incapable of taking care of ourselves. This has been felt in the United States and Canada, and this monster lurks in the midnight hour, stealing along, degrading us, giving sanction to that doctrine of the pro-slavery and colonization parties that claims we can't live on the continent of America, we must be expatriated to the shores of Africa to suffer the fate of a hot embrace beneath an equatorial sun, an untimely warning of an early death. This I detest and ever will; it has no harbor in my heart; its perpetration is wrong. I know that there are angry spirits and turbulent muters of stifled vengeance against me, who lurk in narrow places and walk out muffled to whisper curses in the night. But my position is unchangeable. The God of right and justice lives now as in former times, and we find in History those assassins who dipped their hands in the blood of Ceasar or give sanction to the deed, the Divine Power hunted them over sea and land. Cassius after losing the battle of Philippi, killed himself with the same dagger which he had made use of against Caesar. Brutus while laying on his couch in the silent hour of the night, saw a spectre come forth as an omen that his days were few, and in the mighty struggle against his fellow-men his fate was sealed. He retired to the top of a rock where he presented the deathly sword to his breast and died upon the spot. And all ill-doers in these times must share the same judgment pronounced against them: no slander; no theft; no assault upon the sacred image of God in upright form; no wrongs of any kind can be justly founded upon Christian fame. And to destroy this mighty element that is swallowing up the few who are laboring for the general good, is to renew the cause of education.

The winds and waves, capricious ever as when they first beat upon the ancient Silurian rock, but press onward,

"Against the winds, against the tide,
Now steady, on with upright zeal.

And we read in history of the illustrious Bacon, whose name still shines with star-like brightness from that distant night, says "knowledge is power." Without knowledge there is no sure progress. Vice and barbarianism are the unseparable companions of ignorance. The polished Britain whose civilization and refinement we admire is one of the descendants of those barbarians whose degradation lives in the records of him, the Roman conqueror who bore on the rapacious legions and invaded her verdant shores. But the Britains could not be stayed there; their continual struggles has immortalized their names in the History of ever more. Slowly they advanced to the position they occupy, and the improvements of the past are earnest improevments of the future. Let us follow the example and test the benefit that "knowledge is power" here in Canada. And like Athens looked upon the evening sun and her temples flamed in the setting beams, and the clouds of the Ægean sea rolled around her verdant islands and sported in the azure vaults of Heaven, or like scattered stars beaming on the pages of classic lore, pouring forth a meridian splendor on modern literature.

OSBORN ANDERSON.

Chatham, July 29th, 1857.

MAY 11th, 1857.

The Union Baptist Church of Chatham, C. W., at a Regular meeting held at the house of our Reverend brother H. Stafford, on Saturday evening, May 3d, all the deacons being present, the Church was called to order by Rev. brother H. Stafford. Brother A. Siddles was called to the Chair; Brother W. G. Price acted Clerk.

It was moved and carried unanimously, that the Clerk draw up a document in behalf of the Union Baptist Church, for publication, and the same be sent to the different Religious papers for insertion.

Resolved, that we the Union Baptist Church, of Chatham, C. W., are determined to stand up to our present organization. We have been ordained a Church in Gospel order, by legal elders, Culver, of Detroit, assisted Elder Camil, of Chatham, and thereby convinced that our standing as a Christian church is lawfull, although it has been published that we are no church, and we can't see for our lives how those who have taken themselves from us without our consent, and without their letters, and unite themselves to another body, can publish us as no Church, but that we leave it to the consideration of the religious public, as we don't intend to make strife, God fordid, but we are determined to claim our rights as a Christian church, no matter whose hand it is in. We have interfered with no body, and we are in hopes that every Christian can see; but we are resolved as a Gospel church set apart, as has been above mentioned, to publish to the world our fixed determination, seeing we have all the privilege as we have stood firm upon the foundation where we was first fixed. May God grant us grace so to do.

By order in behalf of the Church.
W. G. PRICE, Church Clerk.

SLAVE CATCHERS AT CHATHAM.

YESTERDAY, two Southeners, viz:—John W. Wells, Lynchburg, Va., and T. G. James Nashville, Tennessee, as written upon the Hotel register book, arrived at Chatham, and put up at Mr. Pritchard's Royal Exchange. The object of the visit of these personages was to recover the body of a smart colored lad, named 'Joseph Alexander,' "aged about 20. As soon as this fact became known a large party of colored persons, amongst whom was the identical Joe, well dressed from top to toe, assembled in front of the Hotel, but nothing disorderly occurred. In conversation with Mr. James, who professed to own the boy, we were told that "Joe" escaped from him to Canada sometime in May last—that he was a "good boy," but almost too "big and sassy." The master told us that he had 'never whipped "Joe' but once and then because he got drunk, and impudent, and allowed a span of horses to run away, and break a carriage all to smash, when, said James, 'I did take a strap and whip him right smart, that I did, now that's a fact; but t'was nothing more than he deserved, because "Joe' got dissatisfied, and I presumed he'd leave me.' Joe afterwards recognized his old master, who is a regular Southerner, 'of lean and hungry look,' and asked him quizzingly, when he was going to leave Chatham.' James told him 'at noon.' Joe said, 'I'll be at the Depot,' and go with you; 'but iterated the dealer in human flesh, 'he won't; he lies; I knowd—m well' he wont' meet me, he has been to Canada once before; and wont' leave it again with the risk of being nabbed a second time. No, Joe's too sharp for that."—So thought we. Joe no doubt knows on which side his bread is butterered.

We have learned that James is Wells, uncle, and that both are extensive slave-dealers in N. Orleans, their 'pen' being in the rear of the famous St. Charles Hotel. The firm of James & Co., is said to be worth upwards of 3,000,000, and the 'pen' is one of the largest in the Union, containing for sale on an average about 500 negroes, good, bad and indifferent. Agents of James, for the buying of slaves, are employed in all the Southern States. Before leaving Chatham James offered 'Joe,' $100 if he would go down to Windsor; but the latter informs us that he had rather not be in the old man's company, especially out of a crowd; for, says Joe, 'I am positive from what I know of him that as soon as he got me out he would shoot me dead, and then leave me, for he would just as soon shoot a man as a black-squirrel and a white man as a black man; and his nephew is just like him. This being the case we don't blame Joe much for not going.—Planet.

The New York Herald thinks that it would be disastrous to the cause of civilization, to have the British defeated in India. Our contemporary argues that in many respects such a defeat would prove injurious to the United States, and adds, that were proper means taken, the active sympathy of the latter country could be secured in favor of Great Britain. The proper means alluded to by the Herald are, that "England should cede the entire control of this continent and its dependencies to the United States." And if this were done, all the English would gain in return, according to the Herald, would be the privilege of enlisting soldiers in the United States. The British will not require such aid, and the Herald can scarcely be serious in offering it. If the United States can keep the Mormons and Indians in proper order, to say nothing of Plug-Uglies, Dead Rabbits, and other, internal enemies, will be quite as much as they can do for some time.—Colonist.

The New York Herald says that the English are in advance of the French in the new scheme for supplying the West Indies with negro labor and that Palmerston is ahead of Louis Napolean in the business. The Herald makes this statement on the authority of a letter from Port Spain, Island of Trinidad, in which it is stated that two ship loads of negroes had arrived there. On the strength of this the Herald cries out that Great Britain has commenced the slave trade. But in point of fact the negroes alluded to are Portuguese African emigrants, who have of their own free will gone to the Island of Trinidad to serve a voluntary apprenticeship of ten years.

Miles, slave to Mrs. Eliza Primnell, of Dorchouse Parish, La., has been sentenced to be hung, for resisting and dangerously wounding Jerome Bres, who was attempting to capture him as a runaway.

☞ We are informed by Capt. Lappan, that the Islander will, on Monday next re-commence her trips between Chatham and Detroit and continue them during the season with her accustomed regularity.—Planet.

MARSEILLES July 12.

The news from Bombay is to the 11th of June.

An action had been fought between Delhi and Meerut; the insurgents had 7,000 men and the British troops and Sepoys 1,800. After having been defeated with the loss of twenty-six guns, the insurgents re-entered Delhi in disorder.

At the date of the last advices the English occupied the height round Delhi, and were preparing to attack it by assault.

Nevertheless, desertions continued, and the whole north-west of India was open to the disaffected. Thirty thousand native troops had quitted their colours since the commencement of the insurrection.

General Anson had died of cholera.

The Vectis is preparing to satl from Marseilles. She has just received orders from England to await the arrival of Sir. Colin Canpbell, the new General-in-Chief, on his way to India.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Lord Palmerston, in reply to an inquiry, stated that the Government was giving its attention to the projected supply of negroes from Africa to the French West Indies—a measure which he thought must degenerate into the Slave-trade, so far as Africa was concerned. He promised, that should the spirit of existing treaties be violated, that the French Government should at once be notified of the fact, with a view to a correction of the evil.

A deputation from the Anti-Slavery Society presented a memorial to Lord Palmerston on Wednesday condemning the proposed scheme to obtain negro laboures from Africa to the West Indies. Lord Palmerston said that the Government were alive to the danger of the scheme, and would take care that nothing was done which tended to resuscitate the slave trade. The London Times continued its agitation in favour of obtaining free labores under British surveilance.

It was supposed that Parliament would be prorogued in about a fortnight or three weeks.

LATER.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The Times in its city article of Tuesday, has a column of remarks on the necessity of railway communication with India by the Euphrates route, if this route is to be abandoned, the opposition to the Suez Canal should cease.

The Post has a leader on the present state of Greece, and the Russian intrigues to obtain possession of the throne.

The 7th Regiment embarked at Portsmouth on Monday, for India. The 97th regiment is to visit the Crystal Palace previous to their departure. No women or children are to be allowed to accompany the troops to India untill the disturbances are settled.

STEAMER BURNT.—TORONTO, August 5th, 1857.—The splendid steamer J. C Morrison, belonging to the Northern R R. Co., was burnt to the water's edge at Barrie, Lake Simcoe last night.

FREE GRANTS.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD,

THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD AND THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the northern part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashley, Effingham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of Kaladar and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrell's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opengo Road in the Township of Bradenea, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, or base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

This road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Point, and thence by land some twnty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrisk is situated.

The import of this careful statement, prepared by a New School Presbyterian editor is—that the paper adopted was made acceditable to the Northern members, the conservative as well as the progressive portion of them, that the Assembly took no new ground beyond the old stereotyped standards of the Presbterian Church, Old School and New—that the Southern secession was not consequence of any new anti-slavery progress at the North, but in consequence of new and inovating pro-slavery progress at the South, so the New School Presbyterian Church still stands on the "original platform," and has not moved an inch from where it always has been.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.

Mrs. Cunningham was again arrested to day on a charge of felony. It appears that at the trial before the Surrogate, Mrs. Cunningham's counsel hinted that she was encient by Dr. Burdell. Suspicion was aroused, and a plan formed to entrap her, through her own physician, Dr. Uhl. A marked child was borrowed from the Bellevien Hospital, and last night Mrs. Cunningham pretended to be delivered of it. The arrest is at the instance of District Attorney Hall.

HOW TO GET RID OF FLIES.—A French paper, the Courier du Havre, in alluding to a plan lately suggested for driving away flies, (the use of laurel oil) states that no fly will enter a room in which a wreath of walnut leaves has been hung up. The Courier de Lyon, in referring to the same subject says: It is a curious fact that although the butchers shops at Geneva are all open and an immense number of flies ma be seen on the outside wall, not one comes inside. This is caused by the inner wall being rubbed with laurel oil, which is an effectual preventive against the intrusion of these troublesome insects. The same oil is also used with success in preventing the flies from spoiling the gilt frames of looking-glasses and pictures.

STRATFORD. C. W.
16th. March 1857.

NOTE: The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the 'CURSE' and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian lands excepted)—that attention is called to the adopting of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it —Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community,—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada, and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected and condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively—the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings, illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new inventions with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum	$ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club)	$20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ADDRESS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the original Club. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post Masters—or others—sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW AGENT WANTED.—Our subscribers will please bear in mind that we have no collecting agents out of the State—they will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post paid

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

☞ N.B.—Any Person desirous of receiving copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by notifying the Publishers by letter, (post paid)

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c; &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unreservedly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been STEALING Slaves, (since religious Famine, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

COLLECTED, arranged, and reviewed by Revds. A. T. Foss and E. MATHEWS. [Free Mission Baptists.] pp. 408—Utica, N. Y.: Published by the American Baptist Free Mission Society—[with portrait.]

"This is a book which no BAPTIST in Canada, —lay or clerical,—should be without. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. The "Free Will Baptists" and "Free Mission Baptists" are exempted from that charge, as they openly denounce slavery and receive not its bloody gains."—J. J. E. L.

THE CAREER OF NAPOLEON III.

The career of Napoleon the Third, from the time of his own election to represent Corsica in the National Assembly to this hour when, with one consent, he is constituted the Imperial arbiter betwixt contending nations, is fraught with matter meet for the study of the historian and the philosopher. To judge him by the common standard of men—to attribute to him motives of a grovelling ambition—or to impugn the veracity of his political character, is to do him singular injustice. It is to falsify history by subverting fact for a base end. There never has been concealment in the opinions, in the purposes, or determinations of the Emperor of the French. He has ever been steady in his public end and aim of his life; persevering in his advised design—resolute of will and courageous in temper—patriotic under every fortune—and using success wisely to deepen and to perfect the system that he had incorporated at the outset of his adventurous existence. Cradled in an imperial palace, the disasters which in rapid succession followed on to the completion of the fall of Napoleon I. made a lasting impression on the mind of one of no ordinary temperament. Louis Napoleon perceived men, whose fortunes had been created by the bounty of a great chieftain, betray him with cold ingratitude—load with opprobrium their benefactor—and accept eleemosynary relief at the hands of those whom they had compassed about with art, malice, and hate, to injure and despoil. The lesson was not given in vain; it taught him to be thoughtful, suspicious, taciturn, and uncommunicating; moreover, it cautioned him to place faith in himself alone, as the surest and truest councillor. But if the deceit of the patrician were bitter so all the more consoling were the tears of the adieux at Fontainebleau. This was a solemn warning. It behoved him to rely on the truths of the old days, and their memories, on the noble deeds and on time, to repair the fortunes of a fallen race.

and exercised freely for the welfare of the nation, was in his mind, the aim, the intent, and the essence of Imperialism. He held that the military mightiness of Napoleonic France should be diverged into utilitarian conduits, that might enlarge prosperity and sweeten life with the domestic blessings of peace. He would realise the promise of the first empire by the fulfilment of a second. These were not hidden thoughts; they were embodied and made public in writings already referred to, that won the applause of men of all parties. Events progressed according to the calculations of a far sighted policy. Louis XVIII.—a competent sovereign placed in a difficult position, never making with, yet tolerated by the people—was succeeded by an incompetent monarch, clinging to worn-out fallacies, and repulsive to the citizen classes. After having paid the penalty of political stolidity, he was followed by one who let not his left hand know what his right hand did, who came raimented in sheep's clothing, albeit moved from within by ravening desires. The people found him also wanting; and forthwith possessed themselves of sovereign dominion. A fair chance—somewhat more than a fair chance—was given to the Republic, one and indivisible, yet each experiment as a socialist fraternity utterly failed. Envy, corruption, peculation, perjury, hatred, strife, violence, and every vice that an evil government can bring forth and harbour, prevailed during the first stage of the Republic. Of equal depravity was the second. The Legitimists and Orleanists made use of fostering virus of the Reds to work the downfall of the Presidential government. M. Dupin, president of the National Assembly, held communication with the Duchess of Orleans; M. Benoit d'Azy, vice-president, was the agent of the agent of the Comte de Chambord; and M. Thiers received instructions from Claremont. —(Veron, vol. v., p 3. Public safety depended upon the champion of good order striking the first blow, and Louis Napoleon was called upon to act. In analyzing the nature of the conflict that ensued, termed by the socialists "the massacre of December," the point to be determined is, whether a far more profuse shedding of blood was not prevented by that street warfare? No one more deplored the carnage of that day than he who gave the order to repel force by force. The first shot was fired by the red-republicans. It was not kept secret, either in Paris or in the provinces, that, in the event of a victory being gained over the President, the guillotine was to be reinstated in all the cruel ferocity of '93. This second reign of terror would have been, in proportion to the first, as ten is to one. And so intensely is this thirst for blood embedded in the nature of red-republicans, that after their defeat, and in exile, they have polluted themselves by instituting a society for political assassination; sanctifying the deed, invoking blessings on the expectant murderer, and exalting his title to the imperishable glory of a hero. And an Englishman has been found willing to provide a subsidy for the first assassin. The republican writer, Prudhomme, computes that one million persons were massacred and guillotined during the Reign of Terror. In the anarchy that would have fast followed upon the defeat of the President, and upon the victory of the Assembly under the leadership of the committee of resistance, composed of Carnot, De Flotte, Jules Favre, Madier de Montjau, Michael de Bouges, Schoelcher, and Victor Hugo, (Victor Hugo, N. P., p. 141,) and in despite of any impediment offered by them, the sea of blood that would have surged through the streets of Paris defies all effort of calculation. From these savage atrocities of a truculent democracy France was saved by the coup d'etat of December. And the men who were reserved for, and ready to execute those bloody deeds of republicanism, but who were checked in the execution of their detestable designs by prompt exile—these men have been called "the patriot victims of Cayenne." The justice of the appeal, and the right of their claim to the sympathies of society, may be judged by the conduct of their confederates, who escaped the doom of expatriation. Foulet, Monchiron, Ruault, Decoix, Lux, Alix, Deney, Maillet, Turennes, Yaut, Commes, Tuison, De Meeren, Merriet, Gabrat, Metiz, Mazille, Fallot, Ribaud, Pianori, and Verger—for the Roman Church furnishes its instruments of murder—are types of the comradess now residing in Algeria and Cayenne. The clemency of the Emperor towards his most uncompromising opponents, personal and political, is rightly attested by the residence of M. M. Guizot, Thiers, Montolembert, and Berryer, in France; while M. Mole, guilty of aggressions and systematic treachery, when seated at the Presidential council board was permitted to end his days in his own home, and in the bosom of his family. * * * The Crimean war was forced upon us, and Louis Napoleon [illegible] to England in [illegible] policy—who is there amongst the kings of the earth, or the ministers of nations, that shall rise up in judgement against the worth of the sovereigns or the truth of the man.—New Quarterly Review

WOMEN IN AMERICA.

Of all clases of workers in this country, the females are the most completely prostrated by under-paid labor. In no department of human industry is so much robberry endured and so much humiliating contempt inflicted, as upon poor, weak, working woman. One would immagine that on any fair or manly scale of estimate, the relative value of services performed, the labor of woman would entitle her to respect and reward. Yet in evry stituation of life in this country, except women of pleasure, the work of woman is treated as a joke, and when not cheated, mocked with the merest tithe of a just reward. This principle prevails whether the employment be as a nurse to our children, or as a maker of our vests. The man who carries bricks, sweeps a street, or assists in any other of the lowest occupations of life in this Republican land, receives six times the pay awarded to the woman who performs those indispensible services of which her sex alone is capable. This dishonest selfishness is innerent here: this barbarian right of human strength, which imposes the most miserable terms of recompense is so rampant in America, that Mrs. Oakes Smith declares that „no women deprived of a husband or a father can be anything in America but a pauper and a begar, unless by the sale of HER CHASTITY.

Every day we read instances in which even the present miserable recompense is withheld, so that the malignant demon of an employer, may pocket a few shillings, or prey on the virtues of his female employees.—The following case before the Mayor on Thursday will illustrate:—

"A young girl came into the Mayor's Office yesterday and entered a complaint against her employer, for whom she had worked along time. This complaint originated as follows: She had taken home a dozen stocks from him for the sum agreed upon, of thirty seven and a-half cents; and after she had finished them she went to the store for her pay. He already owed her $3 and tendered her this money, which she refused to take unless accompanied by the three shillings for the recent service. This he would not give her, as he said the articles were not properly made, She then entered a complaint as already noticed."

Of course the complaint will end in nothing. Every day are women deceived, outraged, robbed and trampled upon; while the most favored of the sex, that is, the best looking, become the objects of the whims an caprices of men. Despite the boastings of Americans there is no mistake that women in this country are in turn the objects of the immagination, the passions and appetites, but never of their esteem or sympathy. Is it any wonder then that 35,000 poor creatures pent up in wretched garrets and workshops, devoting their days and nights to the severest health destroying toils, many thousands should annually watch through the chinks and crannies of their abodes the gilded and mirthful daughters of shame flaunt by in splendid robes and laughing humor, and then turn in despair into a cold and calculating resolution to escape the doom to which they have been consigned, and to prey upon their oppressors for their pleasure and short lived joys? What is really the difference between the Russians flogging their women—the Southerners flogging their negro women, and the Northerners starving and cheating theirs?

You will be pleased to learn that a few noble women are determined, if possible, not to let the hatred and despair, which is fast taking possession of the poor American woman's soul, render her altogether desperate. They are endeavoring to open new sources of labor, such as offer a prospect of adequate renumeration. They propose schools for teaching women TYPE SETTING. I do not anticipate their succes, but any effort is better than prostitution. In their circular they say.

"It is universally admitted that woman's position in society is the thermometer of its civilization. In the savage state, they are slaves to physical force, hence no civilization—to-day, in this boasted land of Christianity, although women are flattered and followed when beautiful, yet they are oppressed by a strategy which shuts them out from most employments for which their intellect and strength fit them. Needlework has hitherto been the resource of those females disqualified by nurture or [illegible] muscle for rough hewers— [illegible] who knows not the history of [illegible]

[illegible] them sleep, and of women to whom there is no way of escape but by crime or the grave! The needle has been to females a worse death-dealing instrument than the sword; for while the sword sometimes rests in its scabbard, the needle is ever actively employed by vast multitudes of women, the present and prospective mothers of our race, whom it bows down, weakens their physical frames causing them to bear families of short-lived children. But the sewing machine, or locomotive stitcher, has brought even the labor of the needle to its last gasp—it is being consigned, with the spinning wheel of our grand-mothers, to the lumber room—the needle's occupation is almost gone! And what other prospect opens to the thousands of friendless daughters, wives, and widows of the unfortunate? Thousands there must be of such in the older States of our Union, and how shall they earn the bread of independence?

In countries such as France, where fine and ornamental productions form their staples, women are called upon both to perfect and refine them. So in America, type-setting, from the extraordinary demand for it, offers a wide scope for women' faculties.—This business is less physical and more intellectual than many others, It requires only quick perception, a keen eye, and nimble fingers. It has been proved that this employment is better adapted to women than to men.

To teach females necessitated to labor, through poverty, deprivation of parents, brothers or husbands, an art which they can easily perform, in a clean dainty room, without jeopardizing their health, delicacy, purity of character, or refinement of manners, is the object of the undersigned. They intend it to be a type setting school, where competent instruction will be given, and ample compensation for the work awarded, free from all communication with men, thus giving independence without danger of pollution. People often talk of wishing to elevate woman's condition—here is an opportunity of putting their wishes into practice.'—New York Cor. Daily Colonist.

☞ The Philadelphia North American of July 27th, says:

"A southern gentleman, Mr. Charles Parlange, who was staying at the Girard House accompanied by two ladies and a negro valet, was robbed yesterday afternoon under the following circumstances. He had designed going to New York by the 5 p. m. train. With this view he dispatched the negro valet with his more valuable baggage to the foot of Walnut street. Among the baggage were two tinboxes containing a large amount of money. The negro received them, and wended his way but knowing the contents of the boxes, his honesty succumbed the temptation, and he eloped with them. He was seen afterwards in company with another negro, and it is altogether probable that, being a slave, he is already on the 'under ground' railroad bound North. We have been informed that this man Jim, as he is called, has hitherto proved the possessor of entire interity, and has repeatedly traveled North without evincing the desire of leaving his master. Mr. P. would have done better had he entrusted his baggage in the care of the proprietors of the Girard."

AN UNCOMFORTABLE HUSBAND.

A contributor to the Independent gives a graphic picture:—'Quite a dishful of raw eggs,' said Mr. Ellery, as he turned the third one from its shell into his egg cups.—The remark was made in no ill humored tone. His face wore no sour, no fault-finding expression. Nevertheless, his poor wife, who had daily boiled eggs for him, during twenty years, and always by the minute-hand, had never heard the expression once or all that time, 'My dear, these eggs are just right.'

Daily did Mr. Ellery variety, and daily did the objections vary. 'You forgot your eggs this morning, didn't you?' Next morning, 'Your eggs are pretty soft, but they'll do.' Morning after, 'You had better save these eggs for bullets.;' and thus the poor woman never pleased. Still he could manage to dispose of two, three or four at a breakfast very well.

Misfortunes never came alone, and Mr Ellery's eggs were not his only mishaps.—His shirts never fit right about the shoulders. The bosoms are stiff as a board, or limp as a handkerchief. His meals are always a little too early or a little too late, and the room is forever too hot or too cold.

But we were not intending to follow the poor man through all his trials; we have only to do with the eggs. Mr. Ellery is not a epicure or gormand [illegible] only at his own table a little [illegible] presses it, [illegible] be eaten. [illegible]

Mr. Ellery is an upright man. He values himself on being a good husband. A man of purer moral never lived. Down, away down in the bottom of his heart, his wife occupies a warm place. But it is so far down as to be a matter of faith, not of sight. Mrs. Ellery was naturally social. Her young days overflowed with cheerfulness and chat. In her father's house, if she cooked anything, 'Why, Bessie! what toast you make! give me another slice!' And these eggs! it is something to have fresh eggs at this season, and it is more still to have a daughter that can cook them just right.'

Bessie has faded young, as American women are wont to do. Her brown, curly hair has given place to many a silver thread and her silent meals give few intimation of the gleesome board that Bessie Wolcott gladdened in her girlhood.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PHILADELPHIA, July 31st, 1857.

O! how we dislike to write when the thermometer is 91 in the shade. The letters of I. D. S. render it quite unnecessary for us to say anything in addition to what he has given the readers of the Freeman on the subject of Anti-Slavery lecturing; of course we heartily endorse all he has said in reference to the short-comings of the colored people themselves, on the subject of their rights and wrongs. As this is our first visit to the East, and to Pennsylvania, we have thought it would not be altogether uninteresting to give our impression of the Anti-Slavery character of the whites, the general condition and prospects of the colored people. We are disappointed in Pennsylvania, sadly disappointed with respect to its Anti-Slavery character. Looking at its antecedents, remembering that in Pennsylva- [illegible] Anti-Slavery So- [illegible] petition [illegible] 1790 praying Congress to step to the very verge of its constitutional power to arrest the enormities of slavery; that here in the city of Philapelphia early in the morning of this glorious enterprise ere the sun of Anti Slavery had gilded with its rising splendor the hills of the west, James Forten fresh from the Revolution, gave earnest of his hatred of Slavery and love of liberty; that here stands the same old hall where the Declaration of Independence was promulgated, disseminating broad cast over the world, the political glad tidings of great joy to an oppressed and down trodden world: remembering all this, we had hoped to have met with more sympathy from the colored people,—a higher toned anti slavery feeling among the whites. Pennsylvania is not only the Keystone in the Federal arch of States, but the leading pillar in the Democratic temple of American oppression, notwithstanding her oft repeated devotion to the Constitution and Union. We know of but one county outside of David Wilmot's district where the fullest exercise of that constitutional guarantee, Free Speech, is allowed.

Some one has said that "Revolutions never go backward!" Pennsylvania commenced her career as a state with slavery; she finally abolished Slavery and gave colored men the elective franchise. While revolutions seem not to go backward, the Constitutional Convention of 1837, could not withhold the privilege to vote, as the Penn's, the Forten's, the Gordon's and the Cassy's have enjoyed it for the fathers, emblematical of the present race.

We have been in many free states, but never have we witnessed it the sway of prejudice as we have since we entered the Border Free States. Were all this dark cloud of the oppressed and laborious, centered in the Old Pine State, that there could be found, at this time, a Pro-Slavery sentiment so strong as to render it impossible for an Anti-Slavery speaker to procure a place to plead the cause of the down-trodden of this land? nevertheless this is true. In the town of Williamsport there is not a church, hall, Court House, or any public place sacred to free speech yet Democracy rules the hour, at the very time of our application for the Court house was refused, they were making extensive preparations for celebrating the 4th of July. Oh! how contemptible!—What splendid mockery! Why the man who is ever boasting of his own liberty; telling the world how his fathers died to gain it—that it is blood bequeathed, and now he would not part with it but with his life, and then turns round and uses the liberty that God has given him to enslave his fellowman is a mean dastardly hypocrite, and every true Republican community should spit the monster forth to be the scorn and derision of the world.

We spoke at Norristown. Well, read this notice until we can breathe a little, for we are brimming over with indignation, and in such cases we had rather talk than write for we had never conceived of the infinitude of God's mercy until after we had learned the atrocious character of the slaveholder.—Why he is the last monument of God's forbearance on earth. But read the notice:

MR. DOUGLASS' LECTURE.—On Sunday afternoon last, a Mr. Douglass, (not Frederick,) one of the editors of the Provincial Freeman, Canada West, made an anti slavery speech in the Baptist Church of this place. Mr. D. appears to be an educated man, and a fine speaker, with the exception that he is in style too sentimental and denunciatory. Being a British subject, we thought his remarks a little too harsh to be in good taste.

The above is from the Norristown Republican edited by a bass-wood abolitionist who knows more about hats than he does about heads; more about the quality of "Coon skins," than good or bad speaking of any kind; who is better versed in the Spring and Summer styles that belong to his legitimate calling than literature, rhetoric, logic, good or bad diction, or any of the various styles that abound in English composition. Of course we don't object to his right to criticise our speech; we are willing to let all such criticisms go for what they are worth. If we were in style too sentimental, how is it we were so "harsh and denunciatory." No, this is where the "shoe pinches;" we live under England's protecting arm, and no thanks to the traitorous Republic of the United States. Had we chosen to remain in the States a thing of sympathy and sufferance, to be kicked and cuffed about by American prejudice, this miserable abolitionist would have been content. "Being a British subject, we thought his remarks a little too harsh to be in good taste." This is cool, decidedly cool after the "Dred Scott" Decision; rather chilly for the warm blooded Saxon race. Where are Lexington, and Concord, and Bunker Hill? the fanaticism of the Saxon race is enshrined in the cold granite, the monumental stone, at Bunker Hill. "'Tis good as it" to be sure.—The author of the Fugitive Slave law that converted the nation into a [illegible] slave hunting ground and murthering men into blood hounds to chase down God's poor, can go to Bunker Hill and extol the virtues of Joseph Warren in the calmest of Boston hollowness and no one seems to trouble dead. But when a colored man kneeled, and bruised, and left bleeding by the wayside by American infidelity and caste, gets up before the sons of the men who fell in the trenches at Bunker Hill, while fighting for liberty, to plead his cause with harmless words, men get mad.—Well, we like to make a man mad if it can be done by telling him that we hate slavery.

[illegible]

O, why don't some one be totally [illegible] fawning, cringing sycophant, like S A Douglass rescue from the accumulated infamy of Bully Brooks and give him a niche on Bunker Hill beside the emissele form of Joseph Warren whose virtues were as pure as the marble that enshrines his memory? We protest that no great hand could be found in a North ern Democratic heart of decency to point out Senator Mason, of Virginia, the author of the Fugitive Slave Law and the applauder of the bloody assault on Charles Sumner, to a spot near the shade of Bunker Hill.

We also pedestrianized at Chester and Wilmington, the first named place, by the way, a slave State. At Chester we had very good success. The [illegible] has not [illegible] Society [illegible] Wednesday [illegible]

In the Chester Republican we find the following notice of his labours in that place:

"Notwithstanding the extreme heat of the weather, the Hall was well filled with both sexes, who gave close and attentive audience from the commencement to the close of his address. The speaker pointed out the evils of slavery, showed its effects upon the people of the North, whom he considered more to its contumacy and support than those of the South, and denounced, in the most earnest language, that extensive class among us, called doughfaces, on whom, more than any others, the slaveholders rely to aid to support the institution. We have never heard more truthful and earnest language than that which fell from the speaker's lips, when recounting the wrongs inflicted on his race. He was bold, eloquent, manly and defiant in his language, and demonstrated clearly every point of his subject. He came among us, he said, to make converts to the cause of freedom, and he spoke warmly of slavery, it was because he felt warmly upon a subject that robbed him of his manhood had sought to degrade him, and had reduced him to the condition of a chattel. He had been born in Virginia, the mother of Commonwealths and statesmen—a State which gave birth to the Father of his Country, and was the home of the Father of Democracy, the author of the Declaration of Independence, which proclaimed life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness the inalienable rights of man—yet were a citizen to go there, or to any other slave State, and exercise the liberty of speech, proclaim the truths he now did here, he would find himself dangling to the nearest tree. For more than an hour the speaker continued to deal his blows with powerful effect upon the institution of slavery and those who uphold it, illustrating with appropriate anecdotes many of the strong points of his argument, in a manner which carried conviction to his hearers."

At Wilmington our audience was mostly colored, though was some white persons present; all seemed to be interested in what was said. There is only two avowed abolitionists in the place, but they are worth a thousand of such poor miserable devils as the editor of the Norristown Republican.—The two choice spirits alluded to are Tom as Garret and Aunt Betsy Williams. She very died in Wilmington for the simple reason that all the slaves that were worth anything ran off. There is only one in Wilmington and he is very old. He was asked the reason why he did not go and give his reason:

"De white folks has had de marrow and dey may now take de bones." The condition and prospects of the colored people in our next. H. F. D.

The First of August was celebrated in this place with great spirit. A large concourse assembled in a grove near by, to listen to the oration of Dr. M. R. Delaney: in the evening Mr. W. H. Day delivered a speech and with great acceptance to a large congregation in the Brick Baptist Church, after which the Bazaar held by the Victoria Society in the Town Hall and the Fair or Donation for the B. M. E. Church held in the basement of the Baptist Church were well patronized. The Victoria Society realized over $100 by their effort, on the two evenings: the proceeds of the other, not definitely known to us was probably equal to it. Everything was conducted in good order. But one opinion prevails so far as we learn: there were good speeches, good behavior, and good music by Jones' Band; and though hundreds were present from the surrounding country, not one case of drunkenness or any other vice was noticeable.—A. M. S.

WINTER PROGRAMME.

We propose to furnish a programme for improvement during the coming Autumn and Winter, in our next, which for the intellectual and moral good of all parties concerned we hope will get a patient consideration. The worse than waste of much precious time by individuals, families, communities in the long winter evenings, and the great good resulting to the few who may be found here and there, to them every spare moment to profitable account for the good of mind, body and spirit [illegible] for the exercise of due benevolence towards their fellow creatures make some feasible plan of action, and some practical concentration of efforts, however humble in their character of great moment to all.—A. M. S.

☞ We have a glorious prospect of an abundant harvest and of cheap provisions and breadstuffs during the winter.

Messrs. Kurther and Woodward, two Southern men have purchased the Cotton Mills in the village of Thorold, C. W., intending to import cotton directly from the South and to manufacture extensively.

☞ Messrs. Cummings McGaffy and Kirby, the first party a clerk in the Upper Canada Bank the latter one a contractor and the other a lawyer, have been arrested by the Authorities at Toronto on a charge robbing the Bank of £1,000.—Still another McKenzies Message charges defalcation or embezzlement, or theft, at the door of two prominent Crown Land's agents, all of which whether true or false, prove conclusively that untutored colored men are not the only parties charged as thieves, but that our gentry in the extent and shamelessness of their reported practices in the light fingered line, put humble offenders colored and white to shame.—A. M. S.

☞ The Underground R R. Report furnished from Head Quarters for this paper, is extensively copied, by the respectable anti-slavery and other presses in the states and our readers, especially those in this country, speak in gratifying terms of the report and the noble men and women who have charge of the institution and especialy of the one charged in his official capacity with doing up the interesting documents.—A. M. S.

We call attention to the card of Mrs Burley. Notice next week.

It Saved my Life.—Such is the repeated testimony of hundreds of persons of all ages, with regard to the magic effect of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. When others fails, this seems to possess a perfect charm over the various diseases incident to mankind. Sold by druggists generally.

It is our firm belief, that in nine cases out of ten, coughs, colds, and all bronchial irritations, however severe, may be cured by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. A single trial only is needed to prove this.

Arrival Of The INDIAN.

QUEBEC, August 10.

The Canadian Mail steamship Indian, Jones commander, passed Riviere du Loup at one o'clock yesterday afternoon, and arrived in this port at 9 p. m., with advices from London and Liverpool to 29th July.—In addition to full cargo, she brings 103 cabin and 180 steerage passengers.

The Indian sailed from Liverpool at 1 30 p. m., 29th ult., at 4 p. m., passed the Anglo-Saxon from Quebec.

House of Commons, Monday evening.—D'Israeli brought forward a motion relative to the state of affairs in India, which resulted in an address to the Queen, pledging support to Government in the Indian difficulty.

Troops are now being shipped for India with every deapatch

Baron Rothschild was returned to Parliament for city of London without opposition

The United States frigate Niagara and the Susquehana sailed for Cork with the telegraph cable,

Rumours that Napoleon was assassinated prevailed in London on the 28th causing the funds to decline. Later accounts from Paris do not mention any such outrage.

FREE GRANTS.

THE THREE GREAT LINES OF ROAD.

NOW IN COURSE OF COMPLETION ARE

OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD.

THE ADDINGTON ROAD,
THE HASTINGS ROAD,

THE OTTAWA AND OPEONGO ROAD THE ADDINGTON ROAD.

Commencing in the Township of Anglesea, in the northern part of the County of Addington, near the village of Flint's Mills, in Kaladar, runs almost due north to the River Madawaska, a distance of 35 miles and to be continued thence for the distance of 25 miles till it intersects the Ottawa and Opeongo Road.

The Agent for the granting of, the Land in this district is Mr. E. Perry, who, for that purpose, is now resident at the Village of Flint's Mills. The outlines of five townships of very superior land are already surveyed and ready for Settlement within the limits of the Agency, lying north of Lake Massanoka, and between it and the River Madawaska The Townships are called respectively Abinger, Denbigh, Ashey, Elzinham, Anglesea, and Barrie.

The direct route to this Section is by way of Kingston, Canada West, thence to Napanee, either by Steamboat, and thence North to the Township of K[illegible] and the Village of Flint's Mills where Mr. Perry resides.

Commences at a point on the Ottawa River, known as "Farrell's," a little above the mouth of the Bonchere River, and runs in a Westerly direction, passing through the Northerly part of the county of Renfrew.

It is intended to connect this road with a projected line of road known as "Bell's Line," leading to the Lake Muskoka, and Lake Huron, by a branch which will diverge from the Opeongo Road in the Township of Bradenea, at a distance of about 53 miles from the River Ottawa, forming with "Bell's Line," a great leading road, of base line from the Ottawa to Lake Muskoka, 171 miles in length, passing through the heart of the Ottawa and Huron Territory and opening up for settlement a vast extent of rich and valuable land.

The road, and the country through which it passes, now open for settlement, is easily accessible and the Agent for the granting of Lands in this district is Mr. T. P. French who resides at Mount Saint Patrick, near Renfrew, on the Opeongo Road, a few miles from the Lands which are to be granted. To reach the section of Country under Mr. French's charge the settler must go from Montreal up to the Ottawa River to a place called Bonchere Point, and thence by land some twenty-five or thirty miles westward to the Township of Grattan, in which Mount St. Patrick is situated.

The import of this careful statement, prepared by a New School Presbyterian editor is—that the paper adopted was made needlessly obnoxious to the Northern members the conservative as well as the progressive portion of them, that the Assembly took no new ground beyond, the old stereotyped standards of the Presbyterian Church, Old School and New—that the Southern secession was not consequence of any new anti-slavery progress at the North, but in consequence of new and inovating pro-slavery progress at the South, so the New School Presbyterian Church still stands on the "original platform," and has not moved an inch from where it always has been.

OPINIONS OF REGULAR PHYSICIANS

Exeter Mass. Sept 20

This certifies that I have recommended the use of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY for diseases of the Lungs, for two years past and many bottles have been used by my patients all with beneficial effects. Opinion of the Prominent Druggists of Cincinnati.

We, the undersigned, Druggits of this city have been acquainted with, and sold for many a year or two past, an article of Family Medicine known as "Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer" and we would assure the public that in every instance, so far as we know, it has given the best satisfaction to the purchaser. We can recommend it to the public as an article

OF GREAT MERIT AND VIRTUE.

Indeed, we never knew an article of Medicin, become so deservedly popular in so short a time which is proved by the fact of its extensive sale and constantly increasing [illegible]. Signed

Wade, Eckstein & Co.

Dear Sir:—I became your agent without feeling any interest in the medicine, but I soon became very much interested, upon seeing the happy effect it had upon many persons. The increased sales in this Store are truly astonishing I might have collected any number of certificate, of its great power in relieving pain, if I had attended to it at the time the cures came under my observation The least I can say for the Pain Killer is, that it fully answers the purpose for which it is recommended.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856 the proprietors of the Post take pleasure in saying that the chance of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. Their old endeavor is to be as it ever has been, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct. Good taste does not require that the English tongue be perverted to produce articles entertaining, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character, Selected and Original; Articles upon Agriculture, Account of the Police and Stock Markets, and a Bank Note List are included in the general information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it includes those who take a pitch beyond all these and indulge in the imaginative and poetical. These elements also it finds in the Post, prepared for the fireside. Tales not one chapter long and as a consequence total in effect, but not narrow and one sided, and such as will be able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. Essays, too. Heaven implanted cravings of the mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Paper to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments are several of the most eminent writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH, author of "The Discarded Wife" Matilda, &c., in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and scenes of Agricultural and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous, thoughtful, etc. character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, each quarter, only 24 cents, at the office where it is received, is only 24 cents a year.

Terms. The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars if paid in advance, Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, to the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit three dollars a year, as the subscription price as we are to prepay the United States postage.

Directions to Clubs.—Any person having seen the name, and wishing to form a Club, may send us the names to it at the same time. Every letter will walk up its subscriptions to end at the same time those of the original list. We will gladly supply Postmasters with specimens if we have them. Our Clubs are so formed as to have the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible, the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them write out the address, when they can conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no travelling agents, but this office only, will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the City, in which they live. All letters must be post paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it to be changed to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to our most influential and responsible persons who will form Clubs, &c.

(NEW NOTICE—1856.—No. 10)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious Tollies in the United States, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (Book Canvassers) by Tract Societies and by others. The American societies and ladies I have uncovered, for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as Pro-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN Basis, or foundation, and opposed even on Anti-principles to our British institutions. Foreign many of these Societies, &c., have been stopped as it were (meddling, I mean, and Christian principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada to aid men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery—I call in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, &c., and refusing any fellowship with such Societies.

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Bible Society, New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication, Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street, New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York.—with many others, of whose pro-slavery and silent character, that the information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free?"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

AGRICULTURAL ODE.

BY WM. C. BRYANT.

Far back in ages,
The plough with wreaths was crowned,
The hands of kings and sages
Entwined the chaplet round;
Till men of spoil
Disdained the toil
By which the world was nourished,
And blood and pillage were the soil
In which the laurels flourished;
Now the world her fault despairs—
The guilt that stains her story,
And weeps her crimes amid the cares
That formed her earliest glory.

The throne shall crumble,
The diadem shall wane,
The tribes of earth shall humble
The pride of those who reign,
And war shall lay
His pomp away;
The fame that heroes cherish,
The glory earned in deadly fray
Shall fade, decay and perish.
Honour waits o'er all the earth.
Through endless generations,
The art that calls the harvest forth,
And feeds the expectant nations.

SHOOTING FUGITIVS IN ILLINOIS ON THE FOURTH.

THREE slaves, thinking to realize for themselves the right of "life liberty and the pursuit of happiness," had made their escape from Missouri, pursued by three white men. It being reported in Nashville, Washington County of this State, on the Fourth of July, that there were three runaways in the neighbourhood, a large crowd of men joined the search. After scouring the country for several hours in vain, most of the company returned, but a detached party of some half dozen men met the fugitives in the road. Animated by the same spirit which prompted Patick Henry to exclaim, "Give me liberty, or give me death," the slaves resisted their would be captors. One of the negroes was shot dead, two of them made their escape, [illegible] wounded. One of the Missouri pursuers cut off the head of the dead slave, and carried it back in a vessel of alcohol, to Border Ruffiandom as a trophy.

However shocking this barbarity may appear in itself, and however abhorrent to the principles whic that Independence Day commemorates, it is in perfect keeping with the spirit which at present directs the administration of our government. That melancholy tragedy at Nashville on the Fourth was not half so much a burlesque on our American Declaration, as the highest court of the land has recently perpetrated That was, but the playing of a single Scene of a single Act of this grand drama. That was but the killing of one man, and wounding another this was the "moral assassination of a whole race." This decision declares that blackb men have no rights which white men are bound to respect, accordingly those white men paid no respect to that black man's dearest right of life and liberty. That was an appropriate celebration at Nashville, if the Supreme Court are correct in their interpretation of the Declaration, and all our jubilees for the last eighty years, upon the equality of man, are but child's play, yea, the American Revolution was but a magnificent farce.

Indignant reader, do not vent all your opprobrium upon those barbarians in Washington County (think of the name), and that border-ruffian from Missouri who carried back the head of the man that loved death better than slavery. Remember that, a few years ago, the United States Government brought into requisition, telegraph, police militia and navy, to catch and carry back the fugitive Sims, right from the "cradle of liberty" in Boston, and all this under the authority of national law. Remember that by this same law if you had refused to join that posse at Nashville when summoned by the proper officer, you would have been held guilty of a misdemeanour. Remember, too, that by our own State law, if you had received to the protection of your house those hunted panting fugitives, or in any way hindered their recapture, you would have been subjected to a line of five hundred dollars and to six months imprisonment. And then remember that these laws are the creatures of the ballot-box, for which every voter has a responsibility—the creatures of a public sentiment, upon which every individual may exert an influence. With these facts in view are you yourself entirely free from the disgrace of that murderous celebration? And are you doing all in your power to correct public sentiment, to repeal those inhuman laws?

It seems that we are hastening to a crisis in this State, from which there will either be a reaction for freedom, or a triumph for slavery. The last Legislature refused to repeal the black laws; one coloured man is now serving as a slave in the State for the crime of coming into it: Senator Douglas stands up at our State Capitol, before a grand jury(!) and gives as the key-note to his party, which is echoed from every pro-slavery press, "the stronger must rule the weaker," and then appears on the Fourth of July as the representative of that sentiment; whilst this bloody tragedy is going on at Nashville upon the same day, in practical illustration of the principle; application is now made to our Chicago board of education to turn the coloured children out of our free schools; and the public is now waiting the decision of Judge McLean and Drummond in the U. S. Distract Court at present in session here, whether a black man can prosecute a white man for assault and battery. These things are now going on before us, and the present is the time to improve by striking at the whole pro-slavery usrpation in our midst. What would the patriots of '76 say if they were to rise from their graves and find that so soon Independence Day was used for hunting and shooting men "created free and equal," guilty of no crime and that too under the sanction of both Federal and State laws? What would they say to find that the principles, for which they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor, were voted a lie by the highest authority in the land, and that lie made the fundamental principle of the party controlling the Government? They would say, ye build our sepulchres, but ye would kill us if we were now with you in the persons of Sumner, Torrey, Lovejoy, and the Kansas martyrs. We want no more of your glorification, until you show yourselves worthy recipients of the boon we secured for you, and this you will show by preserving and extending the blessings we bought with our blood.

But this inconsistency of murdering a man upon the Fourth of July, simply because he loved liberty better than slave y points to a whole brood of contradictions to which it belongs. We claim to have the most liberal government in the world, and yet we have the most intolerable despotism linked with that government, a despotism which is left almost a single notoriety for our nation We have civilization and barbarism both fostered under the same system—Christianity and heathenism both in the same Church—enlightenment yoked to polygamy, adultery and caste—a gospel of liberty and justice which is proclaimed in high places as supporting rapine and robbery—a Constitution ordained to secure liberty, but used to perpetuate slavery—a Declartion of equal rights, which is interpreted by the meanest proscription. And so this "sum of ant villanies is also the sum of all inconsistencies. What shall we do with it? Tear it up root and branch and destroy it forever.

BLOODY TRAGEDY,

IN CHESTER COUNTY.

On Saturday morning last, one of the most frightful tragedies occured in Chester county, which it has been our unpleasant duty to record, and which indeed we are glad to believe is rarely paralleled. We proceed to give the facts of this fearful transaction—whereby one life has been lost and another placed in imminent jeopardy.

Earls on the morning above mentioned Constable Lynch, of West Chester, in company with Milton Layman, proceeded to execute a warrant which had been placed in their hands for the arrest of a man named William Baugh. Baugh resided on the road leading from Lionville to Yellow Springs about 2½ miles from the former place, at what is called Marisville, on the Conestoga turnpike. Baugh was charged with inflicting wounds upon a colored man with a pitchfork; this was the offence for which the arrest was to be made. The police officers arrived on the spot, at the residence of Baugh about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Baugh was at the wood pile cutting wood with an axe in his hand when they drove up in a light wagon. The officers alighted—advanced to Baugh who asked Layman if he was an officer. Layman replied he had some business with him, and Lynch proceeded to read the warrant. At this moment Layman advanced toward Baugh, who raised his axe over his head, and with both hands brought it down upon Layman, aiming at his head, but striking the collar of his coat, and penetrating his neck, inflicting a wound of the most ghastly and deadly character! The wound extended clear across the neck, and is described as some three inches or more in depth, almist severing the jugular vein and slitting it down 1½ inches.—After inflicting this wound he again swung his weapon aloft, to deal another blow, and Layman, who sprung back, drew his revolver and fired to disable the right arm of his antagonist. The ball struck the helve of the axe, and grancing, grazed the shoulder of Baugh, and passed has neck, just missing it, and grazing the chin. Baugh then rushed on Layman, a struggle ensued; Layman threw him, and jumped upon his body, and held him securely, until Constable Lynch furnished a pair of handcuffs. The struggle was long continued—some ten or fifteen minutes—and was of the most desperate character. Finally his hands were manacled and he was forced into the wagon. They then drove rapidly towrad Lionville, Layman driving, and Constable Lynch guarding the prisoner. After driving two miles, Layman became so much exhausted with the loss of blood, as to require assistance—whispered to Lynch that he must summon aid—as they were in the immediate vicinity of Vickers' Pottery.—A colored man who was working in the adjacent fiel I was called to, who came forward, but refused to render assistance when told that Baugh was in the wagon Perceiving their helpless condition Baugh determined to frustrate their efforts to obtain aid, and, with the desperation of despair, made an attack on Lynch, who held a loaded pistol in his pocket. He siezed Lynch by the throat and attempted to force him from the wagon, Lynch drew his pistol from his pocket—Baugh got hold of the pistol, but with aid of Layman it was recovered by Lynch; Baugh again seized the arm of Lynch, making a desperate effort to regain the pistol, and the pistol in the struggle was discharged, and the contents entered the head of the prisoner, at the temple, and the ball lodged above the eye on the opposite side of the head. The wound was mortal; the prisoner was disabled, and the wagon again proceeded forward with all speed.

Constable Lynch was the only partp now not in a disabled condition—and he reached Lionville, covered with blood, with his dying prisoner and his desperately wounded companion.

The circumstances which led to the issue of the warrant for the arrest of Baugh, were as follows:

On the 10th of July, Baugh, was pitching hay in the field of John Maris, in company with a colored man. The latter made the remark that he pitched more hay than Baugh when B. took offence, and drove the fork into him two or three times, inflicting some wounds not of a serious character. The injured man made complaint to Esq., Butler upon which a warrant for his arrest was made which was not served for some time after. The warrant was placed in the hands of Moses Moses, Constable of West Pikeland township who went to Baugh, stated his business and advsied him to deliver himself up peaceably—to go before the magistrate, and promised that security or bail should be forthcoming. Baugh refused—took exceptions to the magistrate who issued the warrent, as well as to other magistrates, and finally absolutely refused to be taken—and declared he would resist to the death. His wife and niece earnestly implored him to submit to the law, and to deliver himself up; but he declined, and threatend he would kill any person who should attempt his arrest. The Constable, fearing bodyliy injury, returned the warrant to Esq. Butle, the officiating magistrate. After consulation with the District Attorney, the warreant was placed in the hands of Constable Lynch, of West Chester, who called in the aid of Milton Layman, also of this Borough, to assist him in executing the warrant.—Record.

A NEW DODGE

The Washington correspondent of the Tirbune Writes: A very remareable fact has been communicated to me by a gentleman who sympathizes with the South in all questions connected with Slavery. He says that the vessel lately seized and examined at Savannah, Georgia, upon suspicion of being engaged in the slave trade, but released for want of proof, had really been prepared for a voyage to Africa, and that her owners intend to bring into Savannah a cargo of slaves from Dahomey. If the several laws for the suppression of the traffic be brought to bear against the legality of the enterprise, they will take position against the right of the General Government to prohibit the importation of merchandise essential to the interests of the South. Should such a conflict of State and Federal authority arise, it cannot be doubted that it will be decided in favor of the South, and that the Slave trade would be formally established under the principles of the DRED SCOTT decision.

PRO-SLAVERY CATECHISM.

The Synod of Mississippi has recently published "a catechism for the religious instruction of the Colored people," in which the following questions and answers occur:

Q. Are not servants bound to obey their masters?

A. Yes—the Bible exhorts servants to be obedient to their masters, and to please them well in all things, not answering again.

Q. If the master be unreasonable may the servant disobey?

A. No—the Bible says "Servants be subject to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward

Q. What does the Bible say to servants on this subject?

A. They are to obey, not with eye service as men pleasers, but as the servants of Christ.

Q. If servants suffer unjustly, what are they to do?

A. They must bear it patiently.

Q. Ought servants to rebel against the authority of their masters?

A. No—it is a sin against God and man.

Q. How do we know this?

A. The Bible tells us that the Apostle Paul found a servant who had run away from his master, and he sent him home.

Q. Why did not Paul conceal him, that he might be free?

A. Because he would not make religion a cloak for injustice!

That will do! This is certainly the pursuit of religion under difficulties.

☞ New York Herald says that the English are in advance of the French in the new scheme in supplying the West Indies with negro labor and that Palmerston is ahead of Louis Napoleon in the business. The Herald makes this statement on the authority of a letter from Port Spain Island of Trinidad, in which it is stated that two ship loads of negroes had arrived there. On the strength of this the Herald cries out that Great Britain has commenced the slave trade. But in point of fact the negroes alluded to are Portuguese African emigrants, who have of their own free will gone to the Island of Trinidad to serve a voluntary apprenticeship of ten years.

EMANCIPATION.—The colored population of Toronto and Hamilton celebrated on Saturday the 1st inst., the emancipation of the negroes in the British territories' at the latter city by a procession to and from the Church; and a very creditable display of oratory at the Mechanics' Hall in the afternoon. The proceedings were orderly and creditable, and showed that the colored people of these places know how to enjoy the blessings of freedom so justly accorded to them.—Mail.

We hope the Liberty-loving people of these Provinces and the States will give them aid in their work.—M. A. & S. C.

THE CRISTIAN MESSENGER SLANDER &c.

No. 1.

We understand that the "Christian Messenger" the organ of the Pro-Slavery Baptist Church of Canada, has thought proper to open the vial of it pious wrath, and pour its contents upon our devoted head. We are charged with the enormous crime of "slander." For what? and in what, did we slander that paper? We merely asserted a truth. We said in a speech at Brantford that the Regular Baptist Church was Pro-Slavery, and that the Christian Messenger, its organ, had carefully excluded from its columns, whatever of Anti-Slavery that would give offence to its brethren in the States. This was simply what we said, drawing the inference as we had a right to do that it had a circulation in the Southern States. In proof of our position, we cited its refusal to publish any of the excellent letters of that noble-hearted christian gentleman, Mr. J. J. E. Linton of Stratford.—We also asserted, and we challenge the editor to disprove the fact if he can, that not one single word had ever been said in that paper from the time it was first established up to the time we made our second speech, in May 1857, in condemnation of the high and bloody crime of theological cradle plundering, carried on by the regular Baptist Church in the United States. This was the head and front of our offending, so far as the "Christian Messenger," was concerned. We would have noticed ere this what was intended by its very astute and accomplished editor, as an annihilator, but for this reason, we had no desire to do injustice to the editor of that paper, and in order to meet him fairly, we put it off, hoping to make it convenient to pay Brantford a visit. In this we have been disappointed, nevertheless we have not been idle in that direction, hoping to find something to retract from what we said in Brantford. To that end we took the pains to look over a whole box full of Messengers, but instead of its altering our opinion, we were more than ever convinced of the correctness of our position. In the back numbers of that paper we find numerous letters from southern Baptist Ministers telling what a precious time they are having in the land of Bible bloodhounds, and sanctified "thumb screws." How the Lord has been showering his blessings upon the head of these American woman-whippers—upon the murderers of fathers and mothers. Its pages laden with downright blasphemy and nothing else. For a slaveholder is not only a robber, but a murderer, an atheistical monster, towering in the mid-night blackness of his crime, above the vilest wreach that ever insulted God, as a monument of his forbearance on earth.—What is he but an intellectual reasoning brute? and enemy of his species, and the boldest traitor against the Government of God. Yet these Canadian Baptists dare fellowship such inhuman monsters, and at the same time claim to be Christian men. Our position is this! He who fellowships a horse thief, knowing him to be such, is no better than the horse thief. When Elder Campbell of Chatham, invites a slaveholder to his pulpit, his garments all stained with the warm blood of outraged humanity, Elder Campbell becomes an accomplice of the theif. When Elder Piper in turn invites Campbell to his pulpit, they all in turn become involved in the sin of slavery.

We can readily account for the sympathy that exists between the Christian Messenger and the self-styled First Colored Baptist of Chatham, As for the letter that recently appeared in that paper over the signature of some Cobblers, Dresser Ash carters & broken down b-g-g-a-s, who have grown grey in iniquity, we have but little to say. Of course we know that they did'nt write it, for not one of the pretended Committee have brains enough to put ten words together grammatically; and to suppose them to be the author of the article refered to, would be perfectly ridiculous.

We suppose the poor miserable, contemptible, puppy, whose tools they are, thought he did his work well when he referred to the fact of us having been once a barber in Cleveland, because we were forced in our poverty by American prejudice, to accept the humble but honorable calling of a barber in order to get our honest living.—Poor fellows! we do from our very soul pity them in their poverty to find fault with the "Provincial Freeman." It is said that contempt has the property of descending, but it would die before it could reach them. H. F. D.

THE CELEBRATION AT DAWN.

In another place we give a letter of invitation to Mr. William Whipper, from a Committee at Dawn, and the reply thereto. We have been informed that the celebration was an interesting affair though somewhat marred by the ugly conduct of the occupants of the Dawn Institution grounds. The Committee of Arrangements omitted the name of John Scobie, from their published bills as speaker, and because of that omission we are told that they would not permit the people to celebrate in the Dawn Grove or on the lands.—"The selfish old codgers!" A new way to force respect where not deserved! Fortunately Mr. Hollensworth opened his grounds though the pathway had to be made through a ripening field of grain.—A. F. S.

THE PROGRAMME, of Winter operations which we propose to give last week is to establish first, reading circles of not more than twenty members each. Secondly, a series of cheap lectures—not free lectures—twice per week, at least. Thirdly, to patronize extensively the usual lectures given; and lastly to attend such religious denominations only as can tolerate anti-slavery and other needful reforms also.—A. F. S.

PASSMORE WILLIAMSON.—The Philadelphia North American says that PASSMORE WILLIAMSON instituted legal proceeedings on Saturday, against Chief Justice LEWIS, of the Supreme Court of Pensylvania, for illegally refusing to grant him a writ of habeas corpus during the period when he was arbitrarily detained in prison by Judge KANE.

MR. WILLIAM WHIPPER.—

Dear Sir:—We the undersigned Committee do respectfully invite you on behalf of the residents of Dresden and vicinity to participate with us in celebrating the First of August in Dresden, C. W.

H. DAMRELL,
WM. CROSBY,
D. SMITH,
A. HIGHGATE, Chairman.
J. B. HOLLENSWORTH, Sec'y

Dresden, July 9th, 1857.

COLUMBIA, JULY 25th, 1857.

MESSRS. A. HIGGATE, J. B. HOLLENSWORTH, H DAMRELL WM. CROSBY, DAVID SMITH.—Gentlemen:

Your kind favor of the 11th inst. is received, inviting me in behalf of your fellow-citizens, to participate with them in celebrating the 1st of August in Dresden, Canada West.

I sincerely regret that my domestic duties will deprive me of the privilege of associating with you on that historic occasion; especially as Dresden is the very spot you have assembled to commemorate, has not only become sacred to the affections and feelings of the people, but has created an event, that has become interwoven with her national policy, and embodied in her history as one of the proudest and noblest achievements that mark the records of time, In my view the illustrious act of legislation which you have assembled to commemorate was not intended to lessen tasks, but to change taskmasters—to destroy the despotic sovereignty of the ruler, and reinstate our own wills, as the land mark to guide our future destiny. It was not intended to lessen labor, but to increase it. Even physical drudgery may be increased by the act of emancipation, and if it is were not the case why is it that we are taught to expect increased productions from the soil by the substitution of free over slave labor. If labor be the foundation of capital and national wealth, then the present prosperous condition of the free over the slave states, must have been the result of the greater quantity as well as quality of labor bestowed on them. The abolition of slavery everywhere increases the task of the emancipated, by calling into action their moral, mental and religious faculties in addition to their physical exertions.

That illustrious act was intended to redeem 800,000 human beings from the dark cells of barbarism, where they had been imprisoned by a professedly christian nation.

They are taken from the dark caves of slavery, and ushered into the light of a liberty, civilization and christianity as glorious as the world has yet seen. May they learn to appreciate its rich blessings, and fulfill the duty they owe to themselves—to government—to posterity—and to God.

If there be those who have dreamed that the act of emancipation, was intended to free them from obligations of duty or action, they have mistaken its spirit, and should be instructed to the contrary. I appeal to those heroic noble-minded men and women who are now assembled; who fired with the spirit of freedom have emancipated themselves independent of Republican governments, or Parliamentary legislation, whose resolute and determined wills, guided by the North Star, have brought you to this true liberty-loving Eden of the New World. You whose arms have been the great agricultural levers that have raised for the southern states of this Union, one of the most powerful oligarchies on earth. The cotton, rice, tobacco and hemp you have produced have been the great stay of American commerce, and rendered you the great barometers of finance for the civilized world.

Cities have been constructed by your mechanism, and the ponderous edifices have been carried on your shoulders. Those who have produced such magnificient homes for tyrants, fed, nurtured, and sustained them in such pomp and splendor, have little to fear from any obstacles they may meet with in this country.

From the spot where you are now assembled, you can easily run your eyes over the broad landscape and point to a bright and glorious future. You can contemplate the prospects of a railroad connecting Lakes Erie and Huron, whose starting point will be the Rond Eau, following the Town line, which divides Harwich from Howard, and Camden from Chatham, until it reaches the point where you now stand, passing onward through Dawn, Enniskillin, Moore and Sarnia to its terminus at the foot of Lake Huron, connecting itself with that mammoth enterprise of the 19th century, The Grand Trunk Railroad which forms a bridge over land and water for upwards of a thousand miles and water for upwards of a thousand miles and connects Lake Huron, with the Atlantic Ocean. Nor is your prospect less brilliant by water than land communication with the old world. The prospective Ship Canal passing through the region I have described is completed, will be the great channel of communication between the Eastern and Western Hemispheres, which will bear on its bosom the rich contributions of the south, coming up the great "Father of Waters, passing through Lake Michigan will unite with the great mining and agricultural productions of Lake Superior, draining in its pathway Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Indiana, Minesota, Wisconsin, and "Her Majesty's" Northern possessions.

If we take a more local survey of the bright prospects that surround you in this garden of the West, the County of Kent and Lampton will under the rich behests of Providence prove to be a paradised Eden to many a weary traveller.

Contemplate your own beautiful Sydenham as a great natural pathway for commerce, whose source is found in Warwick, passing through Brooke, Zone, Dawn and Sombra, where it unites with St. Clair, the centre link in the chain of the North American Lakes, Or contemplate the fine timber and fruitful soil that is drained by its northern branch from Bossanquet, (the ancient home of the Indians) passing through Warwick, Plympton, Moor, and Sombra, finding its terminus at Walbaceburg, where the united streams form a volume of water 97 feet deep, capable of bearing vessels of 1000 burthen, from thence through the Lakes and the river St. Lawrence to the Atlantic Ocean, and from thence to the Old World.

Who in contemplation of the rich and noble advantage your position presents, shall dare to predict that the descendants of slaves in this land shall not produce distinguished representatives in the sciences, arts and civilization,—whose names shall be handed down to succeeding generations, as connected with the events that embellish a nation's history, embalmed in the affections of a grateful posterity. Who shall dare to assert that some youth who may be educated here, while ascending the hill of science, may not become the fortunate discoverer, not only of the true cause of miasma, and its effects on the human system; but the means of dispelling it from your swamps; or whose bold and daring genius shall eclipse those of Franklin, Fulton, and Morse, by discovering the true secret of circumnavigating the air. Every age and almost every nation, from the most flourishing period of Egyptian history down to the present moment, have been enlightened by the contributions of African genius, and flourished by their industry,

Many of the illustrious names that ornament history, were the descendant of a parentage whose pecuniary condition is similar to your own If you review the history of the past, you will find that slaves, and the descendants of slaves, have been deeply versed in classic lore, masters in Divinity, Sculpture, Painting, Astronomy, and medical skill. Even in the United States, where legislation, and religion have associated to crush their manhood, and entomb their intellects, the burning crater of their genius like some modern Vesuvius consumed the lustre that surrounded it, while its agonizing blaze burst forth like a stream of vivid lightning illuminating the whole firmament.

Be encouraged my friends, though poor, you are not left without character, for the most dignified encomiums have been bestowed on you by distinguished American statesmen: They expatiate on the unexampled growth and prosperity of the American Republic,—whose commerce floats on every sea, and whose matchless enterprise, and intrepidity is almost commensurate with the globe we inhabit, and forms a crowning monument in the history of the Anglo Saxon race.

You came here as hunted outcasts, and yet unsolicited on your part, your passports have gone before you, bearing the signatures of the proudest statesman that ever trod the soil, who boldly asserts that you and your fathers were to the American Republic what Jesus Christ was to the Christian church;—The chief corner stone on which it was erected, without which in their view, the principle of liberty it implantted, and the achievements it consummated, must have remained entombed in the night of ages; and now my dear friends, you who have proved to be such a national blessing to a people who have robbed and plundered you, and wrested from you all the blessings due to our common humanity, how much more grateful ought you to be to the country of your adoption, where you have the exalted privilege of possessing and enjoying all the divine and civil attributes pertaining to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; where you can perhaps use the language of the immortal Curran, and say "no matter in what disastrous battle our liberties may have been cloven down,—no matter whether an African or an American sun have shone upon you, let the altars and the republics sink together in the dust; and let your souls walk abroad in the majesty and strength of your divine natures, because you stand forth redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled by the irresistible genius of Britain's emancipation.

I remain yours in the cause of Justice and Freedom,
WILLIAM WHIPPER.

MRS. CUNNINGHAM REFUSES TO SUBMIT TO A MEDICAL EXAMINATION.

HER SHAMS DETECTED BY THE DOCTORS.

The further proceedings in this case on Thursday were not important, and are thus summarized:

The investigation as to the late conspiracy for which Mrs. Cunningham and others have been arrested, was resumed yesterday morning. Dr. Catlin having turned State's evidence, and aided in further exposure of the plot, will be used by the District Attorney as a witness. Drs Dewees and Barker, who were sent by the Justice and District Attorney Hall to make a medical examination of Mrs. Cunningham, in order to ascertain to a further certainty if she had recently given birth to a child, reported that Mrs. Cunningham claim'd to be sick, and objected to the examination being made. She remarked to them: "Oh! my part I do not object to having it done by advice of my counsel, Mr. Stafford"

☞ A fine little boy aged nine years, son of Mr. William Walkerly, was drowned in the dock at Niagara on Sunday last. The accident was not seen, but it was supposed he was playing on a boat and fell overboard This is the second child Mr. Walkerly has had the misfortune to have had drowned in the same place, within the last thirteen months.—Mail.

AN EXTRAORDINARY BATCH OF CONVICTS.—On Monday, was given at Lloyd's that her Majesty's Government required a ship immediately to carry 400 male convicts from England to Freemantle, Western Australia. Perhaps a more remarkable set of convicts never left the country at one time than will go out in this ship. Amongst the 400 will be found Sir John Dean Paul, Strahan, and Bates, the fraudulent bankers, Robson, the Crystal Palace forger, Redpath, who committed the forgeries on the Great Northern Railway Company, and Agar, the railway gaurd, who committed the great gold robbery on the South-Eastern Railway The notorious bank forger Barrister Saward alias Jem the Penman, the putter up of all the great robberies in the metropolis for the last twenty years, also goes out in this ship, which will leave England on the 25th prox inst, embarking the convicts at Deptford, the little Nore, Portsmouth, Portland, and Plymouth.

A GOOD JOKE.—Wm. Wells Brown, the colored orator, who is not so black as some white men, told a very good story at the Abington celebration on Saturday. On a steamboat on Canada Lake the other day he went to the breakfast table with the other passengers. Just as he took his seat, a dark colored white man called a waiter and asked if colored persons were admitted to the table with white folks. The waiter did not know exactly what to say, so he called the Captain, who on entering the cabin enquired who had called for him. "I, sir," said Mr. Brown, pointing to the dark stranger, "I desire to know if it is your custom to allow colored people at the regular table?" The captain replied that no objection had ever been made before, and seeing the dark white man evidently annoyed in spirit, appealed to the generosity of the colored orator, to allow him to remain. Mr. Brown finally consented, and at this turn of affairs the white man, who was so black as to be passed for a negro, left the table in utter disgust, and unable to speak his thoughts. —Boston Traveler.

While the two Southernes were in secret conference with the Mayor, a large negro stationed himself on the opposite side of the street, and rang a huge dinner bell. In a quarter of an hour a crowd of between 300 and 400 excited blacks gathered, and matters began to wear a squally aspect.

They were in this city some ten days since, and after taking advice concluded to go to chatham, prefer criminal charges against them, and have them brought to this city under the Ashburton Treaty, when the disguise could be dropped, and that most just and humane of all enactments the Fugitive Slave Law, could be brought into active requisition.

The Mayor informed his visitors that he was afraid he could not protect them if they prolonged their stay, and as for getting their slaves it was out of the question. Seeing the crowd the men were only too glad to escape and come back to this side, which they at the very best speed, The adventure was a foolhardy as a despicable one.—Detroit Tribune.

SLAVEHOLDERS WITH SHARP STICKS AFTER THEM.—We learn from a private source that the good people of Chatham had quite an excited time Tuesday morning consequent upon the introdustion of an agitating element, into that peaceable town in the shape of two brave-hearted red-hot slaveholders.

They accordingly went over Monday and "spotted" seven chattels that had formerly done some service for them in a southern clime. Their plans were laid before the Mayor of Chatham, on Tuesday morning. Val the colored people were as keen sighted as the white men and tracked them every step of their way.

CROWN LANDS DEPARTMENT.—We understand that the staff of officers of department, under the new Civil Service Bill, will be made up as follows:—

Assistant Commissioner.——A. Russell, Esq.

Surveyor General.—Mr Bouchette.

Inspector of Woods and Forests Branch —Mr. Dawson,

Superintendant of Land Sales———Mr. Spragge

Accountant—Mr. Ford.

If this inteligence be correct, the department has got a most excellent sub-chief Mr. Russel is and old, faithful, talented and most efficient servant of the Crown, and one to whom we could most heartily offer our congratulations. We had heard, also, Mr. Dawson, another most efficient officer, whose able report on the Hudson Bay question we had occasion to mention not long since, spoken of for the place, for which he was well fitted.—[Montreal Gazette,

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

☞ Read the following letter from CALEB PARKER, Esq, of Concord, N. H., a man honored and esteemed by all who knew him

Gentlemen:—With no disposition to make my name conspicuous, I take the opportunity to state to the afflicted the benefit I have derived from the use of Dr. Green's Oxygenated Bitters, and to recommend them to others. For two years I have been troubled with indigestion and its attendant evils, flatulency, constipation, several attacks of diahorea, accompanied with water-brash at the stomach, which reduced me in flesh, strength, and spirits so low that I was nearly unfit for business. I applied to several physicians, from whom I obtained only temporary relief, and finding in a short time my disease returning in all its malignity. I concluded with advice of friends, but without the least faith in their efficacy to try the Oxygenated Bitters, from the use of which I found immediate relief, having no return of water-brash after taking the first portion. I continued it according to the direction until I had taken eight or ten bottles, which have entirely cured me. My weight has increased some thirty-five pounds, and my health is perfect. I can truly say that I consider the Oxygenated Bitters the best tonic extant. I have recommended them to several who have invariably found great benefit from their use.

Yours respectfully,
CALEB PARKER.

Opinion of the Prominent Druggists of Cincinnati.

We, the undersigned, Druggits of this city have been acquainted with, and sold for a year or two past, an article of Family Medicine, known as Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer, and we would assure the public that in every instance, so far as we know, it has given the best satisfaction to the purchaser. We can recommend it to the public as an article

OF GREAT MERIT AND VIRTUE.

Indeed, we never knew an article of Medicine become so deservedly popular in so short a time which is proved by the fact of its extensive sale and constantly increasing demand. Signers:

Dear Sir:—I became your agent without feeling any interest in the medicine, but I soon became very much interested upon seeing the happy effect it had upon many persons. The increased sales in this State are really astonishing I might have collected any number of certificates of its great power in relieving pain, if I had attended to it at the time the cures came under my observation. The least I can say for the Pain Killer is, that it fully answers the purpose for which it is recommended.

STRATFORD C. W.
16th March 1857

NOTE The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators, Ministers of religion and others favourable to the putting down of the CURSE and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country.—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks, the savage, uncivilized and unchristian manner expended)—that attention is called to the adoption of such a Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and to a nicety EXACTLY, those who in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks."—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britain's possessions; and make it—Canada—more reliable as a home for the Emigrant, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its intention generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicly use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community,—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those, D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

PROSPECTUS FOR 1856.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Weekly Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856 the proprietors of the Post take it for granted that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by MRS. SOUTHWORTH author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important paces and actions, of Agricultural and other new Inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

ACTIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

JOHN MURPHY.

Toronto Dec. 23 1854.

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY or SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious, humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society,—Philadelphia,—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society, [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circu- "lated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

FACTS FOR BAPTIST CHURCHES.

"This is a book which no BAPTIST in Canada, —lay or clerical,—should be without. It shews the support given to Slavery by the American Baptists. The "Free Will Baptists" and "Free Mission Baptists" are exempted from that charge, as they openly denounce slavery and receive not its bloody gains."—J. J. E. L.

YOUNG AMERICA MOUNTING PARNASSAS.

ADDRESS TO THE AMERICAN FLAG ON THE FOURTH—BY SQUASH OF CALIFORNIA.

Studdid wilst settin onto the Piazzy fence watchin of American Flag wavin from the Liberty Poal and telung off of fire crackers now and then.

O, mity rag! O booteous peese of cloth!
Made of red and white and blue stripes,
And stars painted on both sides—
All hale! Again I'm sittin in thi umbrajus
Shaddur, and admiring thi grandjer,
And sucking into my coust the gentle zeffers
That are holdin u oat well ni onto Strate. Grate flag! when I shet
Mi ize and look at yer, and think
How as when u was lutle, and not much
Bigger than a peece of paper, yu
Was carried all threw the revolution—
Ary war, and hev sum few times sence
Held up yer hed with difficulty, and
How tresenjus yu are now, I feal
Jest as if I shud bust, and fli all round, and want
Tu git down off the fence, and git shot,
Or stabbed, or hit on the hed with a stick
Of wood, or hung, for mi kauntry.

Prodigious banner! Wouldn't I smile to see
A Chinaman, or a small unnatheralized
Fur'ner undertalk to pull u down!
If a Chinaman I wud siz him and kut
Off his kew, and bare it off in triumph,
Before I'd see a shi tore in ye, or the sacrijus
Hands of a fo kuttin u up into bullit
Patchin, I'd brace my back agin a waul (or House, or a fense, or a bord, as it mite,)
And fite, and strike, and scratch, and Kick, and bite, and take my klose, and Looze mi hat and git hit in the I, and
On my leg, akrost the small of
Mi back, and faul down and git up
Agin, and kontinue the struggle for half or Three-quarters of an hour, or untill I got Severely wounded.

Terriffic emblem! How proud you look,
And how almity sassy yu wave round,
Snappin and cracken, and scarin ov horses;
I spose yure almost tairin to get into a
Fite with somebody, and satisfy yer kar-
Niverous disposishun by eating up a hole nashun.

Grate flag! I don't no which makes me feel
The most patriotic—yu or the forth of July
Yu aint made of the same sort of stuff altho
Yu are about the same age, and are both
Sublime, and terrible to kontemplait.

But I must klose and waiv my last adew
However I yin to my feelins it ma be,
And git down of the fense, for alreddy the Sharp pints of the pickets begin to stick
Me, and mak me skrmge and hitch about and
Threaten to tair mi klose and mak me holler.

CHAPTER OF FICTS.

SLAVEHOLDING PIETY ILLUSTRATED—The Rev. Samuel Sawyer, a graduate of the New York Union Theological Seminary, and for the past nine years pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Rogersville, East Tennessee, was recently driven from his Church in consequence of his course in [illegible] Slave [illegible] named Anthony by his master, one Colonel Netherland, and elder in his Church. Mr. Sawyer has published nothing in regard to the affair until driven to it by slanderous reports, prejudicial to his character as a minister, having been circulated, and forced him to his own defence. He therefore publishes a long statement in a supplement to the Knoxville (Tennessee) Presbyterian Witness, the truth of which is vouched for by Messrs. Joseph Hoffmaster and J. L. Johnson, elders of the Rogersville Church. The Colonel Netherland, whose brutality is so disgustingly shown, has been elected a delegate to the Secession Convention called by the pro slavery ministers of the New School Presbyterian Church, to meet at Richmond on the 2.th instant.

It appears that a slave, formerly belonging to the children of the Rev. F. A. Ross, D. D., was owned by Col. Netherland, and was sold in 1856 to be sent to Mississippi. Rather than go "down South," the negro ran off to the woods, and remained concealed for more than a year, until found and brought back by some hunters. He was then handed over by Colonel Netherland, with his chains on, to the trader who bought him, who took him back of the Church, to a field, and there, in the presence of a crowd of spectators, beat him with over three hundred and thirty blows, laid on with a leather strap nailed to a board; while the slave was tied down on his back, naked and blindfolded. The trader whipped him to make him confess who had harboured him, and would probably have beaten him till Saturday night" if such an excitement had not been caused by the first instalment of scourging

But this was not the worst. Col. Netherland owned an old gray-haired slave, who had nursed him in [illegible]

☞ The Communication from C. H. Charity—addressed "H. F. D. the slanderer," we must respectfully decline, because of the exceedingly vulgar and abusive character of the same. Mr. Charity hopes it may be inserted, as it is his first a tempt to send a Communication to the Freeman. It is very unfortunate that his first attempt should be couched in terms so offensive to good taste as to oblige us, to with hold it from our readers, as were it otherwise, we would as cheerfully give space to a letter from Mr. Charity or any other enemy to the enterprise, it decently written, though it contain censure—severe censure of the conductors of this paper, as from a firend.

CHRONICLES OF THE "SOUTHERN INDIGNATION MEETING."

CHAPTER I.

1. And it came to pass that the Daughters of the nation made ready a feast, to which all the children of Israel were invited.

2. Now then it came to pass, when they were all assembled, that there arose one of the Chief Priests, and said many truths which made them wax wroth.

3. And there was at that ume a Pharisee, who was Gray in sin and who in wrath began to speak against the High Priest, and rail at him.

4. And he called the people together, and spoke to them concerning the things the High Priest said of them at the feast.

5 Then the multitude waxed wroth, and reviled the High Priest, and commanded that he should be brought before them that they might slay Him.

6. Then one of the faithful servants opened his mouth and spake saying: "Take heed my brethern, for ye know not what ye do."

7 Then there arose a great tumult, and the cry went forth "Put him out," "Put him out," and the assembly was swayed to and fro.

8. And the cry was so great that they with dificulty restrained themselves from from violently laying hands on those faithful servants of the High Priest.

9. And one and another of these faithful servants of the High Priest spake to them, but they would not hearken, and turned a deaf ear to them.

10 And so by reason of their violence these servants were forced to hold their peace.

11. Then did those wicked servants hearken to foolish counsel, and they again commanded that the High Priest might be brought before them that they might scourge and slay him.

12. Now when the High Priest heard how these wicked servants were arrayed [against him] immediately summoned al[l]

Arrival Of The

'ATLANTIC.'

NEW YORK August 31.

The Collins steam ship Atlantic arrived at 6¼ o'clock on Sunday morning, from Liverpool, 11½ a. m., on the 19th inst. She reports having passed the steamer Europa on the 20th, signalled the Persia on the 24th, and saw the Fulton off Cape Race on the 29th.

The steamer Asia arrived at Liverpool at 8 a. m., of the 16th.

The news by this arrival is unimportant.

The Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company were to hold a special meeting in London on the day Atlantic sailed, to consider whether the attempt should be renewed in October, or deferred till another summer.

The London Star says it is estimated that the outside loss the Company will sustain will be about £25,000

It is fully expected that at least one half of the sunken cable will be recovered. All that is within 400 fathoms will be got up, but that portion in deep sea will, in all probability never be recovered.

The proceedings of Parliament were uninteresting.

The recent storms and floods had done considerable damage to the crops, etc., in various parts of England, but dry weather had prevailed during the three days preceding the Atlantic's departure, and it was reported that the effects of the rain would be much alleviated.

The London Times says a merchant recently deceased at Liverpool, is said to have left liabilities reaching £3 00 000, of which £100,000 are through forged acceptances to bills of exchange

The Liverpool Post pronounces the story a hoax.

The mail steamer for India would sail on the 19th of August, and would take out £250,000 sterling in silver.

The Fetes Napoleon on the 15th of August, passed off well, although the outdoor arrangements were marred by wet wether.

It is believed that France will demand of England the extradition of Ledru Rollin, and it is stated that he is about to emigrate to the United States.

The Paris Correspondence of the Times mentions, the departure from Paris to Marseilles of General D. Oregone, and predicts that he will be found at the head of the insurgents of Pelhi before November. It was he who stirred up the last Burmese war. The same correspondent says that the French Government contemplate sending a naval and military expedition to Cochin China, to demand satisfaction for an insult offered to the French representation of the Emperor. He also says that it is proposed to form a maritime and commercial post in the Bay of Tornine in Cochin China.

LATER BY THE VANDERBIT.

SANDY HOOD, Sept 2d, 57.

The steamship Vanderbilt from Havre and Southampton on the 22d, has just arrived off the point.

By this arrival we have important news from India. General Barnard and Sir Henry Lawrence are dead.

The Europeans at Skemonedose had been massacred, and that place recaptured.

More English troops had arrived at Calcutta. The rebels had been defeated in three engagements.

The steamer "Transit" had been lost in the straits of Sunda. The crew and troops by her weye saved.

An officer of the 39th Regiment in Montreal, Ensign Blennerhasset, was arrested on Monday last for assaulting some bailiffs who attempted to seize upon his goods for debt. The officer's conduct, as reported by the Montreal papers, was of a very disreputable nature, for which he well deserves punishment.

An embezzlement of seventy has been detected in the Mechanic's Banking Association of New York. The delinquent, it is said, holds an office of trust and responsibility in the bank.

About thirty-five men are now engaged at the Burlington Heights, excavating for a new road way to the temporary bridge, which is to be built at the West side of the Heights, until the permanent one shall have been erected instead of the late Suspension Bridge.

Accounts from Liberia announce that the colonists were suffering severely from want of food. The failure of the rice crop and lack of industry on the part of the emigrants from the United States seem to have produced a sorry state of affairs in the Colony.

☞ The misery of the poor at Rome is very great. Bread is represented to be exceedingly dear, and grain is exported in large quantities, while its importation is prohibited. Recently two ships arrived at Civita Vecchia laden with grain. The news soon reached Rome, and the price of grain fell immediately, and the Romans expected to have cheaper bread in consequence, but they were terrible disapointed; for it appears that the brothers Antonelli and Messrs. Feoli and Silenzi, who are the corn dealers of the place, managed to send these vessels to Leghorn, and food remained as dear as before.—Ib.

☞ The Savanah News has later advices from Nassau and Inagua. Two thousand bushels of salt had been raked up to the 1st of August. At Turk's Island a million of bubels were on hand, and it was selling at ten cents per bushels.—Ib.

☞ The New York Times says:—Bernard McKenna, aged 40 years, made a wager with a friend on saturday that he would climb bto the top mast of the schooner Helen lying at the foot of Walt-street, and return in safety. He reached the top, but when about to lower himself, he became dizzy and fell head foremost to the deck. He died immediately.—Colonist.

☞ The London Post, in describing the arrival of the Emperor and the Empress in the Reine Hortense off Osborne, said:—As the Prince Consort approached the Imperial yacht, the Emperor, in his anxiety to greet his Royal Highness, ascended the paddlebox, and on stepping down hastily to meet the Prince, missed his footing and fell violently on the deck. His Majesty was much shaken, and grazed his face slightly, but, instantly recovering himself, warmly embraced the Prince Consort.—Ib.

Mr. Brydges of the Great Western Railway is to be entertained at a public dinner in Hamilton on the 5th inst., by the employees of that road, previous to his departure, whither he goes on a visit.

The Executors of the late Adam Forrie, who was killed at the catastrophe at the Desjardins Canal bridge, have sued the Great Western Railway Company for damages. The compensation sought is £15,000).

UNMARRIED WOMEN IN GREAT BRITAIN —It appears from the census of Great Britain of 1951, that in that year, there were in the country nearly six million of woman above twenty years of age—of whom one moillion seven hundred and sixty-seven thousand were unmarried, and seven hundred and ninety-five thousand widows.

The Sothern wing of the New School Presbyterian Church, U. S., which seceded from the main body in consequence of the anti-slavery action of the General Assembly held at Clevaland last Spring, are now holding a convention at Richmond, Virginia, to conclude what they shall do under the circumstances. There seems to be little but that they will totally disconnect from the ultra New School.

ANTI-GALLOWS —Mr, Charles Phillips the eminent and veteran London barrister has published a pamphlet, in which he avows the opinion, the result of his long and varied experience, that capital punishment, so far from diminishing, only increases crime, and its effects is brutalizing to the [m]ost upon society.

We have intelligence from Havana to the 24 hult. A lively agitation was going on in that island in favor of the abolition of slavery; but the commercial news were the most important. There was a crisis in financial affairs, and the sugar market was stagnant, with prices declining. Bahia, also, and other places in South America, the prices of sugar were going downwards. The speculation in sugars has evidently reached the turning point, and many who invested heavily in the article will be likely now to suffer by the change.

Col. Benton has written a review of the Dred Scott decision. He takes ground with Judges Curtis and McLean, and against the majority of the Court. The book is now in press

Spcial Notices.

Bite of a Rattlesnake cured in five minutes

MESSRS PERRY DAVIS & SON—GENTS.—A merchant of Linneus, in this State, informs me that recently one of his sons was severly bitten on the leg by a rattlesnake, from the effects of which he suffered most dreadfully. The family chancing to have some of Perry Davis' Pain Killr in the house immediately commenced bateing the bitten place, without knowing whether it would or not, afford the less relief, but surprising as it may seem, the posion was soon observed to exude from the wound, and in five or ten minutes the young man fell asleep, entirely free from pain, or any effect from the bite except the flesh wound, which healed very soon. By giving publicity to this fact in your pamphlet designed for southern and western distribution and such countries as poisonous reptiles more or less abound, it might serve the cause of humanity and be the means of supplying an article the want of which has long been experienced,

Yours respectfully, H. BLAKSLEY, St Louis, Mo.

CASE OF ASTHMA.

The following letter from Hon. Myron Lawrence of Belchertown is valuable testimony in favor of the Oxygenated Bitters:—

BELCHERTOWN, March 16.

Dr. Green.—I take great pleasure in informing you of the results of the Oxygenated Bitters you had the kindness to send me. For some twenty years I had suffered with Humoal Asthma. I was compelled to sit up one-third of the nights, without going to bed at all: and the rest of the time my sleep was interrupted by violent fits of coughing, and great difficulty in breathing. In all my attendance upon our courts, I never went to bed in Northampton in twenty years, but twice, and then was compelled to get up. Now I lie in bed without difficulty, and sleep profoundly, I took your medicine according to directions. The violent symptoms immediately abated, and perseverance in the use of the remedy has removed all its trouble-some consequences. The value of such a remedy is incalculable

Respectfully yours. MYRON LAWRENCE.

THE ILLUSTRATED GYMASIUM.—This is the title of a new book by R. T. TRALL, M. D. now being published by FOWLER AND WELLS, NEW YORK, The work comprehends considerably more than the title expresses; for it contains not only an exposition of Gymnastic proper, but also the applications of Gymnatic, Calisthenic, and Vocal Exercises to the development of the whole body, the proper training of weak and defective organs, and to the cure of disease. Special Medical Gymnastics for particular ailments and infirmities have a prominent and important place. Ling's system af KINESIPATHY, as developed by its author and practised by Roth, Georgie, and others, is extensively treated of. Brief instructions are given in the various "manly exersises," Swimming, Sailing Rowing, Riding, etc.; and not the least valuable part of it is the analysis of the rudimental sounds of the English language, with the instructions predicated thereon, to enable the student to obtain full command of the respiratory apparatus, and acquire fluency and power of Voice and Speech.

All departments of the work are profusely illustrated with engravings. It is a book for the Individual, the Family, the Club, and the School. It be wil completed in two numbers, Price for the work complete, $1 25, Address FOWLER AND WELLS, 208 Broadway, New York.

PROSPECTUS FOR 18F56.

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing their Prospectus for 1856, the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands, the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Sketches of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture; Account of the Produce and Stock Markets; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—it has faculties which delight in the humorous and lively the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments, are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. Southworth, author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings—illustrative of important places and actions, of Agricultural and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 26 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

Agents to Clubs.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow us for subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club end at the same time, and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible—the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters or others sending for Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, when they can do so conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A New Arrangement.—Our subscribers will understand that we have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it next sent to

We trust all such of our old friends, the Post Masters as above referred to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to their influential and respectable persons who are willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66 South Third Street, Philadelphia.

☞ N B Any Person desirous of receiving a copy of the POST, as a sample, can be accommodated by addressing the Publishers by letter, (post paid.)

(New Notice—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this Appeal to Canadians!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals, &c., &c., (some of them incorrect copies) of the Societies and Religious bodies in the United States, which are named below, are circulated and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as Pro-Slavery or Silent, and some (if not all) formed specially on a Republican Basis, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our British institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been shamed as it were, (since religious humane, and Godwise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhumane practices, in a Free and a British Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore appeal to all Laymen in Canada,—to all men and women of Humanity who are opposed to the sin and curse of Slavery, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed,—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What "books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or "sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived. As a resident Scotch emigrant of 23 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

Poetry.

THE WILL-O-THE WISPS

From the French of Beranger.

O summer night, O hamlet still,
Clear sky, soft perfumes, gurgling rill;
Ye lent a charm to my tender age;
Now all that's all changed my grief assuage
Sick of the world, relief I find;
All here my childhood brings to mind—
All—ay, the will o'-the-wisps to night,
That once was glimering dancing light
Had turned my steps in hasty flight,
Ah, happy ignorance—mine no more—
Will-o-the-wisps, dance as of yore?

Tales of their mocking spite were told
In the long long winter nights of old:
How that those meteors guarded fast
Wonders afield, and treasures vast,
Ghosts and Hobgoblins—demon fry—
Scorer and bags of evil eye—
These were the creed, in days gone by,
They taught me; whilst in fancy's view
Huge draggons round the turrets flew.
But age has spoiled Illusion's reign—
Will-o-the-wisps, dance, dance again!

One evening—I was scarcely ten—
Wandering—oh! how I trembled then—
I saw you glimer through the damp,
And hard it as old Granny's lamp.
I knew a piece of cake was there;
And ran, and ran with joyous air,
Till shepperd's voice cried out "Beware!
That light rash boy—no more advance—
Lights up a ball where corpses dance!"
Ay, 'tis of life an emblem true—
Will-o'-the-wisps, dance anew.

Again by me, when just sixteen,
O'er the old Vicar's tomb was seen
That night; my words found sudden way
"Your Reverence, for your soul I'll pray!"
When quick, methought I heard him say,
"O hapless child, hath Beauty's school
Made the so young, a dreaming fool!"
That evening, taken by surprise,
I did believe in angry skies.
Oh, speak; I'll listen as before—
Will o'-the wisps, dance, as of yore.

In love with Rose the guileless hearted,
A little gold has bliss imparted;
Lo! one of these same meteors lured me,
as though a treasure it insured me.
I followed, bold—but ah! I found
A pond was hollowed in the ground;
And tumbling in, crept out half drowned.
"Laugh not the goblins at thy fall!"
Methinks, I hear the witless call.
No—but Rose took a luckier swain—
Will-o"-the-wisps, dance, dance again!

My soul from thousand errors freed,
I'm old before my time, indeed:
Vapours, that but some moments shine,
See you its bleached, this head of mind?
Sages perchance have opened my eyes;
But more I loved the morning's rise,
When less familiar with the skies.
The torch of knowledge will destroy
Those darling sylph our childhood's joy.
Ah! that I still were scared by you—
Will-o'-the-wisps, dance dance anew.

would tend to hasten the ultimate over brow of slavery. But the immediate and legitimate effect of that measure would be to strengthen slavery, as we have seen. Now to strengthe slavery for an hour is a heinous sin. Hence to vote for the admission of Cuba, in hope that, at some distant period of the future, it will tend to destroy slavery, is directly doing evil that good may come. No man but a Jesuit in principle will do that.

'To refuse to interfere with slavery, where we have no power to effect it, is not wrong. There is a right and a wrong way of interfering with all evils. To use doubtful powers to overturn a system of crime, when [illegible] powers to gars, assisting to promote sound and slavery doctrine and urging with might and main the self-supporting principle among colored people in Canada; giving an equal and hearty welcome to both victims of American prejudice and oppression, and heartily approving the disclosure of the bigoted and wicked ignorant among us. Shall this course be pursued and upheld?" is the question we ask the friends of humanity white and colored. Already the enemies to the progress of colored men, the slaveholder, the pro-slavery religions, white and black say No! But fortunately said parties always say No! and [illegible] my and every ac-

Asthma.—This most disheartening complaint has been completely cured in many instances by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Surely anything that will afford relief from this dreadful disease will be hailed as a real blessing.

PRICES OF NEGROES

Millions of money have been disbursed in Richmond during the past fifteen months who have during that time, commanded more exorbitant prices than ever before. All negroes are sold for cash, which is supplied by means of Northern sight drafts, which are disposed of to the brokers. Enough of these sight checks are sold to supply the Richmond market with Northern Exchange. As before remarked at no period before did this species of property from hand so exorbitant a figure. Many sell because of the very high prices obtained. In proof of this, it may be stated that if the market declines, say $50 or $100 per head, the receipt of negroes is visibly affected. It is said, by those who assume to know, that the increase in slaves greatly more than counterbalances the number sent from the State.

The following statement of the ruling rates (and which it is confidently asserted, are likely to prevail for some time to come) is subjoined for the information of the readers of 'The South':

No. 1 men sell steadily for $1,300 to $1,400; something extra a little higher. No. 1 girls from 1,150 to $1,200, (all hands.) Likely girls (seamstresses) command from $1400 to $1,700. Boys from twelve to fifteen years of age $1,000 to $1,200. Girls from twelve to fifteen years of age $750 to $1,100. Good blacksmiths, fine size, ranging from twenty-two to thirty years old sell for 1,500 dollars to 2,000. Cooks first command the same prices. Dining servants bring from 1,000 dollars to 1800. All others in proportion. These prices are for negroes free of defects, and sound and healthy. At the present time, however, it is safe to say that negroes, good or bad command all they are worth.—The South.

☞ The following items of business follow each other in a South Carolina paper:

Highly respectable Mr. Cesar, according to Miss. [illegible] has [illegible] to [illegible] a need, at [illegible]

A serious riot occurred a short time ago near St. John, New Brunswick, between gangs of Irish and German railway laborers. The contest was provoked by an Irishman, who insulted a German, for which he was knocked down. In less than half an hour upwards of 200 persons were engaged in deadly conflict, in the course of which one man was fatally cut and beaten. The Germans were finally driven from the ground.

Gerrit Smith, in a recently published letter, says that his expectations in regard to his gifts of land to colored men have not been fully realized. He says:—"Of the three thousand colored men to whom I gave land, probably less than fifty have taken and continue to hold possession of their grants. What is worse, half the three thousand, as I judge, have either sold their land, or been so careless as to allow it to be sold for taxes.'

BURRITT'S COMPENSATED EMANCIPATION.

The Newport Kentucky News, before the session of the Cleveland Convention, spoke as follows:

While we rejoice that the friends of human liberty are every where moving upon the subject of slavery, and earnestly asking themselves how this system may be extinguished, still, we, in the first place, cannot see how Mr. Burritt's plan can be made practicable, or how, under the present condition of our country, it can ever achieve the object so much desired by its friends. The abrogation of the Compromise line has opened the gates for the introduction of slavery into all the extensive and fertile territory of the North, once consecrated to Freedom—and for all Supreme Court Decision has thrown its aegis of protection around the monster, so that it not only feels safe, but much encouraged, and her votaries will ignore all propositions for emancipation, whether by compensation or any other mode, so long as new fields are open, and legal protection is given them, to encourage a hope of future gain to the slaveholder.

Under such a state of affairs, so favorable to the spread of slavery, we can never hope that the slaveholders, in whom all Southern power is concentrated, will consent to emancipation of any kind. Moral considerations can have no effect; for with them this is the Age of Lucre; wealth is their god, and will vanquish Morality in the contest for supremacy.

In the second place, we do not believe that the majority of either the slaveholders or non-slaveholders will agree to the plan proposed, the former, for an additional reason to the one given. Mr Burritt's plan is to compensate the slaveholder with the proceeds of the sales of the public domain. To this some of the Southern journals have already pertinently asked, 'Does the North expect to compensate us with the proceeds of the public domain, a part of which is our own?' And many of the North are unwilling that their share should go into the pockets of those who have already filched fortunes from the labor of the lash driven slave.

Again, we have many 'white slaves' in the South, who in regard to their labor and respect, are brought upon a level with the black slave, but who constitute only own a share in the public domain, and would be the last to contribute to the ill-gotten gain of their oppressors. Indeed it would seem that if any class should be 'compensated,' it should be those who have been allowed by the laws of the country to have their sacred bonds and the profits of their labor violated and embezzled by a slave aristocracy.

It will be seen, then, that those whom we have enumerted, together with land monopolists and their dependencies, and a host of other obstacles, would not oppose any feasible or practical plan for the extirpation of slavery. We believe, however, that the plan that would command the attention and aid of of most of our people, is first to restrict, by law of Congress, the slave institution to its present bounds. And having it thus confined, with all its prospects of extension cut off, we can turn the wrath of their own 'god' upon them. Our pecuniary statistics are impregnable, and it is only by showing the impoverishing tendency of the system that they can be made to feel and reflect. Besides, the non slaveholders in the South are in the majority, and as 'Sovereignty is inherent in the people, and not in proprety,' these non-slaveholders shall be allowed to vote equally with property-holders, and if in so doing they vote according to their own interests, slavery will be stabbed in the heart of its friends.'—Newport (Ky.) News.

☞ Bishop Simpson, in his travels in Ireland, thus describes the country through which he passed:—

"In passing through the country I found it very different from what I had expected. First, the land is not so wholly occupied nor so perfectly cultivated as I had fancied. I had supposed the whole island to be a garden, but I found waste places and poorly cultivated lands. The country is also much hilly or mountainous than I expected. There are ranges of mountains which traverse nearly the whole length of the island. On the east were the Galtee Mountains, and on the western range is a high peak with a remarkable notch, called the Devil's Pet. Various legends are connected with this spot. The Killarney boatmen told me that it was said that Satan was chasing some souls that had just escaped from purgatory; they fled across this mountain into the province of Connaught; whereupon Satan, concluding that Connaught was about as bad as purgatory, ceased his pursuit and contented himself with biting a piece out out of the mountain summit and spitting it after them. Similar stories the inhabitants of the different provinces delight to tell in reference to each other."

Arrival Of The

"EUROPA."

HALIFAX, Sept., 8.

The Europa, Capt Leitch, arrived here this morning from Liverpool Saturday, 29th The Collins steamship Baltic, Comstock, from New York on Sunday, the 16th of August, arrived at Liverpool on the 28th. The Persia from New York, on Wednesday, the 19th, arrived at Liverpool on Saturday the 29th.

The British Parliament was prorogued on Friday the 28th. The Queen's speech was read by commission.

It was the general impression that the Atlantic cable would be sold for the telegraph to India.

The Indian mail reached London on Saturday, but the main features of the news had already been received via Alexandria and Malta.

The Liverpool Cotton Market had been very activ, and prices had considerably advanced and were buoyant. Sales of the week 110,000 bales.

Liverpool Breadstuffs were generally dull with the tendency downwards.

Liverpool Provision Market was generally quiet.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.—Consols for money closed at 90¾.

In the London Market sugar had slightly advanced.

☞ The heavy rains which prevailed here on Saturday last were still more violent in the neighborhood of London, C. W. The railway tracks were much injured by the floods. On the Great Western, says the London Free Press the heavy torrents washed down large quantities of sand, which overlaid the track, complete covering it to the depth of many inches. At a spot near Beachville this had occurred to a great degree, and the consequence was that the afternoon express coming west ran off the track. The engine plunged headlong forward and buried itself in a sand bank, on the left of the road, while the baggage car took an opposite direction and was driven off to the right and completely shattered.—Fortunately, the passengers did not receive many injuries of a graver nature than severe contusions, but the fireman, D. McCormick was so severely scalded that his life is despaired of. The engineer was not injured, but the baggage ran was very much hurt. The damage done is considerable and has been estimated at $4000. The spot at which the accident occurred is two miles from Beachville.

A letter from Rev. Charles Hibbert Missionary in Burmah, to his father, Joseph Robinson, Esq., of this city, has been handed to us for publication, from which we make the following extracts—Porvidence Journal.

NEWTON Maulmain, June, 6 1857.

DEAR FATHER,—Will you kindly say to Mr. Davis that Mrs. Hibbard and myself, and indeed, I might add all who came out with us, feel very grateful for the box of Pain Killer he gave us when we left our native land for Burmah. I have used it for coughs colds violent internal pains summer complants, burns, bruises, and for the sting of scorpions with uniform success. The only severe spasm of the stomach which Mrs. Hibbard has had in Burmah, was instantly relieved by the Pain Killer. We always keep it where we can put our hands on it in the dark, if need be. Although I took Mr. Nesbit's box when he returned to America, yet it is all gone but three or four bottles, and that would have been gone long ago, had I not refused part with it. The Karens are begining to learn its value, and call for it, but I have to deny them, except in dose, for we could not think of being without it.

A PERFECT CURE AND NO MISTAKE

From the Editor of the New York Mirror,

About four weeks sinnce one of the compositors of this office was suffering so bodly from a cough that he was unable to sleep nights, and too weak to stand at his case. He became very pale and thin, and gave symptoms of falling a victim to quick consumption. We recommended to him various medicines, which had no effect. Finally, we gave him one bottle of WISTARS BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. It afforded him immediate relief, and he is now a well man, and not the slightest symptom of a cough. These are facts, and futher particulars may be learned at this office. We should add that the cough in the above case was accompanied by profuse spitting of blood.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

THE ILLUSTRATED GYMASIUM.—This is the title of a new book by R. T. TRALL, M. D. now being published by FOWLER AND WELLS, NEW YORK, The work comprehends considerably more than the title expresses; for it contains not only an exposition of Gymnastic proper, but also the applications of Gymnatic, Calisthenic, and Vocal Exercises to the development of the whole body, the proper training of weak and defective organs, and to the cure of disease. Special Medical Gymnastics for particular ailments and infirmities have a prominent and important place. Ling's system of KINESIPATHY, as developed by its author and practised by Roth, Georgie, and others, is extensively treated of. Brief instructions are given in the various "manly exersises," Swimming, Sailing Rowing, Riding, etc.; and not the least valuable part of it is the analysis of the rudimental sounds of the English language, with the instructions predicated thereon, to enable the student to obtain full command of the respiratory apparatus, and acquire fluency and power of Voice and Speech.

All the departments of the work are profusely illustrated with engravings. It is a book for the Individual, the Family, the Club, and the School. It be will completed in two numbers. Price for the work complete, $1 25, Address FOWLER AND WELLS, 208 Broadway, New York.

NOTE. The attention of all Temperance Associations Sons of Temperance, Legislators Ministers of religion, and others favourable to the putting down of the CURSE and the "DISGRACE" of our and every Christian country,—the public Traffic in Intoxicating Drinks (the savage, uncivilized and unchristian custom excepted) is directly called to the above proposed census Plan as the above, to show STATISTICALLY and more EXACTLY, those who, in our several municipalities and communities, countenance the public evil and disgrace of our day, "the Traffic in Intoxicating drinks,"—and also by said plan, to help to purify a British Colony which is the most foremost of Great Britian's possessions; and make it—Canada—more retainable as a home for the Brave, under a free, liberal; and loyal government.

To make the "Census" complete in its relation generally, a List should be subjoined of the names of those RESIDENT inhabitants, who publicely use Intoxicating drinks at our Public bars and "Saloons"—the latter commonly named as the "Hells" of our community,—Sober farmers, mechanics, millers, carpenters, labourers &c., are those D. J., who realize a competence and prosperity in Canada and meet with ready employment.—All those connected with our Railways, must be sober men.—Ask Mr. Brydges, the Railway manager at Hamilton C. W.—Is the same sobriety needed as we move through life?—

PROSPECTUS FOR 18F56

THE

SATURDAY EVENING POST

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 4TH, 1821.

Edition between 80,000 and 90,000

IN issuing the Prospectus for 1856 the proprietors of the Post take it for granted, that the public are already tolerably well acquainted with the character of a paper that has grown strong during the storms and sunshine of THIRTY-FOUR YEARS. Their object always has been as it remains to be, to publish a weekly paper for the family circle, which shall not only amuse but also instruct and improve, those who may read it. To accomplish this object, the best articles are selected or condensed from foreign and domestic periodicals, and original articles of an instructive character, procured when possible.

Letters from Foreign Lands; the most interesting portions of the Weekly News of the World; Scenes of Life, Adventure and Character; Selected and Original Articles upon Agriculture, Account of the Province and Stock Market; and a Bank Note List are included among the solid information to be constantly found in the Post.

But the mind requires a wider range—such faculties which delight in the humorous and livery the imaginative and poetical. These faculties also must have their appropriate food, else they become enfeebled, and, as a consequence, the intellect becomes narrow and one-sided, and is not able to take an enlarged and generous view of human nature and its destiny. To satisfy these Heaven-implanted cravings of our mental being we devote a fair proportion of the Post to FICTION, POETRY, and HUMOR.

Among our contributors in the first two of the above departments are several of the most gifted writers in the land. We also draw freely for Fiction and Poetry upon the best periodicals in this country and Great Britain. We design commencing a New Story by Mrs. Southworth author of "The Deserted Wife," "Miriam," &c in our first paper for January next.

Engravings illustrative of important places and actions of Agriculture and other new inventions, with others of a Humorous, though refined character, are also freely given.

The Postage on the Post to any part of the United States, paid quarterly or yearly in advance at the office where it is received, is only 24 cents a year.

Terms.—The Terms of the Post are Two Dollars, if paid in advance; Three Dollars, if not paid in advance. For Five Dollars, in advance, one copy is sent three years. We continue the following low terms for Clubs, to be sent, in the city, to one address, and, in the country, to one Post Office.

4 Copies, - - - - - per annum $ 5
8 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $10
13 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $15
20 do (and 1 to the getter up of the Club) $20

Persons residing in British North America must remit twenty-five cents in addition to the subscription price, as we have to prepay the United States postage.

EDITIONS TO CLUBS.—Any person having sent the money and names for a Club, may add new names to it at the same rate, provided the latter will allow their subscriptions to end at the same time those of the main list do. We will willingly supply the back numbers, if we have them. Our object is to have all the subscriptions in each Club terminate at the same time and thus prevent confusion.

The money for Clubs must always be sent in advance. When the sum is large, a draft should be procured if possible the cost of which may be deducted from the amount.

Post-Masters getting up Clubs, would confer a favor by having them sent to one address, which they could conveniently.

The papers to Clubs are invariably stopped at the expiration of the period for which they have subscribed.

A NEW ARRANGEMENT.—Our subscribers will take notice that we now have no collecting agents out of this State. They will therefore please remit to us direct.

All persons addressing letters to us should be careful to give the name of the State, as well as of the town, in which they live. All letters must be post-paid.

Subscribers wishing their paper changed, will please give the name of the Post-Office to be changed from, as well as the Post-Office they wish it hereafter sent to.

We trust that such of our old friends, the Post Masters, as do not feel inclined to take advantage of our liberal offers themselves, will show our Prospectus to other influential and responsible persons who will be willing to raise Clubs, &c.

DEACON & PETERSON,
No. 66, South Third Street, Philadelphia

(NEW NOTICE—1856—No. 10.)

Slavery—Republicanism.

In the name of Humanity I make this APPEAL to CANADIANS!

Various Books, Tracts, Hymn Books, Periodicals &c., &c (some of them in cases of copies) of the Societies and Religious Bodies in the UNITED STATES, which are named below, are for sale and sold in Canada, by colporteurs (book carriers) by Tract Societies and by others. These American societies and bodies I have unremittingly for some time past, publicly denounced and proved, as PRO-SLAVERY OR SILENT, and some (if not all) formed specially on a REPUBLICAN BASIS, or foundation, and opposed even on such principles to our BRITISH institutions. Though many of these Societies, &c, have been SHAMED as it were, (since religious humane, and God-wise principles are apparently trampled under foot,) to discontinue their sinful and inhuman practices, in a FREE and a BRITISH Province, yet I am led to believe that clandestinely or otherwise, such evil practices are continued and encouraged.

I therefore APPEAL to all LAYMEN in Canada,—to all men and women of HUMANITY who are opposed to the sin and curse of SLAVERY, and who hail our noble Province as a land and an asylum for the free,—for the oppressed.—and for the Fugitive from American Christian slavery,—to aid in discountenancing in our free Province of Canada, the circulation of such books, tracts, &c., and having any fellowship with such societies

The Societies referred to are:—

1. The American Tract Society—New York.
2. The American Sunday School Union, Philadelphia.
3. The Presbyterian Board of Publication Chesnut street, Philadelphia.
4. The Methodist Episcopal Church, [north] Book concern, 200 Mulberry street New York.
5. The American Baptist Publication Society, —Philadelphia.—and American Baptist Missionary Union, Boston.—[All Baptists of United States, except the "Free Will" and the "Free Baptists," are either pro-slavery or silent—see "Facts for Baptists Churches," pp. 408.]
6. American and Foreign Bible Society. [Baptist,] and the American Bible Union, [Baptist,] Nassau and Broome streets, N. Y.
7. American Bible Society, Astor Place, New York,—with many others,—of whose pro-slavery and silent character, reliable information can be obtained at 48 Beekman street, New York.

Let the touchstone question be put: "What books, tracts, &c., do you publish, circulate, or sell, against Slavery—and are the Bibles circulated amongst the bond and the free"—and let proof be produced on the spot, as Canadians have been deceived As a resident Scotch emigrant of 24 years in Canada, I have been deceived—sinfully so.

CHARGE OF FELONY—RUNNING OFF A SLAVE.

George Cope, a well known grocer in this city, was under examination on the charge of running off a slave woman of Mr. S. C. Wetherlee in October or November last. The latter testified to missing the girl on Sunday and understanding that she was in the habit of washing for Mr. Cope, went to his house to find him, but the house was closed. Subsequently he received information that led him to believe that the girl had been run off, and that he would find her in Canada, in Chatham. He made a journey to the North, and at the very place designated found his lost property. He couldn't desire her, but she very plainly gave him to understand that the accused had run her off and gave him two letters which she had received from him. A pass book was produced in court which the witness swore was in the hand writing of Mr. Cope. He had been dealing at the store of the accused, using the pass book in which the things purchased were written down, and the witness had seen him write, and swore to the hand writing. The witness had frequently seen accused in consulting with his Rachael his negro woman, but didn't think much of it at the time. The two letters he received from the girl he swore were, to the best of his belief, written by accused. They were in his hand writing and on this circumstance he had him arrested. The following is a copy of one of the letters:

"To Mr. Gilkrist, Chatham, Canada West

LOUISVILLE, KY, Dec. 8, 57.

DEAR SIR:—A young lady of light color left this city for Chatham the 9th of November, with a white man, and from her long silence, I am afraid that some foul means have been used to pervent any of her friends getting a letter from her. I wrote her a letter dated November 25, 1856, together with a box, containing the following articles: Six yards white flannel two bars of soap, four pair of yarn stockings, two boxes sardines, two bars soap one bottle of extract for perfume, one bottle of hair oil, and a samll red morocco Bible, with the following wrote on the first leaf; 'Presented to Rachael, by her affectionate husband, George.

You will please find enclosed with letter, another directed to her. It is from her uncle, and I wish you to get your wife, Mrs. Gilkrist, to call on Rachael and bring her to your house. You can read both letters to her. From the relationship existing between Rachael and myself, I feel afraid that some unfair measures will be adopted against me to cause a separation, and then she will lose the only and best friend she ever had or ever have again. Indeed, Sir, I am greatly distressed about her in mind, for some unforeseen accident may occur that will ruin the happiness of both. I shall feel myself much your debtor by your kind attention to the requests that I make. I think that I shall be in your city towards the latter end of this month, and then, sir, I can thank you in person for your kindness. Will direct to James T. Lanham & Co., Louisville, Ky.

Very respectfully, GEORGE COPE."

P. S. I am almost shure that the letter dated Nov. 25 has been opened and contents read and another wrote in its place as being from me. Tell her to send me the letter. If right I will send it back to her again. Sir things of this kind is often resorted too for gaining such information as will answer their guilty purposes. I am on the rack of excitment about that dear girl. She is persecuted and in trouble caused by meddling people who have no right to interfere in any respect whatever. She is my wife before High heaven our sacred vows are registered there before God and the short of that surround the throne with angels. Sir excuse the style of my letter, but I cannot help it.

COPEY."

The other letter was also addressed to Mr. Gilchrist Chatham, Canada West, on the envelope, but the letter itself was to "My owne Dear Rachael,' as follows:

"MY OWN DEAR RACHAEL:—It afforded me a great deal of pleasure to hear that you have arrived safe and in good health at Chatham, and I feel sure it will prove a pleasant and happy home for you and me both, when I come out, and hope that the time will be short so I can see you dear wife Rachael. I feel so lonesome without you Oh! Rachael dear, you have no idea how sorrowful I am to leave this city; my wife being so many miles from me makes me feel very unhappy, indeed dear the sooner I sell out the better, as I lost all interest in business of any kind; all I think of is seeing you again. In relation to how matters was after you left, I will tell you all when I get out to your place. It will be much better as I have something to tell that concerns us both that a third person have no interest in it. We can have something to entertain us when we get together once more. I hope and pray that you will take the best care you can of yourself. Rachael you are in a new country and not accustomed to the climate, be careful of yourself dear, and don't expose your little body in bad weather but keep in the house. I am really glad that you are going to school. I hope your progress will be so fast that the next letter that you receive from me the answer will be in your own hand, then Copey will be proud of his little wife. Rachael if Providence give me good luck I hope that I shall be with you for good by the middle or latter end of next month. You recollect Kinkeys, her little man wishes to buy me me out, I told him that I cannot sell any other way than for cash as I wish to leave for St. Louis, you know Rachel I have a tight set to deal with the Weatherlys I mean. J. C. swears he will have satisfaction out of me as I am the cause of your going off. We shall see, what we shall see as the old man said when in a tight place.

I send you a box with articles in, that you will need before I get out, * * * * the balance of clothes. The watch chain &c., I will bring with me. If you get out of money you must let me know as soon as possible, and what kind of money passes with you, I am unacquainted with the currency of the place. Tell me all the news you have, how you like the place and people, how we are likely to get along together. I feel certain if it don't do well we can go some other place; any place will be home when you are with me. I must close or you will get tired of reading, so dear I will close by wishing you all the good luck that this world can afford,

Your affectionate husband
Nov 26, 1856. GEORGE

Rachael send your letters by mail. I will send you a stamp that must be put on it so it will come safe to hand.

Direct your letter to care of J. T. Lanham & Co. Louisville, Ky.

Mrs Weatherlee testified that the girl Rachael disappeared on Sunday, the 9th of November, that she dealt with the accused at his grocery, and the girl took his washing, to him accompanied by her, the witness children. They were always very familiar, and the children called him Copey. He was in the habit of visiting her house, but after the girl went off never called at house again. A good many more witnesses were introduced in the case to prove certain circumstances connected with it, all tending to corroborate the statements of Mr.

Wetherbe, the proof of the running off, the letters and the hand writing which was fully identified as his.

The case occupied the court till evening. Cope proved a good character. The evidence against him was sufficient. He was held to bail in the sum of $1,500, to answer the charge of felon.—The bail was not given, and he was committed.

THE CHURCHES AND SLAVERY.
—THE REGULAR BAPTISTS—

What is the essence of the Christian religion?—Is it to turn the hungry and needy from your door Is it to despise the bed of sickness, even of the profligate and abandoned? Is it to see the needy naked, of whatever kind of person; and not to provide some kind of help to have them clothed? Is it to make merchandize of mankind,—whether white or black, red, yellow or bronze?

Who created the earth,—and originally formed all things therein, animate and inanimate?—A being, a soul of life, a created being, exists on the face of the earth, who in common speech called "MAN" and also "WOMAN."—is he, or is she, to bepermitted to buy and sell, and to hold, as property, men and women of any country?—Is a professing christian man to be permitted to traffick in the body and soul of another professing christian man? Has the Almighty Creator of this universe decreed that white men shall universally hold in bondage and as property [illegible] color [illegible] or men of and color than white?

Is it the essence of the [illegible] religion that white men shall be [illegible] knowledged as professing christains, and at the same time be permitted to buy and sell human beings, or to whip and lash them, to violate their bodies,—to use them worse than the brute beasts—which latter, civilized society will not allow to be [illegible] apart from religion, [illegible] "brutified" by cruel [illegible]

Is it the [illegible]

[illegible] stained money reception, [illegible] the other Regular Baptists,—the representative of the latter being fondd as it is stated in the 'Examiner', Baptist paper, published in New York, and in nearly all the Regular Baptist Publications of the Free States (now no longer Free)—the said Free Mission Society was established in May 1853, by anti-slavery Baptists, who had resisted Revd. Dr. Spencer H, Cone, Dr. Johnson, (a slaveholder,) Thomas Stocks, (another slaveholder) and [illegible] Fuller, (also another) and [illegible]

[illegible] ties, &c., will be compelled to reveal themselves as they are and what they are. We are the parties who will not stand up boldly though modestly, for the truth, but will quake tremble, and sigh and look downward when they face a professing minister of religion? Who are they? The truth shall make us free, and only then is it that many adopt the sayings and resolutions of man like themselves, who fails to put before them the detailed proof, with names and dates? He is not worthy of the name "man" or "woman" who will receive statement as true, without proof—proof so apparent that the almost child can see it.

We will state a truth, a fact, and thereby give a chance to all the readers of this to see it is really and truly one. There is a body of Christians in the Northern and western states of the adjoining slaveholding republic which is called the BAPTISTS rather as we take it the REGULAR BAPTISTS and as some have it, "THE NORTHERN BAPTISTS, and also some call it "THE AMERICAN BAPTISTS," and there is also a body of Regular Baptists called (commonly) FREE MISSION BAPTISTS—the latter being represented in the well conducted publication called the "American Baptist," published weekly at New York, the Rev. W. Walker edtior, and a good anti-slavery Baptist paper it is. The latter body is styled "Free Mission" from the title of their Missionary Society, which is—"The American Baptist Free Mission Society,' and the Chief Secretary is the Rev A. L, Post, of Montrose Pennsylvania; the Treasurer is Geo. Curtiss, of Utica, N. Y., and the other officers may be known at 115 Nassau street Room 31, New York. Now the "Free Mission Baptists" are also "Regular Baptists" but they are strongly opposed to Slavery, and their every act and movements show a complete distinction in principle, from the vacilating slavery fellowshiping and blood-[illegible] marched to the place of meeting. This was a neat new building erected at considerable expense and with great labor, with a platform for the spakers, who were to furnish intellectual food, and shelves table to hold the substantials for the sustentation of the body. As the procession neared the building Jones Brass Band of Chatham, who had been previously placed upon the Platform, struck up one of their spirit-stirring pieces, and continued playing until the company was seated.

Rev. Wm. King, the indefatigable missionary of Buxton, then took the chair, and called to order. We noticed upon the platform, Rev. Dr Irvine of Hamilton, Mr. T. W. Stringer of Buxton, Rev. Dr. Willis of Toronto, Lord Althrope of the British Parliament, Dr. M. R. Delany of Chatham, Mr. Proban of England, A. McKellar Esq. of Chatham, Mr. Wm. H. Day of Chatham Rev. Mr. Mills, school superintendent, Rev. Dr. Reid Mr. Jemieson of the Grammar school, A. Knapp Esq. and others, among them, a number of the fair sex, residents and strangers.

The Exercises were—1st. Music by the Band, 2d, address to children by Rev. Dr. Irvine; 3d singing by the sabbath school, 4th. address to the Parents by Rev. Dr. Willis, president of Knox College, Toronto; 5th. singing by the Sabbath school; 6th Dinner. After dinner, interesting addresses were delivered in the following order:—1st. Lord Althrope; 2d. Mr. William H. Day; 3d. Mr. Proban; 4th. Dr. Delany; 5th. Rev. Mr. Mills; 6th, Rev. Dr. Reid; 7th. Concluding Remarks by Rev. Wm. King; after which the Benediction was pronounced, and the assembly dispersed.

Want of space will not permit us to give a synopsis of the Remarks made, but all were earnest, and well received. The children appeared well and were a credit to the Sabbath school. The Pic-Nic, or Dinner, more properly speaking, was one of the nicest substantials and delicacies abounded. The table capible of accommodating one hundred and twenty-two each time was three times crowded and then for want of time for the speeches the balance of the people who had not been fed retired to the kitchen (so called) to supply themselves—The best of order prevailed, and the arrangements made were worthy of all praise. It was a time long to be remembered by all present.

The Chatham delegation of Ladies and gentlemen returned home in the evening, escorted by the Band and expressed themselves highly delighted with the entertainment.—Com.

WHAT WE PROPOSE TO DO IN FUTURE.—Having called upon those indebted to us to favor us with amounts due, with but poor results, and as we owe large amounts which can only be met by a corresponding outlay on our part, we shall depute Messrs. Turner and Anderson of this office to collect and receive subscriptions &c, to pay off debts contracted for paper labor and incidentals on behalf of those who we have asked in vain to save us the trouble and expense of calling for the same. And as a paper,—an organ is a necessity when we can not get on without, we shall be obliged to suspend till we make such collections and then on again; for the debts must be paid. ! !

TREACHERY.

We copy letters from a Kentucky paper left in their chains, and deprived of the last cent of their board for freedom, by the bad faith of their pretended deliverer.—M. A. S. C.

☞ Rev. Thomas Kinnard has been appointed by the British Methodist Episcopal Church to the pastorate of their congregation at London. The appointment will no doubt give great satisfaction, as the Rev gentleman has both the intellectual ability and the moral qualities so signally lacking in some clergymen now-a day. Mr. Kinnard, like Paul, will work with his hands at his profession—he is a practical Dentist and stood high in his calling amongst the Philadelphians especially the Friends or Quakers, Mr K. has set an example to the ministry that we hope more will follow meanwhile the citizens of London will patronize him liberally we trust.—M. Goutier is thoroughly versed in the branches he proposes to teach, and is in every way worthy of a large patronage.—M A S C.

A Favorite Remedy.—There is no medicine so extensively and favorably known as Perry Davis. Vegetable Pain Killer.—Its rapidly increasing sale in South America India and Europe is ample proof of its success in those countries. Sold by medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canada.

The astonishing success of the Oxygenated Bitters in the worst cases of Dyspepsia is owing to its peculiar tonic properties, and being entirely free from alcoholic or malt produces no reaction of unpleasant sensations.

WORK FOR THE MONTH.

EXAMINE YOUR TREES.

It is surprising to see how ready farmers are to pay cash for trees, and to plant them well, and how careless they are of their after treatment. They take it for granted that the crop of fruit is sure, as soon as the tree is set. It is not so.—The work is only well begun. Trees should be treated as personal friends, looked to, visited and flattered with particular attentions. Inquire after their health, and a response will come from the bark, the twigs, and the leaves Is the trunk smooth, indicating that the owner has applied strong soap suds recently; and routed the moss and the countless progeny of scale bugs? There is sawdust around the collar perhaps. Investigate the hole with a fatal bore under the fifth rib. Is the new wood strong and healthy; and the foliage luxuriant and glossy? You will find many curled and dead leaves, perhaps, and within the folds a whole brood of eggs or a crawling grub. Kill him, as you hope for fruit next year. Turn pigs into your orchard to eat up the early dropping fruit. Every worm-eaten apple is a pest-house, destroy it. Scrape off the old bark, that serves as a refuge for the moths and their eggs; and bear it in mind, that all these labors and appliances will but imperfectly do the work of birds.

THE TIMELY SAVING OF SEEDS.

Do not wait till they begin to shell from the pod before you gather them. They are perfect even before the pod or husk is dry and the drying process will go on quite as well under an open shed as on the stalk. Cabbages, turnips beets, and some other vegetables have already formed their seeds, and should be immediately secured. Have a place for them, and let them be bagged, and labeled, as soon as they are sufficiently dry.

DRYING SWEET CORN.

As you are luxuriating this month in that delicious compound, succotash, remember the dearth of next winter and lay in a generous supply of this inspissated article The beans will take care of themselves well enough, but the corn requires skill to evaporate its water, and leave behind in the kernel sugar, starch, and gum and those essential oils which lend their charm to the dish of corn and beans. Take the corn when in its best condition for this purpose. If too old upon the stalk, it will be too old next winter when dried Juicy, plump ears, when the milk is richest should be selected. They may be dried in a green state or boiled and then dried. In either case scrape the corn from the cob and dry upon sheets in bright sunny weather, and finish off in pans in the oven or over the stove When the drying is once commenced the evaporation should be kept up until it is finished. Sweet corn, soured in the drying, is ruined.

The Huron Signal speaks discouragingly of the grain crops in Huron, an immense fall of rain having blasted what appeared to be farmers well grounded hopes of an excellent and abundant harvest.

ENGLISH ITEMS.

Among the tragic events of the revolt perhaps none is more touching than the fate of Capt Skene, the Superintendant of the Jhansi district, and of his wife. They with an officer named Gordon and some persons, shut the themselves up in a small round tower, and gallantly resisted the attack of a body of rebels. The wife loaded the revolvers for her husband and his friend and they kept up a fatal fire killing thirty-seven of the miscreants. But the number of the latter was overwhelming, and they began to swarm into the fort. Skene saw that all was lost, and nobly resolved to save his wife from the atrocities perpetrated by the savages upon every Englishwoman unhappy enough to fall into their hands. He clasped her in a last embrace, gave her a fast kiss, and shot her dead; then triumphing in the the thought that he had delivered her who was most dear to him from the unutterable brutalities of the assailants he turned the weapon on himself, drew the tigger and fell a corpse upon the body of his wife. The bloodthirsty fiends could but wreak their malice on senseless clay.

Special Notices.

A letter from Rev. Charles Hibbart Missionary in Burmah, to his father, Joseph Robinson, Esq., of this city, has been handed to us for publication, from which we make the following extracts—Porvidence Journal.

NEWTON Maulmain, June, 6 1857.

DEAR FATHER,—Will you kindly say to Mr. Davis that Mrs. Hibbard and myself, and indeed, I might add all who came out with us, feel very grateful for the box of Pain Killer he gave us when we left our native land for Burmah. I have used it for coughs colds violent internal pains summer complaints, burns, bruises, and for the sting of scorpions with uniform success. The only severe spasm of the stomach which Mrs. Hibbard has had in Burmah, was instantly relieved by the Pain Killer. We always keep it where we can put our hands on it in the dark, if need be. Although I took Mr. Nesbit's box when he returned to America, yet it is all gone but three or four bottles, and that would have been gone long ago, had I not refused part with it. The Karens are beginning to learn its value, and call for it, but I have to deny them, except in dose, for we could not think of being without it.

DR. H. E. MOSCHCISEL, A SKILFUL PHYSICIAN OF NEW YORK CITY.

In his remarks on Dyspepsia, says:—The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach, is that prepared by Dr. Geo. B. Green, and called the Oxygenated Bitters,

I would publish the receipt for preparing this valuable medicine, if I knew what it was, but as I do not; I can only recommend its use. It seems to me to be improperly called "Bitters," at least in the proper acceptation of the term, for it contains no alcohol or other spirit and is rather sour than bitter. Though here by the way I cannot to earnestly caution the dyspeptic sufferer against using "Bitters" the basis of which is alchol or other ardent spirits. They no more impart real energy to the stomach, than a whip gives strength to a horse. The stimulation which they excite is only temporary, and sure to be followed by a reaction, which at last will inevitably wear out the stomach. The medicine of which I am speaking, obviates these objections.
